Twenty Dollars and Costs.

That the early closing by-law is to be enforced is made very evident by the fine which Police Magistrate Dumble this morning imposed upon Mr. Chas. Legros, barber, of George-st., who was fined $20 and costs for shaving after hours. The information charged him with having kept his barber shop open after eight o'clock on Friday night last contrary to the town by-law in that behalf. The defendant pleaded not guilty to the charge, and Mr. A. P. Poussette, Q. C., was present to handle his case for him. Pat Heffernan was the first witness called. He had been shaved in Legros' shop on Friday night, but he did not know whether it was after eight o'clock or not. Peter Brosseau, of the Oriental barber shop, and Frank Lacombe both swore that they saw a man being shaved after eight o'clock by Mr. Legros. Mr. Poussette submitted that the by law was not in force, holding that according to the statute under which it was framed it had to be passed every year. The Magistrate overruled the objection, and after hearing the evidence fined the defendant $20 and costs.

St. Andrew's Society Excursion.

Arrangements have been completed by the St. Andrew's Society with the C. P. R. company to run an excursion from Peterborough to Toronto and return on Thursday, June 26th, at the lowest schedule of rates that can be secured. The excursion will take in all stations along the line between Norwood and Toronto. The excursion has been dated on a day which will not conflict with any other local excursion so far as is known, and the society have been fortunate in being able to have it so fixed when making their negotiations with the C.P.R. A largely attended meeting of the members of the Excursion Committee and other interested members of the Society was held in the St. Andrew's Hall, Simcoe-st., on Saturday night to perfect arrangements, when, besides other business, the following sub-committees were appointed:—

TICKET COMMITTEE.—Messrs. Jas. Hendry, Geo. Noble, Roderick McLennan, John Patterson, Geo. Munroe, William Battisby, W. E. Roxburg, Thos. Telford, Alex. Morrison, John Logan, Alex. Stewart, Charles Laurie, John Gall, John Duff, A. W. Strachan, William Menzie and Arch. Moffatt.

RAILWAY AND PRINTING COMMITTEE.—Messrs. R. M. Dennistoun, Chas. Cameron, W. Cummings, A. W. Strachan and W. Menzies.

LOCAL SPORTS.

The New Cricket Professional—An Amusing Baseball Match—Lacrosse.

The weather of the past week was so wet and unfavourable that the Riversides were unable to get in any practice for their first schedule game in the Eastern Lacrosse Championship series which is to be played here on Wednesday next. A practice will therefore take place on Riverside Park this evening, when every man is expected to be on hand so that a first-class practice may be had before the struggle on Wednesday. Norwood is a pretty strong team, but the boys will make it a hard fight for them if they obtain a victory here. A meeting of the committee will be held after the practice to-night to select the team that will play on Wednesday. Let all the players be on the field to-night.

A Game of Baseball.

A nine from the Collegiate Institute and another from the Business College played a friendly game of baseball on Saturday afternoon on Riverside Park. The game was a rich one, and afforded great amusement for the spectators. The score will tell its own story and explain, also, where the spectators found their amusement. The Collegiate Institute boys at the end of the ninth innings were 14 runs behind their opponents. However, the agricultural exhibition closed with rather an unexpected event, the High School nine being retired in the ninth innings by a pretty tripal play. B. Boucher and Armstrong were in the points for the Institute nine and McCabe and Haultain did the battery work for the Business College. The score by innings was:—

Business College....	2	4	2	2	14	2	2	5	12	—45
Collegiate Institute..	14	2	2	4	0	0	3	4	2	—31

The Athletics and P.A.A.A. nines will play a practice match some evening this week.

Cricket.

A match between married and single members of the club will be played to-morrow afternoon. The coach, Mr. Charles Attewell, will be present. Mr. Attewell comes well recommended from his last place, where he was for five years. He was coach for a school, and his services will no doubt be of great benefit to the club here.

Failed to Escape.

A gentleman who was on Conductor Stanton's train which was delayed by the land slides on the Grand Junction on Saturmorning tells of an incident of the slide below Hastings. He says that when the track was being cleared, a chip-monk, which probably had had its home in the embankment which caved in, was found wedged between two large boulders almost in two parts. It looked as if the little animal had been trying to make its escape when the earth began to move but was nipped between the two stones and crushed to death.

An Unusual Sunday.

Yesterday was an unusual Sunday at the G.T.R. station here, the yard, which is usually about as quiet as a church yard on the Sabbath, was a scene of bustle and noise, trains shunting, engines puffing and whistling and train men shouting. The unusual bustle was the result of the washout on the main line of the G.T.R. in consequence of which all the trains carrying perishable freight had to be run through to Toronto by the Grand Junction. Saturday evening the trains began to pass through and yesterday some sixty trains passed through here and at one time there were ten engines in the yard. There were thirteen carloads of pigs standing on the track for some time yesterday afternoon and some of the residents in the vicinity of the station were a little annoyed by the none too desirable odor which was given to the atmosphere by the near proximity of the grunters. The pigs were coming through from Chicago on their way to Providence, Rd. I. The traffic on the main line was resumed at midnight last night.

Y. C. A. Events.

At the young men's meeting Saturday evening Miss M. Gordon gave an excellent and heart searching address on "Call for Service," based on Judges, 6th chapter, "Gideon's Call." It was very apparent that the crowded audience present felt their responsibility, and manifested their determination with God's help to go forth in the future to live and work for Christ.

The beginner's Bible Class held Sabbath morning was a gratifying success, and it is believed that much good is going to flow from the study of God's Word.

Last evening Miss Gordon again addressed the young men, the hall being crowded to excess and many were unable to gain admittance. It is felt that God's hand is in this work and that He is going to awaken all members of the Association to a sense of their duty and privilege as co-workers with Him in bringing their fellows to Christ.

Miss Gordon has very kindly consented to remain and conduct meetings every afternoon and evening this week, Wednesday evening excepted. The afternoon meeting will be open to all. The evening meeting will be for men only. Afternoon service begins at 3 30 p. m., and evening at 8 p. m. The meetings will be held in the Y. M. C. A. Hall.

CLOUDBURST AT COBOURG.

DISASTROUS RESULTS OF AN UNPRECEDENTED RAINFALL.

An Angry Stream Washes Away a Large Amount of Property—The Loss in the Riding $500,000.

COBOURG, June 1.—The most destructive cloud burst that ever deluged this district visited the town of Cobourg and the townships of Hamilton, Haldimand and Alnwick early this morning. It had rained steadily and quietly all night, when between 2 and 3 o'clock the sound of what many people describe as a water spout was heard coming over the lake from a southwesterly direction. When it struck the town the rain descended in great sheets and in a few minutes small creeks were converted into torrents. The storm cloud passed away northwesterly, leaving behind it a track of desolation about ten miles wide. Port Hope on the west and Grafton on the east do not appear to have been included in the path of the storm.

The worst havoc imaginable was created in the valley of the Baltimore Creek, which supplies the chief water power in the riding. An hour after the storm had passed one mill-dam after another broke away and the tide swept down to the lake with irresistible fury. As it neared Cobourg it swept away every yard of the dam at Fox's mill, brushed aside the dam at the matting factory, washed out the Grand Trunk Railway embankment north of the woollen factory pond and broke two or three large holes through the great dam at the woolen mill.

Houses were inundated and gardens destroyed. As the flood swept on to the lake in the business part of the town nearly all the cellars in King-street were filled and in a dozen instances the water rose five or six inches above the shop floors. The loss in damaged goods which these merchants have suffered amounts to thousands of dollars.

There are only two or three bridges left standing in the municipality and the town is practically cut off from the outside world. Two or three families were rescued from the upper stories of their houses in boats. It will cost the Grand Trunk Railway Company $50,000 to repair the breach in their embankment. Many farmers are heavy losers, as large fields of promising grain were carried away. The lake shore is strewn with debris.

The total cost to this riding cannot be short of $500,000.

NEW YORK SUFFERS.

Destructive Floods in the Western Part of the Empire State.

BUFFALO, June 2.—Despatches from many towns in the western part of this state give particulars of great destruction of property and the loss of a number of lives by the floods caused by the heavy rains of Friday and Saturday.

The greatest confusion prevails in Belmont. The Genesee River is fully 15 feet above low water mark, and all the streams tributary are overflowing their banks. A number of bridges have been swept away, and two men have lost their lives, perishing in the angry waters. The heavy rain of Friday and Saturday swelled the Genesee and its numerous tributaries to great volume.

In Friendship and vicinity great damage was done to bridges, fences, plowed lands and young crops.

In Andover a dozen bridges have been swept away, nearly every street in the village is overflowed, the railway track is covered with 15 feet of earth and trains cannot run for several days.

At Hornellsville the destruction of property is very great. The railroads will suffer, particularly the Erie, whose property in the vicinity of the shops and coal trestle is completely submerged, work being totally abandoned. Many washouts are reported on the different divisions of the Erie, traffic being practically suspended. Not a train arrived or departed from Hornellsville yesterday.

Dansville reports the worst flood since 1857. The loss will amount to hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Elmira is half under water, having the greatest flood known in its history. Many families are without food and can find no relief. Boats have been called into service and exorbitant prices are being charged to ferry the people through the streets. A hasty estimate puts the entire damage to houses, furniture, stores, merchandise, streets and public and private grounds at not less than $150,000. Immense damage has also been done in Big Flats, Corning and other places in the Chemung Valley. Houses and barns have been swept away by the score, bridges demolished, thousands of acres of growing crops annihilated, while business has been suspended. The only other flood that approaches this in magnitude was that of March 17, 1865, when ice gorges on the Chemung and Newtown Creek blocked the waters until dams were carried away and a serious flood resulted.

All the railroad lines running into Buffalo are greatly embarrassed by the floods, the Erie being the greatest sufferer. With the telegraph companies the situation was not so much better than with the railroads. The Western Union last night had no communication whatever with Western Pennsylvania. Six wires were being worked for New York business with business four hours behind. The Postal, as its representative stated, was "very much in the soup." Communication with New York was had only by way of Montreal and none with Western Pennsylvania. Messages for the East filed yesterday morning could not be put on the wire until last night.

THE FLOOD IN THE SOUTH.

The Potomac and Shenandoah Rivers Rising a Foot an Hour.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The latest report from Harper's Ferry says the Potomac and Shenandoah Rivers are rising one foot per hour. There is no communication with the South, either by rail or telegraph. The damage in this vicinity will amount to millions of dollars.

LYNCHBURG, Va., June 1.—The flood in the James River is the highest since 1871. The water is 23 feet above the high water level, but it is now slowly falling. The extent of the damage is not fully known yet.

RICHMOND, Va., June 1.—The low-lying districts of this city are under water. Hundreds of families have moved their household goods to places of safety. The gasworks are flooded. Many bridges have been destroyed in the State by the floods and there has been some loss of life.

FREDERICK, Md., June 1.—The damage by floods in this region is about half a million dollars. Mrs. Charles McFadden and Miss Carrie Moore, in attempting to cross a stream at Tarrytown, were swept from their vehicle and drowned.

BALTIMORE, June 2.—At Trevanion George Darrick was driving over the bridge at Sam's Creek Charles McFadden's $10,000 Hambletonian stallion Rolla. The bridge was swept away and man and horse were drowned.

A TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.

A Fireman Instantly Killed on the C.P.R. at Perth.

A fatal accident occurred on the C.P.R. at Perth on Saturday, whereby a young man by the name of Joe Kay, a fireman on the C.P.R., was instantly killed in a most horrible manner. Kay was employed on the C.P.R. being a fireman running out of Toronto and for a couple of years resided in Peterborough. He is lame, having a cork foot, which was probably the cause of the accident which resulted in such a terrible death. The unfortunate young man came down from Toronto to Perth on Saturday on business, and was at the station at the latter place when a freight came in the engine of which was driven by Alex. Rose, who was also a Peterborough boy but is at present running out of Toronto. When Kay saw Rose on the engine he went over to the train to have a talk with his co-railroader, whom he knew well. He attempted to jump on the step of the engine's cab but his foot slipped and he fell across the rails and the heavy wheels passed over his body. He was terribly mangled and was killed instantly.

MONDAY, JUNE 3 1889.

PRETTY SISTER OF JOSE.

By FRANCES HODGSON BURNETT.

Author of "Little Lord Fauntleroy," "That Lass O'Lowrie's," &c. &c.

"I saw you," he said, "at the bull fight."

Pepita looked over his shoulder and smiled at a passing woman who had greeted her. Her face dimpled, and she showed her small white teeth. It was as if she did not see the Matador at all.

"It was at the bull fight," he persisted. "Two weeks ago. You had a red flower in your hair as you have to-day. Ever since ——"

"It was not true," Pepita said gaily to Isabella, "what I said of Jovita. She is always cross, but she does not wish to go home. She met an old woman she knew in her young days, and is enjoying herself very much."

"Why did you say it?" asked Isabella, with simple wonder.

"Because I wished to go home myself."

"Truly?" said Isabella. "Why is that?"

"I am not entertained so much to-day," answered Pepita.

"We will make it more amusing," said Sebastiano, eagerly. "It shall be more amusing——"

"There is Jovita with her old woman now," interrupted Pepita. "I will go and speak to them."

She was gone the next instant—her movement was like the flight of a bird. Sebastiano stood and stared after her in silence until Juan addressed him respectfully.

"She is very wonderful," he said. "She changes her mind before one knows. Just before you came she said she was amused, and wished to remain."

"Perhaps," began Sebastiano, much discomfited, "perhaps it was I——"

"Ah, senor," said Juan, with great politeness "never. It is said that she always does what she chooses, and she chooses to do a thousand things."

"That is because she is so pretty," said Isabella. "She is much prettier than all the others and she does not care."

"A woman who is so pretty as that, remarked Juan sententiously, "need not care."

"She says," put in Isabella, "that if she does not care, others will; but if she should care the others——"

She stopped, meeting Sebastiano's eyes and becoming a little confused.

"What would happen then," he said, "if she should care?"

"I do not know," said Isabella, "but she never will—never."

But if she changed often towards others, Sebastiano found no change in her mood towards him. They did not leave the gardens until late in the day. Jovita was enjoying too greatly the comradeship of her old woman, and was ready to enjoy any pleasure offered to her. Sebastiano had a full purse, and perhaps understood old women of Jovita's class. He made himself very agreeable to these two, finding them the most comfortable seats and supplying them with things good to eat and drink, over which they gossipped together, leaving the young ones to amuse themselves as they pleased. They were very gay, the younger ones; even Manuelo, elated by the presence and hospitalities of Sebastiano, made little jokes. But none of them were gayer than Pepita. She was the centre figure of the party; they all looked at her, listened to her, were led by her slightest caprice. They went here and there, did this or that because she wished it. It was Sebastiano who was the host of the hour, but by instinct each knew it was Pepita who was the chief guest—who must be pleased.

"Is she pleased the Matador asked Jose once in a low-toned aside. "Does she entertain herself?"

"Does she not say so?" answered Jose with some slight secret misgiving.

"I do not know," said Sebastiano, looking down. "She does not speak to me."

Jose pushed his hat aside and rubbed his forehead. His respect for Pepita's whims had begun early in life and was founded on experience.

"She is young," he faltered. "She is very young. When she enjoys herself she ——"

He paused with an uneasy movement of his shoulders. It was quite terrible to him that she should treat with such caprice and disdain so splendid and heroic a person; but he knew there was nothing to be done.

"She admires you," he said, with courageous mendacity. "She saw you at the bull fight."

"She will be there again. You will take her—the next time?" said Sebastiano.

"Yes," answered Jose. "She has asked that I will. It was the greatest pleasure of her life."

But it was true that during all the afternoon she had never once spoken to Sebastiano. She had been as gay as a young bird, and the spirit of the party, her laughter, her pretty mockeries, and sauciness had carried all before them. Manuelo had been reduced to hopeless slavery. Isabella had looked on in secret reverential wonder. Jovita's old woman had glanced aside again and again, nodding her head, and saying sagely, "Yes, he will always have it her own way—the little one. You are lucky in having such a grandchild. She will never be a load." But throughout it all Pepita had managed it that not one of her words had fallen directly to Sebastiano. If he spoke to her she gave her answer to the one nearest to him. If he did not put an actual question to her she replied merely with a laugh or a piquant grimace or gesture, which included all the rest. It was worse than coldness. To the others it was perhaps not perceptible at all, only he who searched for her eyes, who yearned and strove to meet them, knew that they never rested upon him for an instant.

And then when he so daringly arranged that Jose should invite him to return home with them, to what did it all come? He was lured to old Jovita's side by the fact that at the beginning of the walk Pepita kept near him, and no sooner had the old woman involved him in tiresome talk, from which he could not escape, than the small figure flitted away and ended the journey homeward under the wing of Jose, and accompanied by Manuelo and a certain gay little Carlos, who joked and laughed like a child

He Got a Catholic Coffin.

MONTREAL, June 1.—The father of the young woman Adele Fron, whose death was the subject of a coroner's investigation yesterday, arrived from St. Placide to take possession of his daughter's body and asked the General Hospital authorities about a coffin. They recommended him to an undertaker near. He selected a coffin and it was being brought over when he found that the undertaker was a Protestant. He at once cancelled his order and got a Catholic coffin, in which the body was removed to the country to-day.

Death of Grand Vicar Langevin.

FATHER POINT, June 2.—His Lordship Edmund Langevin, Grand Vicar of the Roman Catholic diocese of Rimouski, a brother of Bishop Langevin of Rimouski and of Sir Hector Langevin, Minister of Public Works, died at the Bishop's palace in Rimouski at 2.15 this afternoon, aged 66 years. The deceased was struck down by paralysis on May 24. The deceased prelate was well known throughout the province for intellectual abilities of a high order, great administrative talents and tact.

Bishop Dowling's New Residence.

HAMILTON, June 2.—The house and grounds of the late John Harvey, Airlie House, King street west, have been purchased for a residence for Bishop Dowling, who finds Undermount too large.

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING.

EPPS'S COCOA

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there was a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette

HE MARCHED WITH SHERMAN TO THE SEA;

Trudged all the way on foot, over mountains and through morass, carrying knapsack and gun, slept on brush heaps to keep out of the mud, caught cold, from the effects of which his friends thought he would never recover. Lingering with slow consumption for many years, he saw Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery advertised in a country newspaper, and he determined to try it. A few bottles worked a change; six months' continued use cured him. Always too independent to ask his country for a pension, he now says he needs none. He helped save his country, he saved himself! Consumption is Lung-scrofula. For scrofula, in all its myriad forms, the "Discovery" is an unequaled remedy. It cleanses the system of all blood-taints from whatever cause arising, and cures all Skin and Scalp Diseases, Salt-rheum, Tetter, Eczema, and kindred ailments. It is guaranteed to benefit or cure in all diseases for which it is recommended, or money paid for it will be refunded. Sold by druggists.

TURNBULL'S

The heavy Spring Trade is on us, every day from this out we shall be kept busy in supplying the needs of our old and new customers.

Scarcely a day passes but we receive packages of New Goods especially in Millinery and Millinery Trimmings. New Shapes taking the place of those bought earlier, and at lower prices. To keep posted in what is being shown, you need to visit our establishment weekly.

Like an opening rose, our Dress Goods and Trimmings show beauty at every sight, the colors blend together so perfectly. Moss, Sage and Nile Greens, still hold in favor, Terra Cotta Blue, Greys, Dove and Reseda Shades are as much sought after as ever. In our Black Goods department we are showing a new voile of cloth, fine light and durable, just the dress for an old lady, much nicer than the nuns veilings.

It needs to be repeated and remembered that in all goods and most emphatically in Cotton Goods we keep a most complete stock. Where will you find the variety of Cottonades, Shirtings, Ticks, &c., you find with us, not less than sixty different patterns of Shirtings at prices as low as the lowest. At the Ribbon counter you are almost always sure to find exactly what you want for Dress or Millinery use.

Our Stock of Neck Frillings is very choice being different to what is usually shown, we import them from a different market.

When house-cleaning you may find you require a new carpet. We show a beautiful Tapestry at 50c. Lower and higher qualities according to good value.

The rush is on us in our Tailoring Department. Our Stock of Tweeds and Worsteds please the eye and pockets of our patrons. Best satisfaction in a fit always given.

NEWS OF THE DOMINION.

A FESTIVE POKER PARTY IN THE QUEEN CITY.

A Murderer's Remorse Drives Him to Suicide—Farmer Nat Little Charged With Many Crimes—A Shooting Mishap.

TORONTO, June 4.—There is considerable talk around the city about a gay poker party that took place last night in a room on the east side of Yonge-street, between Queen and Shuter, which may be shortly sized up as a case of the biter being bitten. A Hebrew who has been in the city a few months and who is as slick as they make them, ran across a trio of Toronto's gilded youth and told them that in his room there was a man with $400 on him and they could easily get it at poker, the Hebrew undertaking to do some quiet work by which the game would turn to the advantage of the young men. The trio took the bait and went to the room where they played poker for a few hours with the stranger who, strange to say, was not introduced by the Hebrew go-between. One of the three lost the few dollars that he had and the other two played on till between them they had lost over $200 to the stranger.

A MURDERER'S REMORSE.

Farmer Nat Little of the Rainy River District Charged With Arson.

WINNIPEG, June 3.—The body of Johnston, the murderer of old man Keller at Rainy River, has been found suspended to a tree near the scene of the murder, he having suicided. He tied his belt and handkerchief together and choked himself to death.

A warrant has been issued for a well-to-do farmer named Nat Little in the Cypress River district for arson, inciting to arson and killing a neighbor's cow and throwing the body into a well. It is alleged Little fired his own building to secure the insurance. The settlers are excited and if Little is caught he will have a hard time of it.

An Indian idiot girl was burnt to death in a fire at Fisher's Bay.

Villard went to the coast to-day.

A Saltfleet Man's Mishap.

HAMILTON, June 3.—Early yesterday morning a man named Mullen, who resides about four miles from Stoney Creek on the shore of Lake Ontario, upon arising saw a gull sitting on a stump. He took his gun, a breech-loading fowling piece, and attempted to shoot the bird. The gun exploded, knocking him insensible. His face is badly burnt; the eyebrows and whiskers completely burnt off. Of the gun nothing but a piece of the stock could be found.

Killed by Burglars

MONTREAL, June 4.—Francois Normand of St. Jacques de Lachigan has just died under very peculiar circumstances. He was a man of 74 who passed for very wealthy and was supposed to always keep a round sum of money in his house. On May 14 last during the night three masked men entered his house and brutally assaulted him and his servant with sand bags. Another person who slept in the house gave the alarm and the burglars fled. Normand died from the effects of the blows he received.

Belleville Briefs.

BELLEVILLE, June 4.—Charles Kyle was yesterday sentenced to three years in the penitentiary for burglary.

Gilmour & Co. have renewed the drive of their logs which were abandoned in the Moira.

An anti-Jesuit petition was presented to the congregation of the Holloway-street Methodist Church on Sunday and was largely signed.

Twenty carloads of fat cattle were yesterday shipped from Corby's distillery for England.

Rev. Mr. Dingman has been appointed by the Ministerial Association as their delegate to the anti-Jesuit convention at Toronto.

The Grand Trunk and Central railways have executed an arrangement for the interchange of traffic at the junction near El Dorado.

The Mono Homicide.

ORANGEVILLE, June 3.—The case of Farmer Atkinson, charged with the killing of James A. Scott of Mono, was up to-day before the Police Magistrate and was adjourned until Thursday.

IN THE VALLEY OF DEATH.

TWENTY-TWO HUNDRED DEAD BODIES ALREADY RECOVERED.

Estimates of the Loss of Life Still Vary—It is Probably Not Less Than 8000—Little Mercy Shown to Thieves.

JOHNSTOWN, June 3.—The developments of every hour make it more and more apparent that the exact number of lives lost by the flood will never be known. The population of Johnstown, the surrounding towns and the portion of the valley affected by the flood was nearly 35,000. Leading citizens of Johnstown agree that fully 30 per cent. of the residents of Johnstown and Cambria were victims of the disaster. If this be true the total loss of life in the entire valley cannot be less than 7000 or 8000 and possibly much greater. Of the thousands devoured by the flames no definite information can ever be obtained. As little will be learned of hundreds that sank beneath the current and were borne down the Conemaugh to be deposited hundreds of miles below on the banks and in the driftwood of the raging Ohio. Probably ⅓ of the dead will never be recovered, and it will take a list of the missing weeks hence to enable even a close estimate of the number of lives lost. The estimate can never be accurate, for in many instances whole families and their relatives were drowned. At present there are said to be 2200 recovered bodies.

Kernville is in a deplorable condition. The living are unable to take care of the dead. As quickly as the dead are brought there they are placed in boxes and buried. One thousand people is a low estimate of the lives lost there. But few of the bodies have been recovered. Only about 25 able bodied men have survived and are able to render assistance. Men and women can be seen with black eyes, bruised faces and cut heads. The appearance of some of the ladies is heartrending. They were injured in the flood and since that have not slept. Many have succumbed to nervous prostration. For two days but little assistance could be rendered them. The wounded remained uncared for in houses cut off by the water and died from their injuries alone.

Services in the chapel from which the bodies were buried consisted merely of a prayer by some survivor. No minister was present. Each coffin had a descriptive card on it and on the graves a similar card was placed.

A Gigantic Funeral Pyre.

JOHNSTOWN, June 3.—The massive accumulation of debris, extending from 800 to 1000 feet along the south shore of the Conemaugh, and immediately above the bridge, is now in complete possession of the flames, and will be until further relief from the Pittsburg Fire Department is received, so that another pang is added to those who had hoped to rescue the remains of their friends and relatives from the debris. The magnitude of the horror increases with the hours. It is believed that no less than 2000 of the drowned found lodgment beneath the mass of debris in the triangle of ground that the Conemaugh cut out of the bank between the river proper and the Pennsylvania Railroad bridge. There was the greatest funeral pyre in history. The victims were not upon it but were parts of its horrible constitution. Whole houses were washed into the apex of the triangle. Hencoops, pigstys, stables, the refuse of the gutter, the contents of sewers, whole lumber yards, boom upon boom of logs composed the mass. The upsetting of a cook stove ignited the mass and the work of cremation began. The smoke arose in a huge funnel-shaped cloud, and at times it changed to the form of an hour glass. At night the flames would light up this misty remnant of mortality.

The effect upon the living, ignorant and intelligent, was the same. That volume of smoke, with its dual form, produced a feeling of awe in many that was superior in most cases to that in the awful moment of the storm's wrath Friday afternoon. Hundreds stood for hours regarding the smoke and wondering if it foreboded another visitation direr than its predecessor. It was with a feeling of absolute loathing that all the people hereabout this morning awoke to find there nothing but a mass of ashes, calcined human bones, stoves, old iron and other approximately indestructible matter, from which only a light blue vapor was arising. General Hastings took precautions to prevent the extension of the fire to another huge pile, a short distance away, and this will be searched to-morrow for bodies of flood victims. Bodies are being buried as rapidly as they are identified. The work of the undertakers in embalming the dead has rendered it possible to keep some two or three days longer, but this is only desirable in cases where identification is dubious and no claimants appear at all. To-day the cars sent out from Pittsburg with provisions for the living were hastily cleared, in order to contain the bodies of the dead intended for interment in suburban cemeteries and in graveyards handy to the city.

Vice-President and Director James McMillan, of the Cambria Iron Company, says their loss has been well nigh incalculable, and while it has entered into their revenues, they are not daunted nor discouraged, but will to-morrow begin the work of clearing up the ruins of their mills preparatory to rebuilding and repairing their works. They will also immediately rebuild the Gautier Iron Works, which were obliterated by the flood. This is the disposition of all the others. A dozen of the business men said today, "True pluck survives. Our pockets are light, but if nothing more happens all of us will be in business again."

The central portion of Johnstown is as completely obliterated as if it had never had foundations. The river has made its bed upon the site of the dwellings and a vast area of sand, mud, gravel and furrowed ground marks the old channel. It is doubtful if it is possible ever to reclaim what was once the business portion of the city. The river will have to be returned to its old bed in order to do this, and that is an engineering feat hardly possible.

An Alleged Miracle.

JOHNSTOWN, June 4.—The alleged miracle at the Church of the Immaculate Conception has caused a sensation. Devotions were in progress Friday night when the water descended on Cambria City. The congregation fled. The water rose 15 feet in the church, badly damaging the interior. The decorated statue of the Virgin, only 3 feet high, however, it is asserted was not sullied by the liquid, the flowers, the wreaths, the lace veil were undisturbed and unsoiled. There are about 30 Catholic priests and nuns here. The sisters are devoting themselves to the care of the sick and injured in the hospitals, while the priests are doing anything and everything and making themselves generally useful. Bishop Phelan has organized the Catholic forces in the neighborhood.

The remains of John Ryan, ex-Sheriff of Cambria County, were found yesterday. There was much comment over the finding of the body of a nun cut in two. The supposition is she was traveling at the time of the accident on the express.

Where Woodvale once stood there is now a sea of mud broken but rarely by a pile of wreckage. The place is swept bare of all other buildings but the ruins of the Gautier wire mill. No effort is being made to clear off the streets.

The mire has formed a grave for many a victim. Arms and legs are protruding from the mud and it makes the most sickening of pictures. At East Conemaugh thirty houses were carried away by the flood. The loss of life is large at that point. Order is slowly arising out of chaos. The great cry is for men who will work. An order was posted yesterday by the Citizens' Committee directing men who are able to work but will not do so to leave town for the present. Officers are stationed at every avenue and railroad that enters town and all suspicious looking characters are stopped.

Rain fell here all yesterday and added to the miseries of the wretched people. The great plain where the best part of Johnstown used to stand is half covered with water. The few sidewalks in the part that escaped the flood were inches thick with sticky mud over which tramped a steady procession of poor women left destitute. The town seems like a great tomb. The people go about in a sort of a daze. Every hour one hears neighbors greeting each other and enquiring without show of feeling how many each had lost in his family.

There were hundreds and thousands of curious visitors from the country yesterday. The effect of the dreadful things they saw and heard was to drive most of them to drink. By noon the streets were beginning to be full of boisterous and noisy countrymen trying to counteract the strain on their nerves of unnatural excitement. The police then drove them all out of town. After that far into the evening all the country roads were filled with drunken stragglers.

Christ Myers has been rendered hopelessly insane by the fact that his father, mother, two sisters and a brother are missing.

Large Families Blotted Out.

PITTSBURG, June 3.—Frank Schaeffer of Meyran-avenue, this city, received a telegram to-day from his son Frank in Johnstown, reporting the death of Frank's brother and twenty other relatives of the family—three brothers-in-law and their families. Ex-Deputy Revenue Collector Samuel Hawthorn of Allegheny received information this evening that four brothers, two sisters, and seventeen nephews and nieces had perished in the floods at Johnstown. It has just been ascertained that the whole corps of Western Union telegraph operators was lost at Johnstown. Among them were Mrs. Ogle, the manager, who for twenty-five years has acted as receiver of Associated Press reports, and her daughter Minnie, also well known, and the Misses Gorman and Watkins and three messenger boys, who were unable to escape from the building.

Distressing Scenes at Kernville.

JOHNSTOWN, June 3.—Three hundred bodies were lying on the sand at Kernville at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The sight was one of the most distressing ever witnessed. A crowd of 500 were gathered around endeavoring to find the bodies of friends or relatives. There were no coffins there, and the bodies had to be laid on the ground; 500 coffins are now on the way there and the undertakers have sent for 500 additional. Kernville from now on will be the place where most of the bodies will be found. The water has fallen so much that it is possible to get at the bodies, but all of them have to be dug out of the sand. It is thought most of the bodies that will be found at Kernville are under a large mass of debris an acre in area.

A cold wave has struck the town and the people are badly in need of clothing. It is almost impossible to get anything to eat. There is nothing to smoke and only water to drink. The citizens' committee are making desperate efforts to preserve the peace, and the Hungarians at Cambria City are being kept in their houses by men with clubs, who will not permit them to go out. There is considerable race prejudice at Cambria City and trouble may follow, as both the English and Hungarians are getting worked up to a considerable extent.

1800 Bodies Recovered.

JOHNSTOWN, June 3.—Up to 8 o'clock tonight 1800 dead bodies have been recovered and others are being taken out of the ruins every minute.

A Hungarian woman fished out a trunk in Cambria City yesterday and found $7500 in it.

The lynching of pillagers in the Johnstown district so far numbers between 16 and 20. Sheriff Dick and posse threw seven Hungarian robbers into the river and drowned them.

Over 1000 Bodies at Kernville.

PITTSBURG, June 3.—Over 1000 bodies have been taken from near Kernville to-day. This is official.

Lock Haven is Silent.

PHILADELPHIA, June 3.—No direct intelligence of any sort has been received from Lock Haven since 9 o'clock Friday night. The dispatch then received stated that the lumber boom had burst and the town was flooded. The wildest kind of rumors are received in regard to the situation at that place but they lack confirmation. It is believed, however, that the loss of property there will be enormous.

[Lock Haven, a city of about 15,000 people, is the capital of Clinton County on the south bank of the west branch of the Susquehannah River at the mouth of Bald Eagle Creek, 70 miles north-northwest of Harrisburg. It is a centre of the lumber trade.]

Relief Funds.

BUFFALO, June 3.—From all parts of the country despatches announce large funds being subscribed for the Johnstown sufferers. The Philadelphia fund already amounts to $150,000, New York's $70,000 and the Legislature of Connecticut has appropriated $25,000.

Practical Sympathy in Germany.

BERLIN, June 3.—A fund for the relief of the Johnstown flood sufferers has been organized here.

Died of a Broken Heart.

EAST SAGINAW, Mich., June 4.—Two months ago Thomas Flannagan of this city was murdered by Frederick Schultz of Buena Vista Township. Schultz secured bondsmen and then drowned himself. Mrs. Flanagan was heart-stricken with grief, took to her bed and last night she died at St. Mary's Hospital.

The St. Sauveur Sufferers.

QUEBEC, June 4.—Many of the sufferers of the late fire in St. Sauveur were hard at work all day Sunday on the construction of new dwellings, having obtained permission from the clerical authorities. Those too poor to pay for labor had many willing volunteers of the adjoining district, who worked like Trojans to assist their less fortunate neighbors. The Dean of Quebec acknowledges a check for $5000 from the City of Montreal for the relief of the sufferers.

Kingston News.

KINGSTON, June 4.—Mrs. Lammon, who has been during the past three weeks employed temporarily in the residence of Mr. A. Gunn as cook, went to bed on Saturday night as usual, but as she did not put in an appearance on Sunday morning her bedroom was opened and her dead body, partly dressed, found lying on the floor near the bed. The room was full of gas and investigation showed that when she turned off the gas she turned the cock round too far.

The steamer Islander returned yesterday afternoon from the search for the bodies of the lost crew of the Bavaria. She was unsuccessful, and Captain Miller thinks it is unlikely that they will turn up for several days.

Her Second Attempt Successful.

HALIFAX, May 4.—An inquest was held yesterday on the body of Mrs. George Harvey, the artist's wife, who committed suicide Sunday night by drowning herself in the Quarry Pond, Point Pleasant Park. The lady left her home at 9 o'clock Sunday night and a couple of hours later her husband becoming alarmed began to search for her. He and Detective Power hunted all night scouring the harbor shore at the south end and looking in all directions. At 4 o'clock in the morning they entered the park and discovered the missing woman's umbrella on the bank of the pond, while her hat was seen floating a short distance off. The men saw something else in another part of the pond which they thought might be the body and Harvey discarded his clothing and started to swim out for what he supposed was his wife's corpse. It proved to be only a rock but while swimming towards the shore Harvey's leg came in contact with something on the bottom, which proved to be a woman's dress, he managed to pull it to the surface and with Power's assistance dragged ashore the lifeless body of his wife. It is supposed the lady was suffering from temporary insanity. She attempted to commit suicide once before. The jury returned a verdict of suicide while temporarily insane.

Common Sense

In the treatment of slight ailments would save a vast amount of sickness and misery. One of Ayer's Pills, taken after dinner, will assist Digestion; taken at night, will relieve Constipation; taken at any time, will correct irregularities of the Stomach and Bowels, stimulate the Liver, and cure Sick Headache. Ayer's Pills, as all know who use them, are a mild cathartic, pleasant to take, and always prompt and satisfactory in their results.

"I can recommend Ayer's Pills above all others, having long proved their value as a for myself and family." — J. T. Hess, Leithsville, Pa.

"Ayer's Pills have been in use in my family upwards of twenty years, and have completely verified all that is claimed for them."—Thomas F. Adams, San Diego, Texas.

"I have used Ayer's Pills in my family for seven or eight years. Whenever I have an attack of headache, to which I am very subject, I take a dose of Ayer's Pills and am always promptly relieved. I find them equally beneficial in colds; and, in my family, they are used for bilious complaints and other disturbances with such good effect that we rarely, if ever, have to call a physician." — H. THE CITY AND SUBURBS.

Personal.

James R. Brown, Factory Inspector for Ontario, is in town.

The First of the Season.

The Baptist Sunday School has selected Tuesday, the 9th of July as the date of their annual excursion and picnic. Further particulars will be published hereafter. 3d129

This Week.

We offer for this week all wool Nuns Veiling in Pink, Blue, Salmon, Rose, Terracotta, Garnet, Black, at 12½c. If you can use these goods you will save from 50 to 100 per cent. H. S. Griffin & Co. 3d130

The George-st. Y.P.A.

The Y.P.A. of the George-st. church held a regular meeting last night when over one hundred members attended. The meeting was of a very interesting character. The subject for the meeting next week is "Speaking for Jesus," Matthew xv, 26-27.

"The House to Patronize."

The Modus Vivendi.

The "cup that cheers but not inebriates' is made up of two essential ingredients, water and tea. The tea costs little and the water less. Get both of the best. Get both fresh. Boil the first smartly, brew the latter quickly. The result will be a cup of tea with a splendid aroma—if you have bought your tea at Hawley Bros., the popular, positive and particular tea dealers of George-st.

Miss Gordon at the Y.M.C.A.

Miss Gordon gave a Bible reading to a very large and deeply interested audience in the Y. M. C. A. Hall yesterday afternoon. It is to be regretted that so many were unable to get in. Miss Gordon based her remarks on II Cron. xx. chapter, on our duty of praising and having implicit confidence in God for everything. It made a marked impression on all. In the evening Miss Gordon gave a Bible reading to men only on John iv. chapter, and all felt it good to be there. Owing to the limited number the hall will seat, and through the kindness of the officials of the George-st. Methodist church who have placed at our disposal their school room, the meetings will be held there for the rest of the week at 3.30 and 8 p.m. We hope by this means to make room for all. It is hoped that the friends will be prompt on time as it disturbs the meeting those coming in late.—Com.

Lacrosse.

The following team will represent the Riversides in the championship match with Norwood to-morrow afternoon:—

Mr. R. H Fortye will be referee. A. Rose, who plays cover point, is ill, and T. Meagher having sprained his foot may not be able to play, in which case his brother will take his place.

Board of Trade Meeting.

The June (quarterly) meeting of the Board of Trade will be held this Tuesday evening, in the Town Council Chamber. There should be a full attendance of members. At this meeting the several standing committees of the Board will be struck and it is adviseable that to the best material in the board the important duties should be delegated. The usefulness of the Board as a public body will be enhanced by the active work of its committees and there is plenty of scope for individual as well as united effort. The meeting is called for at 7.30 sharp and the rule of the board is imperative that business will commence sharp on time. It is the intention to call the Board together at an early day to discuss the manufacturing and trade position of the town and, if possible, to devise some means to add to the already large manufacturing interests.

Again Brought to Time.

The Port Hope Guide some days ago made an attack upon the Rev. M. L. Pearson in connection with a resolution passed at the recent Methodist District meeting here, in which it accused him of political partisanship. The proprietor of the Guide is a member of the Methodist church and Rev. Mr. Pearson promptly took steps in accordance with the rules of the church to have an investigation held and to compel Mr. Wilson, of the Guide, to prove or withdraw his innuendoes. Mr. Wilson has taken the latter course and yesterday's Guide contains an editorial retraction in which it is explained that the article appeared "in the absence of the editor and senior proprietor." The Guide says: —"The last sentence of the article we unequivocally withdraw, and deeply regret its appearance in the Guide, as we have no wish to do the rev. gentleman any personal injury or cast any reflection on his hitherto unimpeachable character." Mr. Pearson dealt properly with the Guide, but we very much doubt that the article would have done him any injury. He is too well known and too highly esteemed and respected throughout the Conference for an article in the Guide to injure his reputation in any way. During the year Mr. Pearson has been here he has made hosts of friends and his popularity was attested by the resolution adopted at the last meeting of the Official Board of his church expressing approval of his ministrations and asking him to return next year.

MEETING AT WARSAW.

Addresses and Resolutions on the Jesuit Question—Delegates Appointed.

Pursuant to previous notice the Presbyterian Church, Warsaw, was well filled on Monday evening last with a representative meeting of the electors of the township of Dummer, some of them coming twelve miles for the purpose.

The chair was occupied by Mr. Wm Darling. The Rev. Mr. Hyde having explained how the meeting had been called and the chairman having read the address of the Citizens' Committee of Toronto to the people of Ontario, Mr. Alex. Watts moved, seconded by Mr. Alex. Smith,—

"That the electors of the township of Peterborough East, in mass meeting assembled in the village of Warsaw, strongly protest against the "Act for the incorporation of the Jesuits" and the "Act for the settlement of the Jesuits' Estates" As acts calculated to disturb the peace and harmony hitherto existing among all classes of the population, and more especially in the Province of Quebec. (a) Because the incorporation of the Society of Jesus is an unconstitutional Act in a British Dependency. (b) Because the Act for the settlement of the Jesuits' Estates endows out of the public treasury a sectarian organization, in violation of the recognized principle of the absolute separation of Church and state, and the perfect equality of all churches before the law. (c) Because the recognition of the Italian Pontiff to interfere in our civil affairs, is derogatory to the supremacy of Her Majesty, and the placing of a sum of money at the disposal of the Pope, is a subversion of the authority of the Queen, and contrary to every antecedent of our constitution.

Mr. Carnegie then addressed the meeting and was followed by Rev. John Power and Rev. Mr. Hyde and Messrs. A. R. Kidd, Watts, Choate and others, after which the motion was carried by a standing vote.

Moved by Mr. David Rose, seconded by Mr. Arthur Choate,—That it being our conviction that the vote on the Jesuits Estates bill given in the House of Commons does not reflect public opinion, this meeting endorses the action of the citizens committee in Toronto in calling a convention in that city on the 11th and 12th inst., and that we appointed delegates from the township to attend said convention, and that the following be a citizens committee for the township of Dummer, with power to take such action as they deem necessary:—A. R. Kidd, Alex. Smith, J. Sanders, D. Rose, Thomas Campbell, M. Barr, Jas. Robb, Jno. Rose and Jno. Clements. Further that we most heartily approve the act of the 13 who recorded their votes in favor of disallowance of the Jesuits Estates Act.

Messrs. A. R. Kidd, Alex. Watts and S. Edwards were appointed delegates to the Toronto Convention, after which the meeting adjourned.

ASHBURNHAM COUNCIL.

The Town Hall Debenture By-law—Street Watering and Other Matters.

A regular meeting of the Ashburnham Council was held last evening. There were present, Mr. Burnham, Reeve, and Councillors Calcutt, Craig, Tivey and Marshal.

WATER TANK CONTRACT.

Mr. MARSHAL moved, seconded by Mr. CRAIG,—That the contract for completing the interior of the tank at the corner of Mark and Elizabeth-sts., be let to Mr. Joseph Phillips for $100, to be built of brick, nine inches thick, proper material to be used in the work, and to be completed ready for the covering with sufficient brick pillars to support the same, the work to be done to the satisfaction of Mr. Calcutt.—Carried.

STREET WATERING

A tender was read for John Connors offering to water the business part of the town for $200.

Mr. MARSHAL was opposed to it. He thought it would benefit only a few.

Mr. CRAIG supported the watering of the streets. It was needed and would benefit all, as all the people used that street.

Mr. CALCUTT suggested that the Council give $75 towards the work.

Mr. TIVEY said the people on Elizabeth st. had contributed towards it before and should do so again.

After further discussion the matter dropped.

ACCOUNTS.

The following accounts were read and ordered to be paid:—

Pay Sheet No. 10	$101 40
Pay Sheet No. 11	112 75
Pay Sheet No. 12	158 75
Pay Sheet No. 13	109 39
A. D. Martin, horse hire	2 00
Geo. Lipsett, horse hire	1 50
Wm. Cleary, repairing tools	8 45
For trees	48 90

RAILWAY CROSSINGS.

Mr. MARSHAL asked what was being done about the railway crossings?

The CLERK said that the railway company had been notified and it had promised to attend to them.

The REEVE said that the company's attention should be called to the promise, and it was decided that the Clerk should do so.

THE NEW TOWN HALL.

A by-law was introduced to issue debentures for $1,500 for the purpose of erecting a building for a town hall and market building, the debentures to be for twenty years at 5 per cent per annum.

The REEVE expressed the opinion that they would receive a premium on the debentures.

The by law was read a first and second time and a vote will be taken on it on July 2nd.

The question of letting some contracts for street work was brought up, but after some discussion it was dropped and the Council adjourned.

At the Ranges.

The rifle association had a good practice at the ranges yesterday afternoon, there being a large turnout of marksmen. Next Thursday the regular monthly match will take place.

"My daughter was greatly troubled with Scrofula, and at one time it was feared she would lose her sight. Ayer's Sarsaparilla has completely restored her health, and her eyes are as well as ever, with not a trace of scrofula in her system."—G. King, Killingly, Conn.

An Evangelical Meeting

in aid of the missionary fund in Montreal and Quebec will be held in the Opera House on Wednesday evening, June 5th. The meeting will be conducted by Mr. Fred Winch and Miss Gordon. Doors open at 7.30, meeting to begin at 8 o'clock. Collection in aid of the missionary fund. Prof. Parker will take charge of the singing, assisted by members of the choirs of the different churches. 2d130

A Masonic Visitor.

At the regular meeting of Corinthian Masonic Lodge to be held on the evening of the 12th inst. it is expected that the Deputy Grand Master, Mr. J. Ross Robertson, will visit the lodge and deliver a lecture on Masonry. No doubt the occasion will largely be availed of by brethren to hear so able an exponent of the priciples of masonry.

The Endeavor Society.

The Endeavor Society of the Charlotte-st., church met last evening, Miss Neill in the chair. A very pleasant evening of social intercourse was passed interspersed with the following:—Reading, Old things and new, by Mr. O. C. Rowse, Duet by Misses Brundrett and Fawcett, and Selections from the Casket by the Editor, Mr. Rowse. The subject for next meeting will be "Encouragements in the Christian Life" and will be laid open for discussion.

'A Spring Message'

From the New Frm of

H. LeBRUN & CO.

Sign of the Golden Horse-shoe.

The people of Peterborough and vicinity are all aware of the business change which took place in the CITY CLOTHING STORE on the first day of February last. The new firm beg leave to make their first bow to the public through the columns of the REVIEW, and to request a careful perusal of the following Spring and Summer circular:—

The City Clothing Store

in past years, by long experience in business, by buying always for spot cash, importing direct from the principal houses of the old country and from the leading houses of Canada, and by strict economy in conducting its business, has always been able to force prices down to an exceedingly fine point. The members of which the new firm is composed will form a still stronger "combine," by which the CITY CLOTHING STORE will be even better prepared to procure for its customers a continuation of those superior inducements in the future for which it has been noted in the past.

Men's Clothing.

The magnitude of our stock and lowness of prices gives us a great advantage over all other competitors in the trade. We carry in stock all the fast selling lines, styles and patterns, and can fit the tall, the short, the fat and the lean.

MORE SUITS, BETTER FABRICS, FINER STYLES than were ever handled before.

Special values in FINE SPRING OVERCOATS, and Fine SPRING and SUMMER SUITS. Don't fail to see them. The superb styles, workmanship, and the beautiful fabrics and patterns that we offer will surprise you.

Merchant Tailoring.

"For the apparel oft proclaims the man."

Fine dressers in search of new, neat and nobby OVERCOATINGS, SUITINGS or TROUSERINGS will find this department crowded to overflowing with cloth from all countries. To select from the largest assortment is an advantage we offer to our customers, backed up by the skill of experienced cutters and tailors. Besides perfect fit and first-class trimmings, we guarantee absolutely first-class workmanship.

Boys' and Youths' Clothing.

Clothing for the little ones boys and children has always been a specialty with us. We have always sought to give great values in this department, and to provide a larger and finer variety of goods for parents to select from than they could find elsewhere.

This means that we are showing a large assortment of BOYS' and CHILDREN'S SUITS, BOYS' and CHILDREN'S BLOUSES, SHIRT WAISTS, PANTS, &c.

This spring there are an unusual number of new and nobby styles, and an enlarged variety of fabrics and patterns. Be sure and see our stock.

Gents' Furnishings.

Gentlemen of Peterborough seeking the latest styles and best values for their money, as well as an opportunity of selecting from the largest stock of Furnishing Goods, should not fail to visit this department at once. We offer the finest, best selected and the largest assortment of NECKWEAR, HOSIERY, UNDERWEAR, GLOVES, SHIRTS, HANDKERCHIEFS, etc., to be found in any first-class establishment.

The only trouble we had was that many of our customers who came to buy had to wait for some time as others were ahead of them. We regret that the time for closing the sale arrived before they got waited on, and as we do just as we advertise the sale closed just to the minute as announced.

For the benefit of those who were so unfortunate in not being able to secure some of the bargains that were given away last Saturday, we continue the Sale on Saturday.

HERE'S A CHANCE!

On SATURDAY, between 11 and 12 o'clock, for one hour, we will sell any Pair of Pants in the Store for $1.99. Some of them are worth $4.50 and $5.50. We will also sell, between the hours of 2 and 3 o'clock

A LINE OF TWEED SUITS

☛ worth $8.50 for $4.25, and a Fine Line of FANCY WORSTED SUITS for men, all sizes, selling price $15.00, $7.50, just half price. Now if you want a bargain, don't fail to call as close to 11 or 2 o'clock as possible, as we expect a big rush. The sale of Pants closes sharp at 12 o'clock, and the sale of Suits, at the above prices, closes at 3 o'clock to the minute. The above Sales will be repeated between 8 and 9 p.m. for the benefit of the workingmen. We will also sell the following during the day:

MEN'S FINE SPRING SUITS at $2.89 - - - worth $6.50

AID FOR THE SUFFERING.

HEARTS WARMED BY THE HORRIBLE FLOOD DISASTER.

The Cries for Bread and the Destitution in Pennsylvania Appeal to Canadians—A Relief Fund.

The terrible disaster that has fallen upon the people of Johnstown and many other places in Pennsylvania by the unparalleled floods has aroused sympathy throughout the world. The cries of the destitute women, children and men, without shelter and without food, have been wafted on the telegraph wires throughout the continent, and thousands are contributing towards the relief of the starving people. Others willing and even anxious to assist in the work of benevolence and are asking how they may do so.

A RELIEF FUND.

In response to enquiries directed to this office the REVIEW has opened a relief fund. Already, without solicitation or announcement being made, contributions have been received, and there are no doubt many others in Peterborough whose hearts have been touched who will join with those who have contributed. Any persons who desire to so aid the sufferers may send their contributions to the REVIEW office, and they will be forwarded to their proper destination and their receipt acknowledged.

THE TOWN LEGISLATURE.

A THREE HOURS SESSION OF THE TOWN COUNCIL.

A Long List of Communications and Accounts Reports of Committees—The Result of the Inspection of the Town's Sidewalks and Streets—The Re-submitting of the Collegiate Institute By-law—A Discussion on Fire Hose—Councillor Rutherford's Rubber Boots—Another Hotel License to be Asked for.

The Town Council had a three-hour session last night, when considerable business was transacted. Mayor Stevenson presided and the ward representatives present were: Councillors Cahill, Davidson, Kelly, E. H. D. Hall, A. Hall, Dawson, Baptie, Rutherford, Langford, Kendry, and Hartley.

After the minutes of the last meeting had been read, the clerk presented the following

COMMUNICATIONS:

From the Board of Education, enclosing the resolution passed at the last meeting of the Board asking the Council to submit the Collegiate Institute by law a second time to the people.—Received.

From Town Solicitor Edwards giving it as his opinion that the Institute by-law could be submitted again this year, but that the Council could not be compelled to do so, but could use their own discretion in the matter.—Received.

The financial statement of the Commissioners of the Town Trust.—Received.

From the Toronto Rubber Company offering to supply the Eureka fire hose at 90c. per foot.—Received.

From John A. Barron, of Lindsay, on behalf of Mr. Pusey, asking the Council to send a deputation to Toronto to interview the government in reference to aid for the Irondale and Bancroft railroad.—Received.

From the Mayor of Ottawa asking the Council to appoint a deputation to join with other municipalities in interviewing the Ontario Government in reference to the taxation exemption law.—Received.

From the Guttapercha Rubber Co. in reference to the old rubber boots account.—Finance.

From W. Muncaster and five other jewellers asking the Council to pass a by-law making it compulsory for all jewellery stores to be closed at seven o'clock.—Received.

From Edmison & Dixon on behalf of Mr. Manning, of McDonnel-st., asking the Council to instruct the town engineer to strike a permanent grade on McDonnel-st. so that the residents on the street would be able to go on with certain improvements.—Referred to the town engineer with instructions to strike the grade, subject to supervision of the chairman of the Street and Bridge Committee.

From the secretary of the fire brigade asking the Council to supply the firemen with rubber coats and boots, and asking for a grant of $100 to aid in the celebration of Dominion Day.—Received.

From David Jones and others asking that a sidewalk be laid on Parnell-st.—Received.

From H. W. Kent, manager of the Bell Telephone Company, asking permission to erect poles on George-st., he having failed to arrange with the Northwestern Telegraph Co. for the use of their poles. Mr. Kent repeated his offer to put the fire alarm service in first-class condition if his request was granted.—Received.

From R. H. Henderson asking for a reduction of his shooting gallery license.—Finance Committee.

The accounts were all referred to the Finance Committee.

MAYOR STEVENSON reported that papers had been served upon him by Mr. Pousette, Q. C., giving him notice that a motion would be made on behalf of the hotel men to quash the High License By-law.

The MAYOR also made a short verbal report of the result of the interview which the deputation had with the Ontario Government in reference to the Liquor License Act amendment, and stated that they believed the matter would be favorably considered.

THE COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE BY-LAW.

On motion it was decided to hear the deputation of the Board of Education which was present in reference to the submitting of the Collegiate Institute By-law a second time to the ratepayers.

Mr. DUMBLE was the first to address the Council. He said the Board did not come to the Council to insist that the by-law should be submitted a second time, but simply to confer with them in reference to the matter. He said he thought the by-law had been defeated because it had not been properly placed before the ratepayers. He pointed out that the present Institute building was not up to the requirements of the Government as a Collegiate Institute, and would have to be changed so as to meet these requirements during the coming vacation. If the changes were made it was probable that the rent would be increased by one thousand dollars, and even when the building was brought up to the requirements they had five hundred public school children all in the same building, or in the same grounds, which was a source of interruption and disturbance. He referred to the crowded state of the school, and said that they would have to pay a rental of a thousand dollars a year when they could have a new building for $30,000. This new building would obviate many of the causes for complaint and would give the teachers a better opportunity to secure better results. He said many of the ratepayers had the idea that the Board was committed in some way to purchase the Menzies property, but he said this was not so. Some of the Board did think that no more suitable property could be procured, but it was only a suggestion. The Board thought that if the by-law was submitted again, and a public meeting was held and the matter property presented to the people, the vote would be reversed.

Mr. PETER HAMILTON said he had been paying taxes towards a Collegiate Institute, but since he had been on the Board he came to the conclusion that his money was poorly invested. He thought the town should have a better Institute building and keep abreast of the times.

Mr. WM. ENGLISH also addressed the Council in reference to the matter.

Mr. DUMBLE said that it was a matter of doubt whether $30,000 would purchase an acre of land and erect a new building, but he believed the Menzies property would make a very creditable school building for $30,000. Still if the Council thought it advisable they could submit a by-law for $30,000.

Mr. DAVID JONES also addressed the Council in reference to laying a sidewalk on and the grading of Parnell-st. which was in a bad condition.

A request from the Board of Trade asking that that body be given the use of the Council Chamber for their meetings was presented by the Mayor and granted.

THE FINANCES.

Councillor DAVIDSON then submitted the report of the Finance Committee which read as follows:—

Chairman.

The report was adopted.

THE RESULT OF THE INSPECTION.

Councillor LANGFORD then presented the report of the Street and Bridge Committee as follows:—

To the Mayor and Councillors of the Town of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Street and Bridge Committee beg leave to report that they have examined the following streets and would recommend the following improvements:—

Aylmer—Culvert at Mead's; street to be water-tabled, sidewalk to be continued on Railroad-st. to Factory; street leading to factory to be water-tabled and gravelled, county furnishing the gravel. Water-st.—Sidewalk to be laid from railroad crossing to the town limit. Sidewalks on Smith-st. between George and Water-sts. Benson-st.—Repaired and crossing. George-st.—Sidewalk from Grand Junction crossing to Argyle-st. Smith-st.—Sidewalk from Bathurst to Stewart-st. Crossing at Communication Road. Edinburgh-st.—Sidewalk to be repaired between George and Bethune-sts. Dublin-st.—Sidewalk to be repaired between Reid and Donegal-sts. Gilchrist-st.—Sidewalk to be repaired. Bonaccord-st.—Sidewalk to be continued west to end of street. London-st.—Sidewalk to be laid from Gilchrist to Park-st. Murray-st.—Sidewalk between Reid and Park-sts. Reid-st.—Bridge to be repaired in front of Wm. Hamilton Mf'g. Co.'s foundry. Downey-st.—Sidewalk from Murray-st. south half a block. Elm-st.—Sidewalk to be repaired. McDonnell-st.—Sidewalk from Reid to Rubidge-st. to be removed and repaired as required. Water-st. to be water-tabled from Brock to Dublin-st. Harvey-st. to be water-tabled from McDonnell-st. south. Simcoe-st.—Sidewalk from Reid to Park-sts. Water-st.—Sidewalk north side from Park 300 feet west; south sidewalk to be repaired. Sherbrook-st.—Sidewalk north side from Reid-st. west as far as required. Chamberlain-st.—Sidewalk from Park-st. west 400 feet, north side. Rubidge-st.—Sidewalks east side from London to Dublin-sts.

All of which is respectfully submitted,
WM. LANGFORD,
Chairman.

Councillor RUTHERFORD said that in old days the committee in making a report of this kind were in the habit of presenting an approximate estimate of the cost of the works recommended and also usually recommended that as much of the work as possible should be done by tender.

Councillor DAVIDSON—Excuse me, Mr. Rutherford, how many years back was that?

Councillor RUTHERFORD.—About four years ago.

Councillor DAVIDSON—No, it was not done at that time.

Councillor RUTHERFORD said he had always done it when he was chairman of the committee, but what he wanted was that the Council should know something about what was being done.

Councillor DAVIDSON said it would be quite an undertaking to give Mr. Rutherford all the information he wanted, but the sidewalks were only recommended where required. He said that he would just like to say that he did not think the cedar that was being put in the sidewalks was up to the mark.

Councillor LANGFORD said that he had instructed the Street Inspector to cull all cedar when it was being piled in the town yard, and if it had not been done the inspector would have to explain the reason.

Councillor DAVIDSON said perhaps it might be well for the Street and Bridge Committee to consider the matter of asking for tenders for laying sidewalks of certain widths as he had been told that the work could be done cheaper in this way.

Councillor CAHILL said he and the other Councillors in their drive of inspection had been greatly pleased at the signs of prosperity and improvement which had been everywhere observable in the town. He said he would also like to say that the report of there being 300 empty houses in town was not true, as few vacant houses had been noticed. He then referred to the case of Mr. Wills on Park-st., who could not rent his houses because of the condition of the drain, and he moved, seconded by Councillor Davidson,—That the report of the Street and Bridge Committee be amended by adding the following:—That a rough crib-work be built on Park-st. in front of Mr. Wills' houses for a distance of about 150 feet; also that a four foot sidewalk be built on King-st. west 250 feet.

Councillor LANGFORD said he had pointed out to Mr. Wills how unreasonable it was to expect the town to do this work. There were other residents living on that road who had done this work at their own expense.

Councillor RUTHERFORD also referred to residents who had done their own cribbing and he did not think the amendment should be carried

Councillor KELLY then moved,—That the report be amended so as to provide for laying a sidewalk on Charlotte st., west of Park-st., as far as the most westerly house.

This motion was withdrawn.

Councillor BAPTIE moved, seconded by Councillor RUTHERFORD,—That Councillor Cahill's amendment be referred to the Street and Bridge Committee to report.

The report was then adopted, Councillor Kelly's motion being attached thereto.

POLICE SALARIES AND CLOTHES.

Councillor KENDRY, Chairman, then presented the report of the Committee on Appointments and Supervision of Police, as follows:—

To the Mayor and Corporation of the Town of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Committee on Appointments and Supervision of Police beg leave to report as follows:—That this Council supply the police force with one suit of clothes each, and that the salary of Joseph Stewart and Charles McGinty be five hundred dollars each per annum.

JAS. KENDRY,
Chairman.

Councillor RUTHERFORD thought the Committee had a good deal of assurance in raising salaries without any application for such increase.

Councillor E. H. D. HALL thought there was a by-law fixing salaries and he did not think this should be changed.

Councillor KENDRY said he would allow the clause of the report referring to the increase of salaries to stand as a notice of motion.

The other clause of the report was carried.

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Councillor A. HALL then read the following report:—

To the Mayor and Corporation of the Town of Peterborough:—

GENTLEMEN,—Your Fire, Water and Light Committee beg leave to report and recommend the purchase of 200 feet of 2½ inch rubber hose from the Guttapercha Rubber Co.; four flexible rubber hose branches; two 2½ inch cut off hose valves; eleven two inch valves for stand pipes; nineteen rubber coats for the firemen. That there be a stand pipe put on the corner of Water and Argyle-sts. for street watering purposes. That there be a hydrant put on the corner of Argyle and Sunnyside-sts. That the alarm bell on the corner of Murray and Park-sts. be moved to the corner of London and Park-sts.

All of which is respectfully submitted.
ADAM HALL.
Chairman.

Councillor KENDRY moved, seconded by Councillor KELLY, that the report be amended by placing a hydrant on the corner of Cemetery and Water-st.

Councillor DAWSON said that the alarm bells were no use in the world, and he moved, seconded by Councillor Hartley that the bell be not placed on the corner of London and Park-st.

The motion was lost.

Councillor E. H. D. HALL moved that the report be further amended so as to recommend the purchase of 200 feet of Eureka hose instead of Baker hose. He said that the town had been using Eureka hose and it had given good service and he did not see why they should change. He also read several letters from different places which did not recommend the Baker hose any too highly.

Chief Rutherford then addressed the Council in reference to the hose. He said the Eureka hose they had used, with the exception of some which had been poorly lined, had given the best of satisfaction. In regard to the Baker fabric hose he said they could not depend on printed reports, but he had enquired from the chief of the Hamilton fire department and that gentleman said they used nothing else and it gave splendid satisfaction.

Councillor A. HALL said that they could have the Eureka fabric hose re-lined at a cost of only 25 cents a foot, but the Baker hose was knitted and would unravel if a coupling was broken off. He thought the Eureka hose had given such good satisfaction they should not change.

Councillor RUTHERFORD said the committee had recommended the Baker hose because the firemen had asked for it. The Hamilton chief had spoken very highly of the Baker hose, and it was a lighter, cheaper and he believed a better hose.

Councillor LANGFORD said the Chief in Hamilton was careful not to recommend the Baker hose or any other, but spoke highly of them all.

After some further discussion the report was adopted.

THE FIREMEN TO CELEBRATE.

Councillor A. HALL moved, seconded by Councillor KELLY,—That the sum of one hundred dollars be granted to the fire brigade to assist them in celebrating the 1st of July.

The other clause of the petition asking for nineteen pair of Wellington boots for the firemen was referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

COUNCILLOR RUTHERFORD'S RUBBER BOOTS.

Councillor RUTHERFORD, when the question of rubber boots was broached, rose in high indignation, to explain to those gentlemen, among them the chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, who he said he heard had been enquiring, in an insinuating way, "Where Rutherford got his rubber boots?" He said he wished to inform them that he bought his rubber boots and coat in Toronto and paid for them and could show the receipt.

Councillor A. HALL was not certain that he did not make such an enquiry, but it was before he was a councillor and when it was common talk.

Councillor RUTHERFORD did not wish any person to think he got the boots at the town's expense.

MOTIONS AND BY-LAWS.

Councillor DAWSON moved, seconded by Councillor BAPTIE,—That the bell at the corner of Park and Murray-sts be removed to the town yard. The motion was allowed to stand as a notice of motion.

A by-law appointing Dr. A. E. Yelland town physician was given its readings and numbered.

Another by-law for the closing of all jewellery stores at seven o'clock every evening, except before holidays, was given its three readings and adopted.

Councillor HARTLEY moved, seconded by Councillor KENDRY,—That Mrs. Detcher's taxes be remitted.—Carried.

ANOTHER HOTEL.

Councillor CAHILL moved, seconded by Councillor DAVIDSON,—That whereas the population of the town of Peterborough has very largely increased since the last Dominion census was taken, and whereas the number of tavern licenses is based on on said Dominion census, thus this town is deprived of additional hotel accommodation of the general public, be it therefore resolved that the License Commissioners be requested to issue another hotel license for the town, the license to provide the regular hotel accommodation as required by law.

Councillor RUTHERFORD objected to the motion, but upon a vote it was carried, the yeas and nays being called were as follows:—

YEAS—Councillors Cahill, Davidson, Kelly, E. H. D. Hall, A. Hall, Langford.

NAYS—Councillors Dawson, Baptie, Rutherford, Kendry and Hartley.

CLOSING MOTIONS.

Councillor DAVIDSON moved that one-third of the value of the sheep owned by Mr. Fred Winch which were killed by dogs some time ago be paid, as the solicitor had given it as his opinion that the town was liable.—Carried.

Councillor E. H. D. HALL moved, seconded by Councillor A. HALL,—That the Town Solicitor be instructed to oppose the motion to quash the high license by-law.

Councillor DAVIDSON moved, seconded by Councillor CAHILL,—That the matter of the Collegiate Institute by-law be referred to the Finance Committee.—Carried.

The Council then adjourned at 11.10.

Aided the Lumbermen.

The heavy rains of last week, while they did damage in some places, were welcomed by the lumbermen. The streams were swollen and the logs were given a good chance to float down. One foreman of a drive in the north who was in town yesterday said they were able after the rain to make more progress in a day than they could have done in weeks without it.

Six Months Twice a Year.

Dennis Slattery's old familiar face appeared in the Police Court room this morning where he was seeking a ticket from the Magistrate which would entitle him to six months' board in the castle on the hill. For a long time now Dennis has been getting six months twice a year for vagrancy, and it would seem that the associations of the stone walls and iron bars have found a place in his affections, for no sooner is he released at the expiration of one term than he walks to the Magistrate to get another. He was given his six months ticket, which he received with a thank you.

The Two Dans.

Thus quoth the Ottawa Free Press of a late issue:—"At the Royal Theatre to-night Howarth's Grand Hibernica Company opens for the week, after a very successful engagement in Montreal. Speaking of the performance the Herald of Sept. 23rd says: 'It was most entertaining. The singing was good, the dancing graceful and vigorous, the acting excellent and the dialogue witty and animated. The fun was without coarseness and the sentiment without gush. As was to be expected, the whole entertainment was intensely Irish, but nothing was either said or done to hurt the feelings of the most sensitive of other nationalities. Altogether the Two Dans is a pleasant little comedy, with plenty of fun and not a grain of harm in it. The panorama of Irish scenery is excellent and the effect of some of the scenes is really very fine and the explanations are in good taste and quite sufficient without being too long.'" The Company appears at the Opera House, Peterborough, on Tuesday evening, June 4th. 11130

JACK THE RIPPER AGAIN.

THE MUTILATED REMAINS OF A WOMAN FOUND IN LONDON.

The Whitechapel Excitement Revived by the Atrocity—The Thames Gives up the Ghastly Object.

LONDON, Eng., June 4.—The mutilated remains of a woman were found in the river Thames at Horsely Down this morning. The ghastly find has revived the Whitechapel excitement. Jack the Ripper has not been heard from for so long that the terror had died out, but it is believed that the fiend has RESUMED HIS ATROCITIES.

Only the upper half of the body was found and it was cut into two pieces. The lower part of the body was missing. The ghastly objects were tied in a parcel with a piece of cord. Shortly after the discovery of the remains a parcel of female clothing was found at Battersea, which evidently belonged to the unfortunate woman, whose name is believed to be Fisher.

A SERIOUS CHARGE.

A Man Arrested, tried and Dismissed on a Charge of Indecent Assault.

James Grady, a river driver, who, with his wife, lives on Smith-st., was arrested yesterday afternoon on a warrant charging him with having on the 29th of May assaulted and attempted to ravish Annie Jackson, who also lives on Smith-st. He came before the magistrate this morning for his preliminary trial and was discharged, no case being made out against him. Mr. Jackson, the husband of the woman upon whom it was alleged assault was made, laid the information against Grady. Jackson is also a river driver.

At the Police Court this morning Mr. R. E. Wood appeared for the crown and Mr. John Green for the private prosecution, while Mr. W. H. Moore was present for the prisoner. The only evidence taken was that of Mrs. Jackson, and her story was a short one. She said on Wednesday evening last Grady came to her house when she was alone with the two small children, and knocked at the door and she allowed him to enter when he told her that William (her husband) had sent him. Then he made improper advances to her, but did not lay hands on her or use any violence. The Magistrate said there was no evidence of assault and he would have to dismiss the case.

Mr. Green said that a mistake had been made in laying the information as the occasion upon which the worst assault was made was in April last. The Magistrate said if the County Crown Attorney saw fit to lay a new information for this alleged offence he could do so, but, as the women refused to tell all that took place at the time, he would not detain the prisoner.

A Fine Procession.

A procession which passed up the street this afternoon was an excellent evidence of the prosperity of the farmers of this section and a tribute to a thriving Peterborough industry. It consisted of fifteen reapers, which had been purchased at Peter Hamilton's agricultural works, and which were being taken to their fields of operation by their purchasers. The waggons carrying the implements were drawn up on the market square and photographed by Mr. Sproule and then passed up the street in line, and the novel procession was watched by a large number of people.

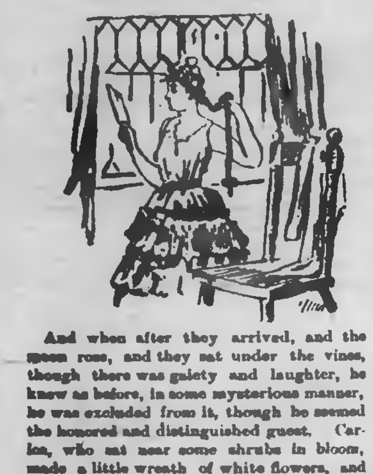
PRETTY SISTER OF JOSE.

By FRANCES HODGSON BURNETT.

Author of "Little Lord Fauntleroy," "That Lass O'Lowries," &c., &c.



And when after they arrived, and the moon rose, and they sat under the vines, though there was gaiety and laughter, he knew as before, in some mysterious manner, he was excluded from it, though he seemed the honored and distinguished guest. Carlos, who sat near some shrubs in bloom, made a little wreath of white flowers, and as she played and sang to her guitar, Pepita wore it on her head. Then Manuelo, not to be outdone, wove a garland of pink oleanders and she threw it about her throat and sang on. Sebastiano forgot at last to speak, and could only sit and look at her. He could see and hear nothing else. It was almost the same thing as the rest, for that matter. She was somehow the centre figure round which they all seemed to have gathered, as she sat there playing, a night breeze sometimes stirring the soft, ruffled hair on her forehead, which was like black floss silk; and whatsoever she sang, however passionate and tender the wild little song; however passionate and tender her voice, her young eyes had mockery in them—mocked at the words, the tenderness of her own voice, and of those who were moved by it—and most of all Sebastiano knew that she mocked at himself.

But he could not go away. Some strange thing had happened to him, it seemed—it was as if a spell had fallen upon him. Better to be mocked than to go away. He stayed so late that Jovita fell asleep and nodded under the shadow of the grape-vines. And at last Pepita put down her guitar and rose. She stood upright in the moonlight, and extended her pretty arms and stretch them laughing.

"Good night," she said, "Jovita will amuse you. Already there have been too many hours in this day."

She ran into the house with no other adieu than a wave of her hand, and the next minute they could hear her singing in her room, and knew she was going to bed.

Sebastiano rose slowly.

"Good night," he said to Jose.

Manuelo and Carlos said good night also, and went out together, walking side by side down the white moonlit road, but Sebastiano moved away from the shadowing vines with a lingering step, and Jose went with him a short distance. Something in his hero's air of gravity and abstraction somewhat overawed him.

"She has not been entertained," said Sebastiano at last.

"Yes—yes," said Jose. "She has had pleasure all the day. And she is fond of pleasure."

"She said there had been too many hours in the day."

Jose rubbed his head reflectively for a moment, and then his countenance somewhat brightened.

"She wished to lie a little for amusement," he said affectionately. "There is no wrong in her—Pepita—but sometimes to be amused, she will tell a little lie without sin in it, because she knows we understand her. She does not expect us to believe. We who are used to her know her better. You will also understand her in time."

"Then I may come again?" asked Sebastiano.

The heavy body of Jose almost trembled with simple pleasure.

"It is all ours, senor," he said, with a gesture, including the little house and all the grape vines and orange blossoms and oleanders. "It is poor and small, but it is yours—and we——"

Sebastiano's dark eyes rested for an instant on a little window under the eaves where a jasmine vine wreathed a thick tangle of green, starred with white flowers. And as he looked a voice broke through the fragrant barrier singing a careless, broken bit of song—

White, white, in the jasmine flower,
Let its stars light thee.

"It is Pepita," said Jose. "She always sings when she is pleased. It is always a good sign."

If her singing was a sign of pleasure, then she must have been enjoying her life greatly in the days that came afterwards, for she was singing continually. As she went about her work there was always the shadow of a smile on her lips, and in her eyes, as if her thoughts amused her. And she was in such gay spirits that Jose was enchanted. He had only one vague source of trouble; all the rest had turned out so well. It had all occurred just as he had dreamed; but scarcely dared to hope in those bygone days, when he had been hard-worked and ill-fed and ill-clad. He had a good place, and what seemed by comparison incredibly good wages, he had the nice little house, and Pepita had holiday garments as gay and pretty as any other girl, and looked when dressed in them, gayer and ten times prettier than all the rest. That was what he looked forward to, most of all, and his end was attained. And when he walked out with her all the young fellows who were allowed to come near—and many who were not—fell in love. Yes, it was true; he saw it himself, and heard it on every side. It would take the fingers of both hands to count those who were frankly enamoured—beginning with Carlos and Manuelo. But it was at this point that the vague trouble came in. And it was Pepita herself who caused it by her treatment of her adorers. To say that she dealt out scorn to them would be to say too much—she simply dealt out nothing—and less. They might come and go—they might follow and gaze and sigh—she did not even deign to seem to know they did so unless by chance one became pertinacious, and then she merely transfixed him with a soft, cruelly-smiling eye.

THE ART STUDENTS.

Opening of the Second Annual Provincial Exhibition at Toronto.

TORONTO, June 4.—The second annual provincial exhibition of pupils' and students' works of art and specimens of drawing was opened last night at the Education Department buildings. A salient incident in the oratorical proceedings was the recantation by Sir Alexander Campbell of his remarks made in depreciation of Canadian art and artists at the opening of the exhibition of the Ontario artists a few days ago. The Lieut.-Governor calls it an explanation. Whether recantation or explanation it is frank, generous and welcome. Here are its terms:

Could I have been present I intended to have availed myself of the opportunity to express my regret that the remarks which I made at the opening of the exhibition of the Ontario Society of Artists the other day should have given offence to members of that society or to their friends. I had certainly no intention of being discourteous or of disparaging Canadian art or artists. I only intended to suggest that there were doubts whether the country was as yet far enough advanced in wealth and population and love of art to afford a sufficiently liberal and generous support to the higher forms of art, apart from all connection with industrial pursuits.

No one more heartily desires than I do to see our Canadian artists taking rank worthily with those of other countries. I trust that the art education now so generally provided in art schools and colleges and high schools may largely help in developing youthful talent and building up art in Canada.

The list of medals and certificates awarded follows:

Gold medal, advanced drawing, Miss K. A. Buell, Brockville Art School.

Silver medal, designs for wall paper and wood carving, Miss D. Clarke, Toronto Art School.

Connor Cut a Wide Swath.

ALLEGAN, Mich., June 4.—Milton Willis Connor, a tree agent in the employ of a Batavia, N.Y., house, was arrested last night at the Sherman House with the wife of a man named Hogmeyer of Bloomingdale. She left home three weeks ago and has been with Connor in several places, coming here from Saugatuck. Hogmeyer is here with blood in both eyes. Connor has cut a wide swath hereabouts for two years in the tree business.

JENKS' DREAM.

Jenks had a queer dream the other night. He thought he saw a prize-fighters' ring, and in the middle of it stood a doughty little champion who met and deliberately knocked over, one by one, a score or more of big, burly-looking fellows, as they advanced to the attack. Giants as they were in size, the valiant pigmy proved more than a match for them. It was all so funny that Jenks woke up laughing. He accounts for the dream by the fact that he had just come to the conclusion, after trying nearly every big, drastic pill on the market, that Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets, or tiny Sugar-coated Granules, easily "knock out" and beat all the big pills hollow! They are the original and only genuine Little Liver Pills.

Beware of Imitations, which contain Poisonous Minerals. Always ask for Dr. Pierce's Pellets, which are Little Sugar-coated Pills, or Anti-bilious Granules. One a Dose.

SICK HEADACHE,

Bilious Headache, Dizziness, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the stomach and bowels, are promptly relieved and permanently cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. They are gently laxative, or strongly cathartic, according to size of dose. Smallest, Cheapest, Easiest to take. 25 cents a vial, by druggists.

WAS IT JACK THE RIPPER?

OR AN ABORTIONIST'S ATTEMPT TO CONCEAL HIS CRIME?

LONDON, June 4.—The condition of the remains found at Horsleydown shows that the woman had recently given birth to a child. It is believed that she was the victim of an abortion and that the persons connected with the operation cut the body up to escape discovery. The doctors declare the remains could not have been in the water over 24 hours. They think the woman was about 25 years old.

The Police Were on Hand.

ST. CATHARINES, June 5.—For some time past there has been a good deal of bad blood between a couple of East End families, and on Monday evening arrangements had been perfected for a settlement of the feud by a regular pitched battle between the sons of the respective families. A crowd of about three hundred, residents of St. James' and St. Patrick's Wards, accompanied them to a vacant lot across the canal in Grantham, where a ring was formed in regulation style. The combatants had stripped and were ready for the deadly fray when the burley forms of three policemen were seen bearing down on the gathering. Hostilities were at once suspended, and some of the more timorous made tracks for home. It is said the father of one of the young men gave the police the pointer, fearing that his son would get whipped. The end is not yet.

Belleville Briefs.

BELLVILLE, June 5.—Thomas McDonald has been fined $10 and costs for catching pickerel out of season.

Mr. Stephenson, general superintendent of the Grand Trunk Railway, went to Eldorado yesterday to arrange for the running of trains to the Junction with the Central Ontario at that point.

Customs collections for for May were $6654, an increase over the same month last year of $2361. Value of imports $30,-696, increase $6392. Value of exports, $39,995, decrease $537.

Mr. C. A. Abraham, editor of The Ontario, has purchased a joint interest in The Woodstock Standard.

The cigar makers defeated the barbers in a baseball match yesterday by 30 to 11.

Was a Coward.

CHATHAM, June 1.—One of the parties arrested charged with complicity in the murder of Dr. Cronin in Chicago is Frank J. Black, alias Woodruff, who says he was born in Woodstock and who will be remembered in Chatham as the stepson of Harry Black, formerly a broker there, and at one time a fruiterer in London, but now residing in San Francisco. In an interview with a reporter, Mr. Black said that Frank had always been a wild and wayward boy. Frank J. Black is not his true name. Continuing Mr. Black said: "I have been sending Frank money to help him pay his personal expenses. After he was arrested a few days since, I received a letter from him in which he stated he was in trouble. I am positive Frank had nothing to do with the murder. He was too much of a coward."

Killed on the Track.

PARIS, Ont., June 5.—Michael Hudson, a young man well known in Paris and neighborhood, where he has for several years past worked as a farm-help, met with a terrible death the other night. The unfortunate man left Paris for Mr. P. Skelly's farm, where he was employed, early in the evening. That was the last seen of him alive. Next morning his mangled remains were found on the railway track near the Blue Lake Woods, the having killed him. No inquest was deemed necessary.

PNEUMONIA ATTACKS THE JOHNSTOWN SUFFERERS.

Scenes and Incidents in the Devastated Valley of the Conemaugh—Funds for the Survivors.

JOHNSTOWN, June 5.—An utterly wretched woman named Mrs. Fenn stood by a muddy pool of water, trying to find some trace of a once happy home. She was half crazed with grief, and her eyes were red and swollen. As I stepped to her side she raised her pale and haggard face, crying:

"They are all gone! O God, be merciful to them! My husband and my seven dear little children have been swept down with the flood and I am left alone. We were driven by the flood into the garrett, but the waters followed us there. Inch by inch it kept rising until our heads were crushing against the roof. It was death to remain. So I raised a window and one by one placed my darlings on some driftwood, trusting to the great Creator. As I liberated the last one, my sweet little boy, he looked at me and said:

"'Mamma, you always told me that the Lord would care for me; will he look after me now?'

"I saw him drift away with his loving face turned toward me, and with a prayer on my lips for his deliverance he passed away forever. The next moment the roof crashed in and I floated outside, to be rescued fifteen hours later from the roof of a house in Kernville. If I could only find one of my darlings, I could bow to the will of God, but they are all gone. I have lost everything on earth now but my life, and I will return to my old Virginia home and lay me down for my last great sleep."

A handsome woman, with hair as black as a raven's wing, walked through the depot, where a dozen or more bodies were awaiting burial. Passing from one to another she finally lifted the paper covering from the face of a woman, young and with traces of beauty showing through the stains of muddy water. With a cry of anguish she reeled backward to be caught by a rugged man who chanced to be passing. In a moment or so she had calmed herself sufficiently to take one more look at the features of her dead. She stood gazing at the unfortunate as if dumb. Finally turning away with another wild burst of grief she said:

"And her beautiful hair all matted and her sweet face so bruised and stained with mud and water." The dead woman was the sister of the mourner. The body was placed in a coffin a few minutes later and sent away to its narrow house.

These incidents are but fair samples of the scenes familiar to every turn in this stricken city.

Dr. Matthews is a hero. Several of his ribs were crushed by a falling timber and his pains were most severe, yet through all he attended the sick. When two women in a house across the street shouted for help, he with two other brave young men climbed across the drift and ministered to their wants. No one died during the night, but women and children surrendered their lives on the succeeding day as a result of terror and fatigue.

The sad scenes will never be all written. One lady told me of seeing her mother crushed to pieces just before her eyes, and the mangled body carried off down the stream. William Varner lost six children and saved a babe about 18 months old. His wife died just three weeks ago. An aged German, his wife and five daughters floated down on their house to a point below Nineveh, where the house was wrecked. The five daughters were drowned, but the old man and his wife stuck in a tree and hung there for twenty-four hours before they could be taken off.

One of the most pitiful sights of this terrible disaster came to my notice when the body of a young lady was taken out of the Conemaugh River. The woman was apparently quite young, though her features were terribly disfigured. Nearly all the clothing except the shoes was torn off the body. The corpse was that of a mother, for although cold in death the woman clasped a young male babe apparently not more than a year old tightly in her arms. The little one was huddled close up to its mother's face, who, when she realized their terrible fate, had evidently raised the babe to her lips to imprint upon its little lips the last motherly kiss it was to receive in this world. The sight was a pathetic one and turned many a stout heart to tears.

Among the miraculous escapes to be recorded in connection with the great disaster is that of George J. Lees and his family. He resided on Iron street. When the rush of water came there were eight people on the roof. The little house swung around off its moorings and floated about for nearly half an hour before it came up against the bank of drift above the stone bridge. A 3-year-old girl with sunny golden hair and dimpled cheeks prayed all the while that God would save them, and it seemed that God really answered the prayer of this innocent little girl and directed the house against the drift, enabling every one of the eight to get off. Mrs. Lees carried the little girl in her arms, and how she got off she doesn't know. Every house around them, she said, was crushed, and the people either killed or drowned.

Pestilence Follows Flood.

JOHNSTOWN, June 4.—Every little house on Prospect Hill, and there are a hundred or two of them, threw its doors open to receive the bruised and half-clad fugitives on the day of the deluge and every one is now a hospital. Half the women who scaled the height were so overcome with fright that they have been bedridden ever since. There had been a few cases of pneumonia on the hill. To-day, however, several fresh cases developed among the flood fugitives and a physician said the prospects for a scourge are all too promising. The enfeebled condition of the patients, the unhealthy atmosphere pervading the valley and the close quarters in which the people are crowded, render the spread of the disease almost certain. A carload of bedding for the Prospect Hill sufferers arrived to-day from Ohio. The Cambria hospital, which stands on this hill, is full of bruised and suffering ones. A wealthy young Philadelphian named Ogle arrived to-day to find the corpse of his fiance, in the morgue. David John Lewis, who was worth $60,000, but ruined by the flood, rides about on a grey horse continually asking if anybody has seen his missing sisters. J. H. Klein claims the distinction of being the only New Yorker in Johnstown who escaped the flood and the honor of having rescued or assisted in rescuing 60 persons. He was at the Merchants' Hotel and his plan was to lift persons from the windows of houses swimming by. Amongst those he saved were Rev. Mr. Phillips, wife and two children.

Williamsport's Story of Death.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., June 4.—The business houses throughout the city all lose heavily by the recent flood. The loss falls heaviest on the lumbermen. All the logs are lost and a fair share of the cut lumber. Two children of Charles Edwards were drowned and three children of a family named Straits and a child of William Dietrich. A man named Mischler and an unknown also perished, all in this city. At Nippenose, 12 miles up the river twelve persons were drowned, members of the family of George and Wm. Youngman and two lady visitors. Yesterday Abram Fredericksy and his son aged 14 were carried over the falls and drowned. Five men and a baby were drowned at Baker's Camp, near English Centre, Lycoming County. There is great distress, as many families lost all their provisions.

The city has been in darkness since Saturday evening, the gas works and electric light plants being flooded. All the principal hotels, the banks, newspaper offices, the court house, churches and stores were flooded. Several children were born during the flood. Some of them are among the refugees and are staying out doors on the high ground. In a house floating down the river was a woman who had just been delivered of twins. Mrs. Piatt at Field Station was drowned.

Eighty Lost in This Disaster.

NEW YORK, June 4.—A special to The Tribune from Lewisburg, Pa., says the flood on the west branch of the Susquehanna River has never been equalled before. The water is four feet above the high water mark of the great flood of 1865. Every bridge on the Susquehanna River from Sudbury in Northumberland County, to Clearfield in Clearfield County, has been swept away. Williamsport was the scene yesterday of a frightful disaster. From fifty to eighty persons were standing on the bridge at Market-street which spans the Susquehanna River, when with a sudden and mighty surge the angry waters, choked with logs, the ruins of houses and all sorts of driftwood swept the bridge away on its bosom. The sightseers were thrown into the rushing river. Their attempts to save themselves were desperate and pitiful, and few, if any, were successful.

At Milton the water was five feet high in the streets. At this place five spans of the railroad bridge were swept away. The gas works, waterworks and the mills were flooded out. The loss will reach $75,000. Every town along the west branch of the Susquehanna is isolated from every other town and communication is difficult and in places impossible. The railroad stations and postoffices are open.

The Lynching Stories Denied.

JOHNSTOWN, June 4.—The stories of lynching sent from this place yesterday were untrue. Sheriff Stemmings of Cambria County, who has been on duty since Friday last, states that the rumored hanging of negroes and Hungarians Sunday night was wholly without foundation.

Pneumonia Among the Refugees.

JOHNSTOWN, June 4.—Three hundred more bodies have just been found opposite Nineveh. This makes 700 bodies found at that point.

The burned wreck against the bridge is being blown up with dynamite to allow the water to pass into the main channel. Many skeletons and fragments of bodies have been found. The opening of this channel will take the overflow from the lower part of Johnstown.

Pneumonia has broken out among the refugees on Prospect Hill.

Newport's Loss.

NEWPORT, Pa., June 4.—Telegraphic communication was opened with the outside world this afternoon. Two-thirds of the town is overflowed. Seven families are destitute, their homes having been swept away. The water is seven feet deep in the streets in the central part of the town. The loss is $000,-000.

Lost Nine Relatives.

BALTIMORE, June 4.—General Passenger Agent C. O. Scull of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad lost nine relatives in the Johnstown flood.

Williamsport in Need.

HARRISBURG, June 4.—The Mayor of Williamsport telegraphs to Governor Beaver asking for aid to thousands of homeless people in that city. He states that the loss there on lumber alone is over $5,000,000. The Governor has promised to send money, provisions, etc.

Massachusetts' Sympathy.

BOSTON, June 4.—The Legislature to-day amended the Johnstown relief bill and made the amount for the sufferers $30,000.

Philadelphia Gives $500,000.

PHILADELPHIA, June 4.—The subscriptions up to this evening to the various funds in the city for the relief of the sufferers by the floods aggregate over $500,000.

Saratogians Raise $2000.

SARATOGA, June 4.—Saratogians raised $2000 here in 10 minutes to-night for the Johnstown sufferers.

Poughkeepsie's Contribution.

POUGHKEEPSIE, June 4.—One thousand six hundred and thirty-eight dollars has been sent to the Johnstown sufferers and as much more has been subscribed.

Probable Victims of the Flood.

ST. CATHARINES, June 5.—The friends of Mr. Edwin Whitelock, formerly of Thorold, have been making anxious enquiries as to whether he is numbered among the victims of the Johnstown horror. Mr. Whitelock, or "Eddie," as he was familiarly called, left Thorold about eight years ago and settled in Johnstown with his wife, formerly Miss Yaughton of Merritton. Nothing has been heard from them since the calamity occurred and his friends fear the worst has befallen them. Mr. Whitelock's brother telephoned from Hamilton yesterday making enquiries about him. He will probably leave for Johnstown to-day accompanied by Miss Yaughton of Merritton to ascertain their fate.

The Belmont Disaster.

BELMONT, N.Y., June 4.—The bodies of Wm. S. Allen and C. S. Shearns, two of the men who were drowned in the bridge disaster at this place Saturday last, have been recovered. The body of Frank Thorpe of Belvidere, another of the victims, is still missing. The first train since last Friday at 11 p.m. passed this section this morning about 11 o'clock.

Hong Kong Parallels Johnstown.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—A private cablegram received here this afternoon by a Chinese firm reports that a hurricane at Hong Kong has caused a loss of 10,000 lives and great damage to property.

Kingston News.

KINGSTON, June 5.—In the Police Court yesterday morning there was a brigade of tramps arrayed before the magistrate, and extremely tough looking gentlemen some of them were. They had been holding high revel out at the lower depot, where they had nearly taken possession of the station and were evidently waiting to board a freight train bound east or west. They were most drunk and under the influence of the rosy god were making the evening hideous and the place intolerable to passengers and residents. The Grand Trunk authorities telephoned to the police station here and a party of constables were sent out. Eleven of the tramps were captured and the magistrate sent them to jail for a month.

Aug. 7 has been selected for civic holiday.

The doctors and merchants will shortly try their hands at baseball.

Suicide at Metcalfe.

METCALFE, June 5.—At 5 o'clock yesterday morning Miss McAlinden, a daughter of a respectable farmer, committed suicide here by cutting her throat with a razor while in a state of temporary insanity. She went to her brother's room and seized a razor which was lying on a stand, and, before he could get to her, she committed the fatal act, dying within ten minutes. Great sympathy is felt for the family.

A Strained Construction.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—General Hepburn, Solicitor of the Treasury, is of the opinion that the proposed engagement of European professors for the new Catholic University would be a violation of the Alien Contract Law.

WINDSOR, June 5.—From reports received from a large number of towns in Essex and the surrounding counties it is thought that the corn crop is ruined by the recent rains and all the farmers will be compelled to plant it over again. On the lowlands there are from two to six inches of water covering the fields, making the large tracts look like great flooded lakes.

NEWS OF THE DOMINION.

A TORONTO SPORTING MAN IN SERIOUS TROUBLE.

Rev. "Move-on" Wilson Secures His Costs in the Historic Disorderly Case—A Woman Brutally Treated by Paris Roughs.

TORONTO, June 5.—The Toronto Presbytery has decided to form a new congregation in the east end of the city. It will be called the South Side Presbyterian Church.

Samuel Blake, a young man well-known in sporting circles, residing at 123 Mutual-street, is under arrest charged with the seduction of Minnie Lee, of 40 Queen-street west. The information is laid under the Charlton Act. The Police Magistrate yesterday morning remanded Blake till to-day.

Police Constable Walker ("51") has been suspended from duty pending an investigation into charge of assaulting Patrol-Sergeant Johnston.

The Toronto Presbytery has confirmed the transfer of Rev. Thomas Wilson from Hamilton to Toronto.

The City Treasurer has paid Rev. W. F. Wilson the costs incurred in connection with the historic "move-on" case.

The President of the City Council has been threatened with an injunction if he signs the contracts for the construction of the new civic buildings before a commission is appointed.

The position of affairs between the master bakers and the striking journeymen remains unchanged. Both parties are confident of winning.

Enthusiastic anti-Jesuit meetings were held in three wards of the city last night.

The annual meeting of the Ontario Medical Association is being held in the public hall of the Normal School building to-day and to-morrow, with sessions at 9.30, 2 and 8 each day. There are fully 500 members in the association and it is expected that at least 200 will be present, besides several eminent doctors from cities in the United States, some of whom are already in Toronto. A number of valuable papers will be read and discussed. The sessions will be opened to the public.

A DISGRACEFUL AFFAIR.

A Former Hamilton Woman Shockingly Used by Three Ruffians.

PARIS, Ont., June 5.—There was conveyed to the County Hospital yesterday a woman named Mary Foley, suffering from injuries sustained under most inhuman and revolting circumstances. The woman, who is 60 years of age, is addicted to wandering about from one town to another in this district. She is good natured and industrious and manages to make a living, notwithstanding her instability and a weakness she occasionally gives way to for drink. Taking advantage of this failing, three men induced the unfortunate creature to accompany them to a house on a vacant farm, about a mile out of town, where they subjected her to the grossest maltreatment, the upshot of which was that their victim's leg was broken. In this condition the ruffians left her to her fate and made their way back to town, where it is said they boasted of their exploit. Mrs. Foley succeeded in dragging herself to the house of Mr. M. Cavan, a farmer half a mile distant, a proceeding which must have entailed intense suffering and exhaustion. She was in a most pitiable condition from pain and weakness when discovered. The family kindly cared for the luckless woman, whose fractured limb was set by Dr. Dunton. Soon afterwards, on order of the Reeve, Messrs. A. Husson, M. Cavan and P. Garson procured a conveyance and drove her to the hospital. An effort will be made by the police to discover her assailants and have them answer for the outrage. Mrs. Foley lived around Hamilton about five years ago and was known for her wandering propensities.

A Mother by Adoption.

HAMILTON, May 5.—A charge of assault brought by Elizabeth Lefever against Mrs. Sarah Middleton occupied an hour and a half of the Police Magistrate's time yesterday morning. Mrs. Middleton is an elderly woman, who up to a month ago kept a store in James-street near Cannon, under the name of Mrs. Hartley—the name of her first husband. The complainant, who is generally known as Lizzie Hartley, was adopted by the present Mrs. Middleton when she was about two years old, which is between 14 and 17 years ago. A short time ago Constable Hawkins got word of alleged cruelty to the girl, who afterwards told her story to the Chief of Police. An interest was taken in the girl, who, besides having no mother, knows nothing of her father, he having disappeared about the time her mother died. Constable Hawkins got her a situation and she left the home of her adopted mother and afterwards laid a charge of assault against her. Mrs. Middleton admitted that while angry she had thrown a plug of tobacco at the girl and blackened her eye, and of having cut part of her hair off to humiliate her. The girl said that Mrs. Middleton had struck her across the face with a piece of firewood and had loosened some of her teeth, but the evidence was not corroborated. Taking all things into consideration, including the fact that Mrs. Middleton said she would not trouble with the girl any more or try to get her away from the place the police had got for her, the Magistrate dismissed the case without costs.

Montreal to the Sea.

ST. JOHN, N. B., June 5.—Thousands of people gathered at the Intercolonial railway depot Monday afternoon as the Canadian Pacific train rolled in from Montreal, and there was a great deal of enthusiasm manifested. The time made was 18 hours 40 minutes, or 50 minutes more than schedule time, the delay being due to the newness of the Canadian Pacific railway cars, which caused the boxes to heat and necessitated a wait at Farnham, Mattawamkeag and McAdam of about an hour and a half in all. Representatives of the four St. John dailies came over the line, and they are all enthusiastic in regard to its condition and prospects. There were quite a number of through passengers and travel promises to be large. The first train for Montreal left here at 2.30 yesterday.

France and Hayti.

PARIS, June 5.—In the Chamber of Deputies yesterday M. Faure attacked the policy of the Government in relation to Hayti. He charged that the French representative in Hayti had exceeded the bounds of neutrality and ought to be recalled. M. Spuller, Minister of Foreign Affairs, replied that the observance of neutrality between the rival claimants to the Haytian presidency had been strictly observed. The Government had made no attempts to conclude a treaty with either party.

Lennox Reform Convention.

NAPANEE, June 4.—The annual meeting of the Lennox Reform Association was held here to-day in the town hall and was largely attended. Speeches were made by W. T. R. Preston, D. W. Allison, ex-M.P., and several others. Reeve E. Aylesworth, reeve of Ernestown, was unanimously chosen as the standard bearer for the Reform party in the coming local election.

A Victim of Carelessness.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., June 5.—James Moore was instantly killed yesterday afternoon in the freight elevator in the McMullen building while attempting to jump aboard the ascending carriage. He was 18 years old and unmarried.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

THE TENDERS FOR THE NORTH WARD SCHOOL AWARDED.

Mr. Arthur Rutherford Given the Contract at $5,600—The South Ward Addition to be Given to Mr. James Bogue on Conditions—The Tenders Sent in—A Discussion on Awarding Mr. Bogue the Contract—Music in the Institute.

A regular meeting of the Board of Education was held last night in the Board room. It was shortly after eight o'clock when a quorum was present and Mr. Jas. Stevenson, chairman, took his seat at the head of the table, around which were seated Messrs. Hamilton, McWilliams, Wrighton, Weir, Rutherford, Hill, English, Dr. Burnham and Dr. Boucher.

The minutes of the last meeting were read, after which Secretary Morrow read the following

COMMUNICATIONS:

From Miss Clara Martin asking permission to place a substitute over her division while she is absent attending the Normal School.—Received.

From S. A. Malloy, of Brampton, offering to give the lowest quotations if a list of the articles required for the gymnasium were forwarded to him.—Referred to the Property Committee.

From J. McDiarmid, of Peterborough, applying for the position of writing master in the Collegiate Institute.—Received.

From J. H. Ketchum making application for the position of teacher of music in the Collegiate Institute, and offering to give trial lessons until the vacation.—Received.

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE.

The reports of the attendance at the schools for the month of May was as follows:—

	On roll.	Average.
Collegiate Institute	140	120
South Ward School	[illegible]	[illegible]
West Ward School	215	188

Mr. Smith, principal of the Central School, wrote that owing to the illness of one of the teachers he was unable to give the average attendance at the Central School for May. He reported the amount of fees for May as five dollars.

An account of Sallsbury Bros. for $6.36 was presented and ordered to be paid.

THE SOUTH WARD SCHOOL.

Tenders were received for the addition to the South Ward School as follows:—

E. Webb	$6 850
R. Clinkscale, (carpenter work, painting and plastering)	2 600
R. Clinkscale, whole work	5 287
Lyle & Thorndyke	5 490
J. J. Hartley (stone and brick work, concreting, excavating)	2 615
Ed. Webb (stone and brick work, plastering)	2 888
Jas. Bogue	4 893
Jas. Bogue (excavating, stone and brick work, concreting)	2 100

THE NEW NORTH WARD SCHOOL.

Tenders for the North Ward School building were as follows:—

J. J. Hartley (stone and brick work, excavating)	$2 946
Wm. Fitzgerald	6 482
A. Rutherford	5 600
E. Webb	5 610
Jas. Bogue	5 946
A. Douglas	5 975
Jas. Graham	7 500
W. C. Mowat	7 400
Thos. McKee	7 [illegible]

Mr. T. Rutherford said that the tenders for the North Ward School included building in the boilers and everything complete. He also stated that the expense of the addition to the South Ward School could be greatly reduced by following out Mr. Belcher's plan of leaving about five feet between the addition and the present building and joining the two by a passage, as this would do away with the necessity of a great deal of excavating and underbuilding which would have to be done if the buildings were joined.

A little discussion arose as to the question of reducing the expense of the work as it was feared that the $10,000 already provided would prove insufficient. It was suggested to carry out Mr. Rutherford's idea.

Mr. Hughes said the committee had carefully considered the different plans and selected Mr. Blackwell's as the most complete and he did not think it would be proper to make such radical changes in the work now that tenders had been received and opened.

MR. A. RUTHERFORD GETS THE CONTRACT

Mr. Dumble moved, seconded by Dr. Burnham,—That Mr. Arthur Rutherford be awarded the contract for the erection of the North Ward school, a bond of $2,000 and two sureties to be given for the performance of the work.

The motion carried.

Mr. McWilliams moved, seconded by Mr. Wrighton,—That Mr. A. Douglas be appointed to superintend the work on both ward schools, providing that the Building Committee can make satisfactory arrangements, payment not to exceed three dollars per day.

Mr. Rutherford moved in amendment that Mr. Gamble be appointed to superintend the work.

This amendment to the motion received no seconder and was dropped and the motion carried.

THE SOUTH WARD ADDITION.

Mr. Dumble moved, seconded by Dr. Burnham,—That the matter of the addition to the South Ward school be referred back to the Building Committee to have the plans modified with a view to lessening the expense and that new tenders be called for.

The motion was carried.

Mr. Hughes asked that the Board appoint some member to act on the Building Committee for the next two or three weeks as he would be out of town.

Mr. Hamilton was appointed to act in Mr. Hughes absence.

Mr. Dumble moved that the account of Mrs. Fowler for a few days teaching be paid.—Carried.

Mr. Blackwell came in and was asked his opinion on the matter of the South Ward addition. He said he did not think the proposed change would make a great difference in the cost, probably not more than two or three hundred dollars.

The plans were inspected by the members of the Board and several of them thought that it would not be wise to adopt the proposed changes and Mr. McWilliams moved seconded by Mr. Hughes,—That the vote on Mr. Dumble's motion be reconsidered which was carried.

REDUCING THE COST.

Mr. Blackwell was then asked what changes could be made to lessen the expense. He replied that they could do away with the tuck-pointing and put in basswood floors instead of hardwood, and he thought they might reduce it probably eight hundred dollars.

After a good deal of informal talk Mr. Dumble moved, seconded by Mr. McWilliams,—That Jas. Bogue be awarded the contract for the South Ward School, provided he agrees to accept such changes as the architect may make in the plans and specifications and make such reductions in respect thereof as the architect may fix as fair, a bond in $2,000 with two sureties to be approved of by the Chairman of this Board for the due performance of the contract be given.

AN OBJECTION VOTED DOWN.

Mr. Hughes said he might as well say what he thought, and that was that no man who was not a contributor to the public schools should be given a contract. He did not think a man of this class should be given a contract for that Board. They (meaning the Roman Catholics) made a practice of doing that when awarding their tenders.

Mr. McWilliams said that was just the reason why he wanted Mr. Bogue's tender accepted, for if they threw out his tender it would be said that it was because Mr. Bogue was a Roman Catholic. He said any man who tendered lowest should be awarded the contract no matter what church he belonged to.

Some member pointed to the instance of Mr. A. Rutherford who had the contract for building St. Joseph's Hospital.

Mr. T. Rutherford said he knew this was the practice followed by the Roman Catholics, and he also knew that Mr. A. Rutherford would never have received the contract only that he was so far below all the other tenders. He thought that no man who did not support the public schools should be given the contract.

Mr. Hughes then moved in amendment that the tender be not awarded to Mr. Bogue because he was not a contributor to our common schools, but that the contract be given to the next lowest man on the conditions of Mr. Dumble's motion.

Mr. Rutherford seconded the amendment.

Dr. Boucher moved in amendment to the amendment, that the whole matter be referred back to the Building Committee, but the motion failed to find a seconder.

Mr. Hughes' amendment was lost and Mr. Dumble's motion carried.

MUSIC IN THE INSTITUTE.

Mr. Dumble then spoke in reference to the engaging of a teacher of music, and said he believed that this was desirable. He moved, seconded by Mr. Wrighton,—That Mr. Ketchum's offer to instruct the children in music be accepted, provided suitable arrangement can be made with the Principal for the time for instruction.

Mr. Dumble made a verbal report of the result of the deputation's visit to the Town Council last night, and also of the conference with the Committee of the County Council.

The Board then adjourned.

'A Spring Message'

From the New Firm of

H. LeBRUN & CO.

Sign of the Golden Horse-shoe.

The people of Peterborough and vicinity are all aware of the business change which took place in the CITY CLOTHING STORE on the first day of February last. The new firm beg leave to make their first bow to the public through the columns of the REVIEW, and to request a careful perusal of the following Spring and Summer circular:—

The City Clothing Store

in past years, by long experience in business, by buying always for spot cash, importing direct from the principal houses of the old country and from the leading houses of Canada, and by strict economy in conducting its business, has always been able to force prices down to an exceedingly fine point. The members of which the new firm is composed will form a still stronger "combine," by which the CITY CLOTHING STORE will be even better prepared to procure for its customers a continuation of those superior inducements in the future for which it has been noted in the past.

Men's Clothing.

The magnitude of our stock and lowness of prices gives us a great advantage over all other competitors in the trade. We carry in stock all the fast selling lines, styles and patterns, and can fit the tall, the short, the fat and the lean. MORE SUITS, BETTER FABRICS, FINER STYLES than were ever handled before.

Special values in FINE SPRING OVERCOATS, and Fine Spring and Summer Suits. Don't fail to see them. The superb styles, workmanship, and the beautiful fabrics and patterns that we offer will surprise you.

Merchant Tailoring.

"For the apparel oft proclaims the man."

Fine dressers in search of new, neat and nobby OVERCOATINGS, SUITINGS or TROUSERINGS will find this department crowded to overflowing with cloth from all countries. To select from the largest assortment is an advantage we offer to our customers, backed up by the skill of experienced cutters and tailors. Besides perfect fit and first-class trimmings, we guarantee absolutely first-class workmanship.

Boys' and Youths' Clothing.

Clothing for the little ones—boys and children—has always been a specialty with us. We have always sought to give great values in this department, and to provide a larger and finer variety of goods for parents to select from than they could find elsewhere.

This means that we are showing a large assortment of BOYS' and CHILDREN'S SUITS, BOYS' and CHILDREN'S BLOUSES, SHIRT WAISTS, PANTS, &c.

This spring there are an unusual number of new and nobby styles and an enlarged variety of fabrics and patterns. Be sure and see our stock.

Gents' Furnishings.

Gentlemen of Peterborough seeking the latest styles and best values for their money, as well as an opportunity of selecting from the largest stock of Furnishing Goods, should not fail to visit this department at once. We offer the finest, best selected and the largest assortment of NECKWEAR, HOISERY, UNDERWEAR, GLOVES, SHIRTS, HANDKERCHIEFS, etc., to be found in any first-class establishment.

WE PROPOSE TO CONTINUE THE SALE

ON SATURDAY NEXT,

AT THE HOURS MENTIONED BELOW:

GREAT ONE HOUR SALE
AT THE WIGWAM.

The only trouble we had was that many of our customers who came to buy had to wait for some time as others were ahead of them. We regret that the time for closing the sale arrived before they got waited on, and as we do just as we advertise the sale closed just to the minute as announced.

For the benefit of those who were so unfortunate in not being able to secure some of the bargains that were given away last Saturday, we continue the Sale on Saturday.

HERE'S A CHANCE!

On SATURDAY, between 11 and 12 o'clock, for one hour, we will sell any Pair of Pants in the Store for $1.99. Some of them are worth $4.50 and $5.50. We will also sell, between the hours of 2 and 3 o'clock

A LINE OF TWEED SUITS

worth $8.50 for $4.25, and a Fine Line of FANCY WORSTED SUITS for men, all sizes, selling price $15.00, $7.50, just half price. Now if you want a bargain, don't fail to call as close to 11 or 2 o'clock as possible, as we expect a big rush. The sale of Pants closes sharp at 12 o'clock, and the sale of Suits, at the above prices, closes at 3 o'clock to the minute. The above Sales will be repeated between 8 and 9 p.m. for the benefit of the workingmen. We will also sell the following during the day:

MEN'S FINE SPRING SUITS at $2.89	worth $6.50
BOY'S FINE TWEED SUITS at $1.12½	worth $2.25
Heavy Canadian Tweed Pants, in all sizes, 98c.	worth $2.00

The Concert in the Park.

The fire brigade band gave its first concert this season in the Court House Park last evening. A large crowd turned out and promenaded the sidewalks and paths listening to the tuneful harmony. The programme published was carried out and was highly appreciated. Hereafter the open air concerts will be looked forward to until the season closes.

Bargains.

It has been always the case in the past, likewise the present, whenever W. J. Morrow announces a large sale of any description people rush in crowds to receive the bargains. Now he is selling off his entire stock of tea at a sacrifice, as was shown by the immense rush Saturday. Do not fail to attend. Campers supplies a specialty. Fine canned goods, &c. Try our Imperial ginger ale and mineral waters.

The Lacrosse Club.

The Norwood lacrosse team arrived here this morning to play the schedule game with the Riversides. The latter unfortunately are badly weakened by the inability of two of their best players to be on the field to-day, but if the rain does not interfere with the game a good exhibition will be witnessed. The Norwood team won the first two games and the Riversides took the third. The fourth game was commencing as we went to press.

Almost a Collision.

There was a narrow escape from another disaster on the Grand Junction railway last evening. The train from Peterborough, Conductor Stanton, was at North Hastings Junction and received orders from the agent to go on. Conductor Morris had left Belleville and was on the way to North Hastings, between which places there is no telegraph station, and Stanton was allowed to go through a misinterpretation or a mistake in taking an order from the despatcher's office here. Stanton's train was behind time and was going fast, and Morris, believing Stanton was waiting for him, was also making good time. At Holloway, a mile and a quarter from the Junction, Stanton's train stopped to let off a passenger, and just as it was getting under way again Morris' train was seen coming around a curve some distance ahead. The air brakes were applied, the engine reversed and the train backed up in time to avert a disaster. Superintendent Stephenson, of the Grand Trunk, was at North Hastings at the time and the station agent was dismissed.

BOARD OF TRADE.

The First Quarterly Meeting—Market Day Rates—Election of New Members.

The Board of Trade met at the Council Chamber on Thursday evening. The act of incorporation requires that the Board shall hold at least four meetings during each year, quarterly. These meetings are, so to speak, official meetings. There was a fair attendance of members and in the absence of the president and vice-president Mr. W. H. Moore was placed in the chair. The members present were Messrs. Meldrum, Clegg, Cahill, Fair, McWhinnie, Hay, Fairweather, Bellerhem, Shortly, Pollie, Kingan, Manson, Kelly, Moore, Lewis and A. Hall.

The secretary, Mr. J. M. Burnham, read minutes of previous meetings and report from the Council of the Board.

RATES FOR MARKET DAYS.

The question of securing a further extension of the market day rates with G. T. R., the secretary read communication in this regard from the G. T. authorities. Singularly, it seems that the issuing of market day tickets on the line of the railway has not proved a source of revenue, but a positive loss. After some enquiries to be made, the Board will be informed by the railway authorities as to what will be the rule for the future.

STRIKING THE STANDING COMMITTEES.

A motion was submitted that Messrs. Meldrum, Hall and Lewis be a committee to strike the standing committees.

An amendment was offered that the appointment of committees be delayed for one week, the suggestion being made that as many new members were joining the Board that a short delay would allow of some active men being selected who might otherwise be left off.

On further consideration a resolution was submitted and carried that Messrs. Lewis, Kelly, Cahill, Hall, Manson and Meldrum should be a committee to draft the standing committees and submit the draft to the Board for approval at the next meeting. Mr. Meldrum was named as chairman of the committee.

ELECTION OF MEMBERS.

Messrs. J. M. Irwin, John McKee, A. V. R. Young and Chas. Wynn, were elected members of the Board.

The secretary was directed to call on members of the board who had not paid the fee and collect the same.

The Board then adjourned for one week.

Obituary.

It is our sad duty to-day to chronicle the death of Mrs. Hall, wife of Mr. John J. Hall, Collector of Inland Revenue, which occurred after a short illness at 2 o'clock this morning. Last week Mrs. Hall felt ill, and on Monday she became much worse and sank until her death occurred, from internal hemorrhage. Mrs. Hall was a daughter of Mr. Abram Parsons, who resided on the Hudson, near New York city, N.Y., and she was born in state in 1828, and was therefore 61 years of age. She was married in New York, to her now bereaved husband, who lived in that city for a time, and came to Peterborough in [illegible] where she has since resided. She leaves a husband and a family of two sons and three daughters, who will receive sincere sympathy in their bereavement. The funeral will take place at three o'clock to-morrow and proceed to the Little Lake Cemetery.

Cricket.

Yesterday afternoon a match was played between the colts and veterans, the former having the assistance of Attewell, the new professional. The result was a victory for the vets. by 25 runs. The score was, Veterans 95 (Ray 31, Rutherford 40); Colts 70 (Attewell 33, Strike 26). During the latter part of the Colts innings there were only four or five vets. on the field. A cricketer remarked to the REVIEW:—"That going away before the finish of a match is not at all sportsmanlike. On ordinary practice days men who left yesterday long before six o'clock are quite willing to wait till six o'clock for their innings; and when they undertake to play a scratch match they should certainly stay till the opposite side has batted. Nothing can be better practice than such games; but the thing should not be allowed to degenerate into a farce, as was the case last night."

The new professional proved himself to be an excellent bat as well as a good bowler. He has had five years experience in coaching young players, which is the very thing wanted here.

AID FOR THE SUFFERING.

HEARTS WARMED BY THE HORRIBLE FLOOD DISASTER.

The Cries for Bread and the Destitution in Pennsylvania Appeal to Canadians—A Relief Fund.

The terrible disaster that has fallen upon the people of Johnstown and many other places in Pennsylvania by the unparalleled floods has aroused sympathy throughout the world. The cries of the destitute women, children and men, without shelter and without food, have been wafted on the telegraph wires throughout the continent, and thousands are contributing towards the relief of the starving people. Others willing and even anxious to assist in the work of benevolence and are asking how they may do so.

A RELIEF FUND.

In response to enquiries directed to this office the REVIEW has opened a relief fund. Already, without solicitation or announcement being made, contributions have been received, and there are no doubt many others in Peterborough whose hearts have been touched who will join with those who have contributed. Any persons who desire to so aid the sufferers may send their contributions to the REVIEW office, and they will be forwarded to their proper destination and their receipt acknowledged.

AGAIN DISCHARGED.

James Grady Arrested on Another Charge of Indecent Assault.

James Grady, the resident of Smith-st. who was arrested, tried and discharged yesterday on a charge of having made an indecent assault upon Mrs. Jackson, the wife of a neighbor, was arrested again this morning by Constable McGinty on a warrant charging him with the same offense but on a different date. The offense for which Grady was tried yesterday was alleged to have been committed on Wednesday last, but in this charge the date the offence was said to have been committed was on Tuesday, 9th April.

Mr. R. E. Wood appeared for the Crown and Mr. John Green for the private prosecution, and Mr. W. H. Moore was present for the prisoner. The only evidence taken was that of Mrs. Jackson, who swore that on the evening of the 9th of April Grady came to her house and after coming in he took certain liberties with her which she in a way attempted to prevent, but she did not call out or attempt to get out of the house.

Police Magistrate Dumble after hearing the woman's story and her cross-examination discharged the prisoner, as it would appear that there was actually no assault and the woman did not attempt to escape from the house.

The Boomerang.

The Boomerang is a weapon, used in certain parts of Australia, which when thrown returns to the hand of the person who throws it. The latest thing out in boomerangs is the $2.00 return ticket, issued by the St. Andrew's Society, and which on the 29th of June will travel to Toronto and back by the C.P.R. with a Scotchman attached in every instance. They are good to remain over until the following day. Be on hand to witness this wonderful exhibition. 1d131

Hymeneal.

In St. John's Church this afternoon Miss Anna Thompson, daughter of Capt. Thompson, Downie-st., was led the altar by Mr. Alex. Choate, of Ingersoll. The marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. C. Allen, of Millbrook, assisted by the Rev. J. C. Davidson, M.A., of St. John's church. Miss H. Thompson, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid and the groom was assisted by Mr. C. Metherall, of Ingersoll. After the ceremony the bridal party returned to Capt. Thompson's residence. The bride received a large number of beautiful presents, including a number from England. Mr. and Mrs. Choate will reside at Ingersoll.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowls, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

A Wages Case.

A wages case was settled by Magistrate Dumble this morning, in which Mrs. Jane Williams was the plaintiff, and Mrs. Chas. Brown the defendant. The dispute was over a balance of ten dollars which Mrs. Williams claimed Mrs. Brown owed her as wages of her (Mrs. Williams') little daughter who had been employed with Mrs. Brown. Mrs. Brown, it seemed, had given the little girl a new dress while she was working with her, and when settling up she wished to charge this to Mrs. Williams, who refused, as she said, to let any other women spend the child's money. The Magistrate decided that the dress was probably given as a present and that the plaintiff was entitled to $8.21. Mr. A. P. Poussette, Q. C., acted for the defence.

For restoring the color, thickening the growth, and beautifying the hair, and for preventing baldness, Hall's Hair Renewer is unsurpassed.

The First Crooks Act Fine.

The enlarged liquor case of Mr. T. Cavanagh, who was charged under the Crooks Act with having sold liquor on Sunday, the 26th of May last, came up before the Magistrate at the Police Court this morning and the accused was fined forty dollars and costs, which is the highest penalty for a first offence under the Crooks Act. Wm. Bullen, of Keene Township, was the first witness called by the prosecution and he swore that he got liquor and paid for it at the Balmoral on the Sunday mentioned in the information. W. F. Johnston was with Bullen on that day, and he was called and also testified that he got a drink at the Balmoral. Mr. A. P. Poussette, Q.C., who appeared for the defence, raised the question as to whether Mr. Cavanagh had a license or not, but after the evidence of several witnesses, including Mr. T. Dolan, license commissioner, had been given, the Magistrate decided that practically the defendant had a license and he therefore fined him $40 and costs. Mr. E. B. Edwards conducted the prosecution.

The Story of a Will.

[From the Toronto Mail.]

To the Editor of the Mail: Having seen a letter in your paper from Mr. John Cooper, of this town, reminded me of an incident which occurred about three years ago. A friend of mine, Mr. A. Seymour, was staying at Vermilion Bay, on the C.P.R., west of here. A legacy was left to him by an uncle in London, England. Mr. Seymour was in such bad health at the time that he thought he would not be alive when the legacy would reach here. He therefore wrote to me asking me to have his will prepared and sent to him for signature, etc., appointing me as the legatee in trust. The will was prepared by John M. Munn, Esq., barrister, of this town, and was sent to Mr. Seymour. It was returned to me duly executed, and is still in my possession.

In the same letter was a request to send half a dozen bottles of Warner's Safe Cure and some pills. I sent them. I received a letter some time after asking me to send some more, as he was feeling much better. I did so, and the next I knew Mr. Seymour himself came to town and told me (and looked it) that he was a well man. He got his money through the Ontario Bank here, and is now in British Columbia, and was in good health when I last heard from him.

I may say that I know both Mr. and Mrs. Cooper well, and the facts in Mrs. Cooper's case are as stated in Mr. Cooper's letter.

You can publish this or not, as you think fit, as it is nothing to me either way.

Yours, etc., W. C. DOBIE, J.P.

THE "C" SOCIAL.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Charlotte-st. Church as Entertainers.

The "C" social given by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Charlotte-st. Church last evening proved a most enjoyable affair, the arrangements that had been made being of a most complete, artistic and pleasing character. The attendance was not as large as the entertainment merited, but those who attended were delighted with the evening they spent. Supper began to be served in the Sunday school room shortly before eight o'clock. The room presented a fine appearance, it having been tastefully decorated with lace curtains and the tables presented a very attractive appearance. They had been tastefully arranged and at each place was a novel bill-of-fare, printed on a letter C, and a colored tissue paper napkin. The bill-of-fare caused a little amusement, but the edibles hidden under such deceiving names proved toothsome and the spread was enjoyed by all. The ladies of the Aid Society are to be congratulated on the appearance of their tables and the excellent bill-of-fare provided.

After supper had been partaken of by all a first-class programme was rendered in the church. Mr. J. R. Stratton, M. P. P., occupied the chair and Rev. H. J. Shorey was seated on his right on the platform. Mr. A. F. Wood, M. P. P. for North Hastings, was also present. Miss Pearson contributed the first number on the programme, giving a well rendered song which was encored. Miss Fairweather was second with an excellent instrumental selection, and was followed by Miss Gorman, who recited in admirable style "The Fireman's Wedding," and in response to an encore gave "The Bachelor." Master Fred Bunton then gave a song which was also encored. Mr. Wood, M. P. P., was then called upon for an address, and he responded in a happy and appropriate address, in which he explained how it was only by a mere accident that he happened to be present, and then spoke of "talents," illustrating his address by a beautiful little story, showing that little acts of kindness alwas bring their reward, and urging them to scatter seeds of kindness and look out for the little things in life. The last number on the programme was a pleasing instrumental duet by Miss Fairweather and Master Bertie Brooks on the piano and bones.

The Daily Review.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 5 1889.

PRETTY SISTER OF JOSE.

By FRANCES HODGSON BURNETT.

Author of "Little Lord Fauntleroy," "That Lass O'Lowries," &c. &c.

"She will not marry any of them," said Jose to Jovita in bewilderment.

"That will come soon enough," said Jovita, "She is pretty, and it makes her a little fool—all girls are like that; but one of these days—you may look out—it will be all over. She is just the one to blaze up all at once."

"I do not think she is a fool like other girls," said Jose with gravity. "But she does not seem to care about love—she does not seem to know. She is not even sorry for them when they are miserable."

He did not consider himself when he thought of her marriage—in truth he put himself in the background, for if some other man filled her life and her heart his vocation would be gone and there would be some dull hours for him before he could become used to it. But he had an innocent feeling that without this love of which all men talked so much the life he wished to be bright would not be quite complete. She was too pretty and too good never to be married—never to have a home of her own and some finefellow to love the dust she walked on. He himself was only Jose, and a brother was after all a poor substitute for a lover who could talk and sing and make jokes and wear such a dashing air that she would be proud of him.

"That is it," he said sagely to himself. "A woman must have some one to be proud of—and she could never be proud of me. If I were Sebastiano now it would be different."

He stopped suddenly and rubbed his head as his habit was when he was startled or confused. And his face became rather red. Perhaps this was because he remembered that among all the rest the magnificent, the illustrious, the beautiful Sebastiano was the one to whom she showed least grace. In fact it was almost mysterious—her manner towards him. They had seen him often—he had come in many evenings to sit under the vines; when they went out for pleasure it somehow happened that they nearly always met him—but when he joined them Pepita became at once possessed of some strange wilful spirit. Upon reflection Jose found that he had never yet heard her speak to him—it appeared to him as he thought it over that she always by some device avoided answering directly what he said to her.

"That is a strange thing," said Jose, deeply mystified as he suddenly realized this, "when one remembers how he can slay a bull! There is no one else who can slay a bull as he can. It is enough to make one weep for joy. And yet she can treat him ill.

But he did not know how ill—only Sebastiano knew that. Since the day he had stood in the arena and had seen all in a moment—as if a star had suddenly started into the sky—the small black head and rose of a face, he had lived in a fevered dream—a dream in which he pursued always something which seemed within his grasp and yet forever eluded him. What had he cared for all the rest of the women. Nothing. It had confused and angered him when they had thrown themselves in his way, or sent him offerings, and when he had been told of this or that beauty who was in love with his proud bearing and dashing courage. Women What were women! He only cared for the bulls, for the clamor of the people and the wild excitement of the arena. All he had wished for was to learn the best stroke—the finest leap. But this girl, who had never opened her scornful little mouth to deign him a word—who had never once allowed him to look in her eyes—somehow this one drove him half mad. He could think of nothing else—he forgot even the bulls—he spent all the day and sometimes all the night in devising plans to entrap her into speaking—to force her to look at him. How obstinate she was—how she could elude him, as if by some magic. What had he not done that he might be near her! He had followed her everywhere. Jose did not know that she scarcely ever went out without his following and speaking to her. He used to spring up by her side as if he had risen out of the earth, but after the first two or three times he never succeeded in making her start or show any feeling whatever.

But that first time, and even the second she had started. The first time she had gone to the old well for water, and as she stood resting in the shade a moment he appeared with a bouquet of beautiful strange flowers in his hand.

"God be with you," he said, and laid the flowers down a moment and drew the water for her.

She watched him draw it, smiling just a little.

"It will be a fine day for the bullfight," he said, when her jar was filled.

She put her hand up and shaded her working eyes as she looked at the blue sky, but she said nothing.

"Do you go to-day to the Plaza del Toros?" he asked. "You shall have good places—the best. They are good bulls to-day—black Andalusians—fierce and hard to manage. There will be fine sport. You will go?"

She leaned against the side of the well and looked down into the water, where she could see her face reflected in the cool, dark depths. The next moment Sebastiano's was reflected also. He held the flowers in his hand.

(To be Continued.)

A MODEL DIOCESE.

In an Area of a Million Square Miles There is Not a Policeman or a Saloon.

MONTREAL, June 5.—The Bishop of Moosonee arrived at the Windsor last night on his way from England to York Factory and Churchill, which are situated on Hudson Bay in the extreme north of his diocese. His route will be through Lake Winnipeg, down the Hayes River, and thence 200 miles along the Hudson's Bay to Churchill. He expects to be at his destination about the middle of August. His Lordship, in conversation with a reporter last evening, gave some interesting facts in connection with his diocese, which is the largest and probably the least known in the whole world. It comprises an area of over 1,000,000 square miles and has a population of about 10,000, of whom about 50 only are Europeans. The remainder are Crees, Ojibbeways, Chipwyans and Eskimos. Thus five languages are spoken in the diocese, and in each of these the Church of England service is held wholly or in part every Sunday, and books are published in all of them. Of the Crees all are baptized into the Christian faith, and so are the Chipwyans and the greater part of the Ojibbeways, and many of the Eskimos, but the larger portion of them are yet untouched, as it has been hitherto impossible to penetrate the wilds in which they live. Young Eskimos are now being trained, who will bye and bye visit those yet untouched. At Moose Factory, the bishop's headquarters, there is a congregation of 400 Crees and another of 200, mostly half-caste, who speak the English language quite fluently, and are well educated. The fifty Europeans referred to are in the employ of the Hudson Bay Company, and are scattered over the various posts in the vast country. They are mostly Highlanders and men from the Orkney Islands whence the company used to draw most of the employes, but nowadays the half-breeds are so well educated that they are being employed instead of sending to Scotland for men. Nearly all the missionary work in connection with the Church of England, and the Bishop feels highly satisfied with the progress of Christianity during the thirty-eight years he has been laboring there. He has been bishop of the diocese for sixteen years, and is the first bishop of Moosonee, and relates with pride that in all that vast region there is not a policeman, a soldier, a prison, nor a grog shop. In such an immense diocese it is difficult to visit the outlying stations, and this is only the second visit His Lordship has made to Churchill, the first being eight years ago. He will go partly by steamer and partly by boat, and may probably get to Moose Factory from York Factory by schooner, or failing that way, cross to England by the company's annual ship as being the easiest means of reaching his headquarters, though it is only 1000 miles from Churchill. The English language is making rapid progress in the diocese but not a word of French is spoken. There is to be some French half-breeds btu they have all disappeared now.

Death of Mr. F. Broughton.

EASTWOOD, June 4.—Mr. F. Broughton, late general manager of the Great Western Railway, died here early this morning.

[Mr. Broughton had been failing in health for some months past. He was a "Lancashireland," who started railway life at the foot of the ladder and by force of talent and industry rose to general managership. This position he filled both in Ireland and South Wales before being selected to succeed Mr W. K. Muir in the management of the Great Western Railway of Canada. Coming to Canada imbued with all the strict ideas of responsibility, discipline and correctness that mark railway management in the Old Country, he was shocked at the lax system prevalent on Canadian roads. Right, left and centre he initiated reforms which brought him the ill will of those affected. But the new manager carried the day and showed himself able to cope with the best on this side. Under his management the efficiency of the road made rapid strides and just as his policy was bearing fruit, and in spite of his remonstrance, the shareholders consented to fusion with the Grand Trunk. The services of Mr. Broughton were dispensed with and he moved to Chicago, where he had charge of the Chicago and Atlantic road. Later he became the representative of English bondholders in a road at Cincinnati; but most of his time of late has been spent on his farm at Eastwood, immediately opposite the residence of Mr. T. C. Patteson. Rather rough in colloquy, Mr. Broughton had a kind and tender heart, and his old associates in the management of the Great Western Railway will feel a pang to think that he has been taken away. Of his daughters all but one are married, and he leaves two sons, both in railway employ. His widow has the sympathy of all who remember her large-hearted kindness in the days of plenty and prosperity.]

WHICH WILL IT BE?

Which is the fairest, a rose or a lily?
Which is the sweetest, a peach or a pear?
Merry's coquettish, and charming is Milly;
Dora is gentle and fair.
Sweet as a flower was her face when I kissed her,
(Love is the romance and glory of life,)
Milly, my playmate, I love "like a sister,"
But Dora I choose for my wife.

That is right, young man, marry the girl you love, by all means, if she will have you. Should her health become delicate and her beauty fade after marriage, remember that this is usually due to functional disturbances, weaknesses, irregularities, or painful disorders peculiar to her sex, in the cure of which Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is guaranteed to give satisfaction, or money refunded. See the printed certificate of guarantee on bottle-wrapper.

For overworked, "worn-out," "run down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic, or strength-giver.

AT TURNBULL'S

The heavy Spring Trade is on us, every day from this out we shall be kept busy in supplying the needs of our old and new customers.

Scarcely a day passes but we receive packages of New Goods especially in Millinery and Millinery Trimming, New Shapes taking the place of those bought earlier, and at lower prices. To keep posted in what is being shown, you need to visit our establishment weekly.

Like an opening rose, our Dress Goods and Trimmings show beauty at every sight, the colors blend together so perfectly. Moss, Sage and Nile Greens, still hold in favor, Terra Cotta Blue, Greys, Dove and Reseda Shades are as much sought after as ever. In our Black Goods department we are showing a new voile of cloth, fine light and durable, just the dress for an old lady, much nicer than the nuns veilings.

It needs to be repeated and remembered that in all goods and most emphatically in Cotton Goods we keep a most complete stock. Where will you find the variety of Cottonades, Shirtings, Ticks, &c., you find with us, not less than sixty different patterns of Shirtings at prices as low as the lowest. At the Ribbon counter you are almost always sure to find exactly what you want for Dress or Millinery use.

Our Stock of Neck Frillings is very choice being different to what is usually shown, we import them from a different market.

When house-cleaning you may find you require a new carpet. We show a beautiful Tapestry at 50c. Lower and higher qualities according to good value.

The rush is on us in our Tailoring Department. Our Stock of Tweeds and Worsteds please the eye and pockets of our patrons. Best satisfaction in a fit always given.

DOCTORS IN COUNCIL.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE ONTARIO MEDICAL ASSOCIATION.

A Big Mass Meeting of Ontario Millers to Be Held in Toronto Next Month—The Bon Marche Man to Be Sued.

TORONTO, June 6.—A meeting of the millers' and grain dealers' section of the Board of Trade was held yesterday afternoon, to decide on future action in regard to removing the present obstructions to successful flour manufacture in Ontario. Mr. R. J. Stark occupied the chair. Letters were read from D. Plewes, Brantford; J. C. Hay, Listowel, and Ogilvie & Co., Montreal. After discussing the situation a resolution was passed calling on the President of the Dominion Millers' Association, Mr. Geo. Whitelaw, Paris, to select a committee whose duty will be the completing of arrangements for holding a great mass meeting of Ontario millers in Toronto some time next month, and the preparing of subjects to be discussed at the meeting. The committee will meet in the council chamber of the Board of Trade on June 12, to prepare the program and make the necessary arrangements.

The case of Policeman Henry T. Walker, charged with assaulting Sergeant Johnston whilst on duty, was considered by the Police Commissioners yesterday. The result of the inquiry was that Walker is asked to resign, which is tantamount to being dismissed.

Roland Gideon Israel Barnett's case was before the full Court of Queen's Bench yesterday in the matter of the argument of the Crown case reserved from the late assizes. Mr. Irving, Q.C., and Mr. Osler, Q.C., appeared for the Crown and Mr. Blackstock for the prisoner. After a full discussion of the points reserved for the consideration of the court judgment was reserved.

The City Clerk has invited all the prominent manufacturers of the city, to a conference with the sub-committees of the Markets and Health Committee and the Local Board of Health to take steps towards the abatement of the smoke nuisance. The conference takes place this afternoon.

The physicians of Ontario are a fine class of men, as was evinced yesterday when nearly 170 of them gathered in the theatre of the Normal School Building in attendance at the ninth annual meeting of the Ontario Medical Association, and they had amongst them several prominent members of the medical profession from Montreal and United States cities. The chair was occupied by the President, Dr. W. Henderson of Montreal, who opened the proceedings at 9.30, while Dr. D. J. Gibb Wishart of Toronto did the duties of secretary. After some routine business and the presentation of reports a number of papers were read and discussed. At the afternoon session Dr. Henderson delivered the president's annual address, which was most carefully listened to and applauded. He warmly welcomed the visiting doctors from outside the province, and spoke of the deaths in the profession since a year ago, particularly that of Dean Howard of McGill University, Montreal. The rest of his discourse related to the present condition and needs of scientific medical education in this province, and he was glad to say that the profession was never in a better condition. He touched upon the "quack" question and regretted that the Government did not allow the Council of the Medical College to cancel the certificates of the quacks, who are disgracing the profession and deluding the public. In concluding he advocated the establishment in Toronto of a provincial medical library and museum. The remainder of the afternoon and the evening session were occupied with the reading of papers.

The Government has announced that it will not throw the grounds of the Lieut.-Governor open to the public.

The insurance companies interested in the fire which occurred in the store of Mr. F.X. Cousineau have decided to issue a writ for the recovery of the $17,000 paid over. It is probable that the writ will be issued to-day.

WORSE REMAINS BEHIND!

BETWEEN 12,000 AND 15,000 DEAD IN THE CONEMAUGH VALLEY.

The Victims Yet Unnumbered, But the Estimate Increasing Daily—Dictator Scott's Herculean Task.

JOHNSTOWN, June 5.—Conservative men are of the opinion that the number of people lost will reach from 12,000 to 15,000. This view is based on many fragments of evidence obtained from over 100 of the best citizens. They were asked to estimate the percentage of the loss to the total population, to tell how many people of their acquaintance have disappeared, how the gatherings of residents on the streets and in public places compare with the same in former times. These statements of facts and estimates were proved as far as could be and the pendulum of calculation seems to be between 12,000 and 15,000. A very large proportion of this is made up of children. How strikingly frequent is the reference in the death-list to "Mrs. Jones and six children" and "Mrs. Smith and five children"! In the morgue the little ones lie in dozens where adults are in half-dozens, but there is and has been a much greater difficulty in recovering the bodies of the children. Being lighter and smaller they have often been swept into out-of-the-way recesses that are almost inaccessible. The drift of opinion among physicians, engineers and railroad men is that from 1000 to 1500 of the bodies will never be found. At 11 o'clock this morning Adjutant-General Hastings sent the following telegram to Governor Beaver: "Fully 3000 men are at work clearing off debris. Bodies are now being received in large numbers. The Citizens' Committee organized and the working systematized. A detachment of twenty men of the Fourteenth Regiment was detailed last night to guard the supply trains. Provisions are pouring in and it is difficult to take care of them. There is no suffering from want of food or shelter. Contributions of money are more desirable than anything else."

The body of a boy named Willie Davis was the first one taken from the debris near the bridge this morning. Mrs. Davis, who lost her husband and six children by the disaster, was in the morgue when the body was brought in. She was almost crazed with grief and excitement. The boy's body was the first one of the family that has been recovered.

The bodies of a little girl named Bracken and Theresa and Katie Downs of Clinton-street were taken out near where the remains of Willie Davis were found. At the Presbyterian Church, which is being used as a morgue, seventeen bodies, taken from the debris and river, have been brought in. Only six have been identified. The relief corps from Altoona found a body near Stoney Bridge this morning. On it was a gold watch and chain and $250 in money, which were turned over to the proper authorities. A. J. Hawes, whose wife's body was taken out of the river last night, had the body taken up into the mountains, where he dug her grave and said: "I buried all that is dear to me. As for myself I don't care how soon death overtakes me." Five bodies were taken out of the wreckage near Debert's Bank in Main-street this morning.

Miss Clara Barton of the Red Cross Society arrived this morning and has assumed charge of all female relief corps. The 900 army tents brought by Adjutant-General Axtine of Ohio have been divided, and two white walled villages now afford shelter to nearly 6000 homeless people. These villages are policed and under charge of General Axtine.

J. B. Scott of Pittsburg, who was elected dictator yesterday, has taken hold of the stupendous task imposed upon him with energy and already has mapped out his work and assigned the direction of various portions of it to men equally zealous. Already he has 2500 men at work and has called for 2000 more, to whom he promises work for 60 days at $2 per day and board. In an interview to-day he said he proposed to clear the town of all wreckage and debris of all descriptions and turn the town site over to the citizens. The work of reconstructing the roadbed and relaying the tracks of the Pennsylvania Railroad is being pushed forward vigorously and already trains are running down to the passenger station, while construction trains are able to go a considerable way further. By to-morrow the high embankment at the big bend of the river which deflected the river from its course on the fatal Friday and which was finally washed away itself will be re-constructed.

Although the loss of the Cambria Iron Company will foot up into the millions the destruction of their plant is not as bad as was feared, and officers of the company say they expect to resume operations within 30 days. While the greater part of the valuable buildings had their still more valuable contents, in the way of improved machinery, damaged beyond repair, there is a complete set of machinery in the Bessemer mill uninjured, and the manufacture of steel rails may be resumed within two weeks. Hundreds of Cambria employes are at work to-day clearing away the wreckage.

The atmosphere here to-day was damp, the air keen and penetrative. This was favorable to the workers but most unpleasant for the houseless sufferers and thinly clad women and children. Long relief trains are rolling into Johnstown almost every hour. From east and west, north and south, come whole train loads of clothing and provisions, accompanied by special messengers having funds and large corps of volunteer physicians. Several hundred destitute people are being well cared for at Camp Hastings on the Ebensburg road. Visits to several registration offices to-day and inquiries among survivors who came in to register disclose that the proportion of saved and lost is about equal. The falling off in the registration to-day leads the authorities to apprehend that their worst fears may yet be realized and the death roll will mount well up into the five figures.

Where Johnstown's principal stores stood last Friday are now pitched 1000 tents and before to-morrow night this number will probably be doubled; under this shelter are accommodated the members of the militia and thousands of workmen who are trying to clear the streets. Over 5000 men are now thus employed in Johnstown proper. Contractor Flynn, who has charge of the army of laborers, said to-day: "It will take 10,000 men 30 days to clear the ground so that the streets are passable and the work of rebuilding can be commenced." The volunteers are doing noble work. Nearly every town in Western Pennsylvania is represented by from 10 to 100 men and many towns in Ohio and New York have also furnished their quota.

There were a thousand funerals here to-day. In most cases there were no religious rites. The graves of the unknown already number several hundred.

Almost every stroke of the pick in some portions of the city to-day resulted in the discovery of another victim. Although the funerals of the morning relieved the morgues of their crush before night they were as full of dead as ever. Wherever one turns the melancholy view of a coffin is met. Every train into Johnstown was laden with them, the better ones being generally accompanied by friends of the dead. Men could be seen staggering over the ruins with shining mahogany caskets on their shoulders. Several stumbled and fell into the abounding man pits, while the coffins were bounding over the stones.

Over 100 men were all day engaged in an effort to clear a narrow passage from the death bridge upward through the debris. Dynamite was used and gradually a few of the heaviest timbers were demolished and the fragments floated downward through the centre arch. At nightfall, however, the clear space above the bridge did not exceed 60 feet in length by 40 feet in width. Fully twenty-five acres are to be cleared and the task ahead seems interminable. The suggestion that the debris be burned invariably meets a wild furore of objections. Before two more days have elapsed, however, there is little doubt the emanations of putrid bodies will have become so frightful as to drive the hardest workmen from the scene and then fire will have to be resorted to.

DONOVAN'S DERBY.

The Favorite Galleps Home an Easy Winner—Twelve Other Starters.

LONDON, June 5.—Another Derby Day. Those persons who "mark time" with the recurrence of what was once the greatest horse race in the world, and is yet, despite all rivalry, the most prodigious of holidays connected with the National worship of the noble animal so useful to man — and bookmaker — have reason to compare the present with the past to the advantage of the latter. The palmy time of the Derby is not now. It is a matter of social religion, if the term be permissible, to go to Epsom on the great day of the great week. Since the rail entered into competition with the road "doing" the latter in the way that was the vogue when the favorite was vanned from home to the course, and fast coaching was express traveling, has lost much of its popularity. Thus much for one of the changes which has taken place in the aggregation of the crowd. The nomadic tipster who advertises his prescience (which never fails) is a comparatively novel institution and his name is legion; but otherwise, the humors of Epsom are conservative enough. The pea of rough palmistry which always was found under the wrong thimble has totally disappeared, along with the garter, whose convolutions were so puzzling to speculative prickers. But "three card monte," as the Americans call it, prevails, and judging from their appearance the professors of that game so fatal to fly flats make a fat and happy living by its pursuit. Epsom on Derby Day is still devoted to the consumption of lobster salads of fearful and wonderful composition, and the imbibition of champagne of remarkable pedigree. It goes without saying that the great reason why Epsom is not the monopolizing meeting it was lies in the success of gate money meetings, where stakes of unheard-of value form part of the program.

But to come to the day. One remembers more cheery journeys down than it was to-day. It seemed as though London never looked so tame on a Derby since or that the road, of which one had glimpses en route, never appeared so sparsely occupied. As to London although as far westward as the district which was once called the borough of Chelsea, there are citizens of sporting tastes who have in times past "gone to the Derby" by road they did not appear to be astir in the old fashion to-day. The out going by means of coach and car, waggonette and omnibus, carriage and cab was not up to the old form. However, the perfect weather which marked dawn of Derby Day and continued throughout attracted tremendous crowds of gaily dressed men and women to the Downs and bettors large and small seemed to partake of the inspiring influence of the bright sunshine and balmy breezes. The Prince and Princess of Wales and many other persons of distinction were present. Thirteen horses faced the starter for the big race and the superstition that this is an ominous number is certainly confirmed in the minds of the backers of the dozen that did not win. The Duke of Portland's bay colt, Donovan, was an overwhelming favorite and won with comparative ease from Miguel, who beat El Dorado for the place. Conditions:

The Hundred and Tenth running of the Derby Stakes of 50 sovs each, h ft; colts, 126 lbs; fillies, 121 lbs; for 3-year-olds; the owner of the second receives 300 sovs and the third 150 sovs out of the stakes; about a mile and a half, starting at the New High Level Starting Post. 13 starters.

Betting—5 to 2 on Donovan, 11 to 1 against Pioneer, 14 to 1 each Laureate and El Dorado, 18 to 1 Miguel, 20 to 1 Clover, 25 to 1 Morglaye, 33 to 1 each Enthusiast and Folengo, 50 to 1 Gulliver, 100 to 1 each Gay Hampton, The Turcophone and Royal Star.

The race—The customary hour's interlude gave full opportunity for a paddock inspection of the thirteen competitors, whose toilets were adjusted in the presence of a crowd of admirers, and meanwhile Mr. Manning got through his task of weighing out so expeditiously that by a quarter to three preliminaries had been settled. The business of clearing the course, though effectively performed, took some little time, and eyes had been turned towards the Paddock Gates in eager anticipation for some minutes before the signal was given for the competitors to make their appearance. At length the familiar white jacket and black sleeves, the Duke of Portland's colors, gleamed against the green background as Donovan came on the course followed by The Turcophone, Laureate, Morglaye, Pioneer, Miguel, El Dorado, Gay Hampton, Folengo, Enthusiast, Royal Star, Clover and Gulliver. They were soon at the post and at the second attempt the involuntary shout of "They're off" told that the race had begun. Morglaye was the first to show, with Folengo and Enthusiast in close attendance and well clear of Gay Hampton and El Dorado, who led Donovan and Clover by a length with Laureate leading the others. There was little change until Tattenham Corner was reached, where the Duke of Portland's pair took command and turned into the straight with The Turcophone a length in front of his stable companion Donovan. When well straightened out for home The Turcophone dropped back beaten, while El Dorado and Miguel closed on the leader. Donovan, however, had too much speed and drawing away won easily by two lengths, while Miguel beat El Dorado out for the place. The others finished as above.

Wedding Bells at Guelph.

GUELPH, June 5.—Seven weddings in the city and vicinity were set down for to-day, but the one perhaps in which most public interest centered was that celebrated this morning at 11.30 in St. George's church. The contracting parties were Mr. Wm. P. Torrance, Toronto, a partner in the legal firm of Kingsmill & Cattanach, and Miss Harriet, youngest daughter of Mr. Thos. Holliday. The groom had the support of his brother Arthur, while Miss Agnes Holliday acted as bridesmaid. Ven. Archdeacon Dixon performed the ceremony.

THE JESUITS' ESTATES.

Talk on Both Sides at Oshawa—The Meeting Votes for Disallowance.

OSHAWA, June 5.—A large meeting was held here last night for the purpose of discussing the Jesuits' Estates Act. Mayor McGee occupied the chair. The speakers were John L. Small, Mr. J. J. MacLaren, Q.C., Wm. Smith, M.P. for South Ontario, J. S. Larke, Reeve of Oshawa, and others. Mr. Small of Toronto gave a long history of the Jesuit organization and was followed by Mr. Smith, who defended the action of the 188 members who voted against Colonel O'Brien's resolution. Messrs. Larke and Maclaren made telling speeches. Delegates were then appointed to attend the Toronto meeting and a resolution passed in favor of disallowance.

SOME NECKS IN DANGER.

SULLIVAN, THE ICEMAN, IN A PERILOUS POSITION.

Evidence at the Cronin Inquest Which Points an Accusing Finger at the Other Sullivan.

CHICAGO, June 5.—At the Cronin inquest John Carlson, the old Swede who owns the cottage where the murder was committed, said that P. O. Sullivan, the iceman, told him he knew one of the men that rented the cottage and that they were all right. Mrs. T. T. Conklin testified that Dr. Cronin feared attempts upon his life and that Alexander Sullivan was the person he suspected, as the doctor had information about Sullivan that would probably ruin him. Frank T. Scanlan swore that Dr. Cronin had told him of his fears of Alexander Sullivan.

Police Captain Schaack gave some sensational evidence. He testified that Woodruff confessed to him at the jail on the day the Grand Jury met that he hauled the trunk from the Ashland-avenue cottage and took it away and was present when the body which it contained was thrown into the catch basin by the two other men who were with him, and that the man who hired him to do the job was Detective Dan Coughlin.

Woodruff further told Captain Schaack that one day he was with King and Fairburn in a saloon in Division-street, and that a man came there and gave King and Fairburn a lot of money from a big roll. When the man who gave the money went away Woodruff asked King who that was and King replied, "That is the great lawyer, Alexander Sullivan."

There are mysterious hints that Cronin's papers will bear damaging evidence against Sullivan. They show that Cronin was bitter against him, that he kept every item of proof relative to his enemies in the society, put them in shape that they could readily be used and to the best purposes. Cronin was "gunning" for Sullivan while he lived and the investigating committee claims the game will be brought down even though the hunter is dead.

Sullivan still maintains his composure. One of the sensational features of the Cronin investigation will probably be the placing of Patrick Egan on the stand for the purpose of explaining many Clan-na-Gael accounts, some large expenditures and possibly some wild speculations whereby some thousands of dollars of Clan-na-Gael money disappeared.

It is openly charged, and it is said the books of Lester & Co., the Board of Trade firm, will show, that Alexander Sullivan lost over $120,000 in stock speculation between June 1 and Nov. 1, 1882. This was after he obtained possession of the Clan-na-Gael fund. Previous to that time he had no money to do any speculating with. In 1884 or 1885 Sullivan, so it is asserted, renewed these speculations and also lost heavily. A co-worker in the Clan-na-Gael with him also speculated at the same time and was also a heavy loser.

Patrick McGarry, a friend of Dr. Cronin, testified as to what Cronin told him regarding the investigation by a committee of the Clan-na-Gael at Buffalo, of charges that Alexander Sullivan appropriated funds of the Clan to his own use while a member of the executive board or "triangle." McGarry said Cronin informed him that the charges were not only of misappropriation of funds but that the "triangle" had sent men to their death and to British prisons. The witness could not remember the exact amount of money mentioned by Cronin, but it approximated $900,000.

The witness then told of his visit to Toronto after Cronin's death and the result of interviews with Reporter Long. The latter at first denied having sent the misleading despatches, but subsequently said he had sent a statement of the facts to Frank Scanlan of this city.

Cronin said to the witness after the Buffalo investigation that if he were murdered it would be at Alexander Sullivan's instigation. Cronin also said that the life of Dr. McCahey of Philadelphia, who joined Cronin in reporting against Sullivan at the Buffalo investigation, was also in danger and that an attempt had been made to decoy him away.

Captain Schaack has been suspended for alleged dereliction of duty in the case.

TOPICS FROM THE CAPITAL.

The Seized Gloucester Schooners—The Tenders for the Newfield Opened.

OTTAWA, June 5.—Tenders for the purchase of the Government steamer Newfield were opened in the Marine Department to-day. The highest offer did not exceed $9000. The Mackenzie Government in 1875 paid $65,000 for the Newfield.

In reply to a despatch from United States Consul-General Phelan at Halifax, asking upon what condition the Mattie Winship, the seized Gloucester fishing schooner, would be released, Sir John Thompson replied that a release would be granted on the owner giving security equal to the full value of the schooner. Mr. Wallace Graham, Q.C., the agent of the Department of Justice, is now at Sydney preparing against the vessel and has been notified of this correspondence. It is customary to ask for security to cover penalties and costs, but in this case Mr. Graham's instructions are to be as easy as possible as regards security.

An application for leave to bring mining machinery for boring for oil or natural gas into Canada free of duty has been made to the Customs Department. The application is made on behalf of Mr. Isaac Anderson of Toronto, who has contracted to drill a test well in the vicinity of Essex and states that the machinery will be returned to the United States within six months. The rule in localities where a certain class of mining machinery cannot be obtained has been to allow a rebate of 90 per cent. if the machinery is returned within a month.

AMBITIOUS CITY NOTES.

A Set-back for the Summer Carnival Promoters—The Junction Cut Inquest.

HAMILTON, June 5.—Ex-Ald. Martin Malone had Mayor Doran served with a notice this morning of an application to be made to the Superior Court judges at Osgoode Hall on June 11 for an order quashing the resolution passed on May 13 by the City Council granting $1750 to the summer carnival, on the ground that the grant is illegal.

At the Police Court to-day Frank Rowlin was fined $15.55 for assaulting County Constable Bell when the latter went to serve summonses upon him. Jennie Trahey, a young girl who was arrested in Toronto on a charge of vagrancy and skipped out when she was released on bail and came to Hamilton, fell into the clutches of the police here and was given 24 hours to leave town. James Ratcliffe, a Barton farmer, was fined $5 for cruelty to his horse.

Miss Grieg has arrived at the children's home in Main-street with thirty-eight children, ranging in age from eighteen months to nearly as many years. They were all caught young in the English cities and educated at the homes there.

The inquest on the Junction Cut disaster was continued last night. Joseph Hobson, superintendent of the Great Western division, being the principal witness. The investigation was adjourned until Friday, when expert evidence will be given.

A Louiseville (Que.) Banker Missing.

MONTREAL, June 5.—L. H. Mirreau of Louiseville is missing. His disappearance has caused great excitement as he was a very prominent man, being reeve of the county and ex-Mayor of the Parish. He acted as banker and insurance agent for the whole district and was really the financial man of the place. His affairs are very much involved. It is stated that he has forged the names of two of the most prominent men in Louiseville. The Banque du Peuple is let in for $15,000.

The Bank of Nova Scotia loses $12,000 and Ville Marie Bank $8000. It is said Banque Nationale are also let in for $7000.

The Congregational Union.

BRANTFORD, June 5.—The Congregational Union of Ontario and Quebec opened its annual session here to-day. Over a hundred delegates were present. Rev. Joseph Wild, D.D., presided. The session opened with singing and prayer. Rev. Mr. Aylward of Cobourg preached the annual sermon from I. Samuel xxvii., 1. The afternoon was occupied in forming committees.

DEFENDERS OF THE BAD BALLOT.

It ought not to occasion the slightest surprise to the Brockville Times that the ballot system of the Ontario Government finds apologists and defenders, says the Empire. That system is a disgrace to our province. It violates the essential principle of advanced representative government. It is especially repugnant to old Reformers, who have long prided themselves upon the Liberalism of their party only to find that its present leaders have abandoned and betrayed them. To think that politically corrupt communities in the United States are adopting the secret ballot, while this enlightened province is obliged to lag in the rear through the greedy office hucksters of the Ministry is a bitter reflection for those honest Liberals who have stuck to their party through thick and thin, but who are rightly beginning to feel that there are depth of degradation into which it is not fair to ask them to descend.

The time-servers and hangers-on of the Mowat Ministry are loud in their defence of the system, because it provided exactly the sort of means they pine for to show their usefulness, with the prospect of falling heirs to any of the shrievalties that are not wanted for the Mowat family. Numbered ballots and numbered voters are the kind of arguments that politicians of the Hardy-Fraser variety know how to handle. They form an invaluable portion of that gigantic system of terrorism which has been gradually built up in Ontario till the freedom of the electoral body is seriously curtailed. Under it license holders and every class of individuals brought into some dependent relation, however remote, with officialism, have to run a risk in casting their votes. That this should not be is patent to everyone, and that it would not be if the respectable element in the Liberal party had the slightest moral weight with the Government is equally evident. No later than the last session of the Legislature a proposition to make the provincial ballot secret was voted down by the Government, whose supporters were called in to the division without the merits of the question being debated. Too late in the session was the excuse of the political schemers who are busy making ducks and drakes of Liberal principles. Too late to reform a scandalous abuse, but not too late to vote away in a few hours nearly a million of the people's money on subsidies to enterprises about which the Legislature knew practically nothing. The time is close at hand, we believe, when "too late" will be the answer of the people to those repentant corruptionists, who have hung on to office in Ontario by every ignoble means till their own friends are sick unto death of them.

The Globe believes the veto power necessary to keep Mr. Mercier from making bad laws. Mr. Mowat advocates the abolition of the veto power. The Globe supports Mr. Mowat.

Mr. Laurier voted against the disallowance of the Jesuit bill. The Globe demands its disallowance as a necessity. But the Globe thinks Mr. Laurier should be Premier.

A young lady missionary writing from Japan says:—"We were wishing the other night that some of the people at home, who are opposed to our work, could see, as we have to view it, the curse of heathendom. I was so full of it, that I said if I could find words I would write to the Globe, and try to reach the hearts of those who never read our church papers." In Japan Canadian affairs appear to be understood. We believe the Globe has lost many of the best class of its readers.

SELWYN SIFTINGS.

A Budget of Items from Smith Regarding Various Matters.

Correspondence of the Review.

Going Ahead.—The readers of the Review will perhaps think the village of Selwyn has dwindled out of existence altogether, as nothing has been heard from it for some time. The village is improving all the time, although the shop built by Mr. J. Record has been closed for some time. Mr. R. Clifford has been overcrowded with work and willing to accommodate his many customers at any hour of the day or night. He has telephone connection from the shop to his family residence on Leather-st. If the business men of Selwyn would spend a few cents in printers' ink they would find an increase in trade. There is not even a shingle over the door.

The Right Man in the Right Place.—The question has been asked again and again how it is Mr. T. Nichols, agent for the P. Hamilton Manufacturing Co., Peterborough, has sold so many implements and all kinds of machines to the farmers in this county. There is more than one reason. Tom knows just what will suit each and every man according to the state of the farm. A glance of the eye over the farm is enough, having spent a number of years in farming on smooth as well as rough land, and his word is taken every time. Those who bought the light steel binder from him last season are delighted with it and can recommend it to others.

Brieflets.—Mr. Dan Roxborough, of Bridgenorth, supplies this place with fresh meat twice a week.... Mr. Silas McConkey has put a stop to the frog music in this place by putting in a large drain on the west side of Bell-st., which has made a very great improvement to the appearance of the place as well as making an improvement to adjoining lots. Any one who has a drain to dig would do well to call at the old post-office.... Some of the boys are going out to Burleigh to see the big turkey gobbler there.

Arrived—Another cargo of 40 chests of Superb Japan Tea at M. R. Kidd's.

TROUBLE IN THE BROTHERHOOD.

The Locomotive Engineers Don't Like the Chief's Opposition to Strikes.

Chicago, June 5.—The Evening Journal says: There is trouble in the ranks of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. Chief Arthur is a candidate for re-election and has been making a quiet canvass of the various lodges of the brotherhood. Last week a secret meeting was held here. There were upwards of 200 present, representing lodges in Illinois, Michigan, Indiana, Iowa and Wisconsin. And with their defeat by the "Q.," the expected reduction of wages on the Santa Fe and discharge by the Alton of a large number of brotherhood men fresh in their minds they were not satisfied with the chief's optimistic speech. A member of the general grievance committee addressing Chief Arthur declared the latter was wrong in stating that no misfortune threatened the organization. Said he:

"A reduction of wages is expected to be made before long on a number of western roads. Such action we do not propose to accept. We desire to know whether in the event of a reduction being ordered despite our opposition you would sanction a strike?"

Chief Arthur did not like the question, but with compressed lips and tone, looked at the determined faces before him and said:

"Under no circumstances of which I can conceive shall I ever sanction another strike."

A murmur of surprise tinged with indignation arose, but ceased as the chief continued: "In the first place I am opposed to strikes on general principles. In the second place to strike would be practically suicide, for, owing to the inexorable laws of supply and demand and the large number of unemployed engineers in the country, it would take but an exceedingly short space of time to fill our places."

"But," broke in the questioner, "suppose a reduction of wages should occur on the Union Pacific system, where the brotherhood is so thoroughly equipped as to obtain everything they ask, would not you authorize a strike to resist it?"

Without hesitation the chief said: "No, sir, I would not. I believe no reduction of wages is to be made, but should there be and the men follow my advice they will accept it. I shall never sanction another strike."

Chief Arthur stopped and the meeting adjourned. Murmurs of discontent have been heard ever since. It was known that the chief had a strong dislike to strikes, but that his conservatism was so strong as his speech showed it to be was never dreamed.

BRAMPTON'S NEW POSTOFFICE.

The Corner Stone Laid by Hon. John Carling Yesterday Afternoon.

Brampton, June 5.—The corner stone of the new postoffice was laid this afternoon by Hon. John Carling, Minister of Agriculture. Hon. John Carling, accompanied by N. Clarke Wallace, M.P., Robert White, M.P., Postmaster-General John Haggart and many other prominent Conservatives were met by the Brampton Mechanics Band, the Town Council, the County Council and many private citizens.

After a drive through the principal streets the new postoffice site was reached, where a spacious platform had been erected. Addresses by Mayor Holtby on behalf of the town of Brampton, Warden Andrews on behalf of the county council and Dr. Moore, President of the Conservative Association, were read, to which the hon. gentleman made suitable replies. A large and handsome bouquet of cut flowers was also presented by two little girls, the daughters of Judge Scott and Mr. McCulla, M.P.

After the corner stone had been well and truly laid with a silver trowel presented by the contractors the corporation of the town of Brampton entertained the visitors to a banquet to which a large number of the citizens had been invited. 200 covers were laid. After full justice had been done to the feast the usual loyal and patriotic toasts were drunk, the distinguished guests leaving by the 6.30 train for the east.

THE WORK OF FIREBUGS.

A $20,000 Incendiary Fire at Morden—A Mississippi Town Burnt.

Winnipeg, June 5.—Fire at Morden destroyed $20,000 worth of property this morning on which there was a light insurance. A drunken man named Schell was arrested for incendiarism.

Burned by an Incendiary.

Biloxi, Miss., June 5.—The business part of this town was burned by an incendiary this morning. Loss $100,000.

The citizens held an indignation meeting and appointed a vigilance committee to detect the incendiary and punish the plunderers who were at work during the fire.

INFANTICIDE AT HULL.

A Strangled Babe Found With a Rope About Its Neck.

Ottawa, June 5.—A ghastly discovery was made in Hull yesterday morning. Sanitary Officer Gervais while clearing out a closet at the back of a house on the corner of Central and Bridge-streets came across the body of an infant child with a rope around its neck. It was found on a medical examination that the child must have been born alive, and appearances indicated that soon after its birth it had been strangled. The enquiries of the police resulted in suspicion being fastened upon an 18-year-old girl named Leverre, who had been residing in the house at the back of which the body was found and the girl was arrested. An inquest was held to-day and a verdict was returned the child had been strangled to death and afterwards thrown into the vault.

OUR SUMMER CLOTHING BULLETIN.

Correct in style, Perfect in fit, Reliable in make and Right in price is the Clothing we offer you. Correct at the start and at the finish.

The requirements for each garment are—The material must be right, the cut of it right, the make of it right and, withal, the price must be right. Must be right at every stage of its construction, so that in the end 'twill be right. It requires no little attention, study and skill to keep to the track all the way through, but the result is recompense sufficient. Our prices and our goods both are right.

Correct in style—means more than fashionable in style, beautiful in style or sensible in style. It means all of 'em together. In such clothing as this you're neither "a guy," "a dude" or "a fellow of no style," but "A gentleman, sir, by his dress." Your garments are not "loud" enough to attract attention, but they're good enough to stand inspection, stylish enough to be "toney" and graceful enough to be beautiful.

As we've already said, our prices are right, so are our goods. And so, we think, is our way of selling 'em, since it allows the greater number to buy 'em. Do you want clothes? Then come to us.

'A Spring Message'

From the New Firm of

H. LeBRUN & CO.

Sign of the Golden Horse-shoe.

The people of Peterborough and vicinity are all aware of the business change which took place in the CITY CLOTHING STORE on the first day of February last. The new firm beg leave to make their first bow to the public through the columns of the Review, and to request a careful perusal of the following Spring and Summer circular:—

The City Clothing Store

in past years, by long experience in business, by buying always for spot cash, importing direct from the principal houses of the old country and from the leading houses of Canada, and by strict economy in conducting its business, has always been able to force prices down to an exceedingly fine point. The members of which the new firm is composed will form a still stronger "combine," by which the CITY CLOTHING STORE will be even better prepared to procure for its customers a continuation of those superior inducements in the future for which it has been noted in the past.

Men's Clothing.

The magnitude of our stock and lowness of prices gives us a great advantage over all other competitors in the trade. We carry in stock all the fast selling lines, styles and patterns, and can fit the tall, the short, the fat and the lean. More Suits, Better Fabrics, Finer Styles than were ever handled before.

Special values in Fine Spring Overcoats, and Fine Spring and Summer Suits. Don't fail to see them. The superb styles, workmanship, and the beautiful fabrics and patterns that we offer will surprise you.

Merchant Tailoring.

"For the apparel oft proclaims the man."

Fine dressers in search of new, neat and nobby Overcoatings, Suitings or Trouserings will find this department crowded to overflowing with cloth from all countries. To select from the largest assortment is an advantage we offer to our customers, backed up by the skill of experienced cutters and tailors. Besides perfect fit and first-class trimmings, we guarantee absolutely first-class workmanship.

Boys' and Youths' Clothing.

Clothing for the little ones—boys and children—has always been a specialty with us. We have always sought to give great values in this department, and to provide a larger and finer variety of goods for parents to select from than they could find elsewhere.

This means that we are showing a large assortment of Boys' and Children's Suits, Boys' and Children's Blouses, Shirt Waists, Pants, &c.

This spring there are an unusual number of new and nobby styles and an enlarged variety of fabrics and patterns. Be sure and see our stock.

Gents' Furnishings.

Gentlemen of Peterborough seeking the latest styles and best values for their money, as well as an opportunity of selecting from the largest stock of Furnishing Goods, should not fail to visit this department at once. We offer the finest, best selected and the largest assortment of Neckwear, Hosiery, Underwear, Gloves, Shirts, Handkerchiefs, etc., to be found in any first-class establishment.

GRAND SUCCESS!

Our Great ONE HOUR SALE a Tremendous Success.

WE PROPOSE TO CONTINUE THE SALE

ON SATURDAY NEXT,

AT THE HOURS MENTIONED BELOW:

GREAT ONE HOUR SALE
AT THE WIGWAM.

The only trouble we had was that many of our customers who came to buy had to wait for some time as others were ahead of them. We regret that the time for closing the sale arrived before they got waited on, and as we do just as we advertise the sale closed just to the minute as announced.

For the benefit of those who were so unfortunate in not being able to secure some of the bargains that were given away last Saturday, we continue the Sale on Saturday.

HERE'S A CHANCE!

On SATURDAY, between 11 and 12 o'clock, for one hour, we will sell any Pair of Pants in the Store for $1.99. Some of them are worth $4.50 and $5.50. We will also sell, between the hours of 2 and 3 o'clock

A LINE OF TWEED SUITS

worth $8.50 for $4.25, and a Fine Line of FANCY WORSTED SUITS for men, all sizes, selling price $15.00, $7.50, just half price. Now if you want a bargain, don't fail to call as close to 11 or 2 o'clock as possible, as we expect a big rush. The sale of Pants closes sharp at 12 o'clock, and the sale of Suits, at the above prices, closes at 3 o'clock to the minute. The above Sales will be repeated between 8 and 9 p.m. for the benefit of the workingmen. We will also sell the following during the day:

MEN'S FINE SPRING SUITS at $2.89 - - worth $6.50

BOY'S FINE TWEED SUITS at $1.12½ - - - - worth $2.25

Heavy Canadian Tweed Pants, in all sizes, 98c. - worth $2.00

COME ON TIME AND AVOID THE RUSH.

Try our Imperial ginger ale and mineral waters.

Baseball Match.

A practice match of baseball was played on the Riverside Park last evening between the Athletics and the Ashburnham nine. Only three innings were played, but they did not take half an hour. Taber and Graham were in the points for the Athletics, while Mein and O'Brien did the battery work for the Ashburnhams. The score by innings was as follows:—

Athletics .... 0 2 4—6
Ashburnhams .... 3 6 0—9

The First of the Season.

Hurrah for the back lakes! Take a day on the waters! Get some fresh air into your lungs! Leave business to look after itself! Turn out and join the Masonic excursion on Tuesday, June 18th. Note the attractions of the trip. First ride over the new G.T.R. line to Bridgenorth. Steamer Beaubocage and Palace Barge Paloman will convey excursionists to Jacob's Island, a beautiful spot on Pigeon Lake. Those who wish may sail on to Bobcaygeon and see the celebrated village, the home of the Good, the True and the Beautiful. The whole trip will be a delightful one and thoroughly enjoyable, and the expense only a trifle. See posters and further announcements for rates. 1d132-1w23

THE NORWOODS WIN.

The First Championship Game for the Riversides—How the Games were Scored.

The Riversides played their first championship match yesterday with the Norwoods and were defeated, although it was a hard fight. However, the boys although defeated are not discouraged and with a few changes in the players which can be made a team can be placed in the field that will make the result in the next championship struggle between Norwood and the Riversides vastly different from what it was Wednesday. The visitors were victorious by three goals to two. The rain which had fallen during the day and the heavy shower which fell during the progress of the game made the grass so slippery that the players were tumbling and falling over each other during almost the entire game. The crowd which was present to see the Riversides defeated was not a very large one, but what they lacked in numbers they make up in enthusiasm, and every good play, and there were many of them, was greeted with great cheering. A. Ross, who plays coverpoint for the Riversides, was laid up and was unable to play, while T. Meagher, while he played, was suffering from a lame knee. These two unfortunate circumstances weakened the home team considerably, and the boys hardly went in with the same confidence which they otherwise would have. The Norwoods are a much heavier team than the Riversides, and play a hard game, although the play of yesterday was comparatively free from all unpleasantness or objectionable kicking. The referee, Mr. R. H. Fortye, did his duty in an impartial manner and gave satisfaction to both teams. J. McCabe, who played with the Shamrocks, a junior local club, last year played with the Riverside for the first in a match yesterday, and he played well. He is quick and neat and gives promise of making a first-class man with the stick. His excellent playing during the game was general comment and he came in for a good deal of applause which he deserved. Joe Begley, W. Hendron and F. Packenham also played a faultless game, and M. Halpin also did some neat work. Stevenson of the Norwoods is a fine lacrosse man, and Hendre, who was in goal, guarded his post well and by his quick plays and neat stops saved many a game for the Norwoods. The two teams were composed as follows:—

RIVERSIDES.	POSITION.	NORWOODS.
J. Phelan	Goal	S. Hendre
J. Joyal	Point	R. J. Stewart
F. Packenham	Cover Point	F. C. Stevenson
T. Meagher	Defence Field	H. Hill

THE GAMES AND WHO SCORED THEM.

The ball was faced a few minutes after three, and the play was to be for two hours and a half, unless one team took four straight games.

The first game was a short one, and after the face off the ball was kept pretty well in Peterborough territory, and at the end of 8 minutes and 40 seconds, the rubber was sent between the home flags by McKelvie.

The second game was even shorter than the first. The ball went towards the home goal after the face off, but Burnon got it and sent it flying down the field, where for a couple of minutes the visitors' defence were pretty well pressed, but a fine long throw sent the ball to the other end of the field. Phelan got the ball, but before he could throw he was checked and the rubber was knocked in front of the home goal. A scrimmage took place, in the heat of which Cronin got the ball on his stick and was going to throw when the sphere flew over his guard and passed between the flags, scoring the second game for the Norwoods in 3 minutes and 5 seconds.

The third game Phelan went into the home field and Meagher undertook to guard the flags. This was as short almost as the previous game, but the home boys showed that they were going in to play, and in 3 minutes and 45 seconds Duncan sent the ball past Hendre, scoring the first game for the Riversides.

The fourth game was a long and hard struggle, but the sphere was kept in close proximity to the visitors' goal all through the game. There were many beautiful plays during this game and considerable excitement was manifested by the spectators. Begley got bit in the mouth during the game and the claret flowed freely, and his lip was badly swollen. However, he was not disabled, but had the honor of scoring the next game in brilliant style. The ball had been faced behind the home goal and Packenham got it and sent it up the field, where Begley caught it, and after carrying it passed several opponents, made a beautiful shot and the game was ended in favor of the Riversides. Time, 24 m. 15 s.

The fifth game was another hard struggle and terminated in an unexpected manner. The ball for the first thirty-five minutes was kept on Norwood ground all the time and shot after shot was rained on the goal, but the visitors fought hard and the ball failed to get through. Then a long throw was made up the field, and for about three minutes the battle raged round the Riverside goal, and in the scrimmage the rubber was knocked through. Time, 41 m. 30 s.

There was still twenty minutes time to be played, but during this time the ball was kept travelling from one end of the field to the other and no game was scored.

An Event in the Town's History.

An exhibition of baseball as it should be played will be given in the P.A.A.A. grounds on Saturday afternoon next, when a nine from the Examiner will try conclusions on the diamond with a nine from THE REVIEW staff. It is expected that this will be the match of the season and both nines are going into training at once so as to be in first-class condition for the struggle, which is sure to be a mighty one. The arrangements for the match have been completed, and physicians will be on the field should the great exertions of any of the players result seriously, and some arrangements will also be made for the removal of the remains of the umpire should he meet an untimely death as a result of a doubtful decision, in a contest which will be so close and exciting that the slightest partiality in either direction might seriously affect the score and rile the players so much as to drive the injured nine to desperation. The batteries for the nines have not been selected but the entire eighteen will probably give their spare time to throwing until the day of the struggle, and he who can come the nearest to the side of a house will be selected to occupy the box at a nominal stipend. The game will be worth a dollar at least to any spectator, but a consultation was held and, considering the wet weather and injurious frosts which have visited this district, it was decided to make the entrance fee only ten cents so that no one should be derived the treat of seeing such a memorable event on account of any financial embarrassment from which he may be suffering. The fences around the ground will be utilized for seeing purposes, and cushioned seats in the grand stand will be reserved for ladies, provided they come and bring the cushions with them. Let no one miss the match, which will probably be chronicled in the history of the great events of the town.

Dominion Day Celebration at Port Hope.

This year's programme for the celebration of Dominion Day in Port Hope is the best ever presented by that town. It comprises an immense gathering of Firemen,—a Fireman's Parade,—Special Games for Firemen,—Athletic Sports,—Grand Horse Races, &c., during the day. In the evening, the "Pigs in Clover" will be practically illustrated by the real live article, the whole concluding with a Grand Display of Fireworks. We would strongly advise our readers to make their arrangements to spend Dominion Day in Port Hope. The programme there is always fully carried out. Any information desired can be obtained by writing W. E. Beamish, Secretary of Committee. 11d132

Immigrant Children.

Mr. John T. Middlemore, the founder of Orphan Children's Emigration Charity, London, Ont., left Liverpool on the 31 ult., in the S.S. Lake Winnipeg with a party of 30 girls and 50 boys between the ages of 8 and 18 years, who are brought out to this country for adoption or hire, chiefly among farmers. They are expected to arrive at the Guthrie Home, near the city, on or about the 13th. This will be Mr. Middlemore's 16th annual visit to these shores with juvenile emigrants from Birmingham, England, since 1872. Already many applications accompanied with good references have been made for the children expected to arrive, but more are required. Further particulars may be obtained by addressing Mr. H. Gibbens, Manager of the Guthrie Home, London, Ont.

The Process Changes It All.

The last fifteen years has seen the manner of manufacturing in many lines completely changed. Take the manufacture of flour, of paper, of wheeled vehicles or of furniture. In furniture the progress is marked. Machinery has revolutionized the work. It cheapens the goods to the buyer, enlarges the output to the manufacturer, lowers prices, increases business and brightens up thousands of homes with beautiful surroundings. The old four-poster bedstead, with its turned posts and rope mattress, has given place to the modern bedroom set, neat, new and handsome. Tables, chairs, cupboards, in fact everything shows the march of progress. In no factory in the Dominion has the opportunity been turned to better advantage than in the shops of Belleghem, the furniture king of Peterborough. Details of manufacture are closely matched. The finish is scrupulously looked after. Belleghem supplies everything that the new married couple can need to go housekeeping. He begins at the beginning by issuing the marriage license and quoting prices for furniture that convince the couple that they're on the right track. He selects the furniture to suit the means and purse of the customers, ships it to the house, will preside at the housewarming and, if called on to do so, name the first baby. Belleghem is the furniture autocrat of the district and his address is Peterborough. 1d132-1w23

A CROWDED OPERA HOUSE.

Miss Gordon Addresses a Large Audience—Mr. Winch's Meeting.

"A meeting was held in the Opera House last evening by Mr. Fred Winch at which Miss Mattie Gordon, of Nashville, Tenn., was announced to sing and address the audience, and it proved a great attraction. The house was crowded by an audience which included members of all the congregations in town and many others who have no church which they can call their own. A large number of the audience climbed the stairs expecting to hear Miss Gordon deliver an address on divine healing, but they were disappointed in this respect, but no complaints were heard, for the address which this gifted and earnest young lady gave was one which held the audience and apparently made an impression on them. The Y.M.C.A. band played a couple of excellent selections in front of the arcade before the meeting commenced, and a choir was on the platform, while Mr. J. S. Parker presided at the piano.

THE PROGRAMME.

Mr. Fred Winch occupied the chair and opened the meeting with prayer, after which a hymn was sung. Mr. Winch then read and commented on a chapter from John's Gospel.

After the singing of another hymn, a collection was taken up in behalf the French evangelization fund in Quebec.

Then Miss Gordon sang a solo "Shall I be Saved To-night," in a very expressive manner. She then addressed the audience, taking for the basis of her remarks the parable of the ten virgins and Revelations vi, 9-17. Miss Gordon speaks with great fluency and last night she beautifully made the application of the parable of the ten virgins to the life of those who, while they believed in Christ, yet had not given up the world. She said that every child of God was not going to be of the bride of God when He came a second time, for while they might have a spark of spirituality in them and might just be saved, yet they must have more spirituality than earthliness or they would not leap to meet the Bridegroom when he came. She impressed upon them the grave importance of watching and being ready for the coming of the Lord and urged them to see that there was no shadow of doubt as to where they stood.

The meeting closed with the benediction by Mr. Colville.

Sporting Sparks.

Joe Phelan has decided to resign the secretaryship of the Riversides.

The Bicycle Club meets to-night to arrange for a programme for the first of the fortnightly meets which it is proposed to hold.

The regular monthly rifle match came off at the ranges this afternoon.

The Riversides should now go in and play to win their next game.

The Maple Leaf cricket team will go to Port Hope on Saturday to play a match with the local team there.

The two-mile race at London in which Clancy's "Royal Jim" is entered, and which was to have been trotted yesterday afternoon, was postponed until to-day, and is being trotted this afternoon.

The Road Inspected.

General Superintendent Stephenson, District Superintendent J. [illegible] Riddle, Division Engineer J. G. Macklin and Station Agent Wm. Brundrette made a trip of inspection over the new Chemong Lake line yesterday morning. The line was inspected carefully and the officials found everything satisfactory. The line is to be opened on the 17th of this month when two regular trains will be put on from here daily, one going and returning in the morning and the other going and returning in the evening. The exact time upon which these trains will leave is not definitely known, but the morning train will leave either at 6 20 or 8 20, while the evening train will leave at 5 20. After inspecting the Chemong Lake line Messrs Stephenson and Riddle went to Lakefield, from which place they returned last night and then left for Midland.

Brevities.

—There was no Police Court this morning.

—The Peterborough division of the Durham Field Battery had their first drill last night.

—A meeting will be held at Nassau tomorrow night to discuss the Jesuit question.

REVIEWS.

THE CENTURY MAGAZINE.—Readers of the Century have followed with deep interest Mr. Kennan's papers on the exile system of Russia, and in the June number the author begins his account of the most important investigations made by him into the Exile System, viz., his visit to the Convict Mines of Kara. He will take several articles to cover fully the description of the mines and the facts learned by him in this part of his extraordinary journey. The article is placed first in The Century, and is more profusely illustrated than usual. The frontispiece of this number of The Century is a portrait of the famous French artist, Corot, whose work has had such immense influence on the art of the day and has been subjected to such fierce controversy. The article is by Mrs. van Rensselaer, and along with the letter-press is another portrait of Corot at Work, drawn from a photograph by Wyatt Eaton. A number of reproductions of Corot's paintings are also given. An article by an English writer on The Bloodhound is accompanied by wood engravings from sketches by an English artist. This article puts the bloodhound in an entirely new light and removes some of the terror from reputation. Mr. DeKay continues his Irish papers with a curiously illustrated article on Early Heroes of Ireland. Certain forms of Women's Work for Women, by Mrs. Helen Campbell, describes especially the Young Women's Christian Association building of New York and the methods of work of the Association. An American Amateur Astronomer is an illustrated sketch of the career of Mr. Burnham formerly of Chicago. Mr. Burnham is famous in a certain branch of astronomy. Accompanying the article is a portrait of the amateur astronomer, and a map showing the distribution of the double stars discovered by him. In the Life of Lincoln several interesting chapters on important political events are published, The Pomeroy Circular, The Cleveland Convention, The Resignation of Chase. The Old Master written about and illustrated by Stillman and Cole in this number is Spinello Aretino. Mrs. Mary Hallock Foote's serial story, The Last Assembly Ball, is concluded in this number. The Relations of the United States and Canada is the subject of a paper by Charles H. Lugrin. Short stories are published by George A. Hibbard, entitled The Wymen in the Case, and by James Lane Allen, entitled King Solomon of Kentucky, illustrated by Kemble. An interesting personal chapter is that by Mrs. Margaret J. Preston, the poet, who describes General Lee in his home After the War. Mrs. Mary Hallock Foote's Far West picture is entitled The Irrigating Ditch. The Memoranda of the Civil War and the departments are replete with good things and there are a number of bright poems.

BENSFORT BRIEFS.

The Crops Looking Well—The Cheese Factory—Damage by Rain.

Correspondence of the Review.

CROPS.—The crop prospects are better up to this date than they have been for some years, in consequence the farmers are all looking happy. The first crop is offering well, although slightly damaged by the heavy frost of the 28th of May.

CHEESE FACTORY.—The Bensfort cheese factory is now in full swing with Mr. Thos. Stevenson at the helm. The factory has a larger patronage this year than last. The quantity of milk handled is very much larger and is constantly increasing. From present indications a very large business will be done in the factory this year.

THE RAIN STORM.—A very heavy rain storm passed over here early last Saturday morning before daylight. The fields were flooded like lakes. The creeks were swollen like rivers in a very short time. The land was badly washed in places, but no very material damage was done with the exception of the washing out of a few culverts on the roads.

ON THE WAR PATH.—The Council's orphan is around again on the war path as usual, breathing out vengence upon the whole community. He is going to prosecute the corporation for embezzlement. He is also seriously thinking of sending about three-fourths of the residents of the township down to Cobourg to spend next winter. When he gets through with these heavy contracts he intends to settle down and devote his precious time to the manufacture of boots, shoes and slippers.

MOTHERS who have delicate children can see them daily improve and gain in flesh and strength by giving them that perfect food and medicine, Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites. Dr. W. A. Hulbert, of Salisbury, Ills., says: "I have used Scott's Emulsion in cases of Scrofula and Debility. Results most gratifying. My little patients take it with pleasure." Sold by all Druggists, 50c. and $1.00.

A Nasal Injector free with each bottle of Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy. Price 50 cents. S. C. Wells & Co., proprietors, Le Roy, N.Y.

DIED.

EVERETT.—At Peterborough, on Thursday, June 6th, GEORGINA EVERETT, youngest daughter of Mr. W. Everett, aged 19 years. Funeral from the family residence, 504 Aylmer-st., on Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock to the Little Lake Cemetery.

THURSDAY, JUNE 6 1889.

PRETTY SISTER OF JOSE.

By FRANCES HODGSON BURNETT.

Author of "Little Lord Fauntleroy," "That Lass O'Lowries," &c., &c.

"These he said. "It was one of the gardeners of the King who gave them to me. They are such as the Queen sometimes wears. I brought them that you might wear them at the bull fight."

She saw their beauty reflected in the water. She would not look at them directly. They were very beautiful. She had never seen such flowers. And the Queen herself had worn others like them. If any one else had brought them-- but it was Sebastiano. And she remembered Sarita. Perhaps he had at some time given some to Sarita, knowing that to a country girl who knew nothing they would seem very grand. Sarita would have been sure to take them.

A wicked little look come into her face. She turned as if to take up her water jar. But Sebastiano laid his hand upon it.

"You will not speak," he said passionately. "No, nor even look at the flowers I bring you. You shall tell me at least what I have done. Come now. Am I a devil? What is it?"

She put her hands behind her back and fixed her great eyes upon him for a moment. He could not say now that she had not looked at him. He thought he could keep her, did he, when she did not choose to stay! She, Pepita! She stood there staring at him for a moment, and then turned about and walked off, leaving him with her water jar. Let him stand and watch over it all day if he would.

She went back to the house and called Jovita.

"If you want your water now," she said, "you will have to go to the well for it. It is drawn and Senor Sebastiano is taking care of it."

"Mother of God!" said Jovita, staring, "she is mad with Senor Sebastiano."

But not another word could she gain, and before she could reach the well she met a boy carrying the water jar towards the house, and was told that he had been paid to bring it.

They went to the bull fight, and as Pepita sat among the rest, out blooming the red flower in her hair, she heard it said that Sebastiano had never been so magnificent, had never shown such daring and dexterity.

"He looks at Pepita." said Isabella to Carlos. "When he entered his eyes found her before he saw anything else."

Yes, he saw Pepita, and Pepita sat and watched him with as cool an interest as if the peril with which he played meant nothing. Her lovely eyes glowed under their drooping lashes, but it was only with a momentary excitement caused by the fierce sport—the man was nothing.

So it seemed at least to Sebastiano. It was a bad bull he encountered, savage and treacherous and maddened by his rage. Once there was a moment when a shadow of a misstep would have cost him his life. There was no time to look at Pepita, then, but when the danger was passed and he glanced towards her, she was softly waving her fan and smiling up at Manuelo as if she had not even seen.

"She has a bad heart," he said to himself with fierce impatience. "It is not nature that a young girl should mock at everything and be so cruel and have neither feeling nor even a little fear. She has a bad heart or none at all."

He would not look at her again; he swore it to himself. And for a short time he kept his vow but there came a moment when something—some irresistible feeling conquered him. It was as if some magic had forced him—drew his eyes towards her in spite of himself. And when he looked a sharp shock thrilled him, for she herself was looking at him, her eyes were fixed upon him with a strange steadiness, as if perhaps they had been resting upon him for some minutes and she had forgotten herself. It was a little thing perhaps but it was enough for his hot blood and swift-veering impulsive nature. He had just given the final stroke—he was panting, glowing, the people were shouting, rising in their seats, and repeating his name, with caressing applauding epithets attached to it. Chance had brought him near the seat in which she sat with Jovita and Jose and the others near her. They were applauding with the rest—all but Pepita, who only sat and smiled. And in the midst of it Sebastiano made a swift movement; so swift that it was scarcely to be understood—a mere touch of the hand to the shoulder—and something bright, like a many-hued bird, flew over the barrier and fell upon Pepita's lap. It was the knot of gay, rich ribbon which a moment before the Matador had worn.

"It is the devisa!" exclaimed Isabella, in an awe-struck tone.

"It is his devisa," cried Jose. "His devisa, Pepita. He has thrown it to you yourself—Sebastiano."

The next moment he was struck dumb with amazement. Pepita sat upright and broke into a little laugh. She lightly waved her fan.

GLADSTONE AT SOUTHAMPTON.

He Hopes to Gain 100 Seats for Home Rule at the Next Election.

LONDON, June 5.—Mr. Gladstone received an enthusiastic welcome at Southampton today. Replying to addresses presented to him, he said the Liberals had good cause to congratulate themselves upon recent events. He declared that if the next general elections gave results proportionate to those given at the bye elections the Home Rule party will gain 100 seats.

Balfour and Gladstone.

LONDON, June 5.—Mr. Balfour, Chief Secretary for Ireland, in a speech at Portsmouth this evening said further dealing with the Irish land question ought to precede the introduction of an Irish local government measure.

At a Nationalist meeting at Belfast to-day a letter was read from Mr. Gladstone reminding Protestants of the patriotism of their ancestors at Londonderry.

The Mahdist Butcheries.

LONDON, June 5.—Missionary letters to the Anti-Slavery Society say that the Mahdists have made Western Abyssinia a desert. Whole flocks and herds have been destroyed. Thousands of Christians have been thrown into slavery, thousands of others have been butchered and hundreds of the noblest inhabitants have been taken to Mecca as slaves in violation of treaties.

Riotous Strikers Imprisoned.

BERLIN, June 5.—Eighteen miners at Essen, recently on strike, have been sent to prison for from one to six months for rioting.

Herr Siegel, editor of The Vaterland, a clerical paper of Munich, has been sentenced to six weeks' imprisonment for libelling the late Dowager Queen.

Arrested for Singing Polish Songs.

VIENNA, June 5.—A dispatch from Lemberg says the Russian officials of Cracow have arrested 41 students for singing Polish patriotic songs.

Firemen on Strike.

LIVERPOOL, June 5.—The firemen on steamers crossing the channel have struck, and the steamers are unable to sail.

Italian Successes in the Soudan.

MASSOWAH, June 5.—The Italians have arrested an Abyssinian chief, disarmed 2000 of his followers and occupied Keren without resistance. The inhabitants are rejoicing.

Hungary's Crops.

VIENNA, June 5.—The Hungarian wheat crop is fair and the rye and barley crops are better than those of 1888.

Ellis & Co. Get Back Their Jewelry.

MONTREAL, June 5.—Judge Loranger this morning maintained the seizure taken by P. W. Ellis on the jewelry found by the detectives and placed in the hands of Chief Hughes and dismissed the intervention of Andy Maloney, who claimed possession of the same. Counsel for Ellis & Co. to-day stated that neither he nor his clients were interested in the least in the criminal proceedings against Maloney and Phillips, as the latter had given back to his clients the entire jewelry lost by Von Reinoltz.

The Port Perry Band Competition.

WHITBY, June 5.—The band competition at Port Perry to-day resulted in first-class bands taking this order of prizes: Dominion Organ and Piano Company 1, Anderson's 2, Heintzman's 3.

Went to Sleep on the Track.

GUELPH, June 5.—Edward Hornbostle, who has been a resident of this city off and on for twenty years, was run over and killed by a freight train on the W., G. & B. line shortly after 3 o'clock this morning. He had received two weeks' pay last night and after giving his wife part of the money and paying a bill he loaded up with liquor and probably lay down on the track to sleep. About a year ago Sergt. Dooley found him lying on the G.T.R. track in the city and removed him or his life would probably have been ended at that time, and that was not his first experience of the kind, either. He leaves a wife and four children and relatives in the States.

Murdered for Money.

SILVER CITY, Mont., June 5.—Burrill, the telegraph operator at Silver City, 16 miles from Helena, was killed and F. C. Jobst, the Montana Central Railroad agent, probably fatally wounded by robbers here last night. A large amount of bullion was shipped yesterday, the robbers evidently thinking it was still at the station. It is not thought the highwaymen secured over $300. The robbers fled in the direction of Marysville and officers and a large body of armed men are in pursuit.

The posse overtook the Silver City depot robbers. They refused to surrender, firing on the posse; the fire was returned. Both robbers were killed. They are unknown, and look like foreigners.

A HORSE WHO CAN TALK!

Everybody has heard of a "horse laugh," but who has ever seen an equine gifted with the power of speech? Such an animal would be pronounced a miracle; but so would the telegraph and the telephone a hundred years ago. Why, even very recently a cure for consumption, which is universally acknowledged to be scrofula affecting the lungs, would have been looked upon as miraculous, but now people are beginning to realize that the disease is not incurable. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure it, if taken in time and given a fair trial. This world-renowned remedy will not make new lungs, but it will restore diseased ones to a healthy state when other means have failed. Thousands gratefully testify to this. It is the most potent tonic, or strength restorer, alterative, or blood-cleanser and nutritive, or flesh-builder, known to medical science. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh in the Head, and all Lingering Coughs, it is an unequaled remedy. In derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels, as Indigestion, or Dyspepsia, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Chronic Diarrhea, and kindred ailments, it is a sovereign remedy.

GUARANTEED. "Golden Medical Discovery" is the only medicine of its class, sold by druggists, under a printed guarantee, from the manufacturers, that it will benefit or cure in every case of disease for which it is recommended, or money paid for it will be promptly refunded.

TURNBULL'S

The heavy Spring Trade is on us, every day from this out we shall be kept busy in supplying the needs of our old and new customers.

Scarcely a day passes but we receive packages of New Goods especially in Millinery and Millinery Trimming. New Shapes taking the place of those bought earlier, and at lower prices. To keep posted in what is being shown, you need to visit our establishment weekly.

Like an opening rose, our Dress Goods and Trimmings show beauty at every sight, the colors blend together so perfectly Moss, Sage and Nile Greens, still hold in favor, Terra Cotta Blue, Greys, Dove and Reside Shades are as much sought after as ever. In our Black Goods department we are showing a new make of cloth, fine light and durable, just the dress for an old lady, much nicer than the nuns veilings.

It needs to be repeated and remembered that in all goods and most emphatically in Cotton Goods we keep a most complete stock. Where will you find the variety of Conttonades, Shirtings, Ticks, &c., you find with us, not less than sixty different patterns of Shirtings at prices as low as the lowest. At the Ribbon counter you are almost always sure to find exactly what you want for Dress or Millinery use.

Our Stock of Neck Frillings is very choice being different to what is usually shown, we import them from a different market.

When house-cleaning you may find you require a new carpet. We show a beautiful Tapestry at 50c. Lower and higher qualities according to good value.

The rush is on us in our Tailoring Department. Our Stock of Tweeds and Worsteds please the eye and pockets of our patrons. Best satisfaction is a fit always given.

SEATTLE IN FLAMES.

A LOSS OF $5,000,000 ALREADY SUSTAINED.

The Remainder of the City in Danger—Firemen Helpless—A Blaze at Simcoe Which Grew out of a Fire Engine Fight.

CHICAGO, June 6.—A despatch received here this evening says Seattle, W.T., is burning. A loss of $5,000,000 is reported and the remainder of the city is in danger.

Later.

SEATTLE, W. T., June 6.—Fire broke out at 2 p.m. to-day in the Pontiac building on Front-street and by 4.30 was raging over a district of five or six blocks with tremendous fury. The wind was from the north and the direction of the fire was along the water in Front-street and from the water front to the big brick block between Columbia and San Francisco-streets. The indications were that the whole business portion of the city would be swept away, involving a loss of millions. The magnificent San Francisco store and the other stores in the row were on fire and the whole big block seemed doomed. The local firemen were helpless and telegraphed in all directions for aid. At 4.30 p.m. a conflagration was rushing through the heart of the city. To add to the peril a smart breeze began blowing off the bay, fanning the flames, and at the same time a thousand feet of hose was caught in the advancing blaze and destroyed. The opera house block, the block opposite, all the warehouses at the foot of Cobourg-street and also the great group of buildings in the rear of The Post-Intelligence newspaper office were burning. The people in the Yester block, occupied by The Western Union Telegraph Company and the Post-Intelligence, were hurriedly moving out. At this writing the Western Union had but one wire undisturbed, over which this despatch was being sent.

FIREBUGS AT SIMCOE.

Incendiarism Alleged to Be the Outgrowth of a Fire Engine Fight.

SIMCOE, June 6.—The large two-story frame building in the North Ward for many years used as a fanning mill factory was gutted by fire at 2 o'clock this morning, and the residence of Mr. J. T. Carson adjoining was also damaged by the flames. The mill was worth about $1000 and the stock another $1000, both partially insured. Mr. Carson's loss is about $500, fully insured.

The circumstances surrounding the origin of the fire are such as to create considerable excitement in town. For some weeks past Simcoe has been the scene of a bitter steam fire engine fight between the Ronald engine of Brussels and the Waterous Company of Brantford. A considerable majority of the people favored the purchase of the larger Ronald engine, but a majority of the council were in favor of buying two Waterous engines and this was finally done. During the fight three members of the council were the recipients of anonymous letters, threatening them with the destruction of their property by fire if they persisted in buying the Waterous machines. At the time these letters were laughed at as the work of practical jokers, but now that one of the council, Mr. Carson, has been made the victim of an incendiary opinion has changed.

At a special meeting of the council to-night the Mayor was authorized to offer a reward of $200 for the apprehension and conviction of the firebugs.

A Hotel Burnt.

STEVENS POINT, Wis., June 6.—The St. James' Hotel, with all its contents, was burned last night. The clerk, Charles Cadhall, and two of the girls, Maggie Reilly and one known as Nettie, are missing. All who escaped saved nothing but what they had on. Loss on the hotel, $25,000.

A Fatal Blaze.

BERLIN, June 6.—A cotton mill at Offenburg was burned to-day. Several workmen were killed. The loss is 200,000 marks.

ST. LOUIS, June 6.—The report that the Collier White Lead Company and the Southern White Lead Company have been absorbed by the National White Lead trust is premature. The deal is not closed.

THE LIVING AND THE DEAD

TAKING A CENSUS OF THE WATER-WHELMED VALLEY.

Many of the Bodies yet Unidentified—To be Placed in Nameless Graves To-day—How One Family Died.

JOHNSTOWN, June 6.—Up to noon to-day 723 bodies had been embalmed at St. Columbus Catholic Church, Cambria City. The only one secured to-day was that of a small child. A number of bodies were taken from the debris at Kernville this morning. A number of people arrived from Pittsburg to-day, causing considerable trouble, as there are no provisions here and they only eat up what is here for the survivors. Even the undertakers were unable to remain at work in the Fourth Ward morgue this morning owing to the stench. The bodies were in the small schoolroom. All the unknown dead were taken from the room and placed in the front yard. They will be kept for a day or two longer, but in the hot sun decomposition will set in very soon. Four bodies were found near the stone bridge this morning. They are at the Pennsylvania Railroad station. One was identified as that of John McKee. The others were those of a young woman and two small children. The First Presbyterian Church contains 9 unknowns. Burials will have to be made to-morrow.

This morning workmen found three members of Benjamin Hoffman's family, who occupied a large residence in the rear of Lincoln-street. Benjamin Hoffman, the head of the family, was found seated on the edge of the bedstead. He was evidently preparing to retire when the flood struck the building. He had his socks in his pockets. His 20-year-old daughter was found close by attired in a night dress. The youngest member of the family, a 3-year-old infant, was also found beside the bed. The body of a woman, supposed to be Mrs. Reese, was also brought in this morning. The only identification at the Presbyterian Church was that of Mrs. William Rich.

The real work of ascertaining who the living and dead of Johnstown are was started this morning. A corps of clerks under the direction of the Relief Committee started out and will go to every house in this vicinity and secure the names of the living. Another corps of men will endeavor to find out who the missing are and in this manner it can be nearly definitely known just how many lives were lost. A revision of the registration list shows that only 13,000 people had registered up to 1 o'clock this afternoon at the different registration stations. By this list it is plainly apparent that a large number of the survivors will not take the trouble to register.

It seems almost incredible that so many bodies remain unidentified. Thousands of people from the different sections of the state have seen them, yet they remain unidentified. At Nineveh they are burying all the unidentified dead but in the morgues in this vicinity no bodies have been buried unless identified.

A Village Almost Swept Away.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., June 6.—The village of Crescent on the Northern Central Railway has been nearly all washed away. Many houses and a part of the works are gone. The water was up to the roofs of most of the houses. A part of the people took refuge in a church on the hill. Sixty people are destitute. Aid is asked for.

Food for the Hungry.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., June 6.—All apprehensions as to further suffering from hunger have been dissipated. The seven cars of supplies brought up yesterday evening by the Secretary of the Commonwealth are ready to be unloaded. Advices coming in show that the loss of property has been very heavy in all places near here. Morris, Tioga County, is a total wreck. As the water gets lower new evidence of the disastrous work of the flood appears. Some large mills are still filled with homeless people and freight cars and improvised shanties are used by others.

Lifting the Railway Blockade.

PHILADELPHIA, June 6.—A train of five cars, carrying 122 east bound passengers, started from Altoona at 2 o'clock this afternoon over the Pennsylvania Railroad for Philadelphia. They go to the Montgomery Bridge via Lockhaven, and if that structure is not sufficiently completed to allow of the train passing it will run to Sunbury. At Sunbury the passengers will be ferried across the river and will then be placed in another train and brought to Philadelphia, probably reaching here to-night. This is the first train to leave Altoona eastward since last Friday. It is expected more trains will follow.

German Sympathy.

BERLIN, June 6.—The North German Gazette speaking of the Johnstown calamity says: "The Americans are always charitable. The condition of the sufferers by the Johnstown floods demands German assistance."

New Hampshire's Gift.

CONCORD, N.H., June 6.—The Legislature to-day appropriated $10,000 for the Conemaugh sufferers.

Can't Give the State's Money.

BOSTON, June 6.—The State Attorney-General has decided that the bill appropriating $30,000 for the Johnstown flood sufferers is unconstitutional. The appropriation will therefore fall through.

Lost All But Their Lives.

HAMILTON, June 6.—Mr. Frank Whitelock of No. 96 West-avenue north, this city, left yesterday afternoon for Johnstown to look after the family of his brother, which consists of Edward Whitelock, his wife and two children. This morning a telegram was received stating that all the members of the family had escaped and were well, but they lost everything, their home being washed away with the others.

Lost All His Family.

TORONTO, June 7.—Last year Professor Seymour, a phrenologist and temperance lecturer, spent several months in Toronto, enlightening the public on his special subjects at Shaftesbury Hall, in Queen's Park on Sunday afternoons and in several of the places of worship. He made many friends in this city, prominent amongst whom was Rev. Dr. Wild. All whom had any acquaintance with the Professor will be sorry to hear that his wife and five children are stated to have been drowned in the Pennsylvania flood. The family lived at Johnstown. At the time of the flood Prof. Seymour was traveling in Western Ontario, and when he heard the news at once started for home. Mrs. Scott of 125 Shuter-street received a card from her husband, Professor Seymour's advance agent, written from London on Monday, saying that the Professor had gone home. On Wednesday Mr. Scott wrote again, saying that Seymour had wired him that his whole family were missing, and were undoubtedly drowned. No trace of their bodies has been found.

Mollie Corwin Shoots.

SHELBYVILLE, Ind., June 6.—George Parmer and his son Will were shot last night by Mrs. Mollie Corwin. The father was badly wounded and the son fatally. They were trying to gain admittance to the woman's house against her will.

CABLE NOTES.

Mrs. Maybrick Charged With Wilful Murder By the Coroner's Jury.

LIVERPOOL, June 6.—The inquest in the Maybrick case was concluded this afternoon and a verdict of wilful murder of her husband was returned against Mrs. Maybrick.

The Mons Murder.

BRUSSELS, June 7.—The Marchioness de Chastelor, who was found murdered at Mons, was shot through the heart. The bullet was fired through the bedroom window. The assassin is supposed to be some farmer tenant who became enraged because his request for a reduction of rent was refused.

The "Glorious Fourth" in Paris.

PARIS, June 6.—The Cabinet has considered favorably the request of the American residents for permission to hold a public celebration in Paris on July 4. President Carnot has consented to unveil the statue of liberty on that day.

Swallowed Their Disgust.

PARIS, June 6.—In the debate on the educational budget in the Chamber of Deputies to-day the rising of ex-Premier Ferry to address the House caused a great uproar. A member of the Right shouted "The blood of the Tonquin dead chokes you," and many similar cries were heard. M. de Cassagnac advised the House to submit and listen. "We swallow our disgust," exclaimed M. Bourgeois, a deputy for the Department of Vendee. Finally on the demand of the President order was restored and M. Ferry proceeded with his remarks.

Floods in Bavaria.

BERLIN, June 6.—Disastrous floods are reported in Bavaria.

The Dock Laborers' Strike.

LONDON, June 6.—The dock laborers at Glasgow, Greenock, Belfast and Londonderry have joined the strike.

The Strikers Yielded.

LONDON, June 6.—The tram-car strikers yielded this afternoon and returned to work.

A Fight With Horsethieves.

PURCELL, I. T., June 6.—For a week several deputy marshals of Purcell have been on the trail of Cornelius Walker, the notorious negro horsethief of the Indian Territory. Yesterday the marshals corralled Walker in a negro hut thirty miles west of Paul's Valley, in the Chickasaw Nation. Upon going to the door Deputy Marshal Williams was held up by Robert and Clem Franklin, while Walker shot and instantly killed him. Walker was instantly shot by the other marshals, and the Franklin brothers were arrested and brought to Paul's Valley station, where they were chained until taken to Paris, Texas, for trial.

The Salt Syndicate.

WARSAW, N.Y., June 6.—Thomas Ward, head of the English salt syndicate, and James Stubb, M.P., and a salt manufacturer, reached here this evening and will begin at once to appraise the salt works in this field. They return to England on May 26.

The Northwestern's Dividend.

CHICAGO, June 6.—The Chicago & North-Western Railroad Company to-day declared a quarterly dividend of 1 3-4 per cent. on preferred stock and 1 1-2 per cent. on common. The directors were re-elected excepting D. O. Mills, who resigned and was replaced by F. L. Ames.

Sullivan's Speculations.

CHICAGO, June 6.—In the Cronin inquest to-day J. W. Moore, cashier of John T. Lester & Co., brokers, testified that between June 1, 1882, and April 13, 1883, Alexander Sullivan paid to the firm on transactions with the firm the sum of $123,800, that during the same period he drew out $115,318 in check, and stock worth $14,000, showing a net loss of about $4500.

One of Lester & Co.'s bookkeepers was put on the stand and read an abstract of the transactions in stocks which Sullivan had with the firm. The list was quite long.

PORT PERRY'S GALA DAY.

The Band Tournament a Great Success—Results of Yesterday's Contests.

PORT PERRY, June 6.—The second day of the band tournament has proved a great success. About 4000 people were on the grounds. There were eight bands competing in the second class, the result being: Taylor's Safe Works Band, Toronto, 1st; 2nd Batt., 2nd; Uxbridge, 3rd; Brampton, 4th. There is a protest against Taylor's band, it being alleged they had several players who are not bona fide members of their band.

The races have been a complete success. In the 3-minute trot there were seven entries. The result was as follows:

Brown Charlie	3	1	1	1
Emie D.	1	2	3	2
Billy Owens	2	4	4	3
Minnie	4	3	2	4
Rifleman, jr	5	5	5	5

Best time—2.31.

2.32 class:

F. O. P.	1	2	1	1
Mayflower	3	1	3	3
Dan O'Connell	2	3	2	2
Beechwood	4	4	dr

Best time—2.36.

The 2.40 and the free-for-all were not finished. In the first there are seven entries and four in the latter. Nina C has two heats in the 2.40 and Cyclone one in the free-for-all.

In the baseball contest Whitby beat Port Perry badly and won the cup, whilst Port Perry beat Oshawa 2 goals to 0 in the football match and won the cup.

Shelburne Defeats the Fergus Thistles.

SHELBURNE, June 6.—The first game for the Northwestern championship was played here to-day between the Thistles of Fergus and the Shelburnes of this place. The Shelburnes won, taking the first three games in 25, 2 and 12 minutes, the Thistles taking fourth and fifth in 20 and 20 minutes. The time expired after 16 minutes' play on the sixth game. The match throughout was hotly contested.

PROBABILITY OF A LIVELY TIME IN BEHRING SEA.

The Pacific Coast Defences—A License Commissioner Horsewhipped by a Hull Grocer Who Was Cut Off.

OTTAWA, June 6.—There will likely be a lively time in Behring Sea this season. Despite the denial of the report that British men-of-war will not recapture Canadian vessels seized by the American cutters, a gentleman in Victoria to an Ottawa friend says he puts no faith in the British denial. The Canadian sealers, he says, will go north as usual in a few days and if asked to heave to will resist seizure. If overpowered they will be retaken by British cruisers. The Canadian vessel owners entered Behring Sea last summer and were not molested, though frequently sighted by American cutters. They feel confident the American cutter will again keep out of their way this season.

Correspondence is still in progress between the British and Canadian Governments relative to the erection of the proposed defences on the Pacific Coast in British Columbia. The force to be stationed at Esquimalt and Vancouver will be maintained by the Canadian Government, though the armament, ammunition and submarine stores are to be supplied by the Imperial authorities. England has also agreed to provide seventy-five Royal marine artillery, including fifteen submarine divers. Part of the armament has already reached the Pacific Coast.

Yesterday at noon as Recorder Champagne, one of the License Commissioners of Hull, was walking down Victoria-street to his dinner Mr. Thompson, a grocer of the city who had been refused a license to sell liquor this year, ran after him and horsewhipped him. A warrant for the arrest of Thompson has been issued. He cannot be found.

It is rumored in militia circles that Lieut.-Col. Miller of the 8th Royal Rifles of Quebec has resigned the command of that battalion. Major Barstall is likely to succeed him.

Messrs. G. R. Pugsley, Senator McInnes and E. B. Osler, the chief promoters of the Regina and Long Lake Railway, were in the city yesterday. They say that the road will be proceeded with this season.

General Sir Fred Middleton will inspect the military camp at Niagara on June 13. He will afterwards inspect the Royal Military College at Kingston and "A" Battery of Artillery.

Messrs. Fred. Cook, president of the Canadian Shorthand Writers' Association, and Secretary J. L. Payne waited on the Minister of Customs to-day and urged the granting of the application of the Canadian Shorthand Society of Toronto for the free admission of a bust of Isaac Pittman, the inventor of phonography. It is proposed to place the bust in the theatre of the Education Department at Toronto. Mr. Bowell said he would have pleasure in recommending his colleagues to grant the request.

ROBBED BY FOOTPADS.

Two Hamiltonians Victimized at Midnight—The Stony Creek Celebration.

HAMILTON, June 6.—George Myers, a laborer, and John Bradley were arrested early this morning by Constables Cruickshank and Cameron on a charge of assault and robbery. The complainant, Robert Stonehouse, informed the police that at about midnight, as he was walking in Merrick-street, two men jumped out of an alleyway near James-street and overpowered him, one of them holding him while the other robbed him of $1.20 and a necktie and scarf pin. When Myers and Bradley were arrested Stonehouse said they were the men who had robbed him. The defendants were brought up before the Police Magistrate this morning and remanded until to-morrow.

Wm Mapham, No. 100 Caroline-street, was in the vicinity of where the robbery took place. When the arrests were made a crowd collected and some one in the crowd snatched Mapham's silver watch, a Geneva open face, and ran off with it. Mapham reported the affair to the police and this afternoon Harry Headland, caretaker of the police station, found the watch in his garden adjoining the police station. It was evidently thrown there by the thief, who must have followed the officers who arrested Myers and Bradley to the station.

At the celebration of the anniversary of the Battle of Stony Creek by the Wentworth Pioneer and Historical Society yesterday this resolution moved by Judge Jones, seconded by Sheriff McKellar, was unanimously adopted: "That this meeting urge the importance of forming Pioneer and Historical Societies throughout the Dominion, as a valuable and influential agency for the collection and preservation of the necessary materials for reliable histories of our country, and as an indication of the loyalty of the Canadian people to their country and their attachment to British laws and institutions."

Ald. Richard Williamson has sold his vessel, the schooner St. Louis, to Mr. J. A. Corby of Windsor. The price was $7000.

J. W. H. Wilson of Winnipeg has been appointed District Registrar of Portage under the Torrens system.

CONGREGATIONAL COUNCIL.

Second Day's Proceedings of the Union in Session at Brantford.

BRANTFORD, June 6.—The morning sitting of the Congregational Union of Ontario and Quebec was taken up with reports from the Home Mission Committee. The report of Rev. S. N. Jackson, the treasurer, showed an expenditure for the year of $12,497, making a deficit of $2619.

The report of the secretary, Rev. J. Wood, showed that churches have been established in British Columbia, Portage la Prairie and Brandon, with good prospects before them. Fifty-six missionaries have been engaged during the year. Most of the churches are supplied with pastors and six churches have been self-sustaining.

The afternoon was taken up with reports from the Foreign Mission Society, which show that the work is progressing favorably and that there is a balance of cash on hand.

Arrested for Robbery.

GUELPH, June 6.—Acting on information furnished by Mr. David Shaw, from near Rockwood, who was so brutally assaulted by two young men in the York-road some days ago the police last night located and arrested Albert Ginter and John Hunt as the parties who were guilty of the assault and attempt to rob, as the charge will be. This morning both the young men were picked out of a group of prisoners by Mr. Shaw and the boy who was with him, and they will be sent down to Rockwood to be tried before Squire Strange, as the assault was committed outside Magistrate Saunders' usual jurisdiction.

A TORONTO CONTRACT.

A QUESTION in Toronto now is whether a large contract for a supply of steel plate pipes, required by the waterworks department, will be given to the Central Bridge Works, of Peterborough, or to S. Warden, of Syracuse. Mr. Law's tender was the lowest of any Canadian firm, but was $532 higher than that of the Syracuse manufacturer. "Why," asks Mr. Law, "should we send $100,000 to a foreign country in order to effect so very small a saving in so large a contract?" This is a quite natural question. In a contract representing $100,000 or $120,000 the sum of $532 is certainly a comparatively very small amount, and should not be sufficient to warrant the people of Toronto in sending the work out of the country. In fact, in a contract involving such a large sum, the tenders might be considered equal, so small is the difference.

In an interview with the Telegram Ald. Boustead, of that city, favored giving the contract to the United States firm. He believed that if that was done the pipes would be manufactured in Toronto. Even if that were the case, and Mr. Warden brought over machinery and tools for that purpose, there is no pretence that he would establish a permanent industry in the country. He would bring his machinery, and very probably his men also, in from the United States, and when the work was completed would take them back again. On the other hand Mr. Law's establishment is an industry located permanently in the country, and, even looking at the matter from no broader point of view, the Toronto Council must know that the success of industries in the towns of Ontario is of benefit to a large business and distributing centre like Toronto. But Ald. Boustead is not sure that the American tenderer would do the work in Toronto, for he says:—"If the American firm do not do this they must pay 20 per cent. duty on their pipes in bringing them into Canada." That is true, but the Canadian firms have not, as the Alderman says, "the benefit of a 20 per cent. duty." They have to pay duty on the steel they import to manufacture the pipes, while the American manufacturer, even if he does import the raw material, would not have to pay duty upon it, as he would export it from the United States again in the manufactured state. We are informed, also, that the United States Government does even more than that for its manufacturers, and that it affords them facilities for doing work in Canada by relieving them of expense that would otherwise incur, through the operation of the tariffs, in bringing their machinery and tools into Canada, to do their work, when they are taken back again to the States.

But Ald. Boustead also says that in any case they cannot go aside from the principle of giving contracts to the lowest tenderers. That is a very good principle, but it is not always deemed wise to adhere to it strictly. In a recent case in Toronto this same Peterborough firm had an experience with that principle. Mr. Law tendered for a bridge contract, but although his tender was about $2,000 lower than that of a Toronto firm the city firm's tender was recommended for acceptance. It was then said that the difference was so small that the home firm should be preferred. Now if $2,000 is a small difference in a $27,000 contract, surely $500 is not a large sum in a $100,000 contract.

We cannot believe that Toronto City Council will give this contract to a foreign manufacturer under the circumstances.

Since writing the foregoing, we learn from the Toronto papers that the report of the Waterworks Committee was referred back for further consideration.

APSLEY AFFAIRS.

Correspondence of the Review.

COURT OF REVISION.—The Council of the united townships met on Wednesday, May 29th, and on motion of Mr. W. H. Hales seconded by Mr. Langford, constituted the Court of Revision. All the members were present. Appeals for over assessment were heard from:—T. Nesbitt, assessment confirmed; F. J. Tate, reduced from $100 to $80; J. Dinwoodie, reduced from $100 to $80; J. Crickmore, reduced from $800 to $100; Robert Graham, assessment confirmed; P. Maloney, assessment confirmed; the appeal of Alex. Anderson to be placed on the roll for lot 15, con. 13, Burleigh, was allowed. On motion of Mr. W. Hales, seconded by Mr. Scott, the roll was adopted as revised.

PERSONAL.—Mr. M. Anderson, formerly of Lindsay, after a brief visit at his home here, left to take charge of a large dry goods business in Tilsonburg on Thursday of last week. His many friends wish him a continuance of the esteem in which he was held in Lindsay and elsewhere and of the marked success that has attended his mercantile career thus far.... Mrs. MacMurchy and Miss Meta Galion, nieces of our respected townsman Mr. W. Galion, have braved the imaginary terrors of a ride over Burleigh road to spend a long vacation with us.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

FRACTURED SKULLS.

A Chapter of Accidents in the Limestone City Yesterday.

KINGSTON, June 6.—David Thompson was struck by the tender of a Grand Trunk engine this morning and had his skull fractured. His recovery is not probable. He is 65 years old and very deaf.

James Duncan, laborer, working on the schooner Valencia loading railroad iron at Portsmouth for Windsor, got his right hand terribly smashed yesterday. He will be laid up for some time.

About 1.30 this morning an accident occurred on the barge Condor, lying at the M. T. Co.'s wharf. Moses King, Cornwall, fell through the hatch and fractured his skull. He may recover but it is doubtful.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Tobacco Jobbers Up in Arms—Ontario Medical Association Officers.

TORONTO, June 7.—The tobacco jobbers of the city are up in arms against the Inland Revenue Department not so much because of the seizures made three weeks ago of tobacco seized for not being sold in the original packages as required by the law, but more because of a general raid upon the shops in King, Yonge and Queen-streets. The tobacco is shipped from the factories in large caddies bearing the Inland Revenue stamp and for ten years the jobbers have been selling parts of caddies in two, three and four pound amounts made up by themselves. Since three weeks ago the department has lessened its severity by announcing that they did not propose to do anything to those who sold parts of a package, but if broken parts were found these would be seized. And so came about yesterday's raid. The jobbers claim that they can sell either by plug or caddy and feel highly indignant over the actions of eight men who made the seizures yesterday. In Michie's, 7 King-street, 65 pounds were confiscated, and in A. Wilson's, 62 King-street east, they took 5 pounds in plugs which had been thrown therein after the weighing out of tobacco in pound quantities.

The bakers' strike has pretty thoroughly collapsed, all the places having been filled by non-union men.

The third annual meeting of the Canada Congregational Women's Board of Missions began yesterday in Zion's Church, College-avenue, at 10 a.m. Thirty-one delegates answered the roll call. There are in connection with the board 55 societies with a membership of 1000. $1190 has been received during the year.

The steamer Passport left for Montreal at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon with a large number of passengers. The Spartan, which came up on Wednesday morning, was all ready to leave at 2 o'clock with a good number of passengers, including a bridal party. But her air valve burst, and as the boat could not leave her passengers had to disembark. When the Passport left yesterday she had in tow the Spartan, which she left at Queen's Wharf, where she will be repaired.

George Wallace was a cabinetmaker who lived at No. 13 Edward-street. On Queen's Birthday he was chopping wood, when the axe caught in a clothes line and struck his forehead, from the effects of which the man died yesterday.

James Kerrigan of the hardware firm of Risley & Kerrigan, surrendered himself yesterday morning to the police to answer to the charge of having on Dec. 29, 1888, unlawfully made out and passed through the Custom House at Toronto false invoices of goods. Mr. Kerrigan pleaded guilty to the indictment before the Police Magistrate and was fined $50 and costs or 30 days. The fine was paid.

The Ontario Medical Association closed its ninth annual meeting in the Normal School theatre yesterday with three sessions—morning, afternoon and evening. While not listening to the discussion within the members enjoyed themselves in the halls renewing old acquaintances and walking about the beautiful grounds. The visitors registered yesterday brought the total attendance up to 220 as compared with 195 last year. Many interesting papers were read and discussed. These were the officers elected:

President—Dr. J. Algernon Temple, Toronto.

Vice-Presidents—Dr. Lundy, Preston; G. M. Shaw, Hamilton; Dr. K. N. Fenwick, Kingston; Dr. J. Hanly, Waubaushene.

General Secretary—Dr. D. J. Gibb Wishart, Toronto.

Treasurer—Dr. E. J. Barrick, Toronto.

Assistant Secretary—Dr. W. P. Caven, Toronto.

OUR SUMMER CLOTHING BULLETIN.

Correct in style, Perfect in fit, Reliable in make and Right in price is the Clothing we offer you. Correct at the start and at the finish.

The requirements for each garment are—The material must be right, the cut of it right, the make of it right and, withal, the price must be right. Must be right at every stage of its construction, so that in the end 'twill be right. It requires no little attention, study and skill to keep to the track all the way through, but the result is recompense sufficient. Our prices and our goods both are right.

Correct in style—means more than fashionable in style, beautiful in style or sensible in style. It means all of 'em together. In such clothing as this you're neither "a guy," "a dude" or "a fellow of no style," but "A gentleman, sir, by his dress." Your garments are not "loud" enough to attract attention, but they're good enough to stand inspection, stylish enough to be "toney" and graceful enough to be beautiful.

As we've already said, our prices are right, so are our goods. And so, we think, is our way of selling 'em, since it allows the greater number to buy 'em. Do you want clothes? Then come to us.

'A Spring Message'

From the New Frm of

H. LeBRUN & CO.

Sign of the Golden Horse-shoe.

The people of Peterborough and vicinity are all aware of the business change which took place in the CITY CLOTHING STORE on the first day of February last. The new firm beg leave to make their first bow to the public through the columns of the REVIEW, and to request a careful perusal of the following Spring and Summer circular:—

The City Clothing Store

in past years, by long experience in business, by buying always for spot cash, importing direct from the principal houses of the old country and from the leading houses of Canada, and by strict economy in conducting its business, has always been able to force prices down to an exceedingly fine point. The members of which the new firm is composed will form a still stronger "combine," by which the CITY CLOTHING STORE will be even better prepared to procure for its customers a continuation of those superior inducements in the future for which it has been noted in the past.

Men's Clothing.

The magnitude of our stock and lowness of prices gives us a great advantage over all other competitors in the trade. We carry in stock all the fast selling lines, styles and patterns, and can fit the tall, the short, the fat and the lean. MORE SUITS, BETTER FABRICS, FINER STYLES than were ever handled before.

Special values in FINE SPRING OVERCOATS, and FINE SPRING and SUMMER SUITS. Don't fail to see them. The superb styles, workmanship, and the beautiful fabrics and patterns that we offer will surprise you.

Merchant Tailoring.

"For the apparel oft proclaims the man."

Fine dressers in search of new, neat and nobby OVERCOATINGS, SUITINGS or TROUSERINGS will find this department crowded to overflowing with cloth from all countries. To select from the largest assortment is an advantage we offer to our customers, backed up by the skill of experienced cutters and tailors. Besides perfect fit and first-class trimmings, we guarantee absolutely first-class workmanship.

Boys' and Youths' Clothing.

Clothing for the little ones—boys and children—has always been a specialty with us. We have always sought to give great values in this department, and to provide a larger and finer variety of goods for parents to select from than they could find elsewhere.

This means that we are showing a large assortment of BOYS' and CHILDREN'S SUITS, BOYS' and CHILDREN'S BLOUSES, SHIRT WAISTS, PANTS, &c.

This spring there are an unusual number of new and nobby styles and an enlarged variety of fabrics and patterns. Be sure and see our stock.

Gents' Furnishings.

Gentlemen of Peterborough seeking the latest styles and best values for their money, as well as an opportunity of selecting from the largest stock of Furnishing Goods, should not fail to visit this department at once. We offer the finest, best selected and the largest assortment of NECKWEAR, HOISERY, UNDERWEAR, GLOVES, SHIRTS, HANDKERCHIEFS, etc., to be found in any first-class establishment.

GRAND SUCCESS!

Our Great ONE HOUR SALE a Tremendous Success.

WE PROPOSE TO CONTINUE THE SALE

ON SATURDAY NEXT,

AT THE HOURS MENTIONED BELOW:

GREAT ONE HOUR SALE
AT THE WIGWAM.

The only trouble we had was that many of our customers who came to buy had to wait for some time as others were ahead of them. We regret that the time for closing the sale arrived before they got waited on, and as we do just as we advertise the sale closed just to the minute as announced.

For the benefit of those who were so unfortunate in not being able to secure some of the bargains that were given away last Saturday, we continue the Sale on Saturday.

HERE'S A CHANCE!

On SATURDAY, between 11 and 12 o'clock, for one hour, we will sell any Pair of Pants in the Store for $1.99. Some of them are worth $4.50 and $5.50. We will also sell, between the hours of 2 and 3 o'clock

A LINE OF TWEED SUITS

worth $8.50 for $4.25, and a Fine Line of FANCY WORSTED SUITS for men, all sizes, selling price $15.00, $7.50, just half price. Now if you want a bargain, don't fail to call as close to 11 or 2 o'clock as possible, as we expect a big rush. The sale of Pants closes sharp at 12 o'clock, and the sale of Suits, at the above prices, closes at 3 o'clock to the minute. The above Sales will be repeated between 8 and 9 p.m. for the benefit of the workingmen. We will also sell the following during the day:

MEN'S FINE SPRING SUITS at $2.89	- - -	worth $6.50
BOY'S FINE TWEED SUITS at $1.12½	- - - -	worth $2.25
Heavy Canadian Tweed Pants, in all sizes, 98c.	-	worth $2.00

Mr. Balch's Canadian Contracts.

A Concord, N.H., correspondent of the Boston Traveller, writing of the late Adna P. Balch, the great railroad contractor, who died recently at his home in Hanover, N.H. says:—"About 1852 he turned his attention to Upper Canada, building, in partnership with E. T. Jewett, of Montpelier, Vt., now living, S. Humphrey, and Saml. Zimmerman, the Great Western railroad from Niagara to Hamilton, a distance of 44 miles. This contract was a heavy one, and work was continued day and night for 11 months. At the same time he had large contracts on the Cobourg and Peterborough, the Erie and Ontario, Woodstock and Erie, and other railroads. About this time Mr. Balch's health became impaired by the constant work, and after a long illness he recovered and spent six months in Europe. On his return he contracted for the building of a branch on the Great Western railroad, a distance of 35 miles, but subsequently disposed of the contract to Mr. Zimmerman, which closed his railroad business in Canada."

A CONGREGATION PROSPERING.

The Mark-st. Church Greatly Improved Within—A Liberal Response.

The modest little edifice which stands on Mark-st., Ashburnham, in which from Sunday to Sunday gather the Methodists of the village to join in divine worship and listen to the expounding of the Sacred Word by their beloved pastor, Rev. A. C. Wilson, has recently undergone some changes which have greatly improved the interior, both in appearance and otherwise. The congregation itself has been flourishing also, for since the present pastor came to preside over it, there has been an increase of fifty-seven to the membership, and are only the beginning of more extensive changes which will be made and are now the subject of consideration. The first change that has been made is noticed immediately upon entering the church, as now when the visitor enters he can view the entire congregation, the high partition which ran across the back of the centre pews having been lowered a couple of feet. Then a glance towards the east end of the building reveals the other changes that have been wrought. The old-fashioned pulpit has been removed and against the wall where it stood a neat choir and organ loft has been erected, so that instead of being seated at the side of the preacher on a level with the congregation, the choir now occupies a raised position facing the congregation, which most undoubtedly adds greatly to the sound of the singing as well as allowing the tones of the organ to be heard to better advantage. In front of the choir a low platform has been raised which is surrounded by a low hand-railing, within which is the sacred desk of the pastor. This platform, as well as the choir loft, has been nicely carpeted and look remarkably well. Before next Sabbath it is expected that three handsome upholstered chairs will grace this platform, the largest of which will be for the minister. This arrangement of the choir and minister is a most decided improvement and the neat manner in which the work has been done has made the rather dull interior of the church brighter and more attractive, as well as being more modern. The walls of the church are going to be decorated, and possibly the seats may be upholstered. If this is done the Mark-st. Church will be as pretty and snug a place of worship as could be desired. A pleasing feature in connection with the improvements is that they have been made without adding a cent to the church debt, as last Sunday a special collection was taken up for the purpose of meeting the expense of the work and so liberally did the congregation respond that some fifty dollars was raised over and above the cost of the improvements.

The Parents Still Unknown.

No clue has been found as yet which would lead to the discovery of the parents of the infant child which was found in the basket in front of the door of St. Peter's Cathedral yesterday morning, and in the meantime the child is being cared for by a woman named Archambault.

The First of the Season.

The garden party held under the auspices of the ladies of the "Y" on the lawn of Councillor Winch last evening was very successful as well as enjoyable. The grounds were illuminated and the Y.M.C.A. band was present and discoursed several appreciated selections during the evening. Inside the house some instrumental music was also enjoyed by those present, and withal, the evening was an exceedingly pleasant one.

The Bible readings of Miss Gordon have daily grown in interest, power and numbers. To-night will be the closing meeting and the directors of the Association have resolved to take up a thank offering unto the Lord for His mercy and love in sending such a talented servant to expound His Word to us, which will be given to Miss Gordon. We are assured our people will give a liberal offering on this occasion. —Com.

All Aboard for Toronto.

The members of St. Andrew's Society are working hard to make their excursion on the 20th a grand success and have placed the tickets to Toronto and return at the lowest possible figure, viz. $2.00. They will travel by the C.P.R. and have the privilege of leaving Peterborough by any regular train on Thursday and returning by any regular train on that or the following day. Arrangements have been made for plenty of cars so that there will be room for everybody. Come everybody.

Yesterday afternoon the regular monthly rifle match of the local rifle association took place at the ranges. There was a regular gale blowing during the afternoon which will in a great measure account for the scores not being as high as might be expected. In Oshawa.

The Oshawa Vindicator says:—"The organ recital last evening in the Simcoe-st. Methodist Church was well attended and the whole entertainment was of a high order. Mr. Will H. Dingle is complete master of the organ and his selections gave great pleasure to all present. His overture to "William Tell" was the piece of the evening. The singing of Miss Bambridge "Judith" was beautifully rendered, while Miss Hattie Dingle's solo, "The Garden of Prayer," was sung with a power and perfection that few gave her credit of possessing, and Mr. O. E. Dingle sang in his usual good form. The first chorus was also a good selection, Miss M. E. Lake ably taking the solo. Space forbids us giving the entertainment that notice it deserves, but Mr. Dingle's selections were all well chosen. His Barcarolle, Gavotte and Swedish Wedding March, together with Pleyel's Hymn were ably rendered. The latter probably pleased the audience most."

A HAPPY EVENT.

Mr. Harry Stephens and Miss Lizzie Hart Married—Remembered by the Church.

The REVIEW joins in good wishes to Mr. J. H. Stephenson, jr., and Miss E. Hart on the occasion of their wedding. The marriage ceremony was performed on Wednesday evening by Rev. S. J. Shorey in the presence of a large number of invited guests, Miss Maggie Stephens being bridesmaid and Mr. Wm. Hamilton best man. The happy couple, it is evidenced in an unmistakable manner, are favorites among the young people of the Charlotte-st. Church, and many others unite to wish them success in their journey through life in the future. A happy feature of the wedding was the receiving, among a host of other presents, a handsome epergne, presented by the choir and Sunday school of the church, accompanied by the following kind address:—

PETERBOROUGH, June 5, 1889.

Mr. J. H. Stephens and Miss E. Hart :—

We, the teachers, officers and scholars of Charlotte-st Methodist Sunday School, embrace this, the occasion of your marriage, to convey to you the high appreciation of the services you have rendered in connection with the Sunday School and Church. As teachers in the Sunday School, you have been very zealous and seldom absent from your positions in the class and your services in our councils have been very valuable. As leaders in Sacred Song, you have added much to the enjoyment of the public services and done much to promote the interests of the church. If there be any satisfaction in knowing that one's efforts in the cause of the Master have been highly valued by those you have been associated with, that satisfaction belongs to you. "The work is great and the labourers are few," and there is always something to do for hands that are ready to take it up.

> "And only work there is for God alone
> Hath an unceasing guerdon of delight,
> A guerdon unaffected by the sight
> Of great success, nor by its loss o'erthrown.
> All else is vanity beneath the sun.
> There may be joy when doing, but it fails
> when done."

As an expression of our good will and esteem for you, we ask you to accept this silver epergne, and as you look upon the inscription engraved on it, may it call back pleasant memories of the joyous hours spent in doing work for the Master.

We hope often to meet as teachers and friends, and when the work of life is over may we clasp hands on the other shore.

"The Lord bless thee and keep thee; the Lord make His face to shine upon thee; the Lord lift up His countenance upon thee and give thee peace."

Signed on behalf of Charlotte st. Methodist Sunday school:—O. C. Rowse, Superintendent; A. Tobb, assistant superintendent; A. Brundrette, P. Barrie, committee; Rev. S. J. Shorey, pastor.

Personal.

Mr. R. V. Winch, a nephew of Councillor Winch and a son of Mr. R. J. Winch, of Cobourg, has become the leading importer of meat and fruit in the city of Vancouver, B.C. From the News-Advertiser we learn that at a recent meeting of British Columbia fruit growers, Mr. Winch, by request, gave his views on the question of gathering and shipping fruit. His remarks were well received and led to an interesting discussion as to how the valuable suggestions he had made could be carried out. Mr. Winch made the statement that there is not half enough fruit produced in the Pacific Province for consumption. The dealers in Vancouver alone import from 700 boxes by every steamer, sailing once in five days. Mr. Winch procures nearly all his supplies in Cobourg. The other day his father shipped an order for 2,000 lbs. of ham and bacon, which were sold the same day they arrived in Vancouver.

"My daughter was greatly troubled with Scrofula, and at one time it was feared she would lose her sight. Ayer's Sarsaparilla has completely restored her health, and her eyes are as well as ever, with not a trace of scrofula in her system."—G. King, Killingly, Conn.

Racing on Bicycles and on Foot.

The local bicyclists are jubilant over the prospects for a good season's sport which seems to be theirs. More enthusiasm is manifested in the wheeling this season than ever before, and the meeting which was held in the new club rooms last evening has tended greatly to increase this enthusiasm. There was an unusually large turnout of wheelmen, and the arrangements for the first of the fortnightly meetings which are to be held during the season on the P. A. A. A. grounds were made. A good programme of races will be given every meet, the events for next Thursday night being a one mile green race, a one mile race, a two mile handicap and a two mile open race for the bicyclists, as well as a quarter mile running race and a hundred yards dash which will be open to local amateur runners. The bicycle races are open to members of the club, and it is expected there will be keen competitions. The prize in each event will be a handsome medal, which has to be won three times during the season before it becomes the property of the winner. There is little doubt but that these fortnightly meets will prove a great success.

Brevities.

—There was no Police Court this morning.

—The Court of Revision meets on Monday night next.

—The Farron "Help" Company are at the Central.

—The fortnightly regatta of the Ottonabee Canoe Club will have to be again postponed on account of the weather.

—The types of the Examiner and REVIEW will struggle for supremacy on the diamond at the P.A.A.A. grounds to-morrow afternoon at five o'clock.

—A new sidewalk is being laid on Charlotte-st., between George-st. and the bridge. Another new sidewalk is also being put down on Park-st between Gilmour and Elm-sts.

OBITUARY.

Died in Michigan.

The Bad Axe, Michigan, Tribune records the death of Mr. Henry Lawson, a former resident of Peterborough, who died at his residence in Bad Axe on May 27th. Mr. Lawson was born in Batavia, N. Y., on Dec. 12th, 1827, where he lived until his twenty-fifth year, when he removed to Oakland County, Michigan, where he was united in marriage to Miss Ellen Fisher, who now survives to mourn his loss. After their marriage they came to Peterborough, and Mr. Lawson engaged in the lumbering and manufacturing business and soon became prominently identified with both the business and social affairs of the town and was a highly esteemed citizen. He was successful in accumulating property, until a disastrous fire, which will be remembered by the older inhabitants, destroyed his place of business. In 1878 he returned to Michigan and settled in Colfax, just outside the limits of Bad Axe, where he prospered until again in 1881 fire laid waste his accumulations. With renewed energy they again built up and replaced their losses. Almost continually since he settled at Bad Axe Mr. Lawson held offices of trust in the community, supervisor, treasurer, justice of the peace and many others. Without doubt, the Tribune says, the misfortunes incident upon these fires contributed largely to hastening his departure. Ever since 1881 he was subject to fits of sickness, and he succumbed to a combination of ailments of the heard, bowels and lungs. Mr. Lawson was strictly honest and honorable, with good business qualities, and was highly respected. He was for years an active Mason and was buried under the directions of that Order, every lodge in the district being represented at his funeral.

The Late Geo. V. Walker.

Expressions of sorrow were on the lips of every one last evening when the sad intelligence became known that Mr. Geo. Walker had passed over to the great majority. To many the sad news was unexpected, but yesterday it was known by his family and the friends who were attending him that the end was near. The deceased gentleman was a victim of diabetis, a disease which, when once it asserts itself is as fatal as, but more rapid than, consumption. Although this disease has probably been gradually taking hold of his whole system, yet his death came suddenly upon his friends with whom he was mingling in his usual spirits up to this week. No later than Monday morning last the deceased gentleman, who, as is well known, was head of the tailoring department in the establishment of Messrs. Hall, Innes & Co., came down to the store and paid his hands as usual, but was not feeling well, and in the afternoon he was still worse and was not at the store. Monday night the symptoms of the disease increased and have continued to do so until last evening when he passed quietly away, having laid in a half comatose state for the last few days, experiencing no pain. For the last year or more the deceased had not been in the best of health, but never consulted a physician until a few weeks ago, and then it was not thought that death had fastened itself upon him. The deceased was a comparatively young man, being only 38 years of age. He came to Peterborough to the firm with whom he was employed until his death about six years ago, and since his residence here has, by his pleasant, genial and courteous manner, made a friend of everyone with whom he came in contact. His home was in Stratford. He leaves a wife and three children to mourn his loss, who will receive the sympathy of many friends in their sudden and sad bereavement. The deceased was a member of the Masonic Order, under whose auspices the funeral will be held on Sunday afternoon next.

There is comfort for the man with a prematurely gray beard in Buckingham's Dye, because it never fails to color an even brown or black as may be desired.

FRIDAY, JUNE 7, 1889.

PRETTY SISTER OF JOSE.

By FRANCES HODGSON BURNETT.

Author of "Little Lord Fauntleroy," "That Lass O'Lowries," &c., &c.

"Why did he not throw it to Jovita?" she said, and with a cruel, careless little movement, she swept the devisa from her knee; it fell, and she set her foot upon it.

"She has trodden upon it," said old Jovita. "She has done it for pride, and to show herself above others. She is ready for the devil. Someone should beat her."

"It was the devisa," grasped Jose. "Sebastiano."

Pepita left her seat. It seemed as if something strange must have happened to her. The crimson had leaped to her cheeks, and her eyes were ablaze.

"What is it to me, his devisa?" she said. "I do not want it. I will not have it. Let him throw a thousand, and I will tread upon them all, one after the other. Let it lie in the dirt. Let him give it to those others—those women who want it—and him." She would go home at once; not to the pleasure gardens, not anywhere but back to the cottage, and Jose followed her meekly, struck dumb. He had seen her wilful, capricious, childishly passionate, a little hard to understand, many times before, but never like this. What had occurred to her? What had Sebastiano done? Jovita had picked up the knot of gay ribbon and brushed the dust off it, and carried it home with his, grumbling fiercely. She was never averse to grumbling a little, and here the Saints knew was cause.

"For pride," she kept repeating; "for pride and to show that others are beneath her! Mother of God! the King himself is not good enough for her. Let him come and pray upon his knees that she will set to the palace and wear a crown, and he will see what she will say! It is those fools of men who spoil her, as if there had never been a pretty face before. Let them treat her as she treats them and she will be humble enough. She was always one of the devil's children, with her pride!"

But Pepita, who heard it all, said nothing, though once or twice she gave her little mocking laugh.

CHAPTER III

By the time Pepita had reached home her mood had changed—her anger was gone, or at least the signs of it were. She sang as she prepared the supper, and chatted gaily with Jose. It appeared that after all she had enjoyed the bull fight; it had even been better than the others, she had had great pleasure. She made delightful little jests about everything; she recounted the names of the people she had seen and known; she described to him the dresses of the girls; the airs and graces of the men. She laughed and obliged Jose to laugh also, and all the time she looked so pretty, with the queen light in her eyes, the gleam of her little wicked, white teeth, and the brilliant spot of color on her cheeks, that she was enough to turn one's head.

The moon was at its brightest that night. All the earth was bathed in pure, magic whiteness—the whiteness which somehow seems to bring perfume and stillness and mysterious tenderness with it. Such a night! One breathed roses and orange blossom and jasmine. Pepita sat under the roses and talked, and Jose smoked and was happy, but still in a state of bewilderment, though the stillness and beauty of the night soothed him, and made him content to ruminate without words.

Jovita fell asleep. She always fell asleep out of doors on the warm summer nights, and indoors by the fire when it was winter. Pepita ceased to talk, and sang one little song another; then she even ceased to sing, and only touched her guitar softly here and there. After a while Jose, who had stretched himself upon a bench, fell asleep also.

SCHWATKA'S FIND.

Cliff and Cave Dwellers in Southern Chihuahua—A Peculiar People.

DEMING, N. M., June 6.—Lieut. Schwatka arrived here to-day. His party has been very successful in its exploration, especially in Southern Chihuahua. There living cliff and cave dwellers were found in great abundance. Their abodes are similar to the abandoned cliff dwellings of Arizona and New Mexico. It was almost impossible to get near them, so wild and timid were they. The cliff dwellers are sun worshippers. They throw their new born children out in the full rays of the sun. They are usually tall, lean and well formed. Their color is a blackish red, nearer that of the negro than that of the Indian. Schwatka thinks his investigation will be of immense anthropological and archaeological value. He estimates the cave and cliff dwellers number from 3000 to 12,000. They are armed only with bows, arrows and stone hatchets.

BAY OF QUINTE CONFERENCE.

The Big Log Jam Near Belleville Broken—130,000 Logs in the Bay.

BELLEVILLE, June 6.—The annual session of the Bay of Quinte Conference of the Methodist Church was opened this morning. Considerable time was occupied in the reception of the delegates, after which the election of officers took place. The candidates for the presidency were Rev. Drs. Burwash and Williams. The former was elected. Rev. Wm. Johnston was elected secretary.

Shortly after noon to-day the 130,000 logs which were piled up in the river from the Caniffton bridge to the distillery at Corbyville broke loose and were carried down the river in a solid mass at great speed. The timber went out into the bay. The expense to the lumbermen will be great.

Thirteen factories boarded 1140 boxes of cheese to-day; sales 280 boxes colored at 8 7-8c.

THE JESUITS' ACT.

Big Mass Meeting at St. Catharines—Col. O'Brien and Others Talk.

ST. CATHARINES, June 6.—The Opera House was filled to-night to hear the speeches by Col. O'Brien and others on the Jesuits Estates Act. Amongst those on the platform were noticed: Dr. Comfort, Rev. Messrs. Burson, Bland, Ratcliffe, Armitage, Ald. McGeachie, Mr. Thomas Keyes and others. The best of order prevailed and many ladies were present. The usual resolutions were passed.

Fatal Accident at Norwich, Ont.

NORWICH, June 6.—While Mr. Ebet Waggoner of this town was out on his farm about eight miles from here to-day shingling his barn, the scaffold gave way and he with three other men fell to the ground. Mr. Waggoner only lived about an hour. The others were more or less injured but not seriously.

"If a woman is pretty,
To me 'tis no matter,
Be she blonde or brunette,
So she lets me look at her."

An unhealthy woman is rarely, if ever beautiful. The peculiar diseases to which so many of the sex are subject, are prolific causes of pale sallow faces, blotched with unsightly pimples, dull, lustreless eyes and emaciated forms. Women so afflicted, can be permanently cured by using Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription; and with the restoration of health comes that beauty which, combined with good qualities of head and heart, makes women angels of loveliness.

WARRANTED. "Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. It is a positive specific for all those painful disorders, irregularities and weaknesses with which so many women are afflicted.

Having just received a lot of fine Untrimmed Hats at a clearing price, we are in a position to give great Bargains in Millinery. 170 new styles to select from, no two alike. See one of our windows, your choice for seventy-five cents.

If you have not looked closely you have no clear notion how more than commonly good our $15, $16 and $18 Suits for men are. Linings and Trimmings excellent, sewing and finishing perfect. Men who are shrewd judges and hard to please pronounce our tailoring as near perfection as possible in a fit. While we were writing a shipment of Boys' Clothing has arrived to fill up the gaps in that department; they are good goods and the patterns are excellent. Mothers call and see them.

Opened out a fresh lot of Muslin Skirting Embroideries, full width from 50c. to $1.25 a yard. Also a lot of White Lawns from 10 to 12½c. a yard. These goods should and are going out fast.

We can now show you a Linen Huck Towel, 20x40 inches, full of substance and in every way worth 20c., the price is 15c. Good Barnsley Crashes at 10 to 12½c. a yard. We do towels and towellings right as we import them direct from where they are made.

Several fresh lines of Children's Hosiery just put in stock. Space won't allow us to enumerate them. We have everything desirable in ribbed and plain; low and better grades.

Our Parasol Stock is large and varied. We aim at keeping everything called for and do not allow ourselves to be undersold.

Heavy sales in the Dress Goods Department has left us a lot of Good Remnants which we are clearing out at remnant prices. Remnants of Prints, Tweeds, &c., laid out and sold at great reductions.

CONFERRING OF DEGREES.

ON PREMIERS, JUDGES AND ALL KINDS OF STUDENTS.

Vice-Chancellor Mulock of Toronto University Answers the Charges of Principal Grant in a Vigorous Speech.

TORONTO, June 8.—Yesterday was a red letter day in the history of Toronto University. It witnessed the conferring of no less than 185 degrees: 8 honorary LL.D.'s, 5 M.D.'s, 9 M.A.'s, 1 C.E., 25 D.D.S.'s (Dental Science), 12 LL.B.'s, 26 M.B.'s, 74 B.A.'s, 6 B.S.A.'s (Agriculture), 9 M.D.'s ad eundem gradum, a much greater number than on any previous occasion. It was the first time an honorary degree was conferred by Toronto, and those on whom they were bestowed were certainly worthy of the mark. The new "Doctors" are Sir John A. Macdonald, Hon. Edward Blake, Hon. John Alexander Boyd, Hon. Oliver Mowat, Hon. William Ralph Meredith, William T. Aikins, M.D., Rev. John Campbell and John Hoskin, Q.C. All except Mr. Blake were present to receive their degrees and made felicitous speeches.

When the degrees had been conferred Mr. Mulock delivered the customary address of the presiding officer. After some preliminary remarks referring to the progress of the University during the year Mr. Mulock replied at length to the statement made by Principal Grant on Feb. 15 before the council of Queen's that the matriculation examinations in Ontario and Quebec were not equal to the standard in England, Australia or the best universities in the States, that Queen's had for years done everything in its power to bring about a remedy, that Toronto University was the obstacle to progress, that Queen's had been obliged to lower the standard of its matriculation examination in order to be level with that of Toronto, and the great remedy for all this was common action on the part of the different universities whereby they would combine on thinking out, preparing and conducting a common matriculation examination which system might be extended whereby examinations down to the end of the second year might be conducted by the combined action of the universities.

The speaker held that this was simply a proposition to place under denominational control at once a large portion of the public school system of Ontario, with the prospect of extending that control until the whole system shall have passed beyond the reach of the people's responsible representatives and become an element of discord among our people to the destruction of the whole system.

Mr. Mulock said that Principal Grant himself on May 27 abandoned this scheme in favor of one proposing a leaving or final examination for the High Schools and Collegiate Institutes, those passing such examinations being entitled to register as undergraduates in the universities. The speaker said that far from Toronto University opposing the adoption of a general scheme founded on sound principles it would heartily co-operate in order to the attainment of so desirable a result.

Returning to the charges against the matriculation requirements Mr. Mulock detailed the steps taken by the Senate in preparing the curriculum, showing that in response to circular invitations for suggestions or objections sent to every headmaster not one single master complained of the lowness of the standard, and that the only real objections from any master were not that the proposed standard was too low but that it was too high, one headmaster, Dr. Knight of the Kingston Collegiate Institute, in very strong language protesting against the proposed advanced character of the classical work.

Earthquakes on Two Continents.

PARIS, June 7.—A violent shock of earthquake occurred to-day at Brest.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., June 7.—A distinct shock of earthquake was felt in this city at 10.25 this forenoon, the wave being from west to east.

FALL RIVER, June 7.—An earthquake was felt here to-day. The direction was from west to east.

The Strikes.

LONDON, June 7.—The striking steamship firemen and laborers at Liverpool have submitted. The strike of the steamship hands at Dublin and Glasgow is extending.

WEIRD PICTURES OF WOE

DOLEFUL CONDITION OF DEVASTATED JOHNSTOWN.

Pneumonia, Typhoid Fever and Measles Among the Refugees—A Village That Was Swept Out of Existence.

JOHNSTOWN, June 7.—The Associated Press representative walked through one of Miss Hinckley's nurseries to-day and found a score of little ones playing and laughing, oblivious of the cruel blow that had been dealt them. In one group nine children of the same family were seen, the eldest not over 15 years. They were Germans and both father and mother had found a watery grave, while the nine little waifs had camped in the floating debris of their humble cottage.

Col. Scott said to-day the probabilities are there will be a great many bodies discovered under the rubbish that covers the streets. He added: "We propose to continue this work of searching the wreck until the miasma becomes so strong as to defy science and then we may well stop. I do not believe, however, that that time will ever come. The greatest consideration is being given to this matter of the recovery of the dead and treatment of the bodies after discovery. I think an impression has gone abroad that the dead are being handled here very much as one would handle cordwood, but that is a great mistake. As soon as possible after discovery they are borne from the public gaze and taken to the morgue, where only persons who have relatives are admitted. Only the hardiest can enter the morgue now, so overwhelming is the stench. The undertakers even after hurriedly performing their task of washing a body and preparing it for burial retreat to the yard to await the arrival of the next ghastly find.

Two additional cases of typhoid fever are reported from Minersdale, making seven in that village since yesterday morning. Measles are also becoming prevalent on Prospect Hill at the refugees' camp.

The indications are that only one of the inhabitants of Woodvale was saved.

5000 men have been at work all day clearing out the debris. Fires are burning up and down the valley of the Conemaugh as far as the eye can reach. The air is thick with smoke. The army of workers, however, have scarcely begun their tasks. The most careful estimates are that it will take 10,000 men four weeks to clear out the heaps of ruin. Eighty-six men are scattering disinfectants over the wreckage that the bridge stopped and it is believed that thousands of bodies will yet be found in that territory.

A staff physician said to-night: "Prospect Hill is full of pneumonia with some diphtheria and measles, the hospital is full to overflowing, and to-day I attended forty-two cases on the outside. They were almost all severe pneumonia. There is every condition needed for the spread of the disease and I fear an epidemic." Another doctor reported several cases of pneumonia on the hill near Morrellville.

A row of human feet was noticed sticking out of the sand near Kernville. The bodies of two men and one girl, all in a good state of preservation, were unearthed. The body of Rev. A. P. Diller, rector of the Johnstown Episcopal Church, another of his wife and child were recovered to-day. Clasped in one rigid arm was the body of the rector's babe and in the other his wife, whose arms were about his neck. They were removed in this position and will be so buried to-morrow.

Reports received show that between seventy and eighty lives were lost between Woodvale and the hamlet of South Fork.

A. M. Wellington and A. F. Burt, associate editors of The Evening News of New York, examined the dam whose breaking caused the great disaster. Mr. Wellington states that the dam was of very inferior construction and wholly unwarranted by good engineering practices of 30 years ago. Both the original and reconstructed dams were of earth only, with no heart wall, but only riprapped on the slopes.

Many Lives Lost in Centre County.

BELLEFONTE, Pa., June 7.—The flood played terrible havoc in Centre County. The entire bottom land with all the spring crops for 200 miles in the lower end of the valley was destroyed. All bridges from Milesburg to Lock Haven are washed away and nearly all small buildings in the line of the flood succumbed. The damage in the Bald Eagle Valley amounts to $730,000. In Penn's Valley there was loss of life. At Millheim and Coburn several houses were carried away with the people in them. All escaped except Mrs. Simon Phoust and three children. Their house was overturned and all were drowned. Mr. Phoust worked in Cameron County and started to come home but was drowned in crossing the river. The damage in this part of the county will amount to nearly $750,000.

Some poor people lost not only their houses and contents but also lost their lots, nothing being left but a creek bottom of rocks and debris. The greatest loss of life occurred on Fishing Creek in the Nittany valley. A large dam at Washington furnace at the head of the valley broke in the night and filled the valley from mountain to mountain, sweeping everything before it. The flood left only a few houses in what were prosperous villages of from 20 to 30 houses each. Many families were saved by getting on the roofs and floating to the end of the valley.

The following is the death list so far as known: At Mackeyville 15, at Salona 12. There was a great amount of damage done in the western part of the county but no lives were lost. The damage in the county will be between two and three millions.

Another Sportsman's Paradise.

ROCHESTER, June 7.—A special to The Herald from Olean says: The largest artificial body of water in the United States is situated 782 feet above Olean. It is said to be liable to give way at any moment. It was formerly used to feed the old Genesee Valley Canal, but it is now merely a sportsman's paradise. It is condemned by public sentiment and the State Superintendent of Canals and also by people residing in Cuba, Hinsdale, Olean and Allegany. In fact the whole Genesee Valley has protested against the maintenance of the reservoir as it is a public menace to the people and is liable to sweep them into sheol, as did the Johnstown reservoir, at any time.

Trains Again Running.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 7.—The Pennsylvania railroad announces the resumption of the running of through passenger trains from New York via Philadelphia, Harrisburg, Lockhaven and the Allegheny Valley railroad to Pittsburg.

Cork's Vote.

CORK, June 7.—The Municipal Council here has adopted a resolution expressing sympathy with the sufferers by floods in Pennsylvania.

They Carved Bishop Too Soon.

NEW YORK, June 7.—In the matter of the death of Washington Irving Bishop, the mind-reader, it is understood that the grand jury has found an indictment against the physicians who performed the autopsy. The district attorney declines either to deny or confirm the report.

NO CONCLUSIVE EVIDENCE.

Close of the Inquest Into the Death of the Girl Katie Dunbar.

TORONTO, June 7.—The inquest into the death of Katie Dunbar was continued last night in the City Morgue by Coroner Powell. It opened at 8 o'clock and lasted until far after midnight. Among the witnesses were Drs. Pollard and Wilberforce Aikins and Alfred Charles Nixon, the prisoner whose name had been mentioned in connection with the case when it first received the attention of the police. He had gone off to Buffalo but was persuaded to return and give his evidence. County Crown Attorney Badgerow represented the Crown; Detective Alf Cuddy and Inspector [illegible] the police; and Mr. N. G. Bigelow Mrs. Wright, accused of complicity in the girl's death.

In opening the business Coroner Powell incidentally remarked that he had learned that some of the previous witnesses had been guilty of perjury, and he simply warned those who were still to be heard that perjury before a coroner's jury was just as great an offence as when committed before the Court of Assizes. Alfred C. Nixon was the first to testify. He knew the deceased as a boarder at Mrs. Liddiman's, but knew nothing about the cause of her death until the doctor had been called in. He was separated from his wife and had known Mrs. Liddiman for two years, living with her at various periods in that time. He was acquainted with Mrs. Craig for four years. He had gone to Buffalo after the girl had died, as he had been informed by Mrs. Liddiman that a warrant for his arrest had been sworn out.

The County Crown Attorney asked that the bottle of medicine found in the deceased's room be produced. The coroner had it not, but produced instead a report from Dr. Ellis, the public analyst, stating that he had analyzed the contents and found them harmless.

Mr. Badgerow did not seem pleased with this, and hinted pretty strongly that the jury was being trifled with.

Dr. Wilberforce Aikins followed and gave the report of the post mortem. It was positive to the effect that a criminal miscarriage had taken place. The direct cause of death was pulmonary hemorrhage.

Some of the jurors thought that Dr. Ellis should have been present at the inquest to explain his report, but afterwards withdrew the objection, and the coroner then gave the case to the jury.

It was 12.30 when the verdict was rendered. It ran as follows:

That at 123 Queen-street east on May 21 the deceased Katie Dunbar came to her death of hemorrhage of the lungs. Further that her death was accelerated by the weak condition of her system brought on by a miscarriage, but in what manner that miscarriage was induced we have no evidence to show.

Mrs. Wright was accordingly discharged from custody.

AFTER A COP'S SCALP.

A Virago Hurls a Missile at a Hamilton Policeman in Court.

HAMILTON, June 7.—Among the prisoners at the Police Court this morning was a medium-sized, powerfully built and wicked-looking woman of 26 years, named Harriet Elliott. Years ago Elliott was a terror, in her way, to the police. In '80, '81 and '82 she hung out in the city and was convicted eight times in 1882. In Toronto some time ago she got on one of her tears, and a sergeant of police told a constable to arrest her. Before the latter could get up to her she picked up a large stone and let go at him, striking him on the head and laying him up for a time. For that offence she was fined $50 or six months in jail. When her case was called to-day she stood up with fire in her eye and a heavy tin drinking cup brought from the cells concealed under her skirt. Constable Campaign stepped into the witness box and the woman suddenly threw the cup at him but missed her aim, the missile striking Constable Cameron in the arm. Harriet accompanied her shot with a volley of oaths and filth and was taken back to the cells to cool off, after which she was sentenced to a year in the Mercer Reformatory. The woman said she could stand on her head for that time and come out fresh as a daisy, and that she would kill that officer as soon as she came out.

On Tuesday last Alex. Laing found a bottle at the beach, in which was enclosed this note:

Whoever may find this will know that the yacht Mary Ann and her crew are gone to the bottom. We left the beach at 5.30 to-day and sprung a leak at 6.30. No boats in sight and no help for us three.

SCORCHED SEATTLE.

The Loss Placed at $7,000,000, Insurance $2,250,000—The Residences Escape.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—The burned district in Seattle covers thirty-one blocks bounded as follows: University, Front, Spring to Second, James, South, Fourth, Wall and Water-streets. This comprises the business portion. The residence district escaped.

From official figures furnished by local and foreign insurance companies The Coast Review places the property loss at $7,000,000. On this is an insurance of $2,250,000.

A Thirsty Montrealer.

MONTREAL, June 7.—A disgraceful case came before Mr. Justice Wurtele this week. It appears that a young man of 21 years, in order to obtain drink, pawned a pair of trousers worth $9 for 80 cents and subsequently sold the pawn ticket for $1 to a saloonkeeper from whom he purchased the liquor. He afterwards sold a jersey to the saloon keeper for the same purpose, and subsequently a pair of new boots went the same way, he receiving 60 cents and an old pair in return and continued his debauch. After he had recovered from his spree, however, he realized what he had done and then took out a seizure in re-vendication on the ground that when he sold the clothing he was in such a condition as not to be responsible for his acts. Mr. Justice Wurtele granted the seizure, and took occasion to severely reprimand the saloon-keeper, who was present in court.

Tramps Fire an Express Train.

BELLEVILLE, June 7.—Last night, tramps to the number of about 12, boarded the express, due here at 12.30, at Port Hope. They occupied the platform and what is called the "blind baggage" car. Some of them were smoking, when in some manner the platform became ignited, and being unable to put the flame out, they pulled the bell rope. This caused the train to be brought to a standstill, when they decamped. The fire was extinguished, not much damage being done. None of them were captured.

SHROUDED IN MYSTERY.

THE QUEST FOR THE MURDERERS OF CRONIN.

A Clan-na-Gael Man Who Fails to Appear Before the Coroner and is Missing From His Office—The Triangle's [illegible].

CHICAGO, June 7.—In the Cronin inquest to-day Brown was confronted with Mrs. Conklin, Livery-stable Keeper Dinan and others, but they all declared he was not the man who drove the white horse and he was released.

Luke Dillon of Philadelphia, the representative of Dr. Cronin's eastern friends, testified that Cronin had frequently said to him that he believed that to further his ambitions to rule American and Irish politics Sullivan would murder him (Cronin).

Dillon told of the trial at Buffalo of the charges against Alexander Sullivan, Michael Boland and Dennis Feeley. These charges were made by John Devoy and were of misappropriation of Clan-na-Gael funds. Witness said that when Sullivan learned that Cronin was to be a member of the trial committee he denounced him in unmeasured terms. After the trial it was voted to allow Sullivan to circulate with the finding of the trial committee a protest which he had prepared. Mr. Dillon read the protest. It was very long and was dated New York, Sept. 15, 1888. In it Sullivan protested against the presence of Cronin on the committee on the grounds first, that Cronin was his personal enemy, second, that he had expressed an opinion in the case, third, that he was a perjurer and a scoundrel unfit to be placed on any jury. In support of his first objection Sullivan appealed to the members of the United Brotherhood in Chicago from which Dr. Cronin was expelled in a case where Sullivan conducted the prosecution.

There was no question in Chicago of Cronin's hostility to him or any one who was present at the meeting of the National League Committee in 1886 when Dr. Cronin assailed him. Upon this enmity Sullivan claimed it was unnecessary for him to enlarge.

As to the second objection Sullivan said Cronin was a member of the executive body of the United Brotherhood who had formulated charges against him, that Cronin had expressed an opinion in the case and would not be accepted as a juror in any civil case in which Sullivan had anything to do.

In support of the third reason Sullivan went into a long history of Cronin's career, accusing him of being a perjurer and a British spy, who had taken the oath of allegiance to Her Britannic Majesty, and that he had sworn falsely in regard to the election of delegates from the Chicago district to the convention, that he had sworn falsely in regard to his American citizenship, his age and various other matters.

The witness continued: "In June, 1882, John Devoy said that $300,000 and over was in the hands of the triangle and over $150,000 had been spent in violation of the constitution."

"The $300,000 does not include the $100,000 given to Sullivan by Patrick Egan?"

"I know nothing about that." The funds of the organization were supposed to be used in case of England getting into difficulty and to assist Ireland in getting her liberty. There is nothing in the constitution requiring a man to sacrifice his life for the order.

The name of John F. Beggs, chief officer of the Clan-na-Gael camp of which Dr. Cronin was a member, was called, but he did not respond. It was subsequently found that his office was closed and that there was a sign on his door which read that he was not at anybody's investigation.

Lawyer Trude denies that he said yesterday that Alexander Sullivan had operated on the Board of Trade for a number of bucket shop men. He said Sullivan represented only one person. Mr. Trude claims that Egan requested Sullivan to remove the $100,000 in question from Paris to America because of the unsettled condition of affairs in France at the time. When the danger was over the whole amount was transferred back to Egan, and Sullivan has Egan's receipt for it.

WANTS TO BE "ELECTROCUTED."

A Man Offers to Test Execution by Electricity for His Family's Benefit.

ALBANY, N. Y., June 7.—A strange communication came in the mail of the Superintendent of Prisons this morning. It was nothing less than an offer on the part of a man, whose name is withheld for the present, to act as a victim to science by testing the efficacy of the new apparatus for executing by electricity. The writer of the letter, which is postmarked Philadelphia, says he is a poor man with a family. He understands that there are grave doubts as to the reliability of the electrical apparatus, and that a trial of it would doubtless settle all mooted questions and remove many of the objections now urged so vehemently. He is willing to be a trial victim if the Superintendent will pay $5000 to his family to provide for their wants after the deadly current has taken away their provider.

The letter will probably be kept as a curiosity in General Lathrop's office.

AN APPEAL TO THE COURTS.

Favored by the Congregational Union re the Jesuits' Estates Act.

BRANTFORD, June 7.—At the morning session of the Congregational Union of Ontario and Quebec the invitation of the Kingston Congregational Church to meet there next year was accepted.

A series of resolutions proposed by Rev. W. H. Marling, denouncing the acts of the Legislature of Quebec incorporating the order of the Jesuits and granting $400,000 for their forfeited estates as by no means the last of a long series of encroachments upon the prerogatives of the Crown and the rights of the subject and inimical to personal freedom, and heartily supporting such an appeal to the courts as may cause a thorough investigation to be made of the constitutionality of the obnoxious legislation, were unanimously passed.

Winnipeg Wire Whispers.

WINNIPEG, June 7.—President Van Horne arrived to-day and leaves to-night for a trip over the proposed Souris branch, work on which will be commenced at once. The southwestern branches of the Canadian Pacific Railway will also be extended this year.

The annual convocation of Manitoba University was held to-day.

John Reed, near Killarney, and Mary Todd, at Minnedosa, were drowned to-day.

Four trains of immigrants arrived by the Canadian Pacific Railway to-day.

Floods and Frost at Melancthon.

MELANCTHON, Ont., June 7.—We have had nine successive days' rain, accompanied by severe frosts at night, and it is still raining now. The crops on the low-lying land are soured and killed by the large quantities of water. The creeks and streams are as high as they were when the snow was breaking up in the spring. Men of 80 years of age say they never knew of such a long continued rain before. The frost has done considerable damage to fruit, vegetables and also to grain and clover crops.

Killed His Sweetheart and Himself.

LONDON, June 7.—A teacher named Keeling, while traveling by train to Birmingham with his sweetheart named Lister, who was the head of a Devizes school, shot the lady and threw her body out of the carriage. Keeling then committed suicide.

Paddy Handrigan was charged with vagrancy before the Magistrate this morning, but did not wish to admit the charge. But he said he had no home and no work and the Magistrate gave him six months board and lodging for which the county will pay the bill.

Jesuit Aggression.

Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather a fairly attended meeting was held at Nassau mills last evening, at which after addresses by the Rev. Alex. Bell and Mr. John Carnegie the following gentlemen were appointed delegates from the township of Douro to the convention in Toronto:—Wm. Garbutt; Wm. Leeson; W. A. King; Garrett Galvin; John Quinn; Geo. Hamilton; J. H. Campbell; J. N. Garbutt Jr., and Soloman Cox.

The Fault of the Private Drain.

The men who were at work excavating in front of the Chamberlain restaurant for the purpose of laying a tile drain yesterday discovered a large whole in the main sewer which had been caused by the private drain from the restaurant which was wooden one rotting away and allowing the earth to cave in. The sewer fortunately was not blocked as the earth had not fallen into the hole. These private drains should be built under the supervision of the Street Inspector and then such accidents as these would not occur.

Judgment Reserved.

At Osgoode Hall yesterday the motion to quash the High License By-law came before Rose, J., and the Empire reports the case as follows:—"Re Croft and Town of Peterborough.—Poussette, Q.C., moved to quash a by-law of the Town of Peterborough passed under R.S.O., ch. 194, sec. 42, and approved by the electors, providing for a duty of $400 to be paid for tavern and shop licenses on the ground that certain electors, being leaseholders, were improperly prevented from voting upon the by-law, and the same was therefore not legally adopted. E. B. Edwards, (Peterborough) showed cause. Reserved."

Too Full for Utterance.

This morning a man coming down George-st. as he was passing Gough Bros. clothing store was suddenly struck with the fact that this was Saturday and tomorrow would be Sunday and he would look much better if he had a new pair of trousers with which to appear at church, and without any ceremony helped himself to a pair that were lying at the door, and continued his walk down town. A gentleman who saw the man take the pants told Mr. Gough of the theft and the police were notified. A few minutes before ten Constable Adams arrested a man who was in a bad state of intoxication on suspicion of being the purloiner of the trousers. The inebriate was brought up before the Magistrate and gave his name as James Thompson, but was too drunk to give any further information. The Magistrate remanded him to gaol until Monday morning to sober up, when he will be tried.

What Happened at Sandy Point.

There are several Sandy Points. The one here referred to is on Pigeon Lake. Not a large piece of ground, but the scene of a terrific battle long ago between two tribes of Indians of the north country. They fought on the point and the Hurons were victorious driving their opponents into the lake or slaughtering them by the score. The victors dug several pits and threw in the bodies of the slain. Many years ago an enterprising citizen of Bobcaygeon opened the pits, dug out the bones—or a large part of them—and sold the lot to be ground up. Go to Sandy Point and you will see where the excavations were made, and possibly carry off a few relics if so inclined. You will reach Sandy Point by going on the Masonic excursion on Tuesday, June 18th, over the new Chemong line and by steamer to Bobcaygeon. The boat stops at Jacob's Island and you can canoe it to the point. Fare, adults 75c., children under 12, 40c. 1d128

The School Contract.

Owing to a misapprehension of the proceedings at the last meeting of the School Board some people had the idea that the Board have taken the oversight of the building operations out of the hands of the architect. This is not the fact. No architect is expected to spend all his time on the works, and the Board simply adopted the custom that prevails on all works of any magnitude by employing a practical builder, commonly called the clerk of the works, to see that the architects plans and specifications are faithfully carried out. This is simple justice to the architect and to proprietor, and it is more satisfactory to an honorable contractor, who thus at each step may have the approval of a competent overseer. Our two architects stand so high in the esteem of the community for whom hundreds of buildings have been planned and carried out by them that this notice would be unnecessary were it not that some words dropped at the last meeting have been misconstrued.

OUR SUMMER CLOTHING BULLETIN.

Correct in style, Perfect in fit, Reliable in make and Right in price is the Clothing we offer you. Correct at the start and at the finish.

The requirements for each garment are—The material must be right, the cut of it right, the make of it right and, withal, the price must be right. Must be right at every stage of its construction, so that in the end 'twill be right. It requires no little attention, study and skill to keep to the track all the way through, but the result is recompense sufficient. Our prices and our goods both are right.

Correct in style--means more than fashionable in style, beautiful in style or sensible in style. It means all of 'em together. In such clothing as this you're neither "a guy," "a dude" or "a fellow of no style," but "A gentleman, sir, by his dress." Your garments are not "loud" enough to attract attention, but they're good enough to stand inspection, stylish enough to be "toney" and graceful enough to be beautiful.

As we've already said, our prices are right, so are our goods. And so, we think, is our way of selling 'em, since it allows the greater number to buy 'em. Do you want clothes? Then come to us.

'A Spring Message'

From the New Firm of

H. LeBRUN & CO.

Sign of the Golden Horse-shoe.

The people of Peterborough and vicinity are all aware of the business change which took place in the CITY CLOTHING STORE on the first day of February last. The new firm beg leave to make their first bow to the public through the columns of the REVIEW, and to request a careful perusal of the following Spring and Summer circular:—

The City Clothing Store

in past years, by long experience in business, by buying always for spot cash, importing direct from the principal houses of the old country and from the leading houses of Canada, and by strict economy in conducting its business, has always been able to force prices down to an exceedingly fine point. The members of which the new firm is composed will form a still stronger "combine," by which the CITY CLOTHING STORE will be even better prepared to procure for its customers a continuation of those superior inducements in the future for which it has been noted in the past.

Men's Clothing.

The magnitude of our stock and lowness of prices gives us a great advantage over all other competitors in the trade. We carry in stock all the fast selling lines, styles and patterns, and can fit the tall, the short, the fat and the lean.

MORE SUITS, BETTER FABRICS, FINER STYLES than were ever handled before.

Special values in FINE SPRING OVERCOATS, and FINE SPRING and SUMMER SUITS. Don't fail to see them. The superb styles, workmanship, and the beautiful fabrics and patterns that we offer will surprise you.

Merchant Tailoring.

"For the apparel oft proclaims the man."

Fine dressers in search of new, neat and nobby OVERCOATINGS, SUITINGS or TROUSERINGS will find this department crowded to overflowing with cloth from all countries. To select from the largest assortment is an advantage we offer to our customers, backed up by the skill of experienced cutters and tailors. Besides perfect fit and first-class trimmings, we guarantee absolutely first-class workmanship.

Boys' and Youths' Clothing.

Clothing for the little ones—boys and children—has always been a specialty with us. We have always sought to give great values in this department, and to provide a larger and finer variety of goods for parents to select from than they could find elsewhere.

This means that we are showing a large assortment of BOYS' and CHILDREN'S SUITS, BOYS' and CHILDREN'S BLOUSES, SHIRT WAISTS, PANTS, &c.

This spring there are an unusual number of new and nobby styles and an enlarged variety of fabrics and patterns. Be sure and see our stock.

Gents' Furnishings.

Gentlemen of Peterborough seeking the latest styles and best values for their money, as well as an opportunity of selecting from the largest stock of Furnishing Goods, should not fail to visit this department at once. We offer the finest, best selected and the largest assortment of NECKWEAR, HOSIERY, UNDERWEAR, GLOVES, SHIRTS, HANDKERCHIEFS, etc., to be found in any first-class establishment.

GRAND SUCCESS!

Our Great ONE HOUR SALE a Tremendous Success.

WE PROPOSE TO CONTINUE THE SALE

ON SATURDAY NEXT,

AT THE HOURS MENTIONED BELOW:

The only trouble we had was that many of our customers who came to buy had to wait for some time as others were ahead of them. We regret that the time for closing the sale arrived before they got waited on, and as we do just as we advertise the sale closed just to the minute as announced.

For the benefit of those who were so unfortunate in not being able to secure some of the bargains that were given away last Saturday, we continue the Sale on Saturday.

HERE'S A CHANCE!

On SATURDAY, between 11 and 12 o'clock, for one hour, we will sell any Pair of Pants in the Store for $1.99. Some of them are worth $4.50 and $5.50. We will also sell, between the hours of 2 and 3 o'clock

The Coming Lecturer.

Dr. Clark, the noted lecturer and divine, though a familiar figure in Toronto and other centres of Ontario, is now making his first visit to Peterboro. He is a Scotchman, having been born in Aberdeen, but received his collegiate education at Oxford, and afterwards remained in England, where the greatest part of his public work was done. Here Dr. Clark steadily worked his way upward until he took a foremost place, both as a preacher and public speaker, and was invited to preach courses of sermons in St. Paul's Cathedral and other great churches of the old land. About six years ago Dr. Clark, on the solicitation of Canadian friends, came out to this country and accepted the position of Professor of Mental and Moral Philosophy at Trinity University, where his brilliant talents and warm kindness of heart have secured for him a large circle of friends and admirers. Dr. Clark is expected to arrive by this evening's train from Toronto and will be the guest of Judge Weller while in town. He will take part in the services at St. John's to-morrow, preaching in the evening, in addition to his lecture on Monday evening.

COUNCILLORS CONVENE.

TO DISCUSS THE SECURING OF A NEW INDUSTRY.

A New Manufactory to be Located in Town—The Ontario Pump Company to Purchase the Stove Foundry—The History of the Industry—A Growing and Prosperous Concern—An Agreement Arrived at—The Railway Crossings to be Protected—The Institute By-law.

A special meeting of the Town Council was held last night for the purpose of considering the negotiations which the committee of the Council have been making with a manufacturing company to locate in Peterborough. A good deal of discussion arose during the meeting on various minor points, but finally a resolution was passed, which fixes terms, which the company have signified their willingness to accept and in accordance with which a by-law will be submitted to the ratepayers. Mayor Stevenson presided and present were Councillors Cahill, Davidson, Winch, Kelly, E. H. D. Hall, A Hall, Dawson, Baptie, Rutherford, Langford, Kendry and Hartley.

The reading of the minutes being dispensed with Mayor Stevenson explained that his object in calling the Council together was to lay before them the negotiations which had been in progress to bring a new industry to Peterborough. Mr. Peck, a representative of the company, was present to hear what terms the Council would offer, and to obtain the opinion of the councillors on the matter.

A LEGAL OPINION.

The meeting having been hastily called and there being some question as to what the law said regarding the bonusing of manufacturies, the opinion of Mr. W. H. Moore had been asked, and Town Clerk Macdonald read a lengthy letter from that gentleman setting forth his legal opinion on the matter, which was to the effect that a municipal council could grant freedom from taxation for ten years and renew such freedom for ten years more, but could not without the consent of the ratepayers, entitled to vote on it, pass a by-law granting a bonus to a manufacturer nor bonus an industry already established without a bonus, nor grant a bonus to secure the removal to the town of one elsewhere established, nor where the total bonus would amount to ten per cent. of the total revenue.

THE PROPOSED AGREEMENT.

Councillor CAHILL explained that Mr. Peck, who was present, was the representative of the Ontario Pump Company, manufacturers of all kinds of pumps, wind mills, railway tanks, etc. The committee, Councillor Cahill said, had met Mr. Peck and two of the directors in Mr. Cox's office to consider the matter and the agreement arrived at was that the Council would give a ten years' exemption from taxation on the stove foundry and give him a bonus of six hundred dollars, or rather relieve him of rent to that amount, and the company were to employ at least thirty-five hands.

ABOUT THE INDUSTRY.

For the enlightenment of those Councillors who were not on the committee which had previously met with Mr. Peck, that gentleman was called upon to give some information in reference to his company.

Mr. PECK, who is from Toronto, gave a short history of the industry up to the present time. He said the business was originally started some twenty years ago in Toronto by a man by the name of Powell and was then only for the manufacture of pumps. About twelve years ago he (Peck) had purchased the business and since then they assumed the name of the Ontario Pump Company. The business had been steadily on the increase and to show the Council what they had done, he gave the amount of their sales since 1884. In 1884 the sales amounted to to $19,712, in 1885 to $29,277, in 1886 to $38,854, in 1887 to $46,376 and in 1888 to $52,900. They were moving from Toronto because they were being crowded out of the place where they were on Spidina Avenue, and had decided to leave Toronto. They wanted to have a foundry in connection with their factory, and the stove foundry in Peterborough had been suggested to him, and he believed it would be well adapted for the industry. The paid up capital of the company was $50,000, so that if they purchased the stove foundry they would really invest about $70,000 in town. They started with only three men, but now they employed thirty, and if they came here they would require to have moulders, and he believed the number would soon be increased to forty. As to the terms upon which he would come here, he said since he met the Committee it had been suggested, and he was willing to make the proposition, that the Council grant a bonus of twenty dollars a year for each man employed, or pay six per cent on the money paid out in wages. This would only be paying in proportion to the benefit the town would receive.

DISCUSSING THE AGREEMENT.

Councillor RUTHERFORD said that the best guarantee of the genuineness of the scheme was that it had grown from the employment of half a dozen hands to nearly fifty, and he believed the showing of the increase of sales was one that could not be made by many companies. One of their best business men, Mr. Geo. A. Cox, was so confident of the company's success that he had said he would take $5,000 stock in the company. This was another good guarantee, and he favored the bringing of the company here on the terms suggested, as he believed it was a growing industry.

A discussion then arose as to how the grant could be made.

Mayor STEVENSON said there was no difficulty as to the Council having the right to make the grant, but they could not bind their successors to the agreement.

Councillor KENDRY said he did not think it would be fair to ask any man to come here without giving him an agreement which he knew was a sure thing.

Councillor E. H. D. HALL said he thought that according to the law they could make a grant but would have to allow the people to vote on it.

Councillor DAVIDSON said he thought that if they made an agreement to grant $600 every year for ten years to this company, a by-law for that purpose would only require to receive a majority and not a two-thirds vote.

ANOTHER PROPOSAL.

Councillor DAWSON after some further discussion asked if the company would accept the offer made.

Mr. PECK said that when they first considered the matter they did not think the expense would be as great as it now would be. They had decided to buy the building at twenty thousand dollars, and the interest on this, together with additions and extensive changes they would have to make in the building, would make the expense much heavier. He wished the Council to pay only for the benefit they received and he would rather they would give six per cent. on the money paid in wages.

Mayor STEVENSON said if there was any doubt that the succeeding Council would not carry out the agreement he would with two other Councillors enter into a bond to see that the Council carried out the agreement with the company every year.

Councillor DAWSON did not favor giving the six per cent on the wages, as it would cause a great deal of trouble every year going over the books to find the wages paid out. He would favor giving the exemption for ten years and the six hundred dollars a year for rent. This he thought was very fair.

Councillor HARTLEY did not think that any future Council with the town's interests at heart would refuse to carry out this agreement and he believed the ratepayers would favor the passing of such a by-law.

Councillor KELLY said the company would accept seven hundred dollars a year and not ask for any increase no matter how many men they employ. He favored giving them this.

Then the question of the amount that should be given was discussed, some of the Councillors favoring seven and others standing out for six, not because of the hundred dollars difference but because they believed that the by-law would be more liable to carry with six hundred as the amount.

Mayor STEVENSON said he was afraid that other manufacturers in town who had never received any aid might object to relieving this company of taxation and rent, but Councillor Cahill thought that although some of the owners of industries established might be jealous, yet the town must do something if they would secure any new manufactories.

THE RESOLUTION CARRIED.

After further discussion the amount was fixed at $600 and the following resolution was carried unanimously:—

Councillor CAHILL moved, seconded by Councillor DAWSON,—That whereas the Ontario Pump Factory are about to establish their business in this town, be it resolved that this Corporation grant them the sum of $600 per annum for ten years, provided the said Company employ not less than 35 hands each year for ten years for a period of not less than ten months each year and exemption from taxes for ten years.

THE RAILWAY CROSSINGS.

Councillor LANGFORD presented the following report as chairman of the Street and Bridge Committee:—"That the Grand Trunk and Canada Pacific railways be required to place gates at all crossing where their respective roads cross the public streets of the town of Peterborough, the said gates to be placed where in the opinion of the Street and Bridge Committee they are required."

This report was adopted.

Councillor DAVIDSON then moved, seconded by Councillor WINCH,—That the time of the C.P.R. Company be extended one year more to fill in lot No. 2 west of George-st. and south of Wolfe-st.

TO PREPARE A BY-LAW.

Councillor CAHILL moved, seconded by Councillor KENDRY,—That the town solicitor be instructed to take the necessary steps on his part to give effect to the resolution passed this evening in reference to the Ontario Pump Factory.

THE INSTITUTE BY-LAW.

Mayor STEVENSON then wished to have the Council consider the matter of the resubmitting of the Collegiate Institute by-law, raising $20,000 for the erection of a new Collegiate Institute, but some of the members objected that the matter, which was referred to the Finance Committee, should be left where it was to be reported on at a meeting of the Council to be called next week.

Councillor E. H. D. HALL thought it would not be wise to spend a thousand dollars on the old building, which would only be temporary, and said he thought they might better spend the $20,000 and have a proper building.

Councillor KENDRY thought they might better spend $1,000 this year and that would put the building in good repair for the next three years. They were building a new market building and new school buildings and he thought they might better go a little slower.

The further discussion on the matter was abruptly stopped by a motion to adjourn, the understanding being that a meeting will be called early next week to consider the matter.

"My daughter was greatly troubled with Scrofula, and at one time it was feared she would lose her sight. Ayer's Sarsaparilla has completely restored her health, and her eyes are as well as ever, with not a trace of scrofula in her system."—G. King, Killingly, Conn.

They want him to visit Lakefield again.

To be Investigated.

It will be remembered that at the Methodist District Meeting here recently, a resolution was adopted asking the Conference to investigate slanderous reports put in circulation after the Conference meeting at Lindsay, the resolution being understood to refer to a report that one or more members of the Conference had indulged in intoxicating liquor. At the Conference being held in Belleville the subject was brought up, a clergyman naming the editor of the Warder as the author, and a committee of investigation was appointed, consisting of Rev. John Learoyd, Rev. M. L. Pearson, Rev. Dr. Williams, Rev. Dr. Bredin and Rev. J. J. Rice.

Miss Gordon's closing meeting, notwithstanding the wet evening, was very large, the school room of the George-st. Methodist Church being filled. It was a fitting close to the wonderful meetings which have been held throughout the week. All felt the power of the Holy Spirit and the solemn occasion will never be forgotten. These Bible reading have been seasons of great refreshing to all. Many have accepted Christ in all His fulness, as He has been lifted up, and have resolved in the future to allow him to live in them the hope of glory. A thank offering was given voluntarily by those present and amounted to $45, which Miss Gordon has very generously presented to the Association as a donation towards a building for our work. Who will now give us a site for a home for our young men? We need it so much so as to counteract the baneful influence which is leading so many away from God. Who can estimate the good that can be accomplished? We are satisfied there are those who love Christ and young men enough to provide such a home.

The Daily Review.

SATURDAY, JUNE 8, 1889.

PRETTY SISTER OF JOSE.

By FRANCES HODGSON BURNETT.

Author of "Little Lord Fauntleroy," "That Lass O'Lowries," &c., &c.

Pepita ceased to touch her guitar. She looked out at the flowers sleeping in the moonlight, and for a few minutes was very still, then she laid the guitar down and stepped out into the brightness.

In the light of moon one cannot see the color of a face. Perhaps this was why hers seemed to be gone. She looked quite pale, and her lovely little brows were drawn together until they made a black line across her forehead. She clasped her hands behind her head, and with her face a little thrown back, so that the light fell full upon it, wandered out among the trees and fragrant flowering things. She liked the jasmine best, and over one part of the low, rough wall there climed on which blossomed with a myriad stars. So she went and stood by it, and looked now at it, now up and down the road, which the moon had made into a path of snow.

And as she stood there, suddenly there started up on the other side of the wall the figure she knew so well, and the next moment it had vaulted over and was close to her. Sebastiano!

She stood still, her hands still clasped behind her head, her face still upturned, and looked at him.

He folded his arms and looked at her. As for him, whether the moonlight was to blame or not, he was as pale as death.

"Yes," he said, "you are always the same. You do not change. One may come at any hour. But listen to me. You think I have come to reproach you. Why should I? I have fought bulls, but that does not teach men how to deal with women. I thought that if a man gave you his soul and his life and the breath of his body you would listen some day and let him think of you. You are a woman, and you are made to be loved; but there is something hard in your heart. You are proud of having mocked a man who was honest and loved you; but hear me. It is better, after all, to be less pretty and more a woman.

He stopped an instant. She had changed her position, and stood by the jasmine, stripping the blossoms from it one by one. She began to smile and sing softly, as if to herself.

"Oh bird at my window,
Sing but one song to me,
My lover who is light and gay."

"And more a woman," said Sebastiano. "It is women men want."

Pepita looked up and laughed; then she sang again:—

"Who stirs the blossoms in the night,
Who breaks the orange flower."

Sebastiano made a swift movement and caught her wrists, his eyes flashing fire.

"That is nothing," he said. "You are woman enough. The time will come. It will not be always like this. You can be made to love. Yes, you are one of those who must be made. Then you will suffer, too, and it will be good for you. You will speak then."

He paused a moment and held her arms a little apart, looking at her with a sudden change to mournfulness.

"How pretty you are," he said. "How little and how pretty. If you were good and gentle, and one might touch your cheek softly or stroke your hair, how one would love and serve you. No, you cannot move. I have not fought bulls for nothing. If I let you move you will struggle and hurt yourself. Listen. I am going away. I will trouble you no more now. I will wait. If one waits long enough pain ceases and one forgets. It is so with a wound, why not with what one feels for a woman? I said you could be made to love; but let that be left for another man to do. I want no love like that. I want a woman. Some day you will not cast the devisa under your feet. You will take it and hide it in your breast. It will not be mine, but some other man's who loves you less. I loved you, I was mad for you; but it shall cease. It is better to think only of the bulls than to play the fool for a woman who has no love in her heart. You are pretty, but that is not everything. You can work spells, but a man can break through them. There. Go!"

He gave her one long look, flung her hands aside and had vaulted the wall and was gone himself one moment later.

Pepita stood still with clenched hands dropped at her sides, staring with wide fierce eyes down the white moonlit road.

The next evening Jose came home from his work later than usual. He came down the road with a drooping head and a slow and heavy step. When he sat down to his food he ate but little, and as he bent over his soup he heard Jovita scolding.

"It is gone," she was saying. "You took it and have thrown it away."

"Was it not mine?" said Pepita. "It was mine. I cared nothing for it, and have done what I chose with it."

Jose lifted his head and listened.

"What has happened?" he asked.

"She has thrown away the devisa which I had saved," answered Jovita. "I laid it away and she has taken it. What harm did it do her that it should lie out of her sight in peace?"

"Did you do that?" Jose said to Pepita.

"Was it meant for her?" said Pepita. "I told you he ought to have thrown it to her and not to me."

A Victory for the Dufferins.

ORANGEVILLE, June 7.—The second championship match of the Northwestern district was played here to-day between the Lornes of Mount Forest and the Dufferins of Orangeville, resulting in a victory for the Dufferins, who took the first, fourth, fifth and seventh games in 20, 14, 9 and 2 min. The Lornes took the second, third and sixth in 1, 12 and 1 min. The match was hotly contested throughout and was the best exhibition of lacrosse that has ever been played on these grounds.

[illegible] Filly Wins the Oaks.

LONDON, June 7.—This was the fourth and last day of the Epsom Summer Meeting with the Oaks Stakes for 3-year-old fillies as the feature of the "card." It resulted in the defeat of the favorite Minthe, who finished second to Lord Randolph Churchill's black filly L'Abbesse de Jouarre after an exciting finish. Conditions:

Renewal of the Oaks Stakes of 50 sovs each, h. ft., for fillies, then 3-year-olds; 122 lbs each; about a mile and a half, starting at the New High Level Starting Post; the owner of the second filly to receive 300 sovs, and the third 150 sovs out of the stakes.

Lord R Churchill's blk f L'Abbesse de Jouarre, by Trappist—Festive, 122 1
Mr. Vyner's b f Minthe, by Camballo—Mint Sauce, 122 2
Mr. Manton's ch f Seclusion, by Hermit—Boundary, 122 3

Spokane Not Broken Down.

ST. LOUIS, June 7.—Mr. Hundley of Montana, who is interested in Spokane, says that he knows nothing about the rumor that the colt has broken down. Mr. Hundley further says that if the colt was amiss Mr. Armstrong would certainly notify him. J. E. Brewster also says the rumor can be safely contradicted from what he can learn.

A Kansas Tragedy.

TOPEKA, Kan., June 7.—Earl Hahmann, a farmer living 5½ miles from Girard, strangled his wife with a rope Wednesday night and then went to the barn and hanged himself. He left papers stating that his property should be divided among his six children and no one would ever know the cause of his crime. The murderer was very avaricious, compelling his wife to work in the field. His property is worth $40,000.

The Secret Ballot in the Nutmeg State.

HARTFORD, Conn., June 7.—Governor Bulkeley to-day vetoed the bill providing for a secret ballot. He holds that the bill is too radical, too cumbersome, too expensive, opens the door to fraud and will result in disfranchisement of voters. The House passed the bill over the Governor's veto, 121 to 38. The bill was subsequently reconsidered and tabled and the House adjourned till Tuesday.

ASLEEP ON THE TRACK.

A little child, tired of play, had pillowed his head on a railroad track and fallen asleep. The train was almost upon him when a passing stranger rushed forward and saved him from a horrible death. Perhaps you are asleep on the track, too. You are, if you are neglecting the hacking cough, the hectic flush, the loss of appetite, growing weakness and lassitude, which have unconsciously crept upon you. Wake up, or the train will be upon you! Consumption, which thus insidiously fastens its hold upon its victims while they are unconscious of its approach, must be taken in time, if it is to be overcome. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has cured thousands of cases of this most fatal of maladies. If taken in time, and given a fair trial, it is guaranteed to benefit or cure in every case of Consumption, or money paid for it will be promptly refunded.

For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Asthma, Severe Coughs, and kindred affections, it is an efficient remedy.

MOVING AT A FAIR PACE.

MR. GLADSTONE THINKS THE LIBERALS ARE ALL RIGHT.

A Summons for Obtaining Money Under False Pretences Issued Against Viscount Mandeville.

LONDON, June 8.—Mr. Gladstone addressed a Liberal meeting at Weymouth to-day. He said the Liberal party was moving in the right direction and at a fair pace. He spoke in favor of limiting the length of a Parliament to four or five years. Referring to Ireland, he admitted that crime had decreased there and attributed the movement to recent remedial measures, to the beneficial influence of Irish members of Parliament and the press, and above all the knowledge possessed by the Irish people that a large majority of the people of England sympathized with them. It remained for Englishmen to say whether they will do a further act of justice which alone would give a true and indissoluble union of the various countries comprehended under the designation of Great Britain and Ireland.

A Bad Viscount.

LONDON, June 8.—The Public Prosecutor has ordered that another police summons be issued against Viscount Mandeville, the eldest son of the Duke of Manchester, whose bankruptcy was announced three months ago. The Viscount is charged with obtaining money under false pretences.

Paris in a Ferment.

PARIS, June 9.—M. Reichert, the attache of the War Ministry who was arrested yesterday, has purged himself of contempt of the Boulanger commission and has been liberated. A Boulangist meeting announced to be held at Angouleme to-day was prohibited by the authorities. MM. de Roulede, Laguerre, Laisant and Richard and a score of citizens were arrested for protesting against the action of the authorities. The populace is in a ferment. The troops are confined to their barracks.

The State Above the Church.

PARIS, June 8.—The discussion of the educational budget was continued in the Chamber of Deputies to-day. Count Albert Demun of the Right, referring to ex-Premier Ferry's speech of Thursday, in which he said he desired to see peace between church and state, repelled the advances of Ferry and made a savage attack upon him. The Count's allusion to the ex-Premier as a man whose name alone caused the country to shed tears of blood, was received with frantic applause by the Right. "The country," continued the Count, "was tired of M. Ferry's intolerable dictatorship which rendered France uninhabitable to half its population."

M. Falliere, Minister of Education, said he was confident an appeal to the country would justify the Government's policy.

M. Clemenceau repudiated the policy of M. Ferry. It was better, he said, to wage war with the church frankly since it was chimerical to dream of a reconciliation. The church must not be begged to tolerate but must be compelled to obey the laws. [Applause on the Left.]

Paris Editors in Trouble.

PARIS, June 8.—On the appeal of the Procureur-General the directors of the newspapers Intransigeant, Triboulet, Autorite and Gaulois, charged with insulting the Chief Magistrate, have been sentenced to terms of imprisonment varying from one week to one month, and to pay fines ranging from 200 to 500 francs, and small damages.

Bruno's Statue Unveiled.

ROME, June 9.—The statue of Bruno was unveiled to-day with imposing ceremonies, 30,000 persons, including students and deputations from various parts of Italy, marched in procession through the principal streets. The removal of the canvas covering the statue was the signal for deafening cheers. The ceremonies were witnessed by the Syndic of Rome, the Government officials and a large number of deputies and senators. Deputy Bovis in an oration eulogized the martyr and declared that to-day there was born a new religion of free thought and liberty of conscience which would be worse for the papacy than the loss of temporal power. After a banquet at which 1000 covers were laid the procession returned to the starting point and was dismissed. In the evening the monument was illuminated. The proceedings throughout were orderly. The memory of Garibaldi was honored with an imposing ceremony at the capitol to-day.

The Pope Depressed.

ROME, June 9.—The Pope is much depressed. It is reported that he refuses to see anybody and that he has passed three days absorbed in prayer in his private chapel. Four hundred telegrams have arrived at the Vatican deploring the unveiling of the Bruno monument. All the ambassadors accredited to the Vatican met this afternoon in the Pope's chapel.

A Secret Treaty.

LONDON, June 9.—It is reported in St. Petersburg that during the Shah's visit there a secret treaty was made between Russia and Persia for the temporary annexation of Northern Persia [illegible] in certain cases.

ARRIVED—Another carload of 40 chests of Superb Japan Tea at M. B. KIDD's.

BISMARCK AND THE CZAR.

ALEXANDER'S OPENLY HOSTILE POLICY RENEWED.

The Kaiser's Workmen Combine for Increased Pay—The Shah Threatened—Berlin Gossip.

BERLIN, June 9.—Prince Bismarck's period of repose at Schonhausen was probably cut short by advices from St. Petersburg showing a renewal of the openly hostile policy of the Czar. The Emperor's program for his visit to England and for the reception of Emperor Francis Joseph and other plans remain uncertain through the Czar's tacit refusal to settle preliminaries for the projected interview with Emperor William. Prince Bismarck sent to St. Petersburg asking the appointment of a date and place for the meeting of the emperors. The Czar declined to appoint a date further than that on returning from Copenhagen he might meet Emperor William at Kiel, and he desired that the interview should be without ceremony and attended with no naval or military demonstration. The tame response from Russia renders the sending of a formal invitation from Berlin doubtful. Semi-official papers say that the cordial personal relations between the Czar and Emperor William are unchanged, but they ignore the fact of the renewal of the strained relations of the Berlin and Vienna governments toward Russia.

The Shah at Berlin.

BERLIN, June 9.—The Shah of Persia arrived here to-day. He was welcomed with much ceremony by the Emperor. A number of princes, Count Herbert Bismarck, General von Blumenthal and a crowd of officials. Royal salutes were fired and the Shah received an ovation en route to the Bellevue Palace. The Emperor and the Shah exchanged formal visits and a grand banquet was given in the evening in honor of the Shah.

Berlin Gossip.

BERLIN, June 8.—Prince George, the Czar's favorite son and probably his successor in view of the weak brain and general debility of the Czarewich, will soon begin a tour of the world, starting from Paris, where his presence is intended to mark the Czar's adhesion to the French alliance.

The Cologne Gazette declares that the Czar is definitely committed to a Pan-Slavist policy involving critical developments which are bound to have a violent end.

The Volksblatt announces the combined action among the workmen on the Royal estates—coachmen, stablemen and gardeners—for increased pay. The Emperor has already ordered that the wages of the married men be raised.

Twelve thousand masons have gone to seek work in the country. Only 8000 are left in Berlin. The police are more offensively active to suppress workmen's meetings everywhere.

The Dr. Peters expedition has collapsed owing to an epidemic among the Somalis. The expedition has disbanded and the munitions have been re-shipped for Germany.

A despatch from St. Petersburg to The Cologne Gazette says that the Czar told the Shah, and hotly too, that if while in England he should make any concession unfavorable to Russia 100,000 soldiers on the frontier would be made to march into Persia.

ROBBERY AND ARSON.

A Double Crime at Winnipeg—Attempted Suicide of a Jealous Wife.

WINNIPEG, June 9.—The Ontario Excursionists are being cordially received throughout the country by committees of citizens, and every attention is being paid them.

The co-operative store here was robbed Friday night and then set on fire. The flames were discovered and extinguished but not before the stock had been nearly all destroyed.

The wife of a negro barber named Jones tried to commit suicide Saturday by swallowing oil of cedar, but medical assistance was secured in time to save her life. Jealousy is supposed to be the cause of her act.

The system of elevators is about to be started by the Northern Pacific and Manitoba and the Keewatin Milling Company throughout the province.

Suicide at St. Kitts.

ST. CATHARINES, June 8.—People in the city were somewhat startled this morning on hearing that a cigarmaker named John O. Hallicker had committed suicide by cutting his throat. It appears that deceased had been addicted to drinking spells, and was more or less mentally affected, being very morose at times. Deceased retired to bed at 3 o'clock a.m. today, and shortly afterwards his father heard a noise in his bedroom. Proceeding there he found his son lying on the floor with his throat cut and a cooper's drawing knife in his hand, with which he perpetrated the bloody work. The father was almost distracted and went out of the room to send for a doctor. Returning in a few minutes he found that the young man had finished his work by cutting his jugular vein and severing his windpipe. A coroner's inquest will be held.

Limped But Ran Away.

WINDSOR, June 8.—A short time ago Joseph Covyeau purchased Charles Covyeau's wife for $1. Since then the latter decided to cancel the bargain, and endeavored to get his wife back, but Joseph would not agree to it. A warrant was issued for Joseph Covyeau's arrest, but the constables have been unable to find him. Last night Constables Masters and Smith went to Joseph's house. As soon as Covyeau heard them at the door he ran to the cellar. He had a hole dug to the cellar from the outside, and when Masters went inside he crawled out and started for the marsh. Masters saw him and fired two shots, but Covyeau kept going and reached the marsh. The officers returned home. It is claimed that Covyeau was hurt by the shots, as he limped while running.

The Plague of Locusts.

BROOKLYN, June 8.—Farmers in different parts of Long Island are alarmed at the presence of 17-year locusts that are increasing and doing much damage to crops. At Huntington the farmers gather up the pests by the shovelful.

THE LOSS OF LIFE AT SEATTLE.

Only One Man Perished and He was an Incendiary—But Two Churches Burnt.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 8.—Later dispatches from Seattle fail to confirm previous reports of loss of life. Careful and diligent investigations thus far made show that no lives have been lost. While the flames were raging a man was seen carrying fire brands across an alley between Third and South Fourth-streets. He was setting fire to a house that had escaped the flames. When a special policeman commenced shooting at him to avoid the shots he darted into the house he had fired and never came out alive.

Sixty-three safes were counted in the ruins to-day. Most of them seem to be unimpaired. In an immense brick vault of Dexter, Horton & Co.'s bank, which stands uninjured save by the heat, in the middle of the ruins of the bank building there are locked up $1,200,000. But two churches were burned, the Episcopal and the Methodist Protestant.

Relief Pouring In.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 9.—As far as can be ascertained 290 firms and persons doing business in Seattle have suffered a loss, the majority of them total. Relief in the way of money, provisions, bedding, tents, etc., is pouring in from all directions. There will be no suffering so far as reported. No dwelling houses were burned, hence there are no homeless women and children.

A Blaze at Duluth.

DULUTH, June 8.—Fire was discovered this morning on the north pier at Superior Entry threatening the lighthouse and extensive piers. The steamer Plowboy saved all the Government property. A pile of driftwood containing 1,000,000 cords is still burning.

Other Fires in the States.

SEWANEE, June 8.—Bishop Quintard's beautiful residence was burned to-night. The Bishop's valuable collection of curiosities was destroyed.

BOSTON, June 8.—The roller shade factory and furniture store at Somerville burned today. Loss $17,000; insurance $11,000.

FRANKLIN, Mass., June 8.—The Franklin straw works burned to-night. Loss $40,000; insured.

THE LAND OF TORNADOES.

A Severe Wind Storm Cuts a Wide Swath in Missouri.

KANSAS CITY, June 9.—A severe wind, rain and hail storm passed over a large portion of western Missouri yesterday, doing considerable damage to crops and buildings. Near Warrensburg a church was blown down and two persons dangerously injured.

An Illinois Cyclone.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., June 8.—A severe tornado occurred last evening at Danvers. A church was destroyed, freight cars blown from the track, a tile factory ruined and many barns and dwellings unroofed.

A Toronto Yacht Stranded.

OSWEGO, N.Y., June 9.—The worst storm of rain and hail experienced here in many years passed over this section about 3 o'clock this afternoon. The yacht Merle owned in Toronto was driven ashore at Nine Mile Point. The crew escaped. An unknown schooner was driven ashore at Fairhaven. There is no communication with near by towns tonight, but the damage to crops is believed to be very heavy.

A Hot Wave in Gotham.

NEW YORK, June 9.—It was oppressively hot here to-day. Half-a-dozen prostrations were reported and one death. The temperature at 3.30 p.m. was 90.

TOPICS FROM THE CAPITAL.

Statement of Revenue and Expenditure for Eleven Months of the Fiscal Year.

OTTAWA, June 8.—The statement of revenue and expenditure for the eleven months ending May 31 of the current fiscal year gives promise of a substantial surplus:

Revenue to April 30	$30,857,437
" for May	3,376,920
Total	$34,234,357
Expenditure to April 30	$26,[illegible],277
" for May	2,[illegible],447
Total	$29,[illegible],494
Surplus	$4,[illegible],913

The revenue during the corresponding period last year was $31,856,724, and the expenditure $29,452,212. The net debt of the Dominion on May 31 was $234,480,424, a decrease of $57,000 in the month. The expenditure on capital account to May 31 was $4,500,000, $120,000 higher than at the same time last year.

The annual report on canal statistics for 1888 has been issued. The revenue for the year shows an increase of nearly $11,000 over 1887. Over $30,000 was refunded last year on grain delivered at Montreal. During the year 169,664 tons of grain passed through the Welland Canal from United States ports to United States ports, on which there was no refund, while 160,348 tons of grain passed down the Welland and St. Lawrence Canals from ports west of Port Colborne to Montreal.

THEY WERE SLIGHTED.

The Congregationalists Snubbed at the Recent Christian Unity Conference.

BRANTFORD, June 8.—Considerable discussion took place at the morning session of the Congregational Union over the committee on Christian Unity not being conferred with at the recent conference held in Toronto. A great deal of feeling was expressed. Finally this resolution, moved by Rev. W. H. Warriner and seconded by S. P. Leet, was carried:

That notwithstanding the fact that the committee on Christian Union appointed at the last meeting of this union was not invited to take part in the deliberation of the conference recently held in Toronto, nevertheless since there is a possibility that some mistake may have been made, be it therefore resolved that the committee on Christian Union be re-appointed.

The Nominating Committee recommended Rev. Messrs. Wild, Baine, Jackson, Fuller and Messrs. Leet and Clark as delegates to attend the anti-Jesuit convention in Toronto and Rev. Messrs. McColl and Sanderson and Messrs. Jarvis and McLauchlin as delegates to the Dominion Alliance for the suppression of intemperance.

FARMING IN ONTARIO.

Hon. Charles Drury Talks to the Lennox Farmers' Institute.

NAPANEE, June 8.—The Lennox Farmers' Institute received a visit this afternoon from Hon. Charles Drury, Minister of Agriculture, who was tendered an address by the officials of the Farmers' Institute and also by the Mechanics' Institute, to both of which he replied in felicitous terms.

Subsequently he delivered an able and practical address on "Farming in Ontario: Is it Profitable, if Not Why Not?" He showed by comparison of official returns the yield of the principal cereal crops is very much better in Ontario than in the leading states of the Union and then referred to a few of the matters which result in unprofitable farming.

MONTREAL, June 8.—A butcher named Carroll two years ago murdered another butcher named Donnelly, and was sentenced to imprisonment for life. Recently his friends obtained a pardon. When informed of the fact last night the excitement and joy proved too much for Carroll, and he dropped dead.

WASTING PRECIOUS TIME.

PITIFUL EFFORTS AT CLEARING THE JOHNSTOWN BRIDGE.

Present Methods Make the Task Almost Impossible—The Work at Other Points Progressing Very Favorably.

JOHNSTOWN, June 8.—Affairs at the tremendous stone bridge wreckage pile seem to have resolved themselves into a state of almost hopelessness. It is amazing the routine into which everything has fallen in this particular place. Every morning at 7 o'clock a score of lilliputs come mechanically from huts and tents, or the bare hillside, and wearily and weakly go to work clearing away this mass, and at the rate they are now proceeding it will actually be months before the debris is cleared away and the last body found. Fortunately the wind is blowing away from us or we would have olfactory evidence that what is not found is far worse than what has been exposed. It may be good business and good policy to have these few workers fool around the edge of the wreckage for five or ten minutes adjusting a dynamite blast, then hastily scramble away and consume as much more time before a tremendous roar announces the ugly work is done, but the onlookers doubt it. Sometimes, when an extra large shot is used, the water, bits of wood and iron, and other shapes more fearfully suggestive, fly directly upward in a stolid column at least 200 feet high only to fall back again into almost the same spot to be tugged and pulled at, or coaxed to float down an unwilling current that is falling so rapidly now that even this poor mode of egress will soon be shut entirely off. The fact of the matter is simply this: They are not attempting to recover bodies at the bridge, but as one blast tears yards of stuff into flinders it is shoved indifferently into the water, be it human or brute, stone, wood or iron, to float down towards Pittsburg or to sink to the bottom maybe a few yards from where it was pushed off from the main pile.

Up in the centre of the town debris is piled even higher than at the stone bridge, but the work is going on fairly well. The men seem to be working more together and enter into the spirit of the thing. Besides this, horses and wagons can get at the wrecks, and it really looks as if this part of the ruins has been exaggerated. Some of the foremen there say at the present rate of work going on through the town all the bodies that ever will be recovered will be found within the next ten days. As to the condition these bodies are in, that has become almost a matter of indifference, except as to the effect upon the health of the living. Facilities are so limited that but little sanitary precautions can be taken, and the doctors say a pest of some kind must result. An alarming report has just reached here that diphtheria has broken out in a crowded camp in town, and facts in the case will be sent later, as everybody is excited and frightened and the doctors take no pains to conceal the fact that disease is the only enemy now. The wreckage can be, and is being rapidly cleared away and with the splendid discipline under trying circumstances now in force the only thing that can stop it is a pestilence of some sort.

A most welcome arrival this morning was Dr. H. Bullen of disinfectant fame. He brought with him fifty barrels more of his disinfectant. The doctor will take charge of the disinfecting of the dangerous sections of the flooded district and notably at the stone bridge. Dr. Lee of the State Board of Health says this disinfectant is the most effective of anything of the kind he ever saw, and it is also highly recommended by all the undertakers and doctors here. Twenty-five barrels have already been used with most favorable results. Its great virtue consists in the fact that it is perfectly harmless. Dr. Bullen was a former resident of Johnstown and lost thirty relatives in the flood, among them three brothers-in-law, three uncles and two aunts.

Seventy-Eight More Bodies.

JOHNSTOWN, June 8.—The number of bodies taken to-day from the ruins was seventy-eight, of which only nine have so far been identified. Forty-seven of the bodies were discovered in a hole on the site of the Hurlbut House. They are supposed to be bodies of guests. Fifteen bodies were received at the Fourth Ward morgue, of which seven were unidentified.

The Deaths Now Placed at 3000 to 5000.

JOHNSTOWN, June 9.—To-day 58 bodies were recovered. The remains now being found are far advanced in decomposition and physicians advocate their cremation as fast as found. This has been the hottest day since the disaster and the weather is telling on the workmen. Many of them were exhausted before evening. The stench arising from the wreckage above the bridge has been more offensive to-day than at any time yet.

At the Cambria hospital over 500 persons have received attention. Several women who nursed the injured became ill and one of them may not recover. At the Bedford Hospital 362 injured persons were cared for and afterwards were taken to the Pittsburg hospitals. The tent hospitals have been practically abandoned, as none of them have had a case for several days.

The work of registration goes steadily on. Up to this evening there were about 21,000 registered. The number of the lost is placed now at 5000 by those who held it would reach 10,000 a week ago. A conservative estimate is between 3000 and 4000. Up to date there have been 1500 bodies recovered.

Queen Victoria's Message of Sympathy.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British minister, called on the President this morning in company with Secretary Blaine and delivered a message from Queen Victoria expressing her deep sympathy for the sufferers by the recent floods in Pennsylvania. The President said in reply:

"MR. MINISTER: This message of sympathy from Her Majesty the Queen will be accepted by our people as another expression of her own generous character as well as the friendliness and good will of her people. The disasters which have fallen upon several communities in the State of Pennsylvania while extreme and full of the most tragic and horrifying incidents have fortunately been limited in territorial extent. The generosity of our own citizens will promptly lessen to the stricken people every loss that is not wholly irretrievable, and these the sympathy of the Queen and the English people will help to assuage. Will you, Mr. Minister, be pleased to convey to the Queen the sincere thanks of the American people."

$500 From Wentworth County.

HAMILTON, June 8.—The Wentworth County Council to-day by a vote of 12 to 9 authorized the warden, if occasion requires, to forward a sum not exceeding $500 to assist in the relief of the Johnstown sufferers.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS.

Vote of Thanks.

At the Bay of Quinte Conference in Belleville a vote of thanks to Rev. M. L. Pearson, of Peterborough, for his able administration of the duties of President during the past year, was carried by acclamation.

Adam Goes Up.

Adam Dobbin was at the Police Court this morning looking for a month's board at the Nesbitt Castle, and he was given what he sought. "Adam, you have no money, work or place to live, have you?" enquired the Magistrate. "Indeed I have not," replied Adam, "but I would have, and if people paid me what they owed me I would have enough to live on." Adam was given a month in gaol with hard labor.

A General Decoration Day.

Belleville is to have a general decoration day this year, all the societies joining with the Oddfellows in decorating and beautifying the graves of the departed brethren of all the societies. Represented on the joint committee are the Sons of England, the Oddfellows, the 'Prentice Boys, the Foresters and the Knights of Labor. The Peterborough Oddfellows always set aside a day for the decoration of the graves of their deceased brethren, but might not this be a suggestion for making this a general observance among all the societies.

Father of an Ex-M.P. Dead.

An old resident of Peterborough county died at Dundas on Saturday, in the person of Mr. Hugh Bertram, father of Mr. John Bertram, an ex-M.P. for this riding. The deceased gentleman was well-known in Peterborough, although he did not reside in town, but just lived outside the limits, where he delighted in carrying on agriculture by scientific methods. He left here some years ago, as also did the rest of the family, but the remains are to be brought here for interment. The deceased was eighty years of age. The funeral is to take place from the C. P. R. Station on the arrival of the 11.30 train tomorrow morning.

The Town Schools.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—When the law provides that the municipal authorities cannot borrow money on debentures without first obtaining the consent of the people, is it not in order that large expenditures cannot be made or debts incurred without the sanction of those who will have to meet the obligations? This is recognized as a good principle in the law, and when the Board of Education asked the Town Council to raise $1,600 for the purpose of a school site the Council refused, because it was a capital expenditure that involved further expenditures and the Councillors thought that the people should be consulted regarding it in the manner provided by law.

Now, when the school debenture by-laws were voted on recently the people were told that $10,000 would build the school in the north and the addition to the south ward school and equip both of them. On this understanding the by-law was carried by a good majority. And what do we find now? The contract for the north ward school amounts to $5,600 and the lowest tender for the addition to the south ward school was $4,500. This alone would amount to more than the whole $10,000 the people were asked to provide, but it comes far short of what the Board proposes to expend. The site for the north ward school, with a year's interest, cost $1,700; the contract is for $5,600; the system of heating that is to be put in will cost about $1,300, the furniture and fittings, say $1,000, which, with the architect's fees and the salary of the clerk of the works, will bring the cost up to $10,000. Then the tender for the south ward addition is $4,500; the heating and ventilation system again $1,300; fittings and furniture say $500, and the fees of the architect and salary of the clerk of the works will bring the cost of this work up to $6,000. A question arises as to the judiciousness of this expenditure. A good building could be erected for this sum, yet when this proposed work is done will it be a good or convenient building? Why not do as was at first intended—put up an addition at a cost of $2,500 that would give the increased accommodation that is necessary? However, the total cost of the two buildings, as the work is now proposed to be done, will reach the high figures of $16,000, although the Board only asked the people for $10,000 and were authorized by the people to spend only that amount. In this calculation there is no provision for the inevitable extras, for probable loss on the debentures, or for interest until the proceeds of the debentures are available. When these items are added the total cost will not come far short of double the amount that was asked for.

Under these circumstances the Board should not go on with the work until another by-law is submitted to a vote of the people. If the Board can expend $7,000 or $8,000 more than the by-law authorizes, it might about as well have undertaken the work, when it was understood it would cost only $10,000, without consulting the people at all.

If this work is proceeded with now the vote becomes a farce. The people authorized the expenditure of $10,000, but if the Board finds that it has made a mistake, and that it needs $15,000 or $20,000, it should not treat the people with contempt and go on without asking their sanction for the expenditure of that amount of money. The people have rights in a matter like this that should be respected. They will have to foot the bill, and in submitting the $10,000 by-law to a vote the Board recognized those rights. Will it now go back on itself, ignore the people and in a high-handed manner carry this heavy extra expenditure through? I cannot believe it will do so. It would be an autocratic act that would contemptuously throw aside our free system of municipal and educational government and one that could not be defended. If the extra amount is required the Board should at once submit another by-law and give the people another opportunity of expressing their opinions.

THE CRONIN INVESTIGATION.

An Unwilling Witness—Peter McGeehan of Philadelphia on the Stand.

CHICAGO, June 8.—John Moss, a member of Camp No. 21 of the Clan-na-Gael, was put upon the witness stand in the coroner's investigation into the manner of Dr. Cronin's death this morning. At a meeting subsequent to the murder a resolution was presented in this camp denouncing the deed. Moss moved that it be tabled, remarking that "perhaps Dr. Cronin's removal was ordered by the executive committee." When called to the witness chair this morning and asked to give the name of the presiding officer of the camp he refused to do so, and by order of the coroner was taken into custody. Pending the arrival of the Sheriff's deputy, the witness gave evidence of great mental distress and finally signified his willingness to testify. He then said that the name of the presiding officer of his camp was William H. Joyce. When asked whether he would obey an order to remove any one he answered after a long pause: "No, sir."

Peter McGeehan was the next witness. He testified that he came to Chicago last February from Philadelphia; that he did not say before leaving that he was going on dangerous business for the executive. He came because he had had a row with a young fellow about a girl. Dr. Cronin came up to witness on the street once and accused him of being in the city to murder him (Cronin). Subsequently Cronin wrote the witness a note telling him to get out of the State or he would have him arrested. The witness declared that he was in Pullman on the night that Dr. Cronin was murdered. He was asked what number he took when he left Philadelphia. He replied that he did not take any number. He retained the number he previously had, which was No. 1. No. 2 was John O'Neil. No. 3 the witness did not know.

As soon as McGeehan had finished testifying and the coroner had announced that the inquest would stand adjourned until Monday morning at 10 o'clock, McGeehan was taken to the chief's private office, where the Carlsons, Dinan and Mrs. Conklin were allowed to take a look at him. None of them, however, identified him and he was allowed to go.

GAMBLING AND WOMEN.

Two Bad Habits Ruin a Promising Young San Francisco Politician.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—A sensation has been created here by the announcement that Morris C. Baum, secretary of the Republican county committee, is a fugitive in Europe, having left here $10,000 in notes bearing forged indorsements. Baum was a sharp young lawyer and had a large business but gambling and women ruined him. To pay his poker losses he drew notes and endorsed them with the name of his brother-in-law, Simon Anspacher. Besides the forged notes Baum left fully $10,000 in small debts to a score of friends. Baum left with Jessie Wiers, who has blackmailed some well-known people out of large sums.

OUR SUMMER CLOTHING BULLETIN.

Correct in style, Perfect in fit, Reliable in make and Right in price is the Clothing we offer you. Correct at the start and at the finish.

The requirements for each garment are—The material must be right, the cut of it right, the make of it right and, withal, the price must be right. Must be right at every stage of its construction, so that in the end 'twill be right. It requires no little attention, study and skill to keep to the track all the way through, but the result is recompense sufficient. Our prices and our goods both are right.

Correct in style—means more than fashionable in style, beautiful in style or sensible in style. It means all of 'em together. In such clothing as this you're neither "a guy," "a dude" or "a fellow of no style," but "A gentleman, sir, by his dress." Your garments are not "loud" enough to attract attention, but they're good enough to stand inspection, stylish enough to be "toney" and graceful enough to be beautiful.

As we've already said, our prices are right, so are our goods. And so, we think, is our way of selling 'em, since it allows the greater number to buy 'em. Do you want clothes? Then come to us.

'A Spring Message'
From the New Firm of
H. LeBRUN
& CO.
Sign of the Golden Horse-shoe.

The people of Peterborough and vicinity are all aware of the business change which took place in the CITY CLOTHING STORE on the first day of February last. The new firm beg leave to make their first bow to the public through the columns of the REVIEW, and to request a careful perusal of the following Spring and Summer circular:—

The City Clothing Store

in past years, by long experience in business, by buying always for spot cash, importing direct from the principal houses of the old country and from the leading houses of Canada, and by strict economy in conducting its business, has always been able to force prices down to an exceedingly fine point. The members of which the new firm is composed will form a still stronger "combine," by which the CITY CLOTHING STORE will be even better prepared to procure for its customers a continuation of those superior inducements in the future for which it has been noted in the past.

Men's Clothing.

The magnitude of our stock and lowness of prices gives us a great advantage over all other competitors in the trade. We carry in stock all the fast selling lines, styles and patterns, and can fit the tall, the short, the fat and the lean.

MORE SUITS, BETTER FABRICS, FINER STYLES than were ever handled before.

Special values in FINE SPRING OVERCOATS, and FINE SPRING and SUMMER SUITS. Don't fail to see them. The superb styles, workmanship, and the beautiful fabrics and patterns that we offer will surprise you.

Merchant Tailoring.

"For the apparel oft proclaims the man."

Fine dressers in search of new, neat and nobby OVERCOATINGS, SUITINGS or TROUSERINGS will find this department crowded to overflowing with cloth from all countries. To select from the largest assortment is an advantage we offer to our customers, backed up by the skill of experienced cutters and tailors. Besides perfect fit and first-class trimmings, we guarantee absolutely first-class workmanship.

Boys' and Youths' Clothing.

Clothing for the little ones—boys and children—has always been a specialty with us. We have always sought to give great values in this department, and to provide a larger and finer variety of goods for parents to select from than they could find elsewhere.

This means that we are showing a large assortment of BOYS' and CHILDREN'S SUITS, BOYS' and CHILDREN'S BLOUSES, SHIRT WAISTS, PANTS, &c.

This spring there are an unusual number of new and nobby styles and an enlarged variety of fabrics and patterns. Be sure and see our stock.

Gents' Furnishings.

Gentlemen of Peterborough seeking the latest styles and best values for their money, as well as an opportunity of selecting from the largest stock of Furnishing Goods, should not fail to visit this department at once. We offer the finest, best selected and the largest assortment of NECKWEAR, HOSIERY, UNDERWEAR, GLOVES, SHIRTS, HANDKERCHIEFS, etc., to be found in any first-class establishment.

The Great Metropolis.

The City of Toronto according to the census taken last year has now a population of 175,000, and is increasing at the rate of nearly 10,000 a year. An enormous amount of money is being expended in erecting new public buildings, as nearly five millions are necessary to erect the new Houses of Parliament and the new court house alone. Pleasure seekers and business men can take advantage of the St. Andrew's Society excursion on Thursday, the 20th instant, to spend two days if desired in Toronto. Tickets for round trip $2 00. Crib Work at the Goose Pond.

The crib work ordered by the Town Council is being built at the bay on Water-st. known as the Goose Pond. During the past few years the gully on the street at this place has been filled up considerably, but the action of the water retarded the efforts to benefit the street and the crib work became necessary. It is being constructed of cedar, in the form of one long pier, 400 feet long, loaded with stone. It is built on the line of the street and will be built five feet above the water. When it is finished the street will be protected and it will be in much better shape for filling up and widening. This is a work that was needed.

Whiskey Caused all His Trouble.

The man who was arrested in such a drunken state on Saturday charged with stealing a pair of pants from the store of Gough Bros. and six pairs of socks from Mr. P. D. Doran's and who gave his name as James Thompson, appeared before the Magistrate this morning when he was sober and gave his name as George Gordon. He pleaded guilty to the charge of larceny, but said he remembered nothing about it and would never have committed such an act if it had not been for the whiskey he had in him. His home was in St. John's, N.B., but he had lately lived in Napanee where he worked as a moulder. He came to Peterborough looking for work, and intended to buy a pair of pants, but got full and having spent all his money he took the trousers without paying for them. The man delivered quite a temperance lecture, holding himself up as the terrible example of the consequence of imbibing the fiery liquid, and said all the trouble he had ever had could be traced to drink. The Magistrate asked him if a Scotchman like he was with such a noble name could not open his hand and drop the glass and drink no more. "No," said Gordon, "I have drank too much and it has too great a hold on me to give it up." The Magistrate took a lenient view of the case and sentenced the man to one month in gaol at hard labor.

THE SEASON'S SPORTS.

The Maple Leafs Defeat the Trinity College School Eleven—Sporting Sparks.

The Maple Leaf eleven went to Port Hope on Saturday and defeated the second eleven of the College by 28 runs. The ground was very dead and a good display of batting was impossible, as the ball could not be made to travel. For Peterborough, who scored 27 and 33, Allison, Strike and Goldsmith were chief scorers, the bowling and fielding of the boys being excellent. The bowling of Turnbull and Hamilton was very deadly, 19 and 13 being all the boys could obtain. In the first innings Turnbull had 4 wickets for 3 runs, and Hamilton 5 for 15 In the second innings Hamilton was so hard to play that he got 8 wickets for 4 runs, Turnbull having 2 for 7. For the boys Barker had the best analysis, namely:—8 wickets for 11 runs (5 for 5 in second innings;) Sweatman had 6 for 28, Daunais 2 for 12, and Ghent 1 for 4.

What little fielding Peterboroughs had to do was better done than usual, there being no catches dropped. A catch at cover point by Jones, of Port Hope, deserves special motion.

The score was as follows:—

A scratch nine and the Ashburnhams played a match game of baseball on Riverside Park on Saturday evening, which resulted in a victory for the latter by a score of 10 to 5. Tabor and Evans were the battery for the scratch nine and Main and O'Brien did the work for the Ashburnhams.

A return match will be played with the Trinity College school eleven by the Mapleleafs on the P. A. A. A. grounds on Saturday next.

The races at London were indefinitely postponed on Saturday and the two-mile race in which "Royal Jim" was entered was not trotted.

A Brother Laid at Rest.

The funeral of the late George V. Walker took place yesterday afternoon from his residence to the Little Lake Cemetery, and the funeral cortege which followed the remains to their last resting place was large. The funeral was conducted under the auspices of the Masonic Order, and the brethren turned out in large numbers to pay their last sad respects to their departed brother. The Masons met at their hall at 2.30 and proceeded in a body to the house, Bro. D. H. Moore being director of ceremonies. Rev. E. F. Torrance conducted the service at the house. The pall bearers were:—W. Bro. R. E. Wood, Bro. J. R. Stratton, W. Bro. D. Belleghem, W. Bro. R. A. Morrow, W. Bro. H. Rush and V. W. Bro. W. Paterson. The coffin was covered with beautiful floral tributes. At the grave the solemn and impressive services of the Masonic Order, was read by Right W. Bro. Shortly, W. Bro. Rush and W. Bro. H. C. Rogers, while W. Bro. Brundrette led the singing.

PUPIL.—You bet. Lots. Rammin' 'em everywhere.

T. Name one!

P. Chemong Lake extension of G. T. R. Short line but expensive to build, that is the home end.

T. Is it open for traffic?

P. Just about. Will be on 18th June next. Big Masonic excursion over the line. Let off at Chemong Lake new wharf.

T. Do excursions remain all day at the lake?

P. Not much. Decidedly not, this one goes on or gets on steamer Beauboenge and palace barge Paloma. Sails away o'er the sparkling waters, and so on, to Jacob's Island and Bobcaygeon. Fare for the round trip, 75 cents, children 40 cents. I'm going.

T. For what is Bobcaygeon noted?

P. Rocks. Said to be the place where Noah threw overboard the ballast out of the ark. Lots of big rocks. Then there's fish and newspapers, specially the latter.

T. That will do. You're well grounded. By all means attend the excursion.

A SUNDAY'S SERVICES.

Dr. Clarke at St. John's—The Services in Other Churches and Other Notes.

Yesterday was a dark and gloomy Sunday, but the churches were all well attended both morning and evening. In the Methodist Churches the pastors were absent at the Conference and their pulpits were occupied by strangers.

At St. John's.

It was Whit-Sunday and as such was duly solemnized in the Episcopalian Churches with the usual appointed services. At St. John's Dr. Clarke, of Trinity University, Toronto, was present at both services. In the morning he assisted in the services and in the evening he preached an eloquent and appropriate sermon, the theme of which was the event which is commemorated by the observance of Whit-sunday. The rev. gentleman based his discourse on the words:—

"That the Lord God might dwell among them."—Psalm lxviii, 18.

In opening the rev. gentleman said "and will God dwell with man?" Such was the question of Solomon when dedicating the temple which God had allowed him to erect, and such was the question which could be asked at the present time and especially on an occasion such as that day. "Will God dwell with man?" This was the question, he said, which had been often asked and one which would be often asked and one which was often suggested to the mind and would have to be answered. Did Solomon, or did they, doubt that God did dwell on earth before the Pentecost. No, neither did Solomon nor did they, but the descent of the Holy Spirit was the culminating point, and gave sacredness and power to the day which they were commemorating by that service. Then the rev. gentleman proceeded to consider as his first point, that God did not on the day of Pentecost dwell for the first time upon the earth. To imagine, the preacher said, that God created the earth and then left it, was to err in the truth. There was nothing in this world which was not to speak to them of God. Not only in creation was He to manifest Himself, but also in His acts of providence. It was asked how God would manifest Himself to man if there had been no fall. But, he said, God did not ignore or condemn the sin of man by revealing Himself to mankind. God never let man forget that he was His offspring and his child, but they might not, at the same time, be children of God. It was one great purpose of God to keep alive, on the one side, this sense of alliance, and, on the other side, this sense of alienation. He told them that in studying the acts of God, they must not forget that in all His workings

HE HAD A DOUBLE PURPOSE.

When He gave the laws, prophecies and commandments to the people, while they were for an educational purpose to those unto whom they were given, yet they were also intended to point them forward to a future when He would be revealed to them by the sacrifice on the Cross. When the Word was made flesh and He dwelt among men, then God spoke to their hearts and their eyes beheld the glory of God as they never knew it before. When men knew that the heart of God was beating in a human breast and was melting as he looked on them with human sympathy, then they knew that God had come to dwell among them. A thought appropriate to the day was the promise that God had given that He would come again. Then the rev. gentleman spoke of some of the characteristics of this dwelling of God's Spirit on earth. It was an inward dwelling. It was the inward part, the heart, that determined what the man was. They did not judge a man, if they were just and righteous, from what he wore or how much he possessed, but it was the inward part which evidenced what a man was before God and in the righteous judgment of his fellows. When Jesus Christ came into this world they saw and felt his power, but the Holy Ghost came not as an object but to dwell in the temple of their hearts. Then how sacred was their heart. This was not, he said, only an inward presence, but was also a universal dwelling. How they would have been embarrassed if, as they naturally but unwisely wished, God had remained on earth in person. He could not have been here and everywhere, but instead of this God had lifted His Son up into Heaven and sent His Spirit to dwell everywhere—here in the western hemisphere, in the eastern hemisphere, and to abide with the ships on the ocean. Some of them had been born perhaps a thousand miles from here, some in the country, others in the crowded city, but God's spirit was there in the quiet country or in the seething city and He was in that church. This was one of the great gifts of the Pentecost to know that Christ was everywhere, reproving, guarding, sprinkling, approving and guiding, and he impressed upon them the sacredness of the Word God had sent to them, and told them they should not think that when they went out of the church of God they were going from a sacred to a profane place. Far from it, for they should always remember that the whole world was the temple of God. In closing he told them that not only was this an inward and universal dwelling, but it was also an abiding one, and at some length he dwelt on this point, speaking of God's promises to dwell with the church and each individually forever. He asked them if the Spirit had come to them and brought them to cast themselves at the feet of Christ and throne of God and caused them to say by God's help I will sin no more. Whit-Sunday had no meaning for them unless the Spirit had done this, for they could not even thank God for His unspeakable gift unless they knew His power to sanctify.

Other Churches.

Dr. Clark lectures in the school house of St. John's Church this evening on "The Water Babies."

At St. Luke's Church the usual Whit Sunday services were observed, and Rev. W. Grant, B.D., of Toronto, officiated at both services.

Rev Joseph Spence, of Toronto, brother of Mr. Frank Spence, the temperance orator, preached at both services at the Charlotte-st. Church.

The Mark-st. Methodist Church pulpit was occupied in the morning by Mr. F. C. Colbeck, B.A., who preached an excellent sermon, and in the evening by Mr. James Hannah.

At St. Paul's church yesterday morning Rev. E. F. Torrance preached a special sermon to the children, which was interesting and appropriate and was listened to with attention by the young folks present.

At St. Peter's Cathedral yesterday at early Mass the children who were to be confirmed received communion in a body, and after the half past ten o'clock Mass the interesting and impressive ceremony of confirmation was solemnized, over one hundred and fifty children being confirmed. His Lordship Bishop O'Connor addressed the young people before the ceremony, impressing upon them their duties to the church and the solemn and sacred nature of the step they were about to take. His Lordship performed the ceremony, and also pontificated at the Mass, assisted by Rev. Fathers Dube and Cotey. A pleasing change was made yesterday in the services. The choir boys who were recently introduced into the early Mass will now appear only every other Sabbath, the girls from the convent singing on the other Sabbaths. They took their part in the service for the first time yesterday.

A Great Day.

QUASHED.

The High License By-law not Legally Adopted by the Electors.

Mr. Justice Rose delivered judgement late on Saturday afternoon, says the Toronto Empire, upon the application argued before him at Osgoode Hall on Friday to quash the by-law recently passed by the municipal council of the town of Peterborough after being submitted to the electors, making the duties payable for liquor licenses in the town $300, $400 and $600 for shop, tavern and saloon licenses respectively, and thus inaugurating a policy of high license.

The motion to quash was rested upon the ground that the by-law had not been legally adopted by the electors, the votes of certain leaseholders having been rejected at the polls, and the sole question was: What leaseholders were entitled to vote? Section 42 of the Liquor License Act, R. S. O. 1887, ch. 194, is as follows: "The council of any municipality may, by by-law to be passed before the first of March in any year, require a larger duty to be paid for tavern or shop licenses therein, but not in excess of $200 in the whole, unless the the by-law has been approved by the electors in the manner provided by the Municipal Act with respect to by-laws which, before their final passing, require the assent of the electors of the municipality." The instructions given to the deputy returning officers were to accept the votes of all freeholders and all tenants or householders whose leases covered the period from the date of the vote to April 30, 1890. This was on the assumption that sec. 299 of the Municipal Act, R. S. O., ch. 184, governed as to leaseholders and that no leaseholder was qualified to vote unless his lease extended for at least a year, within which time the first license fees would be paid.

Mr. Justice Rose now holds that this section 299 does not apply, as it was not passed with reference to any revenue by-law, but for imposing a rate, and the language is not applicable to such a by-law as this. He decides the case by reference to another provision of the Liquor License Act, remarking as follows: Upon looking at the various sections of chapter 194 I observed that section 11, sub-sec. 14, provides that "No license shall be granted to any applicant for premises not then under license or shall be transferred to such premises if a majority of the persons duly qualified to vote as electors in the sub-division at an election for a member of the Legislative Assembly petition against it," etc. I think that I must read "Electors" in that subsection and in section 42 as referring to the same class, and full effect can then be given to the language of section 42 by confining the application of the clauses of the Municipal Act to "the manner" of holding the election. And I come to this conclusion the more readily as the subject legislated upon by the Liquor License Act is rather one of morals and police regulation than of finance, and as all residents in the municipality have an interest in the question whether they be property owners or not. Reference to sec. 5 of ch. 106, R S.C., the Canada Temperance Act, shows that "electors" in the voting to be had under such Act is a term meaning "electors qualified and competent to vote at the election of a member of the House of Commons." It is clear, if I have arrived at the right conclusion, the by-law in question has not been submitted to the electors, and they have not had an opportunity to vote upon it, and as it has not been approved by the electors and must be quashed. See re Paxton and Simcoe, 10 O.R., 27. The order will be with costs. Counsel: Poussette, Q.C., for the applicant. R. B. Edwards for the town of Peterborough.

The case will probably be appealed to the court of the Queen's Bench by the town.

MONDAY, JUNE 10, 1889.

PRETTY SISTER OF JOSE.

By FRANCES HODGSON BURNETT.

Author of "Little Lord Fauntleroy," "That Lass O'Lowries," &c. &c.

Jose broke a piece of bread and crumbled it on the table mechanically.

"You need not have done that," he said. "I wish you had left it in its place. It did no hurt, and we shall not see him again. He is not coming any more. And soon he goes away; and who knows what may happen?"

Pepita walked out of the house without speaking. She did not come back for a long time, and they did not know where she had gone; but as that was her way when she was in a naughty humour, they were not anxious about her.

When she returned at last the moon was shining again, and Jovita was asleep in the shadow of the vines, and Jose sat on the bench outside the door smoking.

Pepita sat down on the threshold and rested her head against the side of the door. She said nothing at all, and only looked out at the dew-laden flowers sparkling in the garden.

There was silence for several minutes, and then Jose turned uneasily and spoke.

"Yes," he said, "he will not come again; and soon he goes away. It is for the best. He is very strong and determined. Perhaps that comes of fighting bulls. He said he wanted you but you did not want him, so he must forget about you. He must cease to think of you or hear of you. He asked me as a friend not to let him see me for awhile until it was over. To see me would remind him of you, and that would not do. He asked it as a friend—there was no unkindness—he is my friend, yet, though he is Sebastiano and I am only a poor fellow who works hard. It will all be as well as ever between us when it is all done with and we meet again. If you had wanted him we should have been brothers."

Pepita sat still. What strange thing had happened her? She did not know. Something was the matter with her breathing. Something hurt her side—labored in it with heavy beatings like blows which suffocated her. She shut her hands and drove the nails into her palms. She could not have spoken for the world.

Before Jose could say more she rose with fierce suddenness and passed him and was gone again.

The poor fellow looked after her small swift form mournfully.

"If she had wanted him," he said, "he would have made her a good husband, and we should have been brothers. But she is not easy to please, and she would not give one a chance who did not please her at first. And there is no one who slays a bull as he does!"

Pepita flew like a bird until she reached the low wall where the jasmine grew, at the spot where she had stood the night before. There she stopped—panting. The breath of the jasmine filled all the air about her. She looked up the white road. A strange new passion filled her. She did not know whether it was anger or not, but if it was anger it was of a new kind, with more pain in it than she was used to. He would not come again—not at all again! He would not appear at her side as if he had sprung from the earth—he would not follow her or plead with her—he would not try to make her speak. Only last night he was here in this very spot, and now he would never speak like that again. He would forget her—not care for her—forget her—Pepita.

She would not believe it. She knew he could not—they never did—they always loved her best and wanted no one else. And still the laboured throbbing went on in her side and she panted for breath.

"Come back," she cried, looking up the white road. "I tell you to come back. You shall. Do you hear? I tell you—I—Pepita!"

But there was no answer—no sound of any footstep—no sign of any advancing shadow. The road stretched out its white length in utter solitude, and a strange, wild look came into her beautiful little face.

"Do you not hear?" she persisted. "I will not speak to you if you do come—I will give you nothing—I will not look at you—but you shall come because I will it—because I am Pepita."

Still there was only silence and loneliness. Suddenly she flung out her hands and stamped her feet.

"I will kill you!" she said. "If you do not come—I will kill you!"

Then almost immediately she put her clenched hand to her beating side and sank down upon the earth burying her face in the dew-wet fragrant tangle of the jasmine.

But he did not come back. And yet every night she went and stood by the low wall and looked up the white road and watched and waited. For a long time she did not know what she intended to do if he should appear. At first it seemed only as if her whole being went out into the fierce demand that he should come, and the obstinate proud belief that it must be as she wished—that he could not resist and disobey her.

To be Continued.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

DOWN TO DEATH.

The Cataract at Niagara Claims Two Victims Sunday Afternoon.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., June 9.—The mighty cataract claimed two more victims this afternoon in the persons of "Jack" Walker and "Jerry" Davey of Niagara Falls, N.Y., aged respectively 29 and 25, unmarried, and who followed the life of "rivermen." About 2.30 this afternoon the two men started in their boat to cross the river to Chippawa from Point Day above the falls on the American side. Both of them were under the influence of liquor, it is said, when starting. Visitors on Goat Island saw them going down to destruction and death, clinging to their boat, which was being tossed about like a cork in the rapids. Down flew the frail craft with the rushing torrent. When reaching the brink of the falls it shot over the centre of the Horseshoe Falls, the men clinging to it.

One Year in Prison.

HAMILTON, June 8.—George Myers and John Bradley were arraigned this morning before the Police Magistrate on a charge of assaulting and robbing Robert Stonehouse on Wednesday night last. The Magistrate found Myers guilty and sentenced him to one year in Central Prison. He found Bradley not guilty.

Shipwreck and Loss of Life.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—Advices from Auckland say the steel ship Altmore, bound from Sidney to San Francisco, struck a reef off the Fiji Islands the night of April 22. The crew attempted to land but were prevented by natives. The next day the second mate, with several passengers, including a woman and four children, and six of the crew, left in the lifeboat and cutter for the island of Suva, 160 miles distant. As they had not reached that point up to latest advices it is feared they were drowned. The captain and remainder of the crew were taken off by a schooner, except R. B. Turnbull, the chief officer, who was drowned.

A Free Fight at Windsor.

WINDSOR, June 9.—Yesterday afternoon a free fight took place between Editor Pacaud of Le Progres and Denis Gauthier of the Railroad Hotel. The latter was fined for selling liquor unlawfully and claims that he paid Pacaud, some time ago, money to guarantee him from all prosecution. Pacaud was at the time Inspector for North Essex. Gauthier entered Le Progres office with blood in his eye, but the pugilists were separated without doing much damage. The case will be settled in the courts.

Fooled With Firearms.

MALDEN, June 9.—While James Moore and his wife were away from home the other day two of their children commenced fooling with the guns of their father. While handling one it discharged and the full charge of shot struck the younger girl in the right thigh close up to the body, tearing the limb almost completely off and smashing the hip bone. She gradually bled to death. Some of the shot scattered and struck a little boy named James, aged 5, who was playing near by, in both legs below the knees. The shot was extracted and he will soon be all right.

"There was a frog who lived in a spring.
He caught such a cold he could not sing."

Poor, unfortunate Batrachian! In what a sad plight he must have been. And yet his misfortune was one that often befalls singers. Many a once tuneful voice among those who belong to the "genus homo" is utterly spoiled by "cold in the head," or on the lungs, or both combined. For the above mentioned "croaker" we are not aware that any remedy was ever devised; but we are glad to know that human singers may keep their heads clear and throats in tune by the timely use of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, both of which are sold by druggists.

Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures the worst cases of Catarrh in the Head, no matter of how long standing, while for all laryngeal, bronchial, throat and lung affections, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is positively unequaled. It cures the worst lingering coughs and builds up the flesh and strength of those who have been reduced by wasting diseases. It is guaranteed to benefit or cure in all diseases for which it is recommended, if taken in time and given a fair trial, or money paid for it refunded.

EPPS'S COCOA

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette

DRIFT FROM THE FLOOD.

JOHNSTOWN'S NATIONAL BANK OPENS FOR BUSINESS.

A Pastor Who Lost 113 of His Congregation—Money Coming in but Still Needed—Governor Beaver Sizes up the Situation.

JOHNSTOWN, June 11.—The First National Bank has opened for business. Much trouble has been occasioned by the inability to get money here. The Cambria Iron Company will be ready to start in all departments in about two weeks, but it will take until October before the Gautier mill will be ready to run. Sixteen bodies were recovered yesterday morning and but five were identified. Rev. Father Trautmein, pastor of the Church of the Immaculate Conception, reports that out of a congregation of 950 he has lost 113 and thinks the drowned will reach 150. The train from Pittsburg yesterday morning brought a large crew, among which were 200 axemen from Michigan, who were put at once to work on the heavy timbers above the bridge.

Lock Haven Appeals for Aid.

LOCK HAVEN, Pa., June 11.—At a meeting of the citizens yesterday, an appeal for aid was made to the people of the United States.

Money Still Needed.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Surgeon-General Hamilton, who has returned from Johnstown says that the water supply there is pure and wholesome and there is little danger of an epidemic. Dr. Hamilton says charitable people ought not to come their contributions of money for some weeks to come. The doctor thinks the drift and the debris will be cleared up in ten days. He denied that animals are allowed to float down the river from the drift. The drift pack, he says, cannot now be well burned, and if it could it would only be to the water soaked portion and this would not release the bodies. There is no use in attempting to disinfect the drift and the only way to cure the evil is its removal.

To Clear the Streams.

PHILADELPHIA, June 11.—Governor Beaver returned to this city from Johnstown yesterday afternoon and held another conference with Mayor Fitler. A copy of a bond of indemnity prepared by the two gentlemen was given out. The document declares that James A. Beaver has given his bond to State Treasurer Hart in the penal sum of $1,000,000 conditioned for the payment of whatever money may be advanced by Hart for the purpose of clearing the streams and abating public nuisances which threaten the health and safety of the people caused by the destructive floods in the Conemaugh and West Branch valleys. The bond pledges each one who signs it to guarantee the payment of $5000 in case only 200 sign it or a less sum in case the bondsmen exceed that number. This guarantee is to be binding only in case the Legislature fails to make an appropriation for the work in question. Mayor Fitler says that 500 Philadelphians are ready to sign the bond. Governor Beaver thinks that the cost of the work proposed will not exceed the cost to the State of calling an extra session of the Legislature to make an appropriation which would be about $250,000. The Governor believes the Legislature at its next session will make the appropriation desired.

Chicago Will give $100,000.

CHICAGO, June 11.—The Johnstown fund was increased to $90,587 yesterday. It will go over $100,000.

A Cheering Prospect.

WILLIAMSPORT, June 11.—Lumbermen here are much cheered by the prospect of recovering 100,000,000 feet of logs which were carried away by the flood.

THE HORROR AT THE "Y."

Verdict of the Coroner's Jury on the Junction Cut Disaster.

HAMILTON, June 10.—The inquest into the cause of the railway accident at the Junction Cut on April 28 was concluded to-night. The verdict was:

"That the accident was caused by the breaking of the flange of the leading wheel of the engine truck, which caused the train to leave the track, and that the rate of speed at which the train was running had a great deal to do with the cause of the accident, and recommend that on all curves with a switch on a downward grade trains should not run at a greater speed than 20 miles an hour. The jury is also of the opinion that greater efforts could have been made to prevent the cremation of the twenty victims of the accident and suggests that the Government appoint a competent person to inspect all cases of accident in which there has been a loss of life before anything whatever is removed further than may be necessary to rescue the bodies."

THE QUEBEC ELECTIONS.

Is Premier Mercier Getting Ready for a Contest in the Fall.

MONTREAL, June 11.—The Star last night said: "Reliable information received today in well informed circles leaves no room for doubt that Premier Mercier is hard at work preparing for a short autumn session and general elections immediately after. Among his friends it is to put an end to dissensions in the party by inviting all the different elements of the party to fall into line in the sequence of the Opposition."

A YEAR OF STEADY GROWTH.

Report of the Statistical Secretary of the Congregational Union.

BRANTFORD, June 11.—At the session of the Congregational Union of Ontario and Quebec yesterday Rev. Mr. Robertson gave the statistical secretary's report. It was a year of steady advance; eleven pastors were settled, 989 members were added, only nine churches reporting no increase. The losses numbered 550, a net gain of 436. The financial value of church edifices is $669,400, parsonages $48,100, amount of debt on property $156,830, amount raised for local church purposes $102,733, home missions $3357, foreign missions $2280, college $2410: net increase $3584; general, pastors in office 63, stations without churches 40, preaching stations 118, average attendance 15,960, total under pastoral care 26,375. The Sunday school report shows 6605 scholars, 796 teachers.

CROP PROSPECTS.

June Returns of the United States Department of Agriculture.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—The June returns of the Department of Agriculture show a slight increase in winter wheat area seeded, but the breadth harvested may be possibly a million acres more than in the last crop, largely from Kansas and California. The condition of winter wheat still remains comparatively high, though it has fallen three points during the last month and averages 93 for the country. The area of spring wheat has apparently increased about 3 per cent. The condition of spring wheat is high, except in parts of Dakota where it has suffered from drought. The average is nearly 95 for the entire spring wheat breadth. An increase of two to three per cent. in the area of oats is reported, while condition is seven points below the normal condition of fall crops. The area of barley is about the same as last year and its average of condition 95. Rye has made no perceptible advance in area and its general average of condition is 95.

King Cotton.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—The June report of the Department of Agriculture indicates a slight reduction in the area of cotton on the Atlantic coast and an increase west of the State of Alabama. Frosts are reported in May, some as late as the 30th, throughout the cotton belt. Conditions therefore are relatively low. The general average is 86.4. Rains on the last days of May were expected to improve the condition materially.

A Remarkable Extradition Case.

NEW YORK, June 11.—The World says the West Coast Telphone Company have received information from Santiago, Chili, that after a long fight the courts there have sanctioned the extradition of William Bushnell, alias Hanson, and he has been handed over to Detective Reilly who left New York in October, 1888. He arrested Hanson for a ten-year-old forgery of $36,000 on Butler, Stillman & Hubbard after he had succeeded under the name of Hanson in stealing $25,000 from the West Coast Telephone Company of which he was agent in Chili. The case is one of the most extraordinary extradition cases in years. There is no treaty between the United States and Chili and the prisoner is delivered as an act of courtesy to Uncle Sam. The man made many friends in Santiago. The town took sides and a duel was fought and wagers of thousands of dollars were made that he would never be brought back to New York.

They Favored Reciprocity.

ST. PAUL, June 11.—The United States Senate Committee on relations with Canada met representatives of this city yesterday. The general tendency of the testimony was in favor of reciprocity with Canada. Capt. Bowen, representing several lumber companies which cut about 40,000,000 feet a year, was not in favor of free lumber. He spoke of the cheapness of labor in Canada. Lumbermen he said who came from the eastern provinces of Canada receive $22 to $26 a month in Wisconsin and Minnesota. In Canada they received only $12 to $16 per month.

Gen. R. F. Drake favored political union with Canada.

Paris News.

PARIS, June 11.—The Agrarian Congress opened here yesterday. Mr. Saunders was elected American Secretary. Henry George made an address in which he referred to land reform as the starting point of social reform.

Deputy Richard, arrested with other deputies and citizens for protesting against the action of the authorities in prohibiting a proposed Boulangist meeting at Angouleme, has been released.

Jumped the Track.

ST. LOUIS, June 11.—An Iron Mountain passenger train entering the city last night jumped the track and dashed into a building, doing considerable damage and killing John Gebhard. No passengers were hurt. Engineer Diement was terribly scalded. Frank Carr, fireman, had a leg and arm broken, and James Trainer, brakeman, was seriously injured.

Hot Weather in New York.

NEW YORK, June 11.—Yesterday was even more oppressively hot than Sunday. One adult died from heat in Brooklyn and one infant in this city. About a dozen cases of heat prostration in both cities were reported. The temperature here at 2.30 p.m. was 93.

Both are Dead.

IOWA CITY, June 11.—Near this city yesterday one Hodge, a pauper, fatally shot Henry McCarter, postmaster of Green Centre and overseer of the poor, in a quarrel about money due from the county to Hodge. The citizens, in trying to arrest Hodge, shot him dead.

Murder in New York.

NEW YORK, June 11.—In a quarrel here last night Joseph Campbell fatally stabbed Margaret Jackson (colored). Campbell was arrested.

BACKED UP BY A CHECK.

A MONTREALER'S PETITION TO THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL.

He Asks That the Jesuits' Acts Be Referred to the Supreme Court For an Opinion and Puts Up $5000 to Pay the Costs.

OTTAWA, June 11.—Considerable excitement was occasioned yesterday by the arrival here of Mr. Hugh Graham of Montreal, accompanied by Messrs. D. MacMaster, Q.C., R. D. McGibbon, Q.C., and B. Walwater, Q.C. The movements of the party were mysterious, but it was learned late last evening that the gentlemen named called at the Department of State and filed a petion asking for a reference of the Jesuit acts to the Supreme Court of Canada under a section of the law constituting the court. The petition was accompanied by a certified check on the Bank of Montreal there for $5000. The petition was immediately laid before the Privy Council, which was in session yesterday afternoon. The gentlemen had also an interview with Sir John Macdonald. The following is the full text of the petition:

To His Excellency the Governor-General of Canada-in-Council:

The humble petition of Hugh Graham of the City of Montreal, journalist, respectfully represents:

1. That grave doubts have been expressed and exist regarding the legality and constitutionality of the acts of the Legislature of the Province of Quebec intituled respectively, "An Act to Incorporate the Society of Jesus" (50 Vic., Cap. 13), and "An Act Respecting the Settlement of the Jesuits' Estates" (51-52 Vic., Cap. 13).

2. That it is desirable that an opinion should be pronounced upon these acts by the highest judicial tribunal in the Dominion.

3. That your petitioner, who is a citizen of the Dominion of Canada, and a taxpayer of the Province of Quebec, acting on his own behalf and on behalf of others, is desirous that the powers conferred upon Your Excellency-in-Council by section 73 of the "Supreme and Exchequer Court Act" (Revised Statutes of Canada, chapter 135), which reads as follows: "The Governor-in-Council may refer to the Supreme Court for hearing or consideration any matter which he thinks fit to refer, and the court shall thereupon hear or consider the same and certify their opinion thereon to the Governor-in-Council," should be exercised in order that counsel may be heard by the said court upon the said questions.

4. That in order to avoid any question with respect to provision being made by Your Excellency-in-Council for the expenses incidental to such reference, your petitioner declares the willingness of himself and those associated with him to bear the necessary costs of the Government, and as an evidence of such willingness your petitioner herewith deposits his certified check on the Bank of Montreal, Ottawa, payable to the order of J. M. Courtney, Deputy Minister of Finance, for the sum of five thousand dollars ($5000).

And your petitioner, as in duty bound, will ever pray.

It is not known what action was taken by the Government, but it is freely stated that a lengthy and stormy session of the Cabinet was held.

LONDON THE LESS.

A Brace of Accidents—Serious Shooting Affray at Komoka.

LONDON, June 11.—Charles Nichols, bookkeeper in the sheriff's office, narrowly escaped serious injuries yesterday. He was driving Sheriff Glass' spirited roadster when the animal got beyond his control and threw him out with terrible force on the hard road. He was picked up in an insensible condition and was subsequently taken to his home.

The steam hoist in the McClary Company's works fell a distance of about 16 feet yesterday with three men on it. The only one injured was John Packham, who had his hand lacerated and was bruised and shaken in the fall. He was just recovering from injuries of a more serious character received at the fire a few months ago.

Early Sunday morning at Komoka several young men rather the worse of liquor commenced kicking the door and throwing stones at the house of a man named W. Brown when Brown made his appearance with a revolver in his hand and fired three shots at the rowdies, two of which hit one of the gang named Morrison. One caused a flesh wound and the other took effect on the forehead, destroying the left eye. Morrison is at present in a very critical condition. W. Brown runs an eating house in the city in King-street, near Ridout-street.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

Returns of Chinese Immigration—A Big Claim Against the Government.

OTTAWA, June 11.—The Customs Department received yesterday the returns of Chinese immigrants arriving in the country during the month of May. The number was considerably smaller than last year. The money collected was $5075. All the new arrivals were registered at Vancouver, B.C.

Stuart Tupper of Winnipeg and Inspector Young of the Customs Department, Manitoba, arrived here yesterday on business with the Government.

Messrs. J. C. Ayer & Co. of Lowell, Mass., have entered a claim for $125,000 against the Dominion Government for damages sustained through the illegal seizure of their preparations at St. John's, Quebec, Montreal, Toronto and Hamilton several years ago.

Mr. G. W. Monk, M.L.A. for Carleton, is lying at his home very ill.

Ambitious City Notes.

HAMILTON, June 11.—The City Solicitor is of opinion that the City Council has no power to grant money to assist in getting up a summer carnival, so the resolution recently passed by that body giving the Carnival Committee $1750 will have to be rescinded.

The time for receiving the competitive plans for the Hamilton Public Library building expired yesterday at noon.

At yesterday morning's session of the Police Court another charge against Frank Rowlin for boiling bones, etc., and conducting a noxious and offensive business was heard. The evidence was about the same as given in the other cases. Further evidence will be taken in the case on Thursday.

Pretty But Unbalanced.

WINDSOR, June 10.—A young French girl was found by a patrolman wandering aimlessly about the streets on Saturday evening. She was taken to Police Headquarters, where she said her name was Angeline Ribeneau, 10 years old. On being closely questioned she said she had run away from home in Toronto and had been wandering around Detroit for four days. She is exceedingly pretty, but the police are of opinion that her mind is affected. Her father, who is said to be a well-to-do man, has been telegraphed for.

Doctors Indicted.

NEW YORK, June 11.—The grand jury has found indictments against Doctors Irwin, Ferguson and Hance, who performed the autopsy on the body of Washington Irving Bishop, the mind-reader, for violation of the sanitary law.

TORONTO TOPICS.

County Crown Attorney McMillan Disrobed—A Week of Conventions.

TORONTO, June 11.—Most of the striking bakers have returned to work, having received the union's sanction to resume. To-night the master bakers hold a meeting and simultaneously the journeymen will assemble. It is thought the strike will then be declared off, the masters holding the winning card.

High Constable John Hurst of Brampton came down to Toronto yesterday morning for Frank Rutledge, the young man arrested here a few days ago on suspicion of having stolen a quantity of goods from a Streetsville merchant.

At St. Thomas yesterday the young man arrested here recently, George A. Criswold, pleaded guilty to two charges of burglary and there are two more charges yet to be preferred against him—one for burglarizing the Penwarden Hotel at St. Thomas and the other for a job at London.

John J. Sadler was yesterday afternoon handed over to Constable McAuley, of Kingston, to be taken to the Limestone City for trial on a charge of fraud. Sadler claims that he is innocent.

Last fall Messrs. Quinn & Henry, barristers, Toronto, obtained an order at Osgoode Hall to compel John P. McMillan, County Crown Attorney, Orangeville, to pay over certain clients' money or be struck off the roll. The time given passed and the money demanded was not paid over. In March last the order applied for was duly granted by which Solicitor John P. McMillan would lose his gown if carried out. The parties acting for the interested clients who were trying to obtain their money gave Mr. McMillan until yesterday to pay over the funds. The order was not taken out, but yesterday morning when Mr. McMillan did not come to time it was demanded. The order was then duly issued, striking Mr. McMillan from the roll of solicitors of the Supreme Court of Judicature for Ontario, which, after the observance of some formalities, will deprive the County Crown Attorney of his robe.

Alexander Smith, a clerk in the House of Industry, was yesterday forenoon taken into custody on a charge of larceny.

Annie Healey, a woman 76 years old, fell on the sidewalk on Queen-street east and fractured her ankle. She was removed to the hospital.

Eight dollars in cash and a check for $17 and a number of gold ornaments were successfuly pilfered from Barker's confectionery store on Yonge-street, at an early hour yesterday morning.

Mr. Justice McMahon yesterday morning opened the Civil Assizes, at which there was a long docket, but no cases ready. The judge expressed much displeasure thereat and at once fixed a limit in the period for jury cases. To-day, said he, if plaintiffs in the cases called are not ready their actions will be dismissed. There are 98 non-jury and 75 jury cases.

City tobacconists and others, by way of petition, protested to the City Council last night against the recent seizures of tobacco by Inland Revenue officers and praying for the appointment of a special committee to investigate the justice of the seizures.

Cook's Presbyterian Church, by a vote of 204 to 112, has decided to use hymns in the service of the church as well as psalms.

The City Council last night voted $3000 to the Johnstown sufferers.

Toronto may well be called the convention city. On the list for to-day are the anti-Jesuit Convention, the Anglican Synod, the Oddfellows' Conference, the Woman's Christian Temperance Union and the Methodist Conference, and to-morrow the session of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church will begin.

TRADE AND TRAFFIC.

Leading Features of the Grain and Produce Markets at Home and Abroad.

TORONTO, July 11.—Flour—There is only a small demand, and prices are unchanged.

Wheat—is a little firmer. No. 1 hard is quoted at $1.08 and $1.09. No. 2 fall is held here at 95 cents, and outside on the Northern at 90 cents. No. 2 spring is quoted at 95 on the Midland.

Bran—The market is dull. Holders offer at $8.50 outside, but buyers refuse.

Barley—So little is doing that prices are merely nominal.

Oats—There is a fair demand and prices are firm. Good mixed are quoted at 31 cents.

Peas—The demand is slightly better and prices are steady at 53 cents outside.

Butter—The receipts continue large. In fact, too much roll butter is coming in, and is not bringing what it is worth, for the reason that dealers find it difficult to keep during this sort of weather. Rolls are quoted at 13 to 14 cents.

Lard—Quiet and unchanged. American is quoted at 9¾ to 10½ cents.

Cheese—The market is quiet and prices steady at 9 to 10 cents.

Eggs—Receipts are large and prices unchanged at 11½ cents.

Potatoes—The supply is fair with a moderate demand. Prices are firm at 30 to 32 cents.

Very little was offered on St. Lawrence Market yesterday and prices were unchanged. The receipts of hay were fair, the demand moderate and prices steady at $12 to $15. Straw sold at $10 to $11. The only grain offered was 200 bushels of barley and it sold at 46 to 56 cents.

BARLEY.

Oswego reports: Barley unchanged. No. 1 Canada held at 70c; No. 2 extra Canada at 65c. Sales—1000 bushels Canada by sample at 69c. Canal freights, 2¼c to New York.

Yesterday being a holiday on the London and Liverpool markets, there are no quotations from these sources.

THE CHEESE MARKETS.

A FAITHLESS WIFE.

CAPTURED BY HER HUSBAND AND A POLICEMAN.

An Exciting Sunday Chase in the Queen City—Domestic Troubles of a Newly Married Couple.

TORONTO, June 11.—Mr. A. E. Cowell, a carpenter employed by Messrs. Witherow & Hillock, who resides at No. 17 Farley avenue, lost his wife on Sunday under peculiar circumstances, that will in all probability result in a crim. con. suit at the Assizes, always providing that the information given to the authorities turns out to be correct. Mr. Cowell says he was married about three months ago, after a short courtship, and lived happily with his wife until certain little acts on her part aroused his suspicions and he determined to watch her. Sunday morning after breakfast Mrs. Cowell announced that she was going to the house of her brother-in-law on Front-street, and when the husband offered to accompany her she made some excuse and advised him to remain at home and have a nice quiet rest. She left him with a kiss and a smile, but her manner did not altogether satisfy him, and he quietly slipped out after her.

Instead of going to the house of her brother-in-law, she called at Verrall's stable, where she engaged a coupe and then drove hurriedly eastward. Believing that his terrible suspicions were about to be confirmed, Mr. Colwell followed the coupe as far as Sherbourne-street, when he lost sight of it, and then he told his story to Constable Dodds, whom he met on King-street. The officer accompanied the distracted husband in his search for his unfaithful wife, and finally found the coupe driver, who stated that he had driven the woman to a certain house in Duchess-street. Cowell proceeded to this place with the constable and arrived in time to see his wife driving on to Sherbourne-street with a young man. Dodds ordered the driver to pull up his horse, but instead of doing so he lashed the animal and started it up Sherbourne and went on Queen-street at a gallop.

The husband followed on flying feet, and Dodds, who is one of the best athletes on the force, had all he could do to keep the coupe and the husband in sight. When near Jarvis-street, however, he met Constable Tripp, who was out for a drive, and after a moment's explanation Tripp turned his horse's head and galloped after the fugitives. By this time the sight of a uniformed constable running at full speed aroused the curiosity of passers-by and they gradually joined in the chase until there must have been 200 citizens in full cry, none of them knowing what was wrong, but all eager to be in at the finish. When near Church-street Tripp caught up with the coupe, and at once stopped the horse. In the coupe were found Mrs. Cowell and a young man named Hugh Kelly, who keeps a butcher shop at the corner of King and Sackville-streets. When the husband arrived he had just breath enough to upbraid his wife for her misconduct and then follow the crowd to Mitchell's livery stable, where the second rig had been engaged.

Here another exciting scene ensued, Kelly protesting that the woman was not married to Cowell and that he had as much right to go with her as had any other man, while the husband raved and threatened and protested until the officers considered it necessary to remove him. He departed after telling his wife that he would inform her mother and other relatives, and that she was his wife no longer. Kelly's friends do not believe that he intended to elope with the woman, and they cannot understand his conduct, as he is about to be married to a most estimable young lady in the eastern section of the city.

A Rousing Meeting at Whitby.

WHITBY, June 11.—Mayor Blow chairmaned a rousing big anti-Jesuit meeting in the Town Hall here last night. Over 1000 people gathered expecting to hear Rev. D. J. Macdonnell and J. L. Hughes, but were none the less pleased with E. D. Armour's clear exposition of the legal aspect of the question and F. S. Spence's argumentation. Rev. Mr. Abraham, Presbyterian pastor here, seconded by Rev. Dr. Hare, Principal of the Ontario Ladies' College, introduced a red hot resolution condemning the act itself, more especially that the Pope's name appears in it, and protesting vehemently against the inaction of Sir John's Government in not advising the Governor-General to disallow such legislation, and bringing the severest censure upon the devoted heads of the 188 members who stood by the Government in voting down Colonel O'Brien's resolution.

Dress the Hair

With Ayer's Hair Vigor. Its cleanliness, beneficial effects on the scalp, and lasting perfume command it for universal toilet use. It keeps the hair soft and silken, preserves its color, prevents it from falling, and, if the hair has become weak or thin, promotes a new growth.

"To restore the original color of my hair, which had turned prematurely gray, I used Ayer's Hair Vigor with entire success. I cheerfully testify to the

of this preparation."—Mrs. P. H. Davidson, Alexandria, La.

"I was afflicted some three years with scalp disease. My hair was falling out and what remained turned gray. I was induced to try Ayer's Hair Vigor, and in a few weeks the disease in my scalp disappeared and my hair resumed its original color."—(Rev.) S. S. Sims, Pastor U. B. Church, St. Bernice, Ind.

"A few years ago I suffered the entire loss of my hair from the effects of tetter. I hoped that after a time nature would repair the loss, but I waited in vain. Many remedies were suggested, none, however, with such proof of merit as Ayer's Hair Vigor, and I began to use it. The result was all I could have desired. A growth of hair soon came out all over my head, and grew to be as soft and heavy as I ever had, and of a natural color, and firmly set."—J. H. Pratt, Spofford, Texas.

The Daily Review.

TUESDAY, JUNE 11, 1889.

POSTPONED FOR ONE YEAR.

It is announced through the local Liberal organ that the Ontario Government on Tuesday of last week passed an Order-in-Council granting a refund to the town of Peterborough of the amount of excess of license fees claimed by the Government under the amendment to the Liquor License Act adopted last session. This confirms the opinion expressed a few days ago by the REVIEW that there were signs which gave good grounds for the hope that such impositions by the Mowat Government were about at an end. The Government found in this case that for once the people were aroused by the injustice, and so strongly has the feeling of the people been impressed upon the Government that they have undertaken to nullify an act of the Legislature by an Order-in-Council.

Will the Government repeal this act at the next session of the Legislature? At present, owing to the muddle the municipal laws of Ontario are in, this obnoxious act might not effect this town this year—and it is noticeable that no announcement of the action of the Government was made until after Mr. Justice Rose had given his decision on the High License by-law. But if the law remains on the statute book, next year or any other year that the town raised the license fee above $200 half of the excess would go to the Mowat Government. In fact, that it has become the settled policy of the Government to watch the action of the municipalities, and to interfere by appropriating larger portions of the fees when any increase is made, is made plain by the Examiner, which argues that because the British North America Act gives the Legislature "the right, if it chose to exercise it, to the whole of the liquor license fees," it "naturally follows that the higher the municipal license tax the larger should be the proportion returned to the Government." It does not follow because the Government has the power to take these fees that it should therefore appropriate them, because the Government or the Legislature also possesses the power to appropriate a portion or all of the auctioneers or other license fees, and to impose direct taxation, but it does not follow that it should exercise those powers to the detriment of the municipalities. But it is apparent that the Government does intend to take nearly all if not the entire revenue of liquor license fees. Since the Scott Act was adopted here three years ago a further Government fee of $70 was added, and this was followed last session by the Act appropriating half of the excess over $200. This is a very direct way of taxing the people, as it only differs from direct taxation by making the municipalities increase their rate of taxation through the Government taking moneys that would otherwise go into the municipal treasuries.

While the Government has backed down this year, it is evident from the intimation given that "the higher the municipal license tax, the higher should be the proportion returned to the Government," that it does not fully appreciate the feeling of the people in regard to these ever recurring raids upon the municipal treasuries. Nor do its supporters apparently believe that the people have decided that such impositions must stop, for when Conservative members objected to these Acts the Liberal members, even those representing constituencies affected by this last Act, retained their seats and allowed the measure to pass—a measure that is still law.

REDISTRIBUTION.

A MISREPRESENTATION—to use gentle phraseology—that is being circulated about Sir John Macdonald is that he boasted at the Montreal banquet of having gerrymandered the constituencies and of an intention to do it again. In some cases words are printed as though they had been spoken by Sir John. It is scarcely necessary to say that this is a gross misrepresentation of what the Premier said. He did refer to the last redistribution of the seats and to the charges made against him at that time. But he pointed out that the same charges were made in 1871 by his opponents, but that ten years later the constituencies as then arranged were look-upon by these opponents as equitably divided, and in the same way the so-called "gerrymander" of 1881 would become an equitable arrangement, while new charges, equally groundless, might be expected when he and his colleagues rearranged the representation after the next census. The substance of his remarks were that the former redistributions had been fair and that the coming one would be fair, but that groundless charges had been made against him in the past and would be made again.

The Opposition, however, has so little effective argument to use against the policy of the Dominion Government that it resorts to any means to endeavor to score a point. Such tactics, and such misrepresentations, will not deceive anyone.

The appointment of Mr. Edward Murphy, of Montreal, to the Senate has, like most of the appointments made by the Dominion Government, given general satisfaction. The Montreal Witness says:—"The appointment of Mr. Edward Murphy to the Senate is creditable to Sir John Macdonald, and will be of advantage to Canada and to the City of Montreal. Mr. Murphy is esteemed by all people in Montreal as a man of ability and integrity, as one whose kindness of heart, sympathy with distress and need, and whose abhorrence of evil has made him a factor for good in this community. His life has been that of a noble Christian gentleman, without fear and without reproach."

The following paragraph, which is taken from the Canada Presbyterian, is quoted to show the delusions which some people in other parts of the Province labor under:—"There is no delusion to which some people cling with such tenacity as the delusion that if they subscribe for a paper it should never contain a line with which they do not agree. Carried to its ultimate results their theory would mean that each person should have a newspaper published for himself for no two readers agree on all points. Even then the editor would have to consult the reader about every line he wrote to make sure that he was in agreement with his solitary subscriber. What a fine journal one could get up on that plan!"

The success of the Toronto Empire since its establishment a little over a year ago has been remarkable and is unparalleled in the history of newspapers in Canada. Owing to the large increase in its circulation it has been found necessary to add another fast press—one of Hoe's web-perfecting presses—to its mechanical department. Although the Empire's success has been phenomenal, it is easily accounted for, because it has from the first been conducted with ability in every department, has outstripped its contemporaries in enterprise in news gathering and has maintained a patriotic policy that finds a response in the minds of the majority of the people. May it go on and prosper.

A REAL SERVICEABLE DOG.

While visiting at Mr. John Fowler's in North Monaghan, I beheld for the first time his dog engaged in the work of churning. The sight inspired me to the muse.

Rover, at you I stand and gaze,
You well deserve my highest praise,
Not for your beauty nor your form
But for the work you do perform.
Most noble dog! so useful, good.
Well you are worthy of your food;
From twenty minutes to one hour
That treading board needs all your power,
Tramp, tramping upward, not one stop,
Striving in vain to reach the top.
The more your tread-board quicker turns,
Deceiving you, but works the churn.
Your sharpest scratch, your quickest tread,
Is all required to keep up speed.
Your upward course, your steadfast strides,
With hanging tongue and panting sides,
Lizzie your dainty meal supplies
When she beholds the butter rise;
Well you deserve her food and charms,
From hours of pain you ease her arms.
Good dog, I think each churning day
Will sour your temper. Well it may,
Tramping that board as round it circles
While neighbor's dogs are hunting squirrels.
Dog's ease and play you proudly spurn,
Your chief delight to work the churn.
Your act to dogs and men afford
A proof—to earn their daily board
Well may young Lizzie pat your head
And feed you well on meat and bread.
Your canine kindness, wondrous power,
Saves her from many a tedious hour.
With lightning speed that board you turn
Splashing the dasher in the churn,
A beam of joy darts from your eyes
When you behold the butter rise.

Long may you eat a hearty meal,
With will and strength to turn that wheel,
And when you slumber with the dead
A marble stone shall deck your head.

Something in the Eye.

"What have you in your eye?"
Said Tom, "I have a sty,
In my eye."
"And I've a girl," said I,
"In my eye."
Then when years had hastened by,
How I wish (excuse this sigh)
That Tom had the girl, not I,
In his eye,
And in place I had the sty.

Washington's Namesakes.

"Down to the latest syllable of recorded time," exclaimed the orator at the centennial celebration, waxing fervent, "the people of America will honor his memory! Who is not proud to bear the name of George Washington and grateful to the parents that conferred it upon him! I wonder," he continued, looking around him with flashing eyes, "how many of George Washington's namesakes there are in this vast assembly. Will those whose privilege it is to bear that honored name please rise to their feet!"

Sixty-seven men and boys rose up.

"Will those of you who cannot tell a lie," said the editor of the village paper, notebook in hand, "please remain standing while I count!"

And sixty-seven men and boys at once sat down.—Chicago Tribune.

A Lack of Faith.

"Doctor, if there is no such thing as hydrophobia how does it happen so many persons who have been bitten by rabid dogs die afterward in convulsions?"

"They die of fright, sir. They are scared to death. The imagination sometimes exerts a power sufficient to kill."

"Then why can't a patient who thinks he has hydrophobia be cured in the same way by making him imagine he is going to get well?"

"Because we can't inspire him with any—er—faith in our medicines."—Chicago Tribune.

His Attention Had Been Called.

Mr. Spouter (wearily to newsdealer)—Give me a Morning Spreadeagle. I've run all over this town trying to find one. (Retires to a secluded spot and eagerly turns to local page to see what kind of a report has been taken of his speech at the banquet the night before.)

Note from Mr. Spouter to editor of Morning Spreadeagle—Dear Sir: My attention has been called to an error in your published report of my remarks last evening, etc.—Chicago Tribune.

ALL AROUND THE HOUSE.

Decorative and Practical Work in Various Departments of the Home.

A pretty scheme of dinner table decoration is the following, lately used: Lines of yellow ribbon were laid on the cloth, radiating from the center, so that between each seat the line terminated in a tiny bow on which was placed a small bunch of yellow roses and leaves, to be carried away by each guest after dinner. In the center stood a large bowl of handsome old china, with a profusion of yellow roses and foliage. These small bouquets were mounted on little fancy pins to fix them on the dress. The idea of giving tiny bunches of flowers to the guests is a pretty one.

Another attractive cloth had the design which is woven in the damask outlined with yellow knitting silk, which was found to bear washing very well. The doylies had a monogram worked in yellow silk in the center. A lamp shade to be used with these represented a large buttercup flower, very thin yellow silk being cut into the shape of the leaf, fringed out at the edges and sewed, one petal overlapping another to the top of the wire lamp shade, where it was finished off with a full ruche of yellow silk with fringed edges.

An Ingenious Arrangement.

In a room where space is limited the back of a cottage piano may be converted into a receptacle for all sorts of knickknacks, suggests The Decorator and Furnisher. A curtain or drapery of any effective material is first attached, and this is looped up, left hanging or arranged according to the exigencies of the situation. A shelf is placed half way down the back, with a festooned valance, and on this stand photographs in frames and any pretty trifles in the way of ornaments. Then below are suspended small pictures and other things, and at the base is a box of growing plants; at each end a tall, uprising bush of foliage, grass, peacock feathers or rushes. A good sized engraving or sketch may be hung in the middle in place of the shelf, with brackets on either side holding photographs or small pieces of statuary.

To Remove a Glass Stopper.

It often happens that a glass stopper will become firmly set in the neck of a bottle and one is at a loss how to remove it without danger of breaking the bottle and losing its contents. In such a case try the following plan: Fasten firmly both ends of a strong cord six feet long, so that it will hang nearly straight and horizontal. Wind it around the neck of the bottle, and keeping it very tight move the bottle back and forth. This will soon heat the neck, and then the stopper will come out.

Oil in Laundry Work.

Kerosene oil and paraffine oil are used by some people in washing clothes. They loosen the dirt and make it wash out easily, but the unpleasant smell left in the clothes is an objection. The method is to put the oil, say a teaspoonful to a gallon of water, in the boiler with the soap. If the clothes are well aired the odor passes off to a great extent, and there is certainly a saving in hard rubbing from the use of either of these oils, but they are not advisable for woolens or colored things.

Excellent Chocolate Pudding.

Two cups of bread crumbs, one cup of sugar, one quart of milk, five eggs, three tablespoonfuls of grated chocolate. Boil bread and milk until it thickens. After it is cool stir in the beaten yolks of five and the whites of two eggs with the sugar and add the chocolate. Bake one-half hour. Beat three whites with five tablespoonfuls of sugar and one teaspoonful of vanilla, spread over the top and brown. Eat cold, with cream.

Anecdote of a German Philosopher.

A German boy was reading a blood and thunder novel. Right in the midst of it he said to himself: "Now, this will never do; I get too much excited over it. I cannot study so well after it. So here goes!" and he flung the trashy book out into the river. That resolute boy was Fichte, the great German philosopher, an account of whose life and works you will find in the encyclopedia.

United States Mints.

There are five United States mints, only three of which are used as mints, at Philadelphia, New Orleans, San Francisco, Denver and Carson City. The first three are still coining. Coins struck at Philadelphia are not marked. "S." stands for the San Francisco mint, "O." for the New Orleans mint, "C. C." for the Carson City mint.

The benefits of vacation season may be greatly enhanced if at the same time the blood is being cleansed and vitalized by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. A good appetite, fresh vigor and buoyant spirits attend the use of this wonderful medicine.

OUR SUMMER CLOTHING BULLETIN.

Correct in style, Perfect in fit, Reliable in make and Right in price is the Clothing we offer you. Correct at the start and at the finish.

The requirements for each garment are—The material must be right, the cut of it right, the make of it right and, withal, the price must be right. Must be right at every stage of its construction, so that in the end 'twill be right. It requires no little attention, study and skill to keep to the track all the way through, but the result is recompense sufficient. Our prices and our goods both are right.

Correct in style—means more than fashionable in style, beautiful in style or sensible in style. It means all of 'em together. In such clothing as this you're neither "a guy," "a dude" or "a fellow of no style," but "A gentleman, sir, by his dress." Your garments are not "loud" enough to attract attention, but they're good enough to stand inspection, stylish enough to be "toney" and graceful enough to be beautiful.

As we've already said, our prices are right, so are our goods. And so, we think, is our way of selling 'em, since it allows the greater number to buy 'em. Do you want clothes? Then come to us.

'A Spring Message'
From the New Firm of
H. LeBRUN
& CO.
Sign of the Golden Horse-shoe.

The people of Peterborough and vicinity are all aware of the business change which took place in the CITY CLOTHING STORE on the first day of February last. The new firm beg leave to make their first bow to the public through the columns of the REVIEW, and to request a careful perusal of the following Spring and Summer circular:—

The City Clothing Store

in past years, by long experience in business, by buying always for spot cash, importing direct from the principal houses of the old country and from the leading houses of Canada, and by strict economy in conducting its business, has always been able to force prices down to an exceedingly fine point. The members of which the new firm is composed will form a still stronger "combine," by which the CITY CLOTHING STORE will be even better prepared to procure for its customers a continuation of those superior inducements in the future for which it has been noted in the past.

Men's Clothing.

The magnitude of our stock and lowness of prices gives us a great advantage over all other competitors in the trade. We carry in stock all the fast selling lines, styles and patterns, and can fit the tall, the short, the fat and the lean. MORE SUITS, BETTER FABRICS, FINER STYLES than were ever handled before.

Special values in FINE SPRING OVERCOATS, and Fine SPRING and SUMMER SUITS. Don't fail to see them. The superb styles, workmanship, and the beautiful fabrics and patterns that we offer will surprise you.

Merchant Tailoring.

"For the apparel oft proclaims the man."

Fine dressers in search of new, neat and nobby OVERCOATINGS, SUITINGS or TROUSERINGS will find this department crowded to overflowing with cloth from all countries. To select from the largest assortment is an advantage we offer to our customers, backed up by the skill of experienced cutters and tailors. Besides perfect fit and first-class trimmings, we guarantee absolutely first-class workmanship.

Boys' and Youths' Clothing.

Clothing for the little ones—boys and children—has always been a specialty with us. We have always sought to give great values in this department, and to provide a larger and finer variety of goods for parents to select from than they could find elsewhere.

This means that we are showing a large assortment of BOYS' and CHILDREN'S SUITS, BOYS' and CHILDREN'S BLOUSES, SHIRT WAISTS, PANTS, &c.

This spring there are an unusual number of new and nobby styles and an enlarged variety of fabrics and patterns. Be sure and see our stock.

Gents' Furnishings.

Gentlemen of Peterborough seeking the latest styles and best values for their money, as well as an opportunity of selecting from the largest stock of Furnishing Goods, should not fail to visit this department at once. GRAND SUCCESS!

Our Great ONE HOUR SALE a Tremendous Success.

WE PROPOSE TO CONTINUE THE SALE

ON SATURDAY NEXT,

AT THE HOURS MENTIONED BELOW:

The only trouble we had was that many of our customers who came to buy had to wait for some time as others were ahead of them. We regret that the time for closing the sale arrived before they got waited on, and as we do just as we advertise the sale closed just to the minute as announced.

For the benefit of those who were so unfortunate in not being able to secure some of the bargains that were given away last Saturday, we continue the Sale on Saturday.

GREAT ONE HOUR SALE AT THE WIGWAM.

HERE'S A CHANCE!

On SATURDAY, between 11 and 12 o'clock, for one hour, we will sell any Pair of Pants in the Store for $1.99. Some of them are worth $4.50 and $5.50. We will also sell, between the hours of 2 and 3 o'clock

A LINE OF TWEED SUITS

General Assembly.

The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church meets in Toronto on Wednesday. The delegates from the Presbytery of Peterborough are:—Revs. W. H. Jamieson, Ph. D; J. Carmichael, M. A.; J. R. Craigie, M. A.; D. A. Thompson. J. W. Mitchell, M.A.; John Hay, B.D.; Geo. McKay. Elders—W. E. Roxburg, John Clark, G. M. Roger, Robt. Graham, Chas. Horsburg, John Carnegie, W. E. Johnston.

The Tea is the Test.

"Cheap Teas" is a catchy way of putting it. If "cheap" refers to the price, all right, if to the quality beware. Judgment can be safely based on facts only. A trial of Hawley Bros. teas will enable you to properly estimate the quality and value. Take home a sample pound or two, make the beverage carefully and drink it confidently. You'll pronounce the tea the best you have ever tried. Hawley Bros., George-st. 1fd125

The Great Metropolis.

The City of Toronto according to the census taken last year has now a population of 175,000, and is increasing at the rate of nearly 10,000 a year. An enormous amount of money is being expended in erecting new public buildings, as nearly five millions are necessary to erect the new Houses of Parliament and the new court house alone. Pleasure seekers and business men can take advantage of the St. Andrew's Society excursion on Thursday, the 20th instant, to spend two days if desired in Toronto. Tickets for round trip $2 00. Good to travel by any regular train on the C.P.R. d125

Mammoth Picnic.

The Farmers' Institute picnic, if the weather will permit, promises to be the largest picnic ever held in this part of the country. There will be members of five (5) different farmers' institutes and addresses will be given by the most scientific and practical professors in Canada. Arrangements have been made to bring parties from all points. Bands and orchestras will accompany every boat. Commodore Calcutt has spared no pains to make it comfortable for the passengers on the different routes, and if old probs only holds up the rain the 12th of June, 1889, will long be remembered around Rice Lake.

Y.M.C.A.

A meeting of ladies interested in the Y.M.C.A. was held yesterday afternoon in the parlor. After the President, Mr. J. M. Roger, and the General Secretary had explained how materially ladies had and could assist in the work for young men it was resolved to form a Ladies' auxiliary in connection with our association and the following officers were elected:—

PRESIDENT.—Mrs. R. S. Griffin.
1ST. VICE-PRESIDENT.—Mrs. Fairbairn.
2ND VICE-PRESIDENT.—Mrs. H. Greandy.
SECRETARY.—Mrs. Davidson.
TREASURER.—Mrs. Jno. Braden.

A committee of management was drafted which will be confirmed at an adjourned meeting to be held on Thursday afternoon at 3.30, at the same place. An invitation was received from Mrs. Dixon, Smithtown Hill, offering her grounds for a garden party, which was thankfully received and a committee was appointed to carry out the idea. Final arrangements will be made on Thursday afternoon. It is hoped there will be a large attendance.

"WATER BABIES."

Dr. Clarke, of Toronto, Lectures to a Large Audience at St. John's

The lecture given by Dr. Clarke, of Trinity University, Toronto, in the school house of St. John's Church last evening proved a great attraction and as great a treat. The little building was crowded to its greatest capacity by an audience which highly appreciated the lecture and left well pleased with the evening they had spent. Rev J. C. Davidson occupied the chair and after a few opening remarks he called upon Miss Cottingham to sing a beautiful song which is found in "The Water Babies," entitled "Cool and Clear." The song has been written to an exceedingly pretty air, and Miss Cottingham rendered it in a delightful manner. Then the chairman with a few kind and well selected words introduced the lecturer of the evening, Dr Clarke, who was to speak on the subject of the "Water Babies."

THE LECTURE AND ITS SUBJECT.

Dr. Clarke's lecture was an interesting, instructive and in many cases an amusing one, but was of that character which could not possibly receive a fair or appreciable report at the hands of a condenser. To those who had read "The Water Babies" the lecture must have been of great interest, while those who had never had this pleasure had only to be attentive listeners and the enjoyment would be almost as complete, as the lecturer made all his points very plain, and made his audience familiar with the thread of the fairy tale and read the vital portions from which he drew his allegories. The book "Water-Babies," was written by the late Charles Kingsley for his youngest son and was styled by its author "A Fairy Story for a Land Baby." Under the superficial meaning of this prettily told fairy tale, Dr. Clarke discerned deeper truths, and attracted by this and the beauty of the book, made the unravelling of this mysterious and deeper meaning a subject of careful study. Nor was his labor in vain, for soon his searching eye and applying mind had drawn beautiful and uplifting allegories from the little fairy tale, and the book emerged from its disguise and is seen by one who listens to the learned lecturer of last evening as an accurate parable of human life ascending from its lower to its higher stage, and teaching many lessons to the worldling and mankind generally. Dr. Clarke was invited, shortly after his discovery, to give an interpretation of the mysteries of the book at drawing-room assemblages in London and later had his interpretation printed in a monthly magazine and received a letter from the author saying that he wished no other meaning to be put upon the book than that which Dr. Clarke had placed upon it. This, as easily may be imagined, proved exceedingly interesting and as the lecturer drew his beautiful and instructive allegories from the beautiful little fairy tale he was repeatedly applauded.

At the conclusion of the lecture a vote of thanks was moved by Mr. A. V. R. Young, seconded by Mr. W. D. Parker, and enthusiastically tendered to the learned lecturer for his interesting, instructive and excellent lecture.

Dr. Clarke replied appropriately and the meeting dispersed.

The Charlotte-st. Y. P. A.

At the Charlotte-st. Endeavor Society last evening, Mr. O. C. Bowse opened the subject "Encouragements in the Christian life," which was then discussed by the society. A business meeting was held at the close of the first meeting.

Music in the Park.

The Fire Brigade Band will not play in the Court House Park this evening, but will give their weekly concert on Friday evening next, by which time it is hoped the scene will have changed and the dark and cloudy weather will be gone. The band turns out this evening with the battalion, which will parade.

The Latest Fashion in Spring Bonnets.

For the information of our lady readers we publish the following extract from one of the celebrated fashion journals:—"The bonnet this spring is worn cocked considerably over the right ear and with the orthodox tails at the rear end thereof." A good exhibition of the newest and latest styles may be seen at the St. Andrew's excursion to Toronto on Thursday, June 20th. Return tickets, good for two days, $2.00. A Seizure of Liquor.

Inspector Cochrane does not intend to allow any liquor to be sold except by those who have received licenses for this privilege, and last night the first raid since the Scott Act's repeal was made. The Inspector accompanied by Chief Roszel visited the house on George-st., known as the "Stone-front" and kept by Geo. Henry to search the premises for liquor. The visit did not result fruitlessly, as a part of a barrel of beer, a keg of lager, a jug of whisky and a bottle of the same fluid was found and confiscated. There may be more of this anon.

Some Superb Etchings.

The window of A Clegg's furniture store has attracted hundreds of people, to admire the beautiful etchings framed and on view. Mr. Clegg procured these direct from the American publishers in the art centres, and from the fact that a large number has been sold the fact is advanced that not only is a correct taste in the matter of pictures a pleasing feature among our citizens but also that the demand is well and carefully met by the enterprise of a local dealer, progressive in this particular, Mr. A. Clegg. The framing of the pictures is executed in his shops and is tastefully and well executed.

It Costs to be a Worshipper.

Two worshippers of Bacchus appeared on the prisoner's bench at the Police Court this morning, and contributed of their share of this world's goods to the town treasurer for the homage they had done at the altar of the god yesterday. Elias Glass, who is not a resident of the town, was arrested by Constable Adams at the G.T.R. station at noon yesterday for being drunk and disorderly. It cost him five dollars to regain his liberty this morning. John Crowley, the other inebriate, was arrested last night about 9.30 and he paid $2 into court and was allowed to go.

Personal.

Miss Sanderson, representing the Peterborough W. C. T. U., and Miss Lumsden, representing the Y., have gone to Toronto to attend the meeting of the Dominion Union.

The Toronto Herald of Life and Accident Insurance for June contains a portrait and biographical sketch of Ald. A. H. Gilbert, superintendent of agencies for the Manufactures' Life Co., who in 1884 and for a couple of years later was in the Canada Life office in Peterborough.

Mr. Fuller, of London, England, who has charge of city mission in East London, is in town and will remain this week. He will give an address at the members' meeting of the Y.M.C.A. on Thursday evening and also on Saturday and Sunday evenings.

The many friends of Mr. W. H. Smith, son of Mr. H. H. Smith, an old resident of Peterborough, will learn with pleasure of his success in his studies in Winnipeg. He has graduated in St. John's College, Winnipeg, taking the degree of B. A. with first class honors and winning the hundred dollar scholarship. Mr. Smith is well and favourably known in town and will have the congratulations of all his friends.

REVISING THE ASSESSMENT.

The First Session of the Court of Revision—Thirty-one Appeals.

The first session of the Court of Revision of the Town Council for the purpose of considering the appeals against this year's assessment was held in the Council Chamber last evening. Those present were Councillors Rutherford (chairman), Langford, Dawson, Davidson and E. H. D. Hall. The necessary declaration was taken, and the court then proceeded to dispose of the appeals, which numbered thirty-one, the major portion of which were of minor importance. They were disposed of as follows:—

F. Davies appealed against statute labor tax, but the assessment was confirmed.

F. Poulette appealed against an overcharge on land, but the appeal was dismissed and the assessment confirmed.

G. A. Mitchell's assessment on real estate was reduced $100 on his appeal.

Geo. Dunsford appealed against the assessment on the Masonic Hall block, on Water-st., but the appeal was not allowed, and the assessment remains unchanged. The same gentleman appealed against the assessment on his house on Simcoe-st. and the broom factory and a reduction of $200 was made.

J. J. Lundy thought he was assessed too high for income, but his appeal was dismissed and the assessment confirmed.

D B. Gardiner's income assessment was reduced $400.

A Hall appealed re a dog assessment, but the assessment was confirmed.

Miss Geary appealed against an overcharge, but the assessment was confirmed.

Two appeals from Jas. Stevenson asking to have property assessed to him were allowed.

N. T. Laplante's assessment on his house was reduced $200.

T. Bradburn appealed against an overtax on land, but the appeal was dismissed and the assessment confirmed.

J. McComb asked for a change in property, which was granted.

Roderick McClelland appealed against the assessment on his own house and one occupied by P. Gorman, but the assessment on both were confirmed.

R. Davidson asked to have his name placed on the assessment rolls in place of M. Macdonald, and the latter consenting, the request was granted.

Mrs. M. A. Lynch asked to have certain lands now assessed to her placed on the non-resident roll, which was granted.

The appeals of Mrs. Kirkpatrick, W. H. Bowman, K. McManus, F. White, Rev. J. W. R. Beck, Jas. Milliken, G.T.R., A. F. Hoover, Isaac Downer and Mrs. T. Allen, the majority of which were asking for changes, were allowed to stand until the next meeting.

The adjourned meeting will be held on Monday night next.

A Great Day.

From all appearances nearly the whole town will be in Douro at the pic-nic on Thursday of this week. 3d135

☛ Cut This Out.

Laid at Rest.

The remains of the late Hugh Bertram, who died at his son's residence in Dundas, arrived here on the 11.40 train on the C.P.R. this morning and the funeral took place from the station to Little Lake Cemetery. The cortege was large, evidencing the esteem and respect in which the deceased gentleman was held in Peterborough. Messrs. John, Alex., Geo. H. Bertram, of Toronto, and Peter Bertram, of Dundas, sons of the deceased, came down with the remains. Mr. J. K. Bertram, of Toronto, is also in town.

The Farmers' Outing.

To-morrow will be the day of the grand union picnic of the Farmers' Institutes of Peterborough, Durham and Northumberland at Jubilee Point, and it is confidently expected, and if the weather is favorable it is almost assured, that there will be the largest turnout at the Point that has ever been witnessed. Speeches by several members of Parliament, the Ministers of Agriculture and a number of professors of the agricultural college are on the programme as well as a large list of games and sports. The day will be a red-letter one for the farmers of this district, and a large number of towns people intend going down to join in the day's celebration.

Dominion Day Celebration at Port Hope.

This year's programme for the celebration of Dominion Day in Port Hope is the best ever presented by that town. It comprises an immense gathering of Firemen,—a Fireman's Parade,—Special Games for Firemen,—Athletic Sports,—Grand Horse Races, &c., during the day. In the evening, the "Pigs in Clover" will be practically illustrated by the real live article, the whole concluding with a Grand Display of Fireworks. We would strongly advise our readers to make their arrangements to spend Dominion Day in Port Hope. The programme there is always fully carried out. Any information desired can be obtained by writing W. E. Beamish, Secretary of Committee. 11d132

Steals Her Majesty's Target.

A warrant was sworn out yesterday for the arrest of Alfred Cooney, a man who lives just outside the north-western limits of the town, and who was charged with having stolen one of the iron targets from the Rifle Association range, the property of the Government. Col. J. Z. Rogers, of the 57th Battalion, laid the information. Cooney is a dealer, more or less, in old iron, and it appears that he did take away one of the cast-iron targets from the range, and after breaking it up sold it at Wm. Hamilton's foundry. At the Police Court this morning he came up for trial and elected to be tried summarily by the Magistrate. Mr. R. E. Wood appeared for the Crown and Mr. W. A. Stratton was present to defend the prisoner. Several witnesses were called whose evidence went to prove that the accused had been seen in company with a man known as "one-eyed Major," with the target in his waggon, and a boy who had worked for him swore he saw it broken up in Cooney's yard. The defence put in some evidence, but asked for an enlargement in order to procure other witnesses, but the Magistrate would not allow the request. After hearing the evidence the prisoner was sentenced to three months in gaol.

THE 'PRENTICE BOYS.

The Grand Lodge Opens Here—An Enthusiastic Reception.

The Grand Lodge of 'Prentice Boys was to have opened here this afternoon at the Orange Hall, corner of Simcoe and George-sts. Last night a number of the delegates arrived on the 11.40 train from the west and great preparations had been made for their reception. The local brethren accompanied by the True Blues and headed by the fife and drum band of the latter marched to the station bearing torches and waited the arrival of the train. As one of the monster new C.P.R. engines drew the express into the station and slowed up alongside of the platform the band struck up "The Protestant Boys." and as the delegates stepped from the train they were royally welcomed. The station platform presented a bustling and unusual scene with the flaring torches, the large crowd and the music of the fifes and drums. A procession was formed and headed by the band the delegates were escorted up George-st. to the Orange Hall, where a short lodge session was held welcoming the delegates who had arrived. The band escorted the delegates to the C. P. R. hotel where they are all registered. The delegates are as follows:—

WHO ARE HERE.

The Grand Lodge officers and delegates who have arrived are as follows:—

PAST GRAND MASTER.—W. J. R. Bell, Kingston.

GRAND MASTER.—James Robertson, Toronto.

SENIOR DEPUTY GRAND MASTER.—Jas. R. Gerow, Belleville.

JUNIOR DEPUTY GRAND MASTER.—F. W. Eward, of Kingston.

GRAND SECRETARY.—Jas. S Jackson, Toronto.

GRAND TREASURER.—Jas. Hudson, Toronto.

ASST. GRAND TREASURER.—M. A. Jamieson, Hespeler.

GRAND LECTURER.—R. H. Ketcheson, Belleville.

Renfrew—W. A. Mackay.
Harrowsmith—G. MacFarlane.
Bradford Mills—W. A. Whitemarsh and W. Woate.
Peterborough—W. A. Marshall, B. M. Wiley and F. Sherwood.

The Secretary's trunk containing all the books and papers of the Grand Lodge was by mistake taken on through on the express last night and will be returned this evening.

This evening the delegates and local brethren will march in a body to St. Andrew's church where Rev. Alex. Bell will preach a sermon appropriate to the occasion.

COUNTY COURT.

The Opening of the June Sittings—The Grand Jury System.

The June sittings of the County Court and General Sessions was opened this afternoon, Judge Weller presiding.

GRAND JURY.

The Grand Jury panel was as follows:—

JOHN McCLELLAND, Foreman.

R. R. Birdsall,
F. Barlee,
C. Blewett,
Joe. Ball,
John Cameron,
M. R. Kidd,
Chas. Moore,
David Mason,
A. R. Kidd,
Arthur Dewdney,
Geo. Fitzgerald,
J. N. Goodenough,
Henry Holcomb,
Robt. Johnston,
Jos. Harrison,
Chas. McCarthy,
Nathan Payne,
Geo. Snyder,
Andrew Weir.

The JUDGE, addressing the Grand Jury, said it was a matter for congratulation that there was no criminal business to come before them. There were, however, persons confined in the gaol undergoing punishment. Among those in the gaol were two lunatics, one of whom had been confined there since 1884 and the other over a year. The number of lunatics in the gaol had decreased, but the gaol was not a proper place for them, and he hoped provision would be made for them elsewhere. So long as the Grand Jury system existed it was necessary to summon the Jurors, even though there might be no business to bring before them when they arrived. The jury system had been discussed a great deal lately and last session ex-Judge Gowan had brought the matter before the Senate. One of Senator Gowan's views was that the Grand Jury should be an open, and not a secret, court as it is now, if it is to be maintained, but he favored the abolition of the system. The judge referred to some of the Senator's objections to the system, and also quoted the opinions of Sir Mathew Cameron, Chief Justice Gwynne and Chief Justice Haggarty. He had not any fixed opinion formed on the subject, but if they wished to express an opinion they could do so. However, he did not urge them to do so at this time, as it was a subject that needed consideration.

The Grand Jury then retired.

Christian Alliance.

A meeting of the local branch of the Christian Alliance will be held in the Y. M. C. A. rooms at eight o'clock this evening.

Sunday School Picnic.

The three Baptist Sunday Schools of town intend having an excursion to Jacob's Island, Pigeon Lake, on Tuesday, July 9th, where a picnic will be held. Return tickets from Peterborough, adults 60c, children 30c; from Bridgenorth, 30c. (children 15c. Y.M.C.A. Band in attendance. 2d136-1e24

An Action for Slander.

Mr. J. E. Belcher has instituted an action for slander against Mr. J. B. McWilliams, for alleged slanderous remarks reported to have been made by Mr. McWilliams in reference to Mr. Belcher at the last meeting of the Board of Education when the discussion of the tenders for the school buildings was in progress. The writ in the action was issued and served yesterday. Mr. John Burnham is acting for Mr. Belcher and Mr. W. A. Stratton has been retained by Mr. McWilliams.

FROM ENNISMORE.

Correspondence of the Review.

WEATHER NOTES.—Flowery May has again left us, the beautiful landscape and waving foliage of spring once more cheering the heart of man. For the first few days it felt a little cold, but on the 5th a perceptible change took place, the thermometer standing at 76 degrees in the shade at 2 p. m., on the 6th at 84 degrees on the 8th at 90 degrees, on the 9th at 90 degrees and on the 10th at 86 degrees. It kept a little cooler until the 18th, when it again rose to 90 degrees, after which the weather got colder, continuing during the remainder of the month. We had slight snow on the 1st and 28th. On the 18th, the 23rd, the 25th and the 26th we had frost, the thermometer standing at 4 deg. below freezing, and on the 29th at 5 deg. below. The four first ones being black frosts did little harm, but the latter being a heavy white frost cut down all vegetables liable to suffer from frost, and also barley to some extent. The worst rain fell on thirteen days to the depth of 4 inches and 26-100 of an inch, being above the average. There were three thunder storms, but little rain falling, but you may believe we got a parting charge on the 31st, when rain fell to the extent of 1 inch and 75-100 of an inch in 21 hours. The average temperature of the month at sunrise and sunset was 50 degrees. The following are the different points from which the wind was blowing at sunrise during the month respectively:—South-west, 12; north-west, 4 days; west, 2 days; south, 2 days; south-east, 3 days; north-east, 5 days; east, 1 day, and north 2 days.

LOCAL SPORTS.

The Bicycle Meet Thursday Evening—Sporting Sparks.

The first of the local bicycle club's fortnightly meets takes place on Thursday evening next on the P. A. A. A. grounds, when an interesting and exciting programme of races will be contested. Three handsome medals have already been donated by admirers and friends of the club for competition, and it is expected that the events will be all hotly contested, and therefore exciting and well worth seeing. The admission fee which is charged, ten cents, is very small and there is no doubt but that there will be a large turnout. Once the boys have their meets in good running order they will not only prove an attraction to the public, but will also put new life and enthusiasm into the wheelmen, who will have their ambition aroused and will go into the struggle with a determination which is bound to make the events interesting. The band will also be in attendance.

THE CANOE REGATTA.

The first of the fortnightly regattas which the Otonabee Canoe Club propose to hold during the summer will come off on Friday evening next if the weather is favorable. It is expected that these regattas will prove of interest and will awaken old-time enthusiasm in paddling. A good programme of races will be arranged, and the canoeists will make the combat interesting for one another. The programme will include some amusing events.

SPORTING SPARKS.

There will be a number of the local wheelmen attend the Association meet at St. Catharines on the first of July.

The struggle on the diamond next Saturday between the Examiner and REVIEW nines promises to be the baseball exhibition of the season. The former nine are practicing with an India rubber ball and a cricket bat in order to encourage the boys.

A practice match of base' all will probably be played to-morrow night on the P. A. A. A. grounds between the Athletics and the Association nines.

A meeting of the Riverside Lacrosse Club is called for Thursday evening, when a full attendance is requested. The resignation of Joe Phelan as secretary will come up for consideration. Mr. W. A. Sanderson, president of the club, has refused to accept the resignation, and the club will be asked to consider the matter. Better withdraw it, Joe.

NORWOOD NOTES.

The Lacrosse Club Successful—Early Closing—Sons of Temperance Entertainment.

Correspondence of the Review.

SOLD OUT.—J. C. McConkey has sold out his livery business to O. A. Brennan.

SUCCESSFUL.—The lacrosse boys returned home jubilant on Wednesday evening after having defeated the champion Peterboroughs. This is their second match this summer, they having on May 24th defeated Madoc by 4 goals to nothing.

EARLY CLOSING came into effect here on Monday, June 3rd, the stores closing at 7 o'clock every evening but Wednesday and Saturday. The stores obeyed the command of Ackerman's cow bell and closed sharply, with a couple of exceptions, a harness and a grocery man failing to fall in with the general idea.

ENTERTAINMENT.—A very successful entertainment was given last Friday evening by the Norwood division of the Sons of Temperance, in their hall, Colborne-st. An exceptionally good programme was rendered, and during intermission ice cream and cake were passed around, and was so well appreciated that a vote of thanks was unanimously tendered to Mr. John R. McKelvie for his untiring efforts on the Refreshment Committee.

ROAD MENDING.—Shortly after you cross Indian River going to Peterborough by the side line, you come to a place where the natives had recently done their road work, and a more miserable attempt has seldom been made. Instead of putting on gravel they have the road about a foot deep all over with good rich soil, which at this time of so much rain is in a fearful state of mud, taking even a light buggy up to the hubs. About a mile further on towards Peterborough we saw a little ahead of us a man spreading gravel on the road, and we threatened (before we came up to him) that if he had the same sample of goods that we had passed, one of us would alight and wipe up some mud with him. We had just started talking to him when we discovered, 1st, that he was putting on good gravel, and 2nd, that it was no other than our respected Member of Parliament for East Peterborough, John Lang, Esq. He was safe in both clauses.

COLDSPRINGS.

First Anniversary of the Union Sunday School.

Correspondence of the Review.

THE first anniversary of the Coldsprings Union Sunday School was celebrated on Sunday and Monday, June 2nd and 3rd. On Sunday the school was opened by an appropriate hymn "This Year for Jesus," after which Mr. Colville engaged in prayer. The lesson was then read by the school in concert, after which Mr. B. A. Ward briefly reviewed the history of the school. The school was then addressed by Mr. Colville, Secretary of the Y. M. C. A., Peterborough, his remarks being to the children. Mr. I. Richardson, Superintendent, Mr. D. Kennedy and Mr. R. J. Kidd also addressed the school. The number present shows what a deep interest the people take in the school.

On Monday evening the ladies of the school had an excellent supper prepared on the school "lawn." The gate was opened at 7 o'clock and the people began to pour in. About 7.30 a detachment from town drove into the grounds. This consisted of Mr. Colville, Mr. B. Earle, English master of the Collegiate Institute and the Y.M.C.A. band, who kindly consented to provide music for the evening. After satisfying the physical man all repaired to the school, where an excellent programme was provided. Mr. I. Richardson occupied the chair, and calling the meeting to order proceeded with the programme as follows:—

Hymn.... "Behold What Love"	The Choir
Prayer	Mr. Colville
Chairman's address
Instrumental music	Y.M.C.A. Band
Recitation	Harriet Richardson
Chorus	Y.M.C.A. Band
Mouth organ solo	Marvin Kennedy
Reading	Mr. B. Earle
Instrumental music	Y.M.C.A. Band
Recitation	Mary Brooks
Chorus	Y.M.C.A. Band
Mouth organ solo	Archie Hurton
Recitation "Fitz-James and Roderick Dhu"	by B. A. Ward and H. D. Kennedy.
Instrumental music	Y.M.C.A. Band

Mr. Colville then made a few very appropriate remarks to the parents. A vote of thanks to the Peterborough friends for their aid was moved, seconded, and carried unanimously. The meeting was then closed with a hymn "God be with you till we meet again."

THE CHEESE BOARD.

Sixteen Factories Board 1736 Boxes—Mr. Cook Gets the Board at 8 5-8 Cents.

A meeting of the Peterborough Cheese Board was held at noon to-day in the Old Music Hall, when sixteen factories boarded 1,736 boxes. The buyers present were Messrs. Cluxton, Cook, Bird, Hodgson, Fitzgerald, Flavelle and Wrighton. Liverpool quotations, 46s. The Board was as follows:—

PETERBOROUGH SECTION.

Factory.	No. of Boxes.
Keene	170
Warminster	172
Shearer	217
North Smith	125
Centre Smith	85
Cherry Grove	120
Missing Link	65
Warsaw	52
Westwood	140
Norwood	145
Melrose Abbey	85
South Dummer	120
Pine Grove	85
Otonabee Union	85
Maple Leaf	50
Total	1,736

The bidding was brisk. Mr. Hodgson started with a bid of 8c. for the Board. Mr. Cook offered 8⅛c. for the Board, and Mr. Cluxton bid 8¼c. for six factories. Mr. Hodgson then offered 8⅜c. for five factories, but Mr. Cook went him better and bid 8⅜c. for the Board. Mr. Cluxton then offered 8½c. for three factories, and Mr. Hodgson also bid 8½c. for selections, but Mr. Cook again raised it to 8⅝c. for the Board, and got the cheese at this bid, all the factories accepting.

PRETTY SISTER OF JOSE.

By FRANCES HODGSON BURNETT.

Author of "Little Lord Fauntleroy," "That Lass O'Lowries," &c., &c.

Who had ever disobeyed her? Not Jose. Not Jovita for all her grumblings—not any of those others. And was it likely that he who had adored her more than all the rest—who had watched her with that hungry love in his eyes—could do what no other had ever done? She told herself this over and over again—but he did not come. She began to feel a feverish eagerness when she dressed herself—a passionate desire to be prettier than ever before. She used to stand before her scrap of looking-glass to try one bit of simple finery after another—twisting up the soft cloud of her hair afresh a dozen times a day, and putting a fresh flower in it. She went to the well again and again, and lingered and tried not to look round when she heard a footstep—but the right one never came, though her heart's throbbing shook her many times in false alarm. She was only a child—a passionate Spanish child—ignorant and full of fierce young natural impulses—and she knew only childish crude methods. So she made herself beautiful and showed herself in the places where she thought he would see her and be unable to resist her will and her beauty; but though she made Jose take her here and there and everywhere she never saw Sebastiano but once. It was in the Public Garden where they had first met. They were sitting in the shade refreshing themselves with wine, and he came towards them, not at first seeing them. Pepita clutched her fan until she broke it, and a wild exultation sprang in her breast. She had seen before she left home that she had never before been so pretty. There had come into her face a new look—a fire that had burned deeper every charm. He would see—he would see that she was Pepita still, and that he could not keep his word if she chose—if she chose.

He drew nearer and nearer, still not seeing them. He was talking to the three companions who were with him. He was richly dressed, and looked stronger than ever and more handsome and graceful. He came still nearer. No, she would not speak to him. No! He looked up and his eye fell upon them—upon Jose and Jovita and Pepita! He drew back a step and stood still—he made a low bow to them—a grand bow, such as he made when he was in the bull ring and the people applauded. He turned away and passed on. Yes, without a word.

Jose sighed a deep and mournful sigh and rose to his feet.

"Come," he said. "We must go! It is best not to stay. He does not wish to see us; and he asked that I would keep away. It is a pity—but he asked it."

The breath was coming in short little puffs through Pepita's delicate nostrils. It was as if she had been struck a blow. She walked home as in a sort of delirium—she saw none of those who turned to look at her. She walked faster and faster. Jovita could not keep pace with her.

"What is the matter?" said the old woman. "You walk as if you had a devil in you. Your breath is all gone. Are you mad?"

At night when they sat together Pepita spoke of the next bull fight. Jose must take her. She wished to go.

"It is better that we should not go there," said Jose. "You know why. He will not like to see you. You saw how it was today. He is not angry, only he is determined not to be reminded. Soon he will go away and then you shall go with me as often as you wish; but not now. After this week he will be far away—far away."

"I will go now," said Pepita. "I will go without you if you will not take me. Isabella and Juan and Manuelo will be glad enough. Let him—let him look at his bulls."

She did not know that it was desperation that had seized upon her—she thought it was defiance. Yes, yes, she told herself breathlessly, he should see her laugh and talk with Manuelo and Carlos and Juan, and the rest; and then he would be punished.

She would hear nothing that Jose said. She would go—she would go. No other bull fight but this would please her.

She could scarcely live until the day arrived. She had made for herself a new gala dress; she had a new fan, and a necklace she had bought out of her little savings.

There was a great crowd. It was known that Sebastiano was to go away, and many had come for that reason, wishing to see him for the last time in the season.

At first Pepita was gayer than her adorers had ever seen her. She deigned to talk and smile and listen. She had the restlessness and color of some brilliant-winged bird. Isabella looked at her in wonder.

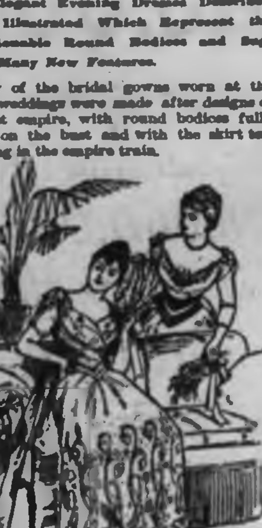
WHAT SHALL WE WEAR?

APPROVED MODES FOR SPRING AND SUMMER TOILETS.

Two Elegant Evening Dresses Described and Illustrated Which Represent the Fashionable Round Bodices and Suggest Many New Features.

Many of the bridal gowns worn at the Easter weddings were made after designs of the first empire, with round bodices fully draped on the bust and with the skirt terminating in the empire train.



EVENING TOILETS.

This style is repeated in many of the evening toilets now being made. In our cut are shown two charming dresses with round bodices.

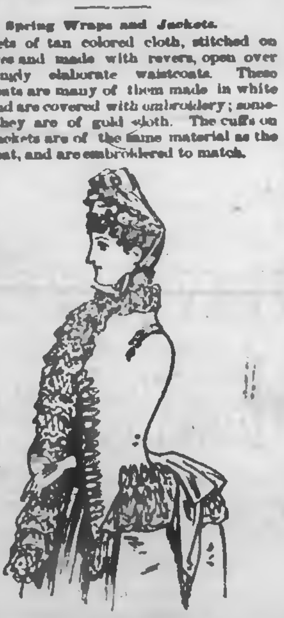
Fig. 1 is a dress and train in white satin, opening on a skirt of Indian gauze, enriched with a raised Oriental pattern worked in silk and gold tinsel.

From the pines depends a fringe of pearls, intermingled with gold and amber beads; box plaiting over the hem. Low bodice draped in kerchief fashion, with beaded gauze, which extends at the back as a point; sleeves to correspond.

The dress shown at Fig. 2 is in buttercup satin. The brocatelle petticoat is powdered with tufts of large multicolor roses, over which is thrown an apron of net, spangled with pearls and gold beads. The round satin bodice is at the back in yellow satin, and in front in white lampas draped with spangled net, which also forms the short sleeves; two buttercup satin ribbons cross the bodice.

Spring Wraps and Jackets.

Jackets of tan colored cloth, stitched on the edges and made with revers, open over exceedingly elaborate waistcoats. These waistcoats are many of them made in white cloth and are covered with embroidery; sometimes they are of gold cloth. The cuffs on these jackets are of the same material as the waistcoat, and are embroidered to match.



A NEW SPRING VISITE.

In the accompanying illustration is shown an elegant visite in black armure silk. It is trimmed with jet and silk passementerie, and finished around the neck and down the front with a ruching or boa of Chantilly lace. The bonnet is of new Tuscan straw lace, and is trimmed with ribbon in the new green shade and moss rosebuds and foliage.

Novelties in Jet Garniture.

The jet work is fine, light and intrinsically beautiful. Much of the finest jet work is seen as trimmings, which are divisible, such as conventional honey suckle, and many leaves springing from one stem. The patterns are nearly always Gothic and architectural, copied, it would seem, from the stiff leaf foliage seen on the molded abacus of an arch, or the crockets occurring on some ancient tomb. The dress and mantle trimmings are made up in large pieces to be put on the fronts, shoulders and backs of the dress or mantle, some of the low bodice trimmings forming an epaulette with chains of jet from the shoulder to the front. Many of the jacket trimmings are meant to form a point beneath the arm, covering the side dart, turning in a sharp corner at the base, and then trimming the back. One entire front of a mantle was made in fine cord, apparently netted in a fancy open stitch.

Fish Net Dresses.

Black silk fish net with meshes large enough to put the tip of a finger through are made up over moire skirts and waists, and Harper's Bazar tells how it is done: The foot of the skirt has a six inch hem, above which are ten rows of very narrow satin ribbon drawn through the meshes. The full back breadths are straight, and have a wide moire sash hanging to the foot, while the front and sides are given the effect of a Spanish flounce by ten other rows of ribbon curving across them and confining them just above the knees. Gowns made for the Washington centennial ball and also for bridesmaids have white fish net skirts made in this way and low necked coats of fancy brocade. There are striped fish nets, and others with leaf patterns, with large polka dots and the fine point d'esprit.

The Newest Balayeuses.

The newest for evening dresses are made of silk, pinked at the edge, and gathered at the hem of the skirt inside; sometimes three rows are placed one over another. Thick white embroidered muslin is also used to look like a petticoat, so that quite a short one may be worn. It is difficult to hold up long petticoats satisfactorily.

A New Fancy in Marking Linen.

A pretty idea is brought to bear in marking linen. It is to have the wearer's favorite flower worked together with the embroidered monogram.

A drunken tinsmith at Warasdin, Hungary, ascended the lofty steeple of the Franciscan church there by means of the lightning conductor, and stood upright on the cross at the top. He remained in this perilous position for fully fifteen minutes and delivered a speech to the crowd that was watching him from below. Afterward he calmly descended to the ground without being in any way hurt.

A Speedy Animal.

"See here, Paulson, when I bought this horse from you, you said it could trot in three minutes."

"So it can."

"The deuce it can! I took it to a mile track the other day and it couldn't go around in five minutes."

"I'm not surprised. I didn't say how far it could trot in three minutes, you remember."—Nebraska State Journal.

SCIENTIFIC SQUIBS.

An English firm has just brought out a new sensitive flame burner, which can be extinguished entirely by a loud noise.

One volume of liquid benzine will make 16,000 volumes of air inflammable and 5,000 volumes of air highly explosive, but nothing but contact with flame or a white hot body will touch off the most explosive mixture of petroleum vapor and air.

In France it has been shown that frozen milk can be transported with the greatest ease, and after being kept for days and weeks and then simply thawed out it retains all the characteristics of fresh milk.

According to a French astronomer, the cooling of the terrestrial crust apparently goes on more rapidly under the sea than with a land surface. From this he argues that the crust must thicken under oceans at a much more rapid rate, so as to give rise to a swelling up and distortion of the thinner portions of the crust that is forming mountain chains.

FASHIONS FOR MEN.

Brown, red and golden tan are the leading color for men's gloves.

Fashion now permits a man to wear a white collar with a colored shirt.

Fancy colors will prevail in men's hats to such an extent that the shop of a large dealer can give odds to a rainbow.

Fine straw hats, with a hint of the sailor in their shape, will be much affected by the gilded youth when warm weather comes.

Waistcoats will be almost de rigueur with wash gowns this season, and are made removable so as to let the pretty silk or cambric skirt now and then come to the front.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Value of a Nickel.

Somebody of an ingenious turn of mind gives us the metric system, "not in a nutshell," but in a nickel. It is claimed that our nickel five cent piece holds the key to the linear measures and weights. The diameter of this coin is two centimetres and its weight is five grammes. Five of them placed in a row will, of course, give the length of the decimeter and two of them will weigh a decagramme. As the kiloliter is a cubic meter, the key to the measures of length, it is also the key to the measures of capacity. Any person, therefore, who is fortunate enough to own a five cent nickel may carry in his pocket the entire metric system of weights and measures.—New York Telegram.

"WHAT MEDICINES ARE MOST CALLED FOR?"

asked the reporter of an old druggist.

"Dr. Pierce's preparations," he replied. "They are sold under a positive guarantee that they will, in every case, give satisfaction, or the money is promptly refunded. His 'Favorite Prescription,' for all those chronic weaknesses, nervous and other derangements peculiar to women, is used with unfailing success. It cures weak back, bearing-down sensations, irregularities and weaknesses common to the sex, and being the most perfect of tonic medicines builds up and strengthens the entire system. The demand for it is constant, and I am conversant with scores of cases cured by it."

Returning after a few moments' absence, the venerable wielder of the pestle remarked, "the number of sarsaparillas and other, so-called, 'blood medicines' is legion; but Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery outsells them all and it is the only blood-purifier out of the many which I am obliged to keep upon my shelves, that is guaranteed to benefit or cure in all cases for which it is recommended, or money paid for it is refunded."

"In the line of Pills," remarked the old gentleman, "the little Sugar-coated 'Pellets' put up by Dr. Pierce lead all others, both in amount of sales and the general satisfaction they give my customers."

ATTRACTION
—AT—
TURNBULL'S

Having just received a lot of fine Untrimmed Hats at a clearing price, we are in a position to give great Bargains in Millinery. 170 new styles to select from, no two alike. See one of our windows, your choice for seventy-five cents.

If you have not looked closely you have no clear notion how more than commonly good our $15, $16 and $18 Suits for men are. Linings and Trimmings excellent, sewing and finishing perfect. Men who are shrewd judges and hard to please pronounce our tailor as near perfection as possible in a fit. While we were writing a shipment of Boys' Clothing has arrived to fill up the gaps in that department; they are good goods and the patterns are excellent. Mothers call and see them.

Opened out a fresh lot of Muslin Skirting Embroideries, full width from 50c. to $1.25 a yard. Also a lot of White Lawns from 10 to to 12½c. a yard. These goods should and are going out fast.

We can can show you a Linen Huck Towel, 20x40 inches, full of substance and in every way worth 20c., the price is 15c.. Good Barnsley Crashes at 10 to 12½c. a yard. We do towels and towellings right as we import them direct from where they are made.

Several fresh lines of Children's Hosiery just put in stock. Space would not allow us to enumerate them. We have everything desirable in ribbed and plain, low and better grades.

Our Parasol Stock is large and varied. We aim at keeping everything called for and do not allow ourselves to be undersold.

Heavy sales in the Dress Goods Department has left us a lot of Good Remnants which we are clearing out at remnant prices. Remnants of Prints, Tweeds, &c., laid out and sold at great reductions.

Some Sensational Evidence Given Before the Coroner's Jury in the Cronin Mystery Yesterday—The Verdict.

CHICAGO, June 11.—At the Cronin inquest, to-day J. D. Haggerty, a railroad clerk, testified that after the trial of Dr. Cronin, Alexander Sullivan told him Cronin was a scoundrel and a menace to the Irish cause. It was the impression of witness that Sullivan was trying to express the opinion that Cronin should be exterminated. Witness was of the same opinion at that time.

Chief of Police Hubbard told of an interview he had with Woodruff, the horse thief. Hubbard asked him if he really was the one who drove the trunk from the Carlson cottage. Woodruff said he was given $25 by two men the day before to do the job. At 11.30 p. m. on May 4 he stated the two men, according to agreement, rapped on the door of Dinan's stable. Woodruff opened the door and led out the horse with rags on its feet and hitched it to the wagon. They drove to within 100 feet of the cottage. Woodruff was told to wait and the two left him and went into the cottage. They remained five minutes and then beckoned him to drive up. He did so and the two—King and Fairburn—and a third man came out with a heavy trunk. The third man was P. O. Sullivan. When the trunk was put in the wagon Sullivan returned to the house. Woodruff with King and Fairburn drove to Lincoln Park. The men were foiled by the presence of strangers in their intention of throwing the trunk into the lake and drove back. Reaching the manhole at 59th-street they kicked the trunk open and threw the body into the manhole.

The chief then produced the private papers of Dr. Cronin turned over by saloon-keeper Conklin. Conklin identified the papers as being in the handwriting of Cronin. The jury decided that the names of parties in the documents should not be made public, except those already brought into the case.

The coroner read the minority report of the Sullivan trial commenced at Philadelphia, Jan. 15, 1889, and signed by J. P. McCahey and P. H. Cronin. The report blames Alexander Sullivan for neglecting the family of Mackey Lamasney, scores Sullivan, Boland and Feeley for excluding C. P. McCarty from the Boston Convention and also for excluding the delegate of the home organization. It was alleged that a report of the Boston Convention showed a deficit of $12,000 at the instance of Sullivan when there really was a balance; that $111,000 was improperly spent and not accounted for by the triangle; that the men sent to England on a mission were not sufficiently supplied with money and the agent of the triangle was responsible for this, that $87,191 drawn from the treasury for "active work" was not used for that purpose by the triangle but with surplus money was in the hands of the triangle's agent.

The coroner then read Dr. Cronin's notes taken at the trial. One witness testified that he was sent to England to do active work and given £4 and a steerage ticket. He came back by steerage without bedclothes or other necessities. He went again and was told to get some one to help him. John Maroney was one of the men who was to help him. He was given $300 and when he got to England could not get more. He did not use the alias given him by the triangle, and his evidence intimates that this saved him from falling into the hands of the English authorities. He and his partner "performed four operations."

Other documents were also read. The jury did not want to hear any more witnesses and at 4.40 o'clock retired for deliberation.

At 10.20 to-night, after being out six hours the coroner's jury brought in a verdict, the features of it being a recommendation that Alexander Sullivan be held, also the three already under arrest. At 10.30 officers were despatched to Sullivan's residence to make the arrest.

Locked Up in Murderers' Row.

CHICAGO, June 11.—Alexander Sullivan was arrested to-night. He was in bed when the officers arrived at his house. He promptly arose, dressed himself and went with the officers to the jail. There he was locked up in cell No. 25 in "Murderers' Row." The prisoner's demeanor was calm throughout the entire proceedings.

METHODISTS AT LONDON.

A Number of Reports Presented to the Conference Yesterday

LONDON, Ont., June 11.—At the Methodist Conference to-day Rev. Wm. Briggs presented the report of the Methodist Publishing House, showing that institution to be in a flourishing condition. The premises in King-street have been sold for $40,000 and new premises purchased at a cost of over $160,000. The business done by this institution during the year amounts to over $900,000.

Rev. Dr. Burns presented the report of Hamilton Ladies' College, which showed the institution to be in a prosperous condition. Over a dozen young ladies would graduate this year. This was the first ladies' college established in Canada and has no debt on it.

Rev. Dr. Potts gave his report as the Secretary of the educational work, referring specially to the federation movement. London Conference has subscribed toward federation $60,183 and paid $3971. Persons outside of the church have subscribed $14,325.

A New Pest.

GUELPH, June 11.—The farmers in this neighborhood are making great complaint over the devastation of a new grub which is playing havoc with the oats. It is about the [illegible] of a piece of pencil, an inch long, and such has been its effect that many fields have been plowed up and others will have to follow. It attacks the root of the cereal and soon leaves the ground very bare.

TORONTO TOPICS.

The W. C. T. U., Anglican Synod, C. O. O. F., and Undertakers in Council.

TORONTO, June 12.—The Dominion W. C. T. U. held its first session yesterday at Association Hall. In the morning the Executive met to appoint committees and to arrange matters for the Convention. The afternoon session commenced with a devotional service conducted by Mrs. Cowan of Toronto. On account of the illness of the president, Mrs. Youmans, the chair was occupied by Mrs. Brethour, vice-president for Ontario. The roll call by the recording secretary, Mrs. P. Rutherford, Toronto, showed that 57 delegates were present. The corresponding secretary, Mrs. Dalkin, Barrie, gave encouraging reports of the work in different provinces of Canada. Papers were read on "Prohibition" by Mrs. Sanderson, Quebec and Mrs. Symington of Napanee, Ont. Mrs. Andrews of Manitoba gave a sketch of the prohibition movement in the Northwest. During the afternoon Mrs. H. A. Pettigo, superintendent of the Juvenile Department of the W.C.T.U. for New York State, and Miss Anna Gordon, Evanston, Ill., Miss Willard's secretary, were introduced to the convention. In the evening a reception was given to the delegates in the Metropolitan Church parlors, most of the 1000 invitations sent out being accepted. A public meeting was also held in the body of the church. Rev. LeRoy Hooker was chairman. Several addresses of welcome were given, after which Miss Willard spoke of the movement; its foundation—its development—and the encouraging reports of her sister workers in all parts of the world. Her platform was prohibition by law, prohibition by politics and prohibition by women's ballot. Miss Willard was enthusiastically applauded at the close of her address.

Delegates by the hundred, clerical and lay, crowded the school house of St. James' Cathedral yesterday. The occasion was the annual meeting of the Anglican Synod of Toronto Diocese. On the platform were: The Bishop of Toronto, in the chair; Archdeacon Boddy, the Provost of Trinity; Dr. Snelling, Registrar of the Diocese; Dr. Hodgins and Rev. Dr. Pearson, Honorary Secretaries. At the above meeting Rev. Dr. Pearson read replies from various districts relative to the possibility of uniting the whole church of British North America under one ecclesiastical jurisdiction. The Executive Committee was empowered to deal with the Toronto Rectory Surplus Fund. The report of the Clergy Commutation Trust Fund Committee was received. The receipts were: On account capital, $60,199; expenditure, on account capital, $61,902; balance on April 30, $7297; on account income, $23,640; balance overdrawn April 30, 1889, $1082.

The Grand Lodge of the Canadian Order of Oddfellows began its annual session here yesterday, Grand Warden Gulliet of London presiding. The greater part of the day was taken up in routine business and the appointing of standing committees. A concert was given in the Horticultural Pavilion in the evening.

The Executive Committees of the Ontario and Toronto Undertakers' Association held a joint meeting in the Palmer House yesterday afternoon, W. T. Gibbard, the Provincial President, in the chair, to arrange for the annual convention of the International Undertakers' Association which meets here in October. There will be about 500 delegates.

The bylaw of the city of Hamilton making a grant of $1750 for the proposed summer carnival, was yesterday quashed at Osgoode Hall and the grant therefore cannot be made.

A motion was made by Mr. Britton, Q.C., to stay proceedings and to dissolve the injunction against the authorities of the Victoria University recently continued by Chief Justice Galt. No argument was heard, enlargement being made until Friday next.

A fly young Englishman calling himself "Hon. Horace R. Spearman," has been victimizing boarding house keepers, tradesmen and his acquaintances generally. The worthless check dodge was his particular forte. Spearman has worked similar rackets in Beeton and Brockville.

Yesterday afternoon boys playing in rear of 63 Douro-street found the body of a female infant lying in the lane. It was apparently born alive, and Coroner Powell had it removed to the Morgue, where an inquest will be held this evening.

AMBITIOUS CITY NOTES.

The Field Battery Off For Camp—Opening of the Wentworth County Court.

HAMILTON, June 11.—The Hamilton Field Battery left at 11 o'clock this morning for the camp at Niagara, picking up on the way down the Beamsville, Merritton, St. Catharines and Niagara Falls Companies of the Nineteenth Lincoln Battalion. The full strength of the battery was present and the corps goes out to camp in good shape.

The General Sessions of the Peace opened at noon to-day before Judge Muir. The first action called, Conlon v. The City of Hamilton, a suit to recover $200 damages on account of the flooding of plaintiff's premises, was still in progress when the court rose.

At the Police Court to-day James Blair of East Flamboro was charged with assaulting and abusing his stepson, Clarence Bigelow. Owing to the police magistrate's illness the case was adjourned until Thursday.

Frank Whitelock has returned from Johnstown, Pa., where he went to inquire about the safety of his brother, Edward Whitelock, and his family. Mr. Whitelock discovered that his brother and family had escaped from the flood. They lived in Kernville, a borough which is situated on the hills. When they saw the water coming they got on the roof of the house and the water did not reach them. Mr. Whitelock brought his brother's two children home with him.

MR. GRAHAM'S OFFER.

Not Likely to Be Accepted by the Government—The Cabinet's View.

OTTAWA, June 11.—Inquiry to-day in high quarters developed the fact that the offer of Mr. Hugh Graham to refer the Jesuits Estates Act to the Supreme Court is not at all likely to be accepted by the Government, the view taken by the Cabinet being that any such action would stultify the recent course of the Government and of Parliament.

ANTI-JESUITS.

OPENING OF THE TORONTO CITIZENS' COMMITTEE GATHERING.

The Grand Opera House the Scene of Strong Sentiment Against the Order—Cheers for Col. O'Brien—A Mass Meeting.

TORONTO, June 12.—The anti-Jesuit convention opened at the Grand Opera House at 10 o'clock yesterday morning with 883 delegates in attendance. Principal Caven, as chairman of the Toronto Citizens' Committee, occupied the chair until the convention was formally organized.

After prayer by Rev. Dr. Hunter and the singing of "God Save the Queen," Principal Caven delivered the opening address. The keynote was struck in the words "We are met to discuss questions of great and momentous importance to the public life of this country." The "urgency" of the matter was the chairman's next topic. The Jesuit question had been introduced in Canada, and to shirk the consideration thereof would be a dereliction. Then came the broader topic—the relation of church and state, and some generous sentiment anent the Roman Catholics. "Our movement is not against that church. We vindicate religious liberty and equality to the fullest extent. All churches should be equal in the eye of the law." Nor was any injustice or bitterness entertained towards the French Canadians. The political dominance of any church, said the Principal, is a standing menace to the peace of the state and necessarily results in injustice. The true significance of the present movement is that the relations of church and state conflict. We must disclaim a desire to gain any advantage for any political party if our movement would succeed. [Applause]. If we can rise above party considerations we shall achieve a moral victory of incalculable weight.

Rev. Charles Duff, Toronto, suggested as a motto for the convention a sentence of Dr. Caven's: "I claim the liberty of speaking freely upon the whole subject of Ultramontane aggressiveness wherever it reveals itself."

Major Bond, Montreal, claimed that city was the first line of defence, against Jesuitical aggression. Said he vehemently, "We will defend to the very utmost the absolute supremacy of Queen Victoria—[cheers]—and also our civil and religious liberty."

Dr. Davidson, chairman of the Montreal Citizens' Committee, said: "Unless the Jesuits be curbed the Dominion will be in a lamentable position and there will be no peace."

Rev. P. McLeod, of British Columbia, late of Toronto, descanted on the freedom of the district beyond the Rockies from Jesuit aggression.

Rev. Mr. McLaren, North Bay, was bitter in his strictures.

Colonel O'Brien, M.P., received a flattering reception. Said he: "The most important aspect of the situation is not the constitutional but the political." He saw little difference between the two political parties in reference to Jesuitism.

Mr. James Sutherland, M.P. for North Oxford, was the first to raise a little breeze. He boldly avowed: "There are as firm supporters of civil and religious liberty who voted for allowance of the Jesuits' Estates Act as we of the '13' are." [Loud cries of "no, no."] "I am prepared irrespective of party to stand by the position I have taken."

Dr. Fraser of London said the feeling in that city was varied.

The chairman, in answer to Dr. Davidson, Q.C., said the convention was substantially an Ontario gathering, though representatives from other provinces had been invited. Personally he was in favor of a Dominion convention. The applause which followed showed that the suggestion was popular, and it is probable it will take tangible form.

Mr. Martin, Q.C., of Hamilton presided over the afternoon convention. Rev. Charles Duff started the ball by wanting a declaration of the difference between Roman Catholicism and Ultramontanism. Several delegates backed up Mr. Duff and as many opposed it. The resolution was lost.

The chairman read a resolution of sympathy from the Stationing Committee of the Toronto Conference.

Dr. Wild brought from Brantford with him fraternal greetings from the Congregational Union of Ontario and Quebec.

Mr. E. Douglas moved a resolution heartily approving of the calling of the convention. The resolution was unanimously carried.

The second resolution condemned the Jesuits' Estates Act and the right of the Pope to interfere in the affairs of Canada. The resolution was well supported and carried.

Mr. J. T. Small, Toronto, got a resolution adopted pledging a continuance of exertions to carry disallowance.

One of the chief speeches of the day was that of Principal Cavan maintaining that the line be defined between church and state. The resolution was carried.

At the evening mass meeting the Grand was packed to the dome with an interested audience made up for a large part of ladies. Ald. John McMillan President of the Toronto City Council, was the chairman, and in his own plain unvarnished yet withal effective style opened the rhetorical ball. Then came Rev. Dr. McVicar of Montreal, who with strong Scotch accent, an array of unimpeachable facts, made more impressive by glints of wit, continued his speech of the afternoon. The first point made was the opposition of Cardinal Taschereau and of Roman Catholic Bishops to the incorporation of the Jesuits and the passing of the Jesuits' Estates Act. Here he claimed the co-operation of the liberal-minded Roman Catholics in resisting Jesuit aggression. A series of grievances the Doctor next unfolded to the interested and sympathetic audience. The first was that of the subversion of funds for the higher education to sectarian purposes; next the school grievance, between $10,000 and $12,000 of Protestant money being taken for Roman Catholic education. The Council of Public Instruction, a strong Catholic body, came between the people and their representatives and prevented redress in the matter. Roman Catholics should receive their own taxes and Protestants their own. [Applause.]

Mr. John Charlton, M.P., made a very effective speech, chiefly remarkable for his lucid resume of the parliamentary history of the Jesuit aggression. Vigorously he denounced such an anachronism as a Jesuit corporation in a British colony, and cheers and laughter greeted his indictment of Mr. Mercier as liable for high treason for his share in the business.

Dr. Davidson of Montreal made a long and able speech. How the dignity of the crown has been impaired and the rights of the people been trampled on was eloquently told and the progress of this agitation and its ultimate success enlarged on.

Col. O. Brien, M.P., also gave a vigorous address.

Drowned.

POUGHKEEPSIE, June 11.—Edward Gass, aged 9 years, while playing on the string-piece of Collingwood dock here to-night, fell into the river and was drowned. The body was recovered a short time after.

U. S. Millers in Council.

MILWAUKEE, June 11.—The Millers' National Association convened here to-day. The millers were given a reception at the Chamber of Commerce. There are about 160 millers here and more are coming.

EXCITED DEPUTIES.

A Lively Scene in the French Chamber—General Cable News.

PARIS, June 11.—Gellibert des Seguins interpellated the Government in the Chamber of Deputies this afternoon in relation to the suppression of the Boulangist meeting at Angouleme Sunday. He warned the Government that it was vain to attempt to terrorize the masses.

M. Constans, Minister of the Interior, said the Government had ordered a display of military force at Angouleme because the people in receiving certain political leaders had obstructed the highways. [Interruptions from the Right.] Demonstrations like that of Sunday were generally the work of paid agitators. At Angouleme agitators had even been summoned from adjoining departments. [Here there were protests on the part of the Boulangist members and M. Laur was called to order.] M. Constans continuing said that M. de Roulede, one of the persons charged with rioting, had struck a commissary of police by the collar and injured his foot. The commissary had only performed his duty in arresting him and those who assisted him. The minister then declared that the Government would send more policemen to Angouleme if such a meeting were again attempted.

M. Laur shouted: "Just try and I will blow the brains out of the first one who approaches me."

The President again called M. Laur to order and also M. Cassagnac d'Ornano, who joined M. Laur in resenting the minister's language.

M. Constans said the Government had to deal with a flagrant offence and not merely with isolated cases. Similar scenes to those at Angouleme had been enacted the same day at Lyons and Correze and by the same political party.

Here another uproar occurred on the Right and the Marquis de Breteuil was called to order.

M. Constans said it was impossible to tolerate such provocations any longer, and the Government in the future would deal severely with those who were responsible for them. M. Constans was greeted with prolonged cheers from the Left.

A Slap at Ferry.

PARIS, June 11.—In the Chamber of Deputies to-day M. Goblet, commenting on M. Ferry's speech of Thursday last, said M. Ferry was not the Republican leader and therefore was not entitled to make advances to the Right.

The Exposition's Big Day.

PARIS, June 11.—The Exposition was visited by 204,000 persons yesterday.

WHAT SCIENCE WILL DO.

A Soap Thief Run Out of a Montreal Boarding House.

MONTREAL, June 11.—It is not often that chemistry is used as a means to detect larceny, but this actually happened in a boarding house here. A young man had a great liking for the use of scented soap, but was much annoyed at frequent intervals on going to wash himself to find his soap had disappeared. He complained to the proprietor of the house, but as there were some fifty boarders in the house that gentleman, though he was willing to do his best, was powerless. The young man got tired of losing his soap and determined to put a stop to the practice. Last Friday he bought a lovely cake of soap, and carefully doctored it with nitrate of silver. This has the property that in the presence of sun light and moisture it will turn the skin black, and the black won't come off. The cake of soap was carefully deposited on the washstand and further developments awaited. By Saturday afternoon the soap had disappeared and the young man now knew what to expect. On Sunday morning the boarders were startled by an individual rushing down stairs shouting that he must have some horrible disease. His hands were black and so was his forehead. "No disease at all," said the proprietor; "but you are the man who has been stealing the soap. Get out!" and the individual had to leave. It will take over a week for the black to disappear. No one in that house in future will lay a finger on that boarder's soap.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

Bright Live Stock Prospects in the Northwest—Railway Gossip.

OTTAWA, June 11.—A private letter from the Alberta cattle ranching district received here this morning states that the calf crop this season is fully a third more than that of last year. This is due to the open winter and an early and warm spring. Major MacLeod, of the MacLeod Ranch, informed your correspondent that on his ranch alone there would be 300 more calves this year than last season.

Wm. Gillespie, 11 years old, and living near Hintonburg, a few miles up the Ottawa, while fishing from a boom fell into the river and was drowned. The body has not yet been recovered. This is the second accident of a similar kind that has occurred at that point within a month.

Another conference between the Government, the Canadian Pacific and the Great Northwest Central Railway over the land grant was held this forenoon.

There is considerable talk here over the delay of the United States Treasury Department in granting the application of the Canadian Pacific Railway for bonding privileges on their new line across the State of Maine to the Maritime Provinces. It is known that agents of American roads are using every influence to counteract the competition of the Canadian Pacific Railway. The new line across Maine, with its American seaboard connection, has already made a big gap in the business formerly enjoyed by American lines.

Mr. W. R. Anderson, the steamship owner of London, Eng., had a conference to-day with Hon. Messrs. Thompson, Foster and Haggart respecting the proposed fast transatlantic steamship service. It is understood that the basis of an arrangement or contract was agreed upon. The details will be announced shortly. It was originally intended to provide a 20 knot service, but it has been decided to reduce the rate of speed.

The Montreal Jewelry Case.

MONTREAL, June 11.—In the Court of Queen's Bench to-day "Andy" Maloney entered a plea of not guilty to the charge of stealing $14,000 worth of watches and jewelry, the property of P. W. Ellis & Co. of Toronto. Mr. St. Pierre, who represents the private prosecutors, was not ready to proceed and the case went over to the next term, the accused being admitted to bail, himself in $2000 and two sureties in $1000 each. Later on Harry Phillips appeared, was arraigned, pleaded not guilty and was released on a like bond.

The Cynthia's Claim for Damages.

QUEBEC, June 11.—Messrs. Caron, Pentland & Stuart, solicitors, have taken action in the Viceadmiralty Court on behalf of the wrecked Donaldson line steamship Cynthia for a counter-claim for damages against the steamship Polynesian arising out of the recent disastrous collision in the channel near Montreal. The amount claimed is £20,000.

HANGING BY CONTRACT.

A COMPANY ORGANIZED TO EXECUTE CONDEMNED CRIMINALS.

The Latest Chicago Undertaking—Getting Ready to Relieve the County Sheriffs of an Odious Duty for a Moderate Sum.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 11.—Capital is seeking new channels for investment. Articles of incorporation were filed with the Secretary of State yesterday afternoon creating the great American Execution Company of the United States. It is organized under the general corporation act of Illinois and announces its paid-up capital at $25,000. Its declared purpose is "to execute persons who are sentenced to death." The incorporators are Stephen Lawson, M. E. Clear and Jacob A. R. Iffert, all of Chicago. Lawson and Clear were in partnership in that city in the retail coal business until a year ago and the firm became M. E. Clear & Company. Mr. Lawson is not in any business at present, but thinks there is an honest dollar to be made in the hanging business. The Company intends to establish agencies in each State capital, and will conduct a general retail and wholesale execution business at fixed schedule rates. It will employ only the most expert hangmen at a fixed yearly salary and will make contracts with the sheriffs of counties in States where condemned murderers are executed by the county officials. In States like Ohio (and in the future, New York) where the executions must occur only at legally prescribed places, the arrangements will be made with the wardens of the penitentiaries.

How They Will Do Business.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 11.—The men who yesterday filed articles of incorporation with the State Department appear to be acting in good faith, though it is possible they are seeking notoriety rather than income from stretching necks. I talked with the Chief of Police about the matter and he declared most emphatically that he didn't believe the Cook County officials would employ any such executioners. Each sheriff, when his successor was selected, confided as a precious secret the name and identity of the professional hangman. It would never do to employ Tom, Dick or Harry to swing convicted criminals into eternity.

M. E. Clear was found at his office on the river front. He is a neat, bustling man of about medium size, and spoke with perfect frankness on the subject. "Yes, it is true," he said, "that a few of us have organized a company to conduct private executions throughout the country. We have put up our money, and are already in correspondence with many sheriffs and expert hangmen throughout the country."

"What do you expect your dividends to be?"

"I am glad you asked that question," was the quick rejoiner, "because it shows that our motives are completely misunderstood. We do not intend to earn any dividends. If we can simply maintain the integrity of our capital we shall be satisfied and shall gladly charge off to the loss account the interest thereon. No, our motives are purely philanthropic. To do good is our religion. You see, it's like this: We are all believers in capital punishment. We read our Bibles carefully and believe that whoso sheddeth man's blood by man shall his blood be shed—or words to that effect. To be hanged, sir, by our company's expert executioner will be a luxury."

"What gave you the idea of this novel enterprise?"

"The recent bungling executions in Missouri," was the reply. "You must have read—of course you did—the horrible accounts of the bungling strangulations of the Bald-Knobbers. That was shocking enough to suggest some practical reform, don't you think so? Some of the members of the company hope to secure the co-operation of the large and organized undertaking interests throughout the country. Then we shall be able to make a rate for a neat hanging, a rather more imposing execution or a complete carrying out of the law and funeral combined.

"The rates will depend much upon the distance necessary to send the executioners and the condition of the scaffold at the jail where the law is carried out. Of course we shall have a dozen or more substantially built scaffolds at central points, properly packed for prompt shipment to the desired localities where nothing of the kind is to be had. But we shall encourage hanging by the approved method in vogue at New York, where a heavy iron weight is used to jerk apart the vertebræ of the condemned. This apparatus can be rigged up anywhere, and the four hundred pound weight only will have to be shipped, the ropes, pulleys, staples and pinioning straps can be carried in a small grip-sack. We shall know our engagements, of course, and shall keep them. It will be a business matter with us altogether—no sentiment in dealing with crime."

"Suppose you get an application from a man for your gallows and cords who wants to commit suicide, will it be 'in the line of business' to furnish him what he wants?"

"We shall be suspicious of all applications from anybody but sheriffs and of course we shall have all their names. No, we shall not assist suicides out of this world."

Jacob A. R. Iffert is a large retail furniture dealer doing business across the street from Mr. Clear. "I don't know whether he sells coffins or not, but he has come to the conclusion that the present times are ripe for such an 'undertaking,' if it can be managed without conflicting with State constitutions. The idea was largely his, he admits, and he believes the American Execution Company will be able to contract with the various county authorities, whenever they have a hanging on their hands, to relieve them of the odious work for a certain sum per murderer. And the company will then do the business, under a guarantee of success, with experienced men and the best of material. This latest novel enterprise, they hope, will be warmly welcomed by the sheriffs throughout the United States, where capital punishment is inflicted, and especially by Sheriff Matson, who dreads to have another wholesale execution on his hands, such as he had when the Anarchists were hanged. The incorporators are anticipating a brisk demand in this special line of work in connection with the Cronin murder. When the reporter entered Mr. Iffert's private office, now the headquarters of the company, he saw a neat sign over the cashier's desk: "We study to please."

THE FORESTERS AT LONDON.

Tenth Annual Meeting of the High Court of the Canadian Order.

LONDON, Ont., June 11.—The tenth annual meeting of the High Court of the Canadian Order of Foresters opened this afternoon in the City Hall at 2 p.m. A large number of delegates and all the High Court officers were present.

After various committees had been appointed an address of welcome from the local brethren was read by Ed Towe, H.V.C.R., of this city, and replied to in fitting terms by the High Chief Ranger. Fraternal greetings were exchanged with the Grand Lodge of Oddfellows now in session in Toronto.

At 7 o'clock the brethren formed in procession at the City Hall and marched to Tecumseh Park headed by the band of the Seventh Fusiliers, where a display of fireworks and a concert were given.

The session will probably be concluded on Friday.

Dress the Hair

With Ayer's Hair Vigor. Its cleanliness, beneficial effects on the scalp, and lasting perfume commend it for universal toilet use. It keeps the hair soft and silken, preserves its color, prevents it from falling, and, if the hair has become weak or thin, promotes a new growth.

"To restore the original color of my hair, which had turned prematurely gray, I used Ayer's Hair Vigor with entire success. I cheerfully testify to the

of this preparation."—Mrs. P. H. Davidson, Alexandria, La.

"I was afflicted some three years with scalp disease. My hair was falling out and what remained turned gray. I was induced to try Ayer's Hair Vigor, and in a few weeks the disease in my scalp disappeared and my hair resumed its original color."—(Rev.) S. S. Sims, Pastor U. B. Church, St. Bernice, Ind.

"A few years ago I suffered the entire loss of my hair from the effects of tetter. I hoped that, after a time nature would repair the loss, but I waited in vain. Many remedies were suggested, none, however, with such proof of merit as Ayer's Hair Vigor, and I began to use it. The result was all I could have desired. A growth of hair soon came out all over my head, and grew to be as soft and heavy as I ever had, and of a natural color, and firmly set."—J. H. Pratt, Spofford, Texas.

BOARD OF TRADE MEETING.

Important Committees Appointed—The Board Discuss Bonuses and Manufactories—Another Meeting.

The adjourned meeting of the Board of Trade was held on Tuesday evening in the Council Chamber.

Present,—Messrs. Innes, Manson, Young, A. Hall, Irwin, W. Hamilton, Minore, Cahill, Dobbin, Lech, Pollie, Fairweather, Moore, Meldrum, Lewis, Kelly, Macdonald, Wilson, and Belleghem.

The Vice-President, Mr. R. Innis, took the chair. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and disposed of and some routine business transacted.

STANDING COMMITTEES

Mr. MELDRUM, chairman of the special committee appointed to strike the standing committees for the year handed in his report, explaining that the recommendations were made subject to the approval of the Board; the first named on each committee being named as chairman.

The report was taken up and read. Some suggestions were made relative to the personnel of one or two of the committees, and which were approved of by the Board. The report was then adopted, five members of any committee constituting a quorum.

RAILWAY COMMITTEE.—J. Carnegie, W. R. Matthews, T. C. Brooks, W. Hamilton, J. M. Irwin, Jas. Stevenson, D. Belleghem, T. Kelly, J. L. Gower, W. J. Minore.

MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE.—W. H. Moore, R. A. Morrow, W. Patterson, A. L. Davis, Dr. Burnham, F. J. Lewis, P. H. Dobbin, H. Rush, H. Phelan, A. Stevenson.

MERCANTILE COMMITTEE.—Messrs. Jas. Pollie, McFarlane Wilson, J. Hackett, B. Shortly, R. J. Lee, H. S. Macdonald, W. J. Green, R. Fair, W. J. Sherwood, R. J. Kingan.

MANUFACTURER'S COMMITTEE.—Messrs. T. Cahill, W. Lech, T. G. Hazlitt, Jas. Stevenson, J. R. Stratton, W. H. Meldrum, R. A. Morrow, J. M. Irwin, W. Hamilton, T. C. Brooks.

RECEPTION COMMITTEE.—The Chairman of the several committees and officers of the Board.

Mr. IRWIN pointed out that while a committee had been struck to deal with railway matters that to that committee should be delegated the question of dealing with matters affecting navigation and with the Trent Valley Canal. The necessity of looking after the reservoirs in the back country was an important one, and the necessity for action might arise sooner than was expected.

The suggestion was adopted.

ELECTION OF MEMBERS.

The following gentlemen were proposed for membership and on the ballot declared elected:—Messrs. Jas. Pearce, W. H. Hill, D. W. Dumble, J. G. Early, P. H. Green, J. Hull, (Lakefield), and R. English, (Keene).

BOARD OF ARBITRATION.

In accordance with the requirements of the Act of Incorporation the Board proceeded to elect a Board of Arbitration of twelve individuals to whom any matters of dispute in trade might be referred:

Messrs. J. M. Irwin, F. J. Lewis, W. Patterson, jr., W. H. Meldrum, W. Manson, T. Kelly, A. Hall, J. Carnegie, D. W. Dumble, W. H. Moore, Geo. Hilliard and R. Innes.

A MASS MEETING IN AUGUST.

A circular from the Board of Trade of Hamilton in reference to a convention or mass meeting to be held in that city during the month of August was read and on motion referred to the Council of the Board for consideration.

A QUESTION OF HELP.

Mr. THOS. CAHILL brought before the Board the matter of the inducements to be offered to the Ontario Pump Co., of Toronto, who were desirous of locating and had about completed arrangements to locate at Peterborough. The proposal had already been considered by the Town Council and in a favorable way. While there might be some opposition to the scheme he hoped that the general interests of the town were important and should be considered. He hoped that the board of trade would view the project favorably and if possible it would be well to pass a resolution endorsing the scheme and which would materially strengthen the probability of a by-law, when submitted, in being carried.

Mr. IRWIN suggested that the manufacturers' committee of the board should take the matter up, make a careful enquiry and then bring the matter before the board.

Mr. LECH opposed the proposition to grant any money assistance whatever.

Mr. CAHILL disputed the contention of Mr. Lech that such assistance would be unfair.

Mr. DUMBLE warmly furthered the proposition that the Board should discuss this matter. It was clearly within its province and deserved very careful consideration. On general principles the giving of bonuses was not justifiable, but in a country like Canada it was well to consider that we might well expend some money to bring here manufactures that we might not otherwise get. Natural facilities for manufacturing were with us, but it was high time we awakened to energy and progress if we wished to have our town prosperous. He would go so far as to say that he would issue debentures for $100,000, bank the money, advertise that any industry that was sound and solid and wanted room to send on their plans and come on. Put up a building to the extent of $10,000 if necessary, and repeat the operation ten times. Ten splendid factories here would bring others, and the result would be to force the town into prominence. But what are we going to do, and how will we do it? Bring in your operatives, who will occupy your houses and spend their wages in town. The energy of the men of the town must build up the town. Manufacturing cities in Canada were not wholly fixed and the place that forced its advantages on attention would be successful. Buildings would always prove an asset. Money bonuses would melt away but real estate would survive. The manufactures we now had were the result of personal energy.

Mr. MELDRUM endorsed the general features of the proposition as outlined by Mr. Dumble, and he hoped the board would assist the Council in bringing in additional manufactures.

Mr. W. HAMILTON urged objections to granting bonuses on the general principal that it was unfair to those already in business.

Mr. T. KELLY gave the result of a brief calculation showing that the increase in taxes resulting from any assistance granted to an industry would not, when spread over all, amount to an individually serious sum.

Mr. DUMBLE covered some ground omitted in his previous remarks.

Mr. LEWIS gave some suggestions in regard to the matter, after which a resolution was submitted that the general principles of bonussing together with the proposition of the Ontario Pump Company be referred to the Manufacturing Committee for consideration who should report to the board at a meeting to be called in one week's time.

Mr. MOORE urged advertising the advantages of the town in some of the prominent trade papers.

The Board then adjourned for one week.

Endeavor Society.

The entertainment and programme committee of the Endeavor Society of Charlotte-st. Methodist church will meet this evening after prayer meeting to make preparations for the coming social.

Sunday School Picnic.

The three Baptist Sunday Schools of town intend having an excursion to Jacob's Island, Stone Lake, on Tuesday, July 9th, where a picnic will be held. Return tickets from Peterborough, adults 60c. children 30c; from Bridgenorth, 30c. children 15c. Y.M.C.A. Band in attendance. 6d126-1w24

Catarrh cured, health and sweet breath secured, by Shiloh's Catarrh remedy. Price 50 cents. Nasal Injector free. S. C. Wells & Co., proprietors, Le Roy, N.Y.

The Dangers of Town Life.

There is an imaginary line dividing the township of Douro from the town, but if a cow from the township crosses this imaginary line to visit in the town the owner of that bovine is liable to get into trouble. That this is the case four residents of the township have learned at the cost to their purses of two dollars each. Thos. Burke, L. Brisbois, Mrs. Firman and Thos. Sullivan, four residents of Douro, who allowed their cows to wander into the temptations of a great city like Peterborough, were summoned before the Magistrate this morning and each paid two dollars and costs for their cows' excursion.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

CURIOUS THINGS OF LIFE.

A Brooklyn man dreamed he was in a scrimmage, and drew his pistol from under his pillow and shot himself.

In a divorce case at Pittsburg, Pa., a woman testified that soon after marriage her husband laid down a rule that she was not to eat meat, butter, eggs or lard.

Cyrus Arter, of Youngsville, Pa., went to Sugar Grove to attend the funeral of a brother who had been accidentally killed, was taken ill there with grief and died in a few days.

A Tacoma, W. T., paper says that place is being blessed with a perfect cloud burst of babies. It reports the birth of twenty baby boys and dainty girls in different parts of the town.

Levi Johnson, of Boston, Ga., is 84 years old and has been blind for ten years. The other day his sight suddenly returned to him and he called for a book and read with perfect ease.

A woman in Findlay, O., and a friend of hers in Utica, N. Y., both dreamed the same identical dream on the same night, although hundreds of miles apart. Both dreamed of funerals, of course.

Several years ago a piece of a pump stock was placed in a spring at Neversink, Pa., for safe keeping. It was taken out lately, and next day an eel two and a half feet long was found in it full of animation.

Peter E. Vose is the Pooh Bah of Dennysville, Me. These are the offices he holds and the "honored" length of service: First selectman, 39 years; treasurer, 28 years; assessor, 31 years; overseer, 34 years; town agent, 30 years.

A Steubenville man thought something was wrong with his nose. It was nearly stopped up. After suffering from this annoyance almost a year or so he went to the doctor, who removed a shoe button from the base part of the nasal cavity. The man now breathes more easily.

In a few of the famine stricken districts of China mothers are selling their children. A missionary, who visited the market town of Wang Chia Ch'uan, met many women on the streets calling out: "Who will buy this boy! I can't feed him any longer, and I don't want to hear him crying about for want of food."

Mr. Samuel Fries, residing near Steinsville, Lehigh county, Pa., is happy in the possession of a beard measuring 4 feet and 9 inches in length—the same extending considerably below his knees. He is a man 71 years of age, well built, weighing 235 pounds, and has been cultivating his whisker crop for twenty-eight years straight along with a success that probably stands unsurpassed.

The McAll Mission.

The American McAll Association, whose annual meeting was held in Philadelphia recently, originated in Philadelphia. Six years ago, in 1883, the Philadelphia auxiliary sent out a call to the other two auxiliaries, Washington and Baltimore, inviting them to send delegates to organize a national association. This was done and the organization effected. Mrs. Rutherford B. Hayes was elected president and Mrs. J. A. Garfield first vice president, the latter office being still filled by Mrs. Garfield. At the end of the year Mrs. Hayes declined re-election, and Mrs. Marine J. Chase was elected to the presidency, and has been re-elected each year.

The association holds its annual meetings in cities to which it is invited. It has already met in Washington, New York, Springfield, Mass.; Baltimore, Brooklyn, and this year it comes to Philadelphia. Instead of three auxiliaries there are now sixty-five, located in all the large cities, from Portland, Me., to Chicago, and in St. Louis, Louisville, Florida, and in many smaller cities and towns intervening. Its work is the evangelization of France. Its yearly receipts amount to something over $35,000. It has twenty-seven vice presidents, representing the different states. Its board of directors numbers twelve, all of whom, except four, reside in Philadelphia, where the board meetings are held monthly.—Christian Union.

Mourning for Pets.

In Egypt ladies used to carry their devotion for their feline pets so far as to go into mourning for them when the died. And how do you think they went into mourning! Why, by shaving off their eyebrows! Favorite cats used to be embalmed, too, and I know of no quainter or more grotesque objects than the mummified cats which may be seen at the British museum. Even now cats are held in high esteem in Egypt, and in at least one of the khedive's palaces at Cairo there is a free ration distributed every day to any cats that may care to apply.

A Modest Request.

A certain deacon in a church which shall be nameless, had the bad habit of snoring while asleep during divine service. One Saturday evening he received the following note: "Deacon —— is desired not to commence snoring to-morrow until the sermon is begun, as some persons in the neighborhood of his pew would like to hear the text."—St. Louis Republic.

The benefits of vacation season may be greatly enhanced if at the same time the blood is being cleansed and vitalized by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. A good appetite, fresh vigor and buoyant spirits attend the use of this wonderful medicine.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

OUR SUMMER CLOTHING BULLETIN.

Correct in style, Perfect in fit, Reliable in make and Right in price is the Clothing we offer you. Correct at the start and at the finish.

The requirements for each garment are—The material must be right, the cut of it right, the make of it right and, withal, the price must be right. Must be right at every stage of its construction, so that in the end 'twill be right. It requires no little attention, study and skill to keep to the track all the way through, but the result is recompense sufficient. Our prices and our goods both are right.

Correct in style—means more than fashionable in style, beautiful in style or sensible in style. It means all of 'em together. In such clothing as this you're neither "a guy," "a dude" or "a fellow of no style," but "A gentleman, sir, by his dress." Your garments are not "loud" enough to attract attention, but they're good enough to stand inspection, stylish enough to be "toney" and graceful enough to be beautiful.

As we've already said, our prices are right, so are our goods. And so, we think, is our way of selling 'em, since it allows the greater number to buy 'em. Do you want clothes? Then come to us.

'A Spring Message'

From the New Firm of

H. LeBRUN & CO.

Sign of the Golden Horse-shoe.

The people of Peterborough and vicinity are all aware of the business change which took place in the CITY CLOTHING STORE on the first day of February last. The new firm beg leave to make their first bow to the public through the columns of the REVIEW, and to request a careful perusal of the following Spring and Summer circular:—

The City Clothing Store

In past years, by long experience in business, by buying always for spot cash, importing direct from the principal houses of the old country and from the leading houses of Canada, and by strict economy in conducting its business, has always been able to force prices down to an exceedingly fine point. The members of which the new firm is composed will form a still stronger "combine," by which the CITY CLOTHING STORE will be even better prepared to procure for its customers a continuation of those superior inducements in the future for which it has been noted in the past.

Men's Clothing.

The magnitude of our stock and lowness of prices gives us a great advantage over all other competitors in the trade. We carry in stock all the fast selling lines, styles and patterns, and can fit the tall, the short, the fat and the lean. MORE SUITS, BETTER FABRICS, FINER STYLES than were ever handled before.

Special values in FINE SPRING OVERCOATS, and Fine SPRING and SUMMER SUITS. Don't fail to see them. The superb styles, workmanship, and the beautiful fabrics and patterns that we offer will surprise you.

Merchant Tailoring.

"For the apparel oft proclaims the man."

Fine dressers in search of new, neat and nobby OVERCOATINGS, SUITINGS or TROUSERINGS will find this department crowded to overflowing with cloth from all countries. To select from the largest assortment is an advantage we offer to our customers, backed up by the skill of experienced cutters and tailors. Besides perfect fit and first-class trimmings, we guarantee absolutely first-class workmanship.

Boys' and Youths' Clothing.

Clothing for the little ones—boys and children—has always been a specialty with us. We have always sought to give great values in this department, and to provide a larger and finer variety of goods for parents to select from than they could find elsewhere.

This means that we are showing a large assortment of BOYS' and CHILDREN'S SUITS, BOYS' and CHILDREN'S BLOUSES, SHIRT WAISTS, PANTS, &c.

This spring there are an unusual number of new and nobby styles and an enlarged variety of fabrics and patterns. Be sure and see our stock.

Gents' Furnishings.

Gentlemen of Peterborough seeking the latest styles and best values for their money, as well as an opportunity of selecting from the largest stock of Furnishing Goods, should not fail to visit this department at once. We offer the finest, best selected and the largest assortment of NECKWEAR, HOSIERY, UNDERWEAR, GLOVES, SHIRTS, HANDKERCHIEFS, etc., to be found in any first-class establishment.

Additional Attractions.

That the committee having the details of the Masonic excursion to Pigeon Lake and Jacob's Island on June 18th are working to have the occasion a pleasant one is quite correct. In addition to providing for a pleasant trip they have arranged that refreshments will be on sale on the Palace barge, so that those who do not come provided may have their wants supplied. Music has been engaged and this feature will help to render the day most enjoyable. Recollect that the fare is only 75c. for adults, 40c. for children under 12, and that the train leaves the station at 8.30 a.m., a very convenient hour. Tickets can be had from members of the committee, at the bookstores and at the station.

Accident at Norwood.

An unfortunate accident occurred in the village yesterday whereby Mr. William Howson, who lives on the Hastings road, Asphodel, lost two valuable horses by drowning. They were tied in front of Mr. Buck's flour mill and about ten o'clock a freight train from the east in passing scared them and they broke loose, and, running from the mill, turned towards the railway track and raced alongside of it and ahead of the train till they reached the sheet of water known as the Norwood pond. The bank was so narrow and steep they were precipitated into the water which at this point is very deep. One of the animals got his fore feet over the pole of the wagon, which kept their heads under water, and before assistance could reach them they were drowned. The team was valued at three hundred dollars, Mr. Howson having refused one hundred and fifty for one of the horses a short time ago.

The Ennismore Picnic.

A large number from town drove out yesterday to attend the picnic of the R. C. Church in Ennismore, and they returned last night delighted with the day they had spent and the hospitable manner in which they were entertained. The picnic was held in Mr. Deane's grove and was a grand success. Rev. Father O'Connell was untiring in his efforts to make everyone enjoy the day and to have everything pass off smoothly and successfully. A first class dinner was served and the dancing platform was well patronized, the music being supplied by Prof. Doucet's orchestra. A short programme of sports was run off, Mr. T. Dolan and J. Griffin being masters of ceremonies in the games. The prize winners were as follows:—

RUNNING LONG JUMP.—1st, A. Moore; 2nd, D. Simons; 3rd, Peter Flood.

HOP, STEP AND JUMP.—1st, A. Moore; 2nd, John Flaherty; 3rd, D. Simons.

STANDING LONG JUMP.—1st, J. Flaherty; 2nd, A. Moore; 3rd, D. Simons.

PUTTING HEAVY WEIGHT.—1st, J. Mayhew; 2nd, — Brophy; 3rd, A. Moore.

Miss Cough, daughter of the Reeve, won the twenty dollar prize which was offered to the young lady selling the most tickets.

COUNTY COURT.

Cooney vs. Hare—The Grand Jury's Presentment.

The whole afternoon session of the County Court yesterday was occupied with the hearing of one case, that of COONEY VS. HARE.—This was the first case that was called, and was an action that arose out of non-fulfilment of a lease. The plaintiff Benjamin Cooney, of Ashburnham, gave the defendant, Evans Hare, a three years lease of a farm in Otonabee under certain specified conditions. The defendant was not to remove any straw from the place and was to leave certain fields and meadows in the same condition at the expiration of the lease as when they were first rented to him. The evidence went to show that straw had been removed which left simply the question of value to be decided. On the other question regarding the fields the defendant admitted that he had not left them as meadows, but relied upon the fact that he had seeded them down. The question of law argued was an interesting one, viz: that the defendant should either have left the land in meadow or given an equivalent for not so doing. The jury retired about five o'clock and returned a verdict for the plaintiff for $66.50 damages, $46 for the straw removed, and $20.50 as damages for not leaving the land in meadow. E. B. Edwards for the plaintiff; John Burnham for the defendant.

To-Day's Session.

When the court opened this morning, the first case called was that of the Queen vs. Thos. Shouldice, which is a larceny case laid over from the last sessions. Shouldice failed to answer to his name and the case was allowed to stand, and that of Jackson et al vs. Hall was proceeded with.

THE GRAND JURY PRESENTMENT.

During the morning the Grand Jurors brought in their presentment to His Honor Judge Weller, which read as follows:—

To His Honor, Judge Weller.

The grand jurors assembled at the general sessions of the peace for the county of Peterborough present to your Honor as follows:—

We fully appreciate your remarks anent the grand jury system as at present in existence in this province and trust that it will lead to its careful consideration by those more immediately connected with the administration of justice and by the public generally, and while we are satisfied that if any better procedure can be evolved for the investigation of offences against the criminal law the intelligence of our people will bring such influence to bear as will lead to that end, but at present we can only submit that we have not given the subject that thought that would warrant us in offering any opinion on the advisibality of making any change in the system at present in existence.

We look upon the comparative freedom from crime enjoyed by this country in the past as well as at the present time as evidence of the intelligence of the community and the impartiality with which justice is administrated by the courts of criminal jurisdiction in the county.

We would offer your Honor our congratulations upon your continued good health and express the hope that you may long occupy your present position among the judicial of which we are all so justly proud.

We have examined the gaol and premises therewith connected and can only reiterate what has been said by grand jurors from almost time immemorial, that the care and order shown reflects great credit upon those who have charge of the gaol.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

JOHN MCCLELLAND,
Foreman.

Dated at Peterborough this 12th day of June 1889.

The grand jurors were then discharged.

JACKSON ET AL VS. HALL.—This was an action brought by Messrs. Jackson & Co., piano agents, against Mr. Robert Hall, blacksmith to recover the sum of $156, the price of a piano which the plaintiffs alleged they sold and delivered to the defendant on the first day of April last. The defendant contended that he did not agree to buy the piano, that it was only placed in his house on trial to be tested by a competent person and as it did not stand the test he refused to take it. The jury returned a verdict for the defendant with costs. John Burnham for the plaintiffs, and W. A. Stratton & R. R. Hall for the defendant.

Found Dead by the Roadside.

Those who attended the Ennismore picnic yesterday and a large number of other friends in town were startled this morning when the news was circulated that Mr. John Crowley, of Douro, had dropped dead from his buggy while driving home from the picnic yesterday. The report proved true, although just exactly how the deceased met his death is not known. He was at the picnic at Ennismore and was in his usual good spirits and health and started for home alone in a buggy. Later on his dead body was found lying on the roadside between Lakefield and his home, and a short distance away stood the horse and buggy, so that it was quite evident there had been no runaway. It is thought that the deceased gentleman must have been stricken with a sudden illness and fallen from the buggy. He was 70 years of age and was an old and respected resident of the township of Douro.

A FATAL FALL.

Particulars of the Death of a Former Resident of Peterborough.

Rochester papers give particulars of an accident at Geneseo, N. Y., which caused the death of Mr. Robert A. Reid, formerly of Peterborough. The accident occurred on May 10th, and the deceased was buried at Orangeville, Ont., where his parents reside. He resided in Peterborough for about three years, and was married here to his now sorrowing widow, who is a daughter of the late Thos. Clarkson, of Smith, and granddaughter of Mr. Alex. Roseborough of the same township. About three years ago Mr. Reid moved to Rochester, where his family was living at the time of the accident. He was working on a new church at Geneseo, and that morning was assisting to put on the rafters. At about 10.30 the wind began to blow very strongly, and as the rafters were seen to waver, the head mason ordered his men away from the work. The next moment there was a terrible crash, and all but one of the rafters fell to the basement below. Mr. Reid fell with the rafters, a distance of about forty feet. When found he was unconscious, and he was taken to his boarding house and medical aid summoned, but despite all efforts to revive him he died about two o'clock. There were no bones broken, and his death was ascribed to concussion. The deceased was 27 years of age. The remains were accompanied to Orangeville by Mrs. Reid and Mr. Chas. Stafford, a fellow workman. The Post says that "the funeral cortege was one of the largest ever seen in this section, friends of the family, who are old and esteemed members of the community, turning out in vast numbers to attest their sympathy for the bereaved relatives." The funeral was attended by members of Jordan L. O. L. No. 22, of which Mr. Reid had been a member. Mrs. Reid and two small children are left to mourn the sudden loss of a kind husband and father.

The Farmer's Picnic.

There was an immense crowd went down on the steamer this morning to Jubilee Point to attend the Union Farmers' Picnic, and as the weather is all that could be desired it is probable that there will be an unprecedented gathering and a good day will be spent.

The Chemong Lake Line.

Work is being vigorously pushed at the terminus of the Chemong Lake new line of the G. T. R. The station has been remodelled and plasters, painters and masons are hard at work. A large force is employed on the wharf and in erecting a turn-table and laying sidings.

Another Pair of Inebriates.

Two more inebriates spent the night in the cells and appeared before the Magistrate this morning a little dilapidated but still in the ring. Richard Foster was remanded for a week when he will probably be sobered up to a certain extent. Con. Ryan was the other drunk and it cost him two dollars to regain his liberty.

They Were Successful.

The Mechanics Institute drawing-class, conducted by Mr. Alex. McCallum during the past winter, has been very successful. The secretary has received a communication from the Educational Department stating that four of the pupils have passed and are entitled to certificates, which will be sent them in a short time. Primary art course, Wm. Albert Smith; mechanical art course, James F. Robertson, Ernest Richardson, Richard A. Gillespie.

An Amusing Incident.

A tall citizen was seen this morning tearing down George-St at the top of his speed after a small dog who ran with the wings of the wind and carried in his mouth a two dollar bill. This is how it came about. The tall man was buying a ticket for the St. Andrews Society excursion to Toronto on Thursday the 20th when the $2 bill slipped from his grasp and was carried off by the mongrel. The tall man however consoled himself with the thought that he could buy another ticket from any of the committee, or at the book stores, and still be ahead of the regular fare.

Buying a Little Too Soon.

A special session of the police court was held at eleven o'clock this morning when two grocery men were charged with forestalling. Constable Stewart laid the charge. Mr. Alfred Allen, who keeps a grocery on Charlotte-st., was charged with having bought a load of potatoes on the market before 11 o'clock this morning, and admitted the charge but pleaded ignorance of the law. He was fined two dollars. Mr. R. H. Green was summoned on a similar charge but he proved that he bought his potatoes four miles out in the country and not on the market. The case was therefore dismissed.

The Battalion March Out.

The 57th Battalion had a march out last evening. The men mustered in the drill shed and shortly after eight o'clock the battalion, headed by the band, marched down George to Charlotte-st., around to Aylmer, up to Hunter, and across George, and further around the blocks in the centre of the town. Col. J. Z. Rogers was in command, and the companies were commanded by Capt. Edwards of No. 1, Capt. Langford and Lieut. Lee of No. 2. Capt. Hill and Lieut. Stevenson of No. 3, Capt. Dennistoun of No. 4, Capt. Miller of No. 5, and Capt. Brennan and Lieut. Lech of No. 6. There was a very good turnout and the men presented a creditable appearance.

Bay of Quinte Conference.

This body closed its sessions yesterday. The Rev. M. L. Pearson and Rev. A. C. Wilson, of Ashburnham, returned home last evening. The Rev. S. J. Shorey has gone to Picton, but is expected back for Sunday. These ministers have all been re-appointed to their charges. A new circuit has been formed which will be comprised of Warsaw, Middleton, North Monaghan and other appointments, and a young minister of good ability takes charge under the direction of the chairman of the district. This is a good move and cannot but be of advantage to the Methodist church. The Rev. Mr. Leitch, the young man appointed, will be cordially welcomed. The work of stationing the ministers this year was attended with less embarrassment than for years past. Since union the Conference has been crowded, but the Transfer Committee this year relieved the difficulty—taking out six ministers and sending in but two. The Rev. Dr. Burwash, the president, ably discharged the duties of the chair. In nearly all the funds there is a gratifying increase, as also in the membership of the church. The Conference passed rigorous resolutions on the Jesuit question and appointed a deputation to the convention in Toronto, of which the ex-President is the leader. The next Conference is to be held in Cobourg.

Personal.

Miss Errett, Peterborough, and Mrs. Robt. Thexton, Mount Pleasant, left yesterday morning for St. Paul on a prolonged visit.

Mr. Edgar Luke, representing Luke Bros., furniture manufacturers, Oshawa, was in town on Sunday last and was the guest of Mr. O. C. Rowse, Rubidge-st.

Reference has already been made to the success of Mr. W. H. Smith, in his studies at St. John's College Winnipeg. Winnipeg papers show that he graduated with first class honor taking the degree of B. A. and won the hundred dollar scholarship in Natural Sciences as well as the silver medal. His many friends will congratulate Mr. Smith upon his brilliant success.

Mr. J. Ross Robertson, of the Toronto Telegram, is in town this afternoon, his first visit here in 30 years. In addition to being one of the prominent newspaper men of the Province, Mr. Robertson is a distinguished member of the Masonic Order. He was chaperoned, so to speak, about town, by Messrs. E. H. D. Hall, H. C. Rogers and B. Shortly, who afforded the visitor an opportunity to see the progress our town is making, and that it will presently be a rival to Toronto.

'PRENTICE BOYS AT CHURCH.

Rev. Alex. Bell Preaches an Able Sermon at St. Andrew's.

Last evening the delegates to the Grand Lodge of 'Prentice Boys which is in session here accompanied by the members of the local lodge attended divine worship at St. Andrew's church and listened to an able, eloquent and appropriate discourse delivered by Rev. Alex. Bell. The procession was formed at the Orange hall, corner of Simcoe and George-sts. and proceeded by way of George and Brock-sts. to the church. It was a long one and was viewed by a large crowd of spectators along the line of march. The order of procession was as follows:—

True Blue Fife and Drum Band.
Officers and members of the local True Blue Lodge.
Officers and members of Nassau Orange Lodge No. 78.
Officers and members of the local Orange Lodge.
Fire Brigade Band.
Officers and members of Jubilee Lodge 'Prentice Boys.
Delegates to Grand Lodge of 'Prentice Boys. Grand Lodge Officers.

THE SERMON.

Arrived at the church the centre pews were filled by the Orangemen and 'Prentice Boys, while the remainder of the edifice was well filled by their friends. The choir of the church was in attendance and led the singing throughout the service, Miss Nellie Wrighton, organist, presiding at the organ. After the opening exercises Rev. Mr. Bell delivered an earnest and eloquent sermon, which was listened to throughout with the most marked attention. The rev. gentleman based his discourse on the words:—

"That which ye have already hold fast till I come."—Rev. ii., 25.

These words, said the preacher, were first addressed to Thyatira, one of the seven churches of Asia. One of the churches had been drawn away by false teachings and evil influences and those who remained faithful were much tried by the practices and teachings of those who were putting forth these evil influences. Notwithstanding, he said, the charity, faith and patience of these faithful men, one thing stood against them—they had not spoken out or made an earnest protest or manfully stood up against this wrong when it was coming into the church. They had, for the sake of peace or some other reason, suffered this evil to come in, and it had continued to increase until the Master sent His message telling them to stand up so as to be ready to withstand these evils for at all costs they must keep intact what had been left them until the Master came. The preacher said they would observe the language was strong and that it left no doubt as to what was to be done—it called for watchfulness, striving, perseverance, and put upon them the duties of guardians and defenders. The responsibilities of this command, the rev. gentleman said, did not cease when it was spoken to Thyatira, but was binding upon the church of to-day, and he asked them to make the application of the words to themselves at the present time. Hold fast that which ye already have till I come. What was this they were to watch over and defend till the Lord came. As Protestants they had no difficulty in determining what this was. It was the Truth as given by God. This truth was extremely clear and and plain and so were the doctrines which it taught of the atonement and of a Saviour still remaining as the only mediator. These doctrines they were to defend and hold fast and everything to the contrary they were to denounce and oppose. The holding fast of these doctrines meant the accepting of them, the yielding of the whole heart to God.

AN OPEN AND CONSISTENT PRACTICE

of these principles so that others would see that these doctrines were in them and that this Saviour was their supporter. This holding fast was a duty, which if they were true to would commend these doctrines to others. There were, he said, other things besides this that they were to hold fast and maintain in conjunction with the reception of the Truth. There never had been such a power of civilization or a foundation of such an equitable code of laws as the Word of God. It maintained the liberty of man and the liberty of conscience. This religious and civil liberty they should defend in Protestantism. The spirit of Protestantism was to lead men out of darkness and ignorance into enlightenment, but the spirit of Papacy was to keep men in ignorance and error and bring all under the control of that man in Rome. It was the evil oppression of that system, said the preacher, which led their forefathers to throw off the yoke and fight for liberty. They struck, they watched, they endured, they fought, they won and had left as an inheritance the freedom which Protestants now had and should hold fast and defend. Mr. Bell said he need not remind them of the encroachments on their rights as Protestant people and members of the British Empire, which had recently been made of the Province of Quebec and which was now the principal topic of the day, and was burning itself into the hearts of men. Their liberty, their freedom had been assailed when in this Dominion the statement was made that the Pope was supreme over this country. The rev. gentleman said he would, in a few words, put this question clearly before them and then leave it with them to deal with as a society. They should receive calmly, act firmly and not be carried away by excitement, but determine to do what was RIGHT BECAUSE IT WAS RIGHT.

He then proceeded at some length to set forth the objections to the incorporation of the Jesuits and the allowance of the Jesuit bill pointing out the objections they should have to this class of men being made Canadian citizens, referring to their oath of unlimited and absolute obedience and allegiance to the Pope and to the immorality of their teachings. He also objected to the Jesuit bill because it recognized the supremacy of the Pope over the Crown and was an insult to the Queen and every loyal subject to the realm. He further objected to the Pope, a foreign potentate, disposing of the funds of a British colony and in speaking of the money involved in the bill he said this was only the opening of the door, only giving of $400,000 to meet a claim of two millions. He asked was there ever anything so iniquitous in the face of the advanced civilization and government of to-day. Their religious and civil liberty was assailed and were they willing to sit and allow these encroachments on their Truth, or would they rise up and drive back this aggression. There could be no mistaking the feeling of the Jesuits towards Protestants, he said, and he read the utterances of a Jesuit father and an Archbishop, which were to the effect that Protestants were not to be endured and should be cut off. In closing the preacher said their liberty was assailed and asked if they would hold fast that which they had or would they let it go. That was the question. God had given them liberty of conscience, a glorious country, a grand religion and now would they bow calmly down and put on the fetters again or would they stand and keep their freedom.

At the conclusion of the sermon the congregation joined heartily in singing the old familiar hymn "Hold the Fort" and after a prayer the services closed with the benediction.

A collection was taken up in aid of the Protestant Home.

After the service the procession was again formed and marched back to the lodge room.

Councillor Baptie Married.

An interesting ceremony was performed in Belleville yesterday, when Councillor J. D. Baptie was united in the bonds of matrimony to Miss Coon, who was for several years head of the millinery department of Hall, Innes & Co. The wedding took place in the Methodist Tabernacle, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Mr. Copeland, assisted by Rev. Mr. Coon, cousin of the bride. The happy couple left on a western trip last evening. Both of the contracting parties have many friends in town who will unite in extending them congratulations and best wishes and will give the bride and bridegroom a welcome to Peterborough upon their return.

"My father, at about the age of fifty, lost all the hair from the top of his head. After one month's trial of Ayer's Hair Vigor the hair began coming, and in three months he had a fine growth of hair of the natural color."—P. J. Cullen, Saratoga Springs, N. Y.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 12, 1889.

PRETTY SISTER OF JOSE.

By FRANCES HODGSON BURNETT.

Author of "Little Lord Fauntleroy," "That Lass O'Lowries," &c., &c.

"She was never like this before," she whispered to Juan.

And when Sebastiano came, and for the time they saw only him.

When at last the bull lay an inert mass in the dust, and the people shouted and almost flung themselves from their places into the arena in their excitement, and the gay and superb actor bowed to them, bowed again and again, Pepita sat like a little image of stone. She was quite colorless and her eyes were fixed. She seemed to see and hear nothing until someone spoke to her. Then she rose and looked at Manuelo.

"It is too hot," she said in a low voice not like her own. "I must go. The sun. I have a pain in my head. Come."

He had not lifted his eyes once to her. It was as if she had not lived—as she had been Isabella or Carmenita—and he did not give her a thought. No, he had not once looked up.

The next day he was gone. She heard Jose say so to Jovita, who grumbled loudly. She had forgotten her old distaste for these "fine ones."

"And but for her humors he would have stayed," she said. "What more does she want than a fine well-built man like that—a man who is well to do, and whom every other girl would dance for joy to get. But no; nothing but a prince for her. Well, we shall see. She will work for her bread herself at last, and serve the other women who have homes and husbands."

In the middle of the night she was wakened from her slumbers by something—she knew not what. Soon she perceived it was Pepita trembling.

"What is it now?" demanded the old woman.

"I stayed out in the dew too long," said Pepita, "and I am cold."

"That is well," said Jovita. "Get chilled through and have a fever that we may ruin ourselves with doctor's bills; and all because you choose to remain in the night air when you should be asleep."

Pepita lay on her pillow, her eyes wide open in the darkness, her small hot hand clutching against her breast something she hung round her neck by a bit of ribbon. It was the device she had stolen from Jovita, and which had not been thrown away at all. In the day time it was hidden in the bosom of her dress—at night it hung by a cord and her hand held it. By this time a sort of terror had mingled itself with her passion and anger and pain; and she lay trembling because she was saying to herself again and again:

"I am like Sarita! I am like Sarita!"

She said it to herself a thousand times in the weeks and months which followed, and which seemed to her helplessness like years. She said it in as many moods as there were hours in the day. Sometimes with wild reasoning childish rage—sometimes with a shock of fear—sometimes in a frenzy of shame—sometimes as she stood and looked up the road, her cheeks pale, her eyes dilated with self-pity and tears.

"I am like Sarita! Yes—Sarita!"

She remembered with superstitious tremor all the things that had been said to her of the punishment that would fall upon her because of her hard-heartedness. She remembered Jovita's prophecies and how she had mocked them—how cruel she had been to those who suffered for her—how she had laughed in their faces and turned away from their sighs. She remembered Filippo whom she had not spared one pang. Filippo, at whom she had only stared in scorn when he wept and rung his hands before her. Had he felt like this when she sent him back to Seville to despair?

A cruel fever of restlessness burned her. She could find pleasure no more in the novelties of the city, in the gaities of the gardens, in her own beauty.

Sometimes she was sure it was magic—the evil eye. And she slipped away, poor child, and knelt in the still, cool church, and prayed to be delivered.

But once as she was doing this a sudden thought struck her.

"Not to think of him any more," she said, knitting her brows with yet another new pang. "Not to remember his face—not to remember his voice and the words he said! No, no! And her rosary slipped from her fingers and fell upon the stone floor, and she picked it up and rose from her knees and went away.

All that day and night she thought and thought, and the next day went to pray again; but not that she might be delivered. She brought to the shrine at which she knelt substantial promises as offerings. Here were not the prayers of a saint, but of a passionate, importunate child, self-willed and tempestuous. She would not have prayed if she could have hoped for help from any earthly means. She had never prayed for anything before. She had always taken what she wanted and gone her way; but she had had few needs. Now in this strange anguish she could do nothing for herself, and surely it was the place of the Virgin and the saints to help her. She stormed the painted wax figure in its niche with appeals which were innocently like demands.

ALL ABOUT SHOES.

THEIR ORIGIN AND OTHER INTERESTING INFORMATION.

In the Days Before the Norman Conquest. The Kinds of Boots Kings Have Worn. "Signs" and Superstitions of Many Times and Peoples.

Nobody knows who was the first shoemaker. Undoubtedly there was a time when all our forefathers went barefooted, but at length somebody made a pair of shoes, rough foot manner shields of woven reeds or skins. The original shoemaker sought comfort. Style came later. The Celt, who at times wandered over moor or morass, at others over stony mountains, invented a shoe admirably adapted to his use. A sole of heavy hides protected his feet from sharp stones, while uppers or legs of lighter skins protected his ankles and legs from thorns and bushes. The buskin was so constructed that the water exuded from it as soon as the foot ceased to be immersed. In the modern shoe the idea is that water be kept out, not let out. The Celtic buskin was tough and elastic, and could be replaced wherever there were untanned skins at hand. Every Celt was his own shoemaker. With the Norman conquest came the introduction into the British Isles of tanned leather, which had long been in use in Normandy, where it had been introduced by the Romans.

SOME COSTLY SHOES.

The old, good soft shoes of untanned leather, which must have been deliciously comfortable, were set aside, and then came curiously shaped shoes of many styles and a variety of colors. From the close fitting shoe fashion led to many extremes. First came long, pointed toes, which soon assumed the shape of a peak, fashioned like a ship's prow, and in time assuming the likeness of a scorpion's tail, which in turn grew to "devil's claws," and fastened to the wearer's knees. King Richard the Lion Hearted had his boots stamped with gold. John Lackland, his brother, wore boots spotted with golden circles, while Henry III wore boots checkered with golden lines, every square of which was enriched with a lion. Cardinal Wolsey's shoes were

Of gold and stone precious,
Costing many a thousand pounds.

Sir Walter Raleigh wore shoes studded with diamonds, said to have cost £80,000. The gallants in Charles II's time wore their high boot tops turned down to the ankles to show the gorgeous laces with which they were lined. High heeled boots were worn by ladies for three parts of the Eighteenth century. They raised their fair wearers some inches, rendering walking difficult and running impossible.

Boots and shoes of all kinds have been worn—shoes made of wood, leather and reeds; brass bound, iron bound, gold bound; with wide toes, narrow toes and pointed toes a foot long; but the right and left shoe were shaped exactly alike. About the year 1800, however, an Englishman invented "rights and lefts." This was soon followed by many improvements, both in style of the shoe and the tanning of the leather.

The Highlander carved brogans out of the hide of the deer, the slaying of which had afforded sport and adventure. He gained for himself the name of "Red Shanks" by wearing boot legs from the same hide, lashed around his calves with the hair outward.

Even fairies have been credited with taking an interest in shoes, for we are told that the merry little Cornish pixies liked nothing so well as to hammer away in the dead of night at the unfinished shoes on the cobbler's bench, to surprise and gladden him next morning with the outcome of their energy.

It is supposed to be unlucky to put either shoe on the wrong foot, nor must one put the left shoe on before the right, unless one wished to bring about some direful calamity. Augustus Cæsar, it is said, put on his left shoe first, and before nightfall he narrowly escaped assassination. Dr. Brewer says that plucking off the shoe among the Jews, smoking the pipe among the Indians, thumb licking among the Scotch, breaking a straw together among the Teutons, and shaking hands among the English are all ceremonies to confirm a bargain. The Jewish custom of plucking off the shoe or sandal is frequently referred to in the Scriptures. In the story of Ruth it is recorded that a compact which Boaz made was sealed by a shoe being drawn off; one of the verses reads: "Now, this was the manner in former time in Israel concerning redeeming and concerning changing, for to confirm all things a man plucked off his shoe and gave it to his neighbor; and this was a testimony in Israel."

"WHERE THE SHOE PINCHES."

The Jew who failed to keep a compact of honor was summoned before the authorities, and if he then refused to fulfill his compact, the offended party would loosen his shoe, spit in his face, "and," as Holy Writ says, "his name shall be called in Israel, the house of him that hath his shoe loosed."

To say a man's "in his boots" implies that he is very drunk. It comes from an old Welsh word, "booal," meaning to be saturated with liquor. But to stand in another's shoes is to claim the honors of another. It has its origin from a custom common among the ancient Northmen, among whom if a man adopted a son in order that the youth might lawfully inherit, he must for a certain length of time wear the shoes of his adopter.

An old Roman, much to the surprise of his friends, sought to divorce his wife, with whom it was always supposed that he lived very happily. He was blamed for taking this step, and in reply put out his foot and asked if his shoes were not new and well made. "Yes," said he, "none of you can tell where it pinches." From this incident is said to have come the saying, "where the shoe pinches."

As a sign of respect the Japanese, when they meet in the street, take off their slippers. This custom almost universally prevails in the East. An inferior, when he enters the presence of his superior, removes his shoes or slippers and leaves them at the door until his departure. This is done as a mark of humility, as a shoeless foot denotes servitude. The slipper is always left at the door of the Mohammedan mosque, for the reason that leather is regarded as an unclean thing and must not be brought into the presence of the holy.

The custom of throwing an old shoe after a newly married couple is almost universal. Some think that it is a relic of the days when the gallant lover carried off his sweetheart by force. Others ascribe good luck to an old shoe and throw it after the newly married couple with the best intent. This certainly is the most popular view, and few parents dream that when they throw her old shoe after her they thereby give up for good and all their control and right over their daughter. Yet this is the significance it had in the days when the Anglo-Saxon father handed to the bridegroom an old shoe of the bride. The husband touched the bride on the head with it as an assertion of his authority, while the father by the giving of the shoe, signified his willingness to relinquish all claim or authority. In Turkey, however, it is the bridegroom himself that is touched, and sometimes quite severely, for the moment he is married his friends and relatives set upon him and pelt him with their slippers as a sort of affectionate farewell.—New York Sun.

Select Knights A.O.U.W.

ROCHESTER, N.Y., June 11.—Over eighty delegates of Select Knights, A.O.U.W., were assembled at Select Knights' Hall when Grand Commander Leroy Andrus called the eleventh annual session of the Grand Legion to order at 10 o'clock this morning. This promises to be one of the most important sessions ever held as several matters of vital importance to the order will be brought up for consideration, chief among which is the admission of candidates to the society, whether they are members or not of the parent order (the Ancient Order of United Workmen), and change of name and uniform. The morning session was largely taken up with the reports of the grand officers.

The committee on good of the order will report to-morrow morning and installation of officers will then take place. The session will probably not finish its work before to-morrow evening.

Pilgrims at Quebec.

QUEBEC, June 11.—Some 750 people from Rutland, Vt., arrived here this morning on a pilgrimage to La Bonne Ste. Anne.

A Tragedy in Two Words.

A cablegram from Madras, India, to the Missionary office conveys this brief but sad intelligence: "Wife dead. Winter." This is from the Rev. A. E. Winter, one of our missionaries, and brings sad news of the desolation of another missionary's home. We have no particulars; the fact is sad enough. Let the prayers of the whole church go out for this dear man of God in his sorrow and bereavement.—Christian Advocate.

My Shepherd.

"He leadeth me!"
And so I need not seek my own wild way
Across the desert wild;
He knoweth where the soft, green pastures lie,
Where the still waters glide,
And how to reach the coolness of their rest
Beneath the calm hillside.

"He leadeth me!"
And though it be by rugged, weary ways,
Where thorns spring sharp and sore,
No pathway can seem strange or desolate
Where Jesus "goes before."
His gentle shepherding my solace is,
And gladness yet in store.

"He leadeth me!"
I shall not take one needless step through all,
In wind, or heat, or cold;
And all day long he sees the peaceful end
Through trial manifold.
Up the fair hillside, like some sweet surprise,
Waiteth the quiet fold.

LONGFELLOW'S MAIDEN,

who is—

"Standing, with reluctant feet,
Where the brook and river meet,
Womanhood and childhood fleet!"

is a type of thousands of young girls who are emerging from the chrysalis stage of their existence, as they enter upon their "teens." Nervous, excitable, irritable, stirred by strange, unknowable forces within them, each a mystery unto herself, our girls need the tenderest care, the most loving, patient oversight, and the aid of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, to safely carry them through this critical period, during which, in too many lives, alas, are sown the seeds of distressing forms of disease peculiar to the female sex. But this boon to womankind will prevent all such diseases, or cure them if they have already seized a victim. Woman owes it to herself, to her family, and to her social station, to be well and strong. Let her then not neglect the sure means of cure. "Favorite Prescription" is a legitimate medicine, carefully compounded by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate organization. It is purely vegetable in its composition and perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the system. Sold by druggists; $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

Having just received a lot of fine Untrimmed Hats at a clearing price, we are in a position to give great Bargains in Millinery. 170 new styles to select from, no two alike. See one of our windows, your choice for seventy-five cents.

If you have not looked closely you have no clear notion how more than commonly good our $15, $16 and $18 Suits for men are. Linings and Trimmings excellent, sewing and finishing perfect. Men who are shrewd judges and hard to please pronounce our tailor as near perfection as possible in a fit. While we were writing a shipment of Boys' Clothing has arrived to fill up the gaps in that department; they are good goods and the patterns are excellent. Mothers call and see them.

Opened out a fresh lot of Muslin Skirting Embroideries, full width from 50c. to $1.25 a yard. Also a lot of White Lawns from 10 to 12½c. a yard. These goods should and are going out fast.

We can now show you a Linen Huck Towel, 20x40 inches, full of substance and in every way worth 20c., the price is 15c.. Good Barnsley Crashes at 10 to 12½c. a yard. We do towels and towellings right as we import them direct from where they are made.

Several fresh lines of Children's Hosiery just put in stock. Space would not allow us to enumerate them. We have everything desirable in ribbed and plain, low and better grades.

Our Parasol Stock is large and varied. We aim at keeping everything called for and do not allow ourselves to be sold.

Heavy sales in the Dress Goods Department has left us a lot of Good Remnants which we are clearing out at remnant prices. Remnants of Prints, Tweeds, &c., laid out and sold at great reductions.

PURE LIME FRUIT JUICE.

WHAT IS LIME JUICE?

This question is rendered necessary by the prominent attention Lime Juice is attracting as the Best Temperance Beverage. The answer is that it should be the juice of the Lime Fruit without admixture.

By the "MONTSERRAT" Company alone is the Lime Fruit cultivated for this purpose, and great care should be taken to obtain this brand (as supplied by the British Government) in lieu of the numerous concoctions sold under the name of Lime Juice Cordials, Prepared Lime Juice, etc. Sold by all Druggists, Grocers, and at the leading hotels.

SEIZED FOR SMUGGLING.

A QUEBEC SKIPPER ARRESTED AT MONTREAL.

The Ingenious Scheme by Which He is Alleged to Have Defrauded the Customs Out of $3000.

MONTREAL, June 12.—Criminal proceedings were begun in the Police Court this afternoon against Phedelin Blouin of Quebec, master of the schooner Flying Scud, at the instance of the customs officers for alleged systematic frauds against the customs laws. Blouin, it is alleged, has been in the habit of buying a cargo of American domestic alcohol, 65 double proof, at Boston, thence going to St. Pierre-Miquelon, an island under the French Government and taking a clearance sheet there on paying duty on only a small quantity of the cargo; hence to Sept Iles in the Gulf of St. Lawrence where another schooner, alleged to be the J. Fraser, of which Blouin's brother is master, would take the cargo of spirits in midwater and dispose of it at different ports in the St. Lawrence. The Flying Scud would then take a cargo of plaster and proceed to Quebec or Montreal with it, never paying duty on its original cargo. Blouin was arrested and his vessel seized. The customs claim $3000 duty.

FROM THE PRAIRIE CITY.

The New Land Boom—The C. P. R. Down on Speculators.

WINNIPEG, Man., June 13.—The land sales of the Canadian Pacific Railway at present amount to 2000 acres per day. The company has instructed all agents that nothing less than $5 an acre will be considered for any of their lands. Speculators have rushed out to the southwestern part of the province with the intention of grabbing the best lands and the company has deemed it advisable to freeze them out by raising the price. It is understood that special terms will be made with purchasers who show that they intend to cultivate their land.

The City Council has ordered obscene advertising bills of Lily Clay's show to be torn down.

The 91st Battalion has been reorganized with companies at St. James, Kildonan, Selkirk, Springfield, Stonewall and Woodlands. It will be unable to put in the annual drill this year.

Allan's brewery at Moosejaw has been seized for infraction of the Inland Revenue Act.

Governor Schultz and the City Council intend leaving the settlement of the tax suit to arbitration.

A domestic in the employment of J. A. M. Aikens, during the absence of her employers, had been running grocery, livery, dry goods and other accounts, which were charged to Mrs. Aikens, the whole amounting to several hundred dollars.

The Foresters.

LONDON, Ont., June 12.—The High Court of Foresters resumed this morning at 9 o'clock, the High Chief Ranger in the chair. A number of new delegates were admitted. The reports of the various committees were then received and adopted, after which the nomination of officers took place.

In the afternoon after routine the various amendments to the constitution were taken up. Bro. W. F. Saunders of Chicago, High Chief Ranger of the Independent Order of Foresters for the State of Illinois, was introduced and welcomed.

FIRES OF A DAY.

A Big Blaze in an Iowa Town—Losses in Ontario.

GRINNELL, Ia., June 12.—Trust & Co.'s elevator, The Herald office, Morrison's Glove Factory, Doller Bros'. hardware store, Chamberlain's market and Foster & Co.'s agricultural implement house here were burned today.

A Petrolea Factory Burned.

PETROLEA, June 12.—This morning about 3 o'clock fire was discovered in the buildings of the Petrolea Carriage Works, Vantuyle & Fairbank proprietors. The fire had such a headway that it was impossible to do anything, and everything was destroyed with the exception of two new lumber wagons. The building was full of new wagons, buggies, etc. The firm gave employment to 15 or 20 men. The loss will be from $12,000 to $15,000. Insured for $5000 as follows: $2500 in the Phoenix, $1500 in the Caledonia, $1000 in the Mercantile.

A Blaze at Napanee.

NAPANEE, June 12.—About 3 o'clock this morning fire did $500 damage to the copper shop of the Napanee Cement Works. Fully insured.

Minneapolis' Flour Output.

MINNEAPOLIS, June 12.—The Northwestern Miller says the total output of flour last week was 1[illegible],160 barrels, against 95,500 the week before and 122,400 the corresponding time in 1888. The output is being augmented slightly. Most all local firms report considerable improvement in the volume of orders for flour. Prices have been quite irregular. The direct exports for the week were 25,170 barrels, against 30,420 for the preceding week. There were 384,400 bushels of wheat received for the week ending June 11. Shipments were: wheat 234,800 bushels, flour 166,518 barrels, millstuff 2043 tons.

Collision in the St. Lawrence.

QUEBEC, June 12.—The Richelieu and Ontario Navigation Company's steamer Montreal and the tug Two Brothers collided at 5 p.m. at Point au Pizeau, a few miles up the river. The tug capsized and sank. It is reported that Miss Wheeler, daughter of Mr. A. Wheeler, tide surveyor, who was on board of the tug, was drowned.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Principal Grant Elected Moderator of the General Assembly.

TORONTO, June 12.—St. Andrew's Church, King-street, was crowded last night on the occasion of the opening of the 15th annual General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of Canada. The retiring Moderator, Rev. W. T. McMullen of Woodstock, preached an able sermon from Acts xx.: 24. Dr. G. M. Grant, Principal of Queen's University, and Rev. Dr. John Laing of Dundas were nominated for moderator. Dr. Grant proposed to withdraw his name but he was overruled and was subsequently elected.

Leading millers in different parts of the Province, appointed by the President of the Dominion Millers' Association to arrange for holding a great mass meeting of Ontario millers, met in the Council Chamber of the Board of Trade yesterday afternoon. It was moved and carried that a mass meeting of Ontario millers be held in Toronto on July 9 and 10.

The main business before the Anglican Synod of the Diocese of Toronto yesterday was the discussion of mission news and methods.

Grand Master Richards presided at the second day's session of the Grand Lodge of Canadian Oddfellows. Little was done outside of receiving the reports of standing committees. The opening of juvenile lodges was discussed and favored. A resolution to reduce the initiation fee was lost. A hot debate on the proposition to permit the eligibility of colored men ended in the motion being voted down.

At the session of the Dominion W.C.T.U. yesterday in Association Hall a number of interesting papers were read, addresses delivered by Miss Willard, President of the World's W.C.T.U., and Mrs. Dr. Virequa, Kalamazoo, Mich., a sister of Dr. Oronhyateka, and a resolution was passed declaring the country ready for prohibition and enacting that a petition praying the Government to introduce a prohibition bill be circulated through the country for signature.

The inquest into the death of the infant whose body was found at 63 Douro-street on Tuesday afternoon was opened by Coroner Powell last night in the City Morgue. The evidence of the physicians who made the post-mortem was taken. It went to show that the child had lived and the cause of death was strangulation. A servant girl at 63 Douro-street named Kate Flanagan acknowledges to have been the mother of the infant, but claims that it was not born alive. She is at present lying so ill at the house that her arrest is impossible. The inquest was adjourned until June 26. Rumor hath it that a member of the police force is responsible for the girl's ruin.

BLAINE AND PROCTOR EXCITED.

By News From Hayti—They Won't Disclose the Nature of the Report.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Some excitement was manifested at the State and Navy Departments upon the receipt of a cablegram from Commander Kellogg at Hayti. The contents of the despatch have not been disclosed. Commander Kellogg day before yesterday steamed from St. Nicholas Mole, the cable terminus, to Port-au-Prince. He returned today and reported to the Secretary of the Navy the result of his inquiries into the condition of affairs at the Haytian capital. It was generally believed at the departments that the news from Hayti was not reassuring, and it was reported that Capt. O'Kane had been ordered to sail immediately for the seat of trouble with the Boston, now at New York.

CANADA'S LUTHERANS.

Annual Meeting of the Synod at Neustadt—Election of Officers.

NEUSTADT, June 12.—The annual meeting of the Lutheran Synod of Canada opened here to-day, the president in the chair. Thirty ministers and seventeen lay delegates were present. After routine business the election of officers for the coming year was taken up and resulted as follows: Rev. Mr. Veit of Tavistock was re-elected president, Rev. Mr. Schultz of Elmira vice-president, Rev. Mr. Gensmer of Toronto re-elected secretary, Rev. Mr. Nitardy of Baden, treasurer.

The meeting adjourned at 5 p.m. to meet again to-morrow.

Bishop Hamilton at Mount Forest.

MT. FOREST, June 12.—Rt. Rev. Dr. Hamilton, Lord Bishop of Niagara, arrived here on Friday and held a confirmation in St. Paul's Church that evening. On Saturday night, despite the wet weather, a large number of people, including many from other Christian bodies, assembled at Mr. E. C. Wood's, where His Lordship held a reception and where an address expressing confidence in and sympathy for him was read by Churchwarden W. C. Perry. Dr. Hamilton made a suitable reply and was happy to be able to report the work of the church in the diocese as prospering. On Sunday (Whitsunday) His Lordship celebrated at 8 a.m., preached at 11 a.m., baptized an infant at 2.30 and then drove to Arthur, where he held a confirmation in the evening.

Rev. C. Elwin S. Radcliffe, rector of St. Paul's, preached to the A. O. F. at the 7 p.m. service.

Sawyer's Domestic Troubles Ended.

UTICA, June 12.—This morning Peter Sawyer of Carthage had a quarrel with his wife and struck her a heavy blow on the head with a hammer. She ran screaming from the house and Sawyer ran out the back door to the barn. Assistance soon came, and after caring for Mrs. Sawyer search was made for the husband. He was found in the barn dead, having hanged himself to one of the timbers with a small rope. It is not yet known whether the woman's injuries are dangerous or not.

Dividends From Lightning.

NEW YORK, June 12.—Western Union Telegraph to-day declared a quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent. Net revenues for the quarter are estimated at $1,450,000.

HURLED DOWN TO DEATH.

THE TERRIBLE RAILWAY ACCIDENT IN IRELAND.

Frightful Scenes at the Wreck Near Armagh—The Bodies of Twelve Victims Parboiled Under the Engine.

DUBLIN, June 12.—An accident unparalleled in the railroad history of Ireland, by which 70 persons were killed and many injured, occurred near Armagh to-day. An excursion party of 1200 Methodist Sunday School pupils, their teachers and relations left Armagh this morning in two trains. The accident occurred at a point where the trains had to ascend a grade on a bank fifty feet high. The first train ascended the grade without trouble. The second section attempted to run the ascent but the weight of the train proved too great for the engine. Several cars were detached and allowed to run back towards the level track but before they reached it they came in collision with an ordinary train from Armagh proceeding at a good rate of speed. The excursion cars were completely wrecked.

The scene which ensued was heartrending. Hosts of volunteers were soon at hand and the dead and wounded were taken from the wreck and carried down the bank. Medical aid was called for and a special train from Belfast brought to the scene twenty surgeons from that city and a number of medical men from other places between Belfast and Armagh.

The accident has cast a gloom over Armagh. All the shops were closed this afternoon and the people are in general mourning.

The engineer, fireman and guard of the train and the traffic manager's clerk were summoned before a magistrate and were remanded on the charge of being responsible for the accident.

The brake power of the engine of the third train was inadequate. While the second train was ascending the incline the engineer remarked to the fireman: "I am afraid we can't do it." The following train was commencing the ascent when the engineer saw the runaway cars. Shutting off steam and reversing the lever the engineer and fireman jumped from the engine, shouting to the passengers to do likewise. The latter, however, not hearing the cries, did not obey. No one was injured on that train.

The engine was hurled 60 feet down an embankment. The carriage that ran into the engine was shattered to splinters and fragments of dress, umbrellas, etc., were scattered hundreds of yards. A dozen corpses were found beneath the engine in a parboiled condition. Some of the occupants of the runaway cars tried to escape but the doors were locked. The first part of the train started back in pursuit of the runaway cars and the passengers saw the collision at a distance of 300 yards.

A car driver named Hughes who visited the scene of the disaster was so horrified at the sight that he died on the spot. His corpse was taken to Armagh in his own car.

Another account says the engineer of the second train finding his engine powerless to pull the train up the steep grade unlinked several cars with the object of taking the front portion of the train to the next station and returning for the remainder. Heavy stones were placed behind the wheels of the detached cars to prevent them from slipping but the locomotive on resisting gave the entire train a shunt that displaced the stones. The detached cars began to slip down the grade, their speed gradually increasing until they attained a frightful velocity. After running four miles they crashed with terrific force into the third train about 1½ miles from Armagh.

The shrieks of the children were horrible. The bodies of the victims were arranged in rows as soon as recovered. Many were mangled beyond recognition. There is scarcely a family in Armagh that has not some one dead.

A private of the Irish Fusiliers before the collision jumped on the footplate of one of the cars and dropped four children to the ground. He then offered to assist others to escape but his offer was refused. In many cases whole families were killed. Crowds visited the scene, and the air was rent with lamentations.

IT WILL HURT THE CLAN.

Luke Dillon on the Cronin Verdict—Sullivan Asserts Innocence.

CHICAGO, June 12.—Luke Dillon left for Philadelphia this afternoon. He stated he would be back in a few days and would work harder than ever in bringing Cronin's murderers to justice. He said the censure of the Cronin jury will hurt the Clan-na-Gael but that body will be reorganized and some objectionable features will be eliminated.

Sullivan says he is not guilty of the crime with which he is charged, and he has had no connection with the murder of Cronin.

Chief Hubbard says he understands that Mrs. Conklin has recognized Moroney's picture as that of the man who drove Dr. Cronin away. Requisition papers for Moroney and McDonald, the men arrested in New York, were received to-day and a detective started for New York with them.

Habeas Corpus Writs Served.

NEW YORK, June 12.—The prisoner Moroney has telegraphed to Gov. Hill asking him not to grant the requisition from Chicago until Moroney has a chance to be heard. Late this afternoon writs of habeas corpus were obtained for the production of Moroney and McDonald in the Supreme Court, where a motion will be made for their discharge. The writs were served on the Tombs Warden.

Late Railway News.

CHICAGO, June 12.—The Times says: "The contemplated lake and rail export route from Chicago to Montreal, via Lake Michigan to St. Ignace and eastward over the Canadian Pacific Railway, has fallen through. The Canadian Pacific was not willing to pay the Lake Michigan and Lake Superior Transportation Company and the Northern Michigan line the proportion on through business asked by them."

The lines leading eastward agreed to-day to a reduction in rates in iron to correspond with the cut on west bound shipments. The rate to Buffalo is reduced from $2.50 to $2.20 a ton, to Cleveland from $2 to $1.85, to Detroit and Toledo from $1.70 to $1.40 and so on.

A New York Monstrosity.

NEW YORK, June 12.—In making the arrest of a woman named Fredericka Eppinger on a charge of boarding infants without a license from the board of health, a queer monstrosity was discovered by the officers of the society for the prevention of cruelty to children yesterday. It was a child strangely malformed into a horrible resemblance to a fish. Its head recedes from the eyes backward and a protruding mouth is kept constantly in motion as the child breathes in short gasps. There is the mixed appearance of a fish's and a child's head all in one. The arms are connected to the sides by a thin membrane and have the appearance of fins. The legs are bound together in a similar manner and the feet turn outward.

Johnstown Under Martial Law.

JOHNSTOWN, June 12.—The 300 special policemen employed by the sheriff were this morning discharged and soldiers put in their places. Few bodies were recovered this morning owing to the chaotic condition of affairs pending the transfer of authority. Four bodies were taken to the first ward morgue, none of which were identified, and but one to the fourth ward morgue. Three bodies were observed in the ruin near where the rink was wrecked, but no effort was made to get them out. The laborers almost unanimously refuse to handle the bodies when discovered and the men at the morgues are obliged to go after them.

REFORM AND SOCIALISM.

They will Look Rosea at the International Labor Congress in Paris.

PARIS, June 12.—It looks as though the International Labor Congress in session at the Central Hotel is going to have as big a tussle with the Socialists as the first convention of the labor party had in Cyr[illegible] three years ago. Many Socialists have come here with well-defined ideas of what they want and full of determination to fight for it. The leading Socialist members of the German Reichstag, including Bebel and Liebknecht, will be here before the session closes. The German Social Democrats express great regret that their Danish confreres adhere to their resolution not to send representatives to the congress, because the German Socialists have expressed their entire approval of the program of their Danish brethren and would have seconded them on all points.

Henry George is the conspicuous figure of the convention, and his time is taken up nearly all day by French newspaper interviewers and local labor leaders.

In his address Charles Longuel, the Chairman, said that although he and many of his friends differed from Mr. George in points of detail, he (Longuel) was among his most enthusiastic admirers; that the land question was the most important social problem of the nineteenth century, and that George had done as much as anybody toward bringing it to the fore. M. Longuel also gave a welcome to Mr. Firth, the head of the London County Council.

Mr. Firth, in reply, expressed the belief that the governments of the two cities would become a united band never to be broken, and eulogized Mr. George, whose great qualities, he said, must extort admiration even from those who disagreed with him.

Mr. George said that the end which they had in view was that of peace, justice, emancipation of the world, and the recognition of the rights of men and of citizens. He congratulated London on the County Council and said it was perhaps the most important movement of modern times. Turning to France, Mr. George proceeded as follows: "There is one thing which the two Republics have in common, that is the peasant proprietors. It has been said their existence as a class would ever be a stumbling block to land reform in the two countries. I have never believed that, because I have never believed in the stupidity of men in the dominance of self interest. The highest force is not self-interest, but sympathy. Those who took a leading part in the land agitation in America and who gave most money to the party fund were the very people who had nothing to gain from it, and to whom the world in its present condition was a sort of paradise. Wherever we have been, the farmers of the United States have been won over to our side." In conclusion Mr. George said he looked forward to the day when man's proudest boast will be that he is a citizen of the world, instead of, as now, a mere state.

Boulangists Released but Warned.

PARIS, June 12.—M. de Roulede and the other Boulangists arrested at Angouleme Sunday for resisting the police have been released pending further proceedings. They were warned they would be rearrested if they attempted further disturbance.

The Vatican Reopened.

ROME, June 12.—The Pope has had the gates of the Vatican reopened and has resumed his receptions.

Stanley all Right.

ZANZIBAR, June 12.—A letter received here from Urori, on the southeastern shore of the Victoria Nyanza, dated Dec. 2, reports the arrival there of Henry M. Stanley with a number of invalid members of his force. The letter says that Stanley had sustained heavy losses, a large number of his men having died from disease or famine. The explorer had dejoined and left Emin Pasha at Unyara on the northeastern shore of the lake.

A Terrible Tragedy.

LEBANON, N. H., June 13.—A horrible murder was committed near Meriden yesterday. Lucien Freeman, with an axe, killed his mother, Mrs. Daniel Freeman, and also John Morgan. The murderer took to the woods but has been captured.

The scene of the tragedy is a three story frame house occupied by Mrs. Orville Freeman, aged 65, and her son Lucien, aged 30, who carried on a farm. Lucien has been subject to insane spells and at times has been obliged to be watched. His brother Fred. stayed with him on Friday and Saturday night, but being unable to leave his own work secured John Morgan of Meriden to care for Lucien. It is apparent that the three retired as usual, Freeman's insanity not being considered of such a violent nature as to warrant a night watch. During the night Lucien left his own room, on the second floor, and went down stairs where he occupied a bed lounge. Early in the morning he rose, got an axe, entered Morgan's room and struck him two terrible blows, nearly severing his head from his body, and evidently killing him instantly. It would seem that Mrs. Freeman must have awakened and endeavored to escape, partly dressed, through the kitchen. He overtook her as she was leaving the kitchen, and gave her a blow on the neck from behind with the axe, nearly severing the neck.

Freeman then left the house, and walked undressed through the woods to Orville Eaton's house, a distance of two miles, arriving about 5 o'clock. Mr. Eaton put him to bed, and his son at once left to inform Freeman's brother of Lucien's whereabouts. During his absence Lucien told Mr. Eaton of his deed. Sheriff Hurlbleat was summoned and arrested Freeman. The latter showed the sheriff the axe covered with blood and hair which he had thrown down about twenty rods from the house. There is little doubt that Freeman was insane when he committed the murders.

The coroner's jury at Meriden rendered a verdict against young Freeman, who will be taken to jail at Newport if not previously declared insane. He will be tried in September. In his sane moments he expresses regret for his deed, but seems unconcerned.

Ambitious City Notes.

HAMILTON, June 12.—Only two bills were returned by the Grand Jury there they were dismissed to-day—one in the fertilizer factory nuisance case against Frank Mowtin and one against William Power Duggan for bigamy.

Word was received yesterday from Mr. Sydney McLeod, late Superintendent of the Ontario Rolling Mills Co. of this city, who, it was thought, had perished in the Johnstown floods, that he escaped and was in first-class health.

A pleasant wedding occurred at St. Mary's Cathedral at 8 o'clock this morning, the contracting parties being Mr. P. J. Ryan (formerly of this city and now editor and proprietor of The Midland, Ont., Free Press) and Miss Eliza Lalor of Hamilton. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father McEvoy, the Bishop's Secretary.

New York's Bucket Shops Closed.

NEW YORK, June 12.—The bucket shops on New-street and Broadway suspended to-day when they learned that the measure prohibiting their operations had become a law. Only one place was kept open. Its manager claimed that it was of the same order as any exchange.

Run Over While Drunk.

WATERTOWN, N.Y., June 12.—A traveling hatter named Pritchard who has been in the city for a week was run over in the railroad yards here at 1 a.m. to-day. His left arm was fearfully crushed and has been amputated. He claims that two men knocked him down and after robbing him put him on the track. He is now in the city hospital. He was very drunk when found after the accident.

A Salvationist's Sudden Death.

MONTREAL, June 12.—The Salvation Army lost one of its most valiant soldiers to-night at the temple here. Sergt. Major Smith while pleading with a man about his soul just after the usual march and as the words "God bless you, and saved," were uttered from his lips he dropped dead.

EQUAL RIGHTS FOR ALL.

THAT WAS THE RESULT OF THE ANTI-JESUIT CONVENTION.

A Provincial Association Formed to Supplant the Citizens' Committee—Looking for a Further Extension.

TORONTO, June 12.—The Citizens' Committee yesterday was transformed into an Equal Rights Association for the Province of Ontario. This, too, is only preliminary to a projected development into a Dominion association. This was the chief work of the anti-Jesuit Convention which closed yesterday. The attendance of delegates was larger than on the opening day. Nearly 300 additional credentials were presented yesterday, making a total of over 900 present. The platform of the new organization was fully discussed and ultimately adopted; an executive council of 50 members representative of all Ontario districts was elected; a petition to the Governor-General for disallowance was signed by Principal Caven on behalf of the convention, a deputation of which will wait upon His Excellency on the question. Mayor Taylor of London was the efficient and at times long-suffering chairman.

At the morning session the resolution insisting that English should be the language of the public schools of Ontario, that every teacher should be able to teach English, and strongly deprecating the existence of separate schools, was discussed by Professor Austin of Alma College, St. Thomas, Rev. Mr. Hewson of Kingston and Principal Caven, and passed.

Mr. James L. Hughes moved a resolution recording the approval of the convention of the national system of free education and the right of every ratepayer to be a supporter of the public schools. Rev. Mr. Cuthbertson of Woodstock and others were in favor of abolishing separate schools root and branch, but Principal Caven interposed with a reminder of the guarantee of confederation and the resolution as originally presented was adopted.

Mr. Carnegie, ex-M.L.A. of Peterboro, moved a resolution at the afternoon sitting, the gist of which was: "We will not aid in returning to Parliament or the Legislatures any candidate who will not pledge himself to support the principles of this convention." Rev. Dr. Wild, in his characteristic style, seconded the motion. Britons he extolled, politicians who truckle to Rome for power he despised. Injustice was done to Protestants, who are the great majority of Canada's people. The infamous 188 members did not represent Protestants or Reformers or Conservatives, but only the Jesuit Order. At the next election there must be no discrimination between Whig and Tory. If such there be it will kill us. Dr. Hunter and others supported the resolution, which was carried.

Rev. Mr. Courtice, Woodstock, got a resolution through without speeches, establishing a new association to give effect to the views of the convention.

Rev. Dr. Laidlaw of Hamilton followed his Methodist brother's example and was equally successful. His motion endorsed the action of the Citizens' Committee, and urged active propaganda and extensive petitioning.

It was moved by Mr. Murray of Hamilton and seconded by Mr. Alex. Russell:

> That the chairman and secretary sign on behalf of this convention and of each individual member a petition to His Excellency the Governor-General of Canada for the disallowance of the Jesuit Estates Act, and that this petition, together with all other petitions of like character, be presented in person by the chairman and such large and influential deputation as the council may direct.

Carried unanimously.

The Legal Committee's report was adopted as follows:

> 1. We have carefully considered the opinion received by the Citizens' Committee of Toronto from the Honorable George Irvine, Q.C., of Quebec as to the possibility of testing the constitutionality of the Jesuit Estates Act, and we would recommend that in conjunction with the Citizens Committee of Montreal further advice be taken as to what means, if any, exist of testing its constitutionality by action or other proceeding.
> 2. We would strongly urge persistence in presenting petitions to the Governor-General for the disallowance of the Act until the 8th of August next, unless it shall have been sooner disallowed.
> 3. In the event of redress not being obtained upon said petitions or otherwise before the said 8th day of August, we recommend that the Governor-General be petitioned to refer the question of the constitutionality of the said Act and also of that incorporating the Jesuits to the Supreme Court, and that in framing the special case and in the argument thereof the petitioners and parties interested should be represented by counsel selected by them.
> 4. The Protestant minority of the Province of Quebec having petitioned the Governor-General-in-Council by way of appeal against said Jesuits Estates Act under the British North America Act we tender our cordial sympathy with and approve of their action in that respect.
> 5. Failing relief by any of the aforesaid means we recommend that petitions be presented direct to Her Majesty the Queen.

The report of the Organization Committee was read by John T. Small, chairman of the committee. Its salient features are:

> There shall be organized an association to be called the Equal Rights Association of Ontario. Branches shall be established in every township, village, town, city or part thereof in the province. Each branch shall have a chairman, a secretary and treasurer and an executive committee, and shall send delegates to the District Council. These district councils shall have headquarters at county towns or other equally convenient places. Each District Council shall appoint delegates to the Provincial Council, which shall be the grand governing body and shall meet as often as shall be deemed expedient by its Executive Committee. The Executive Committee shall be elected by the Provincial Council and shall consist of thirty members, of whom seven shall be a quorum. The object of the association shall be the furtherance of the principles laid down in the resolutions adopted at the convention.

The report concluded by a suggestion that on similar lines there should be founded an Equal Rights Association for the whole Dominion.

The following were elected the Provincial Council:

Principal Caven, Rev. D. J. Macdonnell, Dr. W. J. Hunter, Rev. A. C. Courtice, Ald. Wm. Bell, Rev. Dr. Wild, Robert Newman, Dr. S. B. Pollard, H. A. E. Kent, Bishop of Algoma, A. Fraser, J. L. Hughes, J. J. Maclaren, H. O'Brien, Mayor Taylor, London, S. C. Duncan Clarke, George [illegible], John Carnegie, Dalton McCarthy, Q.C., M.P.; John Charlton, M.P., Colonel O'Brien, M.P., Rev. W. F. Wilson, Rev. Elmore Harris, [illegible], Rev. J. Lawrence, George [illegible], W. H. Howland, [illegible], J. T. Small, E. D. Armour, W. W. Fitzgerald, D. L. McLean, John Gouldie, John [illegible] McClelland, Mayor Campbell, Brampton; Mayor Lumsden, Galt; William McCreary, Dr. McMullen, Dr. Torrance, Guelph; E. Martin, W. Murray, Dr. Henry, Dr. Eggert, Dr. Laidlaw, W. E. Small, field, George Stewart, Otonabee; G. Ferguson, [illegible]; John Milne and Principal Austin.

Principal Caven was elected chairman, Mr. J. K. Macdonald vice-chairman, Mr. S. C. Duncan Clark treasurer, Mr. E. Douglas Armour secretary.

Summing up the work of the convention Principal Caven said: "The blood of the Dominion is up. I trust by God's grace we shall not let this matter drop, but maintain constantly and always the great principles of civil and religious freedom upon which we challenge the approbation of mankind."

The convention closed with the singing of "Praise God from Whom All Blessings Flow."

Dress the Hair

With Ayer's Hair Vigor. Its cleanliness, beneficial effects on the scalp, and lasting perfume commend it for universal toilet use. It keeps the hair soft and silken, preserves its color, prevents it from falling, and, if the hair has become weak or thin, promotes a new growth.

"To restore the original color of my hair, which had turned prematurely gray, I used Ayer's Hair Vigor with entire success. I cheerfully testify to the

of this preparation."—Mrs. P. H. Davidson, Alexandria, La.

"I was afflicted some three years with scalp disease. My hair was falling out and what remained turned gray. I was induced to try Ayer's Hair Vigor, and in a few weeks the disease in my scalp disappeared and my hair resumed its original color."—(Rev.) S. S. Sims, Pastor U. B. Church, St. Bernice, Ind.

"A few years ago I suffered the entire loss of my hair from the effects of tetter. I hoped that after a time nature would repair the loss, but I waited in vain. Many remedies were suggested, none, however, with such proof of merit as Ayer's Hair Vigor, and I began to use it. The result was all I could have desired. A growth of hair soon came out all over my head, and grew to be as soft and heavy as I ever had, and of a natural color, and firmly set."—J. H. Pratt, Spofford, Texas.

APSLEY HAPPENINGS.

An Interesting Budget—The New Missionary Student.

Correspondence of the Review.

PERSONAL.—Mr. Spier, the missionary student sent to this field by the Presbyterian church, has commenced his labors amongst us. The impression he has created thus far is favorable and we hope his work, begun on pastoral lines, will be productive of much good in the in-gathering of souls to the Kingdom.

ON THE CIRCUIT.—We notice that in the provincial appointments of the stationing committee of the Belleville Methodist Conference, that Mr. Nicholl is appointed to this charge. We bespeak him a cheerful reception and trust that during the present season new life will be given us by the energetic efforts of these two men.

DECEASED.—We have this week to chronicle the demise of two residents of Chandos; Mrs. J. Hawley and Miss C. Bass. Mrs. Hawley moved into Chandos in 1874, from Asphodel, near Birdsalls, since then they have resided on their farm east of Loon Lake. The deceased has for a long time been a sufferer from a dropsical affection which terminated her life on Thursday, 6th inst. Miss Carrie Bass was a young lady well known throughout this community and in Lakefield, where she worked for several years. She returned home last winter for a rest and recuperation, but fatal disease had already fastened deep its talons in her system and she rapidly sank into an early grave. Her mother is also very low and little hope for her recovery is being held out by her physicians. Both families have the sympathy of the entire community in their bereavement.

PEDESTRIAN.—We think Anstruther can beat the record in this line. Mrs. Rickles, an old resident of this township, left Apsley on Tuesday morning, after walking 10 miles, for Peterborough. She got a "lift" of about 2 miles on the road down and about 10 miles back, accomplishing the entire distance by Friday at 7.20 p.m. The old lady is upward of 60 years old and was well on her way home from Apsley the next morning before most of folks were out of bed.

BEARS.—Local nimrods are making it warm for Bruin just now, but one of their spring-guns made it warm for an ox belonging to Reeve Elmhirst.

The benefits of vacation season may be greatly enhanced if at the same time the blood is being cleansed and vitalized by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. A good appetite, fresh vigor and buoyant spirits attend the use of this wonderful medicine.

CURIOUS HEADGEAR.

In Norway a high hat shaped something like a flower pot is worn, and the Cossack wears a hat like a stove pipe without a brim.

Today among the Swiss a hat is worn similar in form to the old Puritan hat. It, however, is often ornamented with gay colored ribbons laced about it.

The marabout or black priest of Mahomet, who wanders among the African tribes, wears upon his sable head a white cap or fez, such as he expects to wear in Paradise.

An African hat is in the form of a helmet, woven of rushes or straw, having a peaked top and a mask or visor extending down over the face. There are two holes or goggles for the eyes.

In Mohammedan countries the turban is found. Some of these are scarfs wrapped and twisted about the head. Others are combinations of scarf and fez, with a button and a tassel.

When stove pipe hats were first introduced among Indians usually they punched the top out of them the first thing for the sake of ventilation, as they did not care to have their heads hot.

The Chinese mandarin and men of consequence wear little round silk skull caps most all the time. These are ornamented on the top with buttons, whose colors denote the order or rank of the wearer.

Among the coolies round umbrella-like hats are worn. These serve for shelter from storm and sun, in the place of umbrellas when it rains and of parasols when the rays of the sun beat down uncomfortably.

The South Sea Islanders in many cases go without hats. Two elaborate head dresses from the Easter islands are conspicuous in one of the cases. These have no crowns, but are simply bands to go about the head, ornamented with rooster feathers.

Alaska Indians wear round, conical shaped head coverings of straw, ornamented on top with several round blocks of wood strung one above the other, so as to form a sort of steeple. The number of these blocks denotes the rank of the wearer.

Among the Indians of the northwest coast and the Alaskans there are several forms of hats. One in the museum from the Aleutian islands is formed like a round dish or bowl. Figures are painted on it, and on each side of the crown is a bunch of long walrus bristles. It has on its top a big glass button or bead.

A singular Corean hat is a great round mat of straw worn by a mourner. This goes with a costume of coarse cloth. The hat is bound down at the sides so as to almost conceal the head and face of the wearer. He carries in his hand a screen or fan, and when in the road any one approaches him he holds this screen in front of him so that it, together with the hat, completely conceals him.

ELECTRIC NOTES.

France and China have agreed to connect the China and Tonquin telegraph lines.

The electrical treatment of sewage bids fair to give sanitary engineers one of the most valuable improvements submitted to them in a long time.

Brussels is to have a system of electric distribution by means of underground wires for the purpose of furnishing light and motive power, and, if needs be, currents capable of being utilized in other ways.

1,000 Ladies wanted—to test the quality of those fine New Teas at M. R. KIDD'S.

IN THE CHURCH FIELDS.

RELIGIOUS NOTES AND NEWS GATHERED FROM ALL QUARTERS.

The Romantic Story of Merton Smith, Founder of the Tyng Mission in Chicago—The Young Man Who Was Reclaimed from a Life of Sin.

The Tyng Mission, at Archer and Wentworth avenues, Chicago, was started last year under the auspices of the Chicago Evangelization society, a missionary organization of some of the best known and wealthiest citizens, under the presidency of Dwight L. Moody. Evangelist Merton Smith is in charge, and will probably remain so, as he has quickly proved that he is the right man for balmy Bridgeport. The evangelist is quite a notable man in his line. His personal history is a remarkable one, and a brief recapitulation of it will show the source of his inspiration.

Mr. Smith is a Scotchman of good family and about 35 years of age. Tall, ruddy and of fine proportions, he would be a hard customer for the brawniest of Bridgeport toughs to tackle. He is a man of fine education and solid attainments. Reaching manhood Mr. Smith entered commercial life in Scotland. He was on the high road to success when he fell in with a fast set and rapidly went down hill. To quote his own words on the platform:

"Drinking, gambling, swearing and general ungodliness made up the current of my life at this time. Over and over again an affectionate father expostulated with me, helped me out of difficulties and put me on my feet. He sought by every means to restore me to a more honorable manner of life, but all in vain. A loving mother wept and wailed over me, but I turned on my heel and went headlong on the road to ruin."

When everything had been tried and found unavailing his parents offered him a sum of money sufficient to land him in America and start him comfortably on his arrival there if he would consent to cut loose from his companions and give himself another fair chance. He was prevailed upon to accept this offer, and left his home with his father's last sentence ringing in his ear:

"I never wish to see you again as you are now."

On the passage out his gambling propensities found ample scope. He lost what money he had and landed in the United States almost penniless. Ashamed to write home (not even certain that he would be assisted if he did) he drifted on from day to day, and had his first experience of hardship. Finally, pulling himself together, he obtained employment, and, throwing off his bad habits, was again in a comparatively good position, when the old propensities—drink and gambling—reasserted themselves, and he was quickly out of employment and friendless. Several reforms and relapses followed in turn, and he finally determined to leave the east. By stages he made his way to Chicago, arriving here about six years ago.

HIS CHICAGO CAREER.

To continue in his own words:

"I landed in Chicago with a bundle of clothes and $4.50 in my pocket. I was an outcast, friendless, ruined in health and reputation. My first act in Chicago was, as had been my custom in every other place, to take a drink; after which I sat down and, with the advertising columns of a newspaper before me, commenced my first attempt in many, many months to realize my position.

"Hitherto I had been drifting just as the wind blew, and as long as I got drink I needed nothing else. But I determined to be strong, secured a room at a cheap lodging house for one night, paying twenty-five cents, and started off to look for work.

"The weather was bitter cold. I soon got chilled to the bone and discouraged, and I went and took another drink. I made an acquaintance and accompanied him to a gambling house. Starting in to play, I had a run of luck and in my glee took several more drinks; then there was a turn and soon all the winnings and the last cent of my $4.50 was swept off the board. This brought me to the end of my rope, and I went to my room to bed well filled up with drink and therefore thinking nothing of the morrow."

For five days more he tramped the streets without food or work. He continues:

"I was on the verge of becoming a criminal; the process of mind action had begun; what was there to stop it? My hand was turning against my fellow man; what principle was there within to sustain me at this crisis? Oh! how I can sympathize with what is called the 'lapsed masses.' I have personally experienced the transition state."

THE TURNING POINT.

To briefly summarize the remainder of the evangelist's welcome to Chicago. For five days more his former experiences were repeated. During the time he could procure no food or work, was once or twice refused the shelter of the station house, his feet bled from the continued tramping, and he barely escaped being given a term at the bridewell. One day the snow fell thickly, and the temperature sunk to 22 degs. below zero. During these ten days he had on several occasions passed mission halls but never thought of entering, for he had been an infidel for years, and even his dire hardships had not altered him in that respect. But to let him conclude the ten days' campaign in his own words:

"It was now nearly five days again since I had tasted solid food; nothing but water had passed my lips, and for four days I had had nothing to smoke. It was now Saturday afternoon, and somehow in my mind I seemed to have settled the impossibility of carrying on over Sunday. What should I do? I must ask assistance. I did not know how to beg. I stopped two or three men, but my courage failed, and I asked them simply where such and such a street might be found. At last in despair I had almost determined to lie down in the street and give up, when suddenly my eye caught sign, 'Chicago Aid and Relief Society.' If that was meant for anybody in Chicago, it was meant for me. So, with beating heart, I opened the door and went in. The man was just putting on his hat and coat to go home, but I held up to him and told him how I was fixed. How simple it all seemed. What an absolute fool I had been to starve so long. Why, the man looked in my face in blank astonishment as I told him it was five days since I had tasted food. He at once gave me a letter to a family where I would get board and lodging for a week—never asked me a single question—wished me success in finding a job, and bid me go."

The family of which he became an inmate consisted of a fellow Scotchman, his German wife and two little fair haired children. When he had had his first meal for 120 hours and had begun to "thaw out" before a blazing fire the love of life was renewed. With his countryman's aid he got work the following Monday, not a fat job, but enough to keep body and soul together. Later on his education began to tell, and he obtained a position more fitted to his abilities. He had one more relapse into his old habits, but was finally converted after he had passed through the hands of almost every worker in Moody's church. After conversion he in his spare time commenced preaching on the streets and playing the organ and singing in various mission halls in turn.

Developing great power as an exhorter and becoming one of Mr. Moody's chief helpers, he was pressed into regular evangelistic service about four years ago and has remained at it ever since. He started the Canal Street mission, near Twelfth, and also done yeoman service at Farwell hall, Moody's church, and almost all the other mission halls, as well as outside the city. About a year ago he married the daughter of a well known Chicagoan, Peter Westfall, and last fall, when the Tyng mission was started, removed into the center of his foul smelling bailiwick. Mr. Smith is heart and soul in his work, as is his wife. He has found his life's mission (in a double sense), and both he and Chicago have profited by the iron constitution which sustained him during his unbridled career and the almost unexampled hardships he suffered during the hard winter of 1882.—Chicago Tribune.

RELIGIOUS GLEANINGS.

Said a heathen to a missionary, "There must be something in your religion which makes you come all the way out here to tell us of it. I am sure I would not go so far to tell you of mine."

The Southern Baptist Foreign Mission board has decided to start a mission in the southwestern part of Japan.

Five million dollars are spent annually for foreign missions in the United States, and $1,000,000,000 for strong drink.

If it cost $1,220,000 to Christianize the Sandwich Islands, and now we receive back about $5,000,000 a year in commerce, what have we lost?

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

EPPS'S COCOA

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there was a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.

OUR SUMMER CLOTHING BULLETIN.

Correct in style, Perfect in fit, Reliable in make and Right in price is the Clothing we offer you. Correct at the start and at the finish.

The requirements for each garment are—The material must be right, the cut of it right, the make of it right and, withal, the price must be right. Must be right at every stage of its construction, so that in the end 'twill be right. It requires no little attention, study and skill to keep to the track all the way through, but the result is recompense sufficient. Our prices and our goods both are right.

Correct in style—means more than fashionable in style, beautiful in style or sensible in style. It means all of 'em together. In such clothing as this you're neither "a guy," "a dude," or "a fellow of no style," but "A gentleman, sir, by his dress." Your garments are not "loud" enough to attract attention, but they're good enough to stand inspection, stylish enough to be "toney" and graceful enough to be beautiful.

As we've already said, our prices are right, so are our goods. And so, we think, is our way of selling 'em, since it allows the greater number to buy 'em. Do you want clothes? Then come to us.

'A Spring Message'

From the New Firm of

H. LeBRUN & CO.

Sign of the Golden Horse-shoe.

The people of Peterborough and vicinity are all aware of the business change which took place in the CITY CLOTHING STORE on the first day of February last. The new firm beg leave to make their first bow to the public through the columns of the REVIEW, and to request a careful perusal of the following Spring and Summer circular:—

The City Clothing Store

in past years, by long experience in business, by buying always for spot cash, importing direct from the principal houses of the old country and from the leading houses of Canada, and by strict economy in conducting its business, has always been able to force prices down to an exceedingly fine point. The members of which the new firm is composed will form a still stronger "combine," by which the CITY CLOTHING STORE will be even better prepared to procure for its customers a continuation of these superior inducements in the future for which it has been noted in the past.

Men's Clothing.

The magnitude of our stock and lowness of prices gives us a great advantage over all other competitors in the trade. We carry in stock all the fast selling lines, styles and patterns, and can fit the tall, the short, the fat and the lean.

MORE SUITS, BETTER FABRICS, FINER STYLES than were ever handled before.

Special values in FINE SPRING OVERCOATS, and FINE SPRING AND SUMMER SUITS. Don't fail to see them. The superb styles, workmanship, and the beautiful fabrics and patterns that we offer will surprise you.

Merchant Tailoring.

"For the apparel oft proclaims the man."

Fine dressers in search of new, neat and nobby OVERCOATINGS, SUITINGS or TROUSERINGS will find this department crowded to overflowing with cloth from all countries. To select from the largest assortment is an advantage we offer to our customers, backed up by the skill of experienced cutters and tailors. Besides perfect fit and first-class trimmings, we guarantee absolutely first-class workmanship.

Boys' and Youths' Clothing.

Clothing for the little ones—boys and children—has always been a specialty with us. We have always sought to give great values in this department, and to provide a larger and finer variety of goods for parents to select from than they could find elsewhere.

This means that we are showing a large assortment of BOYS' and CHILDREN'S SUITS, BOYS' and CHILDREN'S BLOUSES, SHIRT WAISTS, PANTS, &c.

This spring there are an unusual number of new and nobby styles and an enlarged variety of fabrics and patterns. Be sure and see our stock.

Gents' Furnishings.

Gentlemen of Peterborough seeking the latest styles and best values for their money, as well as an opportunity of selecting from the largest stock of Furnishing Goods, should not fail to visit this department at once. We offer the finest, best selected and the largest assortment of NECKWEAR, HOSIERY, UNDERWEAR, GLOVES, SHIRTS, HANDKERCHIEFS, etc., to be found in any first-class establishment.

The Magistrate gave the boy a good lecture and told him that if he was ever found guilty of any such offence the court would order the chief of police to flog him. The lad was allowed to go.

Sale of Town Property.

Attention is directed to the important sale of town property to take place to-morrow, Friday, 14th inst. The premises to be offered is that well known and eligible residence, corner of Water and McDonnell-sts., and opposite the George-st Methodist church. Centrally situated the property is valuable and sure to rise in price. The residence is built of solid brick with large two storey brick addition and brick stable. The lot contains half an acre more or less, and has a frontage of one hundred and ninety-two feet more or less on Water-st. by a depth of one hundred and fourteen feet more or less on McDonnell-st. It is seldom that a piece of property so advantageously situated is thrown on the market and no doubt the competition to secure it will be brisk. The sale takes place at 2 o'clock, p.m. 1d136 1w24

Bonusing Manufactories.

There is a great deal of talk about inducing manufacturers to come to town by giving them bonuses. But there is one well-known manufacturer who is not bonus hunting; on the contrary, he is looking for somebody to benefit. That is Bellegham, the furniture king. Every time he sells an article of furniture—a bedroom set or parlour suite—he gives the customer a bonus in the shape of cheap goods and first-class value, that is a bonus compared to the prices and quality furniture can generally be got for. He is doing his best for the public. He keeps a huge stock in great variety and sells at prices that cannot be touched, quality considered. Anybody wanting first-class furniture should steer straight for Bellegham's, the harbor of refuge for all those perplexed by waves of doubt as to where to get the best and cheapest furniture. And as Bellegham's is a harbour of refuge for the perplexed housekeeper who needs furniture, but doesn't want to pay too much, so is it a port to which the about-to-be-commissioned matrimonial craft can steer and get the papers that will start the craft on life's voyage, viz., the necessary, needful, invariable marriage certificate. Bellegham issues these and is the politest man in the county. 1d136-1w24

THE COUNTY COURT.

Thos. Sholdice Discharged—Sherwood vs. Fair.

At the County Court yesterday afternoon when the court resumed after dinner, Thos. Sholdice was arraigned on the charge of breaking into the summer residence of Mr. Wm. Clarton at the Lakes, but the case was dismissed without going to the jury.

SHERWOOD VS. FAIR—This was the next case on the docket and it occupied the attention of the court until late in the evening. Mrs. Agnes Sherwood, of North Monaghan, brought an action against Mr. William Fair, of North Monaghan, farmer, to recover the sum of $120, for a mare, which the plaintiff said she entrusted to the defendant, for the purpose of being used by the defendant in leading a stallion during the season of 1888, upon the terms, that the defendant should feed and properly care for the mare, and should at the close of the horse season of 1888 return the mare to the plaintiff in good order and in foal to the defendant's horse. The defendant did not return the mare, and alleged by way of defence, that she died from colic through no negligence, nor want of care, nor improper treatment on his part. The plaintiff alleged that the defendant used the mare out and beyond the scope of the agreement of the parties, in that the defendant's servant, Mr. John Montgomery, drove the mare to Bridgenorth, which drive induced the sickness from which, through the negligent treatment of the defendant, the mare died. The jury found that the defendant got the mare from the plaintiff to be used only for the purpose of leading the stallion; that the mare did not die from negligence, want of care and improper treatment of the defendant; that the mare was worth $50, and that the drive to Bridgenorth by Mr. Montgomery was out and beyond the scope of the agreement of the parties, but that it was not the cause which induced the sickness from which the mare died. The jury disagreed on the question whether or not the mare was to be taken by the defendant at the plaintiff's risk. On the findings of the jury, His Honor directed formal judgment to be entered for the plaintiff for $50 and costs, with leave to the defendant to move in term to have the judgment reversed or apply for a new trial. E. B. Edwards for the plaintiff; W. A. Stratton and R. E. Hall for the defendant.

PRENNEVEAU VS. LEGROS.—In this case a verdict was returned for the plaintiff for $50. Sawers & Stone for plaintiff; A. P. Poussette, Q. C., for the defendant.

A Stolen Watch.

On Saturday last Mr. H. D. Brush, veterinary dentist, of town, was engaged professionally in the stables of the Balmoral hotel and took off his coat and vest and hung them up while he was working. When he had finished, he found that some one had stolen his watch and chain from his vest pocket. The time piece was a four ounce open-face silver Elgin watch, with the name "H. D. Brush, Vet. Dentist," engraved on the back of the case. The chain was a solid gold one, and had a charm of a horses head attached. The police will be glad if any person who may see such a watch or chain would notify them.

The bicycle club will hold their first fortnightly meet at the P.A.A.A. grounds this evening, when a good programme of races will be run off. The wheelmen have all been doing a little extra riding in preparation for the races and it is expected that the events will all be hotly contested and afford good sport for the spectators.

The Otonabee Canoe Club hold their first fortnightly regatta of the season on Little Lake to-morrow evening, when a good programme of races will be carried out.

The Maple Leafs and Trinity College school, of Port Hope, play cricket here on Saturday.

The Examiner and REVIEW nines will show the general public how to play a game called baseball, at the P. A. A. A. grounds Saturday afternoon, at four o'clock.

A Century of Masonry.

As previously announced, Rgt. W. Bro. J. Ross Robertson, D.G.M. of the Masonic Grand Lodge of Canada, delivered to the brethren at the Masonic Hall on Wednesday evening, a lecture on craft masonry. There was a large attendance, many brethren from lodges at Lakefield, Keene and Norwood. The handsome rooms were the subject of complimentary remarks by the D.G.M., who approvingly noted the evident zeal of the brethren in providing pleasant and attractive surroundings. After the work allotted for the evening had been performed Rgt. W. Bro. Robertson was introduced by Rgt. W. Bro. Shortly and W. Bro. E. H. D. Hall, and received with grand honors. In addressing the lodge the D.G.M. referred to matters connected with the duties of the office which he filled and briefly stated in outline what he had done in that direction. Taking up the theme of his lecture he delivered a most interesting discourse. The result of labors for the last 3 years had produced a mass of evidence and testimony relative to the early history of masonry in Canada. This he had sifted out and condensed, grouping facts and dates in their relative order so as to form a cogent whole. Especially interesting was the references to the career of the craft from 1784 to 1800, and its connection with the English craft clearly defined. From the books of the secretaries of several lodges, instituted many years ago, the lecturer had taken excerpts, as showing the routine of work and the minuteness with which incidents were recorded. Many of the quotations were quaint and humorous and reflected well the spirit of the craft at the time the record was made. As particularly a masonic lecture the subject matter is not available for publication, but the opportunity of hearing the past of masonry so clearly and explicitly set forth was a treat. At the close of the lecture W. Bro. R. E. Wood moved a vote of thanks which was seconded by W. Bro. R. A. Morrow and Rgt. W. Bro. B. Shortly. Some time was spent at refreshment, after which the brethren dispersed.

'TWAS A GREAT SUCCESS.

THE UNION FARMERS' INSTITUTE PICNIC AT JUBILEE POINT.

A Large Gathering of Yeomen from Three Counties—Fine Weather and an Enjoyable Day—Speeches on the Grounds.

Yesterday was a red letter day in the history of Farmers' Institutes in this district. At the meeting of the Central Institute in Toronto last winter partial arrangements were made for a picnic under the auspices of the Institutes of West Peterborough, East Peterborough, West Northumberland and Durham, and later the project was placed in the hands of a central committee, of which Mr. F. Birdsall, of Asphodel, was appointed chairman, and Mr. Wm. Collins, of Otonabee, secretary. Jubilee Point was chosen as the site of the picnic, and Commodore Calcutt having been asked to co-operate with the committee, entered into it with his usual enthusiasm and enterprise. The result was a magnificent success, with which all concerned have great reason to be gratified.

The Peterborough contingent left the wharf on the steamer Golden Eye and barge City of Peterborough shortly after 8 o'clock, and had a pleasant sail down the river. At various points others were taken on board, and when the Point was reached there were about 500 or 550 passengers. The other boats arrived at the same time. These were the Beaver with two scows from Hastings and Birdsalls, the Sunbeam with scow from Keene, the Pearl and Eva from Bewdley and other head of the lake points, and the new steamer Daisy from Harwood and Gore's Landing. The smaller steamers made several trips to accommodate the numbers who desired to participate in the gathering. Soon a crowd of about 2,000 pleasure seekers were upon.

THE BEAUTIFUL GROUNDS.

The committee made an excellent selection in choosing Jubilee Point for the picnic. It is very pleasantly situated, excellently shaded, and in every way adapted for a picnic or summer resort. Since last year considerable work has been done upon the grounds, and their beauty considerably enhanced.

DINNER AND AMUSEMENTS.

The throng soon spread itself over the grounds, and under the friendly shade of the trees, upon the tables on the grounds or on cloths laid upon the grass, the picnic repasts were spread and dinner served. The well-conducted hotel at the Point also served a large number in its dining hall.

After dinner the pavilion was soon occupied with dancers, and the light fantastic was tripped to the music of the Peterborough orchestra, which had supplied music for the same amusement on the way down from Peterborough. The swings in the grove and other provisions for amusement were also made good use of, and enjoyment had full sway for a time.

FARM AND DAIRY APPLIANCES.

On the grounds there was an exhibition of agricultural machinery. Mr. Peter Hamilton had taken down a collection of machinery from his works, and they attracted attention during the afternoon.

Messrs. W. G. Bain & Co. showed that adjunct of the dairy that is becoming so popular, the creamery can. This patent can, which not only saves labor, but improves the butter, are becoming understood and appreciated, and as a consequence popular.

THE SPEAKING.

In a most suitable place in the grove a platform had been erected for the speaking. Around it gathered a large throng as the speakers ascended the steps, and the orators had a large and attentive audience.

Mr. F. Birdsall presided, and on the platform were Hon. C. A. Drury, Ontario Minister of Agriculture, Mr. N. Awrey, M. P. P., President of the Central Farmers' Institute, Prof. Mills, President of the Ontario Agricultural College, Messrs John Lang, M. P., J. R. Stratton, M. P. P., T. Blezard, M. P. P., John Brown, Warden of Peterborough County, D. Kennedy, President West Peterborough Institute, W. Collins, secretary of the committee, W. J. Westington, President West Northumberland Institute, R. Vance, of Ida, District Representative on the Agricultural and Arts Association, Jas. Moore, Reeve of Asphodel, A. R. Kidd, Reeve of Dummer, John Garbutt, Smith, C. O'Reilly, Asphodel, J. Smithson, Otonabee, R. Cullis, Secretary West Northumberland Agricultural Society, James Russell, Director of the same society, W. Macklin, ex-Reeve of Haldimand, and others. By an unfortunate misunderstanding Prof. Fletcher, of the Dominion Experimental Farm, missed his train at Ottawa. He tried to charter an engine to bring him down, but did not succeed and was unable to be present.

The CHAIRMAN, with a few brief remarks, introduced the first speaker, Hon. C. A. Drury.

Mr. DRURY expressed the pleasure it afforded him to be present. He was pleased to see such a large gathering of people of these counties, and congratulated the management on having secured such a beautiful spot for the picnic. He suggested as the only improvement that was needed or desirable, that seats be prepared for the people, as he understood this was to be an annual affair. He congratulated the farmers on the success of the Farmers' Institutes, 70 or 80 of which had been established in the Province. Farming was no longer a mechanical process—it was an art and a science, and discussions at gatherings like this and the meetings in the winter were of great value. He had seen everywhere evidences of careful thought and keen intelligence, and he was glad that successful farmers were perfectly willing to disseminate the secrets of their success. The younger men were, almost all of them, well educated. Large numbers of the farmers' sons were being educated in the high schools, and they would have an educated yeomanry. During the past few years farming had not been very successful in Ontario. While they could not fix the prices, they should intelligently apply themselves to the problem of how to reduce the cost of production. All agricultural countries had been suffering from the same cause, and it was for them to aim at a higher success in their calling. He had travelled through the continent, and he came to the conclusion that nature had done more for other portions of the continent than for Ontario, but he had also come to the conclusion that this Province had better, neater, more industrious and more enterprising farmers than any part of the United States. In answer to the assertion sometimes made that when land was cropped it must get poorer, he pointed to England where the land had been cropped for a thousand years. He had investigated the official figures and had found that the average return farmers of the Province had received on their investments was 3½ per cent. He did not say that they should be satisfied with that, but should study methods to improve their position. If they treated their farms generously they would return it with interest. He expressed his pleasure in meeting the farmers personally and with a few further remarks concluded.

Mr. N. AWREY, M. P. P., President of the Central Farmers' Institute, after some pleasantries, spoke of the importance of farming, and said that the pioneers of farming were the heroes and heroines of the country. At one time the farmers were not so much respected by the denizens of the towns. Perhaps this was their own fault. Then when they had a smart boy they sent him to study law, medicine or theology, but now they kept the smart boys on the farm and sent the dull ones to be the lawyers, doctors and preachers. In regard to the importance of the farming industry, he quoted the number of animals on farms in the Province and said there was $900,154,748 invested in farming. Of a population of 1,900,000, only 600,000 was urban population. The farmers had nine times as much money at stake as all the manufacturers in the Province. If the farmers were united they could demand and obtain any legislation they desired. The two problems they had to deal with were, how to keep the boys on the farm, and how to make farming more profitable. In the past a mistake had been made by farmers compelling their sons to work, early and late, week in and week out, without any pleasure. There was still room for improvements in this regard, for they must make home attractive. He believed wheat was not a profitable product in Ontario now, but farming could be made profitable by turning to stock raising and dairying. They should take say a twenty acre field, on which they had pastured fifteen head of cattle, and divide it into four by hurdles. Then supplement the pasture by a little green fodder and turn in thirty head of cattle. In the winter they should utilize ensilage to feed the cattle, or if they had not a silo, grow corn and stock it up to feed. Canadian cheese was in demand. Last year they exported $8,000,000 worth, and by keeping up the quality they might double that. He asked them to ponder over the question of extended trade relations. He would raise his voice against the Americans having the power to regulate the Canadian tariff. The leaders of both political parties expressed their desire for extended trade relations between the two countries. He therefore asked them to ponder the question in view of the benefits that would accrue from reciprocity in natural products. He used eggs to illustrate his point. They had a beautiful and rich Province, a climate calculated to grow good men, and should they not make this a prosperous country?

Prof. MILLS, President of the Ontario Agricultural College, explained that he had been a farmer until, at 21 years of age, he lost his arm in a threshing machine. There had been a disposition among farmers to disparage their occupation, but they should not, because even the Queen had her herds and her flocks. He believed the time was coming when the retired merchants or professional men would become farmers on account of the social position it would give them. Farming compared favorably in this Province with any other calling in health, independence, leisure and money. He dwelt on each of these points, and said there was no other man in the country whom the people were more willing to advance than a farmer if he had sufficient culture. Farmers needed better methods, close attention to business, more taste and more education. He dwelt especially on education, and emphasized the necessity of having plenty of good literature in their homes. In the Guelph College they were doing what they could for agriculture. They did there what no other educational institution in the country did—they educated the students without giving them a distaste for farming. He explained the methods and division of studies at the college, and said it was the cheapest institution on the continent.

The Hastings Band, which had on the invitation of the Reeve of Asphodel and others given their services for the day, played several airs at intervals and the music was very creditable to Leader Sweet and his young organization.

Cheers were given for the Queen, the speakers, and Commodore Calcutt, and this part of the proceedings terminated.

HOMEWARD.

Before the speaking was concluded the steamers were whistling for the return, and soon after the Golden Eye was on its way up stream, the other steamers starting soon after it had left. The homeward voyage was very pleasant. Music and dancing was kept up most of time, and the evening being pleasant all enjoyed the trip. The wharf was reached about 11 o'clock.

The picnic was a marked success. It was one of the largest if not the largest gathering ever held on Rice Lake. The arrangements were complete, and the committee in charge, and Commodore Calcutt, who worked hard and successfully for the enjoyment of the excursionists, deserve great credit for the success of the day.

Sons of England.

The public should take notice that it is confidently expected that a detachment of the old time beef-eaters from the Tower, London, Eng., will be present and take part in the opening ceremonies in connection with their new hall which takes place on Friday evening, June 28th, coronation day, and also accompany them on their excursion and picnic, Chemong lake, July 1st, Dominion Day. Full particulars of both these events will be made known by posters in a few days.

Accidents.

When the Golden Eye was going down the river yesterday George H. McWilliams, son of Mr. George McWilliams, had his right foot caught by the gang planks between the steamer and the scow. A bone was broken and his foot was severely and painfully bruised.

A young man named Holland took a bad tumble from his bicycle at the P. A. A. A. grounds last evening, and received an ugly cut in his head by the handle of his machine striking him. He was upset by colliding with another 'cicyclist, Wm. Springer, who, although he took a header, fortunately escaped injury.

Three Trains.

A week from to-day will be the time to go to Toronto. Three trains on the C. P. R.—the early morning train, the 7 o'clock train and the evening train. The St. Andrew's excursion tickets, only $2, will be good to go on any of these trains. Excursionists may go on the morning train and spend one or two days in the Queen City, and business men, if they so desire, can go up on the evening train and return next night. A cheap, pleasant trip, a fast ride and a visit to Ontario's capital. Tickets can be obtained from members of the committee. d136

Fifty Dollars and Costs.

Geo. Henry, the keeper of the "stone-front" hotel, on whose premises Inspector Cochrane and Chief Roszel found the barrel of beer, part of a keg of lager, and a bottle and jar of whiskey on Monday last, was summoned before the Magistrate this morning to account for having so much liquid refreshment in his house. The seized liquor was all produced in court. Evidence was given by the Chief as to the seizure and the finding of a bar with a beer pump, glasses and all the requisites of an ordinary bar. Other testimony was given showing that Henry bought a thirty gallon barrel of beer on the 1st of June and another on the 7th. Henry was allowed to give evidence in his own behalf and swore that the liquor was only for the use of the family and his boarders, and that he had not sold a glass of liquor out of either barrel of beer or in fact since the 16th of May. His family consisted of himself, wife and four children between the ages of six and fourteen years and four male and one female boarders, two of the former of whom swore that they did not taste liquor. In the face of this it seemed that Henry must have been a great drinker or that his boarders must have been treated well at their meals, which only cost them twenty cents. The Magistrate said that on Henry's own evidence he could find him guilty, as under the law he could not give the liquor to his boarders who were customers. At the same time the Magistrate said he believed that Henry did not have the bar and beer pump for any purpose but to sell liquor. He fined him fifty dollars and costs, payable forthwith. The beer and whiskey was by order of the Magistrate, taken out and destroyed, the liquor being allowed to run off into the gutter, apparently to the disgust of some of the onlookers. Mr. G. M. Roger, in the absence of Mr. E. B. Edwards, Town Solicitor, appeared for the prosecution.

WITH THE PRENTICE BOYS

THE GRAND LODGE CONCLUDES ITS WORK AND CLOSES.

An Anti-Jesuit Resolution—A Banquet to the Delegates at the C. P. R. Hotel—The List of Toasts, Responses and Songs—An Enthusiastic Gathering.

The Grand Lodge of 'Prentice Boys rushed through a great deal of work yesterday afternoon and concluded its labors before six o'clock. The afternoon session was occupied in revising the constitution and receiving the reports of the standing committees, which were of a private nature. In fact almost the entire business transacted was of interest to the order only. Before the Lodge closed a discussion on arose, the outcome of which was the following resolution:—

THE JESUIT QUESTION

Moved by Bro. J. R. GEROW, seconded by Bro. A. Abbott, and resolved

That we the members of the Grand Lodge of 'Prentice Boys of British North America, deplore the action of the Parliament of Canada in sanctioning the passage of the Jesuit Estates Bill and we strongly condemn the action of the members of Parliament who voted against Col. O'Brien's motion and that we admire the noble stand taken by Col. O'Brien and the other twelve true Protestants against said bill. And further that we behold with alarm the action of the local Legislature of Ontario having introduced into our public schools certain French text books as well as their general pandering to the wishes and dictation of the hierarchy, as witness the mutilation of the Bible for school purposes, etc.

Also that we the members of this Grand Lodge pledge ourselves to support in future only those candidates who are in favor of equal rights to all and exclusive privileges to none, and we authorize the secretary to send a copy of this resolution to the Mail for publication.

The Banquet.

In the evening the delegates to the Grand Lodge were entertained at a complimentary banquet at the C. P. R. hotel by the members of Jubilee Lodge, No. 7. The gathering was an enjoyable one, and the visiting delegates were unanimous in their expressions of gratitude to the local brethren for the reception that had been tendered them and the handsome manner in which they had been entertained. A few of the delegates were unable to remain to the banquet, but about fifty brethren sat down to an excellent spread in the dining-room of the C.P.R. hotel, which had been tastefully decorated with flags. Junior Deputy Grand Master M. A. Jamieson occupied the seat at the head of the table and performed the duties of chairman in a becoming manner.

TOASTS, SPEECHES AND SONGS.

After all had satisfied the cravings of the inner man the chairman, with a few appropriate remarks, proposed the toast of "The Queen and the Royal Family" which was enthusiastically drank and was followed with "God Save the Queen" by the gathering.

Bro. J. Flannery was called upon for a song and responded with "I'm a Man You Don't Meet Every Day."

"The Governor General" was next honored and "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" was sung.

Bro. F. Billings then gave "The Irish Christening."

The next toast proposed and enthusiastically drank was "The Grand Lodge of 'Prentice Boys of British North America." Bro. J. S Jackson, Grand Master, Toronto, was the first to respond to this toast, and in a neat speech he referred to the kind reception the Peterborough brethren had given the delegates and to the Jesuit agitation. He spoke of the 'Prentice Boys which he said any young man should be proud to belong to. Bro. A. W. Arnell, of Kingston next spoke to the toast, pointing out the high stand which the 'Prentice Boys always took in the societies of Canada and urged the Lodges to bring the young members of the association into the active work of the lodges. He wished Peterborough Lodge every success and prosperity.

Bro. Flannery in response to another demand gave an excellent song, which was received with applause.

"The Volunteers" were then toasted and Sergt. Ketcheson, of Belleville, Sergt. Billinghurst, of Toronto, a Northwest hero, and Bro. Hudson, of Toronto, responded. The first speaker referred to the Peterborough boys in kindly terms and speaking of the volunteers he said that he thought the Dominion Government were making a great mistake in allowing so many Roman Catholics to enlist in the ranks of the volunteers. Sergt. Billinghurst also made reference to the Peterborough brethren. Bro. Hudson, of Toronto, who had been a member of the Queen's Own and Royal Grenadiers, also spoke to the toast.

Bro. Billings gave another song and then the chairman proposed the toast of "Our Sister Societies," which brought Bro. L. W. Bell, of Toronto, a member of the Black Chapter, to his feet. He said he was a member of five other societies and had been a delegate to the recent Grand Orange Lodge held in Hamilton and he said at that gathering the Orangemen gave no uncertain sound but had given the brethren who had voted against the O'Brien resolution a severe raking over. He also spoke of the Orange societies in Toronto and their success. Bro. J. Jamieson, of the True Blues, also responed, after which Bro. Flannery favored the gathering with another solo entitled "Good-night and joy be with you all."

"The Press" was next honored and duly acknowledged, and then Bro. A. S. Abbott, of Belleville, gave a good song which was appreciated.

"The Ladies" was toasted amid enthusiasm and the fair sex were appropriately honored by Bro. Robinson, P. G. M., Bro. Hudson and Bro. Abbott.

"The chairman and members of Jubilee No. 7," was proposed by Grand Master Jackson, and drank heartily. Bro. Wm. Marshall, Master of Jubilee Lodge, and the chairman, Bro. M. A. Jamieson, J.D.G.M., made fitting replies. Bro. Flannery also spoke to this toast and denounced in forcible language the efforts of the Pope to establish himself in this country and said he hoped this Jesuit agitation would open the eyes not only of the Orangemen but of all Protestants throughout the Dominion. He hoped that they would in the course of time be enabled to bring the Pope from his throne in Rome and tell him that they would only have one Mediator between God and man and have special privileges for none and equal rights for all. (Cheers).

Bro. Billings then gave another rattling song.

Bro. Sanders, recording secretary of Jubilee Lodge, and Bro. Wiley, Grand Secretary, made short speeches referring to the pleasant associations that had existed during the Grand Lodge meeting and wished success to the 'Prentice Boys all over the Dominion.

"Our Host and Hostess" was then drank, after which Bro. Ellis, of Toronto, gave a red-hot Protestant toast, as he called it, which was enthusiastically drank.

Bro. Kendry gave a song. Bro. Stenson, D.M. of No. 7, made a few remarks, Bros. Billings and Kendry sang a duet, Bro. Flannery contributed another solo, and the closing toast was drank, "Happy to meet, sorry to part, and happy to meet in Brockville next June."

"God Save the Queen" brought the gathering to a close.

As the gathering broke up three cheers were given for Queen, Jubilee Lodge and three and a tiger for Col. O'Brien.

Another Liquor Case.

An information has been laid by Chief Roszel against R. R. Hamilton charging him with selling liquor under the Crooks Act without a license. The case was called at the Police Court this morning, but Mr. R. E. Hall appeared for the defendant and received an adjournment until Monday.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

Mourning for Pets.

In Egypt ladies used to carry their devotion for their feline pets so far as to go into mourning for them when the died. And how do you think they went into mourning? Why, by shaving off their eyebrows! Favorite cats used to be embalmed, too, and I know of no quainter or more grotesque objects than the mummified cats which may be seen at the British museum. Even now cats are held in high esteem in Egypt, and in at least one of the khedive's palaces at Cairo there is a free ration distributed every day to any cats that may care to apply.

A Modest Request.

A certain deacon in a church which shall be nameless, had the bad habit of snoring while asleep during divine service. One Saturday evening he received the following note: "Deacon —— is desired not to commence snoring to-morrow until the sermon is begun, as some persons in the neighborhood of his pew would like to hear the text."—St. Louis Republic.

The new arrangement of high power electrical distribution is based on the fact that the number of Watts consumed by an incandescent lamp in unit time can be controlled, whatever this electromotive force of the circuit and the resistance of the lamp may be, provided only that the electromotive force is greater than is required by the lamp when worked in the ordinary way.

PRETTY SISTER OF JOSE.

By FRANCES HODGSON BURNETT.

Author of "Little Lord Fauntleroy," "That Lass O'Lowries," &c., &c.

Make him come back—make him come back to her. Mother of God! he must return. Make him come to the wall some night—yes, to-night. He must not know that she was like Sarita—but he must come; and whatsoever she did or said he must not go away again. She would sell her new necklace—the silver comb her mother had left her—the comb her father had given her mother in the days of their courtship—she would do some work and give to the Holy Mother some candles and flowers—but he must come back—and he must not go away again whatsoever she did.

She knelt upon the stone floor, her hands wrung together, pouring forth the same words breathlessly, over and over—each reiteration more intense than the last—all her young strength going out into the appeal.

And still she had not yet reached the point of knowing what she should do and say when he came.

When she tried to rise to her feet she was obliged to make two efforts before she succeeded. She had given such a passion of strength to her siege that she was almost exhausted, and she went out into the dazzling sunlight trembling. She did this day after day—day after day—and at night she waited by the wall, but the road was always the same.

And she could hear nothing—not a word. She could not ask—even though sometimes as she sat and gazed at Jose with hungry eyes it seemed as if she must drop dead if he did not speak. But he did not speak because he could have told her but little, and was quite secure in his belief that the mere mention of Sebastiano's name angered her. So the time went by—weeks and months—and at last one evening she went to the church and prayed a new prayer.

"Sacred Mother," she said, "I have sold the comb and the necklace—and I have worked and can keep my word. I have bought a little golden heart. And if he comes"—in a fainter whisper—"if he comes I will say nothing ill to him."

That night, for the first time, she heard of Sebastiano.

Little Carlos came in and was full of news.

"They say that Sebastiano has had great success—and that perhaps he will go to America."

"Where is America?" asked Jovita.

"It is at the other end of the world, and never yet have the people seen a bull fight."

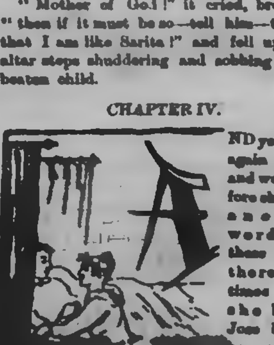
"Never!" said Jose, starting. "That is impossible!"

"It is true," answered Carlos. "And they are rich and like new things; and the King has spoken of sending for Sebastiano. His will be rich enough to build a palace for his old age."

A few days later, in the dusk in the evening, there crept into the church a little figure familiar to the painted saints and the waxen Virgin. But to-day it wore a changed aspect. It moved slowly at first—reluctantly—the brilliant little face was pale—the eyes wild with torture. A moment it stood before the altar; and then flung up its arms with a fierce gesture.

"Mother of God!" it cried, brokenly, "then if it must be so—tell him—tell him that I am like Sarita!" and fell upon the altar steps shuddering and sobbing like a beaten child.

CHAPTER IV.



AND yet it was again weeks and weeks before she heard another word. In these weeks there were times when she hated Jose because he never once spoke of what she wished to hear. She could not speak herself—she could not ask questions—she could only wait—hungry and desolate. They would not even say—these people—whether he had gone to the King of America or not—whether he was at the other end of the world, or whether he was only in some other city. The truth was that Jose had innocently cautioned the others against speaking of one whom Pepita disliked to hear of.

YOUNG FOLKS' COLUMN.

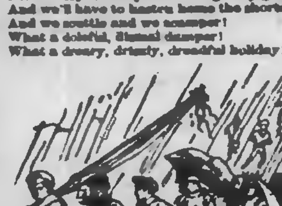
FOR THE SPECIAL ENTERTAINMENT OF OUR BOYS AND GIRLS.

An Often Repeated Experience in May Day Excursions Again Told, with Pleasing Diversions in the Way of Realistic and Amusing Illustrations.

Oh! 'tis bland, and oh, 'tis bloomy, for it's May;
Could there be a more delightful season, pray?
How the sunbeams skip and saunter,
And the sparrows chirp and chatter,
And the sweetly scented breezes softly stray!
And we're gladsome, and we're gleeful, and we're gay,
And we're highly happy hearted,
For we're blithely, briskly started
For a joyful, jocund, jolly holiday.

WE ARE GLADSOME AND GLEEFUL.

And oh, 'tis glum and gloomy, though 'tis May!
Could there be a more distracting season, say?
We must hustle, we must hurry,
In a flutter and a flurry,
For the sky is direly dark and grimly gray,
And we'll have to hasten home the shortest way;
And we scuttle and we scamper!
What a doleful, dismal damper!
What a dreary, drizzly, dreadful holiday!



WE SCUTTLE AND WE SCAMPER.

—St. Nicholas.

The Lady Bug's History.

Almost every boy and girl can tell what a lady bug looks like, and there are few who have not heard the old rhyme,

Lady bug, lady bug, fly away home;
Your house is on fire, your children will burn.

It is doubtful if any of our youthful readers know, however, just why the bug is called lady bug or why her house is always supposed to be on fire. Following is a bit of history on the subject originally gleaned for the benefit of Harper's Young People:

Lady bugs are supposed to appear suddenly on St. Barnaby's day (the 11th of June), and for that reason were first called St. Barnaby's bees. Now, St. Barnaby was noted for his good works, and for administering comfort to the afflicted, and it was thought that he sent the bugs, and taught them to be useful to man by destroying plant lice and other insects that fed upon trees and flowering shrubs.

In other places they are known as "Our Ladybird," evidently called after the Virgin Mary; also golden bug, May bug, blessed bee, golden knap, lady cow, barn bee, cush cow ladies and dandy cows.

One of the old rhymes says:

Lady bug, lady bird, sigh thy way home;
Thy house is on fire, thy children all roam,
Except little Nan, who sits in her pan,
Weaving gold lace as fast as she can.
Then fly to the east and fly to the west—
Fly to those that I love best.

There are several species of these little bugs, and all of them are said to be useful in destroying insects so small that the human eye can not see them.

But no matter whether they do good or not, I think there are very few children who would wilfully kill a lady bug, or forget to say whenever they find one:

Lady bug, lady bug, fly away home;
Your house is on fire, your children will burn.

Things Boys Should Learn.

To shut doors without slamming.

To shut them in winter to keep the cold out.

To do errands promptly and cheerfully.

To get ready to go away without the united efforts of mother and sisters.

To be gentle to his little sisters.

To be kind to all animals.

To have a dog, if possible, and make a companion of him.

To ride, row, shoot and swim.

To be manly and courageous.

To let cigarettes alone.

To tell the truth.

Mary Had a Little Lamb.

The real Mary who "Had a Little Lamb" is now 83 years of age and resides in Somerville, Mass. Her name is Mrs. Mary E. Tyler. When a child she lived in the little country village of Sterling, Mass., not far from Worcester, and had a pet foundling lamb, which really "followed her to school" and hid under her seat. When the little lamb made its appearance before the school it caused such a disturbance among the scholars that "the teacher turned it out." John Roulstone wrote the original poem of three verses, but two more were added by a Mrs. Townsend.

Phonographic Dolls.

Our little girls have had dolls that opened and shut their eyes, that cried, and that walked. And now has appeared the greatest wonder of all, the phonographic dolls, with voices clear and loud; dolls that can repeat Mother Goose's melodies and other juvenile poems. These dolls are sufficiently large to admit of the insertion in their bodies of one of those wonderful talking machines which scientists have named phonographs.

Wanted the Neighbors to See.

Mrs. Smart—How much did you say this carpet was a yard?

Clerk—One dollar a yard, ma'am.

Mrs. Smart—Well, I'll take thirty yards.

Clerk—Yes, ma'am. Will that be all?

Mrs. Smart—No; be sure you don't send the carpet after dark, and you needn't be particular about wrapping it up. — Yankee Blade.

A story of Von Bulow, told by the Pall Mall Gazette, illustrates his peculiarity: "Not long ago Von Bulow was conducting one of Beethoven's concertos. In the pause before the dead march, which constitutes the second movement, the conductor, in deference to the funeral music, was seen rapidly to take off his white gloves and substitute a pair of faultless black kids, which disappeared again as soon as the dead march was played."

There is a grim humor about some of Judge Lynch's executions. A bank president in southwest Texas made away with all the funds under his charge and then posted on the door of his institution, "Bank Suspended." That night he was interviewed by a number of depositors, who left him hanging to a tree with this notice pinned to his breast: "Bank President Suspended." Bank suspensions will not occur very frequently in that locality.

The Cheer of the Trenton.

Our anchors drag and our cables surge
At every shock of the hurling sea,
While the mist of the breakers veils the verge
Of the reef of coral under our lee.

From the east by north to the north-northwest
The wild typhoon veers sweep on sweep,
And from moment to moment the crest-wave's crest
Buries our waist in its sidelong leap.

Under the blows of our plunging screw
The whitening breakers foam and churn,
But for all that steam and steel can do
We are drifting slowly astern, astern!

On our starboard quarter close aboard
We see the stanch Calliope loom,
While the black flood, from her smokestack poured,
Covers the sea like a pall of doom.

Her topmasts struck and her yards braced sharp,
She is headed out for the open main,
While her shrouds like the strings of a giant's harp,
Scream to the touch of the hurricane.

We from the flagship Trenton's decks
Are watching her battle in hope and dread
As she threads the throng of the tossing wrecks,
Now beaten backward, now forging ahead.

She with the red-cross ensign aloft,
And we, our starry banner below,
Lie beam to beam, as frigates oft
Ranged in old sea fights long ago.

We watch the weight of the tempest fall
On her flooded decks and her reeling bow,
And our hearts are beating one and all,
For we both go down should she foul us now.

Through the darkest night there's a gleam to break:
Fathom by fathom she forges past,
Till we know by the swirl of her eddying wake
That her seaward struggle is won at last.

The Admiral tosses his sea cap high,
As from station to station is passed the word,
And over the uproar of wave and sky
The thunder roll of our cheer is heard.

And back from the Briton's taffrail came
The gallant, grateful, and proud reply,
That stirred our hearts like a pulse of flame,
The seaman's and brother's last good-by.

O blood is thicker than water, and long
Will England's memory hold it dear,
And the tale be told in fo'castle song
Of the flagship Trenton's parting cheer.

—Walter Mitchell in New York Sun.

"AGE CANNOT WITHER HER," remarked an old gentleman, as he gazed fondly upon the comely little woman by his side; "but frankly," he continued, "at one time I was afraid cosmetics would. The silly little woman, in order to appear youthful, plastered her face with different varieties of whitewash, yclept 'balms,' 'creams,' 'lotions,' etc." "Yes," interrupted the little woman, "I did, until my skin became like parchment and as pimply and coarse." "Well," said the listener, "What do you use now?" "Use," was the reply, "nothing but common sense and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Common sense told me that if my blood was pure, liver active, appetite and digestion good, that the outward woman would take on the hue of health. The 'Discovery' did all those things and actually rejuvenated me." If you would possess a clear, beautiful complexion, free from blotches, pimples, eruptions, yellow spots and roughness, use the "Golden Medical Discovery." It is guaranteed to do all that it is claimed to, or money paid for it will be promptly refunded.

THE THIRST FOR BLOOD.

AN EPIDEMIC OF MURDER, SUICIDE AND LYNCH LAW.

Five Persons Killed by a Revengeful Laborer—Six Whites Massacred by Chippewa Indians—A Bowie Knife Duel.

PARIS, June 13.—A farmer named Serris, his wife and daughter and two other persons have been murdered by a laborer named Roquet at Toulouse. His motive was revenge, he having been discharged by the farmer.

Murray's Vicious Temper.

VINCENNES, Ind., June 13.—Seth Murray, a tenant farmer, yesterday shot and killed his wife. He then unsuccessfully attempted to kill his son's wife. The murderer afterwards swallowed a large dose of [illegible] and died. Murray was 53 and his wife [illegible]. Murray had a vicious temper.

Rose Died.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 13.—Joseph Rose last evening shot his stepdaughter, Mrs. A. Schweitzer, and cut his own throat. Rose died. He was considered insane. Mrs. Schweitzer may recover.

Hanged Himself in His Barn.

ROCHESTER, June 13.—Michael Armstrong, an aged farmer living three miles east of Honeoye Falls, hanged himself in his barn Wednesday afternoon. No motive can be assigned for the deed and it is believed that it was due to temporary insanity.

Suicide in the Tombs.

NEW YORK, June 13.—Camillo Bongatti, awaiting trial for the murder of Francesco Banevito, committed suicide to-night in the tombs. He hanged himself with a piece of rope taken from his bed.

A Fierce Bowie Knife Duel.

ST. AUGUSTINE, Tex., June 13.—Reub Polk, jr., and George Audry, two young men of this city, fought a duel with bowie knives on Tuesday night. Polk was killed in a few minutes. He was stabbed to the heart and his jugular vein was severed. Audry received a fearful cut in the side and one in the leg. He was carried home from the battle ground and told his friends to inform the sheriff that he was ready to give himself up.

An Ardent Lover.

BOWLING GREEN, O., June 13.—Frank James was arrested Tuesday night on a charge of attempting to blow up Mrs. Williamson's house with dynamite. He was put in jail, where he committed suicide by hanging with a pair of suspenders. Mrs. Williamson is applying for a divorce from her husband, and James had been trying to get her to promise to marry him as soon as she got a divorce. She refused.

Swift Justice.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 13.—Friday night near Corydon, James Devine and Charles Tennison attempted to rob the house of James Lemay. Lemay resisted and was shot through the body and dangerously but not fatally wounded. A son of Lemay was also seriously wounded. The murderers were arrested in New Albany and transferred to Corydon. At 1.15 this morning 200 men took Devine and Tennison out of jail, dragged them to a bridge west of the town and hanged them.

Lynched.

HELENWOOD, Tenn., June 13.—Last night a mob broke into the jail here, took out Lloyd and Reynolds, the double murderers, and hanged them.

Massacred by Indians.

ST. PAUL, June 13.—The Governor has been advised from Mora, Minn., that the Chippewa Indians at Mille Lacs Lake, have massacred six whites, all inoffensive Swedes. The cause is unknown.

STRUNG HIM UP TWICE.

Farmers' Brutal Method to Compel a Suspected Thief to Confess.

TOPEKA, Kan., June 14.—News reached here yesterday from Jefferson County of the attempted lynching of Charles Larkins, suspected of theft. Larkins was working for a farmer who lives in the neighborhood of McLouth, and was accused of stealing a gold watch and ring. The farmer told the neighbors of his suspicions and it was determined to hang Larkins until he confessed. He declared his innocence, but was jerked into the air and then let down. He was given another chance and again suspended.

When finally cut down he was thought to be dead. After two hours' work he was resuscitated and taken to a farmer's house, where he now lies unconscious. The participants in the lynching, who are all known, are in a fearful state lest Larkins should die.

Love for His Neighbor's Wife Cost him Life.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., June 14.—There is much excitement throughout [illegible] County over the murder of Joseph Smith, a son of Rev. Jonathan Smith, a Baptist clergyman, who is known to almost everyone in the state. The murdered man had boarded with John Cummins, and it is said that he so completely won the affections of Mrs. Cummins, a young and handsome woman, that she refused to live any longer with her husband. Smith was found with a rifle ball through his heart on the road near Spencer, the county seat, and it is supposed that Cummins lay in ambush for him and killed him. Cummins has been arrested.

Brockville Cheese Market.

BROCKVILLE, June 14.—On the Cheese Board yesterday 5930 boxes were offered; [illegible] sold at 9c, 200 at 9 1-16c, 300 at 9 [illegible]c.

Will you suffer with Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint? Shiloh's Vitalizer is guaranteed to cure you. S. C. Wells & Co., proprietors, Le Roy, N. Y

TROUBLE OVER A RIGHT OF WAY.

Excitement in Ontario's German Capital—The Volunteers Under Orders.

BERLIN, Ont., June 13.—Considerable excitement was caused this morning when it was learned that our volunteers were requested to hold themselves in readiness in case their services were required to protect the property of the Waterloo and Berlin Street Railway Company. For some time past there has been a fear on the part of our townsfolk that the Grand Trunk would not allow the street railway to cross their track. In fact the Grand Trunk Railway determined on an obstructive policy should the street railway interfere with their crossing until the matter was laid before and decided by the Railway Committee, which would of necessity take considerable time. In the meantime, Mr. Bart, superintendent of the street railway, said little, but thought a great deal, and to the surprise of all had an arrangement made whereby cars shoot over the railway track without touching any of the latter's property. Be the Grand Trunk's objections legal or otherwise, the street railway has the entire sympathy of both towns.

FELL OVERBOARD.

Lord A. P. Cecil Drowned near Adolphustown—Well Known in Ontario.

BATH, June 13.—Lord A. P. Cecil was drowned last night near Adolphustown. He was crossing in a sailboat from Adolphustown to an island opposite, where he had his camp. His sail becoming foul he stood up in the boat to free it, when a squall struck him and he fell overboard. He attempted to swim to his boat but having an overcoat on he failed. He was only fifty yards from shore when the squall struck him. His body was recovered this afternoon and taken to Napanee to be embalmed.

Brief Sketch of the Deceased.

TORONTO, June 14.—Lord Albert Percy Cecil was the third son of the Marquis of Exeter and a cousin to the Marquis of Salisbury. He came to Canada about 1861. He was about 46 years of age, unmarried and had no relatives in Canada.

His Lordship was well known in Toronto, and in fact throughout Canada and the United States. Relinquishing the aristocratic circles of the Old Country and what he regarded as "the pomps and vanities of the world" he devoted his fortune and talents to the work of evangelization. Religiously he belonged to what are known as the "Plymouth Brethren," but he preferred to be simply known as a "Christian." Many times has he visited Toronto, and during last fall he preached several times in the Alexander-street meeting-room, also in that at the corner of Queen and Dundas-streets and in Temperance Hall. He was deeply read in the Scriptures and was an earnest expounder of the Word and a successful preacher of the Gospel. He totally eschewed politics and the worldly amusements of the professing churches. His favorite topic of discourse was the "Second Coming of Christ," in fact he was recognized as an able student of prophecy. Unostentatious in his character, plain to shabbiness in his attire, lowly in manner, he had a big heart for the service of God and souls. He will be missed in many circles in this city, and with deep regret his friends on both sides of the Atlantic will learn of his death.

Lord Cecil's first visit to Canada was early in the sixties, when he came here as lieutenant with a rifle regiment which was stationed at Hamilton in 1864. Shortly after that he took a deep religious turn.

Queen Victoria was his godmother.

The Mutual Benefit Insurance Scheme Revised by the Grand Lodge.

TORONTO, June 14.—The Grand Lodge of Canadian Order of Oddfellows met again yesterday morning. The mutual benefit insurance scheme was taken up, discussed lengthily and revised. Heretofore the endowment has been only $500 and it has been raised by an assessment of $1 per member when the death occurred. These assessments were compulsory. The new scheme consists of making the endowment $500. $1000 or $1500, or introducing monthly premiums, and of making the insurance scheme simply an adjunct to the order, so that members may take advantage of it or not as they please. The plan includes a scheme of graded premiums, older members paying more than younger members. The new plan is adopted for one year only and if it works satisfactorily it will be finally adopted.

A motion was moved looking to the establishment of an official organ for the order. It resulted in Bro. Wolseley of The Trenton Courier being given permission to establish the organ as a private enterprise but under the sanction of the Grand Lodge.

The election of officers took place in the afternoon and evening. The following brethren were elected:

Grand Master—Henry Richards, Toronto.
Deputy Grand Master—Alex. Thomson, Hamilton.
Grand Secretary—C. P. Parkinson, Toronto.
Grand Treasurer—Geo. Bezell, Toronto.
Grand Warden—Edwin Gillett, London.
Grand Guard—Robert McMurchy, Owen Sound.
Grand Chaplain—F. B. Lockwood, Toronto.
Grand Trustees—Mark B. Thomas, Dundas; S. R. Harris, Toronto; A. H. Welsh, Toronto.
Grand Medical Referee—Dr. A. Cameron, Owen Sound.
Grand Organist—Thos. Boddy, Owen Sound.
Grand Auditors—Wm. L. Young, Markham; G. E. R. Wilson, Colborne; Frederick Clark, Toronto.
D.D.G.M. No. 1 District—Jas. Davis, Toronto.
D.D.G.M. No. 2 District—C. H. Bamphylde, Hamilton.
D.D.G.M. No. 3 District—Thos. M. Hayton, Gravenhurst.
D.D.G.M. No. 4 District—Alfred Humphrey, London.
D.D.G.M. No. 5 District—Wm. McClelland, Owen Sound.
D.D.G.M. No. 6 District—Wm. Spencer, Hepworth.
D.D.G.M. No. 8 District—Parish Stauper, Mount Albert.
D.D.G.M. No. 9 District—Levi Larkin, St. Catharines.
D.D.G.M. No. 10 District—R. Tracey, M.D., Belleville.

District No. 7, in British Columbia, having only one lodge, does not require the supervision of a District Deputy.

The Grand Lodge will re-assemble at 9 o'clock this morning.

WINNIPEG'S EX-CHIEF FIREMAN.

Is Now in St. Paul and $600 of the Benevolent Fund Is Missing.

WINNIPEG, June 13.—At a meeting of Winnipeg District Methodists at Stonewall to-day the Jesuit Act was condemned by strongly worded resolutions.

McRobie, ex-chief of the Winnipeg Fire Brigade, has gone to St. Paul and the firemen's benevolent fund amounting to $600 is missing.

A sharper "did up" about a dozen merchants yesterday by passing worthless checks off on them.

Joseph Leblanche was killed at Hector in the Rockies while trying to board a train.

An Unnatural Father.

ORILLIA, June 14.—John Hughes of the Lake shore, was arrested Wednesday, charged with criminally assaulting his daughter, aged 16 years. About two weeks ago Hughes and the daughter were left alone, the other members of the family being away, when he left his bed and came to the girl's room. She had to fly from the house and did not return till June 6, when he again assaulted her but fortunately was interrupted by some members of the family coming home. Justices Armstrong and Quinn sent him to Barrie jail to stand his trial.

Charged With Embezzlement.

LONDON, Ont., June 14.—William E. Hooper, a clerk and traveler for John Saundrett, was arrested Wednesday night by Detective Rider on a charge of embezzlement. The information states that on May 13 he received from Thomas Hodgins $21.90 of Mr. Saundrett's money and made no return of it. Hooper is about 30 years of age and his parents live at Lucan.

WORN OUT HAND BRAKES.

THE ARMAGH DISASTER DUE TO OBSOLETE APPLIANCES.

How the Doomed Coaches Were Detached From the Train Not Yet Known—Complete List of the Identified Dead.

DUBLIN, June 13.—The dead at Armagh number 74, and many of the large number of injured are in a critical condition. This makes the disaster the greatest horror in point of loss of life—as it is also in pitifulness and terrible details—that has ever been known in the United Kingdom, rivalling the memorable Tay bridge calamity, in which also 74 persons went down to death.

The engineer of the regular train from Armagh saw the detached cars rushing down upon him in time to stop his engine, but, notwithstanding this, the force of the collision was terrible, as, at the moment they struck the locomotive, the wild coaches were flying at the rate of fifty miles an hour. A man who was riding on the highway close by saw the collision, and, without stopping to see more, dashed away to Armagh and returned with a company of soldiers from the barracks there. These came provided with stretchers, and, being the first on the ground to render assistance, did good work in extricating the living and the dead from the wreck.

The manner in which the doomed coaches came to be detached from the train in which they formed a part seems as yet to be unexplained. It is asserted that they were deliberately uncoupled by a train hand when it was found that the engine could not pull the entire train any further, and was done on a piece of road that was thought to be level. It is quite likely that the engineer on finding his engine unable to drag the heavy train up the steep grade, backed to a more level portion of the track, and there the rear cars were uncoupled and left to stand on what was supposed to be level ground. There must have been grade enough, however, to set the cars in motion, slowly at first, and when, with every foot of progress, the grade became steeper, a high rate of speed was soon developed.

However this may be, there is no doubt that the disaster is primarily due to obsolete appliances, the brakes being the old-fashioned hand brakes with worn links.

The 75th Victim.

DUBLIN, June 13.—One more victim of the Armagh railroad disaster has died, making 75 deaths in all.

LIST OF THOSE KILLED.

Several of the Victims, However, Are Not Yet Identified.

DUBLIN, June 13.—The following is a corrected list of the killed in the Armagh railway disaster:

Samuel M. Steele, C.P.S., Miss Rountree, W. R. McMullen, W. Walker, Bella Rountree, Mary Jinkinson, Margaret Cleveland, Robert and John Irwin, Ann Bill, Minnie Boyd, Jos. Johnston, Betsy Wilkin, Agnes Hall, Eliza Johnston, Margaret McClure, Catharine Murray, Jane Thompson, John Hughes, Charles Neill, Minnie Edwards, David Edwards, Samuel Cleland, Margaret Patterson, Margaret Steenson, Mary Conway, Joseph McCann, Mr. Mitchell, Mrs. Mitchell, and John Mitchell, their son; John Edgar, Sarah and Isabella Steel, A. W. Holland, Margaret Gibson, Mary Orr, Jane Orr, Minnie Murdoch, Henry Jenkinson and Mary Jenkinson his wife; Mrs. Joseph McCann, Mrs. Neill, Mary Anderson, Sarah Carroll, James Clelland, Robert Clelland, Wilhelmina Johnston, Mr. Reilly, Margaret McNeilly, Mr. Nayler, Helen Watt, Mary Johnson, W. Burke, Albert E. Robinson, Kathleen More, Eugene Simpson, Ernest Logre, Isabella Macfarland, Martha Macfarland, Eliza Sloane, Matilda Robinson, Sarah Scott Latimer, Agnes Parkes, W. Crozier, John Mallan, Thomas Henderson and others not yet identified.

A Benefit Fund Started.

DUBLIN, June 13.—Subscriptions for the benefit of the sufferers by the railway disaster near Armagh are being received.

Three Powerful Advisers.

LONDON, June 13.—Russia, Germany and Austria have sent an identical note to the Swiss Government advising it to deal more severely with Anarchists and Socialists.

Britain's Biggest Boat.

LONDON, June 13.—The steel torpedo depot ship Vulcan was launched at Portsmouth today. She is the largest vessel the Government has ever built. It is intended she shall accompany a fleet and carry a large equipment of torpedos. She will form a floating shop. She will be supplied with hydraulic cranes which torpedo boats can be hoisted in and out of the water. The Vulcan is of 6620 tons burden and 12,000 horse-power.

The Lord Provost Dislikes Parnell.

LONDON, June 13.—The Lord Provost of Edinburgh has refused to confer the freedom of the city upon Mr. Parnell. The senior magistrate present at the ceremony will therefore officiate.

Committed for Trial.

LONDON, June 13.—The hearing in the Maybrick case was concluded to-day. Mrs. Maybrick was committed for trial at the next assizes.

The Big Ditch.

PARIS, June 13.—The Government's Panama Canal Relief Bill was introduced in the Chamber of Deputies to-day. It empowers the liquidator of the company to place on the best conditions possible the 800,000 bonds not yet subscribed for. It also authorizes a subscription of 24,000,000 francs for the maintenance of the work pending inquiry into the question of completing the canal.

The Samoan Commission.

BERLIN, June 13.—It is judged that the Samoan commissioners have a large amount of work still before them. There is a material difference of opinion on various points between the three powers.

The Protocol Modified.

LONDON, June 13.—The Berlin correspondents of The Times, Daily News, Morning Post and Standard all agree that several modifications of the Samoan protocol suggested by the United States Government have been agreed to by the conference, but minor details which are still unsettled will necessitate another sitting of the conference, which will probably be held Saturday next.

A Semi-Official Denial.

BERLIN, June 13.—The Post denies that the German Government intends to withdraw its minister to Switzerland.

The Paris Cabmen's Strike.

PARIS, June 13.—This evening a few cabs appeared on the streets. They were stopped by the strikers, who tried to compel the drivers to join them. The police interfered and drove away the strikers.

Crete Quieting Down.

ATHENS, June 13.—Affairs in Crete are quieting down. The Greek Government is acting as peacemaker between the warring factions.

The Police Doubt It.

LONDON, June 13.—The police discredit the story of the throwing of a cartridge at Mr. Gladstone.

THE CRONIN TRAGEDY.

Governor Hill Refuses to Grant the Extradition of Moroney and McDonald.

CHICAGO, June 13.—The Grand Jury to-day continued its investigation of the Cronin murder. Mr. and Mrs. Conklin, the Carlsons and Pat Dinan were examined. The testimony strengthened the case against John J. Moroney, now under arrest in New York.

The signature of Thomas Desmond, the Irish Nationalist of San Francisco, in McCoy's Hotel register here was to-day compared with the handwriting in a letter signed "Frank Williams" written to the Carlsons from a point in Indiana in relation to the rent of the cottage in which Cronin was killed. The resemblance between them was found very marked. Chief of Police Hubbard admitted to-day that he had two men in Kansas City watching Michael Boland, the Recorder of Police of that city and former member of the notorious triangle.

"Are you going to arrest Boland?" the chief was asked.

"That will depend upon the action of the Grand Jury," replied the chief evasively. It is said that the State's Attorney expects an indictment against Boland and the officers are in Kansas City ready to take Boland when the indictment is returned.

The refusal of Governor Hill of New York to grant the application for the surrender of Moroney and McDonald to Illinois officers has created quite a sensation in official circles here, Governor Hill's chief reason for refusal being that the application was not accompanied by an indictment. The State's Attorney will to-morrow urge the grand jury to at once render a partial report finding an indictment against Moroney and McDonald.

Desmond's Alibi.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Thomas Desmond is here and claims to have lived here since May 21. He offered to surrender to the police here to-day but the officers had no authority to arrest him. Desmond claims that he and McDonald were in New York on the day of Cronin's murder. Thomas H. Walsh, a Government clerk and a well known Irish land leaguer, corroborates Desmond.

The Habeas Corpus Writs.

NEW YORK, June 13.—Argument is to be made in the Supreme Court to-morrow morning on writs of habeas corpus in behalf of Moroney and McDonald, arrested here in connection with the Cronin case.

These Signed the Report.

LONDON, June 13.—It is learned that the Clan-na-Gael members who signed the majority report in the Cronin case are James J. Rogers of Brooklyn, P. A. O'Boyle, Pittston, Pa., Christopher F. Byrnes, Saxonville, Mass., and John D. McMahon, Rome, N.Y.

FIRES OF A DAY.

Two Persons Fatally Burnt in a Squib Factory—Blazing Forests.

POTTSVILLE, June 13.—A squib factory at St. Clair was wrecked this noon by an explosion of several kegs of powder in the drying house. The building was burned and Maggie Mull, aged 19, perished in the flames. The manager, Harry Hayes, was fatally burned.

A $30,000 Fire at Theresa, N.Y.

WATERTOWN, N.Y., June 13.—At Theresa, this county, last night a fire destroyed A. P. Brittom & Co.'s chair factory, Pool & Coleman's sash and blind factory and Townsend's blacksmith shop. Loss, $30,000.

Forest Fires in Two States.

TWO HARBORS, Minn., June 13.—Forest fires raged yesterday along the Iron Range Railroad in every direction. Everything is as dry as tinder. The latest report from Ely says the most destructive fire of the season is raging there, and twelve to fifteen buildings have been destroyed and much damage done to railroad property.

SUPERIOR, Wis., June 13.—A terrible fire is sweeping the forests south and west of here, and unless the weather soon changes the loss will be enormous. Already over $500,000 worth of pine has been destroyed.

DULUTH, June 13.—Special despatches from Sandstone Junction, Moose Lake, Hinckley, Barnum and other places on the Eastern Minnesota and the St. Paul and Duluth Roads indicate that a bad fire is burning along the entire section. In the section are hundreds of camps and loggers' outfits. A number of camps have been burned. The loss amounts to $25,000. The loss on logs, hardwood, railway ties, poles and posts already amounts to $30,000 more.

Ambitious City Notes.

HAMILTON, June 13.—Mrs. Lemmon, who was injured in a runaway accident yesterday, is still unconscious. She is very low and her recovery is doubtful.

The new bell for the city hall tower arrived this morning. It weighs 4221 pounds, cost $979 at the foundry in Troy and $360 duty, and the pitch is C sharp.

On Dec. 8, 1888, Mrs. F. Mackelcan was fined $8 and $2.50 costs at the instance of Constable Cameron for driving through a funeral procession. The decision was appealed against and the appeal was to have been tried at the present court of general sessions, but it was not entered, and to-day the conviction was confirmed and the costs paid.

In the centre of the city last night, under the auspices of the Secret Society of Amalgamated Sports, there was an interesting fight between a coon and a small dog. The police arrived too late to see the fun.

In the County Court this morning R. Mackay was given a verdict of $300 against Joseph Walker of Toronto, being the amount of commissions for the sale of real estate in this city.

Drowned Himself.

PASPEBIAC, Que., June 14.—A drowning accident occurred near here yesterday morning. Mr. Philip Vibert of Gaspe, who has lately shown signs of insanity, was on board the steamship Admiral, going west in care of two friends. Unknown to the others he took the key of the state room door and watching a chance passed out, quickly closing the door behind him. He locked the two men in, rushed straight to the railing and threw himself over. He was seen running along the passage, but as that part of the deck was at the time deserted no one saw him go over. The alarm was given and the boat stopped. It was too late, however, and there was no trace of him to be seen. The deceased leaves a wife and child, also an aged mother.

E. Ontario Conservative Convention.

CANNINGTON, June 13.—At the Conservative convention here to-day to select a candidate to contest the riding with Mr. I. J. Gould, the Reform candidate for the Legislative Assembly, the nomination was unanimously tendered to Mr. J. A. McGillivray of Uxbridge. Mr. McGillivray addressed the convention on the political issues of the day, and in conclusion regretted his inability to accept the honors. Out of the numerous candidates presented all withdrew except Mr. W. H. Hoyle of Cannington and Mr. James Glendenning of Brock. A ballot resulted in favor of Mr. Glendenning and on motion of Mr. Hoyle the nomination was made unanimous.

Got Beyond His Depth.

LONDON, Ont., June 14.—Yesterday afternoon while Michael Driscoll, yardman in the employ of the Grand Trunk, and a brakeman named Kinsella were bathing in the river, near Woodland Cemetery, the former got beyond his depth and was drowned. The body was recovered early in the evening.

Two Hamilton Weddings.

HAMILTON, June 13.—Ernest Alexander, the well-known tailor, was married last evening to Miss Jessie Edgar, youngest daughter of Wm. Edgar.

The wedding of Wm. W. Fraser and Miss Minnie, daughter of George B. Thompson, took place at the residence of the bride's father last night, Rev. W. J. Day officiating.

A Miraculous Escape.

QUEBEC, June 13.—A 2½-year-old child of Mr. F. A. Quinn, advocate, formerly of Montreal, but now residing at Levis during the summer, fell over the cliff yesterday, a height of 75 feet, but fortunately escaped without any injury except a few scratches.

THE TORONTO BUDGET.

THREE CHURCH GATHERINGS IN THE QUEEN CITY.

December Weds November—A Missing Jeweler Turns Up—A Constable Who Was Too Handy With His "Gun."

TORONTO, June 14.—Business was the predominant feature of the first day's sederunts of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. The attendance of ministerial and lay commissioners was large. Devotion and routine took up the morning's work, despatch of preliminary business the afternoon's, glowing accounts of home mission work and fraternal greetings to Anglicans and Methodists the evening's total. That interminable Jesuit question of course came to the fore in the way of "overtures" and "references" from synods and presbyteries. The thorny subject was, however, postponed till this morning, and instead of dealing with a subject which had already been threshed out at the Citizens' Committee Convention, the commissioners betook themselves across the way to the tasteful rooms and beautiful grounds of Government House, where music and floral charms, to say nothing of choice refreshments, made glad a couple of hours on a hot June afternoon. Ministers of the Crown, representatives of bench and bar, church and state, and the elite of Toronto's citizens joined their Presbyterian brethren and welcomed them to the Queen City. So officially and most felicitously did the Lieutenant-Governor and his charming daughter, Miss Marjorie Campbell.

The Toronto Conference of the Methodist Church opened its sixth annual session in the Broadway Tabernacle at College-street and Spadina-avenue, yesterday. There were two ballots for president, and on the second Rev. Hugh Johnston was elected, getting 197 votes to Rev. Dr. Stone's 88. General Superintendent Carman delivered a ringing address, dealing chiefly with the Jesuit question. Rev. T. W. Jeffery's character, among others, unanimously passed the conference amid hearty applause.

At the third day's session of the Anglican Synod delegates were elected to the Provincial Synod and an Executive Committee elected. This is the jubilee year of the diocese of Toronto, the first Bishop having been consecrated in 1839. A special collection is to be taken up in connection with the commemoration services in October, the funds to be applied towards the building of St. Alban's Cathedral. The afternoon was mainly occupied with various statistical reports.

Yesterday's session of the W. C. T. U. was devoted to the "Y's." Papers on "Kitchen Gardens," "Cooking Schools," "Flower Missions," "Temperance" and "Juvenile Work" were read. Addresses were delivered by Dr. Wild, Wm. Gooderham and Acting Mayor McMillan of Toronto, and Rev. D. McKay of Woodstock. The latter expressed himself as proud of having 203 members in his church, not one of whom would think of voting against prohibition.

Yesterday Mr. Richard Score, sr., the King-street tailor, an old citizen of Toronto, was married to the widow of the late C. C. Walker. The bride is 67 and the groom 82, yet they set out for New York to spend the honeymoon like young birds. The bride is the eldest sister of Mr. William Gooderham and has a handsome income.

Up to last midnight the friends of William Sloan, a jeweler of Milton, were anxious as to his whereabouts. He left for Toronto on June 5 with a large sum of money to meet liabilities in the city. On June 6 he was around among the city jewelers and had a lot of goods shipped to Milton. The last trace of him up to the hour named was in the Esplanade at 6.30 on last Saturday morning. His friends feared foul play but the police found him in the Little York Hotel in a comatose condition, almost penniless and with the appearance of having had a very good time.

William H. Dickson, a G.T.R. yard constable, is a prisoner in St. Alban's Ward station charged with shooting with intent to kill Brakeman John McLachlan of the C.P.R. Dickson boarded a C. P. R. train from the west yesterday morning at Parkdale as it was being shunted down to the Union Station. In accordance with orders Conductor Hamilton told him to leave the train. Refusing, the conductor attempted to eject him forcibly and McLachlan, coming to his assistance, received a shot in the left shoulder, which may result in his death. Dickson was overpowered after a brief struggle and handed over to the police. He has been very handy with his revolver ever since he has been in the employ of the G.T.R. On more than one occasion he has shot at newsboys, and once at the Union Station hackmen had to overpower him and take his revolver away when he was flourishing it and threatening to shoot a bootblack whom he fancied was jeering him.

The Master-in-Ordinary at Osgoode Hall yesterday fixed the amount of remuneration of Archibald Campbell, as interim liquidator of the Central Bank, at $2250. He will also draw his share of percentage on collections made by Messrs. Howland and Gooderham and himself, while he was liquidator.

At the Ancient Capital.

QUEBEC, June 14.—Mr. C. Fitzpatrick, Crown Prosecutor, and Sergeant Harper have gone to Portland for the extradition of the two Poulins who broke jail at Beauce some time ago.

A family of six persons named Deschamps of this city were all poisoned Wednesday morning shortly after breakfast by drinking some cream in their coffee which was skimmed off milk that contained turpentine. The latter leaked out of a paint pot directly over a bowl of milk during the night. Dr. Falardeau was immediately sent for and on arrival administered an emetic. The family are doing well.

Divers were all yesterday endeavoring to recover the body of Miss Wheeler who went down on the tug L. N. G. Wednesday afternoon but so far without success.

10,000 KILLED.

Terrible Fire in China—People Roasted and Trampled to Death.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 13.—The Shanghai Courier of May 20 says that Luchow, a city of some importance in Upper [illegible], had been nearly destroyed by fire a month previous. Seven of the eight gates of the city are said to have been destroyed, and the loss of life, including those burned and trampled to death, is estimated at 10,000.

The Stone Bridge Debris Fired.

JOHNSTOWN, June 13.—The people are making heroic efforts to clean up [illegible]. Two hundred merchants [illegible] to-day and were assured they would be established in business on long credits by [illegible] and Philadelphia wholesalers. It was [illegible] to make every effort [illegible]. The American Relief Association, which aims to assist the communities in distress in calamity of any nature, was formed here a few days ago by prominent Pennsylvania [illegible] gentlemen. Adjutant-General Axline of Ohio was elected president. Nineteen bodies were recovered to-day. The mass at the stone bridge was fired this afternoon and is now burning fiercely. With it is [illegible] hope of discovering the bodies [illegible] there entombed.

Dress the Hair

With Ayer's Hair Vigor. Its cleanliness, beneficial effects on the scalp, and lasting perfume commend it for universal toilet use. It keeps the hair soft and silken, preserves its color, prevents it from falling, and, if the hair has become weak or thin, promotes a new growth.

"To restore the original color of my hair, which had turned prematurely gray, I used Ayer's Hair Vigor with entire success. I cheerfully testify to the

of this preparation."—Mrs. P. H. Davidson, Alexandria, La.

"I was afflicted some three years with scalp disease. My hair was falling out and what remained turned gray. I was induced to try Ayer's Hair Vigor, and in a few weeks the disease in my scalp disappeared and my hair resumed its original color."—(Rev.) S. S. Sims, Pastor U. B. Church, St. Bernice, Ind.

"A few years ago I suffered the entire loss of my hair from the effects of tetter. I hoped that after a time nature would repair the loss, but I waited in vain. Many remedies were suggested, none, however, with such proof of merit as Ayer's Hair Vigor, and I began to use it. The result was all I could have desired. A growth of hair soon came out all over my head, and grew to be as soft and heavy as I ever had, and of a natural color, and firmly set."—J. H. Pratt, Spofford, Texas.

THE SCHOOL BOOK MONOPOLY.

In reference to the arbitration regarding the retail prices of some of the books used in the schools of the Province the Empire says:—The Hon. G. W. Ross has a well-earned reputation throughout the province for trickiness, but of all his feats in that line his latest is perhaps the most astounding, and when the particulars are known the public will enjoy a good laugh that an astute politician like the Minister of Education should imagine they are going to be deceived by such a broad farce. As is well known, the agreement under which the school text books are being published contains a clause to the effect that an arbitration can be had to determine on a revision of prices, so Mr. Ross conceived some months ago the bold idea of getting rid of embarrassing questions as to the school book monopolies and silencing his critics by having such an arbitration. Had the favored firms in the school book ring any idea that a genuine attempt was going to be made to reduce their prices by an arbitration of this kind they would doubtless have "kicked" at it and found means for starving it off. But the job the Minister of Education was going to put up on an unsuspecting public was evidently well understood by them from the first, and therefore no objection was made to going on with the arbitration.

Just imagine the Hon. G. W. Ross approaching the publishers, as he doubtless did, telling them they need not be at all alarmed at the result of the arbitration, as he would be the representative of the public, clamoring for a reduction of prices, and they might know what to expect!

As everybody knows there are two parties to the school book controversy—the favored publishers and the Minister of Education on the one hand, anxious to show that the present prices cannot be reduced, and the long-suffering public on the other side desiring to be relieved of the intolerable exactions of the school book ring. The publishers interested in keeping up the prices appointed one of the arbitrators and had their lawyers there to argue the case for them, but how have the public been represented? By the Hon. G. W. Ross, the man who above all others was interested in making out that the present prices were not too high, whose whole political reputation depended upon his success in this effort! In fact, the confederates on one side put up a job on their opponents, turned them out of court, locked the doors, and went on with the trial, expecting that those who were thus excluded from any part in the proceedings would quietly acquiesce in the verdict to be rendered! When matters of importance to the general public are being considered by committees of the House public notice is given in order that those who have anything to urge may have their views heard, but where were the public notices of the sittings of this arbitration, of ten times as much importance to the people of the province as toll roads or kindred subjects? The appointment of arbitrators was quietly made, their meetings were held without public notice and in private, no reporters were present, and even, as we understand, the evidence of witnesses was under the seal of secrecy. The publishers and the Minister of Education, both interested in keeping up the prices, had their witnesses before the arbitration. While able counsel, retained by the publishers, endeavored to bring out from the witnesses evidence to maintain the prices charged by their clients, counsel retained by the Minister of Education, supposed to represent the public, was, in reality, interested on the same side, and, it may be taken for granted, did not ask any questions very embarrassing to the publishers.

And so the farce went on. It was not to be expected that an arbitration so carefully planned and conducted in this way would recommend any reduction in prices, and the report, which is now made public, is therefore no disappointment to those who had heard rumors that these extraordinary proceedings were going on. But Mr. Ross and the publishers, in their anxiety to silence criticism on the price of school books have overreached themselves, for they have actually got a report certifying that they are patriotically PUBLISHING SCHOOL BOOKS WITHOUT A PROFIT! Three cheers for the Minister and the patriotic publishers! The least a grateful public can do is to get up a testimonial for their generosity.

Seriously, if Mr. Ross thinks the public of Ontario are going to be deluded by the farce he has been enacting he must imagine that the province is peopled by idiots.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

It pays to advertise in the REVIEW.

SHOWER AND FLOWER.

Down the little drops patter,
Making a musical clatter,
Out of the clouds they throng;
Freshness of heaven they scatter
Little dark rootlets among.
"Coming to visit you, Posies!
Open your hearts to us, Roses!"
That is the Raindrop's song.

Up the little seed rises;
Buds of all colors and sizes
Clamber up out of the ground.
Gently the blue sky surprises
The earth with that soft rushing sound.
"Welcome!"—the brown bees are humming.
"Come! for we wait for your coming!"
Whisper the wild flowers around.

"Shower, it is pleasant to hear you!"
"Flower, it is sweet to be near you!"
This is the song everywhere.
Listen! the music will cheer you!
Raindrop and blossom so fair,
Gladly are meeting together,
Out in the beautiful weather—
Oh, the sweet song in the air!

GENERAL QUARTERS.

An Exciting Naval Evolution in the Pacific at Midnight.

"It was midnight on the Pacific," said J. M. Wood, an Uncle Sam tar at the navy yard, in speaking of the Juniata's cruise around the world. "The captain was dreaming lazily in his cabin, and had he been visible the fact of his being fully dressed at this late hour in extremely fine weather would have charged the mind of the wary tar with the strong suspicion that 'something was in the wind,' and the sagacious powder monkeys would have been found in close proximity to the magazine; but Jack was in entire ignorance.

"High overhead the round faced moon smiled sweetly down upon the war junk of Uncle Sam. The weary sails flapped idly in the dying wind, and the waters slept as calmly as a babe upon its mother's bosom. On deck the slumbering watch were in the land of dreams. No sound broke the oppressive silence except the measured tread of the quartermaster, who paced the deck in silent reverie. The youthful officer of the deck leaned wearily against the horse block, wishing for a pillar of fire, or the fountain of perpetual youth, that he might live long enough to fly the coveted couplet of stars—the admiral's pennant—at the 'mizzen. The two grizzled guardians of the wheel whispered now and then together, and closely scanned the circular pathway of the trembling needle.

"Suddenly the spruce orderly at the cabin door crept in upon the sleeping commander, and, touching him lightly upon the shoulder, withdrew. Instantly he appeared upon the quarter deck and the executive officer, who had dropped down apparently from the clouds, was at his side, engaged in a whispered consultation. And now another personage, in the shape of the ship's bugler, appeared, and sounded the sharp, ringing notes of the call to general quarters.

"And what a commotion it caused! The entire crew seemed to have received a violent electric shock. The deck swarmed with eager men in all stages of undress, whose only thought was to reach the iron throated monsters and have the honor of firing the first shot. Officers flitted here and there, giving orders in quiet tones to the crews of their respective guns, while the men toiled like demons at the tackles.

"Hark! No. 3 gun jumps suddenly backward, spitting forth a huge mouthful of fire and smoke. The crew of that particular gun in a delirium of joy embrace each other, while the powder man might be seen affectionately patting the tapering waist of the glistening beauty.

"In five fleeting moments the Juniata had been prepared for battle, and, my land lubber friend, you have missed a lesson in activity and discipline such as you had never dreamed of. The order to secure is given, and in fifteen minutes the watch below is again sleeping in their 'dreaming sacks,' and in their fancy see an enormous homeward bound pennant at the main, with the New York girls at the other end of the towline."—New York Telegram.

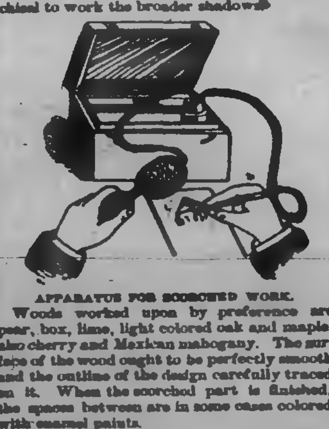
Poker or Scorched Work.

Poker work, a comparatively new departure in decorative art, is one of the easiest and most effective methods of ornamenting the surface of woods.

Amateurs use it chiefly as a ready means to decorate picture frames. An etching of the "Angelus," framed in chestnut, with a bell and bell rope done in black with the hot iron on one corner of the frame, illustrates this use. Professional interior decorators have applied it very successfully on panels, friezes and chimney pieces of libraries, halls and dining rooms.

A recent invention which has brought this art to great perfection is a handy apparatus devised by Dr. Paquelin, of Paris, and shown in the accompanying cut.

This consists of a glass vessel containing pure benzine, in the stopper of which two india rubber tubes are fixed, the one held with the left hand acting as a bellows or wind bag, to drive the benzine vapor through the second tube, to which a perforated metal mouthpiece screwed into a wooden handle is attached. Inside the point is a small piece of spongy platinum which, when once heated, keeps red hot under the influence of the benzine vapor, and communicates the heat to the point. To commence work the point is first heated over a flame of spirit of wine, and then the wind bag is plied with the left hand, or with the foot if connected with a treadle. The point will, after a few seconds, become red hot, and is then, like a pencil, applied to the surface of the wood or leather, to scorch any design which has been traced on it. According to the pressure with which the point is carried over the surface and the red or white heat imparted to it, the scorched lines appear more or less brown, and the whole design has the appearance of a sepia drawing when finished. Care must be taken to keep the bottle only half full with benzine, and the points on the same temperature for the same class of work. One of the mouthpieces is pointed for scorching in dots and fine lines, the other formed like a flat chisel to work the broader shadows.



APPARATUS FOR SCORCHED WORK.

Woods worked upon by preference are pear, box, lime, light colored oak and maple, also cherry and Mexican mahogany. The surface of the wood ought to be perfectly smooth and the outline of the design carefully traced on it. When the scorched part is finished, the spaces between are in some cases colored with enamel paints.

The range of scorched work for decorative purposes is practically unlimited. Those who become skilled in it do ideal and portrait plaques, which are framed in velvet, bringing out beautifully the flat tones of the burning. Other things attempted are decorated bread plates, card trays, fan sticks, jewel caskets, table tops and panels. Poker work is very effective on chairs of antique shape.

The Governor Sustained.

HARTFORD, Conn., June 13.—The Senate to-day sustained the Governor's veto of the secret ballot bill. The Lieut.-Governor yesterday ruled against overriding a vetoed bill. This is sustained on all sides as required by the constitution. The House amended the secret ballot bill after the Governor vetoed it.

Black Monday.

It is to be noted that on the 14th of April, the day after Easter in 1360, King Edward III lay with his army before the city of Paris, which day was full dark of mist and hail, and so bitter cold that many men died on their horsebacks with the cold, wherefore unto this day it has been called the "Black Monday."—[illegible] Times.

LAKEFIELD LOCALS.

A Regular Business Meeting of the Village Fathers.

Correspondence of the Review.

A REGULAR monthly meeting of the Village Council was held on Monday evening. Present, Reeve Casement, Councillors Nelson, Moore and Henderson. Communications were read from R. Fair, Peterborough, offering safe for sale; price $160.—Not accepted. From J.D. Ronald, Brussels, drawing comparison between the steam fire engines manufactured by the Waterous Co. and himself.—Received. From Mr. H. Strickland, asking that the Bell Electric Light Co. be allowed to place poles for their system of lighting on Queen-st.—Granted. Circular from Jacob Erratt, Mayor of Ottawa, dealing with the question of exemptions, and asking the Council to assist in securing necessary legislation.—Received. From the Finance Committee of the Lakefield School Board asking the Council to place to the credit of the Board the sum of $675 for current expenditure.—Granted. From Messrs Dumble & Leonard, Peterborough, stating that the Council were liable for rent of Council building up to time of purchase.—Ordered to be paid. From Secretary Lakefield Fire Brigade, resolutions passed at the last meeting of the Brigade.—Received. A report of the Finance Committee recommending payment of a number of accounts was adopted. A by-law to amend No. 31, and prohibit the running at large of cattle during certain hours, received its first two readings, Councillor Moore voting nay on the first reading. On motion of Councillor Moore, seconded by Councillor Nelson, the third reading of the by-law was laid over until the next meeting. Councillor Henderson, Chairman of the Fire Committee, presented the following report:—"Your Committee on building fire engine stands would suggest the planking of stands sufficient for the engine to stand on." The report was adopted. The General Committee reported recommending that no action be taken on Mr. Harper's application for charity for R Parker, and that sufficient ground be granted the Weigh Scales Co., at the south east corner of the village plot, said scales to be put down under the direction of the R. & B. Committee, and that the Weigh Scales Co. pay as rent for same the sum of five dollars per annum. The report was adopted. The sum of $6 was given to J. O'Neil as charity, and an order was drawn for $34 40 for rent of the Town Hall up to the date of purchase. A by-law to borrow money to meet the current expenditure of the village, received its several readings, passed, and was sealed and signed by the Reeve and Clerk. The Council then adjourned.

'A Spring Message'
From the New Firm of
H. LeBRUN & CO.
Sign of the Golden Horse-shoe.

The people of Peterborough and vicinity are all aware of the business change which took place in the CITY CLOTHING STORE on the first day of February last. The new firm beg leave to make their first bow to the public through the columns of the REVIEW, and to request a careful perusal of the following Spring and Summer circular:—

The City Clothing Store

in past years, by long experience in business, by buying always for spot cash, importing direct from the principal houses of the old country and from the leading houses of Canada, and by strict economy in conducting its business, has always been able to force prices down to an exceedingly fine point. The members of which the new firm is composed will form a still stronger "combine," by which the CITY CLOTHING STORE will be even better prepared to procure for its customers a continuation of those superior inducements in the future for which it has been noted in the past.

Men's Clothing.

The magnitude of our stock and lowness of prices gives us a great advantage over all other competitors in the trade. We carry in stock all the fast selling lines, styles and patterns, and can fit the tall, the short, the fat and the lean. MORE SUITS, BETTER FABRICS, FINER STYLES than were ever handled before.

Special values in FINE SPRING OVERCOATS, and Fine SPRING and SUMMER SUITS. Don't fail to see them. The superb styles, workmanship, and the beautiful fabrics and patterns that we offer will surprise you.

Merchant Tailoring.

"For the apparel oft proclaims the man."

Fine dressers in search of new, neat and nobby OVERCOATINGS, SUITINGS or TROUSERINGS will find this department crowded to overflowing with cloth from all countries. To select from the largest assortment is an advantage we offer to our customers, backed up by the skill of experienced cutters and tailors. Besides perfect fit and first-class trimmings, we guarantee absolutely first-class workmanship.

Boys' and Youths' Clothing.

Clothing for the little ones—boys and children—has always been a specialty with us. We have always sought to give great values in this department, and to provide a larger and finer variety of goods for parents to select from than they could find elsewhere.

This means that we are showing a large assortment of BOYS' and CHILDREN'S SUITS, BOYS' and CHILDREN'S BLOUSES, SHIRT WAISTS, PANTS, &c.

This spring there are an unusual number of new and nobby styles and an enlarged variety of fabrics and patterns. Be sure and see our stock.

Gents' Furnishings.

Gentlemen of Peterborough seeking the latest styles and best values for their money, as well as an opportunity of selecting from the largest stock of Furnishing Goods, should not fail to visit this department at once. We offer the finest, best selected and the largest assortment of NECKWEAR, HOSIERY, UNDERWEAR, GLOVES, SHIRTS, HANDKERCHIEFS, etc., to be found in any first-class establishment.

Going to Camp.

The Cavalry Troop and the Durham Field Battery go to Gananoque next Tuesday to go into camp. The officers of the troop are Col. H. C. Rogers, Major Stapleton, Quartermaster, Lieut. Kent and Lieut. Strickland. Mr. James Stewart goes as Quartermaster Sergeant. Mr. Stewart has not taken an active part in militia affairs lately, but is an old officer, having received his commission as Ensign of the North Douro or Lakefield company from Lord Monck in 1862. Lieut. Snyder is in command of this division of the Battery.

Algoma Mission.

Mr. Geo. Ruskin, of the Algoma and North West Gospel and Colportage Mission, directed to laborers in that district, is in Peterborough in the further interests of the work. There has been supplied in the district during the past year 1,000 scriptures and scriptural books in 14 languages, large quantities of religious tracts, &c., have been distributed and many religious services conducted in camps and school houses. Scriptural primers have been and are being published in several languages and other work of the kind is in progress. To meet the various costs of the work the missionary appeals for renewed help, thanking the friends for $21.55 received last year.

DOURO'S DAY.

The R. C. Church Picnic a Great Success—Prize Winners.

Fine weather favored the picnic of the R. C. church in Douro yesterday, and therefore as was expected the day was a great success. A large number drove out from here and are all, without exception, loud in their expressions of praise at the arrangements which had been made for the entertainment of visitors. Rev. Father Kielty is the person to whom a great deal of the success of the gathering was attributable and to him all credit is due for his untiring energy in completing the arrangements and for his exertions to see that everything went off successfully and pleasantly. There were quite a number of the clergy of the district on the grounds, among whom were Rev. Fathers Rudkins, Cotey and Lynch, of town, Rev. Father Murray, of Cobourg, and Rev. Father Conway, of Norwood. The grove is a beautiful spot and when the happy crowd were enjoying themselves, some on the dancing platform, others at the sport, the grounds presented a lively appearance. The Peterborough orchestra supplied the music for the dancers. The programme of sports was carried out by Dr. Brennan and Messrs. R. H. Fortye, F. Potvin, J. Phelan and Allen, and the different events were won as follows:—

RUNNING HOP, STEP AND JUMP.—1st M. Collins; 2nd P. J. Maloney; 3rd A. Moore.

Peterborough Boys to the Fore.

Among those who have been awarded the degree of Master of Arts at the late convocation of Toronto University was Mr William Sanderson, formerly of Smith township, and a former student at the Peterborough Collegiate Institute, now mathematical master of the Ottawa Collegiate Institute.

Mr. A. F. Chamberlain, another old Peterborough boy, and now Fellow in German of Toronto University, received the same degree.

An Unfortunate Girl.

Mary Houston, the unfortunate girl who some time ago was before the magistrate charged with being insane but was allowed to go, her mother promising to be responsible for her actions, was again at the Police Court this morning on a similar charge. It appears that at times the poor girl is quite insane and annoys the neighbors and has even struck several of them, and the complaints have been so numerous that it was considered necessary to place the girl in custody This morning she was committed to gaol as a lunatic, dangerous to be at large.

That Breach of Promise Case.

The breach of promise case of Reynolds vs. Jamieson, tried at the last assizes here, in which Mrs. Reynolds, a widow, sued Mr. Jamieson, and aged man recently married, for $20,000 for breach of promise of marriage, is not ended yet. The case was not given to the jury, as Justice MacMahon, who presided, entered an non-suit on the ground that the plaintiff had exonerated the defendant from his promise. At Toronto yesterday Mr. E.B. Edwards moved before Boyd, C., and Ferguson and Robertson, JJ., to set aside the non-suit. Judgment was reserved.

Cattle Running at Large.

There were two citizens before the Magistrate this morning charged with allowing their cattle to run at large, but neither of them were fined. James Martin, it was alleged, had allowed a cow and two calves to wander at large, but he stated that the cattle, when seen, were on their way from pasture to be milked. The Magistrate gave Mr. Martin the benefit of the doubt and dismissed the case. John Carlisle, it was said, had allowed his horse to feed on the public highway, but he also stated that the animal was in charge of his son and his case was also dismissed.

Five Days Yet.

Five days to decide if your decision is not already made. Five days to make your preparations. Now to it, and why? Tuesday next is the day of the Masonic excursion to Chemong Lake, Jacob's Island and Bobcaygeon. What are the attractions? That is easily answered. Easy because there are so many good things to absorb. Short but rapid ride on the G. T. R. new line to Chemong Lake. Pleasant sail over the waters of Chemong and Pigeon Lakes to Jacob's Island and Bobcaygeon. Enjoyable time at the island than which there is no prettier spot on the back lake waters. Music on the palace barge Paloma to make the sail additionally pleasant. Refreshment counter where you can procure provender if you happen to have gone without. Taken in all and for all, and all for adults 75 cents, and children 40 cents for the round trip. There is no mortal reason that you should not be one, or more of the party. Tickets are now in the hands of members of the committee who will be glad to dispose of them. Tickets can also be had at the bookstores and at the station. Names of committee will be found on the large bills. d139

COUNTY COURT.

Jackson vs. R. E. I. Company—Brown vs. Rose.

Yesterday afternoon one case occupied the attention of the County Court, and this morning the last jury case was called, and with the exception of the twelve on this case the jurors were discharged.

JACKSON VS. R. E. I. CO.—This case was called when the Court resumed at 2.30. It was an action brought by Jackson & Co., organ and piano dealers, against the Toronto Real Estate Investment Co. for $250 damages for improper distraining. Jackson & Co., corner of Simcoe and Aylmer-sts., are tenants of the Toronto R. E. I. Co., and rented the premises for $150 a year through Mr. Hurley on behalf of the company. Some repairs were required in order to make the premises suitable for the accommodation of the piano company and Mr. Jackson went to Mr. Geo. A. Cox, president, in reference to having these repairs made, but Mr. Cox said that that was the first time that he knew that the rent was $150 instead of $250, which was the rental he had instructed Mr. Hurley to charge. After different conversations, it was alleged by the plaintiff that Mr. Cox said he could not make the repairs asked on such a small rental, but if the piano company would pay $200 for the second year he would make the repairs. This the company agreed to, but when the first quarter of the second year was up, Mr. A. Cox, secretary for the R. E. I. Co., presented a bill for $62.50 as the quarter's rent, alleging that the second year's rent was to be $250, Mr. Jackson refused to pay the $62.50, but tendered Mr. Cox $50, saying he had never heard $250 mentioned as the rent for the second year. The $50 was refused by Mr. Cox, and a bailiff was sent to destrain and an organ was removed and sold for rent. The action was then brought by the plaintiff for damages for trespass for making a seizure after the rent had been tendered. The jury found that the agreement was in fact for $200 rental, and they fixed damages at $200. John Burnham for the plaintiff; Hawers & Stone for the defendant.

BROWN VS. ROSE.—This was the first case called, this morning and was the last on the list of jury cases. It was an action for damages for alleged malicious prosecution brought by Thexton Brown, of Dummer, against David Rose, of the same township. It appears that Brown gave Rose a bill of sale for certain goods, and Rose left the said goods in Brown's possession. The bailiff of Norwood came afterwards and seized a horse and Brown sold one cow, whereupon Rose issued a warrant and had Brown arrested for disposing of his (Rose's) goods with intention to defraud him. Brown was tried and discharged and then brought this action against Rose for imprisonment. The case did not go to the jury, His Honor holding that although Brown was not guilty of the alleged fraud yet Rose had reasonable grounds for thinking he was when he laid the charge, and he therefore entered judgement for the defendant, reserving leave to the latter to move against the verdict. W. H. Moore for the plaintiff; R. E. Wood for the defendant.

This afternoon the non-jury case of Kemp vs. Kemp is being heard.

Summer Tours.

A handsome little book has just been issued by the C.P.R., entitled "Summer Tours," for a copy of which we are indebted to Mr. W. R. Callaway, District Passenger Agent, Toronto. The book contains a good deal of valuable information, and any one going on a tour should get a copy. Copies can be had, free, from any of the agents of the Co., or by sending a 2c stamp to Mr. Callaway.

Dominion Day Picnic.

On July 1st a picnic will be held on the grounds of St. Joseph's Hospital, Ashburnham, under the auspices of the congregation of St. Peter's Cathedral. At 10.30 o'clock in the forenoon there will be a baseball match between nines from the Lock Works and the Wm. Hamilton Co.'s shops for a silver cup. After the match there will be a tug of war between married and single men. A dancing platform will be erected on the grounds and Prof. Doucet's orchestra will furnish music, and a good programme of sports and games will be carried out. Dinner will be served on the grounds. The arrangements are in the hands of a capable committee and there is no doubt but the picnic will be a success.

To CLEAR the throat and invigorate the system try a 5lb. cady of Tea from M. R. KIDD.

Y.M.C.A.

The Ladies Auxiliary met yesterday afternoon. There was a large attendance. Mrs H. S. Griffin presided. The following ladies were appointed a committee of management:—Mrs. Dr. Goldsmith, Miss Sanderson, Mesdames Dr. Bell, J. R. Stratton, G.A. Smith, J.C. Turnbull, J.C. Brown, Mowr and Miss Grundy. Committees were appointed and arrangements made for a garden party to take place at Mrs. Dixon's, Smithtown Hill, on Friday evening, 21st inst. Every effort will be made to make it a great success, especially socially. The public will, no doubt, do all in their power to assist the ladies in their good work. The proceeds will be in aid of the furnishing fund of the association. The Y.M.C.A. band will furnish music.

Last night one of the most important and profitable meetings ever held by the association took place. After devotional exercises Mr. G. M. Roger laid before the members the Association's position and the great need of consecrated effort on the part of all to do work for Christ among young men. Mr. J. W. Bennet, chairman of the Finance Committee, gave the financial statement. Mr. Theron Gibson, Treasurer of the Toronto Association, being present, gave a very practical address and also answered very satisfactorily many questions plied him on this important problem and gave many valuable pointers, which we are sure will be adopted and our finances put on a sound basis. A thorough canvass will now be made of the town and if the people could come and see the good work which is now being and will in the future be done we are satisfied they will respond liberally to this work in which every home is interested. Mr. George Fuller, London, Eng., gave an excellent address on personal effort in Christian work, which cannot fail to bring forth fruit. Mr. Fuller is a good speaker and has had a wide experience in Christian work. He will address the Saturday and Sunday night meetings. Messrs. Richardson, Chairman of Devotional Committee, Thomas Tebb, Reception Committee, and Robert Hunter, Invitation Committee, gave short addresses on the work. The prospects were never brighter for the Association and we are determined to go forth with more determination than ever to live among our fellows our motto "Christ for young men and young men for Christ."—Com.

The benefits of vacation season may be greatly enhanced if at the same time the blood is being cleansed and vitalized by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. A good appetite, fresh vigor and buoyant spirits attend the use of this wonderful medicine.

CONTESTING 'CYCLISTS.

The First Meet of the Wheelmen a Success—Sporting Scraps.

The bicycle club held the first of their fortnightly meets at the P.A.A.A. grounds last evening. The attendance was very fair, and now that the first of these meets, which it is the club's intention to hold every two weeks during the season, has been successfully carried out, an interest in the races will be awakened and the attendance in the future will probably be much larger, as it should be. The winners of the events last evening are not possessors of the medals which are offered, as these trophies will have to be won three times before they become the property of any rider. The Y. M. C. A. band was in attendance, and the music they discoursed during the evening was excellent. One notable and pleasing feature was the large turnout of ladies, there being a good representation of the fair sex seated in the grand stand. Mr. R. B. Rogers was starter, manager, etc., of the races, and he very properly allowed no waits between the events.

THE EVENTS AND WINNERS.

The first race on the programme was the one mile green, in which there were three starters, W. Morgan, J. Dolan and J. McGill. The last of the trio got a bad start, and in consequence was not able to push the other two 'cyclists, who, however, had a close struggle for first place, but Morgan finished first, with Dolan a good second and McGill third.

The next event was the one mile race open to all members. In this there were also three entries, Alex. Gibson, Fred. Might and F. Matthews. The last dropped out early in the race, but Gibson and Might made a pretty race for first place, but the former proved himself a little the faster and crossed the line a couple of wheel's lengths ahead of Might.

The hundred yard dash was next called, but the sprinters were not very numerous. Dickson Davidson and J. Connal were the only two starters and the former was an easy winner.

The two mile race was the next on the list and was a pretty exhibition. Alex. Gibson, Fred Might and F. Matthews were the three contestants, but Matthews was again compelled to drop out, and leave Gibson and Might to fight it out. The two men kept wheel and wheel almost the entire ten laps, but just on the home stretch on the last lap. Gibson put on a spurt and won the race by ten or fifteen yards.

The next and last event was the two mile handicap in which there were seven entries. W. Morgan was the only scratch man, J. Dolan, J. McGill, W. J. Doxie, W. H. Meredith and C. H. Allison being strung out around the track at different distances. Before a mile and a half had been ridden there were only two 'cyclists left on the track, Morgan and McGill. The former rode a hard race and passed all his competitors except McGill who maintained his lead to the finish, although he was hard pressed by Morgan.

This ended the programme and headed by the band the wheelmen road over to their club rooms on Water-st. It is expected that next week's meet will excel the first in every respect.

Lacrosse.

A large meeting of the Riverside Lacrosse Club was held at the Phelan House last evening when the matter of Joe. Phelan's resignation as secretary was considered, but after considerable discussion and good reasons being advanced why he should continue in his office Mr. Phelan consented to withdraw his resignation. The matter of better practice was also discussed and the members all promised to take more interest in the club and give more time to practice. In order to do this a good scheme was decided on. Joe. Begley and Jerry Packenham are each to choose a team from the members of the club and these two teams will play weekly practice matches. This is exactly what is wanted, for if the boys went into the game with the proper vigor and spirit there is not the slightest doubt but that the championship pennant will be in Peterborough again next year. Joe Begley was elected assistant captain last night and the boys expect when they play their next championship game on Dominion Day with the Beavertons they will make a good showing, although Beaverton is the strongest team in the league. Go in and win, boys.

A NEW CLUB.

It is proposed to organize a new lacrosse club in town, and for this purpose a meeting is called for Monday evening next in the Central Park, when all the old members of the Y.M.U.A. and Etna clubs are requested to attend. It is intended to call the club the Cretes, the same as a former club which was in Peterborough.

To-morrow's Struggle.

The world will to-morrow, if the weather permits, be relieved from the suspense in which it has been unavoidably kept during the past two weeks in anticipation of the baseball match between the Examiner and REVIEW staffs. The game will be played on the P.A.A.A. grounds and will be called about 4.30 o'clock. The Examiner men are confident of victory, and are talking of playing with eighteen men, india rubber balls, composition rollers for bats and other such crazy ideas, but if they would pay more attention to practicing running and climbing fences, they might be able to do their leather-hunting more gracefully. There has been some difficulty in selecting a man who is sufficiently rapid to do the scoring, but an umpire, with an insured life, and a scorer with foolscap a yard wide have been engaged. The game will not be devoid of amusement, for it is said that the credulous news-gatherer of the Examiner is going to play, and the rest goes without saying. The admission fee is only ten cents to see the struggle, which will be worth six months of a person's life, for hereafter dates will be fixed by this event.

Sporting Sparks.

The Otonabee Canoe Club hold their first fortnightly regatta on the Little Lake this evening, when a good programme of events will be run off.

The medals which are being competed for by the bicyclists have been presented by Mr. D. W. Dumble, Mr. R. B. Rogers and Mr. Alex. Gibson.

"My father, at about the age of fifty, lost all the hair from the top of his head. After one month's trial of Ayer's Hair Vigor the hair began coming, and in three months he had a fine growth of hair of the natural color."—P. J. Cullen, Saratoga Springs, N. Y.

The County Wins Again.

In the first week of April Mr. E.B. Edwards, County Solicitor, attended the Supreme Court at Ottawa where the appeal in the case of the two counties, Victoria vs. Peterborough, was argued. Victoria had entered an action to compel Peterborough to contribute towards the maintenance of the Bobcaygeon bridges. The courts decided in favor of Peterborough, and Victoria carried an appeal to the Supreme Court. This afternoon Mr. Edwards was informed by telegraph that the appeal had been dismissed with costs. The judgment was unanimous. The case was important, there being other bridges similarly situated.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Richard Cavanagh Slips From a C. P. R. Express and has a Foot Crushed.

Last night Richard Cavanagh, the eldest son of Mr. T. Cavanagh, of the Balmoral, met with a very painful and unfortunate accident which narrowly escaped being more serious and perhaps fatal. The young man had been playing baseball on what is known as "circus green," just at the diamond. The boys are in the habit of saving a long walk by jumping onto the express which passes at 7.45, and taking a ride in as far as the C.P.R. station. Last night when the express came along Cavanagh attempted to jump on the second coach of the train, but in some way slipped, missed his footing and fell under the train. Fortunately he did not fall across the rails, only the left foot getting under the wheels, two of which passed over it, crushing it badly, just below the ankle. The engineer of the express seeing the accident, stopped the train, and the unfortunate young man was placed in a coach and taken to the station, from which place he was driven to the Balmoral. Dr. King and Dr. Halliday were soon in attendance, and it was found necessary to amputate all the toes of the foot. It was feared that the foot would have to be amputated, but such is not the case, as the doctors now believe that there is no cause for serious alarm as they believe there is no danger, and as the young man is strong and healthy it will not be long before he is able to get around.

When the report was circulated last evening it was stated that the young man had been killed, and the Balmoral was besieged with anxious friends and curious strangers, a large number of whom went in to see the young man who, although he said he was suffering terrible pain, was sitting up talking with his friends.

PRESENTATION AND ADDRESS.

The Services of Peterborough Young Lady Highly Commended.

This week's Norwood Register has the following of a Peterborough young lady, daughter of Mr. Joseph Begley, and a young lady who has many friends in town:—On Saturday evening Miss Lillie Begley, organist in the R C. Church here, was made the recipient by the members of the choir of a handsome silver butter dish and the accompanying address:—

DEAR MISS BEGLEY.—Since your term of engagement as leader and organist of our choir has expired we cannot let the occasion pass without expressing in some way other than in mere words our heartfelt thanks for the services you have rendered to us. In the discharge of your duties you have been punctual, genial and persevering. The great progress made by the choir under your instructions testifies of your ability and attainments and to your unselfish devotedness to our advancement may be attributed the harmony which has existed among the members. In acknowledgment of our appreciation of our services we present you with this article in the hope that its appearance in the future may impress you with the high estimation in which you are held by the members of the choir, and the sincere wish of all of us is that you may long be spared to use that grand voice with which you are endowed in chanting the praise of Him to whom to honor and glory all our actions should be directed, and that whatever sphere of life may be allotted to you, prosperity and happiness may always surround you.

Signed on behalf of the choir, BRIDGET O'SHEA and W. H. MULLINS.

Miss Begley, in a very neat reply, warmly thanked the choir and wished them every success in the future. Father Conway was present and made some very appropriate remarks in which he referred to Miss Begley's well merited treatment at the hands of the choir, and also commended them for their kind recognition of her services.

—The band will play in the Park this evening.

—The Beaver this afternoon brought up a large number of excursionists from down the lake.

FRIDAY, JUNE 14, 1889.

PRETTY SISTER OF JOSE.

By FRANCES HODGSON BURNETT.

Author of "Little Lord Fauntleroy," "That Lass O'Lowries," &c., &c.

"She does not like him," he said sorrowfully. "Girls are like that sometimes. It makes her angry when one talks of him."

But slow as he was he could not help seeing in time that something was wrong with Pepita. Sometimes she scarcely talked at all, and she did not flame up when Jovita grumbled—it seemed as if she scarcely heard. Her eyes had grown bigger, too, and there was a burning light in them. They always appeared to be asking something. Often he found himself obliged to look up and saw them fixed upon him as if they meant to wrest something from him. The careless bird-like look had gone—the careless bird-like laughter and mocking. He began gradually to fancy she was always thinking of something that hurt and excited her. But then there was nothing. She had all she wanted. She had as many trinkets as the other girls—she had even more. She had so little work to do that she had sought some outside her home to fill her spare moments—and she loved no one. There was not a man she knew who would not come if she had smiled. What then could it be? And how pretty she was. Prettier than ever—prettier because of the burning look in her eyes and—and something else he could explain—a kind of restless grace of movement—as if she was always on the alert.

"Are you not pleased with Madrid any longer?" he asked her once.

"Yes," she answered.

"Do you want anything?"

"No."

"It seems to me," he said, slowly, and with much caution, "that you do not amuse yourself as you did at first."

"It is not so new," she said; "but there is still pleasure enough." And for a moment she kept her great eager eyes fixed upon him, and then she moved slowly towards him and touched him with a soft touch on his big clumsy shoulder and said: "You are a good brother! You are a good brother!"

"I have always loved you," he said with simple pride. "When we were children you know I always promised that you should see better days."

She had forgotten to count the weeks and days, or to take note of the changing seasons, when one hot day in the early summer he came in—Jose—with an innocent joy in his face.

He looked questioningly at Pepita two or three times and then coughed.

"You will not mind now," he said. "It is so long ago, and it is all over. Sebastiano has come back. He did not go to America: he is in Madrid to-day. He came to me in the street—he did not avoid me—he was rejoiced to see me. It appears that it is all well with him. Afterwards Manuelo told me. It appears there is a very pretty girl in Lisbon—she is here now. It is said he will marry her."

Pepita clenched her hands and stared at him with eyes that burned as never before.

"It is not true!" she said through her teeth. "It is not true!"

Jose fell back two steps.

"Not true?" he stammered. "Why not? They say so."

"A man who slays bulls as he does," she said, "does not forget a woman in a day."

Jose was lost in amazement.

"I thought you believed nothing but ill of him," he said. "What has happened? You are angry—angry."

"It is not true about the girl from Lisbon," she said. It is a lie they amuse themselves with."

Never had innocent Jose been so thunderstruck. This was beyond his understanding. He was afraid to speak, and kept looking sidewise at her as he ate his soup, but she said no more. "What has happened?" he said to himself, over and over and over again. "Will she not allow him to marry another though she does not want him herself?"

Later he went out again. It must be confessed that he went in the hope of seeing Sebastiano, or at least hearing of him. There was no difficulty in hearing of him. In the wine shops and at the street corners he was being talked of in every group. Of what else could people speak who knew he had returned? How there would be sport—how there would be pleasure. Life began to wear a more vivacious aspect. And what had he done since he had left Madrid? Such success—such adulation. The impression among his adorers was that the whole world had been at his feet. Here and there one could hear snatches of song of which his name was the refrain. It was only because he so loved his own people that he had refused the magnificent offers made by the King of America. He had refused them—he had chosen to remain in Spain. He had come to Madrid. Soon he would appear before them again. He had even gained in strength and dexterity; and as to his good looks—ah! what a dashing handsome fellow!

Jose had the luck to see him again, even to speak to him. What fortune—what happiness. The honest fellow felt himself overjoyed. They were to be friends again.

A ghost has appeared near Akron, Ala., at a point on the railroad where a man was run over and killed last summer. A ghostly figure in white, with arms extended, was seen riding there by a young couple who were out riding the other evening. Both were badly scared, and so was the horse.

The wildest guesses have been made in Paris and other parts of France as to the range of vision from the Eiffel tower. The real limit, according to the Temps, is forty miles, which takes in Fontainebleau, Mantes and Pontoise, while even this area can only be viewed in exceptional clear weather.

There was a dearth of hyacinths in London this year, on account of commercial reasons. Previous large sales of the flower has reduced the price of the root, so that the Dutch growers will not permit the blooms to be collected. They are allowed to die upon the ground and then are carted off in heaps.

The oldest war horse is not dead, after all. It is alive at the age of thirty-four and is owned by A. W. Barrett, of Stewartsville, Ind. This animal is a mare, known as "Old Fly." She went into the war in July, 1861, and served until September, 1864. She was in several big battles and numerous skirmishes.

G. A. Sala tells that the Maoris are great in oratory. On one occasion he was being welcomed to a Maori town. "May your boots," said the orator of the day, "be lovely on the hills," in which G. A. S. dimly recognised a revised version of "How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings."

A Remarkable Story.

Concerning this matter of the reunion of kindred, torn apart by the vicissitudes of the slave trade, a most remarkable instance is that of Bishop Crowther, the head of the British Niger missions, who, after a separation of nearly a quarter of a century, recovered his mother among the rude savages of the Benue river. In a religious discourse he was telling a tribe, whom he saw for the first time the day before, how he was torn from his mother at 9 years of age by slave stealers. An old woman suddenly sprang out of the throng and threw her arms around his neck. It was his mother, from whom he was never again separated until she died at Lagos a few years ago.—Christian at Work.

SLEEP.

"So he giveth his beloved sleep."—Psa. cxxvii, 2.

He sees when their footsteps falter, when their heart grows weak and faint,
He marks when their strength is failing, and listens to each complaint;
He bids them rest for a season, for the pathway has grown too steep;
And folded in fair green pastures,
He giveth his loved ones sleep.

Like weary and worn out children, that sigh for the daylight's close,
He knows that they oft are longing for home and its sweet repose;
So he calls them in from their labors ere the shadows around them creep,
And silently watching o'er them,
He giveth his loved ones sleep.

He giveth it, oh, so gently! as a mother will hush to rest
The babe that she softly pillows so tenderly on her breast;
Forgotten are now the trials and sorrows that made them weep;
For with many a soothing promise
He giveth his loved ones sleep.

He giveth it! friends the dearest can never this boon bestow;
But he touches the drooping eyelids, and placid
the features grow;
Their foes may gather about them, and storms
may round them sweep,
But, guarding them safe from danger,
He giveth his loved ones sleep.

All dread of the distant future, all fears that oppress today,
Like mists, that clear in the sunlight, have noiselessly passed away;
Nor call nor clamor can rouse them from slumbers so pure and deep,
For only his voice can reach them
Who giveth his loved ones sleep.

Weep not that their toils are over, weep not that their race is run;
God grant we may rest as calmly when our work,
like theirs, is done!
Till then we would yield with gladness our treasures to him to keep,
And rejoice in the sweet assurance,
He giveth his loved ones sleep.

—Golden Hours.

RELIGIOUS GLEANINGS.

Samoa, which is attracting so much attention now, is generally regarded as a savage island, but a large proportion of the people are Christians. A missionary says: "I would guarantee to take the first twenty men, women and children that I should meet with in Samoa, and I would back them in Bible knowledge against any twenty I should meet in this country."

The missionaries at Victoria Nyanza and Uzagara, Africa, for whose safety fears were entertained, owing to the disturbances in Eastern Africa, are not in danger. The Church Missionary society, under whose auspices they are working, has received word that the amicable relations existing between them and the far inland tribes are still maintained.

Mr. Spurgeon's home at Norwood, according to a British paper, is valued at $150,000, and his income from his books is reported at $40,000 a year.

The great reason why the mission churches on the continent of Europe do not become self supporting is the emigration to America, which takes away their best young men. This weakens them, but strengthens the churches in the United States.

Bassein Christian Karens of Burmah are running a saw mill and making a profit out of it. Last year they added $4,000 to the endowment of their Normal and Industrial institute.

The largest congregation in the world, numbering 4,500 members, is on the island of Hawaii. Over 90,000 Feejians gather regularly for Christian worship. Madagascar, with its queen and 200,000 of her subjects, is ranged on the side of the Cross. In the Friendly Islands there are 30,000 Christians, who contribute $15,000 a year to religious objects.

IF A BODY MEET A BODY

the result is a collision, whether "coming thro' the rye," or not. Life is full of collisions. We are constantly colliding with somebody or something. If it isn't with our neighbors it is with some dread disease that "knocks us off the track" and perhaps disables us for life. Women especially it seems have to bear the brunt of more collisions and afflictions than mankind. In all cases of nervousness, bearing-down sensations, tenderness, periodical pains, sick headache, congestion, inflammation, or ulceration and all "female irregularities" and "weaknesses," Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription comes to the rescue of women as no other medicine does. It is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee, from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money paid for it will be refunded. See guarantee on bottle-wrapper.

TURNBULL'S

Having just received a lot of fine Untrimmed Hats at a clearing price, we are in a position to give great Bargains in Millinery. 170 new styles to select from, no two alike. See one of our windows, your choice for seventy-five cents.

If you have not looked closely you have no clear notion how more than commonly good our $15, $16 and $18 Suits for men are. Linings and Trimmings excellent, sewing and finishing perfect. Men who are shrewd judges and hard to please pronounce our tailor as near perfection as possible in a fit. While we were writing a shipment of Boys' Clothing has arrived to fill up the gaps in that department; they are good goods and the patterns are excellent. Mothers call and see them.

Opened out a fresh lot of Muslin Skirting Embroideries, full width from 50c. to $1.25 a yard. Also a lot of White Lawns from 10 to to 12½c. a yard. These goods should and are going out fast.

We can now show you a Linen Huck Towel, 20x40 inches, full of substance and in every way worth 20c., the price is 15c.. Good Barnsley Crashes at 10 to 12½c. a yard. We do towels and towellings right as we import them direct from where they are made.

Several fresh lines of Children's Hosiery just put in stock. Space would not allow us to enumerate them. We have everything desirable a ribbed and plain, low and better grades.

Our Parasol Stock is large and varied. We aim at keeping everything called for and do not allow ourselves to be undersold.

Heavy sales in the Dress Goods Department has left us a lot of Good Remnants which we are clearing out at remnant prices. Remnants of Prints, Tweeds, &c., laid out and sold at great reductions.

PURE LIME FRUIT JUICE.
WHAT IS LIME JUICE?
This question is rendered necessary by the prominent attention Lime Juice is attracting as the Best Temperance Beverage. The answer is that it should be the juice of the Lime Fruit without admixture.
By the "MONTSERRAT" Company alone is the Lime Fruit cultivated for this purpose, and great care should be taken to obtain this brand (as supplied by the British Government) in lieu of the numerous concoctions sold under the name of Lime Juice Cordials, Prepared Lime Juice, etc. Sold by all Druggists, Grocers, and at the leading hotels.

NERVED BY WHISKY.

AN UNKNOWN WOMAN LEAPS INTO NIAGARA RIVER.

She is Swept Over the American Falls—The Body Recovered—All the Clothing Stripped Off by the Waters.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., June 14.—About 3.30 this afternoon a well dressed lady walked deliberately out on the raceway near the river gate of Prospect Park immediately above the American Falls and holding her arms over her head leaped into the rushing water that took but a few seconds to sweep the body over the American falls. Her body was discovered about half an hour afterwards in the river near the Canadian side and taken to Undertaker Morse's at Drummondville.

The description of the suicide is as follows: large, dark complexioned woman about 45 years of age, weighing about 170 pounds, large features. All the clothing excepting a pair of black corsets, dark stockings and shoes had been stripped of the body. The woman came from Buffalo on the 3.10 train this afternoon and went direct to the park and took her life.

At the place where the woman leaped into the river was found a black silk parasol with light wood handle, white handkerchief, lady's wrap of black material embroidered with black silk, a small thin glass and a half-pint empty flask that had recently contained whisky.

IN SULLIVAN'S FAVOR.

Judge Tuley Decides That He Must be Admitted to Bail.

CHICAGO, June 14.—Judge Tuley began reading his decision on Alexander Sullivan's application for admission to bail shortly before 4 o'clock in the presence of a great crowd. The judge decided point after point without exception in favor of Sullivan. At 4.30 o'clock Judge Tuley concluded by announcing that Sullivan should be released on bail.

Sullivan was released on $20,000 bail.

Suicide of a Clan-na-Gael Leader.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 14.—Patrick A. Ward, President of the Irish-American Republican Club, and the most conspicuous Clan-na-Gael man in the city, committed suicide at the supper table last night by taking poison. The news spread rapidly and a large crowd gathered around the house. Ward swallowed cyanide of potassium and died instantly. Ward was active in the last Presidential campaign and was a candidate for a Federal office. The murder of Dr. Cronin worried him greatly, as he feared it would prevent him from getting the office.

Boland's Theory.

KANSAS CITY, June 14.—Michael Boland, Recorder of Kansas City, whose name has been connected with those of other members of the Clan-na-Gael with the Cronin murder, expressed the opinion last night that Cronin was murdered by members of the Clan-na-Gael, but declared his belief that neither the order as a body nor any of its leaders or most prominent members was responsible. He thought some of the more ignorant members shared in the belief that Cronin was a spy and killed him in a mistaken idea that they were doing the order a service.

Who Desmond Is.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14.—Thomas Desmond, mentioned as being wanted for complicity in the Cronin murder, was a prominent figure here during the Sand Lot agitation. Through Dennis Kearney's influence he was elected sheriff. Desmond gained notoriety in 1867 as one of the crew of the Catalapha, fitted out in England to rescue Fenian prisoners in Australia.

Uncle Sam to Have Two New Cruisers.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—The Navy Department to-day issued advertisements inviting proposals for the construction of two steel cruisers of 3000 tons displacement.

The British Beer Syndicate.

NEWARK, N.J., June 14.—Franz J. Kastner's brewery, whose output is 70,000 barrels a year, was sold to the syndicate to-day for $600,000.

A Rhode Island Murder.

PROVIDENCE, June 14.—This morning A. H. Olney of Olney Bros., oil dealers, shot and killed Martin Mullin in the firm's store here. Olney surrendered. He claims to have acted in self-defence. Mullin was a desperate character.

Steamship Lost Off Barness.

NEW YORK, June 14.—Word was received to-day that the iron steamship Pomona, from this port for Montego Bay, was lost off Barness June 5. The crew of 14 were saved. The steamer was valued at $60,000.

Two Boys Killed by Lightning.

CINCINNATI, June 14.—Two sons of Lowe Emerson, the millionaire carriage manufacturer of this city, aged 12 and 8, were struck by lightning while under a tree in the suburbs this morning and killed.

Burnt to Death.

NEW YORK, June 14.—Mrs. Kinschman and her daughter, Mrs. Goldberg, were burnt to death to-night at a fire at 53 Norfolk-street.

Will you suffer with Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint? Shiloh's Vitalizer is guaranteed to cure you. S. C. Wells & Co., proprietor, Le Roy, N. Y.

BUSY BURGLARS.

A Gang Working the Ambitious City With Little Success—The Modjeska in Port.

HAMILTON, June 14.—The new steel steamer Modjeska arrived here shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon. She fully bears out all that has been said about her. The Modjeska encountered some dirty weather in the 17 days' voyage from Glasgow to Montreal, but behaved well. It is not likely that the new steamer will start out on the Toronto route until Monday.

About 1.30 o'clock this morning, Mrs. William Vint was awakened by a noise in her room, and looking around saw a man ransacking the place. She called to her brother-in-law and the intruder left hurriedly, getting out of the house by the window. The burglar's booty was only 50 cents.

Two men attempted to break into the residence of Mr. Colin Campbell, in Market-street, early this morning, but on the appearance of Mr. Campbell at a front window they made off.

Mr. John S. Hendrie's residence, No. 93 James-street south, was broken into last night and some articles were carried away.

James Judd, brother of Ald. Judd, died at his residence, 75 Florence-street, last night. He had been sick ten or twelve months.

Mrs. Tabb, 171 Emerald-street north, reported to the police that her husband, a man 50 years old, left home yesterday morning and had not returned up to date. Tabb has been in the asylum, and it is feared that his mind has become deranged again.

FINED $5 EACH.

The End of the Celebrated Hamilton Conspiracy Case.

HAMILTON, June 14.—The well-known conspiracy case, in which D. R. Gibson, Wm. Mitchell and Wm. Littlejohn were defendants, and Edwin Buscombe the private prosecutor, and which grew out of the labor troubles of the spring of 1888, was finally disposed of this morning by Judge Sinclair. The defendants were members of the Bricklayers' and Masons' Union and supported a resolution passed by that body to the effect that no member of the union should be allowed under a $50 penalty to work on any city work so long as one Buscombe, a non-union man, was in the city's employ. The defendants were convicted of conspiracy and took an appeal, the conviction being affirmed at Osgoode Hall last winter. Judge Sinclair in rendering judgment said: "I look upon such an offence as of a very serious nature. It is the right of every man under our law to earn an honest livelihood by his labor. You were striving to deprive him of that right and were doing so in a manner which no honest man can support or countenance." The defendants were fined $5 each, the judge stating that he inflicted a light fine as an example rather than a punishment.

Officers of the High Court C. O. F.

LONDON, Ont., June 14.—These officers of the High Court of Canadian Foresters were elected to-day: H.C.R., E. Fowe, London; H.V.C.R., George Sinclair, Toronto; H. Secretary, Thomas White, Brantford; H. Treasurer, John Neelands, Wingham; H. Registrar, D. R. Kennedy, Montreal; H. Chaplain, Rev. Joseph Williamson, Boston; H. J. Woodward, Benjamin Roberts, Toronto; H.O. Woodward, J. R. Culp, Brantford; H.J. Beadle, Robert Kemp, Listowel; H.J. Beadle, John Carpenter, Chatham; Ch. Med. Bd., U. M. Stanley, Watford; Asst. Med. Officer, Dr. Young, Ridgetown. Executive Board—A. M. McIntyre, Lucknow, and R. Kidney, Toronto. Bros. Past Chief Ranger Lout and Past Chief Ranger Elliott were elected as delegates to the High Court Meeting of Independent Order of Foresters which meets in Chicago next February. The High Court adjourned to meet in Kingston next June.

Infanticide in Essex.

TILBURY CENTRE, June 14.—The body of a female infant a few hours old, wrapped in an apron, the strings of which were tied tightly around its throat and with a handkerchief tied over its mouth, were found on the farm of James Ross, in the township of Tilbury East, on Wednesday. The coroner's jury which investigated the case brought in a verdict of wilful murder against Annie Reid, who was arrested at the residence of her sister, Mrs. George Ross, on the 10th concession, Tilbury West, and committed to jail for trial.

Six-Shooters Used Freely.

AUSTIN, Tex., June 14.—Last evening at Givens' store, 18 miles southeast of here, Constable Wilson (colored) undertook to arrest a white man, whom he charged with horse theft. The man resisted and a general fight ensued between him and his friends and the constable and his friends. Six-shooters were used freely. Four white men and two negroes were killed, while at least a dozen were wounded. Some are probably fatally hurt.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT.

Champion Oarsman O'Connor Home Again—Yesterday's Ball Games.

TORONTO, June 15.—Champion William O'Connor landed in Toronto yesterday morning after an absence of five months on the Pacific slope, where he has been doing good work with the sculls. The Toronto oarsman looks the picture of health and in the pink of condition. He will remain in Toronto a week or so before starting for England, and while here, he will take occasional spins on the bay. He received a hearty welcome from his many friends that he met yesterday and when he leaves for the Old Country he will be given a bumper send off with three cheers and a tiger.

PARIS, June 14.—The police have seized a number of letters from General Boulanger to the Boulangist National Committee, in the house of Madame Boulon.

Stephanie's Romance.

A little story has crept out concerning the Princess Stephanie, the wife of the late Austrian crown prince, which is of interest to Americans. It seems that the youthful princess, before her enforced marriage with Rudolph, had fallen in love with an American, who is described as a commercial traveler. He was young and good looking and the affection was mutual. However, such a thing was not to be thought of as their marriage, and so the union with the crown prince was brought about. At the wedding the young American was in the church, and the sudden recognition of her lover caused Stephanie to shriek and faint away. This is the first time an explanation of the scene of the wedding has ever been given.—San Francisco Chronicle.

THE TORONTO BUDGET.

A BUSY DAY IN THE PRESBYTERIAN GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

The Jesuit Question Referred to a Committee—The Anglican Synod Finishes Its Labors—The Methodist Conference.

TORONTO, June 15.—The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church yesterday referred the overtures and references touching the Jesuits' Estates Act to this committee: Principal King, Drs. MacVicar, Caven, Forrest, Laing, Moore and Robertson, J. Hay, M. W. McLean, W. A. McKay and D. J. Macdonnell, ministers; Hon. A. Morris, Hon. D. Laird, Hon. A. Vidal, Robert Laurie, Hill, Campbell, George Hay, James Broadfoot, R. Brodie, George Haddow, elders. Then home mission work was discussed, a resolution of gratitude for work done being passed. The greater part of the afternoon was spent in the consideration of the report of the Committee on Statistics, lucidly submitted by Rev. Dr. Torrance. The following extracts are of interest:

In the synod of Toronto and Kingston there are 391 churches and stations, a decrease of 12. The Presbytery of Kingston shows a decrease of 12; Peterboro a decrease of 2; Whitby of 1; Orangeville of 3; Barrie of 3, and Owen Sound of 1; total 21. Lindsay gives an increase of 1; Toronto of 1; while the Presbyteries of Saugeen and Guelph remain the same.

In the synod of Hamilton and London there are 318 such churches and stations, a decrease of 16. Three presbyteries give the same number for each of the years namely, Huron, Maitland and Bruce; London shows an increase of 4, while Hamilton shows a decrease of 5; Paris of 3; Chatham of 10; Stratford of 1, and Sarnia of 1. The total decrease is thus 20 in 5 Presbyteries, against which is to be set an increase in 1 Presbytery of 4, three remaining the same.

In the synod of Toronto and Kingston there are now 120 missionary associations, against 118 the preceding year, with 130 Woman's Foreign Missionary Societies, showing the large increase of 22, most of these being in the Presbytery of Toronto, which has risen from 25 to 38.

In the synod of Hamilton and London there has been an increase from 117 to 132 in missionary associations, and from 121 to 139 in Woman's Foreign Missionary Societies, figures which speak well for the missionary spirit in its bounds.

The total income for 1888 was $1,942,722, showing an increase of $212,471.

An overture was read from the Presbytery of San Paulo, Brazil, hoping that the General Assembly would take an interest in the evangelization of that great country. The Moderator intimated that it would be injudicious for the Presbyterian church in Canada, burdened as it is with so much work, to undertake any additional in Brazil. Upon the reception of the report of the Hymnal Committee an overture was read from the Montreal and Ottawa Synod asking for a revision and enlargement of the book. Dr. Campbell supported the overture. He, however, protested against the introduction of objectionable hymns, especially as to their literary character and jingle-jangle music. It was not necessary to have the tunes of Moody and Sankey—[laughter]—tunes and songs learned in early years to the neglect of the solemn hymns and psalms sung in Presbyterian churches. [Applause.] Mr. Gibson of Ottawa took the diametrically opposite view. His gravamen was that the present hymns are not adapted to the Sunday school lessons. With pathos he lamented the absence of such hymns as "Scatter Seeds of Kindness," "Jesus of Nazareth Passeth By," "There is a Green Hill Far Away," and others in Sankey's collection. Ultimately the report was adopted and the committee requested to continue its labors with a view to revision and enlargement. Foreign missions was the subject of the evening meeting. After the reading of an encouraging report and energetic speeches by Mr. Charlton, M.P., Rev. M. Falconer of Nova Scotia, and Rev. Mr. Wilkie, an Indian missionary now on furlough, three undergraduates of Montreal College, who are being sent out to Honan, delivered addresses, and the enthusiastic proceedings terminated.

At the Methodist Conference yesterday Rev. Dr. Potts made his report as secretary of the Education Society and Federation movement. The subscriptions for Federation up to June 1 were $264,519.62, of which $108,112.62 has been paid. There are 2575 subscribers to the fund, which is made up as follows:

Conference.	Subscribed.	Paid.
Toronto	$121,679 21	$72,182 60
London	38,132 25	3,971 20
Guelph	28,284 50	2,386 65
Bay of Quinte	9,262 25	3,085 60
Montreal	4,052 50	1,037 61
Manitoba and Northwest	331 60	71 00
British Columbia	5 00	2 50

Dr. Potts further said that he has a separate account of money received from people outside the Methodist Church, such as Vice-Chancellor Mulock, M.P., Hon. Alex. Mackenzie, Hon. Oliver Mowat, Sir John Macdonald, Hon. Edward Blake. It amounts to $14,935, of which $12,645 is paid up. A resolution regretting the injunction suit was carried. Rev. C. O. Johnston, who got into trouble in Hamilton last year when a church court tried him upon a charge of falsehood and who resigned his membership in the Niagara Conference, wrote applying to be admitted to the Toronto Conference. The matter will be reported upon by a committee. Quite a discussion took place on the application of Rev. Mr. Kemp of Oshawa, Reformed Episcopal minister, to be received into the Methodist Church as an ordained minister of the church upon his ordination in the Reformed Episcopal. On motion of Rev Dr. Stafford the application was granted.

The Anglican Synod concluded its annual meeting yesterday. The discussion of the morning was on a communication from the Dominion Temperance Alliance asking the synod to appoint delegates to their conference. Rev. Dr. Curry said the synod were not prohibitionists and never would be. He moved that the communication be acknowledged. The motion carried. A motion to distribute the surplus accruing from the Toronto Rectory Fund equally among all the incumbents entitled to a share was carried, as was also one condemning the raising of money for church purposes by other means than direct offerings. The anti-Jesuit resolution, the main feature of which is to test the act in the courts, was also put through.

Miss Willard presided at yesterday morning's session of the W. C. T. U. The question of whether the time between the conventions should be lengthened was brought up. It was decided, however, after some discussion that it be annually as heretofore, and the next place of meeting be Montreal. The afternoon session was occupied by the election of these officers:

Honorary President—Mrs. Youmans.

President—Mrs. Judge Foster, Knowlton, Que.

Vice-President—Mrs. Judge Steadman, Fredericton, N. B.

Corresponding Secretary—Miss Tilley, Toronto.

Recording Secretary—Mrs. P. Rutherford, Toronto (re-elected).

Treasurer—Mrs. Cunningham, Victoria, B. C.

It was resolved that this W.C.T.U. be affiliated with the World's Union. The appointment of fraternal delegates to the World's W. C. T. U. convention to be held in London, Eng., next May, and also to the National W. C. T. U. to meet at Chicago, was referred to the officers of the Dominion Union.

Mercier's Medal.

MONTREAL, June 14.—A medal has been struck in honor of Mr. Mercier, bearing this legend:

HOMAGE TO THE HON. MR. MERCIER,
Promoter of the act for the restitution of the Jesuits' estates.
FIAT JUSTITIA, RUAT COELUM.

THE PULSE OF TRADE.

Bradstreet's View of Crop Prospects—Sugar Goes Up and Coffee Down.

NEW YORK, June 14.—Special telegrams to Bradstreet's continue to report only a moderately favorable condition of general trade. Our low preliminary estimate of $45,000,000 loss of property by the floods in four states is more likely to be reduced than otherwise. The wheat crop prospect has not improved since June 1, but the outlook for cotton is rather better since the Louisiana drouth has been broken.

Numerous inquiries have induced Bradstreet's to examine the "anti-trust" legislation of Missouri, Kansas and Texas, and it is found that such legislation is not, as has been widely and erroneously published, directed against mercantile contracts generally, but is aimed against contractual combinations designed to limit or control production and prices.

While sugar prices continue to advance, having gained ¾ to 7-16 cents, this week on smaller visible stocks, unfavorable crop reports, firmer cables and pronounced activity for refined, interest now centres on what we are to receive and where it is to come from. Refiners' stocks are greatly depleted and the outlook is for a demand for unusually large supplies with a dearth of them in sight. Sugar-Trust certificates have advanced from $85.50 in March to $110, with higher figures in prospect. Large coffee crop reports and light distributive and speculative demand again depressed the staple, the decline being about 1 cent.

The Government cereal crop report tended to depress prices, being interpreted as very favorable, but later weather and crop reports, backed by speculative influence, served to advance wheat on the week 1½c to 2c. Indian corn has been lower after an advance on light deliveries, but shows a gain of 5-8c. Rye is up 1-2c on better export demand. All Australian wheat exports have ceased, supplies on hand being needed at home. San Francisco wires that inquiries for wheat are received from Montevideo, that 60,000,000 bushels have been shipped to Rio Janeiro and that the total of wheat stocks in California June 1 was only 3,487,363 bushels, indicating that only 660,000 bushels will be carried over July 1.

The Drop in Coffee.

NEW YORK, June 14.—The announcement of a big decline in the Havre market caused a decline in coffee here to-day of 70 to 75 points; 123,000 bags changed hands—the largest day's sales in many months.

The Week's Failures.

NEW YORK, June 14.—Business failures reported to Bradstreet number 185 in the United States this week, against 201 last week and 212 this week last year; Canada 20 this week against 25 last week. The total of failures in the United States Jan. 1 to date is 5440, against 4871 in 1888.

SUPREME COURT CASES.

Judgments Delivered in a Number of Important Cases Yesterday.

OTTAWA, June 14.—The Supreme Court met this morning to deliver judgments. The first case taken up was that of Higgins v. Walkem. This was a suit arising out of an article which appeared in The Colonist newspaper, Victoria, B.C., insinuating that Mr. Walkem (now Judge Walkem and then Attorney-General for the Province) had an interest in the construction of the graving dock contract, which was carried on as a public work. In the court below the plaintiff was awarded $2000 damages and costs, on which judgment defendant appealed to the Supreme Court. To-day judgment was given for a new trial without costs, unless the plaintiff (Judge Walkem) accepts before two months damages to the extent of $500. Chief Justice Ritchie, however, differed from the other justices in so far as he considered that the consent of the defendant, as well as the plaintiff, would be necessary to assessing damages at $500.

The case of Miller v. Stephenson, a dispute in regard to the transfer of promissory notes for the purchase of oats—an appeal from the Supreme Court of New Brunswick—was dismissed with costs.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Company and the New Brunswick Railway Company v. the Western Union Telegraph Company, an appeal from the Supreme Court of New Brunswick, is a very important case. A contract existed between the Western Union and the New Brunswick Railway whereby they were granted a monopoly of the telegraph lines along the route of the New Brunswick Railway. The railway company wanted to set aside the contract so made, and the Canadian Pacific Railway commenced to construct a telegraph line on the opposite side of the road to that on which the Western Union placed its telegraph poles, and were restrained by an injunction. A question was also raised as to an American company holding property in Canada. To-day the case was dismissed on every point, thus leaving the Union Company in possession. Judge Gwynne dissented.

The case of Victoria v. the town of Peterboro was dismissed with costs.

Fonseca v. the Attorney-General for the Dominion is an appeal from the Manitoba Court. The judgment below set aside a patent for land on the main street of Winnipeg, in which Fonseca and Lieutenant-Governor Schultz are interested. That judgment is now reversed, leaving Fonseca and Lieut-Governor Schultz owners of a block of land worth about $75,000.

The court also gave judgment in the case of Henderson v. Osborne in favor of the defendants, Wm. Osborne and R. Bryson Osborne, allowing them the appeal with costs.

Three Georgia Executions.

BAINBRIDGE, Ga., June 14.—Alex. Henderson (colored) was hanged here to-day for the murder of Amos Jackson and his daughter, also colored. Henderson killed Jackson out of jealousy and drowned the girl because she witnessed the crime. A large crowd was present.

THOMASVILLE, Ga., June 14.—Will Dibell (colored) was hanged here to-day for the murder of a negro named Long. His body was turned over to a physician, to whom he had sold it.

LEESBURG, Ga., June 14.—John Pickett, a negro aged 19, was hanged here to-day for the murder of an old negro and his wife. Two thousand persons witnessed the execution.

Why the Kearsarge Was Sent to Hayti.

NEW YORK, June 14.—If the rumor current at the Brooklyn Navy Yard this morning was correct, the reason for the man-of-war Kearsarge being suddenly ordered to Hayti is that a Clyde steamer has been seized there by the Haytians, but by which party was not stated. The rumor was to the effect that the steamer had been seized but afterwards had been given up.

The Spanish Cortes Opened.

MADRID, June 14.—Premier Sagasta opened the Cortes to-day. Senor Martinez was elected President of the Chamber of Deputies.

Pestilence in Brazil.

NEW ORLEANS, June 14.—A gentleman who has just arrived from Brazil says smallpox and yellow fever are causing terrible havoc among the people of Rio Janeiro, Santos and the country for 200 miles around.

The Mille Lacs Massacre.

MINNEAPOLIS, June 14.—General Ruger, commanding at Fort Snelling, has arranged to leave at once with regulars upon news of further Indian troubles. The massacre at Mille Lacs is attributed here to a drunken spree. Three families are reported to be missing and the settlers are momentarily expecting an attack.

THE G.O.M. AS A TRIMMER.

GLADSTONE ON CHURCH DISESTABLISHMENT.

The Samoan Treaty Signed But the Senate One Will Prevail Until the High English and Mighty U.S. Senate Ratify.

LONDON, June 14.—Gladstone has at last made a speech in the course of his south-western tour, which even his friends in the London Home Rule press praise. Cornwall's enthusiasm has aroused him, and at St. Austell he spoke on a subject which profoundly interests the English people. He spoke on disestablishment. The cumbrous word sums up in English politics all the questions which lie at the root of the connection between church and state. It cannot be said that Gladstone, though he spoke on it, spoke out. He is still before everything a churchman—an English churchman. He is prepared to disestablish the church in Scotland and almost prepared to disestablish it in Wales. He is not prepared to do the same thing in England. The reason is the same in all three cases. He would divorce church from state in Scotland, because the people of Scotland are ready. He is almost ready in Wales, because the Welsh are almost ready. He is not ready in England, because, in his curious phrase, "the most sanguine among you would not presume to say that there has yet been in England a distinct pronouncement of the national voice upon the subject of disestablishment."

"Oh, yes," retorted Gladstone's opponents, "votes are to be had by going for disestablishment in Scotland and Wales; they are not to be had in England." So in England he still keeps on the fence. Perhaps the best reply to that view may be found in the following sentence of Gladstone, which I quote both as a reply and because they denote the high water mark in his mind on this momentous issue.

"Naturally," said Gladstone, "at my time of life such a subject is placed beyond all possibility—all reasonable possibility—of contact with myself. If it ever comes, it will come to a prepared people. It will come without the bitterness which, unfortunately, has too much marked our recent conflict on the subject of Irish privileges. It will come, I think, to the great religious community which will have learned before that time to disavow all selfish dependence upon the temporal and secular arms; which will know that the establishment is one thing and that the church is another thing, and which will have ample means, undoubtedly, if the spirit be not wanting to provide, to fill up whatever void might be caused by the withdrawal of the support from national property which the church may now be considered to receive." That is all.

"He meant state churchmen," remarked one of those candid friends whom I referred to above, "will probably read this oracular deliverance with feelings of profound thankfulness that Gladstone is in his eightieth year." I know they do so read it and what is more they plainly express their thankfulness. They accuse Gladstone of allowing his passion for Home Rule to control his affection for the Church of England. They complain that he is willing to subject the church to the dominion of the majority for the time being, and that his only care is to postpone the crash till after that time. If he has roused enthusiasm in Cornwall by declarations against the church, he has roused deep resentment among churchmen all over England. From a political point of view, this last is less important, since all these people were already his strongest adversaries. They would probably like nothing better than to fight for union of church and state and union of England and Ireland on the same platform and at the same time.

G. W. SMALLEY.

The Samoan Treaty Signed.

BERLIN, June 14.—The Samoan treaty was signed by all the members of the Conference to-day.

America having abandoned her principal objections to the agreement previously arrived at the plenipotentiaries have only to make unessential modifications in the wording of the draft of the Samoan treaty. The draft guarantees an autonomous administration of the islands under the joint control of Germany and America, England acting as arbitrator in the event of differences arising. The Samoans are to elect their own king and viceroy and are to be represented in a senate composed of the principal chiefs and in chambers elected by the people. Samoa is to have the right of levying duties of every kind. The treaty also stipulates that the Germans shall receive a money indemnity for their losses. A special court will be appointed to deal with the land question. The Americans made their adhesion conditional upon the ratification of the treaty by the United States Senate. The status quo will therefore obtain in Samoa until December. Mr. Phelps will carry the treaty to Washington.

WASHINGTON SATISFIED.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—The announcement that the Samoan treaty or agreement had been ratified was made at the Cabinet meeting by Secretary Blaine and it was agreed that it was eminently satisfactory to our Government in its present shape.

Three Strikes.

LONDON, June 14.—The employes of the Belgian Red Star Steamship Company have gone on strike.

VIENNA, June 14.—Eleven thousand textile workers at Brunn have struck for an increase in wages.

PARIS, June 14.—Twelve hundred cabmen who were not among the strikers yesterday to-day resolved to make the strike general.

The Servian Question.

VIENNA, June 14.—The Neue Freie Presse in an article attacking Mr. Ristics, one of the Servian regents, declares that his coquetting with Russia after the Czar's recent toast to the Prince of Montenegro is treason against the present Servian dynasty, because the Czar favors Prince Nicolas or Prince Karageorgevics.

The Fremdenblatt says: "No power will remain an onlooker should the Servian Liberals attempt to execute their bombastic program. All attempts to jeopardize the situation will be met with strong measures. The Powers will not allow guarantees of peace to be made a plaything of political caprice."

The Pesther Lloyd says: "The German displeasure at the Czar's toast is greater than the press showed. As no power intends to attack Russia the steady increase of Russia's armaments must be for offensive purposes. Nobody is likely to furnish an overt foe with means to injure one's self; therefore Russian financial operations in Berlin may be regarded as ended. Germany has apparently decided to be a foe to a foe and a friend to a friend in financial as well as in political matters."

That's What.

Kind Old Gentleman (to street boy)—"Where were you born, my son?"

"Boy—Dunno, sir."

"Ah, you don't know. What are you going to do when you become a man?"

"Rob trains."

"Ah," (musingly), "the little fellow was born in Missouri."—Arkansaw Traveler.

Dress the Hair

With Ayer's Hair Vigor. Its cleanliness, beneficial effects on the scalp, and lasting perfume commend it for universal toilet use. It keeps the hair soft and silken, preserves its color, prevents it from falling, and, if the hair has become weak or thin, promotes a new growth.

"To restore the original color of my hair, which had turned prematurely gray, I used Ayer's Hair Vigor with entire success. I cheerfully testify to the

of this preparation."—Mrs. P. H. Davidson, Alexandria, La.

"I was afflicted some three years with scalp disease. My hair was falling out and what remained turned gray. I was induced to try Ayer's Hair Vigor, and in a few weeks the disease in my scalp disappeared and my hair resumed its original color."—(Rev.) S. S. Sims, Pastor U. B. Church, St. Bernice, Ind.

"A few years ago I suffered the entire loss of my hair from the effects of tetter. I hoped that after a time nature would repair the loss, but I waited in vain. Many remedies were suggested, none, however, with such proof of merit as Ayer's Hair Vigor, and I began to use it. The result was all I could have desired. A growth of hair soon came out all over my head, and grew to be as soft and heavy as I ever had, and of a natural color, and firmly set."—J. H. Pratt, Spofford, Texas.

AN ILLUSTRATION.

There are indications of more than one kind that the Mowat Government is preparing to dissolve the Legislature and go to the country. It may not have decided to do so this year, but at any rate it is making preparations for a campaign, and if it believes that the changes are more favorable than they will be a year hence, or if it sees an opportunity for an advantage by hurrying on the elections as a surprise, it will undoubtedly do so. It has done so before, and would again. That is the meaning of the school book "arbitration," the school commission and other means taken to provide excuses for the shortcomings of the Government. Other material has been gathered, not yet given to the public, intended to do duty in campaign speeches. These preparations were not made for nothing.

And there are circumstances that influence Mr. Mowat and his colleagues towards an election. The people are awakening more than ever to their mismanagement and trickery—awakening to such an extent that gerrymandering and the political machines manipulated by the Government will not be sufficient to avert the just condemnation of an unscrupulous Government by the people. The tide of averse public opinion is increasing, and to try to cut it short an election may be sprung. Then there is the new franchise act. If Mr. Mowat does not intend to violate a principle that he claimed last election should be adhered to, he must appeal to to the people before a session is held next year.

The longer the election is put off, also, the more pronounced will become the mismanagement of the Government in connection with the new legislative buildings and the deception is practiced upon the electors. It was at first stated that the cost of these buildings would be only $500,000. This promise was made to the House. After fooling the Canadian architects, the amount was raised to $756,000 and the work of drawing the plans given to a United States architect. In the House and on the hustings this amount was stated to be the limit. When the people were warned last election that the pile at Toronto would cost much more than that, it was denied and the estimate adopted by the Legislature was appealed to for proof. Now it is known beyond a peradventure that the cost will be counted by millions instead of by thousands. These broken promises and this gigantic expenditure will have to be defended, and as time passes the enormity of the deception practiced upon the people will become apparent. But whether the election comes sooner or later, the people can no longer be deceived. The Government's promises have been grossly violated and the people will have to meet an expenditure on the buildings they had no idea of incurring. This is one illustration of the way the Mowat Government has bungled, has run the Province into heavy expenditure and has falsely stated the facts to the people.

Referring to the school book arbitration the Hamilton Spectator says:—"The remarkable thing about it is that not one word is said in it about the readers. These books are more largely in use than any others, and the monopoly, so far as they are concerned, is more grievous than in all the others put together. We do not know whether Mr. Ross refused to let the matter of the readers go before the arbitrators or whether the arbitrators refused to whitewash this part of the monopoly."

Stop that Cough.

Many people neglect what they call a simple cold, which, if not checked in time, may lead to Lung trouble. Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites, will not only stop the cough but heal the lungs. Endorsed by thousands of physicians. Palatable as Milk. Try it. Sold by all druggists at 50c. and $1.00.

Accepted Duties.

The person who lightly quits accepted duties because of some change in his own circumstances or standpoint is to be avoided by all wise people. Such is the servant who, after long years of household trust and kindness, declares that "marriage breaks all contracts," and thinks only and wholly of her own convenience in fixing her wedding and throwing up her post. Such is the teacher whose lectures become perfunctory and irregular because he is "courting" or perhaps making efforts to obtain a more profitable appointment. Such is the son who withdraws support or attention from his good old mother when he thinks of taking a wife. Let the new ties of such faithless hearts take warning; the time will come when they will be found equally brittle. There are vain and selfish people who actually measure the force of affection felt for them and the might of their own attractions by the power they have to sever ancient bonds and to seduce from duty. Alas! alas! it is but testimony of the poor quality of the nature that is drawn to them and of their own lack of elevating influence upon it. Rather, the new tie is best honored by increased loyalty and tenderness toward the duties or the affections which it has overpassed. Those alone who have fostered "faithfulness" in the quiet and even ways of life can hope to find the virtue strong enough to bear the strain of sudden and great occasion.—Sunday at Home.

WOMAN AND HOME.

IMPORTANCE OF SYMPATHY BETWEEN PARENTS AND CHILDREN.

About the Human Hair Market—Little Stories About Women—Female Prescription Writers—Chats with the Housekeeper and the Cook.

Giving our children sympathy is a subject that should carefully engage our attention; too often we give them everything else but our sympathy. A mother can scarcely realize the importance of bringing her views down to the level of her children. Many a young girl whose mother has from earliest childhood expressed a sympathy for all her childish troubles, has found this the strength and protection against the temptations of her young womanhood; for such a girl will go to her mother with every thought, knowing she will find a willing ear and tender, loving heart, ready to feel for and advise her. Never any danger for a girl who makes a confidant of her mother, and the same may be said of a boy who has his father for his boon companion. How beautiful it is to see a father and son on terms of perfect congeniality; the father knows best the quicksands and pitfalls into which his boy's feet may stray and fall—who so able as him to warn and guard that boy—but can he do it if the boy has feared and deceived him from earliest childhood. If the child makes a false step he is punished and looked upon coldly as if he had committed some unpardonable sin; never encouraged to confess a fault and make a confidant of his parent. Many a boy has gone to ruin for want of sympathy from his parents; and many a girl has broken her mother's heart from the same cause. Sympathy and the encouragement to gain our children's confidence must begin in early childhood. Let a mother impatiently push off a little toddler who comes to bring a little hand to be kissed, with, "Oh, don't bother me now, I am busy," or repulse a boy that comes to have the tail of a kite fixed with, "Go to some one else." How long do you suppose it would take to wean off these little ones, yet we see this every day of our lives, and then when our children grow from around our knees and take their confidences to others we wonder why. Some may say you never had a half dozen at a time around you all wanting something; I grant that such a mother is to be pitied, but she has still greater need for the exercise of that great virtue, patience.

I have always had a peculiarly tender place in my heart for little children. I never saw a child's feelings hurt or a blow given one, that it did not cause me a sensation of as real pain and suffering as if the blow had descended on myself. I was walking alone in a comparatively quiet street in New York not long ago, and as I was about to cross the street I saw a wagon coming and stopped a moment; as I did so, I was attracted by a group crossing from the opposite side, a large fine looking woman with a baby in her arms and a little 3-year-old toddler by the hand and quite an elderly lady. As they were nearly across the mother looked up and saw the wagon; with the most impatient gesture as if the child was in any way to blame, she gave it a jerk, landed it on the pavement and then did the most unaccountable thing imaginable, gave it a hard slap. I never shall forget the reproachful look the old grandmother gave her, or the pitiful expression of the child's tearful face, as it gave a dodge from her as if expecting another blow, and went around to the side of the old lady and put its little hand up so confidingly into hers with the look of perfect trust, knowing she would be its friend. I wondered why God gave such creatures children. She only did what many another impatient woman does, struck her child for no fault of its own. She was startled when saw the wagon so near, and because the child did not walk as fast as she could she felt it was to blame for her fright, when it was her own carelessness. If all the useless and unnecessary blows poor little children get were recorded where we could see them we would be astonished. Parents get fretted and impatient with their children because they do not see and understand things as they do, forgetting their age and experience.—Atlanta Constitution.

Profits on Human Hair.

The human hair market presents a rather thrilling spectacle upon market days, when hair dressers flock from far and near and wander up and down the streets with large shining shears in their hands, attached to their waists by a great leather band and bridle, writes a correspondent. The young girls who wish to dispose of their tresses come out and offer themselves like lambs at the sacrifice, and, kneeling before the formidable shearers, have their long braids hacked off with one fell snip of the great scissors.

The largest supply of hair comes from Switzerland and Germany, and especially from the French provinces. The country fairs are attended by agents of merchants in London, Paris and Vienna. Only at intervals, however, is a prize like a perfect suit of golden hair obtained, and there are orders ahead in the shops of Paris and London for all the golden hair that can be obtained in the next five years. When a stock of hair is collected by traveling agents it is assorted, washed and cleaned. Then each hair is drawn through the eye of a needle and polished. When the stock is ready for the market the nobility is permitted to make the first choice.

A woman's hair may grow to the length of six feet. Mme. Hoss, of Paris, refused 5,000 francs for her "cranial covering," which was about that measurement. Four hundred hairs of average thickness would cover an inch of space. The blonde belle has about 140,000 filaments to comb and brush, while the red haired beauty has to be satisfied with 88,000; the brown haired damsel may have 109,000; the black haired but 102,000. Few ladies consider that they carry some forty or fifty miles of hair on their heads; the fair haired may even have to dress seventy miles of threads of gold every morning. A German experimentalist has proved that a single hair will suspend four ounces without breaking, stretching under the process and contracting again. But the hair thus heavily weighted must be dark brown, for blonde hair breaks down under two and a half ounces. No wonder, then, that "beauty can draw love by a single hair."—New York Star.

About Boiling.

In boiling the great thing is not to let the meat boil. This may appear a curious contradiction, but, nevertheless, it is right. When the water in a saucepan bubbles at the top and steams it is boiling. Simmering is keeping the water nearly boiling, and little tiny bubbles every now and then come up at the edges, and it must never be allowed to go beyond this state.

In boiling a leg of mutton it should be put into fast boiling water and allowed to boil for five minutes, to make the outside hard and prevent the juices escaping. Just sufficient cold water should be added to reduce the temperature, and then bring it gently to the boil, and when on the point of boiling skim it carefully (which is most important); then draw to the side of the stove and let it simmer slowly. Meat boiled quickly is always hard and tasteless, and it should be remembered that a very large quantity of water takes the goodness out of the meat. A saucepan only sufficiently large to hold the joint easily should be used, and just cover the meat with water. The time for boiling should be from a quarter of an hour to twenty minutes to each pound of meat, counting from the time the water boils.

Puddings should be plunged into plenty of boiling water, and kept boiling quickly till done. Salt meat must be put into cold water, which should then be slowly brought up to the simmering point. In boiling fish all large, white fish should be placed in cold water, and then brought gradually to the boiling point, and then allowed to simmer gently. The water should be very carefully skimmed; a tablespoonful of salt should be put into every half gallon of water. Small fish should be put into warm water, and salmon and trout into boiling water. Pork, ham and bacon should be boiled in cold water brought slowly to the simmering point. Poultry, etc., should be placed in warm water, and then simmered.—Confectioner.

Looking with Children's Eyes.

One day not long since as my little 2-year-old son was standing beside me at the window, I tried to point out to him an object at some distance. He did not seem to see it, and stooping to bring my eyes to a level with his, I found the object to be out of the range of his vision. I lifted him to my shoulder and soon the little hands clapped their sweet accompaniment to the joyful 'Dere, dere!'

It set me to thinking more deeply than ever upon the necessity of bringing our views, our language, even our manual ability, down to the level of our children.

Some one has suggested that when we lose patience with a child for inability to perform some task, we should try the same thing with our left hand. But I think this of treble importance when applied to the child's mental and moral capabilities.

Sisters, if we could lift the little heads to our thinking level as easily as we can bring the dear little faces so close to our own, there would be no difficulty; but since this is impossible, and I may say undesirable, let us stoop and look at things from their point of view.

Every true mother does this more or less, instinctively, but even the most tactful mother is apt to grow impatient sometimes because the child does not comprehend so readily as she expects. While I have known women who seemed to be almost devoid of this ability to look with a child's eyes; and I have often longed to cry out to her to kneel beside her baby and see how very contracted was its horizon.

Mothers, you give your children well kept homes, clothes, plenty of good food and abundance of love. Do give them sympathy. Sympathy in their joys, in their troubles and in their eager efforts to unravel the thousand and one mysteries with which even their little world is teeming.—New York Home Journal.

'A Spring Message'

From the New Firm of

H. LeBRUN & CO.

Sign of the Golden Horse-shoe.

The people of Peterborough and vicinity are all aware of the business change which took place in the CITY CLOTHING STORE on the first day of February last. The new firm beg leave to make their first bow to the public through the columns of the REVIEW, and to request a careful perusal of the following Spring and Summer circular:—

The City Clothing Store

in past years, by long experience in business, by buying always for spot cash, importing direct from the principal houses of the old country and from the leading houses of Canada, and by strict economy in conducting its business, has always been able to force prices down to an exceedingly fine point. The members of which the new firm is composed will form a still stronger "combine," by which the CITY CLOTHING STORE will be even better prepared to procure for its customers a continuation of those superior inducements in the future for which it has been noted in the past.

Men's Clothing.

The magnitude of our stock and lowness of prices gives us a great advantage over all other competitors in the trade. We carry in stock all the fast selling lines, styles and patterns, and can fit the tall, the short, the fat and the lean.

MORE SUITS, BETTER FABRICS, FINER STYLES than were ever handled before.

Special values in FINE SPRING OVERCOATS, and Fine SPRING and SUMMER SUITS. Don't fail to see them. The superb styles, workmanship, and the beautiful fabrics and patterns that we offer will surprise you.

Merchant Tailoring.

"For the apparel oft proclaims the man."

Fine dressers in search of new, neat and nobby OVERCOATINGS, SUITINGS or TROUSERINGS will find this department crowded to overflowing with cloth from all countries. To select from the largest assortment is an advantage we offer to our customers, backed up by the skill of experienced cutters and tailors. Besides perfect fit and first-class trimmings, we guarantee absolutely first-class workmanship.

Boys' and Youths' Clothing.

Clothing for the little ones—boys and children—has always been a specialty with us. We have always sought to give great values in this department, and to provide a larger and finer variety of goods for parents to select from than they could find elsewhere.

This means that we are showing a large assortment of BOYS' and CHILDREN'S SUITS, BOYS' and CHILDREN'S BLOUSES, SHIRT WAISTS, PANTS, &c.

This spring there are an unusual number of new and nobby styles and an enlarged variety of fabrics and patterns. Be sure and see our stock.

Gents' Furnishings.

Gentlemen of Peterborough seeking the latest styles and best values for their money, as well as an opportunity of selecting from the largest stock of Furnishing Goods, should not fail to visit this department at once. We carry the finest, best selected and the largest assortment of NECKWEAR, HOSIERY, UNDERWEAR, GLOVES, SHIRTS, HANDKERCHIEFS, etc., to be found in any first-class establishment.

An Invitation to Trenton.

Mr. Geo. Stevenson, secretary of the Peterborough Rowing Club, has received a letter from Chas. M. Richardson, secretary of the Trenton Rowing Club, giving the programme of a regatta which that club intends holding in Trenton on the 1st of July and extending an invitation to any of the Peterborough club who might find it convenient to attend the races. It is hardly probable that any of the local club will be able to attend.

Decoration Day.

Last evening committees from the Peterborough and Otonabee Lodge of Oddfellows met in the lodge room of the latter to confer in reference to decoration day. It was decided to fix the date upon which the Oddfellows would unite in decorating the graves of their departed brethren and beautify their last resting place on June 28th, a week from next Friday. Invitations will be sent to the brethren of Belleville, Cobourg, Lindsay, Norwood and Lakefield to participate with the local Oddfellows in their annual visit to the graves of their deceased brethren, and it is expected that, should the weather be favorable, a large turnout of the Order will be witnessed.

Another Concert Monday Night.

The Fire Brigade band gave an open air concert in the park last night, and an excellent, well selected and well-rendered programme was discoursed to the delight of an immense crowd of citizens who promenaded the walks of the beautiful park or sat on the grassy terraces and listened to the sweet harmony. The next concert will be given on Monday evening, when another good programme will be rendered. Next week's concert is being given so early in the week because Bandmaster Miller leaves for two weeks holidays on Tuesday morning. Mr. Miller has been engaged to go into camp with the band of the 46th Battalion, of Port Hope, and no concert will be given during his absence. While he is gone should any person wish to make engagements with the Fire Brigade Band they can communicate with Sergt. McCabe.

The Dandiest that Travels.

One of the finest delivery waggons that travel the streets of Peterborough was put on the road to-day by Messrs. Elliott & Tierney. This firm has already two delivery waggons in constant use, but the addition of the third one was made necessary by and will be used specially for their lager beer trade. The waggon is a covered van, lightly but strongly made, and the artistic decoration by the painter's brush has made it one of the dandiest and attractive turnouts that appear on our streets. The van was built by Fitzgerald & Stanger and is a fine piece of workmanship, while the lettering and decorating was done by Messrs. Watson & Son, and is remarkably well executed. Besides this dandy delivery van, a new truck wagon, also the work of Messrs. Fitzgerald & Stanger, has been built for Messrs. Elliott & Tierney and will be used only for carting lager beer. The lager handled by this enterprising firm is the celebrated O'Keefe's and that their local trade is large and this brand of summer beverage is popular is evidenced by these two additions which the firm have had to make to their delivery and carting facilities. The horse which draws the handsome new van has a fine new set of harness of excellent finish, the workmanship of Mr. W. J. Devlin, of Hunter-st.

COUNTY COURT.

The Court Concludes its Sitting—Kemp vs. Kemp.

The County Court rose yesterday afternoon, when the last case on the non-jury list was concluded. In fact this was the only case that was left on this list, as Brown vs. Bradburn was settled out of court.

KEMP VS. KEMP.—This was the last case that occupied the attention of the court. It was an action of replevin to recover a mare, cutter, harness, robes, etc., brought by Wm. Kemp, of Ashburnham, against his brother, Henry Kemp, also of Ashburnham. The defendant, Henry Kemp, was a butcher carrying on business in Ashburnham until a little over three years ago, when he sold out to his brother, the plaintiff, the mare, cutter, etc., being handed over in connection with the butcher business at that time. The plaintiff kept the mare and used it in his business until February last, when the defendant borrowed the mare and cutter for a short time, and then refused to give them up, whereupon the plaintiff brought this action to recover the mare and goods. The question at issue was the actual arrangement between the two brothers at the time of the original transfer. The plaintiff claimed that everything in connection with the business was transferred to him absolutely and he was to pay all debts. While the defendant claimed that he still retained the ownership of the mare and other goods, and had only given the plaintiff the use of them to carry on the business, which was to be operated for their joint benefit. The judge found that the business had been carried on by the plaintiff for his own benefit and that defendant had never intended to give plaintiff the absolute ownership of the mare and gave a verdict for the defendant as to it, and a verdict for the plaintiff as to the other goods in question. As the mare had been got form the plaintiff by deception he would not award him any costs and directed each party to pay his own costs. E. A. Peck for the plaintiff; Hatton & Wood for the defendant.

The court then rose.

Cut This Out.

Resolved that I will never go on a railway train without first going to Geo. A. Morrison's office, Hunter-st., next post office and buy a $3000 accident ticket for 25c. a day in the Manufacturers' Accident Insurance Co. d123-w26tf

At the Camp.

The Young Men's Christian Association of Gananoque are providing a free reading room, ice water, blacking and brushes, soap and towels, writing materials, &c., for the use of the military camp, which will assemble there on the 18th of this month, and they invite all the men who will attend camp this year to make use of their mammoth tent, &c.

The Game of Cricket.

The Trinity College school team, of Port Hope, came up this morning and play was begun with the Maple Leafs at eleven o'clock. The visitors went to bat first and ran up a score of 73 runs. Wood made the score, 17 runs, and Barker came next with 10 runs. The rain stopped the game shortly after noon, and the cricketers drove over to the Grand Central for dinner, after which the local team went to bat.

A Woman in Court.

A female resident of McDonnel-st. who has figured in the Police Court before was summoned before the Magistrate this morning charged with using abusive and indecent language towards some of her neighbors. The woman denied the charge, but evidence was given to the contrary. The Magistrate said he did not wish to take her husband's hard earnings to pay a fine, and he did not like to take the mother from her children and he allowed her to go with a six months term suspended over her head.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

General Secretary desires to thank Miss Embery and Mrs. J. Braden for two beautiful bouquets of flowers for parlor, also Mr. G. M. Roger, President, for three window boxes filled with choice plants, and Mr. A. Blade for his excellent taste in arranging the same. We have several other windows in which we would like to see plants, if friends desire to make our rooms pleasant and agreeable they can fill them if they choose. They will be gratefully received.

Mr. Geo. Fuller, London, Eng., will address the young men's meeting this evening. Beginners Bible class from 9.30 to 10.15. Sabbath morning: lesson, Matt. 2, 13-23, "Flight into Egypt." Gospel and Song service Sabbath evening at 8.30. Address by Mr. George Fuller, and Rev. Dr. Parson's may also speak.—Com.

Flattering Words for Peterborough.

On Thursday evening of last week Mr. Wm. Fitzsimmons, of Brockville, Eminent Preceptor and Provincial Prior, paid an official visit to Moore Preceptory and Priory, of Peterborough, and the Brockville Times speaks of the visit as follows:—"On Thursday evening last Mr. Wm. Fitzsimmons, Eminent Preceptor and Provincial Prior paid an official visit to Moore Preceptory, Peterborough. He returned home the following day and expresses himself much pleased with his trip and with the many kindnesses received at the hands of the people of Peterborough. He was surprised with the prosperous appearance of the town and the fine churches, business places and private residences to be seen everywhere. The post office is hardly as fine a building as the one in Brockville. Postmaster H. C. Rogers gave a cordial welcome to Mr. Fitzsimmons, and from him and his assistants (two of whom are ladies) he received every attention and information regarding the working of the post office there. At the perceptory meeting in the evening the brethren tendered him a hearty welcome. He found the preceptory in a flourishing condition, the members enterprising and energetic in their work and bound to go ahead. After the meeting the Grand Prior was entertained by the brethren and he returned to Brockville highly delighted with Peterborough and its people."

The benefits of vacation season may be greatly enhanced if at the same time the blood is being cleansed and vitalized by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. A good appetite fresh vigor and buoyant spirits attend the use of this wonderful medicine.

The Bids Too Low.

The residence of Mrs. Wilderman, corner of McDonnel and Water-sts., which was offered for sale by auction yesterday afternoon, was not sold as the bids did not reach a sufficiently high figure to warrant a sale. $3,100 was the highest bid.

Paddling on the Little Lake.

The first of the fortnightly regattas which the Otonabee Canoe Club intend holding during the summer was to have been held on the Little Lake last evening, but it did not prove a gigantic success, not because of the weather or the want of spectators, but because the paddlers who were on the lake were not ambitious. Little Lake was dotted with scores of canoes, the high shore of Burnham's Point was lined with spectators and the Dot, the Eva and Mr. Fred. Hall's little steam yacht gave quite an important appearance to the lake, and would lead a stranger to suppose that an event of some importance was to have been decided on the calm waters of the lake. The course was laid near the shore so that all on the bank could have a good view of the racing paddlers, but unfortunately there were few. The first and only event was a double paddling race, in which Messrs. Alex. Strickland and Chas. Shaw paddled against Primye Leplante and a brother Frenchman. The race was a pretty one, Strickland and Shaw leading all the way to the turn, when the Frenchmen took an inside turn and, it is claimed, fouled their opponents. Then the race up the homestretch was a pretty one, the two canoes being side by side, until just at the buoy when the Frenchmen put on a little spurt and finished about a length ahead. The race was not decided, as the foul was claimed and allowed, but the race was not paddled again. No entries could be secured for the single paddle, and one event had to suffice the crowd which was on the lake. However, better success will attend the next regatta.

Brevities.

—There was a good market this morning.

—The County Council will go into session here on Tuesday next.

—The Board of Education will hold a special meeting on Monday night.

—The Court of Revision holds its second session on Monday evening.

—The net proceeds realized from the Douro picnic amounted to $500.

—The heavy rain which fell at noon cleared George-st. of pedestrians.

—There were to be races at the Driving Park this afternoon, but the rain made the track heavy.

—A drive of logs for the Gilmour Company came down the river yesterday and is now in Little Lake.

—The funeral of the late Richard Daly took place from his father's residence in Smith this morning, and was very largely attended.

—The police have a hammer and a knife which were taken from a couple of youthful offenders against the law, which they would like owners for. The hammer, it is said, was found, but the knife was stolen from a boy at the Central School.

To Preserve Flowers.

There is much discussion at present as to how flowers can be best preserved to send to far away people. When it is desirable to send floral souvenirs there is much chagrin that the perfumed beauties arrive in a mashed, dilapidated and discolored condition at their objective point. This can easily be rectified by a little care and attention. The best way is to pack the flowers in ice. That is a sure preservative, especially if a little salt is sprinkled over the crystalline surface. Another mode in which flowers are sent in complete preservation, even (and it is frequently done) to Europe, is to pack them closely in tin cans, covering the stems with moist cotton. Over all a layer of wet cotton is placed. At the end of the sea voyage the buds and flowers will be found fresh and fragrant as at the beginning. To keep flowers brightly from day to day—that is, cut flowers—it is only necessary to sprinkle with water, place the stems deeply in moisture, and, if necessary, put a light layer of cotton over them. Flowers can be made to last a long time if carefully watched, but they require the delicate nurture of an experienced lover of blooms.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Buttons.

"When I get a bright idea I always want to pass it along," said a lady, as she sat watching a young girl sewing. "Do your buttons ever come off, Lena?"

"Ever! They're always doing it. They are ironed off, washed off and pulled off, until I despair. I seem to shed buttons at every step."

"Make use of these two hints when you are sewing them on, then, and see if they make any difference: When you begin, before you lay the button on the cloth, put the thread

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

SATURDAY, JUNE 15, 1889.

PRETTY SISTER OF JOSE.

By FRANCES HODGSON BURNETT.

Author of "Little Lord Fauntleroy," "That Lass O'Lowries," &c., &c.

It was quite late when he found himself walking homeward over the white road again. He had drunk wine enough to make him feel quite gay; and as he went he sang now and then a verse of a song about the joys of the bull fight.

When he was about half-way home he thought he heard behind him the sound of rapid feet—light feet running. He stopped and looked back. What was it he saw, or thought he saw? Was it a small dark shape which flitted instantly with the shadow of the trees? It looked like a woman who did not wish to be seen. Well, he would not look then. What was the use of giving her trouble? He tramped on, perhaps a little more slowly. It was late for a woman to be out on the lonely road alone. It must be past midnight. Then the thought came to him that perhaps she wished to pass him. In that case he might look the other way, on the opposite side of the road. In fact he crossed to the other side to leave the way clear, and went on good-naturedly, singing his song loudly and all out of tune. Yes, he had been right. Soon the footsteps drew nearer—the shadow within the shadow slipped past—ran swiftly. But by that time they were nearing his home, and there was a stretch of road unshaded by anything. The shadow hesitated, darted across the white space, and Jose seeing it in the full light uttered a cry and started in pursuit. But in a few moments he had reached it and held it by the arm, feeling all the slender body breathless and panting.

"Pepita!" he cried. "It is you?"

She let the mantilla drop from her face and stood and looked at him.

"Yes," she answered, "It is Pepita; and you need not ask—I will not tell you. I have been to—to look at something—and I will tell you nothing."

He put his hand up and rubbed his forehead violently. Then he let it drop.

"I shall not ask," he said. "You would do no wrong. You are a good girl; but ——"

"You think I have gone mad," she said, with a sudden change of voice and a piteous little shiver. "Who knows? Perhaps some one has cast the evil eye upon me. But I have done no harm, and I shall do none."

"No," he said, rather stupidly. "You would do no harm. Let us go in then."

And without another word they went into the house, Pepita to her bed to lie awake and gaze at the darkness, Jose to sit with his head in his hands and thinking a thousand wild thoughs until he fell asleep.

He could not know that where he had been she had been also—that when the snatches of song had been sung she had heard them—that when the people had talked of Sebastiano she had listened—that when Sebastiano had stood in the bright light she had stood in the shadow and watched. She had not thought of danger or of being discovered. She had only thought of one thing and listened for one thing—and once she had heard this thing discussed by some chattering young chulos.

"She is a pretty young girl," they said. "Not as pretty as that other, but handsome enough. She was a little devil, that other. But it is a mistake for a man like him to marry. How can a man feel free to risk his life gaily when he has a woman hung about his neck?"

Pepita had leaned against the wall, putting her hand to her throat.

"He will not," she whispered, growing hot all over. "No, he has not forgotten. II have given the little heart and the flowers and candles. And he could not forget while I—He will come back."

She struggled with the passionate persistence of a child. Since she would not give him up he was hers.

But she did not know what to do; there was nothing but to wait in this fever of strange misery and unrest which grew more cruel every day—and at the bull fight if he would only look—perhaps—yes, if he saw her face he would understand and come.

In the days before the great entertainment took place she was like some little savage creature at bay. She could scarcely bear to hear the voices of those who spoke to her. Once she went into the church and threw herself upon her knees as usual—but when she looked up her eyes were fierce.

If he does not come," she cried to the waxen Virgin, "I will pray to you no more—no more."

She knew that it was blasphemy, but she did not care; and before she went home she bought a sharp little knife and hid it in her bosom.

"This," she whispered, "this—if it is true about the girl from Lisbon—but it is not true."

For many years afterwards the day of the great bull fight was remembered. No one who saw it forgot it as long as he lived. Affairs used to date from it in the minds of many.

A year had passed since that first brilliant day when Pepita had gone forth in her first festal dress. She remembered it all as she dressed herself on this other morning. The same day seemed to have come again; the same sunshine and blue sky. There were the same flowers nodding their heads; Pepita was trembling a little in her haste, just as she had done then; and in the looking-glass there was the same little figure in festal attire—the soft black hair, the [illegible]. And then came a sudden triumph made her radiant.

"I have not grown ugly," she said.

No, she had not grown ugly. She was too young and strong for that, and excitement had flushed her into new brilliance.

When she found herself seated among the fluttering fans of rainbow colors that moment's glow of exultation left her. Strangely enough she could not help thinking of the empty church and the waxen figure before which she had knelt—and then of the nights when she had stood watching by the wall—and then of the sharp little knife in her bosom. And then came the clamour of the music and the grand entry of the moving stream of color and glitter dazzling her eyes. No—just at first she had not the power to look. Could it be she—Pepita—who felt dizzy and could not see, who could distinguish nothing in the splendid panorama of the triumphal march? And what clamour, what excitement there was on every side. "What bulls! What men!" they were saying about her.

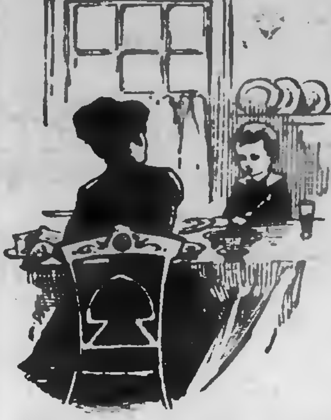
Forethought.



"Will you have a piece of this nice mince pie, Tommy?" said Tommy's aunt, with whom he was taking his dinner.

"Please, ma'am," replied the little fellow, holding his plate, "but you might put two pieces on now; mamma has taught me never to pass my plate back for the second piece."—Yonkers Statesman.

How She Recognized Him.

There is one story on "Tim" Campbell which he himself relates and which has not yet seen the light of day; a story the point of which "Tim" has probably not seen himself yet, for he tells it in an innocent way, which, of course, adds much to its flavor:

Mr. Campbell has a strong appreciation of his dignity. It does not oppress—it sustains and comforts him. Not long ago he was walking through the corridors of the house wing of the Capitol when a woman spoke to him and said:

"Will you see if Mr. Glover is in the house?"

Mr. Campbell drew himself to his full height.

"Madame," said he, "there are gintlemen around here to do that thing;" and he emphasized his remark with a sweeping gesture, which included in its scope the entire force of house employes, from the clerk to the doorkeepers.

The little woman looked up into Mr. Campbell's face.

"I'm Mr. Glover's wife," she said.

"I thought you were," said the Honorable "Tim," in a tone that showed that the fact did not impress him very seriously.

"You're Mr. Campbell, are you not?" said Mrs. Glover.

"I am," said the Honorable "Tim," in his most impressive way.

"I thought you were," said Mrs. Glover, quietly, as she turned and walked away.—Wash. Cor. New York Tribune.

All That Truth Demands.

It is not declaring a conviction that hurts the feelings or wounds the pride of those who are unwilling to share it; it is the tone of superiority and dogmatism that is so often assumed, the lack of sympathy, appreciation and respect that is conveyed, the ill concealed contempt felt for those who think differently. Truth demands none of all this. Expressed at proper seasons firmly and clearly, yet modestly and kindly, its claims are fulfilled, while none of the claims of politeness need be infringed.—Once a Week.

Hindering the Pastor.

Some men who are not atheists nor infidels nor open enemies of religion manage to hinder the pastor in his work. Some church members who never think of setting themselves against the progress of religion are so unfortunate as to stand in the way of the man who has been set over the congregation. There are often persons in the church who did not want this particular pastor appointed over them. They preferred another man.

It will be needful for such persons to watch over their actions and words, and even their thoughts, lest they hinder the pastor. If they could greet him cheerfully on his arrival, speak words of encouragement, and pray fervently in secret for his success, it would be a great blessing to him, and a still greater blessing to those who so deport themselves.

No personal preferences or former opinions should be allowed to stand in the way of the pastor when once the appointment has been made. If one has honestly opposed the selection, and conscientiously sought to prevent the appointment from being made, he should yield his preferences when the case has been decided against him, and be among the foremost to help make the labors of the pastor useful.

There are many ways in which men and women may hinder the pastor without intending it. By absenting one's self from the services of the sanctuary needlessly, by sitting listlessly and prayerlessly under the sermon, by holding back when some aggressive movement is organized, by withholding sympathy and encouragement from the minister, one may hinder more than he thinks. Unfavorable criticisms of the minister and his work will produce a disastrous effect.—Exchange.

Then he clasped her with emotion,
Drew the maiden to his breast,
Whispered vows of true devotion,
The old, old tale,—you know the rest.
From his circled arms upspringing,
With a tear she turned away,
And her voice with sorrow ringing,
"I shall not see my bridal day."

This dramatic speech broke him up badly; but when she explained that her apprehensions were founded on the fact of an inherited predisposition to consumption in her family, he calmed her fears, bought a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for her, and she is now the incarnation of health. Consumption fastens its hold upon its victims while they are unconscious of its approach. The "Golden Medical Discovery" has cured thousands of cases of this most fatal of maladies. But it must be taken before the disease is too far advanced in order to be effective. If taken in time, and given a fair trial, it will cure, or money paid for it will be refunded.

For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Asthma, Severe Coughs, and kindred affections, it is an efficient remedy.

EPPS'S COCOA
BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there was a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.

THE ALIEN CONTRACT LAW.

ITS ENFORCEMENT ON THE CANADIAN BORDER.

Blaine Would Like the Interchange of Labor Undisturbed, But Allison's Assistant Says he Has No Option.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Some time ago the British Minister made an informal complaint to the Secretary of State in regard to the operation of the Act of Congress prohibiting the importation and immigration of foreigners and aliens under contract to perform labor in the United States, especially so far as concerns the Canadian border. The Secretary of State referred the matter to the Secretary of the Treasury, saying that the "Canadian authorities hope that some arrangement may be made whereby the law may not be enforced if possible, to the end that the old friendly feeling of intercourse and interchange of labor shall be allowed to remain undisturbed," and requesting such a reply as he might informally present to the British minister. Acting Secretary Batcheller replied to the Secretary of State to-day as follows:

"In reply, I respectfully invite your attention to the amendment to the Alien Contract Law contained in the Deficiency Bill approved Oct. 19, 1888, a copy of which is printed in the enclosed circular dated Nov. 21, 1888, which amendment you will see applies not only to immigrants of the prohibited classes arriving by vessels, but also to immigrants who may have entered this country within a period of one year from an adjoining country. This act, as you will see from the enclosed circular, was construed as imposing on the Secretary of the Treasury the duty of enforcing the provisions of the acts referred to and it has not been supposed that it was the intention of Congress to give the secretary discretionary power to suspend the operation of the laws in any case. I enclose copies of several opinions which have been given during the administration of the acts in question. It is obvious that as the laws now stand it is incumbent upon the executive officers to enforce them and that such considerations as those presented in your letter, however forcible and reasonable, should be addressed to the law-making power."

FIRE AT MILE END.

The Bushnell Oil Refinery Burnt—A $25,000 Blaze.

MONTREAL, June 16.—An extensive fire broke out at Mile End this evening through the upsetting of a coal oil lamp at the Bushnell Oil Refinery. The fire spread with great rapidity and soon covered fifteen acres. The refinery being alongside the track the fire caused considerable havoc with cars, telegraph poles and track; about ten cars were destroyed as well as the entire works. Nothing was saved except a stack of empty barrels. The oil company suffers probably to the extent of $25,000.

A TORONTO LADY KILLED.

Mrs. David Rome's Sad End while Sketching at Coney Island.

NEW YORK, June 15.—Miss Sarah Rome, aged 24 of Brooklyn, and her sister-in-law Mrs. David Rome, aged 26, of Toronto, Canada, while engaged in sketching on the track of the Manhattan Beach Railway, near the Oriental Hotel, Coney Island, this afternoon, were struck by a train coming from the Sheepshead Bay race track. Miss Rome escaped with a fractured ankle and severe internal injuries, but Mrs. Rome was instantly killed.

Preferred Death to Drink.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., June 15.—Dr. F. B. Norris, who recently located at Little Current, Ont., is missing, and it is believed has committed suicide, as a valise with articles of clothing, letters, etc., has been found. Dr. Norris was the victim of an inordinate appetite for liquor. He established a good practice at 331 Elk-street, Buffalo, N.Y., in 1867, but his great failing obliged him to relinquish it, and he later moved to 188 Main-street, occupying room No. 1 as an office. He did not make a success there and was obliged to call on his brother, who holds a government position in Washington, for assistance. He then moved to Hamilton, Ont., but the thirst for strong drink pursued him and finally landed him a practising physician at Little Current in the backwoods of the Northwest and for a time he was perfectly straight, but just as his wife was preparing to join him he began to drink again and in a short time was a common sot. That is the last known of him. The finding of his clothing is the only tidings of the doctor which has come to light, but the general impression is that the doctor's body will come to the surface in a few days and that sooner than continue the disgraceful career which seemed inevitable he preferred the alternative of self-murder.

A Serious Assault.

HAMILTON, June 15.—James Bowe, foreman of the Hamilton Iron Forging Company's works, was this morning arrested for striking John Fox on the eye with a piece of iron, inflicting a serious wound. Fox is confined to his bed. Bowe was released on bail shortly after he was arrested.

A Farmer's Sudden Death.

MONTREAL, June 15.—A farmer named Desparrie suddenly dropped dead in a train from Hemingford while coming to the city this morning.

THE CHICAGO CONFESSOR.

WOODRUFF ECLIPSES ALL HIS PREVIOUS EFFORTS.

He Pours the Only True Story of Dr. Cronin's Murder Into the Ear of a Reporter—Alexander Sullivan Implicated.

CHICAGO, June 16.—All previous "confessions" of Woodruff, the horse-thief indicted for complicity in the Cronin tragedy, were eclipsed this morning in an entirely new story from him published in an extra edition of The Times. He contradicts and discredits every other "statement" heretofore attributed to him and now appears in the role of an ex-member of the Canadian militia, claiming he was trusted by Cronin's alleged murderers because he furnished Fenian spies with valuable information during one of the Fenian raids into Canada.

Woodruff says he arrived in Chicago March 26 and obtained work from a gardener in Southport-avenue, not far from the Carlson cottage. After three or four days' work for the gardener Woodruff was taken sick. His narrative says:

"With the intention of going to the county hospital I drifted into P. O. Sullivan's place. I made up my mind that he was a Fenian and reminded him of certain scenes during the Fenian raid into Canada. I went over during that raid as a volunteer in the Twenty-fourth Kent Battalion, whose headquarters were at Chatham. We went as far as Niagara. At that time I was assigned to the adjutant's department and gave to some Fenian spies who came to our camp such points as I learned while in that place. That was my first connection with the Clan-na-Gael. P. O. Sullivan told me he would get me some work if possible. From there I came down and went to work at Dean's livery stable."

Woodruff tells that he met Detective Coughlin soon afterward and had a drink with him, conveying the impression that Coughlin knew Woodruff to be a thief and Woodruff believed the detective to be a "fence." While walking together they met P. O. Sullivan, the iceman. Sullivan mentioned Woodruff's request for employment and Coughlin quizzed Woodruff that a man in his line should want "work." Woodruff persisted that he was laboring for his board and clothes at the livery stable. Coughlin and Sullivan went off together. "That was about the 2nd of April," continued Woodruff. Melville arrived in Chicago about this time (this is the first mentioned of Melville in the "confession"). I know this because a day or two afterward I was over on the South Side and went into the "Owl" saloon kept by Sol Van Praag. I went into a back room and saw Melville and Coughlin drinking together. This was in the evening. I knew Melville, as I had met him in California. He was a great friend of Desmond and Sandlot Kearney during their labor troubles there. After taking several drinks together Coughlin left us, saying he had an engagement.

Melville and Woodruff, so the latter says, made the rounds of the disreputable houses in the neighborhood for an hour or more and then Melville took leave, saying that he was stopping at McCoy's Hotel. Woodruff complained of being "broke" and Melville gave him two or three dollars saying: "I want to see you again.' Two days afterward Woodruff attempted to see Melville at McCoy's and looked over the register and made inquiries of the clerk, but did not press to see Melville, not wishing to create suspicion.

"Going north," Woodruff continued, "I met McDougall near the Northwestern depot and Coughlin was with him (this is the first mention of McDougall). As I came up Coughlin said: 'Good, he is just the man I want to see.' Murray to McDougall: 'Are you acquainted?' I replied: 'I guess I ought to know Mac.' McDougall said: 'That will do. My name is Williams.' I laughed and said: "A rose by any other name would probably be as sweet.' I had known McDougall as a rough-and-ready spirit and an old worker for the Clan-na-Gael, although during the intermediate time he had worked as a blacksmith. Coughlin and McDougall had quite a talk while I waited. After a talk which I did not hear Coughlin left, saying he had some business. As soon as Coughlin was out of sight Williams said to me:

"'Come on.' In a saloon subsequently Williams said, so the story goes: 'How are you fixed?' I said: 'I am nearly busted.' He said: "Why don't you go down and see Alexander Sullivan,' and I said I was not prepared to be sent to Europe. Williams, looking me squarely in the face, said it would not be necessary for me to be sent out of town in this case.

The pair proceeded, Woodruff declares, to 117 Clark-street where the furniture of the Carlson cottage was first stored. Woodruff says he demanded to know what he would have to do. Williams replied: "You need not know anything about it. It is a deal and you will not be implicated." Looking me straight in the face he asked: "Are you one of them still?" He referred to my helping the Fenians at the time of the Canada raid. I replied: "I am as much as ever I was, if I am paid for it." This was about April 26. On leaving Williams again urged him to go over and see Alexander Sullivan. Woodruff's narrative proceeds:

"I went to Dean's barn and thought the matter over and then returned and applied at Alexander Sullivan's. He was not in his office, but going out I met him in the hall before I reached the elevator. I said: 'Mr. Sullivan, McDougall sent me over to see you.' Mr. Sullivan said: 'McDougall! Oh, you mean William, don't you?' 'Yes, I guess so. He wanted me to go over and have a talk with you.' Alexander Sullivan replied: 'I have nothing to say, I have never met you before.'

"'Well,' I said, 'I think I have met you before, although I have grown out of your recollection since I came from Canada. I have but lately returned from California.' Sullivan repeated his previous answer. I told him I was looking for a job and Williams had recommended me to him. He said he had no work for anybody. Afterwards he asked, 'What kind of work would you like?' I said: 'Anything in God's world, if there is any money in it.' He looked at me sharply and replied, 'If I have anything for you I'll let Mr. Williams know of it,' and walked away without even saying good-by. I met Williams an hour afterward going out of his room in Clark-street. We took a grip car and came over on the North Side. I told him I had seen Sullivan, and that the latter came pretty near telling me to go to hell, without doing it."

Soon after this they met Sullivan on the street. He took Williams on one side and handed him money saying, "Now pay that rent." Sullivan told Woodruff he must not take offence at his manner the previous day, as he was very busy and had a great many applications for jobs.

The Wednesday before the murder Woodruff met Coughlin, who asked him to take a note to Williams. This note was in cipher the same as had been used by the Fenians when Woodruff was at Niagara. Woodruff says it read: "Going up to P. O. Sullivan's."

The remainder of Woodruff's confession deals mainly with the night of the murder. Coughlin, so Woodruff alleges, paid him $25 to bring to Lincoln-avenue from Dean's livery stable a conveyance in which a trunk could be carried. Near [illegible] and Lincoln-avenues Melville and one O'Shea, alias Mike Macdougall, joined Woodruff. The latter says this man was a machinist or blacksmith from Philadelphia. They drove to the Carlson cottage, reaching there about 2 a.m. The two men went in and soon after P. O. Sullivan, Melville and Williams came out of the door carrying a trunk, which they placed in the wagon.

Here follows a new version of the ride with the trunk and the disposal of the body in the sewer. Woodruff now says the intention was to have the trunk sunk in Lake Michigan off Lincoln Park, but thinking they were pursued the plan was abandoned.

Woodruff claims Cronin's instrument case was probably burned or thrown in the lake by Melville and Williams when they left the wagon in the woods for a short time at Edgewater. He does not know what disposition was made of the clothing.

Woodruff concludes with an assertion that he was recently approached by a lawyer, who offered to take his case gratuitously and that this lawyer told him to keep strict silence, as Alexander Sullivan's attorney would work in unison and one of Sullivan's bondsmen had agreed to pay for Woodruff's defence. The climax of the whole confession is an assertion by Woodruff that all his previous alleged "confessions" are bogus and that this is "the first and only statement I have made since my arrest." the intimation being that the other confessions were given circulation by interested persons to create the impression that he (Woodruff) was a liar.

Woodruff when seen at the jail this afternoon was preparing what he said would be a still more sensational confession. He examined the confession printed to-day and altered it in many important particulars. He admitted that he was only only 29 years old but insisted he took active part in the Fenian rebellion, which he says occurred in 1872. There are several gross errors in the dates he has given.

The only evidence that the police placed any reliance on in Woodruff's last confession is the fact that Lieut. Schuettler and his men went to the foot of Graceland-avenue this afternoon and searched in the sand for Dr. Cronin's medicine case which Woodruff says was concealed there by Williams and Melville. The officers dug up an acre of ground along the beach but found nothing.

Fitzgerald "Speaks Out."

CHICAGO, June 16.—P. W. Dunne of Pekin, Ill., formerly of Chicago, received to-day a letter in response to a request "for the President of the Irish National League of America to speak out publicly." Mr. Dunne claims to be the person who originated the charges against Alexander Sullivan as far back as 1882. The letter is as follows:

LINCOLN, Neb., June 14.

P. W. DUNNE, Esq.—Dear Sir: The members of the Irish National Land League of America are law-abiding citizens of the United States and hold murder in as much abhorrence as any other element of the community can possibly do. Honest men are not accustomed to protest honesty and the league has no need to protest its sorrow of murder. None but those whose wish is father to the thought would for an instant couple the name of the Irish National League of America with crime of any kind, much less with the deplorable tragedy of which your city has been the theatre. There is therefore no necessity for protests or apologies of any kind from the Irish National League of America in connection with the murder of Dr. Cronin. A foul crime has been committed, the laws of the country have been outraged, and it is the duty of the officers of the law to find out and punish the criminals.

Yours faithfully,
JOHN FITZGERALD,
President Irish National League of America.

BARRY'S NEW LABOR UNION.

He Explains His Plan at Chicago to Representatives of 7000 Men.

CHICAGO, June 15.—The organizing committee of the new labor organization known as the Brotherhood of United Labor met last night. T. B. Barry presided. It was reported that labor organizations representing about 7000 members had signified their intention of uniting with the new order. Mr. Barry presented his plan of government for the new order, which is a radical departure from the methods used by the Knights of Labor. All power is to rest in the local organizations, and the annual convention and the executive officers can only advise measures, having no power to formulate a policy of their own. They cannot order a strike or declare one off, nor can they levy assessments of any kind but may recommend one, though they cannot enforce it. The organization contemplates local, central, state and national trade branches. John E. Ahles of Davenport, Ia., and George E. Detwiler of Chicago were elected delegates to the world's congress of labor, which is to meet in Paris July 14.

Father Damien's Successor.

NEW YORK, June 15.—Father Callaghan of Castle Garden, who some time ago sent to the leper settlement at Molokai several cases of clothing, to-day received a letter from Father Wendelin, the successor of Father Damien, thanking him for the gifts. Father Wendelin says he has not as yet experienced any indications of the dread malady, but that the disease has stricken down his assistant, Father Conrody. The five Sisters of Mercy sent to the settlement from Syracuse are reported as doing well.

The Dynamiters at Johnstown.

JOHNSTOWN, June 15.—Maj. Phillips dynamiters have had Johnstown in a state of nervous terror all day, and this evening General Manager John Fulton of the Cambria Iron Company dictated a forcible protest to Governor Beaver, stating that the mills and offices of the company were being ruined by the blasts, that Adjt.-Gen. Hastings had paid no attention to two requests for its discontinuance, and that the State would be held responsible for any further damage done. The message was filed in the telegraph office with instructions that it be put upon the wire as soon as another blast was fired. In the meantime Adjt.-Gen. Hastings had gained communication with Maj. Phillips and an order to discontinue the blasting went into effect.

President Arthur's Memorial.

ALBANY, June 15.—The handsome granite and bronze memorial erected at the grave of the late President Chester A. Arthur in the Rural Cemetery here by some of his personal admirers was officially unveiled to-day without ceremony by the donors, who inspected it.

WAR IN EVERY BREEZE.

GERMANY WARNED TO PREPARE FOR THE INEVITABLE.

Berlin Uneasy over Russian Encroachments—The Situation in Servia—A Prospect of Lively Times for Parnell.

BERLIN, June 15.—The statement that M. Persiani, the Russian Minister at Belgrade, had proposed a Russo-Servian convention caused uneasiness here. The receipt of semi-official telegrams from Belgrade to-night declaring the story unfounded has tended to restore confidence. Events in the Balkans do not mature as rapidly as it was feared they would. That alarm is felt is evidenced by the renewal of official press attacks upon Russian credit during the past week, which reacted unfavorably upon German securities. The Russian Minister of Finance was negotiating with leading houses here, including the Disconto-Gesellschaft, in relation to the conversion of certain private Russian railways. The North German Gazette pointedly referred to the proposed operation as illegal, and even the Liberal Vossische Zeitung warned German investors to unload Russian stock as speedily as possible in readiness for the inevitable life and death struggle between Russia and Germany. The committee of the Boerse is expected to deliver an opinion to-morrow on the legality of the proposed conversion, but it is felt that the Government would not have exposed German capital to heavy losses except to avert still greater dangers, and that had Balkan affairs been peaceful nothing would have been heard of the illegality of the conversion scheme.

The Servian Government has refused to renew the commercial treaty with Austria-Hungary, which expires in 1892. Everything indicates that the Russian party in Belgrade, confident of its ascendancy, is working to effect some definite aim, and that its schemes can only end in precipitating a war or in a peaceable partition of the Balkan states between Austria and Russia.

The Servian Situation.

LONDON, June 15.—In speaking of the Servian news published to-day, an attache of the Foreign Office who has just returned from Belgrade says: "Affairs in Servia are in a very excited and uneasy state at the present moment, and the Government will be fortunate if they have nothing more serious than an occasional riot to deal with. The Servians are governed by a boy king who is 12 years old, and a Regency composed of M. Ristics and two generals of somewhat doubtful reputation. M. Ristics is the only Servian who has an European reputation, and is no doubt a very able man. He wants Servia to follow an independent line, and to be the henchman neither of Russia nor Austria. The report that he is coquetting with Russia and opinion on such other like matters is largely manufactured in Vienna, where one and all the correspondents appear to be in the pocket of the Austrian Foreign Office, and we all know by this time what these attacks on M. Ristics really mean. Ristics' great authority will undoubtedly be used to keep Servia in safe and prudent courses. The fall of the other two regents is extremely likely to be one of the events of the near future, but it will not drag him down also."

Lively Times Ahead in Edinburgh.

LONDON, June 15.—There is every prospect of lively times in Edinburgh. Mr. Parnell, against the opinion of some of his best friends, has accepted the freedom of the city, voted by the Town Council, in spite of what is known to be a powerful, and is presumed to be an overwhelming, opposition in the city itself. He has named July 20 as the day when he will go to Edinburgh. The Lord Provost has declined to take part in the proceedings, and those who know Edinburgh and the temper of the Scottish people say that in these circumstances Mr. Parnell's reception will be very mixed. There will be demonstrations against him, as well as for him; and as feeling runs high on both sides, blows may be exchanged before the day is over.

The Superiority of English Engineering.

LONDON, June 15.—The American engineers reached their predestined goal this week and were duly dined in Guildhall on Thursday evening. Their reception, everywhere friendly, became most cordial in the city. They have, or their spokesmen have, flattered the English by pretty large admissions of superiority of English engineering to American. These declarations were repeated at the Guildhall and were repeatedly cheered.

Converts to Rome.

LONDON, June 16.—Cardinal Manning to-day received into the Roman Catholic Church Rev. Mr. Townsend, recently principal of the Oxford mission at Calcutta, also six former clergymen of the Anglican church.

A General Decline in Prices.

LONDON, June 16.—On the Stock Exchange prices continued to decline during the week. American securities showed some recovery at the close. On the Continental bourses business was stagnant and prices declined.

The Railroad Wreck at Armagh.

DUBLIN, June 15.—At Armagh to-day four employes of the excursion train which was wrecked on Wednesday with such fatal results were arraigned in court and charged with felonious killing. The prisoners are McGrath the engineer, Parkinson the fireman, Moorehead the guard, and Elliott the traffic manager's clerk. The magistrate discharged Parkinson. A passenger of the train testified that when the train was stopped on the grade Moorehead placed a stone under a wheel of the last carriage and uncoupled a number of carriages. The detached portion immediately descended the grade at a rapid rate. The doors of all the cars were locked. The court adjourned. McGrath and Moorehead were released on bail.

The Economist's Attack on Gladstone.

LONDON, June 16.—The Economist makes a violent attack upon Mr. Gladstone on account of the speeches made by him on his western trip. It says they are utterly unworthy of his reputation and position, that he has intentionally substituted obscurity for clearness, thus artfully misleading men's minds. The course pursued by him, it adds, will cause the keenest and most unfeigned regret.

Dublin's Generosity.

DUBLIN, June 15.—The Lord Mayor yesterday remitted to America another £1000 for the Johnstown sufferers.

A St. Petersburg Pageant.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 15.—Grand Duke Paul Alexandrovitch, accompanied by his betrothed, Princess Alexandra of Greece, made a state entry into this city Saturday in the presence of the Czar and the King of Greece. The route to the palace was lined on either side with troops, behind whom were dense crowds of spectators. The Grand Duke and his fiancee were given an ovation by the people.

Buried Under a Falling Roof.

CITY OF MEXICO, June 15.—The roof of the Merced Market fell in yesterday, burying nearly forty persons. Eight dead and fourteen wounded have already been taken out. Soldiers are removing the rubbish and searching for bodies.

Dress the Hair

With Ayer's Hair Vigor. Its cleanliness, beneficial effects on the scalp, and lasting perfume commend it for universal toilet use. It keeps the hair soft and silken, preserves its color, prevents it from falling, and, if the hair has become weak or thin, promotes a new growth.

"To restore the original color of my hair, which had turned prematurely gray, I used Ayer's Hair Vigor with entire success. I cheerfully testify to the

of this preparation."—Mrs. P. H. Davidson, Alexandria, La.

"I was afflicted some three years with scalp disease. My hair was falling out and what remained turned gray. I was induced to try Ayer's Hair Vigor, and in a few weeks the disease in my scalp disappeared and my hair resumed its original color."—(Rev.) S. S. Sims, Pastor U. B. Church, St. Bernice, Ind.

"A few years ago I suffered the entire loss of my hair from the effects of tetter. I hoped that after a time nature would repair the loss, but I waited in vain. Many remedies were suggested, none, however, with such proof of merit as Ayer's Hair Vigor, and I began to use it. The result was all I could have desired. A growth of hair soon came out all over my head, and grew to be as soft and heavy as I ever had, and of a natural color, and firmly set."—J. H. Pratt, Spofford, Texas.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS.

The New Railway Opened.

The Chemong Lake railway was opened today and the regular trains began running. This morning's train, the first regular one, made good time, coming from the lake terminous to town in less than 30 minutes.

To-night.

You are invited to the Young Peoples' Entertainment in the lecture room of the Charlotte-st. Methodist Church. Y. M. C. A. band will be there. Refreshments will be there. Choice programme.

Personal.

Mr. A. V. R. Young, Consular officer of the United States, has been officially notified that his appointment which was made by the Democratic Government has been confirmed by the Republican Government.

Messrs. C. A. Mitchell and C. H. Otto, of Kingston, spent Sunday in town.

Resulted Fatally.

Mr. Ryan, the Montreal horse buyer, who was injured in the recent collison on the Grand Junction near Corbyville, died yesterday from the injuries he received. Mr. Ryan was well known here, and the intelligence of his sad death will be received with sorrow.

1,000 Ladies wanted—to test the quality of those fine New Teas at M. R. KIDD's.

Baptist Association.

At the annual meeting of the Baptist Association at Belleville on June 25th and 26th, Rev. P. Clifton Parker will preach the opening sermon. The lay delegates from the vicinity will be Messrs. Curtis, M. R. Kidd and W. E. Matthews, Peterborough; Mr. Thomas Shields, Dummer; Mr. Garbutt, Lakefield; and Mr. Thos. Bell, Selwyn. Mrs. Parker, Mrs. Turnbull and Miss Aldridge will attend the Women's Circle meeting at the same place on June 26th.

A Moonlight View for Two Dollars.

Pat Dwyer, of Bobcaygeon, was in town on Saturday and during the afternoon he imbibed freely, so much so that early Sunday morning he was found by the police driving around town seeing the city by the light of the moon. He was arrested and locked up, and at the Police Court this morning he paid two dollars and costs and was then given his liberty.

"My father, at about the age of fifty, lost all the hair from the top of his head. After one month's trial of Ayer's Hair Vigor the hair began coming, and in three months he had a fine growth of hair of the natural color."—P. J. Cullen, Saratoga Springs, N. Y.

Letter of Thanks.

The Rev. Alex. Bell, pastor of St. Andrew's Church, has received the following letter:—

REV. SIR,—I am directed, by a standing vote of the Grand Lodge of 'Prentice Boys of British America, to tender you their thanks for the very instructive discourse delivered by you to them on the evening of Tuesday, June 11th, 1889, and we wish to assure you that the lesson of instruction contained in the discourse was of much benefit through the whole session of the Lodge meeting, as the duty of true Protestants was so clearly defined.

We wish you also to kindly convey our thanks to your choir for their attendance, and also to your church officials for the use of the church.

Hoping you may be long spared to work for our Master and reap much reward for your labor in seeing His work advanced by many being brought to see the light,

I remain, yours, &c.,
H. M. WYLIE,
Grand Secretary.

A Word in Season.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—Please allow me, through your columns, to state to all who contemplate going to Toronto by the St. Andrew's excursion on Thursday the 20th inst., that it would be a favour if as many as possible were provided with tickets not later than the evening before. Those who cannot decide about going until the morning of the excursion can, of course, be provided with tickets by the committee at the C. P. R. station. Indications are that the excursion will be well patronized by our townspeople, and all along the line, and to avoid hurry and delay at the last moment some of the committee will canvass the town during the week with tickets.

Respectfully yours,
CHAS. CAMERON,
President.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

Sleepless nights, made miserable by that terrible cough. Shiloh's Cure is the remedy for you. S. C. Wells & Co., proprietors, Le Roy, N. Y.

Mr. Rutherford Contradicted.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—My attention has been directed to an assertion made by Mr. Thomas Rutherford at a meeting of the Public School Board, as reported in your issue of the 5th instant. Mr. Rutherford is reported to have said that "the Roman Catholics followed out this principle (giving contracts only to Roman Catholics) and if it hadn't been that Mr. A. Rutherford had been so much below the others on the (St. Joseph's) hospital he would not have got it. The other contract we would have been given a preference of $500 if they had combined against him."

I am very much surprised indeed that Mr Thomas Rutherford should make so unfounded a charge, and one so well calculated to disturb the harmony so happily existing between all classes of our workpeople and those who employ labor. He is certainly the last man from whom such a charge might be expected by those against whom it has been made.

Now sir, the facts are: That of all the public buildings erected in town by the Roman Catholics, the work was invariably awarded to the lowest tenderer, without regard to his creed or nationality. In the case of the St. Joseph's Hospital, the contract was cheerfully and promptly awarded to Mr. Arthur Rutherford—who I believe is a full cousin of Mr. Thos. Rutherford's—his being the lowest tender, and the excavation and furnishing of the stone for the same were let in the same way to Protestants. A few years ago the work of building a Separate School house in the South Ward was done by the same gentleman.

The present Convent was also built by a Protestant contractor, and the plastering of the Catholic Church was done by Mr. Whitehair. The other public or quasi public buildings that occur to my mind just now recently erected by Roman Catholics, are the City Hotel block, erected by Messrs. Garvey and Dolan, and buildings erected by Mr. Edward Phelan in connection with his hotel, and would you be surprised to learn that the redoutable Thomas himself had the superintendence or the contract of all these buildings? The architect in all cases was also a Protestant.

Now, Sir, when you consider that for all these jobs there were Catholic competitors, and that it would be a very easy matter for the parties named to find as competent a man, to say the least, as Mr. Thos. Rutherford, it will be readily admitted by all fair minded people that the assertion made by him was entirely groundless, and that he, above all others, had no reason to make it.

So far as objecting to giving the contract to Mr. Bogue is concerned, I have nothing to say, but that the Board is perfectly right in not giving an important contract to a person with whom they would be very likely to have trouble, but to put it on the ground of religion, is very absurd, as Mr. Bogue is not Catholic enough to support the Separate Schools or Protestant enough to support the Nicholls Hospital, his aim evidently being to get off with paying as little as he possibly can to the municipality or charitable institutions, whether humanity suffers or not.

Thanking you for your valuable space,

I am yours, &c.,

'A Spring Message'

From the New Firm of

H. LeBRUN & CO.

Sign of the Golden Horse-shoe.

The people of Peterborough and vicinity are all aware of the business change which took place in the CITY CLOTHING STORE on the first day of February last. The new firm beg leave to make their first bow to the public through the columns of the REVIEW, and to request a careful perusal of the following Spring and Summer circular:—

The City Clothing Store

in past years, by long experience in business, by buying always for spot cash, importing direct from the principal houses of the old country and from the leading houses of Canada, and by strict economy in conducting its business, has always been able to force prices down to an exceedingly fine point. The members of which the new firm is composed will form a still stronger "combine," by which the CITY CLOTHING STORE will be even better prepared to procure for its customers a continuation of those superior inducements in the future for which it has been noted in the past.

Men's Clothing.

The magnitude of our stock and lowness of prices gives us a great advantage over all other competitors in the trade. We carry in stock all the fast selling lines, styles and patterns, and can fit the tall, the short, the fat and the lean. MORE SUITS, BETTER FABRICS, FINER STYLES than were ever handled before.

Special values in FINE SPRING OVERCOATS, and Fine Spring and SUMMER SUITS. Don't fail to see them. The superb styles, workmanship, and the beautiful fabrics and patterns that we offer will surprise you.

Merchant Tailoring.

"For the apparel oft proclaims the man."

Fine dressers in search of new, neat and nobby OVERCOATINGS, SUITINGS or TROUSERINGS will find this department crowded to overflowing with cloth from all countries. To select from the largest assortment is an advantage we offer to our customers, backed up by the skill of experienced cutters and tailors. Besides perfect fit and first-class trimmings, we guarantee absolutely first-class workmanship.

Boys' and Youths' Clothing.

Clothing for the little ones—boys and children—has always been a specialty with us. We have always sought to give great values in this department, and to provide a larger and finer variety of goods for parents to select from than they could find elsewhere.

This means that we are showing a large assortment of BOYS' AND CHILDREN'S SUITS, BOYS' and CHILDREN'S BLOUSES, SHIRT WAISTS, PANTS, &c.

This spring there are an unusual number of new and nobby styles and an enlarged variety of fabrics and patterns. Be sure and see our stock.

Gents' Furnishings.

Gentlemen of Peterborough seeking the latest styles and best values for their money, as well as an opportunity of selecting from the largest stock of Furnishing Goods, should not fail to visit this department at once. We offer the finest, best selected and the largest assortment of NECKWEAR, HOSIERY, UNDERWEAR, GLOVES, SHIRTS, HANDKERCHIEFS, etc., to be found in any first-class establishment.

Cut on the Forehead.

John Neil, one of the hands employed at Forsyth's fanning mill works, had a narrow escape this morning. A shade deeper and the skull would have been cut.

Y.M.C.A. Notes.

Mr. George Fuller gave a practical address to the young men Saturday evening There was a large attendance and much interest manifested.

Beginners Bible class Sabbath morning was a time of profit to all who were present. Last evening we had the privilege of having addresses from Rev. Dr. Parsons, Toronto, and Mr. George Fuller. Both spoke with power and the pointed remarks on Christian work and workers were just what we needed and we are assured the large number of young men present had their hearts stirred and went away firm in the resolve they would love Christ. Mr. Fuller's appeal to the unsaved was heart-searching and is sure to bear fruit. This meeting for men is growing in numbers and power. Christians will kindly remember meetings in their prayers.

The Ladies Auxiliary will meet to-morrow, Tuesday afternoon, at 3 p.m. in the parlor for the purpose of perfecting arrangements for the Garden Party at Mrs. Dixon's on Friday evening. A large attendance is requested.

Mr. T. S. Cole, Travelling Secretary, will be in town to-morrow.—COM.

LITTLE ONES AT CHURCH.

Children's Day at the Baptist Church—An Interesting Service and Appropriate Sermon.

Sunday morning was bright and cheery—just the weather for children's day. At the Baptist Church the hundred little men and women sat in the centre seats of the church and sang prettily the hymns that they have learned in the Sunday school. The bright and happy faces were set off by the neat and fresh dresses, and the whole group looked like a bed of June flowers. The service was conducted by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Parker, and by Mr. E. Duff, superintendent of the Sunday School. Misses Gilmour and Stratton led the children in singing, Miss Hutchison accompanying on the organ. The very little people filled the front seats, with the older scholars further back

On commencing service the children sang "Jesus Loves Me," and the 23rd Psalm was read in unison by the school. A brief prayer by the pastor followed. The infant class sang "Storm and Sunshine," with a verse in recitative, spoken by Master Kidd. A chorus was sung by the scholars during the taking of collection, after which Hymn 305 was sung by the congregation.

Then the pastor rose to address the children, taking his text from Prov. 3. 6. "In all thy ways acknowledge Him and He shall direct thy paths." Addressing himself to the children, the pastor in plain language pointed out the lesson of advice contained in the text. It was, he said, good advice. It was the best advice and thoroughly Christian. While we should pay attention to advice of those more learned and intellectual than others, we must select from these only such as were good at heart. In the text we have the advice of Solomon, the wisest man that ever lived, that just to the extent that we acknowledged Him He would direct our paths. Some people acknowledged God's presence at the prayer meeting or at church, but rarely acknowledged His presence during the hours of business. This was all wrong. His influence and protection was everywhere. From the incidents recounted and personages mentioned in the book of Exodus the pastor drew illustrations and examples of those who had acknowledged the presence and guidance of God. The life of the apostle Paul was full of incidents portraying the all powerful hand of God in directing man's actions and life.

The children then sang, led by the choir, "Precious Jewels."

Resuming his address Rev. Mr. Parker talked to the little ones of God's promises, made in all faith and never, never broken. No matter what the circumstances God never forgot. As an illustration of this he referred to the life of Joseph, of Daniel, whom God kept through all vicissitudes and dangers. Other illustrations drawn from Bible history were related all bearing on the principles laid down in the text.

The service concluded by singing, "Shall we gather at the River," and prayer.

At the Central Bridge Works.

Last week the work of erecting one of the largest machine tools in Canada was completed at the Central Bridge Works here. The tool is a massive piece of work, standing on a stone foundation, and is technically known as a triple combined punch and shears and will form an important addition to the plant of the works. The tool weighs a little over 12 tons and is capable of shearing off a bar of steel 10 inches wide by 1½ inches thick at one bite. Plates can be cut through two feet from the edge. The punch will drive a hole 1½ inches in diameter through a steel plate 14 inches thick, and in the angle iron shears bars 6x6 inches can be severed with the greatest ease. The tool was built by Rushworth & Co., Yorkshire, England. On Friday Mr. Law received orders from the C. P. R. to build and erect two bridges, one at Lennoxville and one at Cookstown in the Province of Quebec. Both are railroad bridges and will be made of best material and great strength.

To-morrow's Trip.

Everything points to a joyous and pleasant excursion on Tuesday. Taking place under such agreeable auspices, that of the Masonic fraternity of the town, the conditions are almost certain that it will be well attended. The route to be travelled by this excursion, after running through the northwestern portion of the town, lies alongside the most highly cultivated farms and verdant fields of the township of Smith—in the very heart of one of the finest farming sections of Canada. Interest in this new trip northward to Bridgenorth, will be heightened by the splendid midsummer appearance of the country just now, as well by the varied reflections on the present available resources and future growth of business awaiting development by this new connecting link to the rear of the County of Peterborough. The excursion train leaves the G. T. R. station on the morning of the 18th inst., at 8:30 sharp, for Bridgenorth and Chemong. On arrival at Chemong Lake the excursion party will embark on board the steamer Beaubocage and palace barge Paloma, of the T. V. N. Company's line, and enjoy an invigorating sail up the favorite waters of Chemong Lake, and through the picturesque scenery that abounds all along its shores, to Bobcaygeon, calling at Jacob's Island—a popular camping and sporting resort. Parties who desire may spend the day here and enjoy the excellent fishing and the bracing air around this island, or proceed onward to Bobcaygeon. Arrangements have been made with the hotels in Bobcaygeon to furnish dinner for this excursion party at reduced rates. The committee will take charge of all baskets, etc., and see that every attention is paid to the comfort of excursionists. Hot and cold water will be provided, and cool summer drinks and refreshments will be obtainable on the palace barge. The steamer leaves Bobcaygeon on the return trip at 2:30 p.m., reaching Bridgenorth at 6 p.m., to connect with the train for Peterborough.

SPECIAL CHURCH SERVICE

ANNIVERSARY SERMONS IN ST. PAUL'S CHURCH.

Dr. Parsons, of Toronto, Preaches Two Eloquent and Forcible Discourses—Service of Praise by the Choir this Evening—Church Notes.

There were special services in several of the local churches yesterday, and the congregations that turned out both morning and evening to all the churches were large.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES.

Yesterday was the anniversary of the erection of St. Paul's church, and Dr. Parsons, of Toronto, occupied the pulpit and preached the anniversary sermons, which were eloquent and able efforts. In the morning an immense congregation filled the church and listened to a lengthy but magnificent discourse by the Toronto divine, which was based on the words:—

"And be found in Him, not having mine own righteousness, which is of the law, but that which is through the faith of Christ, the righteousness which is of God by faith."—Phil. iii, 9.

The theme of the rev. gentleman's sermon, and also of the morning lesson, was Righteousness and Faith, and for nearly an hour he eloquently set before the congregation the importance of seeking righteousness through Jesus Christ by faith and not by works and outward observances. He said their idea of righteousness was so perverted by selfishness as to hide the revelation and truth of the Word of God. The word righteousness expressed an absolute truth. God, in revealing truth to them, always did so in the concrete. Men were so crooked and perverted that even Christians would take the works of Confucius, Mencius and other of these ancient men and say these men worked out a plan of salvation which could compare with that of the Bible. But, the preacher said, these

MONGREL CHRISTIANS,

half devil and half Christian, put these doctrines of Confucius and the Buddhists' on a level with the Christian doctrine, when it was known that every good thought or sentiment in these systems had been stolen from the Word of God. Righteousness had become so perverted that God had to make an exhibition of it through Christ, and he said they must look at Him as a human God looking upon them with a human eye at that moment. Instead of doing this men were allowing these other doctrines to come in between them, and this was the main way that the devil was deluding the people in these days, by abstraction, which had no power or no life. The selected passage, he said, gave Paul's experience in righteousness, to get which they did not have to pray or perform works but simply to believe on the Lord Jesus Christ. Anxious sinners were told sometimes that they should pray and in praying this righteousness would come to them, but this was setting them on earthly props when all they had to do was to believe on the Lord Jesus. This was what he had heard preached by some of the leading professors in colleges, who told students who were seeking to be Christians, "Go pray, go read your Bible and my word for it you will be a Christian." This, the minister said, was a lie and setting them on the high road to hell. The people of that congregation he supposed believed in the second coming of Christ, but when He came they would be surprised to see some of those who had been working in the church or perhaps were office bearers left standing outside. Yet this would be the condition of some of them because they were and observance of the laws. The rev. gentleman said his text gave as the theme of his sermon the experience of God's righteousness, and he first considered at some length the continued and gradual work completed at the coming of God—this work of righteousness which began as soon as they believed on Him and then continued to increase in joy, peace, largeness, and application. Christians who had believed and were under the covering of God's righteousness, as their righteousness increased the more they saw of God's righteousness and their own unrighteousness, and he said if their conscience told them that they had social connections, habits or intercourses which prevented them from having closeness with Christ, then they must cut off that habit of drinking or dancing, or theatre-going, though it might be like cutting off their right hand, for if they were going to come to the likeness of God then they must be separated from everything that was not of Him. Then he spoke of the righteousness of God which was revealed in Christ and was received when He was received, of this righteousness as contrasted with our righteousness, and of this Divine righteousness as a producer of personal righteousness. In conclusion the minister made an application of the truths of the text, pointing out that they had need of the righteousness of God for acquittal, and the great privilege which they enjoyed by being given this wonderful holiness. In closing he said there was too much noise in religion to-day, and he did not believe in beating on tom-toms and making a great noise, for often the noise covered more than was intended. He said that if they had the righteousness which was found in Him abiding in them the end would be glory.

TRUSTING IN THEIR GOOD WORKS

THE EVENING SERVICE.

In the evening there was no service held in St. Andrew's Church, and a good many of that congregation availed themselves of the opportunity of hearing Dr. Parsons, and as a consequence St. Paul's Church was crowded. The choir, as at the morning service, sang a well-selected and excellently rendered anthem, and Dr. Parsons chose for the basis of a remarkably forcible, eloquent and enlightening discourse the words:—

"But these are written that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that believing ye might have life through His name."—John xx, 31.

NOTES.

This evening a service of praise will be given in St. Paul's church, in connection with the anniversary services. Mr. Parker, the organist, and the choir, have prepared an excellent programme and a musical treat may be expected.

Rev. E. F. Torrance preached in the Charlotte-st. church yesterday morning.

There was no service in St. Andrew's church on account of St. Paul's anniversary.

The Endeavor Society of St. Paul's church meets at 7.30 before the praise service.

LOCAL SPORTS.

The Maple Leafs Victorious at Cricket—Baseball and Trotting—Notes.

The Trinity College School eleven from Port Hope were defeated here on Saturday in their game of cricket, the game being decided on the scores of the first innings, as the home eleven did not finish their second innings before the time arrived for play to be stopped. The rain which fell at noon was the cause of this, and also accounts greatly for the visitors running up 78 runs in their second innings. The individual play of either team can be seen by the score and bowling analysis below, but a feature of the game was Hamilton getting two wickets in the second innings in one over. The visitors would have liked to have finished the game, but as the agreement was to stop play at 5.30, it was carried out. The score was as follows:—

A Game of Ball.

It is reported that a game of baseball was played on the P. A. A. A. grounds on Saturday afternoon between two nines, one from the Examiner office and Peterborough Bookstore, and the other from the REVIEW office; and it is also stated that the latter were defeated—nay, buried beneath the score of 41 to 9. Such is, alas! too true, but the public, who may jump to the conclusion that the REVIEW types are not much use in the sporting line, must be informed that they are great men playing lawn tennis or croquet. The reason why the Examiner men managed to run up such an agricultural score is easily explained, for it was apparent to the spectators that they had some spite or animosity against the unoffending sphere and slugged it freely, while on the other hand the REVIEW men, with a few exceptions when in the field, displayed a most marked lack of friendship for the ball when it was knocked in close proximity to where they unfortunately happened to be stationed, and they never succeeded in capturing the said ball until they had given the matter due consideration and the batter had gained his base or bases. But why was it that the REVIEW players scored only nine runs? Simply because when they left the field to go to bat they also left their animosity for the leather behind them, and were so thoughtful of the harm that might result if the ball were hit, that they struck the atmosphere instead, and so failed to tally the runs. But seriously the game was one sided, first because the REVIEW never had played or practiced baseball, with perhaps two exceptions, in years and also that they had no man who could stand behind the bat, so that three strikes, instead of being fatal for their opponents, was a sure way of getting to first base. The Examiner men were well practiced and the man who was behind the bat, McIntosh, caught a good game and did a great deal towards winning the game for his team. Stratton and Pearson, two of the best players on the team, were not strictly entitled to play as they are not connected with the Exam. at all. Two of the REVIEW'S best men were unable to play, so that this is not the best they can do by any means, and perhaps this is what the public will also hope. Neither side had to do any brilliant playing, although there was some playing which if it was not brilliant was something like it. However the game was played for fun, and was funny, as the following score of the six innings will show:—

EXAMINER.		REVIEW.
McNaughton 3b	4	Phillips c	2
Allison p	3	Mackay p	4
McIntosh c	6	Martin 1b	0

BY INNINGS

Examiner	7	6	4	6	8	10—41
Review	2	0	1	1	4	1—9

It required two umpires to finish the game, as Turnbull was fatigued at the end of the third innings and was relieved by Dr. Brennan. Both of these gentlemen were impartial and not a kick of any kind was made.

There will be a baseball match played between the Astonishers, of Ashburnham, and the Association team on the P.A.A.A. grounds this evening.

Racing at the Park.

On Saturday afternoon a couple of match races were run off at the driving park, under the management of Mr. John Newhall. The attendance was not large, but the two events which were contested were very good exhibitions. The judges' stand was occupied by Messrs W. Croft, A. McNeil and Foy.

The first event was the matched race between Wm. Whelan's "Remedy" and J. J. Bickle's "Favorite" for $25 a side. The race was for the best three heats in five, and four heats were trotted before the race was won. "Remedy" proved to be too fast for Bickle's flyer and won the purse, the running being as follows:—

Whelan's Remedy	1	2	1	1
Bickle's Favorite	2	1	2	2

Best time, 2.32.

The other race was a good one, and was evenly contested. Brown's pacer, "Maud B.," was matched against Pettit's pacer "Jerry," for $50 a side, and the latter succeeded in taking three straight heats, although he was closely pushed by Brown. The track was a little heavy, which, it is claimed, had something to do with "Maud B." not making better showing. The summary of the race was:—

Pettit's Jerry (Lakefield)	1	1	1
Brown's Maud B.	2	2	2

Time, 2.15, 2.20, 2.26.

MONDAY, JUNE 17, 1889.

PRETTY SISTER OF JOSE.

By FRANCES HODGSON BURNETT.

Only she seemed in the midst of all the loud-voiced eagerness and delight to sit alone, a cold little figure vaguely tormented by the gaiety and the voices and the color of fluttering fans and ribbons and costumes The deep rose had fled from her face; she sat with her hands wrung on her knee and waited for one moment to come.

The great bull ran bellowing round the arena; little beribboned darts were flung at him and stuck in his shaggy shoulders; brilliant cloaks were flaunted in his face—taunting cries mocked him. He charged hither and thither in blind fury, scattering men and horses, who only returned again to the attack.

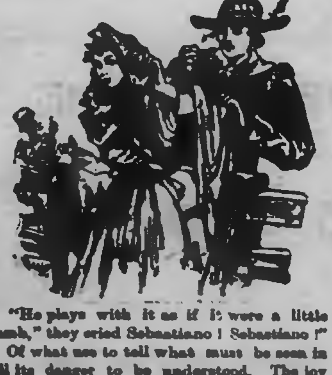
"It takes too long," communed Pepita. "It takes too long."

And then the voices began to call for Sebastiano. "Sebastiano! Sebastiano!" on every side—even the grand ladies and their cavaliers clapping their hands and calling also. The beauties in the high places were always ready to see him come, and to give him a welcome when he risked his life to amuse them.

He stepped forth in his rich dress and with his gallant bearing, a more beautiful and gay figure than ever it seemed the excited people thought. He had grown finer, without doubt, they said. His face was a little pale, but that only made more beautiful his long dark eyes, under their dense straight black lashes. It was the women who said this, and who saw the richness of his dress—the colors of his devise—the close curl of his crisp hair—the grace of his movement. The men saw his superb limbs—his firm step—his quick glance—his bright sword.

"Come, little slayer of bulls," they shouted, "and show us what you would have taught the people of America.

And it appeared they were not to be disappointed in their expectation of sport. They saw that when he stood before the bull and made a little mocking bow of salute he looked into its small furious eyes with a smile, as it drew near—a bellowing black mass, snorting and throwing up the dust. It was as ready to begin as he. It rushed upon him and he was gone. He played with it—led it on—defied it—eluded it. The flashing sword seemed to become a score of glittering blades—the people shouted—rose in their seats—leaned forward—laughed—mocked the bull—cried out praises of sword and man and beast—of each leap—each touch of the steel's point.



"He plays with it as if it were a little lamb," they cried Sebastiano! Sebastiano!"

Of what use to tell what must be seen in all its danger to be understood. The joy and exultation rose to fierce fever-head—the cries swelled higher—faces flushed and eyes sparkled and flamed—while the brilliant figure darted—leaped—attacked—played with death as it had done scores of times before.

Only Pepita sat without colour or applause—only Pepita's fan was motionless amidst all the fluttering—though her breast moved up and down and the throbbing in her side was like the beating of a hammer. She was speaking to herself, though her lips were closed—she was speaking to Sebastiano.

"He will look soon," she was saying. "He will look as he did that first day. My eyes will make him look. They will force him to it. Listen—it is Pepita whose eyes are on you. You must feel them. You have not forgotten. No. And it is Pepita—Pepita!"

All the strength of her body and soul she threw into her gaze—all the fire of her young wildly beating heart and throbbing pulses.

"You must hear," she said, "Pepita! Pepita!"

And unconsciously she leaned forward so that her white face and great eyes, and the little black head with the rose burning in its hair stood out among the faces of those about her.

And he looked up and saw her and their eyes met; and without knowing she started to her feet.

No one knew, no one but herself saw how it happened: even she did not understand until all was past. Their eyes met as they had done on the day a year before. No, not as they had done then, but with a strange new look. Sebastiano started—the arena swam before him—there was a second—a fatal second in which he saw only the small face without color and the red rose which was the color of blood. Then there was a roar near him—a roar among the people—a wild shriek from the women. The bull was upon him—he made a mis-step and was caught amid the shrieks and bellows and flung inert far out upon the hoof-trodden dust with the blood pouring from his side.

ONE YEAR IN JAIL.

Dr. J. C. Bright of Chatham Convicted of Criminal Malpractice.

CHATHAM, June 15.—At the General Sessions Thursday, Dr. James Cook Bright of this place was convicted of the crime of furnishing a noxious drug to a young girl named Clara Douglas. Detective T. Wasson worked up the evidence for the Crown and Professor Ellis analysed the medicine which was given to the girl. Bright, who was acquitted once before when tried on a similar charge, was sentenced to one year in jail.

Detective Wasson is following up the M.D.s who do anything crooked, and having them brought before the council so that their names will be struck off the roll. For some time it has been the practice of a lot of quacks from the other side to come to Canada representing themselves as a great medical association by having a doctor who is registered in Canada as one of them and under cover of his diploma commencing operations. Dr. McKeown's conviction here a few days ago has probably put an end to this scheme.

A SUICIDE IN CAMP.

John Adderson of the 35th Batt. Drowns Himself in the Niagara River.

NIAGARA, Ont., June 16.—John Adderson of No. 1 Co., 35th Batt., Simcoe, was found dead this morning on the shore of the river above Paradise Grove. He had left the camp Saturday morning in a discontented state; he did not turn up during the day and a party was detailed to search for him. His remains were brought into town this forenoon by some of his comrades and placed in a room in the Court House, where they will remain until the coroner from Port Dalhousie arrives. It is feared the poor fellow committed suicide by drowning and that his body had washed ashore, as he was party dressed.

CUPID'S HARNESS.

Most women naturally look forward to matrimony as their proper sphere in life, but they should constantly bear in mind that a fair, rosy face, bright eyes, and a healthy, well-developed form, are the best passports to a happy marriage. All those wasting disorders, weaknesses, and functional irregularities peculiar to their sex, destroy beauty and attractiveness and make life miserable. An unfailing specific for these maladies is to be found in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle-wrappers, and faithfully carried out for many years. $1.00 per Bottle, or Six Bottles for $5.00.

ATTRACTION
—AT—
TURNBULL'S

The first month of summer is an interesting period to the retail buyer. Keep your eye on this column, it's newsy. Each week things will appear that are the month passes will likely make you richer for the reading.

There is scarcely a weak spot in our Trimmed Millinery yet. The latest hat kind are turning up their pretty faces every day and all the time floods of freshness and brightness keep pouring in new goods constantly. That job line of Untrimmed Hats we spoke of last week is what pleases everybody, variety and prices being right. This week we have placed on our Dress Goods counter a dozen pieces of Fancy Dress Cloths at fifteen cents a yard. The only reason we can conceive that these goods have not sold earlier at higher prices is that they were too new. They ought to, and no doubt will, go out very fast now. Attention is called to them. Shanting Pongee, the dustless kind. You know how the heathen Chinee crams dust into the common run of Pongees; he does not do it to the Shanting—Pure Silk and clean. These goods make up beautiful with our fine Henriettas.

In the Tweed Department we have a fine line of Halifax Tweeds that handle soft and fleecy, just as they ought to handle.—Sale price 35 cents.

We expect to-morrow's train to bring us in a large shipment of Corsets. We keep what our judgment says is the best make in the trade. We see representatives from all the factories. Our 50c. Corsets, we believe, are the best shown in Peterborough for years.

We have been able to repeat that line of Ladies Black Hose, heavy weight, at 15c. a pair. Those who have had these goods will be glad to hear they can get them again now.

Pink is the favorite color in Chambrays this season again. A fresh lot just arrived.

We keep suits for boys and small boys either with or without trimmings, at all prices. Before you buy see them.

PURE LIME FRUIT JUICE.
WHAT IS LIME JUICE?
This question is rendered necessary by the prominent attention Lime Juice is attracting as the Best Temperance Beverage. The answer is that it should be the juice of the Lime Fruit without admixture.
By the "MONTSERRAT" Company alone is the Lime Fruit cultivated for this purpose, and great care should be taken to obtain this brand (as supplied by the British Government) in lieu of the numerous concoctions sold under the name of Lime Juice Cordials, Prepared Lime Juice, etc. Sold by all Druggists, Grocers, and at the leading hotels.

THE "HERETICS'" APPEAL.

SINLESS PERFECTION DISCUSSED BY PRESBYTERIANS.

The General Assembly Grapple With the Galt Heresy Case—The Methodist Conference—Toronto Topics.

TORONTO, June 18.—The appeal of William Henry, David Caldwell, James K. Cranston, John D. Cranston, Alexander B. Cranston, Lizzie Morton and Mrs. Alexander Kay, against the action of the Synod of Toronto and Kingston in dismissing their appeal against the decision of the Guelph Presbytery in sustaining the action and decision of the session of Knox Church, Galt, occupied the General Assembly nearly all of yesterday. Many interested parties from Galt and Guelph were present. The appeal is in reference to what is known as "The Galt Heresy" as to sinless perfection of believers on earth. The minutes of the Synod of Toronto and Kingston were read. They declared "that the doctrinal position of the appellants is not in harmony with the subordinate standards of the Presbyterian Church and the Word of God, and that as the appellants declare that they are determined to teach the doctrinal views they at present hold, until convinced that they are mistaken, the synod resolves that the action of the Presbytery of Guelph be sustained." James K. Cranston, John D. Cranston and Mrs. Kay were heard in their own behalf, the first named defining their belief as progressive sanctification and Mrs. Kay stating: "I find that I have the victory of sin, and that with a pure, clean heart, possessed by the Holy Ghost, I can take even a tongue-thrashing without resentment." Rev. Alexander Jackson of Galt Presbyterian Church gave an exhaustive resume of the case, tracing its development for four years. Dr. Middlemiss, the representative of Guelph Presbytery, said that the brethren and sisters were not excommunicated. All they desired to prevent was the dissemination of a dangerous doctrine. Rev. Dr. McLaren, representing the synods of Toronto and Kingston, followed and the debate was adjourned until to-day. The other business transacted yesterday was the choice of Ottawa for next year's meeting of the General Assembly, the appointment of the committee to draft loyal addresses to the Queen and the Governor-General, and the consideration and discussion of the report of the French evangelization in Canada.

Yesterday morning at the Methodist Conference held at the Broadway Tabernacle the report from the Statistical Committee was presented. It showed that there were 196 ministers in active service in the Toronto Conference. There was a complete membership of 34,931, an increase of 1693 over last year. The increase in ministers' stipends was $7000. There are 77 circuits in the conference paying less than $600 per annum; 53 circuits pay less than $500 and 25 less than $400. Rev. Dr. Eley, a returned Japan missionary, contradicted any impression which might exist that the followers of Buddha were falling off. In Tokio a $600,000 temple had been dedicated to Buddha; in Yeddo, at a cost well nigh fabulous, a temple had been erected to Buddha. All of which went to show the necessity for mission work in Japan. A deputation from the Presbyterian General Assembly was introduced and fraternal sentiments expressed. In the afternoon the delegates visited the Whitby Ladies' College.

Three boys, ranging in age from 8 to 10, appeared before the Police Magistrate yesterday charged with breaking into the cigar store, 167 Queen-street west on Sunday afternoon and stealing cigars and cigarettes. Ross was sent to the Reformatory for three years. Willis to jail for five days. O'Brien was discharged. George S. Nelson, proprietor of the Model Lodging House in Lombard-street, and his wife were convicted of keeping a house of ill-fame. They were each fined $100 or six months' imprisonment.

Divorce Facilities in England.

LONDON, June 17.—The prospects of the bill which Mr. Hunter, M.P., has introduced into the House of Commons as regards additional facilities for divorce on the part of women do not seem to wear a very cheery look. Mr. Hunter proposes that a woman should be entitled to petition for a dissolution of marriage on the grounds of her husband's adultery or of his desertion without reasonable cause for four years, instead of, as at present, adultery and desertion or cruelty combined. There are no doubt arguments on the side of Mr. Hunter's proposal, and strong arguments too. It is feared, however, that his bill will have but a poor chance in the struggle with so many other arrears of legislation.

Ambitious City News.

HAMILTON, June 17.—The test of a new set of pumps at the beach commenced to-day at 11.30. Mr. Worswick of Guelph and Mr. Reid of this city are in charge. The test will consist of forty-eight hours' straight-away run, and six hours' pumping over the standpipe.

James Palmer, a Newark (N.J.) attorney, was married this afternoon to Miss Lizzie Wilson, youngest daughter of John Wilson, Rev. Dr. Laidlaw officiating.

George and Peter Williams (colored), father and son, were arrested early this morning while carrying a number of recently killed chickens. They subsequently admitted stealing the fowls from a farmer named Hudson.

WITH CASH AND A PISTOL.

PAYMASTER DAVID MAY MADE A BOLD DASH FOR EUROPE.

He Fell Among Other Thieves in Montreal—Betrayed to the Police He Resists Arrest But is Overpowered and Jailed.

MONTREAL, June 17.—Detective Arcand of the Montreal police force made a clever arrest on Saturday afternoon. He was on duty at the Grand Trunk depot in the morning when the New York train came in and noticed among the passengers a young man looking right and left as if he was afraid of being noticed. Arcand thought this suspicious, so he made up his mind to follow up his movements. The young man proceeded to the Balmoral Hotel, where he registered as James Knox, New York. He deposited his valise and received a check for it. Then he went to another hotel near the Dalhousie-square depot, where he registered his name as Edwards. Returning to the central part of the city by by-streets, still followed by Arcand, he went to Moss's pawn shop, in Notre Dame-street, and bought a revolver. Then he went to the office of the Beaver line and purchased a ticket for Europe. Detective Arcand thought he was intending to commit suicide.

The young man, whose name is David May, went down on board the Lake Winnipeg, where Arcand accosted him. After some conversation he gave himself away and said he was a book clerk of Messrs. Amos Dotterer & Son, brick-makers, of Point Breeze, N.J., which is about ten miles from Philadelphia, where he made off with about $4000 of his employers' money, which he, as paymaster, had drawn on Friday to pay the hands. He begged for mercy and to be allowed to go, in fact he offered $1000 at the central station if they would let him off and say nothing. On being searched $3400 was found on his person. Chief Hughes at once telegraphed to the Chief of Police, Philadelphia, about the matter and the following reply was received:

"Hold David May; charge, bringing stolen money into the Dominion, George Dotterer, his employer, from whom he stole between three and four thousand dollars, will leave by first train, accompanied by Detective Murray, for your city to prosecute him. Take charge of all money and effects."

While Detective Arcand was with May on board the Lake Winnipeg, Detective Kellert came up on the same case. It is stated that May, after leaving the Balmoral, went to a saloon in Griffintown, where he got into conversation with three well known thieves, who speedily found out that he was an absconder with a large amount of money in his possession. They so worked upon his fears that he consented to give them $25 each if they would secure him from arrest until he could leave for Europe, for which place he had bought a ticket. They took him to the C.P.R. hotel, near Dalhousie-square station, where they left him, he registering under the name of James Edwards, Quebec. Growing suspicious of his protectors' good intentions he asked the proprietor of the hotel if he knew where he could buy a revolver. This and the man's nervous behavior aroused the landlord's suspicions and he called in Detective Arcand, who could see nothing wrong in his behavior. He then left the hotel.

The thieves returned, and finding their prey had escaped them, they went to Detective Kellert and told him that there was an American absconder in town with a large amount of money. Kellert found him on board the Lake Winnipeg with Arcand, as already stated. It was after a considerable struggle, in which the revolver played a prominent part, that they were able to take him to the Central station. There was a rumor that the amount of defalcation was $21,000, but the telegram received from Philadelphia places it at between $3000 and $4000, and that amount is undoubtedly correct.

Detective Kellert went to the Balmoral hotel yesterday and searched May's valise, when he found $15.75 therein, together with a new suit of clothes and a quantity of shirts, collars, cuffs, ties, etc., which May had bought preparatory to his projected ocean voyage. May stated, after he was arrested, that when he arrived here on Saturday morning he was on the point of going back, and he would have done so had he thought his creditors would not have proceeded criminally against him. Upon reflecting, however, that they might put him into jail, he finally decided to go to England, and after getting back what he had spent, to make a restitution of the whole amount.

HE HAD TO DISGORGE.

A Hotel Cook Robs his Chef of $1000 and is Tracked to Montreal.

MONTREAL, June 17.—Mr. Hoey, who runs the famous Holloway cottages at Long Branch, has an English chef who by dint of hard saving had amassed the sum of $1000. One of his sub cooks got the $1000 within easy reach and suddenly discovered that Montreal was a nice city to live in. While on his way here he passed through New York, and meeting there a mutual friend of his and the chef's they put in a good time together, the cook paying the bills. A few days afterwards, the mutual friend learned of the disappearance of the chef's $1000. He immediately surmised where it had gone, and also remembered seeing among the cook's possessions a railway ticket for Montreal. He informed the chef of his knowledge of the cook's whereabouts, and, aided by a letter of introduction from Inspector Byrnes of New York, to Mr. Woodruff of the Balmoral Hotel, they came on to Montreal. Mr. Woodruff called on Detective Trompe, and the trio scoured the town with no success. Finally the chef and his friend discovered the cook in Notre Dame-street, and the friend immediately seized him by the throat. The cook pleaded for mercy and offered to turn over what remained of his spoils, some $400, if they would let him go free. The offer was accepted, and the chef and his friend left for New York four hours after his arrival.

BURNT TO DEATH.

An Intoxicated Montrealer Accidentally Sets Fire to Himself.

MONTREAL, June 17.—E. C. Morris, aged 34 years, was found burnt to death in a closet on St. Maurice-street this morning. It is supposed that he had some matches in his pocket, and as he was intoxicated at the time he accidentally set fire to himself.

In the Court of Queen's Bench this morning Judge Church sentenced William Quaich, the Yankee thief, for sneaking a watch in Victoria-square, to five years in the penitentiary, and James W. Morganat, the confidence man, who was also charged with forgery, to seven years.

C. J. Doherty, Q.C., moved for arrest of judgment on behalf of John Hennessey, found guilty of indecent assault on Meline Roberts, on the ground that one of the jurors got through a window and went home during trial. Judge Church fixed the case for Wednesday, and in the meantime the juror Clark has admitted going home.

Refuses to Interfere.

LONDON, June 17.—Home Secretary Matthews, to whom a petition signed by many thousands of workmen was recently addressed praying for the release of George Harrison, now serving a five-year term of imprisonment for complicity in the Trafalgar-square riots, has given his decision refusing to interfere with the sentence.

A CHANCE FOR AMERICAN CAPITAL.

Proposed Railroad From the Falls of the Congo to Stanley Pool.

NEW YORK, June 17.—Collis P. Huntington, President of the Southern Pacific Railroad, has signed his willingness to subscribe $50,000, it is stated, towards building a railroad in Africa from the lower falls of the Congo River to Stanley Pool. It is also expected that other American capitalists will become interested in the enterprise.

It is said that the way was paved for sending American capital to be expended in African railroads through the friendship between Mr. Huntington and Mr. McKinnon, the great Scotch shipbuilder. The latter is a friend of the King of Belgium, whose interest in African affairs is well known. The Belgian Government, it is stated, has agreed to put $2,000,000 into the scheme and a syndicate of Belgian capitalists has offered an equal sum. Mr. McKinnon is interested to the extent of $100,000.

Surveys of the route of the road have been made, and the fact ascertained that there are about 3000 miles of navigable water above Stanley Pool. The length of the road will be 262 miles. Maps and plans are now on their way from Europe to this country.

FLOOD AND CYCLONE.

Kansas, Indiana and Virginia Suffer Severely from Wind and Rain.

ST. LOUIS, June 17.—In the Kansas wind and rain storms Uniontown, fifteen miles west of Fort Scott, on the Wichita and Western Railway, was swept away and two women and four children were drowned. Uniontown, which is a place of 800 inhabitants, is in the midst of a thickly settled country, and it is feared the loss of life is even heavier than reported. All the wires are down and nothing can be learned definitely.

In Fort Scott, Lamb & Mead's ice dam burst, causing the water in Buck Run to rise at the rate of three feet an hour, carrying away several houses and the bridge across Sixth-street. The part of Fort Scott known as Belltown is entirely under water. Several bridges were washed out, and trains were stopped on both sides of Fort Scott. The Kansas, Nebraska and Dakota track is under water for nine miles out. The Memphis road is badly damaged for about 15,000 feet, ten miles north of Fort Scott. All the people in the bottom in East Fort Scott moved out. At last accounts the water had stopped rising, and if no more rains falls the flood will rapidly subside.

An Indiana Cyclone.

LIGONIER, Ind., June 17.—A cyclone passed through this town yesterday afternoon, tearing down trees and unroofing houses along its path. Loss $10,000.

Hail Storm in West Virginia.

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., June 17.—A heavy storm passed over the southwestern part of Berkeley county last evening. A gale of wind that did great damage was followed by a terrible thunder storm. This was followed by a heavy hail storm that added greatly to the damage. The hail stones lay in some places three or four inches deep. Crops and trees were ruined. Live stock was badly bruised and in some instances animals were killed. Several houses and barns were wrecked by the wind. No loss of life has been reported.

JOHNSTOWN'S DEAD.

The Most Accurate Estimate Possible Places the Killed at 4125.

JOHNSTOWN PA., June 17.—Col. Rogers, who is in charge of the Bureau of Registration, reports to Gen. Hastings that the aggregate registration is 13,569 names; 2500 survivors have left the locality without registering, and many others are being entertained in the vicinity, who, because they were not affected by the flood, refuse to register, as they think they are not legitimately survivors. Col. Rogers estimates the survivors at 25,000, and these figures are presumably correct.

Deducting these 25,000 survivors from the total population leaves 4125 lives lost. This estimate is as positive as it will probably ever be possible to give, as it is made up from careful research, house-to-house canvass and comparisons with proof-sheets of the Johnstown directory, which was compiled just one month previous to the disaster, and is now in the hands of the printer. Six bodies were found yesterday.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

Diphtheria in Carleton County—Nothing Yet Done with the Graham Petition.

OTTAWA, June 17.—Diphtheria in a rather malignant form is reported to be prevalent in the neighborhood of the village of Manotic, Carleton county. Several grown up persons, as well as a large number of children, are under medical treatment.

On Sunday next the fete dieu will be celebrated in the Catholic churches in the usual manner. The route of the procession this year will be through Lower Town.

Nothing has yet been done with the Graham petition for a reference of the Jesuits' Estates Act to the Supreme Court. It has come formally before the Privy Council and there remains.

SERIOUS STABBING AFFRAY.

Farmer Grills of Dunnville Inflicts Two Wounds on a Neighbor.

DUNNVILLE, June 17.—This morning about a mile south of here Mr. Thos. Grills stabbed Wm. Barry, a neighbor. Mr. Grills' horses broke into Mr. Barry's field of grain and this morning while he and a hired man were driving them out they were joined by Grills, who is a sickly man, when, after a heated conversation, both men drew their knives and clinched. Barry, who seems to have been the cooler, closed his knife before taking hold of his opponent when he received two cuts in the back, which although serious are not considered fatal. Grills has been arrested.

ABSCONDED WITH $800.

Forward Condition of the Crops in the Northwest—Dragged to Death.

WINNIPEG, June 17.—S. A. Urquhart, express agent at Saltcoats, absconded with $800 but was captured at Medicine Hat and taken back to Saltcoats.

General Superintendent Whyte, who has just returned from the west, says the crops are in a very forward condition. There has been ample rain west of Brandon.

A farmer named Abbey, residing near Deloraine, was dragged to death by a horse to-day, not a particle of clothing being left on him.

West Wellington Reformers.

PALMERSTON, June 17.—A meeting of the Reform Association of West Wellington was held in the Town Hall here to-day for the purpose of putting a candidate in the field for the next general Provincial elections. The names of Mr. James McEwing of the township of Peel and Mr. John Darroch of Minto were presented to the meeting, but they retired in favor of Mr. A. S. Allan of Clifford, the present member, who was unanimously offered the nomination and accepted it.

The Dresden Octocentenary.

DRESDEN, June 17.—The fetes now in progress here are in celebration of the Octocentenary of the Royal House of Saxony. It is the Albertine branch of the ruling House of Wettin, which counts amongst the oldest reigning families in Europe. Early in the tenth century it gave an Emperor to Germany.

CRONIN'S GORY CLOTHES.

SAID TO HAVE BEEN SENT ACROSS THE ATLANTIC.

It Was the Plan to Have the Doctor's Body Found in London—An Important Arrest in Winnipeg—The Prisoner's Story.

CHICAGO, June 17.—Dr. Cronin's blood-stained clothes are probably in London, Eng. They were shipped, it is claimed, from Chicago to London and consigned to some unknown conspirator on the other side of the Atlantic. This remarkable statement was made to the police yesterday by a man who claims to have full knowledge of what he is talking about. According to this unknown informant, Dr. Cronin's clothes were taken from his dead body and placed in a box, which had been provided for the purpose. In this box were placed all the clothes worn by the doctor at the time of his death, his watch and chain, and, in fact, every article of wearing apparel found on his person. This box was expressed to a man in New York city, and by him sent to London. It was first sent to New York as a precautionary measure in the event that any question should arise or any attempt be made to trace the clothes outside of Chicago.

In a few weeks at an opportune moment, Dr. Cronin's body was to have been found on the banks of the Thames River, England. The body which was to have been found would have been in an advanced state of decomposition. In every material particular this body would have corresponded exactly with that of P. H. Cronin, who suddenly disappeared from Chicago on the night of May 4, 1889, who was in Toronto a few days later, and who several days after that arrived in London. Upon him personal papers were to be found which would have revealed the motive of a murder and branded him as a British spy and Irish traitor. Such was to have been the denouement of the Cronin mystery.

The Winnipeg Arrest.

WINNIPEG, June 17.—An important arrest was made last night by the Winnipeg police in the person of Martin Burke, alias Cooper, alias Delaney, who is supposed to be one of the principals in the Cronin murder. Burke acted suspiciously in getting on a Canadian Pacific Railway train, which led to his arrest. He had a ticket to Liverpool. On arriving at the police station he was completely rattled and made contradictory statements. The Chicago officials look upon it as an important arrest and have wired the police here not to release Burke on any account. Burke says he will fight extradition and has secured legal advice.

WHAT BURKE SAYS.

The Prisoner Interviewed in His Cell—Dr. Cronin's Hat in His Valise.

WINNIPEG, June 17.—Martin Burke, the man arrested here last night for complicity in the Cronin murder, was seen in his cell to-night by a representative of the United Press. He is an athletic looking fellow and has a scar on the front part and left side of his head. His face expresses great determination and he looks like a fellow with sufficient nerve to assist in carrying out the details of the foul deed of which he is suspected.

In reply to questions he gave his name as Martin Burke and said he was from Chicago and on his way to the Old Country. On it being pointed out to him that this was not the way to the Old Country Burke seemed confused and after some hesitation said he was just taking a look around before going. He further stated he had left Ireland four years ago, proceeding straight to Chicago, where he was employed by the corporation. He knew Cronin to see him, but was not personally acquainted with him.

Burke further stated that he was not a member of the Clan-na-Gael and would claim British protection and refuse to go back with the Chicago officers.

Burke in purchasing a ticket to Liverpool gave his name as W. J. Cooper. He does not look like an innocent man who was outraged over his arrest, but takes it as a matter of course. He arrived here on Saturday night and put up at a second class hotel. He did not register.

In his valise was found a felt hat supposed to have belonged to Dr. Cronin. The name inside the hat appeared to be blotted out with the aid of chemicals. The chief of police sought to restore the letters and characters to correspond with Cronin's name, which was clearly distinguished. The prisoner admitted this afternoon that he has a brother in Chicago, so that there is now little doubt he is one of the famous Williams Brothers.

Burke's solicitor, in response to a question, said the intention was to resist to the bitter end any efforts to extradite the prisoner. The Chicago officer is expected to arrive at 2 o'clock to-morrow afternoon.

Said to be Williams.

CHICAGO, June 17.—It is stated by the police that the man arrested at Winnipeg yesterday is Williams who rented the Carlson cottage and had the furniture moved from No. 117 Clark-street to the cottage.

Fitzgerald Talks.

LINCOLN, Neb., June 17.—John Fitzgerald, president of the Irish National League of America, said last evening regarding the Cronin murder: "Has it been absolutely proved that Cronin is dead at all? Many persons are not satisfied with the identification as sworn to at the coroner's inquest. There was abundant room for doubt. But, admitting the murder, it seems evident, even from the wild evidence given at the inquest and furnished by the newspapers, that the Clan-na-Gael as a body had nothing to do with Cronin's death or disappearance. The charge against Alexander Sullivan of complicity in the murder has not a single fact to sustain it. I have not the slightest doubt of Mr. Sullivan's complete exoneration. Unless some good and efficient reason can be adduced that will in some degree explain why any Irishman should imbrue his hands in the blood of Dr. Cronin, the theory that he was murdered by men in the pay of the English secret service is as plausible as any." Mr. Fitzgerald suggested that if the English secret agents committed the crime, the object was to create a public outcry against Irish secret societies and to damage the whole Irish movement. Mr. Fitzgerald said that the Tory scheme to destroy the National League would prove a failure.

Mr Wiman Going Abroad.

NEW YORK, June 17.—Erastus Wiman will find it impossible to fulfil his engagement to speak at the farmers' demonstration at the Canadian Chautauqua on Dominion Day. Important business affairs will necessitate his departure for England on June 27. John Charlton, M.P., and Hon. Wm. McDougall have been requested by Mr. Wiman to speak in his place.

What Her Husband Said.

Though a young man he was to play the father, and the daughter chanced to be a very handsome woman. So when he forgot his part he could think of nothing better while holding his "child" than to say:

"Kiss your father."

And each time when he felt that his memory was about to fail he would save himself by crying out:

"Come to my arms, my child."

The husband of the daughter was heard to say that he thought "the author repeated himself very often."

FATHER CROTTY'S CHURCH CLOSED.

Preparations for the Shah of Persia's Reception in England.

LONDON, June 17.—In his church at Knockrea, Ireland, yesterday, Father Crotty announced to his congregation, composed as it has been for some time past of a single individual, that the church has been closed by the order of Bishop O'Dwyer. This course is taken on account of the persistency with which Father Crotty's former worshippers now boycott him. For several weeks past the only attendant at the services has been William Ryan, who is himself the subject of a merciless boycott, and he always sat alone in the great gallery of the church, while the police who were sent to protect him marched to and fro in the aisles.

Getting Ready for the Shah.

LONDON, June 17.—Three ironclads have been ordered to Sheerness on July 1 to attend the Shah of Persia on his arrival. He is to be received with royal honors and great preparations are in progress for the event.

A Sensation in London Clubdom.

LONDON, June 17.—The sensation of London clubdom is a startling slip by the engraver of The Illustrated London News in drawing pictures of the Vesuvius. Twenty-five dollars cannot buy a copy to-night. In London messengers are scurrying all over town calling back copies from all the news agents. In all railroad stations the sale has been stopped by telegraph. But the copies sent off by the American mail left before the blunder was discovered.

Her Head Still Missing.

LONDON, June 17.—The police for the past week have been searching for the undiscovered portions of the remains of the Fisher woman. They dragged the Thames at Battersea Park and had with them the dog that rendered valuable service in finding those portions of the remains that were discovered in Whitehall. The week's search has not been successful and the head of the unfortunate woman is still missing.

TRADE AND TRAFFIC.

Leading Features of the Grain and Produce Markets at Home and Abroad.

TORONTO, June 18.—The heart of the careful housekeeper, who is already beginning to think of the approaching fruit-canning season, will grow heavy when she learns that the price of sugar has again gone up. There is a strong probability that the market has gone up to stay up for at least a year. Prices advanced ⅛ of a cent on Saturday. Three causes have combined to produce the very rapid advance of the market during the past few weeks. They are: The small stocks, the great increase in the consumption and the existence in Europe of a syndicate which has got hold of a large quantity of beet sugar.

Flour—Trade is very dull and prices are purely nominal.

Wheat—The market continues strong and prices firm, with little movement. No. 2 spring is held on the Midland at 98 cents. No. 1 hard is unchanged at $1.08 and $1.09.

Barley—Nothing doing. Buyers offer 53 cents for No. 2.

Oats—Quiet. Good mixed are quoted at 30½ and 31c. on track.

Peas—Quiet and steady. At outside points 53c. is offered.

Bran—The market is steadier, but little is doing. Quotations are $10 to $10.50 on track.

Butter—The demand is moderate, with less liberal receipts. Choice rolls sold at 13 and 14 cents.

Cheese—Receipts are improving and prices remain unchanged at 9 to 10 cents.

Lard—There is a moderate trade. Canadian pails sold at 11 and 11½c. and American at 10 and 10½c.

Eggs—There is a fair trade doing, with prices steady at 11½ cents.

Potatoes—The demand is about equal to the supply, and prices continue steady at 35 to 40c. on track and 50c. out of store.

St. Lawrence market was dull yesterday morning. Very little was offered and there was no change in prices. Receipts of hay were small, and prices steady at $13 to $16. No straw was offered.

On the street one load of barley sold at 50 cents. On call 85 cents was bid for No. 2 red.

Oswego reports: Barley quiet and unchanged. No. 1 Canadian held at 70c. No. 2 extra held at 60c.

BEERBOHM'S REPORT.

Beerbohm reports: Floating cargoes—Wheat and corn nil. Cargoes on passage—Wheat firmer, held higher; corn steady. Mark Lane—English wheat firmer, foreign turn dearer; corn steady; flour firm. French country markets steadier. Liverpool—Spot wheat dull; corn fair inquiry; No. 1 Cal. 6s 9 1-2d; No. 2 Cal. 6s 6 1-2d; both 1-2d dearer. Weather in England fine. English farmers' deliveries of wheat during past week 41,765 qrs.; average price 28s 4d was 29s 9d. India shipments of wheat during past week—to U.K. 40,000 qrs.; to continent nil.

LIVERPOOL MARKETS.

Liverpool reports: Wheat, quiet; demand, poor; holders offer moderately. Corn, steady; fair demand. Spring wheat, 7s 1-2d and 7s 1 1-2d; red winter, 6s 4 1-2d and 6s 5d; No. 1 Cal., 6s 9d and 6s 10d. BADLY EXPENDED MONEY.

THE apologists of the Mowat Government point to the grants for colonization roads, schools, etc., when the attention of the people is called to the increased expenditure, the decreasing capital and the increasing taxes of the Province—taxes collected through raids upon the municipal treasuries. Yet the grants to schools have remained almost stationary, while the total expenditure has mounted upwards, and the appropriations for colonization roads, though they have been considerable in some years, have not been expended in a way to benefit the settlers or the Province to the extent that they should. Even supporters of that Government have been forced by the reckless mismanagement to cry out against the evil. The Rat Portage News is a Liberal paper, but its Liberal tendencies and its friendliness towards the Ontario administrators have been tried to such an extent that it protests against the waste of money by the Government. In a recent issue, speaking of a road said to be a necessity in that district, it says:—

"The whole road from the commencement needed some $10,000 or $12,000 expended upon it to put it in splendid shape, yet small grants are made every other year of about $2,000 or $3,000, and in the meantime the work done by money expended by a previous grant has all gone to ruin. Bridges erected over short stretches, which are no use except as a portion of the road, and therefore are never used, are going to rack and ruin through a combination of circumstances, and when any animals stray thereon, it is found the corporation are liable for heavy damages. The citizens have a right to expect something more from the Government than animal traps erected on this road, and if a grant of sufficient sum were passed in one amount some benefit might be derived by the public from the work, but in small amounts made yearly or every other year, it entails the sending up of men from the east to superintend and perform the work, whose travelling and other expenses are all charged up to the appropriation, and the amount actually expended is trifling indeed."

The people, not only in Algoma, but throughout the Province, have a right to expect that the money appropriated for colonization roads will be properly used, and not wasted in this fashion upon the expenses of officials, and bridges that are only an injury. But this is only what can be expected so long as the chief objects kept in view by the Government is party advantage and not the interests of the Provinde.

MR. MOWAT is going on a trip to England. Will he take the Quebec conference resolutions with him and have the power of disallowance abolished before he returns? This would give the Globe a chance to work up a reception for him.

An Ex-Toronto Man in a Buffalo Jail.

BUFFALO, June 16.—Joseph Pittman, a guest at the Tifft House, hailing from Toronto, is in jail on complaint of E. D. Tuthill, to whom he gave a sight draft for $100.90 on a Toronto firm. The draft came back dishonored. Pittman is a fine-looking gentleman, engaged in the sale of patent gas burners. He was formerly a dry goods merchant.

Eaten by Wolves.

KANSAS CITY, June 17.—Last Thursday two children of Edward Bachus, a farmer of Rosier, Mo., went to a creek a mile from home to fish. They did not return and searching parties were organized. Friday evening their bones were found near a lodge known as Wolf's Den. Wolves have been in that section for years, and it is thought the children were killed and eaten by the animals. The boys were 10 and 12 years of age.

The Sultan's Costly Hospitality.

The Turkish Government, as every one knows, is over head and ears in debt, and yet the idiotic Sultan is about to expend a large sum in building, decorating, and furnishing a palace within the grounds of Yildiz, as a residence for the Emperor William when he visits Constantinople in October. This crazy extravagance is the more reprehensible, inasmuch as the shores of the Bosphorus are almost lined by the magnificent palaces which were built by the last two Sultans, most of which are marvels of Oriental luxury and splendor. Several palace officials (male and female) are to be sent to Paris to select the furniture for the new residence.—London Truth.

Young Mr. George Vanderbilt has among his treasures the table which Napoleon wrote upon during his exile at St. Helena. It was presented to him by Mr. James McHenry, of London, whose house in Holland Park is a repository for interesting relics of the empire.

King Bushiri, an East African monarch, has put a definite value on missionaries captured by his troops. He holds three English clergymen in captivity at present and demands $5,000 as the price of their release. The British consul at Zanzibar will pay the ransom.

Many are the detractors of Charles Dickens, but his amanuensis has given him the most bitter blow of all. In an interview published some time since he says: "He (Dickens) was an insatiable cigarette smoker, and when dictating to me always had a cigarette in his mouth."

The Prince of Wales has warmly congratulated the Duke of Portland upon his betrothal to handsome Miss Dallas Yorke, and has intimated his intention to be present with the princess at the wedding. London society is full of rumors of the splendor which is to mark the marriage of one of the richest peers of England to the most beautiful woman in the United Kingdom.

TWO KINGS AT DINNER.

Their Lack of Courtesy and Absence of Etiquette.

The Duke of Wellington used to tell a story of Louis XVIII., King of France. The Duke was taking a family dinner with the old King and the princesses of his court, the Duchess of Angouleme and the Duchess of Berri. Upon the table at dessert was placed a dish of early strawberries. The King deliberately poured them all out into his own plate, covered them with cream and sugar and ate them, without offering any to the ladies or apologizing for not doing so.

Lord Mahon, the historian, on hearing the Duke relate this anecdote, capped it with another. William III., King of England, dining one day with his wife, Queen Mary, and Princess Anne, afterward Queen Anne, ate the contents of a dish of early peas without a word of apology to the two ladies. The Duke of Wellington laughed and said, "Aye, I hope it is not a royal custom." His guests must have known what he meant by this remark. He had recently gone through many troublesome and some disgusting experiences with that very vulgar and disreputable king, George IV., of whom the Duke afterward said that "he really could act like a gentleman—for fifteen minutes!"

There are no "nobles" more proud of their ancient lineage and fine breeding than those of Spain. Wellington, who lived among them for several years, said that they formed a little coterie about the court at Madrid, never lived upon their estates, had no public life and valued nothing but the petty distinction of the court circle. He described them as very good-natured people, of crude and primitive manners, but "complete liars and destitute of principle or high feeling."

A bright little boy of 7 years in Concord, N. H., wrote a gentleman in Boston as follows: "Dear Mr. A.: I have been asking papa what they do when they join the Masons. Papa would not tell me, but mamma says they ride a goat with shirt wrong side on. Do they?"

A small boy was recently present at a balloon ascension. As the gigantic bird-like machine sailed up into the clouds with its human freight the small spectator pulled his mother's dress excitedly and exclaimed: "What will the good God say when he sees that a-coming?"

Four-year-old Bessie was having her dollie dressed, and when it came to the bonnet, the little maid called for feathers, refusing to be satisfied with the flowers mamma bought her. "But they don't wear feathers, now, my dear," mamma said. "I can't help that, mamma; the thinks inside of me isn't like the thinks inside of other folks." Of course the feathers won.

Little Gracie is not quite 4 years old, but she has some ideas that belong to the "teens." Recently a lady called to sell various goods. When told that none were wanted her look of disappointment aroused Grace's sympathy. "Never mind, lady. I am getting to be a big girl and will soon have a home of my own. Then you call on me and I will buy something of you."

A bright little lad sitting by his father's side in a pew of the Green Ridge Presbyterian Church Sunday morning was given a coin to put upon the collection plate. No sooner had he deposited the coin than in a loud whisper and excited manner he asked: "Papa, have you saved any circus money?" A smile broad enough to go over a large section of pews were compelled by the circumstances.

Willie's little sister Bessie was allowed an "outing" with her mother one evening, but Willie could not go, and was only reconciled at last by the permission to "sit up late" with Aunt Hattie. As the evening wore on, however, the little man grew drowsy—gaping every few minutes. Auntie said, by and bye: "I expect Willie's sleepy," whereupon he straightened himself up briskly and said, with much emphasis: "O, no, I isn't, auntie—only my mouth needs stwetching!"

A little fellow who was earnestly searching the column of a certain religious journal for something in the juvenile department found the paper rather bulky to manage and spread it upon the floor. In reply to his little sister, who was impatient at his slowness, he defended himself by saying: "Well, you must remember that this paper has two parts—the religious and the sacrilegious!" It was the same boy, by the way, who announced that the Scripture lesson at school one morning was from the Book of Collisions.

Harry, aged 3 years, had been taught that white-winged angels floated through the heavens watching over good little boys. One day he approached his mentor with a far-away expression in his bright blue eyes and inquired: "W'at is 'em fings wif wings?" "Where, dear?" A small index finger pointed ceilingward. "Way, way up in ee 'ky, and they's looking for dead people." "Why, darling," exclaimed the mentor with a flush of pleasure at the thought that industrious teaching had left an impression, "they're angels." "No-o-o," with a stubborn shake of the head; "no, 'em's buzzards!"

Dhuleep Singh Asks for the Koh-i-Noor.

The Maharajah Dhuleep Singh sends a London paper a letter, addressed to the Queen, in which, after enumerating many alleged wrongs, he insists on the restoration to him of the Koh-i-noor. He says:—"It will be useless for me to demand the restoration of my kingdom, swindled from me by your Christian government, but which I hope shortly, by the aid of Providence, to retake from my robbers. But my diamond, the Koh-i-noor, I understand, is entirely at your own personal disposal. Therefore, believing Your Majesty to be 'the most religious lady' the your subjects pray for every Sunday, I do not hesitate to ask that this gem be restored to me out of your privy purse."

Making Out a Prima Facie Case.

An Albany woman was telling a Binghamton woman of the rapidity with which rents were shooting skyward in Albany. The Binghamton woman, after listening awhile, began to tell of the Binghamton rents. Then her small son interrupted her, just as she had finished telling what she paid per month in Binghamton, by remarking: "Why, that wasn't for a month, mamma; that was for a day." Both the women laughed at the boy's idea, but the little fellow kept right on and paralyzed his mother by adding: It must have been for a day, anyway, because the man used to come every day for the rent!" Reports say that the Binghamton woman collapsed.

The New U. S. Consul-General at Halifax.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—The President to-day appointed Wakefield G. Frye of Maine Consul-General at Halifax. Mr. Frye held that position during the Arthur Administration and was succeeded by Mr. Phelps, the present Consul-General. He was born in Maine, was a member of the Legislature and is a man of prominence in his State. He is not related to Senator Frye.

Lived to the Age of 105.

ST. JOHN, N.B., June 15.—The oldest man in St. John died yesterday. Cornelius Driscoll was born in Baltimore, County Cork, Ireland, in 1784, and was, therefore, 105 years old. He was a laborer, used no tobacco and scarcel[illegible] liquor. Up to the age of 90 he w[illegible] readily and until a few months ago [illegible] about the house. He claimed that his [illegible] died at 106 and two of his broth[illegible] to be 90.

'A Spring Message'

From the New Firm of

H. LeBRUN & CO.

Sign of the Golden Horse-shoe.

The people of Peterborough and vicinity are all aware of the business change which took place in the CITY CLOTHING STORE on the first day of February last. The new firm beg leave to make their first bow to the public through the columns of the REVIEW, and to request a careful perusal of the following Spring and Summer circular:—

The City Clothing Store

in past years, by long experience in business, by buying always for spot cash, importing direct from the principal houses of the old country and from the leading houses of Canada, and by strict economy in conducting its business, has always been able to force prices down to an exceedingly fine point. The members of which the new firm is composed will form a still stronger "combine," by which the CITY CLOTHING STORE will be even better prepared to procure for its customers a continuation of those superior inducements in the future for which it has been noted in the past.

Men's Clothing.

The magnitude of our stock and lowness of prices gives us a great advantage over all other competitors in the trade. We carry in stock all the fast selling lines, styles and patterns, and can fit the tall, the short, the fat and the lean. MORE SUITS, BETTER FABRICS, FINER STYLES than were ever handled before.

Special values in FINE SPRING OVERCOATS, and Fine SPRING and SUMMER SUITS. Don't fail to see them. The superb styles, workmanship, and the beautiful fabrics and patterns that we offer will surprise you.

Merchant Tailoring.

Fine dressers in search of new, neat and nobby OVERCOATINGS, SUITINGS or TROUSERINGS will find this department crowded to overflowing with cloth from all countries. To select from the largest assortment is an advantage we offer to our customers, backed up by the skill of experienced cutters and tailors. Besides perfect fit and first-class trimmings, we guarantee absolutely first-class workmanship.

Boys' and Youths' Clothing.

Clothing for the little ones—boys and children—has always been a specialty with us. We have always sought to give great values in this department, and to provide a larger and finer variety of goods for parents to select from than they could find elsewhere.

This means that we are showing a large assortment of BOYS' and CHILDREN'S SUITS, BOYS' and CHILDREN'S BLOUSES, SHIRT WAISTS, PANTS, &c.

This spring there are an unusual number of new and nobby styles and an enlarged variety of fabrics and patterns. Be sure and see our stock.

King Bushiri, an East African monarch, has put a definite value on missionaries captured by his troops. He holds three English clergymen in captivity at present and demands $5,000 as the price of their release. The British consul at Zanzibar will pay the ransom.

Many are the detractors of Charles Dickens, but his amanuensis has given him the most bitter blow of all. In an interview published some time since he says: "He (Dickens) was an insatiable cigarette smoker, and when dictating to me always had a cigarette in his mouth."

The Prince of Wales has warmly congratulated the Duke of Portland upon his betrothal to handsome Miss Dallas Yorke, and has intimated his intention to be present with the princess at the wedding. London society is full of rumors of the splendor which is to mark the marriage of one of the richest peers of England to the most beautiful woman in the United Kingdom.

TWO KINGS AT DINNER.

Their Lack of Courtesy and Absence of Etiquette.

The Duke of Wellington used to tell a story of Louis XVIII., King of France. The Duke was taking a family dinner with the old King and the princesses of his court, the Duchess of Angoulême and the Duchess of Berri. Upon the table at dessert was placed a dish of early strawberries. The King deliberately poured them all out into his own plate, covered them with cream and sugar and ate them, without offering any to the ladies or apologizing for not doing so.

Lord Mahon, the historian, on hearing the Duke relate this anecdote, capped it with another. William III., King of England, dining one day with his wife, Queen Mary, and Princess Anne, afterward Queen Anne, ate the contents of a dish of early peas without a word of apology to the two ladies. The Duke of Wellington laughed and said, "Aye, I hope it is not a royal custom." His guests must have known what he meant by this remark. He had recently gone through many troublesome and some disgusting experiences with that very vulgar and disreputable king, George IV., of whom the Duke afterward said that "he really could act like a gentleman—for fifteen minutes!"

There are no "nobles" more proud of their ancient lineage and fine breeding than those of Spain. Wellington, who lived among them for several years, said that they formed a little coterie about the court at Madrid, never lived upon their estates, had no public life and valued nothing but the petty distinction of the court circle. He described them as very good-natured people, of crude and primitive manners, but "complete liars and destitute of principle or high feeling."

A bright little boy of 7 years in Concord, N. H., wrote a gentleman in Boston as follows: "Dear Mr. A.: I have been asking papa what they do when they join the Masons. Papa would not tell me, but mamma says they ride a goat with shirt wrong side on. Do they?"

A small boy was recently present at a balloon ascension. As the gigantic bird-like machine sailed up into the clouds with its human freight the small spectator pulled his mother's dress excitedly and exclaimed: "What will the good God say when he sees that a-coming?"

Four-year-old Bessie was having her dollie dressed, and when it came to the bonnet, the little maid called for feathers, refusing to be satisfied with the flowers mamma bought her. "But they don't wear feathers, now, my dear," mamma said. "I can't help that, mamma; the thinks inside of me isn't like the thinks inside of other folks." Of course the feathers won.

Little Gracie is not quite 4 years old, but she has some ideas that belong to the "teens." Recently a lady called to sell various goods. When told that none were wanted her look of disappointment aroused Grace's sympathy. "Never mind, lady. I am getting to be a big girl and will soon have a home of my own. Then you call on me and I will buy something of you."

A bright little lad sitting by his father's side in a pew of the Green Ridge Presbyterian Church Sunday morning was given a coin to put upon the collection plate. No sooner had he deposited the coin than in a loud whisper and excited manner he asked: "Papa, have you saved any circus money?" A smile broad enough to go over a large section of pews were compelled by the circumstances.

Willie's little sister Bessie was allowed an "outing" with her mother one evening, but Willie could not go, and was only reconciled at last by the permission to "sit u- late" with Aunt Hattie. As the evening wore on, however, the little man grew drowsy—gaping every few minutes. Auntie said, by and bye: "I expect Willie's sleepy," whereupon he straightened himself up briskly and said, with much emphasis: "O, no, I isn't, auntie—only my mouth needs stwetching!"

A little fellow who was earnestly searching the column of a certain religious journal for something in the juvenile department found the paper rather bulky to manage and spread it upon the floor. In reply to his little sister, who was impatient at his slowness, he defended himself by saying: "Well, you must remember that this paper has two parts—the religious and the sacrilegious!" It was the same boy, by the way, who announced that the Scripture lesson at school one morning was from the Book of Collisions.

Harry, aged 3 years, had been taught that white-winged angels floated through the heavens watching over good little boys. One day he approached his mentor with a far-away expression in his bright blue eyes and inquired: "W'at is 'em fings wif wings!" "Where, dear?" A small index finger pointed ceilingward. "Way, way up in ee 'ky, and they's looking for dead people." "Why, darling," exclaimed the mentor with a flush of pleasure at the thought that industrious teaching had left an impression, "they're angels." "No-o-o," with a stubborn shake of the head; "no, 'em's buzzards!"

Dhuleep Singh Asks for the Koh-i-Noor.

The Maharajah Dhuleep Singh sends a London paper a letter, addressed to the Queen, in which, after enumerating many alleged wrongs, he insists on the restoration to him of the Koh-i-noor. He says:—"It will be useless for me to demand the restoration of my kingdom, swindled from me by your Christian government, but which I hope shortly, by the aid of Providence, to retake from my robbers. But my diamond, the Koh-i-noor, I understand, is entirely at your own personal disposal. Therefore, believing Your Majesty to be 'the most religious lady' the your subjects pray for every Sunday, I do not hesitate to ask that this gem be restored to me out of your privy purse."

Making Out a Prima Facie Case.

An Albany woman was telling a Binghamton woman of the rapidity with which rents were shooting skyward in Albany. The Binghamton women, after listening awhile, began to tell of the Binghamton rents. Then her small son interrupted her, just as she had finished telling what she paid per month in Binghamton, by remarking: "Why, that wasn't for a month, mamma; that was for a day." Both the women laughed at the boy's idea, but the little fellow kept right on and paralyzed his mother by adding: It must have been for a day, anyway, because the man used to come every day for the rent!" Reports sayeth that the Binghamton woman collapsed.

The New U. S. Consul-General at Halifax.

Washington, June 15.—The President to-day appointed Wakefield G. Frye of Maine Consul-General at Halifax. Mr. Frye held that position during the Arthur Administration and was succeeded by Mr. Phelps, the present Consul-General. He was born in Maine, was a member of the Legislature and is a man of prominence in his State. He is not related to Senator Frye.

Lived to the Age of 105.

St. John, N.B., June 15.—The oldest man in St. John died yesterday. Cornelius Driscoll was born in Baltimore, County Cork, Ireland, in 1784, and was, therefore, 105 years old. He was a laborer, used no tobacco and scarcely [illegible] ed liquor. Up to the age of 90 he w[illegible] ually and until a few months ago [illegible] about the house. 'A Spring Message'

From the New Firm of

H. LeBRUN & CO.

Sign of the Golden Horse-shoe.

The people of Peterborough and vicinity are all aware of the business change which took place in the CITY CLOTHING STORE on the first day of February last. The new firm beg leave to make their first bow to the public through the columns of the Review, and to request a careful perusal of the following Spring and Summer circular:—

The City Clothing Store

in past years, by long experience in business, by buying always for spot cash, importing direct from the principal houses of the old country and from the leading houses of Canada, and by strict economy in conducting its business, has always been able to force prices down to an exceedingly fine point. The members of which the new firm is composed will form a still stronger "combine," by which the CITY CLOTHING STORE will be even better prepared to procure for its customers a continuation of those superior inducements in the future for which it has been noted in the past.

Men's Clothing.

The magnitude of our stock and lowness of prices gives us a great advantage over all other competitors in the trade. We carry in stock all the fast selling lines, styles and patterns, and can fit the tall, the short, the fat and the lean.

More Suits, Better Fabrics, Finer Styles than were ever handled before.

Special values in Fine Spring Overcoats, and Fine Spring and Summer Suits. Don't fail to see them. The superb styles, workmanship, and the beautiful fabrics and patterns that we offer will surprise you.

Merchant Tailoring.

"For the apparel oft proclaims the man."

Fine dressers in search of new, neat and nobby Overcoatings, Suitings or Trouserings will find this department crowded to overflowing with cloth from all countries. To select from the largest assortment is an advantage we offer to our customers, backed up by the skill of experienced cutters and tailors. Besides perfect fit and first-class trimmings, we guarantee absolutely first-class workmanship.

Boys' and Youths' Clothing.

Clothing for the little ones—boys and children—has always been a specialty with us. We have always sought to give great values in this department, and to provide a larger and finer variety of goods for parents to select from than they could find elsewhere.

This means that we are showing a large assortment of Boys' and Children's Suits, Boys' and Children's Blouses, Shirt Waists, Pants, &c.

This spring there are an unusual number of new and nobby styles and an enlarged variety of fabrics and patterns. Be sure and see our stock.

Gents' Furnishings.

Gentlemen of Peterborough seeking the latest styles and best values for their money, as well as an opportunity of selecting from the largest stock of Furnishing Goods, should not fail to visit this department at once. We offer the finest, best selected and the largest assortment of Neckwear, Hosiery, Underwear, Gloves, Shirts, Handkerchiefs, etc., to be found in any first-class establishment.

COUNTY LEGISLATURE.

THE REEVES AND DEPUTIES IN THE HALY-YEARLY SESSION.

Warden Brown's Address at the Opening of the Session—County Bridges and Financial Matters.

The June session of the County Council was opened this afternoon in the County Council chamber.

There were present, Mr. John Brown, Reeve of Belmont (Warden), and Messrs. Jas. Moore, Reeve, and Jos. Harrison, Deputy Reeve, of Asphodel; John Burnham, Reeve of Ashburnham; John Wright, Deputy Reeve of Belmont; F. Elmhirst, Reeve of Burleigh; A. R. Kidd, Reeve, and R. Crowe, Deputy Reeve, of Dummer; John Moloney, Reeve, and W. Garbutt, Deputy Reeve, of Douro; James Wilson, Reeve of Galway; Jos. Forster, Reeve of North Monaghan; John Finlay, Reeve of Norwood; W. H. Casement, Reeve of Lakefield; Geo. Stewart, Reeve, and W. Anderson, Deputy Reeve, of Otonabee; M. Sanderson, Reeve, and Jas. Middleton, Deputy Reeve, of Smith; W. Crough, Reeve of Ennismore; Robt. Shaw, Reeve of Harvey.

THE WARDEN'S ADDRESS.

Mr. BROWN, the Warden, upon taking the chair, addressed the Council as follows:—

GENTLEMEN,—I have great pleasure in congratulating you on the favorable circumstances under which we meet. This spring has been most favorable (probably the most favorable we have had for years), and thanks to a kind and beneficent Providence there is every prospect of a bountiful harvest.

EQUALIZATION.

The special business which you are called upon to discharge at this session is the equalization of the assessment rolls of the several municipalities in order to form a basis upon which to levy the county taxes, and to consider the estimates and decide upon the amount to be raised for the current year's expenditure.

JAIL SURGEON.

In the spring the office of jail surgeon became vacant, and as it was necessary that the office should be at once filled I appointed Dr. Yelland temporarily from 7th March to 29th June.

HIGH SCHOOLS.

The committee appointed by you to meet and confer with the trustees of the Peterborough and Norwood High Schools have met. The report will be submitted for your consideration.

THE HAGUE CLAIM.

In the matter of the encroachment of Lakefield bridge on the property of the late James Hague, Messrs. Casement and Belcher, the special committee to whom was referred the adjustment of the claim of the Hague estate, having arranged for a settlement of the claim at one hundred dollars, that amount was, in April last, paid to the solicitor of the estate on receipt of a release and conveyance to this county of all interest of the heirs of the late James Hague in the land occupied by the road and bridge, the same being dedicated for the purpose of a highway. This conveyance has been registered, thus finally disposing of the whole matter.

BURLEIGH BRIDGE.

Contracts for the masonry and iron work have been made and the bridge will soon be completed and open for public travel.

LAKEFIELD BRIDGE.

This bridge has been refloored.

PIGEON CREEK BRIDGE.

Shortly after the January session I was notified that the Council of the County of Victoria had made a grant of fifty dollars to be expended in repairing the Pigeon Creek bridge, conditionally that the County Council of Peterborough County would expend the same sum. You having in January decided that no action should be taken in the matter of repairing the bridge until the County of Victoria offered to pay one half of the whole cost of the repairs and to undertake the future maintenance of the bridge, I notified Mr. McQuade, the commissioner appointed by Victoria Council, of the decision you had arrived at in the matter.

SWING IN THE MUD LAKE BRIDGE.

Having received notice to the effect that it was the intention to run a boat this summer from the terminus of the railway to Chemong Park and that the parties interested required a swing to be placed in floating bridge, I notified the special committee appointed by you in January. The committee met and having agreed on a plan submitted by Mr. Belcher, he was instructed to construct the swing without delay.

TRENT RIVER BRIDGE.

Our county representatives in the Local Legislature notified me to the effect that legislation was being asked for to make the bridge over the river Trent known as the Trent Bridge, a boundary bridge, but I am happy to say that the attempt to make this county liable for the partial maintenance of a bridge entirely out of the county was unsuccessful.

VICTORIA VS. PETERBOROUGH.

The case of Victoria vs. Peterborough with respect to the Bobcaygeon Bridges, in which the decision of the Court of Appeal was unanimously in our favor, was carried by the opposite party to the Supreme Court and was argued by Mr. Christopher Robinson, Q.C., and Mr. Edwards on the 2nd and 3rd of April last. Judgment was reserved, and I have the great pleasure to inform you that the Supreme Court has, on the 14th inst., unanimously decided this case in our favor. Mr. Edwards informs us that the appeal by Victoria has been dismissed with costs, the judgment being unanimous.

FINANCES.

Statements of the financial position of the County will be submitted to you and, thinking that you may deem it expedient to sell the debentures authorized to be issued under by-law No. 607, I notified some brokers and other interested parties that I would receive offers for the purchase of part or whole of the debentures. The offers and correspondence will be submitted to you.

REFERRED TO A COMMITTEE.

Mr. KIDD moved, seconded by Mr. FINLAY,—That Messrs. Burnham, Sanderson, Moloney, Stewart and Casement, with the mover and seconder, be appointed a committee on the Warden's address.—Carried.

The Council adjourned until Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock.

A SERVICE OF PRAISE.

The St. Paul's Church Choir Give a Musical Treat to a Good Audience.

There was a good audience in St. Paul's Church last night to listen to the service of praise which was to be rendered, and those present seemed to appreciate the programme and left highly pleased with the musical treat which they enjoyed. To Mr. J. S. Parker, the talented organist of St. Paul's, much praise is due for the excellent programme which had been prepared under his directorship, while the choir have also reason to feel elated at the brilliant manner in which they acquitted themselves. The anthems evidenced careful preparation, and there was a fullness and volume in all of them, the different parts being well taken, which, combined with excellent time, made them sound exceedingly well and could not fail to delight and please the audience. Mr. W. H. Dingle, of the George-st. Church, performed his organ solos in a masterly manner, while the lady vocal soloists, Mrs. Mein, Mrs. Jones and Misses Hall and Cameron were in good voice and sang well. Mr. Alfred Parker, of Toronto, was the only male soloist. He is the possessor of a fine voice and his solo was greatly appreciated by the audience. The evening's programme was of such a successful and enjoyable character, the anthems were so excellently rendered and the soloists acquitted themselves so satisfactorily, that Mr. Parker is to be complimented and the singers are to be congratulated, and St. Paul's Church should be proud of its choir. The programme was of a high character, and can best be given to the reader by reproducing it in full, without further individual comment, which would be invidious. It consisted of fourteen numbers, as follows:—

Anthem...."Send out Thy Light"....Gounod
Organ Solo ."The Harmonious Blacksmith" [Handel

Still Another Enlargement.

The charge of selling liquor without a license preferred against R. R. Hamilton, and which has been enlarged twice already, was again enlarged at the Police Court this morning until Friday morning, some of the witnesses not being present.

☞ Cut This Out.

Resolved that I will never go on a railway train without first going to Geo. A. Morrison's office, Hunter-st., next pos office and buy a $3000 accident ticket for 25c. a day in the Manufacturers' Accident Insurance Co. d142-w25tf

Stop that Cough.

Many people neglect what they call a simple cold, which, if not checked in time, may lead to Lung trouble. Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites, will not only stop the cough but heal the lungs. Endorsed by thousands of physicians. Palatable as Milk. Try it. Sold by all druggists at 50c. and $1.00.

Drunk and Discharged.

A young man by the name of Henry Thompson was arrested by Constable McGinty last evening in a helpless state of intoxication near the G. T. R. station. He was locked up in the cells and appeared before the Magistrate at the Police Court this morning, but was allowed to go without having to answer to any charge.

Clearing Sale.

We are going through our stock, and any goods that we are overstocked in we are putting down to a price that must clear them out quickly. To-day we mark our fine English and Scotch Chambrays at clearing prices. Look at a fine wide line that we are offering at 12½c., worth 20c. 2d142 H. S. GRIFFIN & Co.

The Revised Assessment.

The second session of the Court of Revision was held last evening, when the business of revising the assessment rolls was concluded. The few appeals which were allowed to stand over from last Monday night were disposed of and the assessment confirmed. The rolls will now stand as they have been confirmed, unless there are some appeals taken before the Judge, which is not likely.

Going Out of Business.

The public will have noticed by the announcement made on posters that Mr. H. Best has decided to go out of business by July 1st next. This entails the sacrifice of the entire stock of stoves, tinware and house-furnishing hardware. Mr. Best means business and is offering the entire stock at wholesale prices. Let there be no misunderstanding about this. Wholesale price means just what the goods cost Mr. Best. Now, this is a fine opportunity. The assortment is large and you can have a choice of many kinds. Tinware of every description, all everyday necessaries. Don't miss this opportunity and buy while it lasts. It is imperative that the stock shall be cleared out at once. 3d142

WHO OWNS THE GROUND

ON WHICH THE CENTRAL SCHOOL BUILDING IS SITUATED?

The Contracts for the Public Schools to be Signed—A new By-Law for $15,000 to be Submitted—And Another one for a New Collegiate Institute—Repairs at the Central School.

On Monday evening was called a special meeting of the School Board. Members were a little dilatory in getting round, and it was nearly 8:30 before a quorum gathered. Those who were present to open business were Chairman Stevenson, and Messrs. Hill, Weir, Dumble, McWilliams, English, Hamilton and Dr. Boucher. Mr. T. Rutherford and Dr. Burnham took their seats a few minutes afterwards.

WHY THE MEETING WAS CALLED.

Chairman STEVENSON, for the information of the Board, mentioned a number of reasons why the Board had been called together. The Building Committee had not met and there was no report. For the Board he was unwilling to commence work on contracts that called for the erection of $15,000 worth of buildings for $10,000. It seemed the most sensible thing to do to submit a new by-law for the amount necessary.

Mr. MCWILLIAMS laid the blame for the delay on the shoulders of the chairman of the Building Committee.

Mr. BLACKWELL, architect, was present, and in reply to an enquiry from the Chairman said that the South Ward School contract could be reduced from $4,600 to $4,000, by making some material alterations in the plans.

THE CENTRAL SCHOOL PROPERTY.

In the course of the discussion that followed relative to the prospects of building a new collegiate institute, Mr. Dumble said that the High School grounds were granted for high school purposes. Matters were now complicated. Money spent on the old buildings would be practically wasted. Better settle the question at once and build. He would move a resolution that a committee should be appointed to enquire into the rights of the Collegiate Institute in the Central School property. The resolution was seconded by Mr. Hill and passed, Messrs. McWilliams, Boucher and Dumble being constituted the Committee.

MORE MONEY FOR THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Mr. DUMBLE said a matter talked of was whether it would not be better to build a separate building in the south ward public school grounds.

Mr. RUTHERFORD said the Committee had met, but could not do anything because they were bound by the action of the Board.

Dr. BOUCHER asked what was the objection to doing away with the Smead-Dowd system in the south ward? It would reduce the expenditure, and the Principal did not complain of the ventilation.

Mr. HAMILTON—It would reduce the expense not to do anything.

Mr. WEIR said if they wished to provide for the comfort and health of the children they would have to expend money.

The CHAIRMAN asked if they wished to ask for $5 000 more? The Council was going to submit one by-law anyway.

After further discussion, Mr. DUMBLE moved, seconded by Mr. RUTHERFORD, That inasmuch as the tenders for the erection, improvement and equipment of the public schools exceeds the sum of ten thousand dollars now provided for them, this Board respectfully requests the Town Council to submit to the ratepayers a new by-law repealing the $10,000 by-law recently passed and providing for the raising of fifteen thousand dollars by debentures running for thirty years and bearing four per cent. interest.—Carried.

TO SIGN THE CONTRACTS.

Mr. MCWILLIAMS moved, seconded by Mr. HAMILTON,—That the Chairman be authorized to sign the contract with Mr. A. Rutherford for building the north ward school, and with Mr. J. Bogue for building the south ward school, and fix the corporate seal, and that the names of the sureties be submitted to building committee for approval.—Carried.

ANOTHER COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE BY-LAW.

Mr. DUMBLE moved, seconded by Dr. BURNHAM,—That inasmuch as the building now occupied by the Collegiate Institute is public school property and is required for common school purposes, this Board respectfully requests the Town Council to resubmit to the people a by-law for raising $25,000 for the purpose of providing suitable buildings and property for the purpose of a Collegiate Institute.—Carried.

THE CENTRAL SCHOOL IMPROVEMENTS.

Mr. DUMBLE moved that Messrs. Hill, Boucher, Hughes and Hamilton be a committee to carry out the improvements required in the central school, the architect's plans and estimates being first submitted to this Board for approval.

Mr. MCWILLIAMS said he would suggest that Mr. Hughes' name be left off, as he had it almost direct from the man who had the contract that Mr. Hughes had an interest in the gymnasium contract.

It was also remarked that Mr. Hughes was out of town.

Mr. HAMILTON asked that his name be left off, as he had little time, and the composition of the committee was changed to Messrs. Hill, Boucher and English and the motion adopted.

After some conversational discussion as to the overseer of the work on the buildings, regarding which no action was taken, the matter being left as decided at the last meeting, the Board adjourned.

Another Win for the Association.

A practice match of baseball was played on the P.A.A.A. grounds last evening between the Association team and the Astonishers, of Ashburnham. The game was a good practice one and resulted in a victory for the P.A.A.A. team by 15 to 2. McCabe and O'Brien did the battery work for the Astonishers, while Allison and Turnbull were in the points for the Association team. The Association men played a good game, and batted freely, but the Ashburnham men did not hit hard and when they did find the ball the field worked splendidly. The score was as follows:—

ASSOCIATION.		ASTONISHERS.
Pearson 1b	3	Gillman c.f.	0
Barnes 2b	1	McCabe p	0
Turnbull c	2	O'Brien c	0
Allison p	3	Lipsett 1b	0

A Runaway.

Last evening a little before six o'clock a team of grey horses owned by Mr. Robt. White took fright on Water-st. by accidentally colliding with another conveyance near the corner of Charlotte-st. and started down Charlotte-st. at a terrific rate of speed. The carriage to which the team was attached contained a lady and gentleman, who escaped uninjured, as they kept their seats in the buggy until the horses were stopped near the corner of Aylmer-st. The horses were cut about the legs and the buggy was also slightly damaged.

Soldiers for the Camp.

Last evening there was a stir among the military men who are identified with the Durham Field Battery and C. Troop No. 3 Regiment of Cavalry, who were actively engaged making preparations for leaving early this morning for the brigade camp at Gananoque. The cavalry troop left on a special train at 7.30 this morning under command of Lieut.-Col. H. C. Rogers. There were forty-four men and thirty-nine horses in the troop, and all left in A. I. condition. The artillery men departed on the express at 6:46, and went to Port Hope where they will join the main body of the Battery. Lieut. Snyder had command of the Battery detachment which numbered twenty-four men, all looking clean and soldierly.

Presentation at St. Paul's.

After the service of praise in St. Paul's church last evening the members of the choir adjourned to the church parlor where refreshments had been prepared and a short time was pleasantly spent. The opportunity was taken advantage of by her fellow singers in the choir to present Miss Maggie Dixon with a substantial token of their esteem and friendship in anticipation of her approaching marriage and severance of her connection with the choir. Mr. J. S. Parker, organist, made the presentation with a few appropriate remarks. Miss Dixon was taken completely by surprise by the magnificent manner in which the choir evidenced the kind regard and fond friendship which they held toward her. The presentation consisted of a dozen handsome silver knives and forks together with silver desert and tea spoons, with the recipient's initials engraved upon each article. Mr. Parker and Mr. Crane also presented Miss Dixon with a very handsome silver fruit dish.

Entertainment.

The entertainment given by the young people of the Charlotte-st. Methodist church last evening was a decided success. Counter attractions no doubt made the audience smaller than the entertainment merited. The programme consisted of two parts, being divided by an intermission, during which refreshments were served.

Church Organization in the Way.

The building of a church in a new Western town is not always due to the religious zeal of the citizens. It is quite as much the result of a desire to impress the Eastern capitalist with the stable character of the "boom." A good saloon, of course, is of more immediate importance; and so that is at once established. Next to the saloon ranks the daily paper, and arrangements are promptly made to move it from the "prairie schooner" in which it is at first published to "palatial" building of rough boards, erected over night. Thus provided with a mouthpiece, the "boom" at once proceeds to get up and get. Sites for a magnificent opera-house and a mammoth hotel have been provided for long ago, and the noble proportions of a City Hall are eloquently outlined on paper. These preliminaries being settled, the necessity of building a church is dwelt upon in the paper. Quite possibly, a meeting of leading citizens is held, at which a great deal of "resoluting" is done, and in which the gambler, the saloon-keeper and the real estate agent stand shoulder to shoulder with the bona-fide church members in advocating the moral advancement of the town. Everybody chips in a church-building fund, and a committee is appointed to secure a live minister. What denomination the church shall represent depends partly on the vague prepossessions of the leading citizens, and partly on accident. That, however, is distinctly a minor question. The great thing is to have a church of some denomination, which shall vindicate the moral character of the "boom" and attract the Eastern tenderfoot with money. This rough-and-ready method of establishing Christianity may shock the fastidious Eastern Christian; but on the whole it works well, and the church so established prove to be most effective agencies for good.

Money in Cats.

A new and decidedly novel industry has sprung up in this city. A man is here buying cats, for which he pays from fifty cents to $1 each, according to age and size. He ships them to Dakota, where he sells them for $3 each. They are in great demand there, where they are wanted to destroy the mice which swarm by thousands round the corn and wheat bins, doing great damage. Cats are very scarce in Dakota. The new settlers in that State did not include cats in their household effects, and the demand for them is far beyond the supply. Thus far two car loads of cats have been shipped from this city and another load is being secured. They are put in separate boxes to prevent hostilities, but the noise they raise in a car is simply hideous.—Chicago Herald.

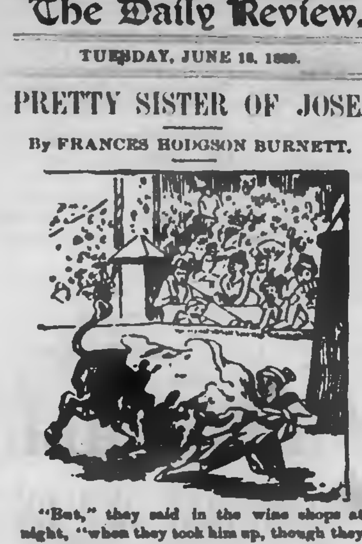
PRETTY SISTER OF JOSE.

By FRANCES HODGSON BURNETT.



"But," they said in the wine shops at night, "when they took him up, though they thought him gasping in death, he had not lost himself; and as they carried him out they came upon a girl—the one who is called 'the pretty sister of Jose'—her brother was taking her away. She looked like one dead three days; and Sebastiano—there is a man for you—tore the device from his shoulder and dropped it at her feet—and she snatched it up—all wet with his blood—and thrust it in her breast and dropped like a stone. It is said that he loved her, and she had a devil of a temper and treated him badly. He is a good fellow—her brother Jose—and wept like a child for Sebastiano, and has begged to be allowed to nurse him, and Sebastiano will have it so."

"I am strong as an ox," Jose had said, weeping. "I can watch like a dog. I want neither sleep nor food, if it comes to that; and once when one of my comrades fell from a scaffold I was the only one who could nurse him without killing him with the pain. He will tell you that I nursed him well and was never tired."

"Let him stay," said Sebastiano.

In his struggle with death, which lasted so long, it was always the large form and simple anxious face of Jose he saw when he knew what passed around him, and even when the fever brought him delirious visions he was often vaguely conscious of his presence. For himself, he did not know whether he was to live or die; but one night he found out.

It was a beautiful night which came after a long day in which those about his bed had looked at him with pitying eyes, and at last a priest had come and absolved him of his sins and left him with a solemn kindly blessing, with a soul clear of stain and ready for Paradise.

He had fallen asleep afterwards and had dreamed not of Heaven but of earth, of a red rose in soft black hair, and of a passionate little face whose large eyes glowed upon him.

And suddenly he was wide awake and found his dream a living truth.

Jose was no longer in the room. The moonlight made everything clear, and upon the floor beside him knelt Pepita, her eyes fixed upon his.

"Dios! Dois!" he murmured.

"Hush!" she said. "Do not speak. It is Pepita. Look at me. They said that perhaps to-night you would die. I have prayed until I can pray no more, and when I came to Jose the tears were falling from his eyes, and he said perhaps you would not see the day. Then I showed him the little knife hidden in my breast, and told him if he did not let me come to you alone I would not live. I said I could force you to remain on earth. I love you—I love you. It has all happened, that which you said would happen; and when the device fell at my feet I hid it in my breast with the other which was there before. And because I love you so you cannot die. I will do anything you say I must do. I am Pepita, and I give my self to you. I would give my blood and my life and my soul for you. Every night I have waited by the wall in the hope that you would come. I have watched you when you did not see me. If you had not come I should have killed myself—if you had ceased to love me I should have killed myself—if you die I will drive the knife to its hilt in my heart. I can love more than these women who love so easily and so often. I knew nothing about it when I was so proud and mocked you. I know you now. Mother of God! it is like a thousand deaths when one cannot see the face one wants. What hunger night and day—one is driven mad by it!"

She bent more closely over him, crushing his unwounded arm against her heart—searching his soul with her look.

"They said there was a girl in Lisbon whom you loved," she said. "I knew it was a lie."

"Yes," he whispered, "it was a lie. Kiss me on the mouth."

His arm curved itself around her neck and the red lips which had mocked melted upon his own.

"Did you suffer?" he murmured.

She began to sob like a child, as she had sobbed at the feet of the Virgin.

"I told you that you would suffer! It was the same thing with me. Saints of Heaven! human beings cannot bear that long. I shall not die, and I will make you forget the pain. Stay with me, and let me see your eyes and touch your lips every hour, that I may know that you are Pepita, and that you have given yourself to me."

"I will stay through all the day and night," she answered. "They cannot make me go away if I do not wish it. They always give me my way. I have always had it—the Virgin herself has given it to me."

It seemed this was true. In a few months from then the people who strolled in the public garden on Sunday looked at a beautiful young couple who walked together.

"There are two who are mad with love for each other," it was said. "Sebastiano and his wife. She is the one he threw his device to when he thought himself a dead man. They used to call her 'the Pretty Sister of Jose.'"

Another scarfpin novelty that attracts attention is a cigarette in dead silver, with its end incrusted with garnets.

Bracelets of diamond shaped blocks, each ornamented with a row of pearls, are receiving a fair share of recognition.

Very attractive as a lacepin is a small moonstone face half framed in a crescent of alternate sapphires and diamonds.

Noticeable for their unpretentious character are rings with turquois centers set around with double circles of pearls.—Jewelers' Review.

Lord Brassey has just fitted up and furnished a most interesting addition to his library, in the shape of a collection of valuable curiosities gathered by him and Lady Brassey during their voyage around the world in the Sunbeam.

PERSONAL GOSSIP.

John Bright did not like Shakespeare.

Mr. Charles Santley, the great English baritone singer, is a capital painter, both in water and in oils.

Mr. C. P. Huntington rests on all of Saturday and Sunday, and then does about three days' work on Monday.

Professor J. P. Mahaffy, the noted scholar of Trinity college, Dublin, will visit America on a lecturing tour this summer.

Professor Arminius Vambery has obtained permission to search for historical Hungarian documents in the sultan's library.

France thinks that it has a new dramatic author, Jules Lemaitre, the author of "Revolte," recently produced at the Odeon.

M. Coquelin, since his return to Paris, has been outspoken in his admiration of the appreciation of humor shown by Americans.

The Duke of Edinburgh, who has the reputation of being the most economical man in Europe, is suffering severely from dyspepsia.

Lord Randolph Churchill thinks "Sybil" Disraeli's best novel; Mr. Justin McCarthy, "Coningsby," and Mr. T. P. O'Connor, "Tancred."

The king of Spain, Alfonso XIII, not yet 3 years old, is a rosy cheeked, fair child of bright disposition and more than ordinary quickness and curiosity for his age.

The portrait of the late Chief Justice Waite has just been added to the collection of portraits of members of the United States supreme court in the robing room in the Capitol.

Col. Olcott, the head of the American theosophists, lately preached a sermon on Buddhism in Japan on the day on which the new Japanese constitution was formally ratified.

Ward McAllister, of New York society fame, is about to write a book on his social reminiscences. He will only mention those whom he thinks entitled to belong to his "four hundred."

Li Hung Chang, the viceroy of China, is dangerously ill. The emperor has inquired daily about his health and has written an autograph letter expressing the hope of his minister's speedy recovery.

Bishop Hyacinth Ronay, of Hungary, whose death is announced, was the personal friend of Kossuth. His career, in spite of his clerical robes, was one of the most remarkable among Hungarians of the period.

HEALTHFUL EXERCISE.

Only a few months ago these romping, rosy-cheeked lasses were puny, delicate, pale, sickly girls. By the aid of Dr. Pierce's world-famed Favorite Prescription, they have blossomed out into beautiful, plump, hale, hearty, strong young women.

"Favorite Prescription" is an invigorating, restorative tonic and as a regulator and promoter of functional action at that critical period of change from girlhood to womanhood, it is a perfectly safe remedial agent, and can produce only good results. It is carefully compounded, by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate organization. It is purely vegetable in its composition and perfectly harmless in any condition of the system. It imparts strength to the whole system. For overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic. It is the only medicine, for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been faithfully carried out for many years.

TURNBULL'S

The first month of summer is an interesting period to the retail buyer. Keep your eye on this column, it's newsy. Each week things will appear that ere the month passes will likely make you richer for the reading.

There is scarcely a weak spot in our Trimmed Millinery yet. The latest hat kind are turning up their pretty faces every day and all the time floods of freshness and brightness keep pouring in new goods constantly. That job line of Untrimmed Hats we spoke of last week is what pleases everybody, variety and prices being right. This week we have placed on our Dress Goods counter a dozen pieces of Fancy Dress Cloths at fifteen cents a yard. The only reason we can conceive that these goods have not sold earlier at higher prices is that they were too new. They ought to, and no doubt will, go out very fast now. Attention is called to them. Shanting Pongee, the dustless kind. You know how the heathen Chinee crams dust into the common run of Pongees; he does not do it to the Shanting—Pure Silk and clean. These goods make up beautiful with our fine Henriettas.

In the Tweed Department we have a fine line of Halifax Tweeds that handle soft and fleecy, just as they ought to handle.—Sale price 25 cents.

We expect to-morrow's train to bring us in a large shipment of Corsets. We keep what our judgment says is the best make in the trade. We see representatives from all the factories. Our 50c. Corsets, we believe, are the best shown in Peterborough for years.

We have been able to repeat that line of Ladies Black Hose, heavy weight, at 15c. a pair. Those who have had these goods will be glad to hear they can get them again now.

Pink is the favorite color in Chambrays this season again. A fresh lot just arrived.

We keep suits for boys and small boys either with or without trimmings, at all prices. Before you buy see them.

THE GALT HERESY.

AGAIN CONSIDERED BY THE PRESBYTERIAN ASSEMBLY.

Some Puzzling Questions—The Examination Concluded—A Majority of 15 Decide Not To Refer the Case to a Committee.

TORONTO, June 19.—The Galt heresy case again monopolized nearly the whole of the General Assembly's time yesterday. Rev. Dr. McMullen, ex-moderator, presided owing to Principal Grant being a party to the case through his connection with the Synod of Toronto and Kingston. The appellants were present, the chief of whom, J. D. Cranston, [illegible] the views in regard to his perfectionist belief, especially as to the point that believers may rise and some of the appellants had risen to the point that for longer or shorter time they had no consciousness of actual sin and hence no need of confession to God. Rev. Dr. Warden thought it scarcely fair to ask the individuals their opinion. It was the duty of the court to keep to the answers in the record. These were formally read, after which Rev. S. Bruce asked if the consciousness of the applicants was considered by them as the ultimate ground of evidence of the condition of freedom from sin in God's sight. Mrs. Kay essayed to answer the question by analogies, but did not get time to say much, when J. K. Cranston answered that the consciousness was not the sole guide but rather the Holy Ghost indwelling. Simplifying his answer Mr. Cranston said that consciousness was not the highest guide. Principal Forrest moved that the parties be removed from the bar and the Assembly proceed to consider the case. Dr. Cochrane rose to put a question which he had deferred and which would go far to settle the question. It is something in connection with our catechism, he said. "Can a believer be made perfect in holiness before the hour of death?" Mr. Cranston: "There is a sense in which he cannot. It is the perfecting of holiness, the growing in Christ and being transformed from one degree of grace to another even by the grace of God." At the afternoon session Dr. Laing said the court must proceed to judgment. Before submitting a motion to that effect he, too, analyzed the reasons of the appeal and endorsed the respective actions of synod, presbytery and kirk session. The appellants, he contended, are not excommunicated, but under suspension, under discipline. "These brothers and sisters are offending against us; they will not submit to admonition. Still I think there is something hopeful in the statements made by these appellants. They state that they are willing to learn; that there are truths in the Bible that puzzle them." Then pathetically he hoped these erring brethren would renounce their error and be received back in the Presbyterian fold, which they were so loth, he said, to leave. Dr. Laing concluded by moving that the appeal be dismissed, and that the appellants be affectionately besought to respect the judgment and wisdom of the court. Chief Justice Taylor of Manitoba seconded the motion. Quivering with emotion, and with much animation, Dr. Ure of Goderich moved an amendment (which, however, was later treated as a separate motion) that the whole question be referred to a committee to report before the close of the General Assembly. He objected to the Assembly acting on purely "legal" ground. He was in favor of grace more than law. "We ought," he enunciated with vigor, "to take a broad, generous, Christian view of every case that comes before us. ["Hear, hear."] We, as Presbyterians, are substantially in accord with the principles the appellants hold." ["Hear, hear, no, no."] Dr. Laidlaw of Hamilton seconded the motion, alleging that by dismissing the appeal the General Assembly would place itself in a position before the world in which they would be misunderstood on a matter of vital importance to the welfare of the church. ["Hear, hear."] With pathos he said: "This Assembly could not engage in nobler work than in giving evidence to the world that it considers the interest of even an individual brother or sister." Amid considerable excitement the matter was put to the vote. All members of the Galt session, the Guelph Presbytery and the Synod of Toronto and Kingston abstained from voting. The vote was: "Yeas" 75, "nays" 90. The Moderator announced that the question will consequently not be sent to a committee, and that Dr. Laing's motion endorsing the action of the Synod of Toronto and Kingston will be open for discussion to-day.

A Fatal Fire.

MANOTICK, June 18.—Last night, while the inmates were asleep, the residence of Richard Wilson of Gloucester took fire. There was only one door. Mr. Wilson awoke to find that the fire covered the only means of his escape. His family consisted of a wife and five children. After a desperate fight Wilson succeeded in saving three children, but his wife and two youngest children were burnt to death. No doubt the mother lost her life in trying to save her children. On the arrival of the neighbors Mr. Wilson was found some distance from the house almost naked, badly burned and delirious.

A New Transcontinental Route.

WINONA, Miss., June 18.—The last spike was driven to-day in the Georgia Pacific Railroad, a leased line of the Richmond and Danville Railroad, thus making one continuous rail line 1110 miles from Washington, D.C., to Greenville, Miss. The Georgia Pacific, by means of the track of the Louisville and New Orleans and Texas Railroad, connects with the Missouri Pacific system.

EDMUND YATES' GOSSIP.

DOINGS OF THE PRINCE OF WALES AND FAMILY IN PARIS.

The Duke of Portland's Projected Almshouse—The Difficulty of Getting Lodgings for the Shah of Persia.

LONDON, June 19.—The Queen wouldn't hear of the Shah going to Balmoral, for the house is in good order. The Shah is not an inviting visitor and whatever repairs and cleaning might be necessary would have to be defrayed from her own private purse, as Balmoral is a private, not a crown property. At Buckingham Palace the country would pay the bill, which made all the difference. Sir Algernon Borthwick threw himself into the breach and offered Invercauld, which was accepted. Sir Algernon will go down to entertain him, and Lady Borthwick will probably remain at Hampstead. The two very large houses to which the Shah expressed a wish to go were vacated at once and his time is limited, only those irreproachable in every way and combining some distinctive feature, either scenery, as Invercauld, or of greater engineering work, such as the forts and the bridge which he will see from Hopetown, were selected.

The Duke of Portland has decided to devote all his past and future winnings on the turf to the erection and endowment of almshouses for the poor people at Welbeck. The scheme originated with the Duchess.

The Prince of Wales has revealed himself to the Parisians in the new light of a paterfamilias, and has won great applause. The Prince and Princess and their family have been the object of sympathetic curiosity for the Parisians, who have applauded them heartily and admired their wonderful energy and ubiquity. On June 8, at midnight, the royal tourists arrived in Paris; on June 15, at midnight, they left Paris for London. In the seven days of their visit they saw all that there is to be seen in the French capital. They simply astounded the Parisians by the quantity of things they found to see. On Sunday morning the Prince went to church, and delighted the churchwarden of the new Victoria Chapel by his affability. Then began a series of meteoric apparitions all over the capital—at the exhibition; on various platforms of the Eiffel Tower; at theatres; at opera, circus and hippodrome; at the Pasteur institute; at the Anteui races, where the Prince lost a pot of money; at the Epatant, where the Prince scooped in a large amount—in short, wherever you might go last week you were sure to see the Prince of the Princess and her children, or the whole family together. From morning till night they were on the move, always fresh, always smiling, always passing, never resting, never losing a minute, yet never in a hurry. Their visit to Paris has doubtless produced an excellent impression, but I am afraid it will have, ultimately, a bad effect on would-be high livers of weak physique, who will endeavor to imitate the Prince of Wales and die in the attempt. The meet of the Paris coaching club on June 10 was perhaps the most striking affair of the kind ever seen in France, for the knowledge that the Prince of Wales would be on Baron Gustave de Rothschild's coach induced an unusually large number of members to come out. The Place Concorde, which rarely has a crowd on these occasions, had quite a holiday look. The illusion was heightened by the appearance of Lord Shrewsbury, driving his well-known team of Yorkshire bred bays. Baron Gustave was not out himself, the coach being driven by M. Lambert, son-in-law of Baron Alphonso, who had Prince Albert Victor on the box seat, the Prince of Wales behind with the Duchess de Morny and Baroness Gustave.

It is difficult to imagine anything more astounding than the spectacle of the high church primate allowing a theological lecture to be delivered in the library of Lambeth palace to an audience of Paris clergymen, in which the most advanced views of the German school were adopted and advocated. Prof. Cheyn, for whose benefit this startling innovation was permitted, has made even the broad churchmen of Oxford stare at the boldness of the views set forth in his Bampton lecture. But it is remarkable that Lambeth should become the London centre of a propaganda of this unorthodox description. EDMUND YATES.

Excitement at Brussels.

BRUSSELS, June 18.—In the Chamber of Deputies to-day M. Janson, recently elected for Brussels by the Liberals, accused the ministry of inciting agents to provoke disorder at Mons. He demanded the resignation of the Cabinet. After a heated altercation the President closed the sitting. During the session the entrances to the Chamber were occupied by the police. The streets outside the building were crowded and intense excitement prevailed.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Two Noted Crooks Arrested—Important Meeting of Federal Bank Shareholders.

TORONTO, June 19.—Detectives Davis and Alf. Cuddy made two important arrests in Queen-street west last night. The men are held on suspicion of larceny, but one of them, Dick Harris, has a record as a burglar second to none in Canada or the States. He has done time in Kingston and other penal institutions. His companion gave the name of Arthur Sheehy of St. Louis and on him was found a wicked looking English bulldog revolver, loaded and ready for business. As the officers seized Sheehy he made an attempt to draw it, and afterwards on the way to headquarters told his captors if he had seen them half a minute before they caught them he would have put holes through them.

At a meeting of the shareholders of the defunct Federal Bank yesterday it was decided by a majority of 5086 to push to a conclusion the suit against Mr. Samuel Nordheimer for the recovery of large sums of money lost by the bank in respect of certain transactions with the Commercial Loan and Stock Company, of which Mr. Nordheimer while a director of the bank was also a member.

At the Methodist Conference yesterday a large number of reports were presented and discussed.

Senator Hoar on the Canadian Question.

WORCESTER, June 18.—Senator Hoar has reached here after his Western trip with the Senate Committee on Trade Relations with Canada. He expresses himself as much impressed with the possibilities of the West as shown by the testimony of its leading men, who, he said, were mostly manufacturing and business men. He said that the impressions that the fortifications at Esquimalt were a menace to the United States were unfounded, as the island has not the natural advantages necessary to make it a formidable fortification. He was satisfied that the ties of affection between Canada and the United States are a guarantee of peace. He sharply criticised the custom of many newspapers in printing alleged interviews which had never been actually held.

Shot Her Defamer.

SARDIS, Miss., June 18.—John Williams was shot on Sunday at Emory Church, 10 miles from here, by Mrs. Hattie Campbell. The shooting occurred immediately after the religious services. Williams died on Monday. The provocation for the killing was the charge by Williams that he had criminal intercourse with Mrs. Campbell several months ago, upon which statement a bill for divorce is pending.

TO BUILD UP JOHNSTOWN.

Portable Houses to be put Up for the Survivors and Shanty Stores for Business.

JOHNSTOWN, June 17.—A largely increased force of men was at work in the ruins yesterday, and new men are coming in from every direction. Gen. Hastings says about 5,500 men are now at work. Deafening blasts of dynamite are heard at short intervals, and a noticeable impression is being made on the debris above the the stone bridge.

The Relief Committee have decided to erect 100 portable houses to shelter the survivors as soon as the buildings can be received from Chicago. The houses will be 12 x 27 feet, and will be large enough to accomodate six persons each. Each house will be furnished with a stove and utensils, six chairs, two beds and bedclothes, two spring mattresses, one pair pillows, two pairs of sheets for each bed, woollen blankets, a bureau, a table and tableware to set it. In fact a family will be given everything necessary to go to housekeeping and told to go ahead and paddle their own canoe. The object is to start the town on toward a rise from the ruins, but as the town is yet in chaos, it is impossible to make permanent arrangements. The grade of the town may be raised. If a man cannot find his own ground now, he can set his house up anywhere, and move it on to his land when it is found under the debris. If the houses give satisfaction the committee will not stop at buying 1000 of them and building up the town. In direct conjunction with this move at building up the ruined city Gen. Hastings has purchased an immense quantity of lumber, and will next Tuesday begin building shanty stores for those who will set up in business again. Over 100 have already made application.

Arrangements are now being made for the erection of a look-up, which Burgess Hovell says will be filled as soon as completed with persons who have been filling their houses with valuables from the wreckage. Many citizens who have hitherto been considered honest are known to have entered wrecked houses and carried off valuables by the armful. As soon as Burgess can get his affairs straighted out he says he will issue search warrants, and every house that is suspected of containing booty will be turned wrong side up.

A meeting of citizens was held at Alma Hall yesterday afternoon to protest against the further use of the heavy dynamite blasts. The blasts used heretofore have been 500 pounds, but smaller blasts were advised, and Gen. Hastings has accepted the wish of the meeting and only 25-pound blasts are being put off.

Three members of the Fourteenth Regiment were arrested at Cambria City tonight, charged with insulting women. They were locked up. The citizens of the place are burning with indignation and many threats of lynching are made.

The report of Commissary-General Spangler to Gen. Hastings shows that 20,515 people were fed by the commissary department yesterday.

KILLED BY HER HUSBAND'S KICK.

A New York Bill Sikes—Fifteen Years of Cruelty.

NEW YORK, June 19.—Another instance of woman's long suffering and patient endurance of the cross imposed upon her came to light yesterday in the painful death of a refined little woman named Mrs. Isabella Jane Galloway. If there is any truth in the stories of neighbors her death was the result of her husband's "Bill Sikes" form of brutality. For nearly 15 years Mrs. Galloway had spoken of the inhuman treatment she received at the hands of her husband. As recently as Sunday, June 9, he went home intoxicated, so Mrs. Galloway had told the housekeeper, Mrs. Leonard, and after quarrelling with her about some trivial affair kicked her in the back. A week before this, she went on to tell Mrs. Leonard, he had struck her with a soda water bottle. Mrs. Galloway at the time was very ill, and after the kicking was compelled to take to her bed. On the following night her baby came prematurely into the world only to be hurriedly buried, for it was dead. The housekeeper did all a [illegible] woman could do for another, and Dr. Musgrove of No. 67 Monroe-street, was in attendance that night. When Dr. Musgrove visited her next morning she was beyond any physician's aid, and she died, despite his efforts to save her, shortly before noon.

Dr. Musgrove informed the police of the woman's serious condition at 9 o'clock, and they at once notified the coroner's office—three full hours before she expired—in order that an ante-mortem statement might be obtained. Coroner Levy was too busy holding an inquest to go. He was told the urgency of the case, but he determined to let it stand over for Coroner Schultz. The latter did not hurry in the least to the bedside of the dying woman, and as a consequence she expired before his arrival and no authoritative statement was obtained. Coroner Schultz then did the only thing left for him to do and he ordered the husband's arrest. Galloway, however, could not be found. It is thought that he went to Philadelphia or Boston when he recognized the precarious condition of his martyred wife.

Before marrying Galloway his wife, who came here from Dublin, supported herself by teaching music. She then resided with her mother, who kept a boarding house in Pearl-street. It was here that she met Galloway. She was, until prevented by her last illness, a constant attendant at the Mariners' Church, where she played the organ. Besides two children, a girl aged seven and a boy of five, she has but one living relative, a sister, Mrs. Sarah Emerson of No. 156 East 105th-street.

Mrs. Galloway, during her fifteen years of married infelicity, had eight children, six of which she told the housekeeper were born dead owing to the ill-treatment she received from her husband.

Detective Leary has been detailed to hunt up Galloway.

Death of a Very Big Man.

ELMIRA, N.Y., June 19.—John Lewen, the phenomenal fat man, who weighed 640 pounds, died at his home here yesterday from erysipelas. He was born in England and was 40 years old. He was a blacksmith and worked at his trade up to about three years ago. At that time he weighed but little more than 200 pounds, but began rapidly gaining in flesh at the rate of about five pounds per week until he became a veritable mountain of fat. Everything known to medical science was tried in his case, but it baffled the skill of the best physicians.

Determined to Die if it Cost Murder.

CHICAGO, June 19.—August Swanson, a hostler, 20 years old, got married three weeks ago, drank deeply until yesterday morning and then killed himself with poison. Swanson spent the night drinking with a friend named Michael Duffy. They went in the morning to the stable where Swanson worked and there the latter took the poison. Duffy was about to seek medical aid for his friend, but Swanson drew a revolver and threatened to kill him if he did so. The suicide kept his friend covered with the revolver until the poison had rendered remedy impossible.

A $300,000 Fire at Jersey City.

JERSEY CITY, June 18.—N. B. Cushing's machine works and Booker & Sayre's syrup refinery were burned and William Brown's boiler works damaged here to-night. Cushing's loss is $155,000, loss on the refinery $125,000, Brown's loss $10,000. A large number of men are thrown out of work.

THE CRONIN MYSTERY.

MANY WITNESSES BEFORE THE GRAND JURY YESTERDAY.

Singularly Devoid of Information—The Court Orders Certain Telegrams, Between the Suspects to be Produced.

CHICAGO, June 19.—Fifteen or twenty witnesses were before the Grand Jury yesterday forenoon, but the greater number were singularly devoid of information. Several employes of Iceman P. O. Sullivan knew nothing of Sullivan's intimacy with Cronin and Woodruff. Other witnesses testified to the intimacy between Coughlin and Sullivan. The Carlsons were given another chance to identify in the picture of Burke the man Williams who rented the cottage. They did not appear any more certain of his identity than yesterday and the jury was loth to return an indictment against Burke without additional evidence. Chief Hubbard appeared before the jury and urged the prompt indictment of Burke. Henry Stoltenberg, Alexander Sullivan's clerk, knew nothing of Coughlin's calls at the lawyer's office. Thomas Given testified that he knew Burke during the latter's residence here, but had no knowledge of his intimacy with Sullivan, Coughlin or any other of the suspected persons. Miss McCormick stated she was at Sullivan's house the night of the murder. The ice man got up about 10 o'clock or later to admit a couple of employes who had spent the evening in Lake View. This is corroborated by the testimony of two of the ice men. Frank T. Johnston, formerly confidential clerk of J. T. Lester & Co., brokers, testified regarding fortunate speculations of Alexander Sullivan, and is alleged to have substantiated the story that Sullivan made him a munificent present. Father Dorney gave particulars of P. W. Dunne's charge of embezzlement against Sullivan and Dorney's investigation of this charge. Father Dorney stated that after a full investigation of Sullivan's affairs he pronounced Dunne's charge groundless. Attempts to get information about Clan-na-Gael affairs from Father Dorney and others were futile

The Day's Sensation.

CHICAGO, June 18.—The sensational incident of the Cronin Grand Jury proceedings this morning was the refusal of Wm. E. Bell of the Western Union Telegraph Company to obey an order of the jury to produce messages passing between Alexander Sullivan, Dan Coughlin, P. O. Sullivan, John J. Maroney and G. W. Melville. Mr. Bell maintained that it was against the rules of the company to produce such messages and that the statutes of the State impose a fine of $5000 upon a telegraph company for divulging the contents of any personal or business message passing over its lines. After all attempts to induce the witness to obey had failed the jury headed by State's Attorney Longnecker repaired to Judge Shepherd's room and appealed to His Honor to issue an order directing the witness to answer under pain of contempt and commitment. After argument the court ordered Bell to produce the telegrams.

Maurice Morris, a friend of Dr. Cronin, was before the jury and told how the doctor had frequently stated he had incurred the enmity of certain persons high in authority in Irish societies and that he had fears for his life.

William Mulcahy, the suspect, was closeted with the jury—for nearly an hour, and those who heard his story became convinced he had no connection with the crime.

Strong Evidence Against Burke.

CHICAGO, June 18.—Chief of Police Hubbard, speaking to-day of the arrest of Martin Burke in Winnipeg, said: We have a good deal more evidence against Burke than has been published. The identification of his photograph is not nearly all. Burke was frequently heard to say Dr. Cronin ought to be removed. There is not a shadow of doubt in my mind that Martin Burke helped to kill Cronin. Whether the Winnipeg man is he cannot be stated positively but there is not much doubt about it. It is stated that a friend of Burke has "squealed" and will accompany the officers with the requisition to Winnipeg.

Remanded Until Saturday.

WINNIPEG, June 18.—Martin Burke, who is in custody here for complicity in the murder of Cronin, was remanded to-day till Saturday. Chicago officials being expected here Thursday to identify him. Burke admits living in Chicago and says he knew Cronin by sight but is very uncommunicative. No papers were found on him and the name on his linen, as well as the name on the sweatband of the hat found in his valise, is carefully obliterated.

The Niagara Falls Waterworks Bylaw.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., June 18.—The bylaw voted on to-day to bond the town for $77,000 to construct and maintain an efficient waterworks system was carried by 98 majority. This is the fourth time in two years this bylaw has been before the ratepayers.

Prohibition Snowed Under.

BUFFALO, June 18.—Despatches from Pennsylvania to-night indicate the defeat of the prohibition constitutional amendment by [illegible]

Another Drop in Coffee.

NEW YORK, June 18.—The activity and excitement at the Coffee Exchange continued to-day in view of the decline in Havre and Hamburg. There was a drop of 20 points on the day's sales of 143,750 bags.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT.

Raceland Wins the Suburban Handicap at Sheepshead Bay.

NEW YORK, June 19.—The great struggle for the Suburban Handicap at Sheepshead Bay yesterday was witnessed by 20,000 people. A. Belmont's Raceland with "Snapper" Garrison up won in 2.08 4-5, Terra Cotta 2nd, Gorgo 3rd. Six others ran. The betting was 3 to 5 against Raceland.

Psotta Jaundiced.

LONDON, June 18.—Psotta, the oarsman, is jaundiced. He still exercises for the coming race for the diamond sculls at Henley, but his chances of winning have diminished. The only other foreign competitor, Doering of Hamburg, will withdraw.

The Titania-Katrina Race.

NEW YORK, June 18.—The first of the races arranged between the yachts Titania and Katrina ended to-day inglorously for the latter. Shortly after the start she gave up the race. The Titania covered the 31 mile course in 4 hours 23 seconds and thus won. Each race is for a cup worth $500. The wind was strong and the sea heavy. The next race will be sailed on Thursday.

The Yacht Race in English Waters.

QUEENSTOWN, June 18.—In the yacht race to-day the Valkyrie led for twenty miles when she was overhauled by the Yarana. The wind then died away and both vessels were becalmed. The race was not finished.

PORTLAND, Oregon, June 18.—The annual elections of the Oregon and Transcontinental and Oregon Railway and Navigation Companies were held yesterday. Villard carried the former and a compromise was effected whereby the latter system will be a part of the Union Pacific system, the Northern Pacific to have nothing to do with it.

The Old Doctors

Drew blood, modern doctors cleanse it; hence the increased demand for Alteratives. It is now well known that most diseases are due, not to over-abundance, but to impurity, of the Blood; and it is equally well attested that no blood medicine is so efficacious as Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

"One of my children had a large sore break out on the leg. We applied simple remedies, for a while, thinking the sore would shortly heal. But it grew worse. We sought medical advice, and were told that an alterative medicine was necessary. Ayer's Sarsaparilla being above all others, we used it with marvelous results. The sore healed and health and strength rapidly returned." — J. J. Armstrong, Weimar, Texas.

"I find Ayer's Sarsaparilla to be an admirable remedy for the cure of blood disease. I prescribe it, and it does the work every time." — E. L. Pater, M. D., Manhattan, Kansas.

"We have sold Ayer's Sarsaparilla here for over thirty years and always recommend it when asked to name the best blood-purifier." — W. T. McLean, Druggist, Augusta, Ohio.

CROPS OF THE COUNTY.

Spring Grains Excellent—Fall Not so Good—Fine Weather Wanted.

One year ago when the County Council met the crops were looking fairly well, but were suffering for rain, and the report from each township was that if rain would come the yield might be fairly good. This year this report is reversed. The crops at present look a great deal better than last year and the prospects are better, but instead of rain sunshine is wanted.

The spring crops throughout the county are good—in most places exceedingly good, and the fall wheat is fair, but the growth has not been regular and it is generally reported to be "patchy." Hay will be a poor crop. Clover has been killed and timothy is light, but fine weather now would improve it. Potatoes promise very well, but other vegetables have been injured by grubs. Fruit is also reported to be doing well. On the whole the outlook is favorable, the strength of the farmers' hopes depending principally upon the spring wheat, barley and oats, and if the weather should be favorable—if the sun gets an opportunity to do his work—a bountiful yield will be the result. The following is a summary of the information obtained from a representative of each township at the County Council:—

ASPHODEL.

In this township the spring crops promise very favorably—as good as they ever did. Fall wheat will not be an average, hay is light on account of the cold weather, and fruit will be plentiful.

BELMONT.

The spring crops in Belmont look splendid, never better. Fall wheat is thin, and hay is thin but may pick up. Fruit is good.

DUMMER.

In this township there never was a better prospect for a good crop of barley and other spring grains. Fall wheat is irregular in the fields. Hay has been hurt by the frost and will be deficient. The fruit crop promises to be fairly good. There are some complaints that late planted potatoes have rotted and some vegetables have been injured by worms.

DOURO.

Fall wheat in Douro is fair, but a little patchy in places. The spring crops all look well, except in low ground where it has been injured considerably by the cold and wet weather. Hay will be light; the clover was killed and the timothy is thin. Fruit has also been injured some by frost. Potatoes are good, except in low lands, and carrots and garden stuff has been injured by grubs.

NORTH MONAGHAN.

The spring crops in this township on the whole looks well, but in low grounds they are suffering from the continued downfall of rain. Fall wheat is pretty fair, though not heading out as regular as in some years. Hay is not so good, but is picking up. Fruit looks well, and vegetables, especially potatoes, have been injured by the wet weather. Dry weather is wanted or the wheat will be too rank.

ENNISMORE.

In Ennismore the spring and fall crops never looked better. Hay is poor; it is thick but is short. The prospects for fruit are not favorable. Potatoes and vegetables are looking well, except in some low lands

OTONABEE.

The fall wheat in Otonabee is of good appearance, though in the low lands it is not regular. On high lands the spring crops are doing well and in low ground fairly well now. Hay will not be an average crop. Clover is scarce, but where a catch was got is doing well. The fruit appears very good, except grapes.

SMITH.

The spring and fall grains are all good in Smith. The new-seeded hay is good, but the old-seeded is poorer. Fruit is uncommonly good, and potatoes and other vegetables are coming up very fairly.

BURLEIGH, ETC.

The fall wheat is good. The spring grains are very good, but damaged a little by the grub on the dry hills. Hay is light, owing to the cold, wet weather. Fruit is fair, as are also vegetables, but the grub has injured them. The frost was not heavy in this section.

HARVEY.

The spring crops are all good, and the fall wheat fair, though partly killed in spots. Hay is poor; clover was winter killed and the timothy hurt with the frost. The prospects for fruit are fair, but vegetables have been greatly injured by the grub.

GALWAY.

What fall wheat was sown is good. The spring crops look splendid. Hay is middling; it has been hurt by the grub, which also damaged the garden stuff. Potatoes look first rate.

County Orange Lodge.

The semi-annual meeting of the County Orange Lodge was held last evening, when a good number of the members of the Lodge were present. Considerable routine business was transacted and the matter of celebrating the 12th of July was concluded. It was decided to allow the different districts to observe the day how and where they pleased. Peterborough district has accepted the invitation of Lindsay and will go to that place, as also will the 'Prentice Boys and True Blues. The Jesuit question also came up and was discussed, and a resolution condemning the Jesuit legislation and those who voted against Col. O'Brien's resolution, was adopted. A copy of the resolution was, probably through an oversight, not ordered to be given to the local papers, and the County Secretary did not consider he would be at liberty to give it to the local press, although he was instructed to send the resolution to the Toronto dailies. The Peterborough dailies will have to wait and get a copy from the Toronto papers, or not publish it at all.

Personal.

Mr. Ed. Dawson, of Sault St. Marie, is in town.

Mr. J. D. Baptie and his bride arrived home last evening.

Miss M. Green and Miss E. Harvey, of Woodstock, are visiting in town, the guests of Mr. Peter Connal.

Paymaster Howard, of the Hastings Star, was in town last evening and was at the dril shed to see the 57th after their parade.

Mr. T. P. McGowan, of Portland, Me., who represents the Boston Pilot, of which John Boyle O'Reilly, LL. D., is the gifted editor, is in town for a few days with headquarters at the Grand Central.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

A large and enthusiastic meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary was held yesterday. Mr. T. S Cole, travelling secretary, gave a very practical talk on how the ladies have and can help in the great work for our young men. Afterwards organization was completed and final arrangements were made for the garden party to be held on Friday evening at Mrs. M. Dixon's, Smithtown Hill. No pains are being spared to make it one of the most enjoyable events of the season. We are pleased to see such united effort displayed by the ladies of the churches. All denominations are working heartily together to make it a grand success. All kinds of refreshments will be provided, strawberries (first of the season), ice cream, etc. Choice music will be furnished by the Y. M. C. A. band, and the grounds will be illuminated with Chinese lanterns, etc. Admission, 10c. 'Busses will leave the rooms, corner of George and Brock-sts. every fifteen minutes from 7 p.m. Fare, 5c. Ladies desirous of helping by sending provisions can greatly oblige committee by sending the same to Mrs. Dixon's, or to the Y. M. C. A. rooms not later than 4 p.m. Proceeds in aid of Furnishing Fund.

Drunk and Insane.

A special session of the Police Court was held at four o'clock yesterday afternoon when Fred Foster, the drunk who was remanded to gaol last week to sober up, was discharged and Albert Gayonge, a Frenchman, who was also before the Magistrate last week on a charge of insanity, was committed to gaol as a lunatic.

MARRIED.

MOORE—PAYNE.—At the residence of the bride's mother on the 12th inst., by the Rev. Mr. Metheral, Mr. J. R. MOORE, of Asphodel, to Miss ANNIE PAYNE, daughter of Mrs. D. Payne, Pine Grove, Dummer.

'A Spring Message'
From the New Firm of
H. LeBRUN & CO.
Sign of the Golden Horse-shoe.

The people of Peterborough and vicinity are all aware of the business change which took place in the CITY CLOTHING STORE on the first day of February last. The new firm beg leave to make their first bow to the public through the columns of the REVIEW, and to request a careful perusal of the following Spring and Summer circular:—

The City Clothing Store

in past years, by long experience in business, by buying always for spot cash, importing direct from the principal houses of the old country and from the leading houses of Canada, and by strict economy in conducting its business, has always been able to force prices down to an exceedingly fine point. The members of which the new firm is composed will form a still stronger "combine," by which the CITY CLOTHING STORE will be even better prepared to procure for its customers a continuation of those superior inducements in the future for which it has been noted in the past.

Men's Clothing.

The magnitude of our stock and lowness of prices gives us a great advantage over all other competitors in the trade. We carry in stock all the fast selling lines, styles and patterns, and can fit the tall, the short, the fat and the lean. MORE SUITS, BETTER FABRICS, FINER STYLES than were ever handled before.

Special values in FINE SPRING OVERCOATS, and FINE SPRING and SUMMER SUITS. Don't fail to see them. The superb styles, workmanship, and the beautiful fabrics and patterns that we offer will surprise you.

Merchant Tailoring.

"For the apparel oft proclaims the man."

Fine dressers in search of new, neat and nobby OVERCOATINGS, SUITINGS or TROUSERINGS will find this department crowded to overflowing with cloth from all countries. To select from the largest assortment is an advantage we offer to our customers, backed up by the skill of experienced cutters and tailors. Besides perfect fit and first-class trimmings, we guarantee absolutely first-class workmanship.

Boys' and Youths' Clothing.

Clothing for the little ones—boys and children—has always been a specialty with us. We have always sought to give great values in this department, and to provide a larger and finer variety of goods for parents to select from than they could find elsewhere.

This means that we are showing a large assortment of BOYS' and CHILDREN'S SUITS, BOYS' and CHILDREN'S BLOUSES, SHIRT WAISTS, PANTS, &c.

This spring there are an unusual number of new and nobby styles and an enlarged variety of fabrics and patterns. Be sure and see our stock.

Gents' Furnishings.

Gentlemen of Peterborough seeking the latest styles and best values for their money, as well as an opportunity of selecting from the largest stock of Furnishing Goods, should not fail to visit this department at once. We offer the finest, best selected and the largest assortment of NECKWEAR, HOSIERY, UNDERWEAR, GLOVES, SHIRTS, HANDKERCHIEFS, etc., to be found in any first-class establishment.

The Boys in Red.

The 57th Batt. had a march-out last evening. The parade was formed at the drill shed, and shortly after eight o'clock, headed by the battalion band, they marched down George-st. to Simcoe, around the block to Murray-st. and along Murray to the corner of Water-st., where the men were put through a number of battalion movements before a large crowd of onlookers. Lieut.-Col. Rogers was in command and Major Bell was also on parade. After retiring to the drill shed, the Colonel called another parade for Tuesday night next, and remarked that this would be the last battalion drill until the warm weather was over.

Hallelujah Excursion.

The Salvation Army will run an excursion to Jubilee Point and hold a basket picnic to celebrate Dominion Day, July 1st. The Golden Eye with palace barge will leave Peterborough at 8 o'clock a.m., and the Daisy, also with palace barge, and the Pearl will leave Harwood and Bewdley at 8.30 and 11.30 a.m. There will be a great gathering at the Point, where a gigantic meeting in the grove will be conducted by Staff Captain Marshall, assisted by officers, clergymen, brass, string and jingle bands, and soldiers. There will be music on the boats and refreshments on the steamers and on the grounds. The return fare is 50 cents from town and 25 cents from Harwood, Bewdley, etc. The Army expects to have a great day with the soldiers and friends who will gather at the beautiful Point.

THE COUNTY COUNCIL.

The Address in Reply to the Speech From the Throne—Communications.

The Council resumed this morning. The minutes previous day were read and confirmed.

REPORT ON WARDEN'S ADDRESS.

Mr. BURNHAM read the following report of the Committee on the Warden's address:—

The special Committee on the Warden's address beg leave to report as follows:—

1. Your Committee congratulate this County and Province on the bright prospects of a splendid harvest this year. It is to be hoped that the anticipations of the Warden will be completely realized.

2. Your Committee approve of the action of the Warden in temporarily filling the office of gaol surgeon made vacant by the absence of Dr. Kincaid.

3. Your committee congratulate the Council upon the settlement of the Hague estate claim at Lakefield in an amicable manner without proceeding to law.

4. Your committee commend the action of Warden with reference to the Pigeon Creek bridge and advise the Council to adhere to the position heretofore taken and upheld by them.

5. Your Committee congratulate the Council that the renewed effort of the County of Northumberland to get such legislation as would foist upon this county the expense of joining in maintaining the Trent bridge has failed.

6. Your committee are pleased to note that the decision of the Supreme Court in the action of Victoria County against this Council has been given favorably to the contention of this Council.

All of which is respectfully submitted,
JOHN BURNHAM,
Chairman.

Peterborough, June 19, 1889.
The report was adopted.

COMMUNICATIONS.

An invitation was read from W. Mathieson to the Council to attend the A.O.U.W. picnic at Havelock on June 21st.—Received.

A communication was read from C. J. Pursey, Secretary of the Irondale, Bancroft and Irondale railway, pointing out that an extension of the road would benefit the county and asking the Council to consider the question of giving assistance.—Referred to the Finace Committee.

The Council then adjourned.

Moonlight Excursion.

The moonlight excursion given last Monday night on the palace barge City of Peterborough, conducted by Mr. R. Hallahan, was a decided success. Music was furnished by Prof. Doucet's orchestra and everything was conducted in first-class style. The steamer returned to the wharf at 12 o'clock sharp.

A George-st. Man Gone.

Yesterday Mr. Robert Wainwright left on the C. P. R. for Alberta, N.W.T., where he intends to make a new home for himself. This morning two of his sons, Samuel and George, followed him with the household effects, etc. There are a large number of friends and sympathizers for Mr. Wainwright, who will wish him success in his new home.

SAVED.—A fine family of children were all afflicted with scrofula. Two died early; the rest would soon have followed, but for the timely and persevering use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which built them up into a healthy and vigorous manhood.

Sporting Sparks.

On Saturday afternoon last the Westwood and Allandale baseball clubs played a match, in which the former were victorious by a score of 43 to 26.

The Hasting Star says Messrs. E. E. Sheppard, of Toronto Saturday Night, and E. K. Dodds, of the Canadian Sportsman, and a number of other city magnates, are camped a few miles down the river testing the fishing resources of the Trent.

The Hastings baseball tournament on Dominion Day will probably be a great affair, and, according to the Star, the managers are trying to secure all the best clubs possible, as the following will show:—"Scheduled games will prevent the appearance of the Syracuse and Hamilton baseball teams at the tournament here on Dominion Day. The Toledo and Detroit teams have been invited, and arrangements have also been made with the Peterborough nine to play here on that day."

The heavy rain to-day prevented the cricketers going to Port Hope to play the match with the eleven of that town.

The lacrosse teams chosen by Joe Begley and Jerry Packenham will be unable to play their practice match to-night, the rain interfering.

You've heard it, thought of it, now try it and prove that M. R. KIDD sells No. 1 groceries at lowest prices.

Wedding Bells.

A happy event took place at the residence of Mrs. James Dixon this afternoon when her daughter, Miss Maggie, was united in the bonds of matrimony to Mr. George Dawson. The wedding was a quiet one, the ceremony being witnessed only by the relatives and a few immediate friends of the contracting parties. Rev. E. F. Torrance tied the nuptial knot while Mr. A. R. Thompson assisted the groom and Miss Lillie Dixon, sister of the bride, and Miss Sophie Cameron, were bridesmaids. After the ceremony the happy couple, together with the guests, sat down to an elaborate wedding supper before leaving on the evening train for Chicago. Both the bride and groom have a large circle of friends in Peterborough who will unite in wishing them success and felicity their journeying through life. Miss Dixon is an estimable young lady who will be greatly missed by the young people of St. Paul's church, where she was an active member and worker in all the young people's societies, as well as being a member of the choir. That she has many friends who wish her well was evidenced in a most substantial manner by the many handsome presents of which she was the recipient. Mr. Dawson is an energetic young man who has lately been living in Chicago, but is now intending to go further west and his numerous friends will wish him success wherever he may cast his lot. The REVIEW extends its congratulations to the happy young couple and joins with their many friends in wishing them much of the joy and little of the sorrow of this world.

MASONIC EXCURSION.

The First Excursion Over the New Branch of the G. T. R.

Yesterday morning the first excursion over the new branch of the G. T. R. to Chemong Lake and from thence to Bobcaygeon was held under the auspices of the Masonic order. Quite a number availed themselves of this opportunity of enjoying a day's outing. From town to the wharf at Chemong Lake is a distance of about ten miles, and the route lies through the township of Smith. Leaving town the road is up grade, and a pretty view of Nassau and the river is obtained off to the right, away down far below the level of the train. This is undoubtedly the prettiest scene along the route to the lake. A good view of well-kept farms and the apparently abundant crops of this flourishing township could also be obtained. The line for a newly built road is in first-class condition, and when the road is completely ballasted and the train hands get more accustomed to it, some fast time may be expected. However, a quick run was made, and in a few minutes after leaving town the excursionists were landed at the wharf at Chemong Lake. Here a new wharf has been built which gives ample accommodation to passengers, and as it projects outward into the lake, steamers can come in on both sides. The station has been repaired and painted and a turntable has also been constructed.

The wharf lies about two miles from the village of Bridgenorth, and here was found in waiting the steamer Beaubocage, Capt. Hamilton, and palace barge Paloma, of the Trent Valley line, to convey the party to Jacob's Island. The steamer Maple Leaf was also lying at the wharf awaiting the arrival of the train to make her daily trip to Bobcaygeon. In a short time both the excursionists and all the necessary requisites for a picnic were transferred to the barge, and the jovial party were soon steaming on their way up the lake. Prof. Doucet and his assistants now began to tune up their instruments and some of the young people indulged in the mazy on the up trip. Refreshments were to be had on the boat and every accommodation was provided by the committee for the comfort and thorough enjoyment of all on board. The excursionists were relieved of the bother of transferring their baskets, from train to boat by the efficient committee in charge, to whom much praise is due, especially to one worshipful bachelor brother who undertook the charge of a couple of baby carriages, and from the masterly way in which he guided it he evidently understood its locomotion.

The sail up Chemong and Pigeon Lakes was a very enjoyable one. Mr. J. W. Diamond, purser of the Paloma, looked well to the comfort of the passengers and pointed out to the REVIEW reporter some interesting points along the route. The distance from Bridgenorth to Bobcaygeon is about 15 miles, and is indeed a very pretty sail. After winding in and out among the islands in Chemong Lake for a time the Indian village was sighted off to the right, which lies about six miles from Bridgenorth, and as seen from the boat presented a very neat appearance. It contains about 200 inhabitants. Some very pretty scenery was pointed out, and several steamers were seen plying the waters in all directions. After entering Pigeon Lake Oak Orchard was sighted, which is about 9 miles from 'Caygeon, and here the steamer pulled up to allow some passengers to land. Jacob's Island, six miles from Bobcaygeon, was soon afterwards reached, and here the steamer again stopped. Only a small party seemed inclined to stop here, but on learning that Old Man Jacob wasn't at home they decided to continue on the trip with the majority to Bobcaygeon, and so have the pleasure of viewing the rocks, which was reached shortly after noon.

A large number got out at the lime kiln, just below Bobcaygeon, and here they proceeded to dine in regular picnic style. An abundance of hot water had been kindly provided for them, also an abundance of rocks, or at least the rocks were there anyway. The remainder of the excursionists continued on up to the village, where the hotels had made ample provision for those who did not wish to be encumbered with baskets. A pleasant time was spent in sociability with the Bobcaygeonites, and in collecting curiosities, and many specimens of red cedar, juniper bushes, ferns and rocks were carried away as mementoes of the trip. At about 2.30 the steamer's whistle announced that the time for departure had arrived, and the excursionists wended their way back to the boat accompanied by a fair representation of the villagers, all expressing regret at having to leave so soon.

Once more aboard the party were soon sailing down on the homeward trip. On account of not stopping at Jacob's Island no one made any attempt at fishing. Those who brought fishing tackle fell to telling "fish yarns," and upon Purser Diamond telling of a gentleman from Toronto who caught 70 bass and 7 'lunge at the Big Island last Saturday afternoon, one brother was noticed to heave a heavy sigh and lay his troll line carefully away in the bottom of his basket.

The return trip was very pleasant and the sail was enjoyed by all, the wharf being reached in good time. The train was found in waiting, and once more aboard, the excursion was landed in town at about 6.30 o'clock.

NOTES.

Capt. Bottom who having leased Jacob's Island from the owner, Mr. Pat Crowley intends making some improvements and providing some way of obtaining hot water, etc., for the convenience of picnic parties.

One small steamer plies twice daily between Chemong Lake wharf and Bobcaygeon connecting with the train.

The run up last night to meet the boat at Chemong Lake was made in 12 minutes.

Clearing Sale.

We are going through our stock, and any goods that we are overstocked in we are putting down to a price that must clear them out quickly. Going Out of Business.

The public will have noticed by the announcement made on posters that Mr. H. Best has decided to go out of business by July 1st next. This entails the sacrifice of the entire stock of stoves, tinware and house-furnishing hardware. Mr. Best means business and is offering the entire stock at wholesale prices. Let there be no misunderstanding about this. Wholesale price means just what the goods cost Mr. Best. Now, this is a fine opportunity. The assortment is large and you can have a choice of many kinds. Tinware of every description, all everyday necessaries. Don't miss this opportunity and buy while it lasts. It is imperative that the stock shall be cleared out at once. 3d142

STOLEN WATCHES RECOVERED.

A Young Lad Arrested on Suspicion of Robbing a Jewellery Store.

On Friday night, June 7th, the jewellery store of Mr. George Wyatt, on George-st., was entered and a quantity of goods stolen, including some nine watches and a number of watch cases and chains. The burglary was kept quiet at the time as the police wished to await developments. Yesterday Chief Roszel succeeded in recovering five of the watches, one gold and one silver case and seven chains and later in the afternoon he arrested Walter Whitfield on suspicion of being one of the perpetrators of the robbery. Walter is a young lad not more than twelve or thirteen years of age and has respectable parents living in town. It appears that a couple of other boys knew of the job, one of whom is an older brother of Walter Whitfield's, who is now at Hespeler, and Chief Roszel left for that place to see the young man. Just what led the boy to commit such a deed it is hard to say, for he has not a bad character. The shop was entered by the front door, the boy having procured a key which would open the door.

It appears that the younger one of the Whitfield boys sent some of the watches to his brother in Hespeler, and fearing that he would be detected, wrote to his brother to send the watches back, and in sending them back a mistake was made which gave Chief Roszel his clue. Other of the stolen timepieces were given to another young lad and it was common talk among the companions of young Whitfield.

Walter was locked up in the cells last night, and this morning he was remanded until-to-morrow morning.

The Port of Registration.

By an Order-in-Council, passed at Ottawa on the 18th inst., Peterborough is made the Port of Registration for this district, with Mr. C. Clementi as measuring surveyor of shipping. Heretofore all boats requiring registration were entered at Port Hope, and the legend "Woodman, of Port Hope," displayed on the stern of a steamer plying on the lakes to the north has conveyed the idea to the inexperienced observer that the lake town had a mortgage on everything that walks the waters like a thing of life throughout this county. The numbers of the inland shipping is increasing so rapidly in this district that the convenience of registry nearer home has become a necessity and steps were taken to have this town made the port of registration. One result will be that Port Hope will lose an amount of gratuitous advertising.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 19, 1889.

THE MURDER OF CAPT. DAWSON.

Dr. McDow Indicted, and the Trial Set Down for Monday Next.

CHARLESTON, S. C., June 18.—In the Court of General Sessions yesterday, Judge Kershaw presiding, the Grand Jury returned a true bill against Dr. T. B. McDow for the murder of Capt. F. W. Dawson in March last. McDow was arraigned, and pleaded not guilty. Next Monday, June 24, was fixed for his trial. McDow is represented by ex-Judge Magrath and Asher D. Cohen; the State by Solicitor Jervey, who will probably have assistant counsel. McDow appeared in court in a new suit of clothes, clean shaven, and, though looking a little haggard by reason of long confinement in jail, was cool and collected.

The regularity of the drawing of the petit jury having been called in question, a motion was made to challenge the whole array of jurors on the ground that the requirements of the statute with reference to the drawing of jurors had not been strictly complied with by the Jury Commissioners. The irregularity complained of was that the jury box had not been shaken up prior to unlocking the box. Two affidavits to this effect were submitted, but Judge Kershaw refused the motion, holding that the act had been substantially complied with. This motion was made in a case of burglary and larceny, but is mentioned here because the jury as it stands will be the jury that will try McDow. There are fourteen negroes on the panel, the largest number drawn on any one jury for years. The McDow case is exciting great interest, and will probably continue a greater part of next week.

A TEST CASE.

The Government to Sue the G. N. W. Telegraph Company for Delivering Letters.

HAMILTON, June 18.—It is understood that enquiries are being made in the city to-day with a view to instituting proceedings against the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company for the violation of the provisions of the Postal Act in delivering private letters in competition with the postoffice. The inquiries are being made by Walker, Scott & Lees, solicitors, who have instructions from the Government to institute proceedings, and it will likely be a test case. The action will be taken under section 38 of the Postal Act, which gives the Postmaster-General exclusive right to collect and convey letters. There are certain exceptions, among others those letters sent by messenger on purpose concerning the private affairs of the sender or receiver. It is expected that the telegraph company will base its defence on this exception.

The writ will probably be served to-morrow on the telegraph company. It is well known that there is at least one other office in the city which receives and delivers letters, but it is not yet known whether a writ will be issued against these parties.

DIOCESE OF NIAGARA.

Opening of the Anglican Synod at Hamilton —The Bishop's Address.

HAMILTON, June 18.—The Anglican Synod of the diocese of Niagara opened this morning in Christ Church schoolroom, Bishop Hamilton presiding. Rev. W. R. Clark and Ald. J. J. Mason were elected honorary secretaries. There were 60 clerical and 55 lay delegates in attendance. Bishop Hamilton's address was very lengthy, treating of the Lambeth conference, the Christian unity conference at Toronto—which His Lordship said had intensified the hopes as well as the desires for unity—changes in the diocese, the work of the Sunday schools, C.E.T.S., etc.

Chancellor Martin's opinion, that canons passed by the diocese of Toronto were not binding upon the diocese of Niagara, was read by the secretary.

The report of the executive committee was then read and discussed.

An Orphan Girl Abducted.

NEW HAVEN, June 18.—The village of Woodmont is stirred over an abduction case. Last week a 14-year-old orphan girl by the name of Sadie Ring was taken from the home of a Woodmont family which had befriended her and carried off. The child had from March last made the house of Andrew Gilbert her home. Mr. Gilbert found her one cold night on the railroad track. The child said she had run away from Norwalk from the home of Lawyer J. A. Gray, by whom she had been shamefully treated. She was then on the road to Boston, and intended to walk the entire distance. Mr. Gilbert persuaded Sadie to stay with him over night, which she did. When morning came she was loath to go away, and weeks and months still found her at Mr. Gilbert's house, where she lived as one of the family. On Tuesday Lawyer Gray and a man whom he introduced as a Sheriff called at the Gilbert house. He demanded the child. When Sadie saw the lawyer she grew frantic, and on her knees begged Mr. Gilbert not to allow her to be taken away. The supposed Sheriff, however, frightened Mr. Gilbert, and he told Sadie that she would have to go. With this the child rushed to a bureau where Mr. Gilbert kept his razor, and taking the weapon she raised it to her throat, saying that she would kill herself before she would go. Mr. Gilbert caught her arm before she did herself any injury. The child was then carried to a beach wagon, which was in waiting near by, and was driven off. Mr. Gilbert has learned that the Sheriff was a fraud, and will prosecute both him and Gray.

A Bigamist Punished.

HAMILTON, June 18.—At the General Sessions to-day Jeremiah Power Duggan was placed on trial charged with bigamy. The prosecution showed that he married his first wife, a Miss Clark, in Dunnville, in May, 1874. This wife he deserted in Toronto about six years ago. In 1886 he married Mary Bradt of Waterdown. This wife he deserted about one year ago, leaving her with two children, the youngest of whom is now 15 months old. Both wives gave testimony. The jury found Duggan guilty, and he was sentenced to 18 months in the Central Prison.

David Munroe, dairyman, died suddenly yesterday from rupture of a bloodvessel in the brain.

Mrs. Margaret Brass, who was injured by a fall a year ago from which she never recovered, died this morning, apoplexy being the immediate cause.

The Orangemen of the Hamilton district will hold their annual celebration in Toronto on July 12.

APSLEY AFFAIRS.

A New Business Place—A Find of Phosphates.

Correspondence of the Review.

NEW STORE.—Mr. T. Eastland has completed the remodelling of his store and dwelling house, and is receiving his customers now in the spacious, well lighted and convenient new store, which occupies the site of the historic building familiar to old residents as the first store in Apsley. This building was razed and a new one built 32 feet in length and 24 feet in width. The front is occupied as a store and post office, occupying 30 feet. The rest is fitted up as store rooms. The entire front is of glass, and is so situated that the sun's rays fall obliquely through it for a greater part of the day. A large side window lights up the post office and a convenient writing desk near by. The ceiling is 12 feet in height and is finished, as also are the walls, in matched narrow lumber, painted a light pea-green color. The stock is advantageously displayed, there being an entire absence of that appearance of crowding that so confuses one's ideas and helps him to forget what article he was sent for. The former store is now converted into a commodious and tastefully arranged dwelling, which will soon be freed of the dust and grime of the carpenters, painters and paper hangers. The carpenter work has been under the management of Mr. Walter Whitefoot, who deserves great credit for the masterly and workmanlike manner in which all the details have been carried out by him. Mr. J. Webster had oversight of the painting and paper hanging. His reputation is so well and favorably known that encomium is unnecessary.

RECRUITS.—Mr. D'Arcy Strickland paid us a visit last week to obtain recruits for the Prince of Wales' Dragoon corps. Messrs. N. and A. Windsor donned the uniform and leave for drill this week.

DECEASED.—Mrs. Wm. Bass departed this life on Friday, 11th inst., having survived the death of her daughter just one week. The deceased was a native of Bedfordshire, England. She is the last of a large family who have fallen victims to that dread disease—consumption. Her husband, two sons and a daughter mourn her loss, and we extend them our sympathy in the double bereavement that has fallen on them so lately.

ERROR.—In last week's report the typesetter inaccurately set up "Jim" for "Jno." Young in the report of the Council proceedings.

MINE DISCOVERED.—Mr. W. R. Kidd, extensively know throughout all the north country as a mighty hunter, has turned his attention to a closer examination of the rocks with which otherwise he is so familiar and reports a valuable find of phosphates mixed with silver. He was in Peterborough lately with specimens and met with gratifying success. The Irondale railway, which is to be completed in four years, is only a few miles from his mine. We wish him every success in his new venture.

ATTRACTION
—AT—
TURNBULL'S

The first month of summer is an interesting period to the retail buyer. Keep your eye on this column, it's new-y. Each week things will appear that are the month passes will likely make you richer for the reading.

There is scarcely a weak spot in our Trimmed Millinery yet. The latest hat kind are turning up their pretty faces every day and all the time floods of freshness and brightness keep pouring in new goods constantly. That job line of Untrimmed Hats we spoke of last week is what pleases everybody, variety and prices being right. This week we have placed on our Dress Goods counter a dozen pieces of Fancy Dress Cloths at fifteen cents a yard. The only reason we can conceive that these goods have not sold earlier at higher prices is that they were too new. They ought to, and no doubt will, go out very fast now. Attention is called to them. Shanting Pongees, the dustless kind. You know how the heathen Chinee crams dust into the common run of Pongees; he does not do it to the Shanting—Pure Silk and clean. These goods make up beautiful with our fine Henriettas.

In the Tweed Department we have a fine line of Halifax Tweeds that handle soft and fleecy, just as they ought to handle.—Sale price 35 cents.

We expect to-morrow's train to bring us in a large shipment of Corsets. We keep what our judgment says is the best make in the trade. We see representatives from all the factories. Our 50c. Corsets, we believe, are the best shown in Peterborough for years.

We have been able to repeat that line of Ladies Black Hose, heavy weight, at 15c. a pair. Those who have had these goods will be glad to hear they can get them again now.

Pink is the favorite color in Chambrays this season again. A fresh lot just arrived.

We keep suits for boys and small boys either with or without trimmings, at all prices. Before you buy see them.

PURE LIME FRUIT JUICE.
WHAT IS LIME JUICE?
This question is rendered necessary by the prominent attention Lime Juice is attracting as the Best Temperance Beverage. The answer is that it should be the juice of the Lime Fruit without admixture.
By the "MONTSERRAT" Company alone is the Lime Fruit cultivated for this purpose, and great care should be taken to obtain this brand (as supplied by the British Government) in lieu of the numerous concoctions sold under the name of Lime Juice Cordials, Prepared Lime Juice, etc. Sold by all Druggists, Grocers, and at the leading hotels.

A $25,000 WRIT SERVED.

THE GREAT NORTHWESTERN TELEGRAPH COMPANY SUED.

Postmaster-General Haggart Claims [illegible] Penalties for Violation of the Postal Service Act.

HAMILTON, June 19.—As I predicted yesterday, Walker, Scott & Lees this morning served George Black, local manager of the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company, with a writ claiming $25,000 for alleged infringement of the postal laws in delivering city letters in competition with the postoffice. The writ is issued at the instance of the Postmaster-General of the Dominion of Canada, and the endorsement is as follows:

The plaintiff's claim is for $25,000 for penalties against the defendants for violation of the provisions of the statute, being an act respecting the postal service, and being chapter 35 of the revised statutes of Canada, section 31. The plaintiff also claims an injunction restraining the defendants from further violation of the said statutes, or that the defendants may be ordered to keep an account of the delivery of letters by them for him in the meantime.

It is not probable that proceedings for an injunction will be taken at present.

The Postoffice Monopoly in England.

LONDON, June 19.—The British postoffice and the telephone companies are engaged in an interesting controversy, the first effect of which is to remind the public that the postoffice has from the beginning thrown obstacles in the way of telephoning, claimed and established the legal right to extend its telegraph monopoly to telephones, compelled the companies to work under a postoffice license, exacts 10 per cent. of their profits, and holds over them the power of suspending the license. The telephone companies now propose to amalgamate and the postoffice steps forward to prevent it. Amalgamation may or may not be in the public interest, but for the postoffice to resist because it would create a monopoly is comic, the postoffice itself being the largest monopolist in the kingdom and straining its powers to prevent a competition by which the public would benefit.

A Chapter of St. Thomas Accidents.

ST. THOMAS, June 19.—Alf. Codding, M.C.R. switchman, while coupling the yard engine to a car with a patent coupler in the yards here last night, had his left hand caught and squeezed to a pulp. It was found necessary to amputate the hand. The doctors say that very few men are possessed of the nerve of the unfortunate man, who, after the accident, walked unaided to the doctor's surgery and bore the operation unflinchingly.

Horace, the 10-year-old son of Mr. H. Rushton, had a narrow escape last night from serious if not fatal injuries. He was on the street while the Salvation Army procession was passing in front of the R. C. church, when the band, commencing playing, rendered a horse being driven by Mr. Charlton unmanageable. The lad got under the horse's feet but fortunately was not struck by his hoof. The wheels passed over him, one across his neck and the other over his head. He received a couple of scalp wounds and several bruises in the face.

Susie McKee had a narrow escape from death yesterday by taking a large dose of nitrate of potash instead of salts. Dr. McLarty was summoned, emetics administered, and the young woman fully recovered.

Windsor News.

WINDSOR, June 20.—The Globe Furniture Company of Dearborn, Mich., have located their proposed Canadian branch at Walkerville. The new company expect to employ 100 hands in the manufacture of church, school and public hall furniture.

Sarah Thompson is the name of a woman living at the corner of Wyandotte and Mercer-streets who is said to be in her 109th year. She is blind, partly deaf and unable to attend to herself but her mind does not seem to have suffered much impairment. She states she has no negro blood in her veins and that she was born in South Carolina, and many years ago came to Canada with a colored husband although she had been previously married to a white man. She and her daughters have always declared that 1780 was the year of her birth.

Belleville Briefs.

BELLEVILLE, June 20.—The County Council will this year expend $7000 on bridges.

A petition has been presented for the separation of the township of Faraday from the municipality of Dungannon and Faraday.

The first maskinonge of the season, a 16-pounder, was caught at Mosquito Bay Tuesday afternoon by Major Caswell.

Kincardine's Waterworks.

KINCARDINE, June 20.—A large and enthusiastic public meeting was held here Tuesday night to consider the advisability of establishing a waterworks system in Kincardine. Mayor Baird presided. A resolution was unanimously carried authorizing the Town Council to proceed with the contracts for the construction of waterworks on the franchise plan.

The Western Union's Purchase.

BALTIMORE, June 19.—A deed was recorded yesterday between the Baltimore and Ohio Telegraph Company and the Western Union Telegraph Company, whereby the Baltimore and Ohio Company conveys to the Western Union all its right, title and interest in, and to all its telegraph lines and property of every nature and description.

The Electric Sugar Sharp.

NEW YORK, June 19.—William E. Howard, "the electric sugar sharp," was found guilty yesterday in the Court of General Sessions of grand larceny in the first degree on the second count of the indictment, which charged him with taking $8000 from the Electric Sugar Refining Company, by means of false pretenses. Recorder Smyth can send him to jail for ten years.

CONSPIRACY AND MURDER

BURKE INDICTED BY THE CRONIN GRAND JURY.

A Bitter Arraignment of the Clan-na-Gael—The President of the Patriotic Order Sons of America on Foreigners.

CHICAGO, June 19.—At noon to-day the Cronin grand jury returned an indictment against Martin Burke, alias Martin Delaney, alias Frank Williams—now in custody at Winnipeg. The indictment contains two counts: one for murder and one for conspiracy with Coughlin, P. O. Sullivan and Woodruff for the purpose of committing murder.

A New Suspect.

CHICAGO, June 19.—An entirely new Cronin suspect is being looked for to-night. His name is Michael Cooney, known as "The Fox," because of a song he used to sing. Cooney and Burke, it is claimed, actually killed Cronin. Both are Clan-na-Gael men. Cooney is a bricklayer and came from Ireland only a few years ago. Little hope is entertained of the immediate arrest of Cooney. State's Attorney Longnecker allowed it to be inferred that he has two witnesses who will swear Cooney and Burke slept in the Carlson cottage several days prior to the tragedy and were seen leaving the cottage on the fatal night. Both are said to have gone to a saloon and drank heavily.

The States in a Bad Way.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—The thirteenth annual national camp of the Patriotic Order Sons of America began its sessions in this city yesterday morning. In concluding his annual report President Smith of Chicago spoke as follows:

A few more haymarket riots and Cronin murders, instigated by organised bodies of foreigners, who have been permitted to become citizens of this free America, and who have shown their gratitude by sending messengers, loaded with dynamite, back to their native country for the purpose of destroying innocent men and children, and who have foully murdered their members when they failed to carry out their hellish plans, and there will not be in our western country lamp posts, telegraph and telephone poles enough to hang the miscreants.

I ask you is there room in this country for societies like the Clan-na Gael that are not in harmony with and are injurious to American institutions; that are dangerous to American order, disloyal to American government, destructive to American principles, repugnant to American ideas and disgusting to all Americans who have any sense of justice, any regard for consistency and any respect for the sanctity of human life? Or have we room for societies whose officers contract with men to commit wholesale murder and then betray their tools that they themselves may have more money to spend for their own personal benefits?

One-third of our entire population is of foreign birth or parentage. Alien flags and foreign emblems float from our public buildings, emblazon our streets and head processions of the people. We are cursed with all kinds of foreign non-American issues. Vast un-American organizations are held together by issues of foreign birth for the purpose of perpetuating foreign sentiments and corrupting the ideals of our fathers. Anarchy and the destruction of all law are openly advocated, the right to enforce discipline and the principles of some of these orders are claimed by secret conclaves even to the extent of taking human life.

The Deadly Buzz Saw.

RICHMOND, Que., June 20.—A young unmarried man named Ponton met with a serious and probably fatal accident at Windsor mills yesterday afternoon in the steam saw mill owned by Mr. Joseph Bedard of this place. The unfortunate man got caught in the machinery and drawn under the big saw, which entered his side, and both arms were cut off above the elbows. He was a new hand, having only entered the mill Tuesday. He is not expected to survive many hours.

Hanged the Wrong Man.

PORT HURON, June 19.—The police authorities here have now pretty well settled down to the conviction that Martin, who was hanged by the lynchers, had nothing to do with the assault upon Mrs. Gillis. His appearance and dress did not agree with the description given by Mrs. Gillis, whereas her account perfectly described another tramp arrested on suspicion, but afterwards let go. The only evidence against Martin was Mrs. Gillis's statement when she saw him, that he was the man; but Mrs. Gillis was then in no state to give evidence about anything.

Increased Flour Output.

MINNEAPOLIS, June 19.—The Northwestern Miller says: The aggregate flour output last week was 112,760 barrels, against 100,100 the week before and 111,400 for the corresponding time in 1888. There have been quite liberal sales of flour during the past week, some firms reporting orders equal to double their output. The sales seem to have been made largely at old prices and apparently the trade is not taking the flour very freely at the 20 to 25 cents advance asked. The direct exports for the week were 34,600 barrels, against 35,170 for the preceding week.

Madison Becomes Colgate University.

UTICA, N.Y., June 19.—At the Madison University to-day James Colgate laid the corner-stone of the new Colgate library building; of which he is the donor. The building will cost over $150,000. In recognition of the gifts of James and Samuel Colgate to the university it was unanimously decided to-day by the trustees to change the name of the institution to Colgate University. The university has a new theological hall and is now well equipped.

Following Edison's Idea.

RALEIGH, N.C., June 19.—A test was made yesterday on the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad of a process recently invented by Baylus Cade, of this country, for telegraphing to and from moving trains. The current is maintained by means of a drag attached to the car and which slides over a set of wires laid along the track. Messages were received from the offices at Raleigh and Greensboro while the train was running at the rate of thirty miles an hour.

Ambitious City Notes.

HAMILTON, June 19.—W. B. Grimes, glass-blower, and his 14-year-old son Willie were poisoned Monday by eating corned beef and were for some hours in a critical condition, but both have nearly recovered.

The first of the three tests of the pumps at the beach was concluded to-day. So far the tests have been satisfactory.

The late Staff-Sergt. Woodhouse was buried with military honors this afternoon.

Hotel Stables Burnt.

MAXWELL, June 20.—Tuesday night the sheds and stables belonging to the hotel in this place were destroyed by fire. They were owned by R. Brown of Singhampton and rented by E. Linley; loss about $700. Linley also lost a cutter, harness and other articles worth about $100. A valuable horse narrowly escaped being burnt. No insurance. Origin of fire unknown.

Yellow Fever in Brooklyn.

NEW YORK, June 19.—Dr. R. W. H. Duncan, surgeon of the Pacific mail steamer Colon, has been taken ill with symptoms of yellow fever. He is now quarantined on the upper floor of his residence in Brooklyn.

Where Will He Borrow the Money?

WASHINGTON, June 19.—The United States Minister at Constantinople reports that the Sultan has donated £200 for the Pennsylvania flood sufferers.

Woodstock Cheese Market.

WOODSTOCK, June 20.—At the cheese market here yesterday there was a large representation of both buyers and sellers. Operations were limited, factorymen holding for 10c. Some sales were effected at 9⅞c. at 9¾c. and a small lot at 10c.

A THIRSTY JURYMAN.

Pays $10 For a Drink at Montreal—A Reckless Lad Killed.

MONTREAL, June 19.—Alfred Clarke, the juryman in the Hennessey case who left the jury room while the case was under consideration and got a flask of whisky, was fined $10 in the Court of Queen's Bench this morning. The motion to set aside the verdict on account of Clarke's action was taken en delibere.

Joseph Dubois, 7, while climbing on a Grand Trunk car at Pt. St. Charles last evening, fell, was run over and killed.

At the Merchants' Bank meeting to-day Mr. Hague, the general manager, delivered an elaborate address, in which he reviewed the general financial position of trade and commerce during the past year. The failure of crops in many districts had a bad effect on commerce, while the lumber and timber interest was not prosperous. The shipping industries fared perhaps better than usual. He referred to the loss by bad debts as the great drawback of our modern trading system. He also mentioned the danger of being tempted into outside speculations and looked upon it as the most prominent cause of losses by banks within the last five years. He considered the present outlook for business encouraging.

The former board of directors was re-elected.

The Bank of Ville Marie and the Bank of Jacques Cartier also held their annual meetings, at which satisfactory statements were presented and the old boards of directors re-elected.

GUELPH'S GALA DAY.

The Band and Firemen's Tournament—The Andersons Win First Prize.

GUELPH, June 19.—The success of the first day of the band and firemen's tournament received a severe check by a downpour of rain. The city is profusely decorated and presents a gay appearance. In the afternoon the bands and firemen marched in procession to the Exhibition Park, where a fair crowd was in attendance. In the competition of the first-class bands Anderson's Band of Toronto carried off the first prize, $300, with 533 points; Bowmanville second, 455 points, and Heintzman's Band of Toronto third, 443 points.

Hauled Down the Stars and Stripes.

GUELPH, June 19.—Murmurings of discontent were heard yesterday over a United States flag which was suspended over Wyndham-street together with the Union Jack and a German banner. Last night it was torn down and left in the street.

THE NIAGARA SYNOD.

A Church of England Temperance Society Formed—Delegates Elected.

HAMILTON, June 19.—At the morning session of the Niagara Synod Bishop Hamilton, Hamilton, appointed a committee to consider a letter from the Toronto diocese in reference to the jubilee of the diocese. A resolution of sympathy with the Johnstown sufferers requesting the Bishop to appoint a Sunday when the offerings may be devoted to their relief was adopted. These representatives on the Board of Domestic and Foreign Missions, to serve three years, were elected: Canon Houston, Niagara Falls; Rev. A. W. MacNab, St. Catharines; Mr. Henry McLaren, Hamilton, and Mr. William Ellis, St. Catharines.

At 11.45 the synod adjourned for half an hour in order that a Church of England Temperance Society might be organized in connection with the synod. The motion to adjourn for the purpose was carried by 45 to 37 votes, the largest vote of the session. A diocesan branch of the society was organized and officers elected.

These delegates to the Provincial Synod were elected: Revs. Canon Worrell, Oakville; Alex. W. MacNab, St. Catharines; W. R. Clark, Ancaster; Canon Sutherland, Hamilton; C.E. Whitcombe, Hamilton; E. J. Fessenden, Chippawa; Canon Belt, Burlington; A. J. Belt, Harriston; E. M. Bland, St. Catharines; Dean Geddes, Hamilton; A. E. Irving, Dundas, and Canon Houston, Niagara Falls.

A STRIKE FOR EIGHT HOURS.

Three Hundred Brickmakers Out—Other Labor News.

CHICAGO, June 19.—Three hundred brickmakers at Hedgewich and Blue Island struck yesterday. It is the first determined effort to put into effect the 8-hour law in Cook County. In a few days it is asserted all the yards around Chicago which work 10 hours will be deserted.

Labor Looks Down on Labor.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 19.—The Amalgamated Association convention to-day granted the application of the bolt makers for admission to the organization. This will necessitate a bolt makers' scale. The general strike assessment measure suggested by the American Federation of Trades whereby all members of the federation are assessed in case of a strike in any of the trade unions was adopted. An amendment was passed permitting the admission of a large number of men about the mills who heretofore could not join the organization. Everybody employed about the mills can now be freely admitted with the exception of common laborers. This latter question was left to the discretion of the local lodges to whom the laborers may apply for admission. The scale adopted for the eastern division is the same as last year. It is on a basis of $4 a ton on a 2-cent Philadelphia card.

NO ESCAPE FROM SING SING.

Two Convicts Cut Through Walls and Doors To Be Recaptured.

NEW YORK, June 19.—Two convicts made a futile attempt to escape from Sing Sing shortly after 2 o'clock this morning. James Montgomery, aged 40, a native of Ireland, occupied cell No. 305, on the first gallery, and Charles H. Cumming, aged 26, native born, was in No. 306, adjoining him.

Cummings had been allowed the liberty of the gallery by the keeper, and taking advantage of this opportunity he sawed the iron stanchion that fastened the door of his cell in such a way that he could not readily be detected. This allowed him to leave his cell at pleasure. Between the cells the two convicts sawed out a block of the hard granite which weighed 400 pounds.

The work must have occupied several weeks' time. During the day their operations were concealed with blankets. When all was ready Montgomery passed out into the gallery, while Cummings remained to watch. Montgomery went below to the ground floor and had half sawed through the heavy iron bars covering a window when he was discovered by Keeper Dennis Kenon. The men made no resistance and simply told the keepers that they were tired of prison life. The tools that the men used in their effort to escape consisted of table knives, files and a hammer.

Montgomery, who is a tinsmith, was sentenced March 23, 1887, to a term of three years for burglary in the third degree by Judge Gildersleeve. He made a former attempt to escape and was caught a mile from the prison. Cummings was sentenced for a term of twenty years March 19, 1885, for felonious assault. He was superintendent of the box factory. Montgomery will lose his entire commutation time and Cummings three years and ten months. The two men were transferred from the first to the second tier of cells.

Capital Notes.

OTTAWA, June 19.—A mass meeting of Orangemen for the Ottawa district will be held here to-morrow night to take into consideration the report of the Grand Lodge meeting at Goderich. It is understood that a resolution will be passed in favor of incorporation, which will likely be brought up at the next sitting of Parliament.

Sir John Macdonald will leave for River du Loup about July 1. Cabinet meetings are held daily, so as to get the work disposed of before that time.

Two Stranded Vessels.

DULUTH, Minn., June 19.—A tug and steamship wrecking outfit has left here for Castle Danger, 8 miles below Two Harbors. More will go down to-night. The steamer City of Cleveland, which is stranded there, is in bad shape and full of water. She is insured and is valued at $160,000. The schooner John Martin, also stranded, was not so badly damaged. She is valued for insurance at $35,000. The boats were coal laden for Duluth.

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

GALT'S SEVEN "HERETICS" EXCOMMUNICATED.

How They Regard the Sentence—The License Question—Godless Education—Sabbath Observance.

TORONTO, June 20.—The Galt "heresy" case again came before the General Assembly for consideration yesterday. The clerk read Dr. Laing's motion summarily dismissing the appeal. Permission was then given Mr. J. D. Cranston to make a statement, which he did as follows:

On behalf of the appellants we desire to state that, as far as our intention could make it possible, we have been loyal members of our church, and have endeavored to labor for its prosperity, and are quite willing to abide by any decision that may be arrived at in the interests of peace and harmony and the prosperity of the church, provided this decision does not rob us of our joy in God, through the Holy Ghost, which is given unto us, and the privilege to tell to others the glad news of gospel truth. It was mentioned yesterday that it might be advisable to allow us to retain our membership in the church of our choice, but to debar us from being teachers. As touching this point we have to say that we have no inclination at this time to request being allowed to become teachers in the Sabbath school or in the congregational prayer meetings. But we would like to understand what our privileges would be were we allowed to retain communion with our church. Would we be deprived of the privilege of reading a scripture lesson, taking part in prayer or testimony? What latitude would be given us? If permitted to take part in any of the exercises at any meeting, we will in the future, as in the past, acknowledge the authority of the chair, and should we say anything which might not be considered by such authority to be in harmony with the church, as held by our church, it would be a simple matter for him to check us, and we would quietly resume our seats. We cannot see what more could be gained by not allowing us to retain all the privileges of church membership.

Rev. Dr. Cochrane, seconded by Mr. Walter Paul of Montreal, moved an amendment to Dr. Laing's motion. It sustained the decisions of the courts, but recommended that assessors be appointed to confer with the session of Knox church with a view of reinstating the appellants in the privileges they had lost, trusting that the latter would desist from propagating their peculiar views.

The amendment was lost on a division of 118 to 25.

Dr. Laing's motion was next carried on a division of 128 to 7, and the appellants and members of the Synod of Toronto and Kingston stood up while the sentence of the court was read to the heretics.

Mr. J. D. Cranston, on behalf of the appellants, then read the following statement, which had been prepared in anticipation of the adverse vote:

On behalf of the appellants permit me to say, now that the case has been decided against us in the various courts of our Church, and no further appeal being possible, this it must be very apparent to those who have been watching this case that the decision which has been arrived at has been based on the records, meaning by that the answers given before the session of Knox church, Galt, at the inquisitorial trial, where we were practically confined to "yes" and "no" answers, as has since been admitted by members of that court. We cannot help but think that injustice has been done us by the majority of this assembly. Our views we have stated fully, and fondly hoped with Drs. Ure, Laidlaw, Duval, King and others that a broad, generous, Christian view of the case would be taken, as we, as Presbyterians, are substantially in accord with the principles and doctrines of our Church. However, we bow to the decision of the highest court of our Church, believing as we all do that God's hand is in everything. In the future, as in the past, we shall, as far as our intentions can make it possible, be loyal adherents, as in the past we have endeavored to be loyal members of our Church.

The committee appointed to deal with the overtures from other bodies respecting the Jesuits Estates Act brought in a report. The Act was protested against as a recognition of the Pope's authority and an invasion, consequently, of the Queen's supremacy, and because of the dangerous influences exerted by the Jesuit order. The highest legal advice should be sought as to the most effectual way of checking Ultramontane aggressions. The appointing of a standing committee having to do with all that makes for the preservation of Protestantism and civil and religious liberty was recommended.

The report of the Temperance Committee led to an animated discussion. Dr. Laing attacked the text book on temperance issued by the Education Department, because drunkenness was not put on the highest ground as a sin against God but as a sin against the body.

One of the resolutions urged the church to take "the fullest advantage of each and every prohibitory feature of the license acts." This was an apple of discord, several commissioners stoutly asserting that the license system is wrong in every respect and it is a sin to license evil. The ex-Moderator: "The license system includes the principle of prohibition. Have you no sympathy with prohibition? [Applause.] You by license prohibit 499 out of every 500 going into this trade."

Dr. King made an analogy between liquor licenses and prostitution. Both were evils which the assembly should condemn and not in any wise recognize.

Senator Vidal thundered his anathemas against the licensing of what he termed a fearful evil. He fell foul of Dr. Kellogg for his statement of the previous day that the license system is a good thing. This brought the doctor to his feet to explain that he meant license was, seeing that prohibition is not attainable, the best way of dealing with the liquor traffic.

Another of the resolutions recorded appreciation of temperance societies and bands of hope in connection with congregations. To this Rev. Dr. Thompson of Sarnia and one or two others offered strenuous opposition. He would have no lower plank than true Christian teaching. Said the doctor: "When I join a temperance society I am getting on lower ground." ["Hear, hear."] He had no band of hope in connection with his church and would never brook such a thing. On a division there were only 15 supporters of his view. Nothing dismayed the portly doctor returned to the attack at a later stage when the questions for the churches to answer on the subject next year were submitted. In this forlorn hope of leaving out mention of bands of hope he had a score of supporters. With verbal alterations the nine recommendations of the committee on the usual lines passed.

The Book of Forms was adopted, ordered to be published, the committee thanked, and $500 voted Dr. Laing for his services. A slight breeze occurred before this was accomplished. Dr. McCurdy threw a bombshell amongst the commissioners by asserting that "hundreds of persons are admitted to the Presbyterian ministry who are not sufficiently educated to properly expound the Word of God." The Galt "heresy" he cited as an example, but was promptly called to order. Dr. McVicar, with warmth, denied the impeachment from his 30 years' experience. Laughter greeted his assertion that many of those examined were better educated and more competent for ministerial work than the examiners.

Cutting Freight Rates.

CHICAGO, June 19.—The demoralization of freight rates has extended as far west as Marshalltown, Ia., and south to the northern boundary of Missouri and amounts to a cut of about 50 per cent. The reduction will, it is thought, affect Des Moines and Missouri River rates eventually. The Manitoba reduced through rates from New York to St. Paul 10 cents to the basis of 60 cents, first-class and to-morrow the St. Paul and Duluth will reduce the rate to 54 cents first-class. All of the freight agents concede that the Chicago roads must now reduce their rates, through and local, or surrender the business of Iowa, Minnesota and Dakota to the Lake Superior route.

The western railroads to-day agreed to reduce the rate on lumber from Chicago to Omaha to 13 cents a hundred pounds, taking effect June 25. This is in consequence of the reduction made by the Chicago and Alton from Chicago to Kansas City.

East York Conservatives.

UNIONVILLE, June 19.—The quarterly meeting of the Liberal-Conservative Association of East York was held at the Queen's Hotel here to-day. There was a fair attendance. It was decided to hold a convention at East Toronto on June 29 for the purpose of naming a candidate in the Conservative interest for the coming local election.

The Old Doctors

Drew blood, modern doctors cleanse it; hence the increased demand for Alteratives. It is now well known that most diseases are due, not to over-abundance, but to impurity, of the Blood; and it is equally well attested that no blood medicine is so efficacious as Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

"One of my children had a large sore break out on the leg. We applied simple remedies, for a while, thinking the sore would shortly heal. But it grew worse. We sought medical advice, and were told that an alterative medicine was necessary. Ayer's Sarsaparilla being above all others, we used it with marvelous results. The sore healed and health and strength rapidly returned." — J. J. Armstrong, Weimar, Texas.

"I find Ayer's Sarsaparilla to be an admirable remedy for the cure of blood diseases. I prescribe it, and it does the work every time." — E. L. Pater, M. D., Manhattan, Kansas.

"We have sold Ayer's Sarsaparilla here for over thirty years and always recommend it when asked to name the best blood-purifier." — W. T. McLean, Druggist, Augusta, Ohio.

"Ayer's medicines continue to be the standard remedies in spite of all competition." — T. W. Richmond, Bear Lake, Mich.

ATTACKING CLERGYMEN.

THE Globe and the local organ of the Liberal party have published very strong, abusive and unjustifiable language towards certain clergymen who have had the hardihood to differ from them in the interpretation of the law. The chief organ has more than once invited and urged clergymen to take a more prominent part in political affairs, but it seems to think that they should only do so when they can help the Liberal party. The Rev. Alex. Campbell, a respected clergyman of Montreal, having to some extent accepted the Globe's invitation, is charged by these papers with falsehood—"wholly groundless and inexcusable falsehood" and "a lie" is the polite language used. The Barrie Methodist District Meeting has also incurred their anger, and a resolution adopted at the meeting is called "a gross falsehood," etc. It might be thought that if the clergymen attacked had fallen into an error they could be set right without coarse abuse, but the anger of the Liberal organs leads them beyond the bounds of prudence, and their conduct is such that it must be condemned by fair-minded people.

This abuse has been called forth by the discussion of amendments made to the Separate School Act. Mr. Campbell believes that all ratepayers should be considered public school supporters, unless they give notice that they wish to become supporters of a separate school. The Globe says that that is the law now, and thus the issue arises.

One amendment to the law provides that the assessor must place all Roman Catholics on the roll as Separate School supporters. From this roll the municipal clerk makes up the collector's roll. Previous to this change the notices referred to were required, and the Liberal organ says they should still be required, but the fact remains that many clerks, if not all, do not so understand the law and place the ratepayers on the collector's roll. The consequence is—despite the ill-mannered and abusive terms of the organs—that ratepayers may be taken out of the ranks of public school supporters without having asked for the change.

The Globe itself has gone so far as to acknowledge that the law is not clear—that it might be advisable to alter it—and yet it does not hesitate to fling the coarsest language at clergymen because they do not accept its interpretation rather than their own view supported by the practice of municipal clerks. If the intention of the law is still to require the notice, why are the assessors given such instructions? What purpose does the amendment serve if the notice is still necessary? The law either presumes that all Roman Catholics should be separate and not public school supporters, or the amendment is meaningless and absurd. In either case it is a clause that should be repealed. It has been intimated that an alteration will be made, but it is years since attention was called to the matter and no action has been taken.

The clergymen who have been assailed by these Liberal organs will no doubt survive the attack. Language such as has been used towards them may be annoying, and is certainly disgraceful on the part of those using it, but it will only injure the assailants.

KEENE CHRONICLES.

Correspondence of the Review.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC.—The united Sunday school picnic will be held on Friday, 21st inst., to Idyl Wyld, the most beautiful spot on Rice Lake, per steamer Beaver and barge.

MASONIC EXCURSION.—Keene Masonic Lodge will hold their annual private excursion on Monday, St. John's day.

FALL RYE.—Mr. McCrea has a sample of rye at the "Victoria Drug Store" over 7ft. tall. Who can beat this?

ROADS.—Some of the roads are in a frightful condition owing to the way some of the pathmasters do the work. The present manner is not the best plan by any means. Of course a few beats are well looked after but on most of them the men just put in their time and consequently the work is done in a very careless manner. We are sure that it would pay the township to make an assessment of say 40 cts. or 50 cts. per day, taking the same number of days as at present, and appoint a commissioner or commissioners to expend the money so collected. The Council ought to try it for any two or three years and we are sure that it would then become a regular improvement.

Another Small Runaway.

The horse attached to one of the drays belonging to Mr. J. W. Flavelle took fright at the G. T. R. station this morning and ran away with a load of empty egg boxes. The waggon was emptied of its load when the animal turned around in the station yard, but the horse did not stop until it reached its stable near the C. P. R. station. No damage was done to either waggon or horse.

Picnic and Excursion.

The annual Sunday school picnic of St. Paul's church was held to-day, and the fine weather will ensure the large number who attended the outing an enjoyable and pleasant time. The day was to be spent at Chemong Lake, and five well-laden cars left the G.T.R. station at 8.30 this morning.

The St. Andrew's society's excursion to Toronto to-day was also well patronized, a large number going up on the two early trains.

"Pro Bono Publico" and Mr. Bogue.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—My attention has been called to a letter in your issue of 17th inst., signed "Pro Bono Publico." I am not surprised that the writer is so much ashamed of his production that he failed to put his name to it. In so far as his letter referred to me it is a malicious, lying statement, and is only in keeping with other statements manufactured in the same quarter, as you will see by the enclosed letter, which was written by the late Bishop Jamot shortly before his death. If I had not given satisfaction during my two years' work on St. Peter's Cathedral, a conscientious and pious man like the late lamented Bishop, would not have recommended me, as he did, to those of another diocese. I have only to state that during all the time I worked for him there, there never was the least word of difference between us, and unto his death I had the honour of counting him my best friend. I have no doubt that several other gentlemen I have worked for had equal satisfaction with me. I can, with confidence, refer my would-be friend, "Pro Bono Publico," to Messrs. W. H. Law, T. G. Hazlitt, J. B. McWilliams, Andrew Douglas and others, too numerous to mention, that I have done work for, who will speak just as highly of me and my work as the late Bishop Jamot did.

But now my would-be traducers cannot do equal work with me. I have done more good work in five years around Peterborough than they have been able to do in a life time. In my business transactions I never stop to inquire what any man's creed or nationality may be. Perhaps your correspondent is one of those who feed at the public crib and has the country at large paying his taxes, otherwise he would not be so liberal. However, I believe were he to come out under his own name the public would discover that my record would stand favorable comparison in every respect. His statements representing me, would, if true, be very injurious, and I challenge him to prove them over his own signature.

Yours truly,
JAMES BOGUE.

The following is the letter referred to in the above communication:—

ST. PETER'S CATHEDRAL,
Peterborough, 3rd April, 1886.

Diocese of Peterborough, Canada.

Rt. Rev. Monsignor Farrelly, V. G., Belleville:

RT. REV. MONSIGNOR,—I have much pleasure to introduce to you Mr. James Bogue, of Peterborough, he having first superintended and afterwards taken complete charge of the stone work of St. Peter's Cathedral. The work he has done is first-class. Should you see your way to give the work to Mr. Bogue, I do not think that you would ever regret it. Wishing you good success in your undertaking, I am, Very Rev. Father Farrelly.

Sincerely yours,
† JOHN FRANCIS JAMOT.
Bishop, Peterborough.

'A Spring Message'

From the New Firm of

H. LeBRUN & CO.

Sign of the Golden Horse-shoe.

The people of Peterborough and vicinity are all aware of the business change which took place in the CITY CLOTHING STORE on the first day of February last. The new firm beg leave to make their first bow to the public through the columns of the REVIEW, and to request a careful perusal of the following Spring and Summer circular:—

The City Clothing Store

in past years, by long experience in business, by buying always for spot cash, importing direct from the principal houses of the old country and from the leading houses of Canada, and by strict economy in conducting its business, has always been able to force prices down to an exceedingly fine point. The members of which the new firm is composed will form a still stronger "combine," by which the CITY CLOTHING STORE will be even better prepared to procure for its customers a continuation of those superior inducements in the future for which it has been noted in the past.

Men's Clothing.

The magnitude of our stock and lowness of prices gives us a great advantage over all other competitors in the trade. We carry in stock all the fast selling lines, styles and patterns, and can fit the tall, the short, the fat and the lean. MORE SUITS, BETTER FABRICS, FINER STYLES than were ever handled before.

Special values in FINE SPRING OVERCOATS, and Fine Spring and Summer Suits. Don't fail to see them. The superb styles, workmanship, and the beautiful fabrics and patterns that we offer will surprise you.

Merchant Tailoring.

"For the apparel oft proclaims the man."

Fine dressers in search of new, neat and nobby OVERCOATINGS, SUITINGS or TROUSERINGS will find this department crowded to overflowing with cloth from all countries. To select from the largest assortment is an advantage we offer to our customers, backed up by the skill of experienced cutters and tailors. Besides perfect fit and first-class trimmings, we guarantee absolutely first-class workmanship.

Boys' and Youths' Clothing.

Clothing for the little ones—boys and children—has always been a specialty with us. We have always sought to give great values in this department, and to provide a larger and finer variety of goods for parents to select from than they could find elsewhere.

This means that we are showing a large assortment of BOYS' and CHILDREN'S SUITS, BOYS' and CHILDREN'S BLOUSES, SHIRT WAISTS, PANTS, &c.

This spring there are an unusual number of new and nobby styles and an enlarged variety of fabrics and patterns. Be sure and see our stock.

Gents' Furnishings.

Gentlemen of Peterborough seeking the latest styles and best values for their money, as well as an opportunity of selecting from the largest stock of Furnishing Goods, should not fail to visit this department at once. We offer the finest, best selected and the largest assortment of NECKWEAR, HOSIERY, UNDERWEAR, GLOVES, SHIRTS, HANDKERCHIEFS, etc., to be found in any first-class establishment.

"SQUARE DEALING IS OUR MOTTO!"

We have one of the best lighted stores in the country. You can see what you buy, and you buy what you see at our establishment.

For the next few days we have a great many special lines to offer, which will not fail to impress the buyer that this is the place to look for Clothing.

For Saturday we have some extra special Bargains to show. It will pay you to wait and give us a call. Men's and Boys' Suits at a great sacrifice.

Men's Black and Brown 4 Button Cut-away Suits. We mark this line away down for Saturday. Call and get prices. Odd Pants, odd Vests, odd pieces of Clothing at any price. Full assortment of Gents' Furnishings, Hats & Caps, etc., on hand, cheaper than the cheapest.

Half Holiday.

The Oddfellows Decoration Day will take place on Friday, 28th inst. By proclamation of Mayor Stevenson the afternoon will be declared a half holiday, and all places of business will be closed. 1d144-1w25

Change in Lakefield Mails.

The following changes for the summer have been made by the postal authorities in the time of the Lakefield mails:—Mails for Lakefield close at 7.45 a. m., and 5.45 p. m. Mails received from Lakefield at 12 noon and 2.20 p. m.

Come and Take Tea With Us.

This, of course, is a general invitation to take tea. The tea is to be taken away. We will, of course, expect and accept remuneration. The tea furnished will be the best for the price that you can procure in town. Buy our teas. Take our teas. Hawley Bros., Tea Merchants, George-st. d141

A Northwest Mosquito.

A citizen who has been an incredulous listener to mosquito stories that have reached him from the Northwest Territory, received by mail to-day a sample of mosquitoes as they are cultivated in the Northwest, and probably hereafter he will be more inclined to have more respect for the mosquito family in general. The insect measures over half an inch in length and has wings that measure about the same. These are the kind of which "many weigh a pound and they sit on the tree and bark."

Remembering the Dead.

A petition has been in circulation this last couple of days asking His Worship Mayor Stevenson to proclaim a half holiday on Friday, the 28th June, the day upon which the local Oddfellows will decorate the graves of their departed brethren who are interred in Little Lake Cemetery. The petition has been signed by every business man on George-st. with the exception of two, and other store-keepers have also put their names to the paper, so that the Mayor will have nothing left for him to do but to grant the prayer of the petition. No one will object to the half holiday on an occasion of this kind, which will be of the usual interesting and impressive character. There will be a large turnout of the Order it is expected. The Fire Brigade band will lead the procession, the Canton in full uniform will form the escort and the Encampments and subordinate lodges will follow. The stores will all probably be closed and the afternoon observed as a holiday throughout town, so that all may have an opportunity of visiting the cemetery and witnessing the ceremony of the Oddfellows as well as themselves laying tributes of flowers on the graves of departed friends, thus showing that although dead they are not forgotten.

THE STOLEN WATCHES.

Two Brothers in Gaol on Suspicion—How They Were Caught.

Willie Whitfield, a brother of Walter, who was before the police Magistrate yesterday morning charged with the robbing of Wyatt's jewelry store, was brought here from Hespeler last night by Chief Roszel and was before the magistrate this morning charged with being implicated in the affair. He was remanded until to-morrow morning, when both of the brothers will appear for their preliminary or summary trial, just as they may elect. Willie is about fifteen years of age, and is a rather honest and respectable looking young fellow.

The way the watches were recovered and the suspected thieves arrested is this. The store was robbed on Friday, the 7th of June, between seven and nine o'clock in the evening and which one or how many boys had a hand in the burglary is yet to be seen. But on the Monday following the burglary Willie Whitfield, who is employed in Brodie's mills at Hespeler, left here for that place carrying with him a cigar box containing seven of the stolen watches. When he reached Hespeler his two sisters enquired what he had in the cigar box, but he put them off by saying that the box had been sent to another young fellow by some friends in Peterborough. However, when the young fellow called for the box Willie denied that it was for him at all. Mrs. James, the lady at whose house the Whitfields were boarding, was suspicious, and one day when cleaning up Willie's room she opened his valise and found the watches in the cigar box. She then confronted the boy with the box, and he admitted that his little brother Walter had stolen the watches and given them to him. Mrs. James advised him to send them to Chief Roszel, but this the lad would not do, but consented to send them to Everett, the jeweler. When the latter gentleman received the watches he sent them to Chief Roszel, who at once went to work to find out who expressed the box from Hespeler, and succeeded in unravelling the case, which led to the arrest of the two Whitfield boys.

Dominion Day's Celebration.

The question as to how Peterborough intends observing the 1st of July, Dominion Day is now beginning to be asked, and at present the prospects for the day does not look very discouraging. The firemen intended arranging a programme of sports, etc., for the day, but as they are unable to secure the P.A.A.A. grounds their celebration will probably be confined to a grand display of fireworks in the evening, given by Prof. Palmer, of Rochester, on the P.A.A.A. grounds. In the afternoon there will be two sporting attractions. The first eleven of cricketers will meet the Rosedale club on the association grounds in the morning and the game will continue into the afternoon. Then on Riverside Park the Riversides play their second schedule championship game, when they will cross sticks with the Beavertons, who are considered the strongest team in this league. This will undoubtedly be a grand game as the Riversides are getting down to practice now and that means victory or a hard fight for it. The annual picnic of St. Peter's Cathedral will also be held on the 1st at St. Joseph's grove in Ashburnham, which will be a great attraction. Withal the day will probably be pleasantly spent although the firemen have been unable to successfully arrange for a day demonstration, but their display of firewords in the evening will be all the more brilliant and extensive.

An Exciting Runaway.

An exciting runaway occurred last night about half past nine, when Mr. T. Cavanagh's team of greys took fright and ran away, smashing the hack which they carried into the river with them and left lying in the water a total wreck. The team were being driven by Henry Cavanagh at the time they started to runaway, and within the hack was a lady passenger who miraculously escaped serious injury. The horses took fright on Charlotte-st. near the G. T. R. station shortly after the nine o'clock train came in. When the animal started, the heavy jolt as they crossed the crossing at Aylmer-st. threw the driver from his seat so that the horses had their own way after that. The lady who was in the hack jumped and fortunately escaped with a severe shaking up and some bruises. The horses travelled at a furious gait down Charlotte-st. to Water, where they turned north and ran as far as Simcoe-st. Here they turned east and headed straight for the river, and when they reached the water they plunged in, dragging the hack after them. They galloped through the water and attempted to pass in under the trestle work of the C. P. R. spur, but the body of the hack caught and was left behind, the horses carrying the front wheels and the pole with them. The animals got beyond their depth and had to swim for it, but were prevented from swimming out into the stream, as the logs pressed them back. However, they swam up the river as far as Hunter-st., where they were caught as they came into shallow water. The hack was badly wrecked, but it was fortunate that the team was not drowned. Mr. Cavanagh has been unfortunate of late, but the escape of his son without serious injury is a circumstance that he has reason to be thankful for.

You've heard it, thought of it, now try it and prove that M. R. KIDD sells No. 1 groceries at lowest prices.

AMONG THE UNION MEN.

A Grand Demonstration—The New Union Quarters—Officers of the Carpenters' Union.

There has been a rather quiet period among the union men of late, but the different unions have all been meeting as usual and the work has been moving along although there have not been any public meetings such as were held during the winter. The subject of much conversation and attention at present is the grand monster demonstration which the labor organization intend holding here on the 1st and 2nd of September, when a programme of unusual interest will be arranged and visiting organizations will be here from all over Central Ontario. But this grand two days' celebration is at present, comparatively speaking, a thing of the dim future, but an event of the near future will be the opening of

THE NEW HALL

and committee rooms which the different Unions and the Knights of Labor leased some time ago and are now having fitted up in handsome style. The hall and rooms are in the block, corner of Simcoe and George-sts., and are known as the old Masonic quarters. The hall is large with fine high ceilings, and when the workmen are through will have a handsome and finished appearance. The ceiling has been nicely tinted, the heavy cornice has been all re-touched and the walls have been newly papered and decorated. This hall looks out upon George-st. and is well lighted with gas. In rear of the main hall is a good sized committee room, which also is being nicely re-papered and the ceiling decorated. There are a couple of other smaller rooms which can be utilized as store rooms. Withal the labor men have now not only comfortable but handsome quarters, where the different unions can meet on their regular meeting nights, transact their business and exchange thoughts and ideas on their particular line of business or trade, and in this way be mutually benefitted, individually as well as collectively. The unions and Knights of Labor in Peterborough represent a large number of men, and that they are on the increase and enjoying prosperity is evidenced by the improved quarters into which they have moved. It is expected that the new hall will be formally opened in a few weeks by Mr. Henry Lloyd, of Toronto, who will be remembered as having given an able and eloquent speech in Labor Hall last winter, and who is at present in Chicago, whither he has been sent to settle some difficulty among the men and their employers in that city.

THE CARPENTERS' OFFICERS.

The strongest of the local unions as regards numbers is probably the Carpenters and Joiners Union, which since its organization here has made rapid progress and gained strength continually. That good has resulted is shown by the fact that through the efforts of its members conjointly the carpenters on the 2nd of next month begin to work under the nine-hour system. At the last regular meeting of the local union No. 275 the election of officers for the ensuing term took place, when the result was as follows:—

PRESIDENT.—Robt. McGreggor.
VICE-PRESIDENT.—John Burns.
RECORDING SECRETARY.—James Munro.
FINANCIAL SECRETARY.—Chas Westlake.
TREASURER.—James Frowde.
CONDUCTOR.—John O'Dette.
WARDEN.—Robt. Gordon.
TRUSTEES.—Robt. McGreggor, Geo. Campbell and A. Wilson.

SAVED.—A fine family of children were all afflicted with scrofula. Two died early; the rest would soon have followed, but for the timely and persevering use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which built them up into a healthy and vigorous manhood.

A Parisian Novelty.

A most ingenious piece of mechanicism is to be seen at the Commercial House. It consists of an artificial Parisian bullfinch in a handsome gilded cage, which sings most beautifully, while the plumage of the bird is exquisite and natural. Its natural movements and its correct singing deceives many who give it only a passing glance. Such a curious novelty has not been seen in Peterborough before, and quite a crowd was collected around the cage adjoining the wonderful mechanicism last night and to-day.

Increasing Their Power.

Messrs. Walter Paterson & Son are making some alterations in their tannery on Aylmer-st. with a view to extending their business and increasing their steam power. Among other changes and improvements that have been, or are being made, a new Goldie & McCullough engine and boiler has been placed in the tannery which will give increased steam power. The engine is fifteen horse power and is a first-class piece of machinery, while the boiler is a forty horse power. Such increase or extension of any industry is always pleasing to note in the manufactories of our town.

Going Out of Business.

The public will have noticed by the announcement made on posters that Mr. H. Best has decided to go out of business by July 1st next. This entails the sacrifice of the entire stock of stoves, tinware and house-furnishing hardware. Mr. Best means business and is offering the entire stock at wholesale prices. Let there be no misunderstanding about this. Wholesale price means just what the goods cost Mr. Best. Now, this is a fine opportunity. The assortment is large and you can have a choice of many kinds. Tinware of every description, all everyday necessaries. Don't miss this opportunity and buy while it lasts. It is imperative that the stock shall be cleared out at once. 3d142

Are You Going to Excurt?

To excurt may be defined as going somewhere with the definite idea of pleasure or business in veiw. If you can do your excurting and combine pleasure with your business you've hit it exactly. The best pleasure one experiences in business is the joy of getting more for your money than you've expected. It may be the business habit of that particular shop to give more for the money than its competitors, but you suddenly find that out when you begin to deal there. This little sermon leads up to the statement that if you are living out of town you can well afford to take in one of the several trips to Peterborough during the summer. When here don't fail to see Belleghem's. You may require furniture. You wish to select a parlor suite, or a general equipment for your dining room. Go straight to the store on Hunter-st., there you will find every requisite for setting up in the housekeeping life, including the inevitable marriage license, which Belleghem dispenses so affably. Keep in mind Belleghem's and you'll remember his specialty in Furniture. 1d144-1w25

THE PISTOL AND KNIFE.

A FOURTEEN-YEAR-OLD BOY SHOOTS A COMPANION.

A Fatal Stabbing Affray at Chatham—A Young Man Killed While Sitting With His Girl—A Terrible Drowning Accident.

By Telegraph to the Review.

LANGTON, ONT., June 20.—Last evening near this village a boy named Davis, aged fourteen years, shot and instantly killed John Rohrer, aged twelve years. There had been an old grudge between the boys and Davis, meeting Rohrer, said "Stand back, or I will shoot you," and immediately drew a revolver and fired, the ball passing through the temple. Davis will be arrested.

A Young Man Stabbed.

CHATHAM, Ont., 20th June.—A young man named Frank Bear, about 28 years of age, was sitting with his girl on the steps of the exhibition grounds last night about nine o'clock, when two other young men passed, and making some comments about Bear were ordered to walk on by him, when one of the men, Augustus Park, aged 20, stabbed Bear to the heart, killing him almost instantly. Park surrendered himself to the police.

Two Men and a Boy Drowned.

CHAMBLY BASIN, Que., June 20.—A dreadful drowning accident occurred at Chambly Canton this morning. About ten o'clock three men and a boy started fishing from a boat. A heavy gale came upon them, the boat filled with water and went down. Alex. Rivers, his son and Louis Haward were drowned. The other man managed to keep afloat for ten minutes when assistance arrived and he was rescued from a watery grave.

Y.M.C.A. Notes.

The largest committee meeting yet held of the Association met last evening. There was a spirit of great hopefulness displayed and an earnest desire manifested on the part of all to get our work into such a position that it will commend itself to the support of all our citizens. Mr. J. W. Bennet, chairman of the Finance Committee, who has devoted much time and thought to this important branch, feels his labors have not been in vain and now there are those rallying around him who mean business and their work is going to tell.

Mr. I. Richardson, chairman of the Devotional Committee, is elated over the great awakening shown by the members, especially by the younger men of our association, which augurs well for much ingathering. Our meetings are steadily growing in numbers and interest. We have arranged to have a meeting at Stoney Lake in August for Bible study and recitation, to which sister associations and all young men interested in study of God's word will be invited. Mr. T. S. Cole, travelling secretary, has consented to take charge of same, which assures its success. Mr. Cole gave the committee a helpful talk on their work and also about the work and labors at the International Convention held at Philadelphia in May.—COM.

The County Lodge's Resolution.

The following is the resolution which was passed at the meeting of the County Orange Lodge on Tuesday night in reference to the Jesuit question:—"That we would be recreant in our loyalty to the principles of the Orange Order if we failed to express our unqualified disapproval of the action of the recent Grand Lodge of B. N. A. at the Goderich meeting in declining to pronounce condemnation against the so called individual Orange leaders in the House of Commons who did not vote in favor of disallowance of the Jesuit Estates Act, and we hereby brand them as traitors, and also express our sincere regret that they did not take steps to send deputations to Sir John Macdonald at Ottawa, in whose hands the power of disallowing the Act rests until the 8th of August, insisting in the name of civil and religious liberty in said Act being wiped off the statute books of the country, and we hereby invite the co-operation of the rank and file of the order throughout the country (largely through whose votes Sir John McDonald has been kept in power so many years) to unite with us in demanding from the Dominion Government the disallowance of the said Jesuits' Estates Act before the 8th day of August. That we also consider that the course taken by the Orange Sentinel at this most important crisis in our history makes it well deserving the name of the sleeping Sentinel given by Grip and unworthy of the support of the true and loyal Orangemen of Canada. That we tender our thanks to John White, ex M.P., for the manly stand he has taken in this important question, and hope soon to see him again in the House of Commons ready to battle for the principle of civil and religious liberty.

THURSDAY, JUNE 20 1889.

TORONTO TOPICS.

The Victoria University Injunction—The Methodist Conference Concluded.

TORONTO, June 20.—In consideration of the recent decision of the Senate of Victoria University to reverse the original decision and to concur with the Board of Regents in its action for the consummation of federation with the University of Toronto, Charles Moss, Q.C., and B. M. Britton, Q.C., of Kingston, applied to Chief Justice Sir Thomas Galt yesterday afternoon for an order to discontinue the injunction restraining the Board. The argument was not concluded.

The tenth annual meeting of the International Hahnemannian Association is holding its annual session in Toronto.

The benchers of the Law Society met at Osgoode Hall yesterday and carried out a little arrangement that had been on the tapis for some time. It was no less a matter than the appointment of Mr. Justice Strong of the Supreme Court of Canada to the principalship of the new law school. Four applications for the position had been sent in, but Mr. Justice Strong, it is said, was not an applicant. The salary is $4000 per year. This, with the $4000 retiring allowance from the Dominion which Mr. Justice Strong will be entitled to will bring his income up to about the same figure as his salary on the Supreme Court bench. Word was received in the city last evening from Ottawa that Mr. Justice Strong would accept the position. As soon as Mr. Justice Strong's appointment and acceptance became known there was a good deal of talk in legal circles about his probable successor on the Supreme Court bench. It seems to be pretty well understood that it will be Mr. Justice Osler. That well-known ornament of the Ontario bench, it is said, was offered a seat in the Supreme Court bench some time ago but would not accept then. Mr. Justice Strong's successor at Ottawa of course will be an Ontario man, and there seems to be little doubt that it will be the Hon. Featherstone Osler.

The Methodist Conference yesterday concluded its labors. The laymen's memorial was referred to a committee. The stationing committee submitted various changes and chairmen and financial secretaries of districts were elected.

In the Civil Assizes yesterday the day was occupied in the hearing of the case of William Preston and his wife, who sue to recover $7000 damages because, as they allege, the health officers entered their house on April 10, 1888, and arresting the husband because they thought he had smallpox, took him to the Smallpox Hospital and detained him there twelve days, while Mrs. Preston and her family were quarrantined and the house disinfected. It afterwards turned out that there was no smallpox in the house. A verdict will be reached to-day.

GEORGE BAIRD AGAIN.

He Exemplifies His Weakness For Ladies of the Theatrical Profession.

LONDON, June 19.—Francis Darbishire has applied for a divorce from his wife on account of adultery with George Baird, a patron of the turf. The defendant was the widow of Lytton Sothern, the actor, and she is now filling an engagement in the Olympic Theatre under the name of Agnes Hewitt. Mr. Darbishire claims £10,000 damages from Baird for alienating his wife's affections.

Mr. George Baird, the co-respondent in this case, attained notoriety in a similar one last February, when, together with a Mr. Riley, the bookmaker who was recently thrashed by the Marquis of Ailesbury at the Grange Races, Portsmouth, he appeared as co-respondent in a suit brought against him by the Marquis for alienating the affections of the Marchioness, nee Dolly Tester. The case was settled out of court. Mr. George Baird, under the racing name of "Mr. Abington," owns a stable. One of his horses, Merry Hampton, won the Epsom Derby of 1887.

Evictions at Youghal.

DUBLIN, June 19.—Nine families were evicted at Youghal to-day. Among those dispossessed was an aged woman named Sweeney, to whom the last sacrament was being administered when the evictors arrived. Mrs. Sweeney was subsequently reinstated.

Graceful Submission to the Inevitable.

DUBLIN, June 19.—At the inquest at Armagh into the cause of the railroad accident near there last week, representatives of the Irish Northern Railway Company, on whose road the disaster occurred, announced that the company would accept all liability for the accident, and was prepared to consider all claims for damages on account of loss of life and injuries that might be presented.

DO YOU BELIEVE IN THE MADSTONE?

A $500 Prize for Submitting to a Mad Dog's Bite.

SEDALIA, Mo., June 19.—Dr. Edwin Small, chief surgeon of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas road, two weeks ago was the owner of seven valuable hunting dogs. Five of the number died last week of hydrophobia. Yesterday the sixth was found to be afflicted with the rabies, and the seventh also exhibits symptoms.

R. A. Blair and Dr. T. E. White of this city have in their possession so-called madstones, which they claim are sure antidotes for mad-dog bites. Small asserts that a madstone possesses no virtues whatever, and, to test the matter, he offers $500 to any person who will submit to being bit by the rabid dog now in his possession and run the risk of the madstone removing the poisonous effects of the bite. The offer is made in good faith and is open to all.

A DOUBLE ELOPEMENT.

Mrs. Boyd of Blyth Leaves Her Husband and Six Small Children.

BLYTH, June 19.—Some time last night Mrs. Boyd and Miss Thompson, accompanied by A. Symonds and John Gillespie, left for parts unknown. Mrs. Boyd leaves a husband and six small children behind her. She took advantage of her husband's absence in the country, where he works, and does not come home every night, leaving her children alone. The youngest is not 2 years old.

Stop that Cough.

Many people neglect what they call a simple cold, which, if not checked in time, may lead to Lung trouble. Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites, will not only stop the cough but heal the lungs. Endorsed by thousands of physicians. Palatable as Milk. Try it. Sold by all druggists at 50c. and $1.00.

Strawberries by the crate fresh every morning, at M. R. KIDD'S. Prices very low.

Resulted Fatally.

WINDSOR, June 19.—Wm. Tyman, who was so brutally assaulted by a colored man named Henry Williams on Monday afternoon, died yesterday at Harper Hospital, Detroit. He never regained consciousness after he received the terrible blow. No trace has as yet been found of Williams.

No Poll Tax, No Vote.

PHILADELPHIA, June 19.—Returns received to-day show that the suffrage amendment, proposing the abolition of the 50-cent poll tax qualification, is defeated by a decided majority.

The Daily Smash.

PITTSBURG, June 19.—The second section of mail train No. 7 west on the Pan-Handle railroad was wrecked this afternoon while passing New Cumberland Junction, two miles east of Steubenville. Two persons were killed outright and eight injured, four of them seriously. The killed are J. H. Payne and E. R. Reinhart, postal clerks.

All of Them Women.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 19.—Seven bodies were recovered to-day, all of them women. None of them were recognizable. The sanitary condition of the city is excellent.

JERMYN.

A VIGOROUS REPLY.—To the Editor of the Review.—In your last weeks issue there appeared an article about the miserable way the natives had done their road work on the Peterborough road this side of Indian River. The party who wrote that might have had their brains, if they have any, better employed at this enlightened period of the world, than to criticize on work before finished. Their upper story must be very empty. At the time the growler passed over that section of road work had to be stopped for a time on account of so much rain that made gravelling impossible, but is now fixed as good as the money that was allowed for fixing will permit. Generally speaking, those who talk at a distance about rubbing mud with the road maker are as dumb as a stone to the face. Hoping this will explain fully how the road was left so bad, and thanking you for space in your valuable paper, I remain, is eagerly sought for, read with pleasure or disappointment, is then tossed aside and forgotten. But ladies who read of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, read it again, for they discover in it something to prize—a messenger of joy to those suffering from functional derangements or from any of the painful disorders or weaknesses peculiar to their sex. Periodical pains, internal inflammation and ulceration, leucorrhea and kindred ailments readily yield to its wonderful curative and healing powers. It is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle-wrappers, and faithfully carried out for many years. $1.00 by druggists, or six bottles for $5.00.

ATTRACTION
—AT—
TURNBULL'S

The first month of summer is an interesting period to the retail buyer. Keep your eye on this column, it's newsy. Each week things will appear that ere the month passes will likely make you richer for the reading.

There is scarcely a weak spot in our Trimmed Millinery yet. The latest hat kind are turning up their pretty faces every day and all the time floods of freshness and brightness keep pouring in new goods constantly. That job line of Untrimmed Hats we spoke of last week is what pleases everybody, variety and prices being right. This week we have placed on our Dress Goods counter a dozen pieces of Fancy Dress Cloths at fifteen cents a yard. The only reason we can conceive that these goods have not sold earlier at higher prices is that they were too new. They ought to, and no doubt will, go out very fast now. Attention is called to them. Shanting Pongee, the dustless kind. You know how the heathen Chinee crams dust into the common run of Pongees; he does not do it to the Shanting—Pure Silk and clean. These goods make up beautiful with our fine Henriettas.

In the Tweed Department we have a fine line of Halifax Tweeds that handle soft and fleecy, just as they ought to handle.—Sale price 35 cents.

We expect to-morrow's train to bring us in a large shipment of Corsets. We keep what our judgment says is the best make in the trade. We see representatives from all the factories. Our 50c. Corsets, we believe, are the best shown in Peterborough for years.

We have been able to repeat that line of Ladies Black Hose, heavy weight, at 15c. a pair. Those who have had these goods will be glad to hear they can get them again now.

Pink is the favorite color in Chambrays this season again. A fresh lot just arrived.

We keep suits for boys and small boys either with or without trimmings, at all prices. Before you buy see them.

FRIDAY, JUNE 21, 1889.

WITH KNIFE AND PISTOL.

A YOUNG MAN FOULLY BUTCHERED AT CHATHAM.

Stabbed to the Heart While Sitting With the Girl He Was to Marry—A Boy Shot Dead.

CHATHAM, June 21.—A revolting atrocity, which cannot yet be legally called murder, as the jury have not yet brought in their verdict, but which is happily unexampled in all our town annals, occurred on Wednesday evening about 9.30. Various and discordant versions are current. The prisoner cannot be interviewed, but the following are, it is believed, the essential facts of the case, waiving minor details:

Frank Barr, a painter, aged 23, in company with Pont Taylor, a brother of Thos. Taylor, butcher on the market, and two girls, one of whom, Anne Kaiser, works as a domestic servant for Mr. Thos. Stone, a leading merchant in town, were sitting, about the hour of the tragedy, on the bench in front of the grounds of the Agricultural Society in Queen-street, or the gravel road, as it is called, going south from the Catholic Church.

Gus Park, in company with Geo. Yeomans, came up and stood staring at Barr, or "Dutchy," as he was nicknamed, and called him by an opprobrious name. Barr told him to go away, and he said

"I DON'T HAVE TO."

Anne put her hand on Barr's arm to restrain him from attacking Park, who went away a short distance and then returned, still hurling epithets at Barr, who then, thoroughly roused, advanced angrily towards him. Anne tried to stop him, but he swung her round and handed her his hat or coat, she forgets which, owing to the excitement and the speed of the whole occurrence.

At this stage Pont Taylor, a powerful young man, well able to handle Barr or Park, stepped in between the would-be combatants to separate them. Then Park took out a long knife and, reaching over Taylor, made a downward blow with fatal effect at Barr, making a four or five inch gash,

STRIKING AND DIVIDING HIS HEART.

From the effects of the terrible wound he died shortly afterwards.

After receiving the blow he threw up his hands, crying out, "I am stabbed." He was moved by Taylor to an adjoining house, and afterwards by Taylor, aided by others, to his mother's home. The sidewalk was like a butcher's shambles with blood.

Park is in custody. He is the son of a large founder in this town, whose brothers, since the departure of their father, continue and have extended the business.

Here it is absolutely necessary, in the interest of justice and in the face of unjust gossip, to deny that these girls were not of good character. Mr. Stone gives Anne Kaiser the highest name for respectability. She was engaged to be married to Barr.

A jury was empanelled by Dr. Holmes, Coroner, consisting of Kenneth Campbell (foreman), J. H. Glassford, W. Pettit, F. Bennett, M. McGarvin, J. W. Bullis, Jas. Milner, Jas. Frederick, J. K. Simmons, Mr. Side and two others, a very respectable and superior jury, composed of storekeepers and other business men. They viewed the body at the mother's house and found an incised wound four or five inches long, and clots of blood on the shirt.

Some of them speak very strongly as to the mistake made in allowing the autopsy to precede the viewing of the body. There were three incisions visible in all, one lateral, one transverse, and the four or five inch cut on the right breast.

However morally certain they may be that the two first were due to the four surgeons and that the last named caused the death, they have no legal proof that this oblique cut might not have been made by the doctors in their post-mortem.

The inquest was to have started at 2 p.m., but has been postponed. The excitement in town may be easily conceived. Park has secured Mr. M. Wilson as counsel for his defence.

A Boy Shot by a Boy.

TILSONBURG, June 21.—Word was received here yesterday afternoon of a fatal shooting committed on the Hasen road, Walsingham, about 8 o'clock last night, two miles from Langton, by a 14-year-old son of John Davis. The victim was the 11-year-old son of Mr. Rohrer.

Some boys were practising shooting with revolvers, and, being on the road when young Rohrer came along, Davis told him to stand still or he would shoot. Rohrer kept walking nearer, when Davis took deliberate aim and fired. The shot took effect in the forehead of young Rohrer, and he lived only half an hour afterwards.

The boys are the sons of respectable farmers, and no cause whatever is assigned for the deed excepting pure deviltry. An inquest is being held and it is expected that Davis will be sent to Simcoe to stand his trial at the Fall Assizes.

LIVE TOPICS DISCUSSED.

THE ASSEMBLY'S BILL OF FARE ON ITS CLOSING DAY.

The Cry for Money—Their Wives' Sisters—Corporate Union With Anglicans and Methodists—A Guelph Trouble.

TORONTO, June 21.—The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church closed its session yesterday. At the morning sederunt Rev. D. J. Macdonnell of Toronto presented the report of the committee dealing with the cases of the ministers desiring to retire, and recommended that the following clergymen be allowed to retire and that they be placed on the fund for aged and infirm ministers: Rev. John Stuart of Owen Sound presbytery, Revs. James Black and Thomas Goldsmith of the Hamilton presbytery, Revs. Angus McCall and William Walker of the Chatham presbytery, Rev. Charles Cameron of the Maitland presbytery, Rev. Duncan McNaughton of the Bruce presbytery, Rev. Peter Lindsay of the Miramichi presbytery, Rev. A. L. Wiley of St. John presbytery, Rev. Charles Chiniquy of the Montreal presbytery, Rev. John Cameron of the Halifax presbytery and Rev. Archibald Currie of the Lindsay presbytery.

Rev. Dr. Thompson of Sarnia made an appeal for more liberal contributions to the fund for the support of the retired ministers. He referred to the provisions for retired bank agents, civil servant officials and school teachers, which are all more liberal than those for the infirm and aged Presbyterian ministers. "The Methodist and Episcopal churches," said he, "put to shame the best efforts that we make. Old ministers are loth to resign because the future is dark indeed."

Rev. J. A. Murray of London instanced nine churches in that presbytery which give nothing. (Cries of "shame, shame.") "Here in Toronto Presbytery," continued the speaker, "Knox, the banner church, contributes $400, and Old St. Andrew's comes next with $360. My friend Macdonnell, who does nobly in other respects, may be criticised as regards this fund. His church (New St. Andrew's) gives only $275.

Rev. Dr. King of Winnipeg named the committee "in defence of our civil and religious rights," as follows: Rev. D. J. Macdonnell and Principal McVicar, joint conveners, the Moderator, ex-officio, Dr. Robert Campbell, Montreal; Dr. Cook, Dr. Warden, Dr. McCrae, Rev. Jas. Fleck, Prof. Scrimger, Rev. N. McKay, Dr. Armstrong, Rev. N. W. McLean, Principal Cavan, Rev. G. M. Milligan, Dr. Torrance, Dr. Laing, Dr. Laidlaw, Dr. McMullen, Rev. J. A. Murray, Dr. John Thompson, Dr. Robertson, Dr. King, Dr. McCulloch, Dr. Forest, Dr. Burns, Rev. A. Falconer, Rev. George Bruce, Rev. Thomas Fotheringham. [Elders—Hon. D. Laird, Hon. Alex. Morris, Messrs. J. K. McDonald, J. T. Small, Ald. Wm. Carlyle, Matthew Hutcheson, J. McD. Harris, Henry Mortimer, Dr. McDonald, Hamilton, John Charlton, M.P., James Fisher, MPP., Robert Murray, George Hay, A. J. McKenzie, A. Bartlett, J. P. Miller, and James Hutchison, with power to add to their number. Executive committees will be organized in Toronto and Montreal.

By the irony of fate Rev. N. G. Henry of Nova Scotia, whose chest had the previous night been rifled of $100 (which was generously replaced by a similar collection of the commissioners) presented the report on systematic beneficence. The system of weekly contributions in envelopes had been very successful. In accordance with Scripture precedence not less than one-tenth of every Christiann's increase should be given to the causes of God.

Rev. Dr. Moore of Ottawa presented this report on the thorny subject of marriage with a deceased wife's sister: "In view of the fact that 25 out of 29 of the presbyteries which have reported on the remits sent down by the last General Assembly have reported approval of the 'Remit on Marriage with a Deceased Wife's Sister,' namely, whether subscription of the formula in which office-bearers accept the Confession of Faith shall be so understood as to allow liberty of opinion in respect of the proposition, 'A man may not marry any of his wife's kindred nearer in blood than he may of his own,' the committee recommend the General Assembly to discern that subscription to the formula shall be so understood as to allow liberty of opinion in respect of said proposition."

The Moderator pointed out that a majority of the 42 presbyteries in Canada were in favor of the report, which after some discussion was adopted.

Then the interminable license question again cropped up, in the form of an overture from the Presbytery of Ottawa anent certain amendments to the License Act now in force in Ontario. Pithily expressed, these amendments are, license holders would have to petition to get "in," and not householders to petition to get them "out." Every member of the Dominion House is to be asked to support the bill next session.

Dr. King was satirical on the "inconsistency of the assembly." Said he, "I know it's not necessary that the assembly be consistent. Yesterday we repudiated all sympathy with or recognition of the license system; to-day we want to improve it." [Loud laughter.]

Dr. Reed was again a protestant. He would have no tinkering with municipal matters by the supreme church court. Ultimately the report was received.

Then business was rushed on with a desire to finish the business by 6 o'clock, but this was found to be impossible and the balance was left over for the evening. Then with devout thankfulness the doxology was sung, and till they be resumed at Ottawa 12 months hence the assembly's legislative functions are suspended.

LITTLE RHODY'S WET TOO.

The Prohibitory Amendment to the Constitution Repealed by the People.

PROVIDENCE, R.I., June 21.—The fifth amendment to the constitution of Rhode Island—the prohibitory amendment—was yesterday repealed by a vote of 5469 more than the three-fifths of the total necessary to carry the amendment. The total vote is:

Repeal	23,449
Sustain	9,853

In 1886 when the amendment was adopted the vote, which was about 14,000 smaller, stood:

Approve	15,113
Reject	9,230

Here is the roll of eight other States, together with the majorities, that have refused during the last two years to adopt Prohibition amendments:

Michigan	5,645	West Virginia	26,574
Texas	72,691	N. Hampshire	5,000
Tennessee	26,693	Massachusetts	44,593
Oregon	7,985	Pennsylvania	186,000

The Stranded City of Cleveland.

DULUTH, June 21.—The latest reports from the steamer City of Cleveland, ashore on the north shore of Lake Superior, shows she is in much worse shape than was thought. There will be heavy loss if she can be saved at all. She is badly logged. Two big centrifugal steam pumps will take out the water and sand. It is necessary to rush matters as a change in the wind would soon smash the vessel. It is the worst marine calamity ever reported at this end of the lake. There is little if any insurance. She belonged in great part to Bradley & Tait of Cleveland.

A diver reports the John Martin's fore foot gone, her keel badly damaged and she is leaking badly. Total loss probably $125.000.

THE GENERAL AT CAMP NIAGARA.

Sir Fred. Middleton Inspects the men Under Canvas at the Old Town.

NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE, June 21.—Major-General Sir Fred. Middleton and Capt. Wise, A.D.C., arrived at Camp Niagara yesterday afternoon where the 1500 volunteers now under canvas on the beautiful common were inspected. Lieut.-Col. Cole-Cherois T. Irwin, inspector of artillery, was also present.

The General found the brigade awaiting his arrival at 1 o'clock. The brigade was formed up in front of Fort George, all the corps being present except the artillery, who were engaged at target practice. The cavalry was on the right and the infantry battalions were formed in line of quarter column. The officers and colors were called to the front and Sir Fred was received with a general salute as he rode up and down the line. The march past followed, and a line of quarter column was again formed, and after a general salute the regiments were dismissed. Owing to the recent incessant rains the common was nothing short of a quagmire. It is said if the Government spent about $1500 in draining this common it would always be in first-class order for parades and reviews. After the inspection the General rode through the lines and inspected the guns of the artillery.

General Middleton said that he was well pleased with the appearance of everything. The men looked well. Like some of the race horses, however, who started in the Suburban Handicap the other day, they were "short of work," i.e., they didn't get enough of drill.

There will be battalion instruction to-day. The camp will break up to-morrow.

Last night a hop was given at the Queen's Royal Hotel, under the auspices of Col. Otter, the staff and the officers of the camp.

A PROTRACTED DEBATE.

The Anglican Synod of the Niagara Diocese Discussing Ritualism.

HAMILTON, June 21.—At the Anglican Synod yesterday Rev. Dr. Read, Rev. Mr. Henderson, Rev. Dean Geddes and Lieut.-Col. Murray were appointed to attend the meeting in Toronto on June 27 to arrange for the celebration of the Jubilee of the Toronto Diocese. The Bishop appointed June 30 as the date for taking up a collection throughout the diocese for the benefit of the Johnstown sufferers.

The debate which lasted for five hours Wednesday was then resumed and continued throughout the afternoon on the motion of Mr. W. F. Burton, seconded by Rev. A. Bonny:

"That the Bishop be asked to name a committee to draft an humble petition to the Provincial Synod, about to assemble, praying that honorable and reverend body to confirm the resolution passed by the Provincial Synod at its session of 1886, and to pass a canon declaring that the elevation of the elements in the celebration of the holy communion, the use of incense during divine service, and the mixing of water with the sacramental wine are illegal and forbidden in the church of this province; and, whereas, the rubric at the end of the communion office enacts that it shall suffice that the bread and wine shall be such as is usual to be eaten, the use of wafer bread is hereby forbidden, as well as the use of lights on the Lord's table, and vestments, except the surplice, stole or scarf and hood, shall be and are prohibited."

A Fatal Fire—Stabbing Affray at Pt. St. Charles—Other Montreal News.

MONTREAL, June 21.—Bishop Bond has received information from the Secretary of State in answer to a petition that Delighori Parent, cashier of the bank of Hochelaga, will be released from St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary when he has served two years.

John Webster, proprietor of the Cambridge Hotel, fell down an elevator shaft of the Temple building yesterday receiving injuries which resulted fatally.

A stabbing affray took place at Point St. Charles Wednesday night. About 10 o'clock a number of drunken men began a dispute on Wellington-street. Dennis McBride, a young man living in the neighborhood who knew some of the parties engaged in the quarrel, tried to pacify them. In the attempt he was stabbed in the breast. The police arrested a young man on suspicion of having committed the deed.

At Desroches, a farmer of Point au Trembles, while crazy through whisky, armed himself with his Winchester rifle shortly after midnight and drove his wife and children from the house. He fired several shots at them but killed nothing except a cat. He was arrested after a desperate resistance.

BRITISH AMERICANS.

Proceedings of the National Association in Session at Boston.

BOSTON, June 21.—The National Association of British Americans continued its session yesterday when the Massachusetts Association was amalgamated with the national body. The following delegates were elected to represent the various state councils in the National Association: Henry Arnold, Lawrence; William Crowe, Boston; D. D. Sinclair, West Medford; E. H. G. Dewey, Boston; James H. Stark, Dorchester; E. W. Bradbury, Boston; George Donald, North Adams; Wm. Foote, Lynn. Charles Armstrong, Allston; J. Hendrick, Roxbury.

In the afternoon President George E. Gooch delivered his annual address. He urged the adoption of such measures as will enable the naturalization of every man of British birth in the United States.

It was voted to hold the annual convention on the third Wednesday of June each year. Resolutions were adopted favoring the organizing of labor bureaus and instituting clubs and reading rooms in the different branches. After discussing other matters pertaining to the good of the order the convention adjourned until to-day.

THE VACANT PORTFOLIO.

Mr. Chapleau's Promotion Urged by a Deputation of Conservative M. P.s.

OTTAWA, June 21.—Messrs. Girouard, Desjardins, Hall, Labelle and Lepine, M.P.s, interviewed Sir John Macdonald yesterday to urge the appointment of Mr. Chapleau as Minister of Railways. One of the gentlemen stated before the interview took place that both his position in the Conservative party, his past services and his qualifications and experience made Mr. Chapleau's claim to the position superior to those of any other aspirant.

The Tournament at Guelph.

GUELPH, June 21.—The second day of the band and firemen's tournament was a great success. Fine weather prevailed and immense crowds thronged the streets all morning waiting to see the trades' procession which appeared shortly before noon. It was a big affair, most of the merchants and manufacturers being represented. In the afternoon the various bands and fire companies marched in procession to the Exhibition park, where 7000 people gathered for the sports. There were so many competitions and the program was so long that the contests were not finished.

Brockville Cheese Market.

BROCKVILLE, June 21.—On the cheese board yesterday the offerings were 867 boxes; sales, 375 at 9½c, 60 at 9c, 435 at 8 7-8c, 495 at 8 13-16c, 867 at 8 3-4c; ruling price 8 3-4c.

LATEST EUROPEAN NEWS.

M. PASTEUR'S DELEGATES VISIT TO AUSTRALIA.

Continued Excitement Over the London Leper Case—The Situation in Servia—Boulangists on Trial.

PLYMOUTH, June 21.—Drs. Germont and Loir, representatives of M. Pasteur of Paris, who went to Australia twelve months since with a secret in their possession which they alleged would exterminate the rabbits, came home on the Orient Co.'s steamer Cuzco, which arrived at Plymouth Wednesday. They complain bitterly of their treatment in Australia. The passing of a law preventing the introduction of microbes was only the forerunner of the difficulties which were systematically placed in their way. The rabbit commission reported that M. Pasteur's system was not dangerous, but not efficient. They, however, refused to allow a public trial to be made. Experiments were made, proving that chicken cholera would spread from diseased rabbits to healthy ones, 70 per cent. of the mortality being registered at a public trial. M. Pasteur's agents showed that by means of vaccination they could prevent anthrax in sheep and cattle. The anthrax board reported in favor of M. Pasteur's vaccine as a preventive against the disease, and recommended its adoption and use. A number of sheep owners asked to have 120,000 sheep vaccinated, but M. Pasteur refused to allow it until some settlement was made with the rabbit question. Public trials were made in Queensland with the view of proving that pleuro-pneumonia could be cured by inoculation, and were said to be a success. Dr. Germont asserts that M. Pasteur's letters of instructions to him were opened by the Colonial Government, and extracts taken therefrom. The matter has been placed in the hands of the French Ambassador in London, who will institute an enquiry into the circumstances.

The Meat Market Leper.

LONDON, June 21.—The Prince of Wales, at whose instance the attention of the authorities was first called to the leper employe in the Central Meat Market, writes through his secretary, Sir Francis Knollys, that the leper referred to was a patient recently before the British Epidemiological Society. Health Officer Saunders admits that there are meat-handlers in the Central Market and elsewhere, who are merely affected with eczema, an affection that closely resembles leprosy.

Sir Lepel's Proposition.

LONDON, June 21.—Sir Lepel Griffin proposes to colonize Cashmere with 3,000 Englishmen as a bulwark to the Indian Empire. This involves the deposition of the Rajah, and causes general alarm among the native princes.

Dublin's Next Lord Mayor.

DUBLIN, June 21.—Mr. Winstanley, a Protestant Home Ruler, has been privately selected for nomination as the next Lord Mayor of Dublin. The nomination is equivalent to election.

Two Strikes Ended.

LONDON, June 21.—The seamen and firemen here who have been on strike have decided to resume work.

Boulangists on Trial.

PARIS, June 21.—The trial of the Boulangists recently arrested at Angouleme has begun.

That's Not Saying Much.

HAMBURG, June 21.—The Hamburg Correspondent asserts that the relations of Germany with the French Government under President Carnot are better and more cordial than they have been with any previous Government in France.

Switzerland's Smallness Saves Her.

BERLIN, June 21.—The North German Gazette accuses Switzerland of promoting socialism. It says: Had a great power practised such abuses against another power as Switzerland has been guilty of a war would have resulted. Neutrality becomes unnatural and unbearable when an effective disregard for the interests of a neighboring state is held to be justifiable.

Alarmist Rumors Denied.

BELGRADE, June 21.—A Government circular denies recent alarmist rumors concerning this country and states that the foreign policy of Servia is unchanged.

The police have seized the office in which was printed a circular inciting Slavs and Servians in Austria to revolt and promising Russia's assistance. The authorship of the circular has been traced to Progressist editors who, it is alleged, desire to engender Austrian distrust of the Servian Government.

Voting on Bylaws at Windsor.

WINDSOR, June 21.—Voting took place here yesterday on bylaws appropriating $25,000 to improvements on the park, $40,000 on new Town Hall and the paving of the Sandwich gravel road. The first two were defeated and the third carried. Michael Brien was elected councillor for the First Ward.

Charlotte Cassidy.

NEW YORK, June 21.—O'Donovan Rossa and Wilber Hendrickson of The United Irishman were arrested yesterday on a charge of libel preferred by Patrick Sarsfield Cassidy.

Appointed U.S. Consul at Chatham.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—The President has appointed William Monaghan of Ohio consul to Chatham, Ont. Mr. Monaghan is the present chairman of the Ohio Republican State Committee.

Still Another Drop in Coffee.

NEW YORK, June 21.—Coffee dropped 40 to 50 points here yesterday, but reacted and closed with a decline of 15 points.

Following Canada's Example.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Morton, Rose & Co. of London have been selected as the financial agents of the Department of State in England.

Four More Sugar Cases to Be Tried.

NEW YORK, June 21.—The conviction of William E. Howard leaves four of the sugar experts in the Tombs. Assistant District-Attorney Davis, who has had charge of the prosecution of the cases, said yesterday that the next case called for trial would be that against Mrs. Freund. It will probably not be tried until fall, as the courts will be busy in clearing the prisons of offenders whose trials will occupy a short time. Howard's trial occupied a full month, and the prosecution was one of the most difficult ever undertaken in the General Sessions.

The First Colored Priest in the U. S.

BALTIMORE, June 21.—Randolph Uncles of this city, colored, is a student of St. Joseph's Seminary and to-day will receive the first ordination in preparation for the Roman Catholic priesthood. Cardinal Gibbons will perform the ceremony. Uncles will be the first colored priest ordained in this country.

Killed While Coupling Cars.

ORILLIA, June 21.—While coupling railway cars here yesterday morning Wellington High, a Northern Railway brakeman, brother of Mr. High, deputy-reeve of Vaughan, was crushed between the drawheads, sustaining injuries that terminated fatally a couple of hours after the accident. The remains were forwarded last night to Richmond Hill for interment.

The Old Doctors

Drew blood, modern doctors cleanse it; hence the increased demand for Alteratives. It is now well known that most diseases are due, not to over-abundance, but to impurity of the Blood; and it is equally well attested that no blood medicine is so efficacious as Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

"One of my children had a large sore break out on the leg. We applied simple remedies for a while, thinking the sore would shortly heal. But it grew worse. We sought medical advice, and were told that an alterative medicine was necessary. Ayer's Sarsaparilla being above all others, we used it with marvelous results. The sore healed and health and strength rapidly returned." —J. J. Armstrong, Weimar, Texas.

"I find Ayer's Sarsaparilla to be an admirable remedy for the cure of blood diseases. I prescribe it, and it does the work every time." —E. L. Pater, M. D., Manhattan, Kansas.

"We have sold Ayer's Sarsaparilla here for over thirty years and always recommend it when asked to name the best blood-purifier." —W. T. McLean, Druggist, Augusta, Ohio.

"Ayer's medicines continue to be the standard remedies in spite of all competition." —T. W. Richmond, Bear Lake, Mich.

St. Paul's S.S. Picnic.

The annual picnic of the Sunday school of St. Paul's church was held yesterday and the large number of pleasure seekers who attended enjoyed a very pleasant day. The train left here about 8.30 and the run to Chemong lake was made in a few minutes, when the picnickers embarked on the Beaubocage and the palace scow Paloma for St. Jacob's island, where they arrived about 11.30. The island is a beautiful spot for a picnic and the children and their friends enjoyed the day's outing immensely. On the return trip Chemong was reached about six o'clock and the train reached here about 6.45, all being delighted with the annual excursion.

Literary Notes.

"A Modern Mephistopheles," by Louisa M. Alcott, the popular author of "Little Women," etc., has been published in pocket form by J. Theo. Robinson, of Montreal.

Sylvanus Cobb, jr., was a popular writer in his day, and his death has revived interest in his works. Wm. Bryce has issued in his Home Series two of Cobb's novels, "Karmel, the Scout," and "Orion the Gold Beater." The Home Series is in neat form and cheap in price.

The J. A. Wilbour Printing House, Philadelphia, has issued a handy record of trotting and pacing in 2.30 or better from the earliest days of the turf to the present time.

An Old Settler Gone.

The few remaining landmarks of the earliest period of the settlement of this district are passing away. Yesterday Mrs. Downer, relict of the late Asa B. Downer, died at the residence of her son, Mr. Louis B. Downer, in Ashburnham. Mrs. Downer had reached the advanced age of 88 years and 10 months, having been born in Massachusetts in the first year of this century. She came from the United States to Port with her husband, and, after a short stay there, came to Peterborough where at that time, about sixty years ago, there were very few houses, and remained here during the remainder of her days. Her husband died in [illegible] at the age of [illegible]. The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock from her son's residence and proceed to the Methodist Cemetery.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

THE MAN WHO IS WANTED.

Burke Identified by Detective Collins—An Information for Murder Sworn Out.

WINNIPEG, June 21.—Collins, the Chicago detective sent here to identify Burke, the suspected murderer of Dr. Cronin, recognized him immediately as the man who is wanted. Yesterday afternoon Collins swore out an information charging Burke with murder, and on the strength of the information Justice Bain granted a warrant. Burke was formally arrested on the warrant and transferred from the city police station to the provincial jail.

The hearing of the case was fixed for today, but as witnesses will have to be brought from Chicago an enlargement will be asked for.

THE CLOVEN HOOF

Of Another Cronin Suspect is the Latest Promising Clue.

CHICAGO, June 21.—The police have under close surveillance another Cronin suspect. When the Carlson cottage revealed its terrible story one of the most promising clues was the footprints in the paint. The murderer walked about in the paint in his stocking feet. A shoemaker wrote to the police that a well known Irishman and Clan-na-Gael man, whose name he had seen in the newspapers in connection with the murder, was his customer and had very peculiar feet. A piece of the floor was cut out with three tracks on it and taken to police headquarters. Then the shoemaker was asked to produce the book in which he preserved the tracings showing the shape of his customer's feet. The outlines of the suspected Irishman's feet were found to correspond exactly in size and shape with the footprints taken from the floor. The peculiarity about the foot which made the paint tracks is the depth of the hollow part of it. In the paint tracks there is a great curve running in front the great toe to the heel almost severing the latter from the front part of the foot. The board with the paint tracks on it and the measure book of the shoemaker have been in the grand jury room for several days. It is likely the suspect will be called before the jury.

It is reported the grand jury has obtained a complete list of the members of camp No. 20 Clan-na-Gael, known as the Columbia Club, and has directed the subpœna of every member. It was from this camp that Cronin was expelled a couple of years ago on the charge of treason.

IN THE SQUEALER'S HAVEN.

Sullivan the Iceman Frightened by the Arrest of Burke.

CHICAGO, June 21.—P. O. Sullivan, the iceman indicted for complicity in the Cronin tragedy, was yesterday remanded to the "Boys' Department" of the jail, the recognized haven for squealers. It is said he has offered to make a full confession. His motive is said to be fright over the arrest of Burke at Winnipeg and the disclosure that Cooney, "The Fox," is being actively pursued. It is suspected, however, that his removal is simply shrewd tactics on the part of the authorities to break down one or other of the suspects. It is reported that Sullivan, at his own request, had conferences with the Sheriff and State's Attorney.

Sign of the Golden Horse-shoe.

The people of Peterborough and vicinity are all aware of the business change which took place in the CITY CLOTHING STORE on the first day of February last. The new firm beg leave to make their first bow to the public through the columns of the REVIEW, and to request a careful perusal of the following Spring and Summer circular:—

The City Clothing Store

in past years, by long experience in business, by buying always for spot cash, importing direct from the principal houses of the old country and from the leading houses of Canada, and by strict economy in conducting its business, has always been able to force prices down to an exceedingly fine point. The members of which the new firm is composed will form a still stronger "combine," by which the CITY CLOTHING STORE will be even better prepared to procure for its customers a continuation of those superior inducements in the future for which it has been noted in the past.

Men's Clothing.

The magnitude of our stock and lowness of prices gives us a great advantage over all other competitors in the trade. We carry in stock all the fast selling lines, styles and patterns, and can fit the tall, the short, the fat and the lean.

Scotchmen in Toronto.

Those who went to Toronto yesterday on the St. Andrew's Society excursion had an exceedingly enjoyable trip, and the major portion of them returned last evening pleased with the day and what they had seen. Piper McIntosh accompanied the Scots and gave many a guid a' tune on the journey there and return. In the city the excursionists passed the day according to their individual inclinations, some going to the Island and others doing the city. A few of the excursionists remained over until to-day. Piper McIntosh came home on the 11.40 train and escorted the members of the Society to their homes from the train to the inspiring strains of the pipes.

Another Fifty Dollars and Costs.

The charge against E. E. Hamilton, who keeps the restaurant at the C.P.R. station, of selling liquor without a license, came up before the Magistrate at the Police Court this morning and the defendant was fined fifty dollars and costs to be paid forthwith. Two witnesses only were called on the case. The first was the bartender at the place, who in his evidence said that on the 3rd of June, the day mentioned in the information, he could not remember whether liquor was sold or not, but he knew there was intoxicating liquor there for sale. He said they had been selling liquor all along, expecting to get a license. Another witness swore that he and a companion had a couple of glasses of beer in Hamilton's on the 3rd of June and paid for the same. The magistrate fined the accused fifty dollars and costs to be paid forthwith; in default of payment, distress; in default of distress, imprisonment. Mr. Hamilton was not in the court, but Mr. E. B. Edwards appeared for the prosecution.

INSPECTING THE BRIDGES.

The County Council's Trip Through the Northern Waters.

The members of the County Council, led by Warden Brown and accompanied by Mr. Belcher, County Engineer, Mr. Pearse, County Clerk, and other officials, took a trip yesterday to inspect the county bridges on the northern waters. The party went to Lakefield on the morning train and arrived there in good time.

When the village was reached the Council went down to the Lakefield bridge, which was the first one inspected. It was carefully looked over, by the engineer and members of the Road and Bridge Committee and other members of the Council. When this was done the steamer Empire, commanded by Mr. R. B. Rogers, was waiting to carry them on the trip north. The Empire is a staunch little boat, which makes good time, and being strongly built, with a view to the work she has to perform in connection with the Government works, she rides steadily and is a pleasant boat to ride on.

The voyage up through Katchewanooka, Clear and Stony Lakes was a very pleasant one. The weather was fine and the trip was enjoyed. Though the larger part of the company was familiar with the waters, the beauty of Stony Lake with its numerous islands can always be enjoyed. The population at the lake is not so large as it was this time last year, as the cool and wet weather this season has not been so favorable for camping, yet there are signs of life on the islands and a number have sought refuge from town and business in the quietness of the cottage life on the islands.

Between Lakefield and Young's Point a large drive of logs was passed, and at Young's Point the second bridge was inspected. This bridge was found in good condition. The Empire passed through the lock here with the Undine, the Messrs. Strickland's trim yacht, in which Mr. Percy Strickland, jr., was going north on business for the firm.

Burleigh Falls was reached at noon. Here a new bridge is partly constructed. The heavy stone abutments for the new bridge are completed and the work has been excellently done by Mr. John Hayes, of Peterborough. The iron superstructure is being built at Mr. Law's Central Bridge Works in town, and when it is in position the river at this point will be spanned by a good bridge. The Councillors expressed approval of the way the abutments had been constructed, and also viewed the approaches and gathered knowledge about the state of the bridge generally, Mr. Belcher and Reeve Elmhurst pointing out the particular points. The party dined at the Burleigh Falls Hotel, and learned by experience—those who had not been there before—that Mr. Holmes sets a good table.

After dinner the passage through the Burleigh locks was made, and after a quick passage Lovesick locks were reached and passed through. Another pleasant sail brought the party to Buckhorn, where another lock had to be passed and where there was another bridge to inspect. The bridge crosses the Buckhorn rapids and needed some repairs. Mr. Shaw was particular in calling attention to what he thought the bridge needed, and the structure received a careful inspection. Mr. W. Hall's saw mill is situated here, and a short distance from the bridge Mr. Eastwood conducts a good hotel.

After giving as much time to the inspection of this bridge as could be spared, the Empire was again boarded and headed for Bridgenorth. The trip through Buckhorn Lake and Chemong Lake is a most enjoyable one, and the time passed pleasantly. The floating bridge over Chemong Lake was next seen, but as it was so near train time much time could not be given its inspection, and the steamer was headed for the Chemong Lake railway wharf. This was reached just before the St. Paul's Church Sunday school excursion party arrived. Work at the wharf is still going on, for although it has been built some distance into the lake there is not room enough yet for the traffic the line has developed.

A rapid ride from Chemong Lake brought the party to town. The thanks of all are due to Mr. Rogers, who did all that could be done to expedite the trip and make it pleasant, and to Mr. Casement, who had been appointed steward, for the pains he took in completing the arrangements.

"At Home" at the Parsonage.

After making considerable improvements in the appearance and comfort of the George-st. Methodist Parsonage, internally and externally, Mr. and Mrs. Pearson invite their friends to their "At Home" on next Tuesday evening, the 25th inst. The programme is expected to be a more than ordinary one. The gathering will have as an object the raising of a portion of the amount expended in the improvement, and, therefore, a minimum entrance fee of 15c. will be given. First-class strawberries with ice cream, cake and other refreshments, will be on hand in abundance, and furnished at a little advance above nothing. If the very many friends of the Rev. Mr. Pearson and lady attend, the gathering will be an immense one.

You've heard it, thought of it, now try it and prove that M. R. Kidd sells No. 1 groceries at lowest prices.

LOCAL SPORTS.

A Good Game on the P.A.A.A. Grounds Last Night—Items for the Wheelmen and Others.

Last evening another practice match was played on the P.A.A.A. grounds between the Association nine and the Ashburnham Astonishers. There was a good number of spectators present and the game of ball they witnessed was not a bad one. These matches are proving great practice for the boys and an improvement is evident every game. The game last night at the end of the fourth innings was tie, each having secured five runs, and then darkness made it necessary for the game to be called. Pearson went in the box for the Association team in the first innings, but as his usual receiver was not on the grounds the Astonishers were enabled to secure four runs, which it is unlikely they would have secured had Turnbull been able to catch him. The other four innings Allison went into the box and he was not hit very hard, while Turnbull was able to hold him better as he had not the speed of Pearson. McCabe, the one-armed twirler, threw for the Astonishers, and his curves proved puzzles for some of the batters. The score was made as follows:—

Sporting Sparks.

The Ashburnhams and Association baseball teams were to have played another game to-night if the weather would permit.

To-morrow evening the Athletics and Association baseball clubs will play a friendly match on the P.A.A.A. grounds, which is expected to be a close game and a good exhibition of ball.

The cricketers have a match on for the 11th of July with the Galt cricket club, who are making a tour of Eastern Ontario.

The Begley and Packenham teams of the Riverside lacrosse club are to play their practice match on Riverside park to-night if the rain does not interfere.

A number of the local wheelmen will take in the association meet at St. Catharines on Dominion Day. The 'cyclists of the Ramblers, of Belleville, who will visit St. Kits on that day are G. H. Horn, Geo. Smith, Chas. Lazier, John Jamieson, Geo. Scales, W. E. Foster, W. A. Lingham, W. Way, M. Roy, and Geo. Kingston.

The Belleville Ramblers club colors are navy blue and old gold.

Going Out of Business.

The public will have noticed by the announcement made on posters that Mr. H. Best has decided to go out of business by July 1st next. This entails the sacrifice of the entire stock of stoves, tinware and house-furnishing hardware. Mr. Best means business and is offering the entire stock at wholesale prices. Let there be no misunderstanding about this. Wholesale price means just what the goods cost Mr. Best. Now, this is a fine opportunity. The assortment is large and you can have a choice of many kinds. Tinware of every description, all everyday necessaries. Don't miss this opportunity and buy while it lasts. It is imperative that the stock shall be cleared out at once. 3d142

The Boys and the Watches.

The two young Whitfield boys, Walter and Willie, were on the prisoner's bench at the Police Court this morning to be given their trial for their connection with the Wyatt robbery. The boys elected to be tried summarily. Willie, the younger of the two, who was charged with committing the robbery, pleaded guilty to the charge. Walter, who is just fifteen years of age, was charged with having feloniously received a number of watches, knowing the same to have been stolen. He also pleaded guilty. Mr. Geo. Edmison appeared for the boys and submitted the evidence of Mr. Lee, of Lee & Thompson, and Dr. Clarke, for whom the boy Willie had worked, and who gave the boy a good character. The Magistrate reserved judgment until to-morrow morning. Albert Green, another young lad to whom Walter gave one of the stolen watches, was also charged with receiving stolen goods, and was sent up to gaol with the other boys until to-morrow morning.

Mr. J. M. Irwin on Canvas.

Mr. T. Workman has just completed and will put on exhibition in the window of Clegg's furniture establishment a half life-sized portrait of Mr. J. M. Irwin, which may be said to be a masterpiece and one of the finest portraits that has ever been exhibited in Peterborough. The artist has, with remarkable skill and exactness, caught the expression of his subject's face, which is so life-like and natural that a person almost expects to hear him speak. Then the position of the figure is also so natural and easy, being free from all stiffness which so often is noticeable in portraits of this kind, and which so greatly mars the effect. The fall of the clothes, the poise of the limbs and hands are just as easy and natural as life and have been delineated with remarkable accuracy. The background for the portrait has been well selected and the coloring is one of the features of the picture, there being a harmony which adds greatly to the appearance of the figure. In fact the portrait is perfect and has been admired by all who have seen it, everyone being unanimous in the verdict, "Critize we can't." Mr. Workman has taken considerable pains and care with this portrait, which is not of the kind which usually come to him here, and in giving more than ordinary pains to this production he sought to show the public that when given an opportunity we have in our midst an artist who can do work which will bear inspection anywhere and by any one. He worked at the portrait until it satisfied himself and that he has succeeded in satisfying Mr. Irwin and his friends it is unnecessary to say. Peterborough has reason to feel proud that she has among her citizens an artist who can do such excellent work, and from whose brushes come such masterpieces.

AROUND THE WORLD.

A Scotchman Arrives Here after Circling the Globe in Search of Work.

Mr. Thos. Speeden, a native of Galashiels, Scotland, left Peterborough one year ago to go west in search of work. He kept on west, with the result that he circled the globe and arrived in Peterborough again on Wednesday. The story of his journeyings is thus told by the Selkirk, Scotland, Reporter of June 6th:—

The luxury of a voyage around the world is generally associated with those who have time and money to spare; but it has been shown that the "trip" is within the reach of others who have the will and make up their minds to find the way. Thos. Speeden, a Galashiels working man, fifty years of age, accomplished the feat, and the story of his enterprise is not destitute of interest. Speeden is a retired soldier, with a pension of a shilling a day, after twenty-one years' service, sixteen of which he spent in India. He had no trade on his hands, but was willing to do any work that turned up. It is unnecessary to refer to whatever reasons led him to leave Galashiels. He sailed on July 14th, 1886, in the Allan Liner Parisian from Liverpool to Quebec, with no settled purpose what to do. He had then no idea of a circumnavigation tour round the globe, which was to send him back to Galashiels in the middle of May of the present year, after an absence of two years and ten months. From Quebec he went to Hamilton, where he got work in a cotton mill at a dollar a day, his board and lodging costing three dollars a week. He stayed two months in Hamilton, when a slack time set in, and he was paid off. He next tried Peterborough, but found things not much better there. The Canadians like a man that can turn his hand to anything, and he got employment at Morgan's Hotel as man of all work, with fluctuating pay—from nothing to three and four dollars a day. He stayed ten months in Peterborough, when he found it necessary to make another move. With frugal management and the proceeds of his pension he found himself the proud possessor of £32. Rumor had it work was plentiful in British Columbia, and he resolved to go there, and accordingly set off by the Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific railways. He stayed five days in Vancouver in a hotel, but was disappointed with the chances for work. There was plenty demand for skilled workmen, but none for day laborers, and he pushed to Victoria, to find things as bad, if not worse there—no room for English or Scotch laborers, only for skilled tradesmen. All the laboring work is done by Chinamen, who have overstocked the labor market in British Columbia, and who work for small remuneration. He could not stop in Victoria, so went by sea to San Francisco, where he stayed fourteen days. He did not seek work in San Francisco, as the conditions of his pensions made him reside in British territory. It cost him a dollar a day living in a hotel. He did not like, so far as he was able to observe during his short experience, the social state of things in San Francisco. Hitherto, in British territory—in Canada and the North-West—they get the weekly day of rest and Sabbath observance, but in San Francisco all this was reversed. With the exception of a few of the better-class shops, all places of business were open, and general work going on as if the day of rest was abolished. He now resolved to go to Australia, and secured a berth in the Pacific Steamship Company's Zealandia to Melbourne, paying £21. 4s for his ticket, calling at the Sandwich Islands and Auckland on the way. The company's steamers run between San Francisco and Sydney, from which Melbourne passengers are transferred by coasting steamers. He stayed six days in Sydney, paying at the rate of 18s a week for board and lodging. During these six days he had time to look about and take note of the state of the labor market. In all large cities there are always a large number loafing idly about, but he had no doubt from what he saw that the labor market was seriously congested. Outside the idle disposed, loafing class, a large number of willing, well-conditioned workmen were going idle for want of work. He landed in Melbourne on June 4, and stayed until April 8 of the present year. The chances for work in Melbourne appeared to be even worse than Sydney. In view of the great Exhibition, and the prospect of employment connected with it, large numbers of workpeople had flocked to Melbourne from the other colonies, and severe privation had to be endured by large numbers. Speeden was three weeks in Melbourne before he managed to get work. He saw an advertisement in a morning newspaper that a man of all-work was wanted at the Elephant and Castle Hotel—wages 10s a week and food. He lost no time in calling and got the job. He was nine weeks in the Elephant and Castle, and his next job was in the Grand Hotel, doing anything that turned up. He had 15s a week, and food. He kept at this until the beginning of April of the present year. He had been feeling lonely in Melbourne, and had no one to take up with, and home-sickness or some kindred feeling bred the desire to revisit the Old Country. What with his pension and savings from his small pay, he had managed to save £28. For some months before he left Melbourne the struggle for existence amongst the unemployed had reached an acute stage, large numbers of the people being glad to get a bite in charity. It was a daily spectacle to see about 200 people hanging about outside the Machinist Hotel to be served in turn with the broken food left from the public dining tables. They were ordinarily a mixed multitude; alongside middle-aged and old men, apparently the victims of intemperance, were a full proportion of men, and occasionally women, whose appearance spoke to their respectability and good behaviour, but who were driven to such dreadful straits by the force of circumstances they could not control. Speeden was glad to get away, and secured a steerage berth in the Orient Liner Ormutz, for which he paid seventeen guineas, leaving Melbourne on April 8, and reaching London on May 22. There were 800 passengers on board. Some of them had been only a few years in Australia, and had turned their backs on it; others were making a visit to the Old Country to see friends and return; and some were old people who had made their fortunes and had had the wish to be laid in the household grave. Speeden was back again in Galashiels after an absence of two years and ten months, hale and hearty, and ready for the next adventure that opened for him.

On the 5th of June Mr. Speeden left Galashiels and sailed for Quebec, where he arrived safely and came direct to Peterborough were he intends residing in the future.

QUEEN CITY HAPPENINGS.

RIVAL ROWS IN THE WEATHER BUREAU AND COMMON COUNCIL.

How Buffalo is Enjoying Herself in the Summer Season—Orpheus and His Lyre Knocking Out the National Game—A Convention of Florists — Benefit for Johnstown Sufferers at the Fair Grounds.

[From Our Special Correspondent.]

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 17.—Perhaps the most striking thing about this city at the present time is the weather. I don't know just exactly what the weather is striking for, but whatever the demands, it seems to me there will have to be a compromise somewhere before long. The public is becoming exhausted in its futile efforts to keep pace with the weather's vagaries, and is howling for a settlement of the difficulties and a return to something approaching a business-like basis. As matters stand at present no man can venture to leave his residence in the morning without carrying an extra change of clothing, and as seven out of every ten of the business men of Buffalo go to their respective places of business on bicycles, this enforcement of extra baggage is a serious inconvenience. It isn't so bad on the days which start in hot and end cold, as it is on the days (and we have had lots of them lately) which begin with a crispness that makes pea-jackets and ulsters comfortable, and wind up with tropical intensity. It is then that the bicycle, as a substitute for the coupe or even the horse car, betrays its disadvantages. The spectacle of a business man in loose cool flannels, trundling home an assortment of furs with his long winter ulster dragging its tails in the dust behind the little wheel of his steel horse, while the rider is afraid to stop lest either a snow squall or a thunder storm overtake him, is amusing only to those who do not ride "the wheel."

The rumpus which has obviously been going on in the office of the Weather Clerk will however, I predict, prove as nothing to the row which is brewing in the office of the Buffalo City Council. And it's all about Fourth o' July. It seems that a committee of the Council was recently entrusted with the important mission of devising means of suitably celebrating the glorious Fourth, and that this committee has laid out a programme which calls for the expenditure of $3,950, variously allotted to fireworks, rowing races, clay pigeon shooting, baseball games, balloon ascensions, yacht races and gun powder salutes. Here is a variety of sport which ought to be dirt cheap at the figure named, but unhappily there are "kickers" among the taxpayers. Buffalo is not a niggardly city by any means. With scarcely an effort it has to date raised the handsome amount of $24,435.36 for the Johnstown sufferers, but there are a good many people who do not exactly see why the aldermen should be allowed to vote away the people's money in the subsidizing of ball games, shooting matches, etc. Hence the difficulty.

It isn't to be wondered at that there should be a row over the proposed item of $250 for a baseball match. Baseball is a subject concerning which the people of this city have a right to be sensitive. The official record to date shows the International club bearing the name of the Queen City to be the last in the race for fame. There does not appear to be any club in the International league which is not prepared at a moment's notice to pick up the Bisons and "wipe the ground with them." As a consequence of this lamentable fact, Buffalo is losing its interest in the national game and the new grounds of the club, which have been removed from an aristocratic neighborhood where they were formerly situated, to a more distant site out on Main street, are no longer thronged with enthusiasts.

While it is true that there can be found in the United States a good many people, still outside of the lunatic asylums, who argue that a lapse of interest in baseball is evidence of a city's decline, facts and figures seem to prove that Buffalo is getting along very well in spite of the fact that her ball club is made up of "chumps." The tax assessment rolls of the present year show an increase in taxable property over 1888 of $352,818.81.

Every year this town is becoming more and more conspicuously the home of conventions and national gatherings. The books are full of dates of important assemblages which are to occur this summer, concerning each of which I shall endeavor always to give your readers some advance information. One of the most interesting meetings, I imagine, will be the national gathering of florists, which is to be held Aug. 21 and 22. The members of the Society of American Florists of Buffalo are sparing no pains to make the occasion a notable one in every respect. I fancy, from what I hear, that the prestige which Rochester has won in horticultural matters is the secret of a good deal of the interest which is being taken by Buffalo people in the forthcoming convention of florists. They mean to show Rochester that she cannot remain ahead of Buffalo even in the pretty matter of posies.

Just at present Buffalo is musically interesting. Surely your readers who are called from their pleasant summer homes to a sojourn here for a few days on business, will be glad to learn that the evenings are being made pleasant for all strangers by both instrumental and vocal entertainments. To-night the Spencer Opera company takes possession of the Star theater for a season of several weeks in light operas, and on Saturday evening last, after much trepidation, the beautiful Academy of Music was opened, a la Theodore Thomas's Central Park concerts, to the joint communion of music and beer. It was an experiment, and was a success. The wealth and culture of the city was not deterred from attending the concert through the fact that refreshments were served at the round tables, and the programme was delightful.

For the benefit of the flood sufferers, Mr. C. J. Hamlin, as president of the International Fair association, has given the free use of the splendid race track in the exposition grounds for a series of trotting races, which are to take place on Thursday next. It is thought that a large sum will be realized for the noble cause on that day, as a number of the speediest flyers in the country are already here. In the Fair Grounds visitors will be surprised at the preparations which are going on for this year's exposition. Another one of these enormous horse show buildings with their splendid tan-bark course, is in process of construction and mammoth quarters are being erected for sheep and swine. The Art Gallery (only the L of which was built last year) is to be completed according to the architect's plans, and there is, I am told, to be a Palace of Illusions, about which I will tell you in another letter. The Fair opens this year on the 3d and closes on the 13th of September, and already I find the city active in its preparations for the great event. VINDEX.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Another Injunction Suit—The Detectives Investigating a Curious Robbery.

TORONTO, June 21.—The Evening News is evidently determined that there shall be a court house commission as yesterday afternoon, at the instance of its manager, Mr. George Darby, writs of summons were served upon the Corporation of the city of Toronto, President John McMillan and Acting Treasurer John Patterson, notifying them that on Tuesday next a motion will be made before Chancellor Boyd for an injunction restraining the authorities from signing the Court House contracts or from proceeding with the erection of the building until a commission is appointed as had been promised by the Court House committee before the bylaw was passed. A mandamus compelling the defendants to appoint the commissioners will also be asked for.

In the police court yesterday William H. Dixon, the Grand Trunk constable, who shot John McLachlan, the C.P.R. baggageman, in the shoulder last Thursday morning, appeared on remand to answer to the charge of shooting with intent to murder. Mr. Raymond acted on behalf of the prisoner and asked for an immediate investigation, but Dr. Rowe reported that the wounded man would be unable to attend court for a week or ten days. Mr. Raymond urged a request for bail, saying: "We will show self-defence and complete justification." "There can be no justification for using a revolver," said the magistrate, "and I may say that I will not grant bail until I see the injured man and hear the full particulars. I will remand the case for a week."

The argument in Cobourg v. Victoria University was concluded yesterday and judgment reserved.

The detectives are engaged in investigating a peculiar robbery at Rev. J. M. Cameron's residence, No. 7 Pembroke-street, on Wednesday night. A gold watch was stolen from Mrs. Cameron, and $100 from Rev. Mr. Henry, a guest, without apparently any forcible entry. The doors and windows of the house are always kept fastened, and according to the inmates it would be a physical impossibility for any outsider to gain access to the premises.

For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Price 25 cents. S. C. Wells & Co., Proprietors, LeRoy, N.Y.

is very likely the one that has conveyed poisons to your system from some old well, whose waters have become contaminated from sewers, vaults, or percolations from the soil. To eradicate these poisons from the system and save yourself a spell of malarial, typhoid or bilious fever, and to keep the liver, kidneys and lungs in a healthy and vigorous condition, use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It arouses all the excretory organs into activity, thereby cleansing and purifying the system, freeing it from all manner of blood-poisons, no matter from what cause they have arisen. All diseases originating from a torpid or deranged liver, or from impure blood, yield to its wonderful curative properties. It regulates the stomach and bowels, promotes the appetite and digestion, and cures Dyspepsia, "Liver Complaint," and Chronic Diarrhea, Salt-rheum, Tetter, Eczema, Erysipelas, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands and Tumors disappear under its use.

"Golden Medical Discovery" is the only blood and liver medicine, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee of its benefiting or curing in every case, or money paid for it will be promptly returned.

TURNBULL'S

The first month of summer is an interesting period to the retail buyer. Keep your eye on this column, it's newsy. Each week things will appear that are the month passes will likely make you richer for the reading.

There is scarcely a weak spot in our Trimmed Millinery yet. The latest hat kind are turning up their pretty faces every day and all the time floods of freshness and brightness keep pouring in new goods constantly. That job line of Untrimmed Hats we spoke of last week is what pleases everybody, variety and prices being right. This week we have placed on our Dress Goods counter, a dozen pieces of Fancy Dress Cloths at fifteen cents a yard. The only reason we can conceive that these goods have not sold earlier at higher prices is that they were too new. They ought to, and no doubt will, go out very fast now. Attention is called to them. Shanting Pongee, the dustless kind. You know how the heathen Chinee crams dust into the common run of Pongees; he does not do it to the Shanting—Pure Silk and clean. These goods make up beautiful with our fine Henriettas.

In the Tweed Department we have a fine line of Halifax Tweeds that handle soft and fleecy, just as they ought to handle.—Sale price 35 cents.

We expect to-morrow's train to bring us in a large shipment of Corsets. We keep what our judgment says is the best make in the trade. We see representatives from all the factories. Our 50c. Corsets, we believe, are the best shown in Peterborough for years.

We have been able to repeat that line of Ladies Black Hose, heavy weight, at 15c. a pair. Those who have had these goods will be glad to hear they can get them again now.

Pink is the favorite color in Chambrays this season again. A fresh lot just arrived.

We keep suits for boys and small boys either with or without trimmings, at all prices. Before you buy see them.

WHAT IS LIME JUICE?
This question is rendered necessary by the prominent attention Lime Juice is attracting as the Best Temperance Beverage. The answer is that it should be the juice of the Lime Fruit without admixture.
By the "MONTSERRAT" Company alone is the Lime Fruit cultivated for this purpose, and great care should be taken to obtain this brand (as supplied by the British Government) in lieu of the numerous concoctions sold under the name of Lime Juice Cordials, Prepared Lime Juice, etc. Sold by all Druggists, Grocers, and at the leading hotels.

THE SCAFFOLD'S SHADOW

ENVELOPES THE CRONIN FUGITIVE AT WINNIPEG.

Expressman Martinson Picks Burke Out From Fifty as the Man Who Had the Furniture Moved to the Carlson Cottage.

WINNIPEG, June 21.—Burke was brought before Judge Bain this morning, charged with the murder of Cronin and remanded till Wednesday.

The prisoner's counsel fought against a remand, but it was urged that all the witnesses could not be here before this afternoon.

Martinson, the Chicago expressman who moved the furniture for Burke into the Carlson cottage, arrived and identified Burke this evening in the jail yard.

There was a crowd of over 50 drawn up in line and Martinson at once recognized Burke.

The prisoner intends fighting against extradition and has secured additional counsel although having only a few dollars when arrested.

It is expected his friends will come down handsomely for his defence.

The Extradition Papers in Route.

CHICAGO, June 21.—The extradition papers for Burke are now en route and will be pushed forward with all speed possible.

Black's Mother Visits Him.

CHICAGO, June 21.—Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Black of San Francisco arrived here yesterday, and had a long interview at the jail with Frank Woodruff, Mrs. Black's son. The meeting was affecting and the old couple seemed almost prostrated by the disgrace. They stated that they would be unable to afford Woodruff adequate defence, as they possessed no property, and Mr. Black was dependent upon a salary. Mrs. Black declined to state anything that passed between them and Woodruff. She remarked: "Frank is neither a Catholic nor an Irishman. We have no money to defend him and we fear there is an attempt to make him a scapegoat." "Yes," added Mr. Black, "we understand there is a man interested in this case worth a million dollars. What chance have we against that?" The Blacks will return at once to San Francisco.

BLACK IS HIS NAME AND RECORD.

Anonias Woodruff Has Been Implicated in Various Murder Cases.

WICHITA, Kan., June 21.— Woodruff, alias Black, who has made several confessions in the Cronin case, lived for some time in Wichita, first in 1887 and again in the winter of 1888 and 1889. He was employed here under the name of Black, as a stableboy, at the Star Stable, and is well remembered by many persons. One night in the fall of 1887, Wm. B. Van Cleave, a carpenter was found with a bullet in his body, near the Southern Kansas Depot, in Winfield. The circumstances were very mysterious. Several witnesses were examined at the coroner's inquest, among them being a detective, who maintained that Black was implicated, and that the murder occurred over some secret society trouble, but refused to give any further inkling of what it might be.

Sheriff McIntyre of Cowley County, came here and arrested Black, who set up a rather feeble alibi. The matter was not followed closely, and other arrests following, Black dropped out of sight. To this day every person in this city and Winfield who was familiar with the case believes that Van Cleave was murdered for some supposed treachery to a secret organization, and that the murder was under the direction of Black.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21.—The Evening Post, in giving the criminal history of Frank P. Black, alias Woodruff, says that he was in prison at Oakland in 1885 on a charge of petit larceny, when George Jones was arrested for the murder of Lorenzo Dutil, a saloon-keeper who was found dead with his head crushed. The evidence against Jones was purely circumstantial and the most conclusive testimony was that of Woodruff, who testified that, while a cellmate of Jones in the City Prison, Jones confessed to him that he had murdered Dutil. On Woodruff's testimony Jones was convicted and sentenced to be hanged. A new trial was granted on technical grounds, and owing to Jones' old age and ill health he has never been brought to a second trial. It is claimed that the first trial was pushed by detectives to secure the reward and that Woodruff was a tool in the hands of the conspirators.

A Singular Suicide.

YARMOUTH, N.S., June 21.—John Cann, farmer of Ohio, Yarmouth County, drowned himself in the lake near his home yesterday. He had been in town in the morning, drove home, changed his clothes and telling his wife he would be home to an early dinner, went out. He did not return and as the afternoon wore on his wife got the neighbors to search for him. No trace of him was discovered until this morning, when he was found standing in the lake a short distance from the shore and a foot or two under the surface. He had apparently walked out backwards from the shore till the water was over his head. In just the same spot and just the same way his first wife drowned herself [illegible] years ago. Cann was about 55 years old. [illegible] showed any signs of insanity or [illegible] and was only married to [illegible] a [illegible] ago.

THE ARMAGH DISASTER.

A Verdict of Manslaughter Against Five of the Railway Employes.

ARMAGH, June 21.—The jury in the case of the five railway employes charged with causing the recent disaster by which 75 persons lost their lives has brought in a verdict of manslaughter. The rear guard of the wrecked train has been arrested.

The N. S. W. Mails.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., June 21.—The New South Wales Government has decided to continue for a year from next November the contract for carrying the mails between this port and San Francisco.

In the time intervening before the contract expires the Government will consider what is the best route to use in the future for transporting the mails by way of the American continent.

The America's Cup.

LONDON, June 21.—The members of the Royal Yacht Squadron will meet early next week to decide regarding the deed of gift of the America's Cup. Lord Dunraven does not think the Valkyrie will compete for the cup.

The Cry of the Children Heard.

LONDON, June 21.—The House of Commons last night accepted the bill punishing parents who send boys under 14 and girls under 16 to beg in the streets, under the pretence of selling things, singing, etc., or who send them to sell between 10 at night and 5 in the morning in summer and 8 at night and 5 in the morning in winter.

The Boycotted Priest.

DUBLIN, June 21.—Father Crotty of the boycotted church at Knockea, recently closed by order of Bishop O'Dwyer, has been given another parish near Croom, a short distance from Limerick. The Bishop retains the custody of the keys of the abandoned chapel at Knockea.

A Financier Fined for Fraud.

PARIS, June 21.—M. Meyer, a financier, has been sentenced to imprisonment for one year and fined 5000 francs for being connected with the Societe Mobiliere frauds.

Diphtheria Communicated by Cats.

LONDON, June 21.—At a local board meeting at Darton the clerk reported that Dr. Bruce Lawes, an inspector connected with the Local Government Board, had been down from London and inspected the district to inquire into the cause of the deaths of 26 children from croup and diphtheria mentioned in the medical officer's report. The inspector found that in three cases the disease had been communicated by cats going from house to house, and in more than one case where children had died cats had died also.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT.

Winners at Ascot.

LONDON, June 21.—At Ascot to-day the race for the Hardwicke Stakes was won by Rose's Gulliver, Gretton's Miguel second, Baird's Enthusiast third.

The race for the Alexander Plate was won by De La Rue's Traylos, Astley's Netheravon second, Houldsworth's Arrandale third.

The race for the Windsor Castle Stakes was won by Milner's Riviera, Rose's Beldomino second, Baron De Rothschild's Fatalite third.

The race for the Thirty-Sixth Triennial Stakes was won by Prince Soltykoff's Cherry Bounce, Baird's Eldorado second, the Duke of Westminster's Ben Stroma, third.

The race for the Queensland Plate was won by Lord Dudley's Formidable, De Rothschild's Wayland second, Huntley's Juno third.

The American Derby.

CHICAGO, June 21.—These are active times at Washington Park, as things are being put in order for the American Derby to be run to-morrow. Spokane is not in satisfactory condition, though his people think he will come out all right and make a good showing.

"I guess he'll be all right now," said Noah Armstrong. "We have just got some good oats for him. We had them sent from Montana. I don't see how they can beat him now."

The colt could hardly have looked better than he did when I saw him out walking. His step was firm and elastic. Nevertheless experienced turfmen insist that he is lame and hint that Rodegap, his trainer, is afraid to give him strong work. Predictions are made that a hard race will settle his turf career. The queer part of the critical opinions is that while one man says the colt is lame forward, the next one is positive the trouble is behind. Meanwhile Rodegap says:

"He is just as he was when he won the Kentucky Derby and Clark stakes." Despite all reports of lameness Spokane will carry a lot of money to-morrow. Horsemen as well as the public will back him heavily.

Proctor Knott's eye was bright, his coat shone with a healthy brilliancy and he looked in the pink of racing condition as he stood in his stall. Perhaps he looked a little tucked up, but to the casual observer not more so than would be expected of a horse that had been to the races. Sam Bryant thinks him too light and wishes the Derby a week further off.

"If it was," said he, "he'd win. The only thing I'm afraid of is he'll weaken at the finish."

Yale's Winning Crew.

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 21.—Yale won the 8-oared 4-mile boat race on the Thames this evening, beating the University of Pennsylvania by 1¼ lengths. Time: Yale 20.50, University of Pennsylvania 20.56.

Lucy Hayes Stricken With Apoplexy.

CLEVELAND, June 21.—Mrs. Hayes, wife of ex-President Hayes, was stricken with apoplexy this afternoon at her home in Fremont and at 9 o'clock this evening she was unconscious.

A Connecticut Failure.

VERSAILLES, Conn., June 21.—The Versailles Woolen Company has failed, liabilities $165,000, nominal assets $132,000.

One For The Old Man.

"Times have changed," said old Hyson, mournfully; "times have changed."

"And as to wherefore?" asked the son.

"In former times," said the old fellow, "men ate the cream."

"And now?"

"They cremate the man."

There was an awful pause, and young Hyson walked out of the counting-house on his tiptoes, and told one of the salesmen he was afraid the old man was breaking up fast.

BALFOUR'S SAVAGE MOT.

A CAUSTIC SUMMARY OF THE NEW GOSPEL OF HOME RULE.

The Leper in the Meat Market—The Rumor of Strained Relations Between Germany and Russia Reasserted.

NEW YORK, June 21.—Mr. Smalley cables The Tribune from London: "Some kind of bastard imitation of the federal government of America." Such is Balfour's summary of the Asquith-Rosebery new gospel of Home Rule. You perceive that on both sides the American example is being more appealed to, though for very different purposes. You will perceive, also, that the question of Home Rule for Ireland is rapidly merging into the question whether the existing Parliamentary constitution of this Empire shall be broken up in order to substitute for it a new scheme of federation, in which not Ireland only, but England, Scotland, and perhaps gallant little Wales also, shall each have a parliament of its own. Gladstone, aware of the danger of confusing a political issue, has given as yet only what Balfour calls a negative approval of that policy. Asquith and Lord Rosebery have dotted the i's. What Gladstone said in the southwest I quoted the other day. I refer to it again, as I do to what Balfour now says, solely in order to ask your attention to this changing order of things, and to the new issue which is now more clearly than ever before presented to the English people. Balfour discussed it yesterday in St. James' hall in that analytical and critical spirit which is characteristic of him.

Mr. Gladstone has unconditionally accepted the principle of the retention of the Irish members in the Imperial Parliament. From that seemingly simple modification of his original Home Rule scheme flows the whole new federal doctrine. Lord Rosebery, who is supposed to know better than anybody else what is going on in Mr. Gladstone's mind, vows his adherence to Federalism in its largest sense. Mr. Asquith summons his leader to say "yes" or "no" to it. Mr. Gladstone says "yes and no" for the present, but "yes" is clearly involved in, or may be clearly evolved from, his contention that Scotland and Wales have each the right to disestablish its church, because the Scotch and the Welsh people want to disestablish it. The Tories have awakened slowly, as their habit is, to the magnitude of the consequences of this new dogma.

There is good authority for saying that Mr. Gladstone improved the occasion of Mr. Carnegie's dinner to expound American Home Rule to the Americans there present. "He did not fail," says one of his intimate friends, "to explain to some of them that the case of the civil war in America is not one against Home Rule, but rather the other way, as showing that Home Rule, that is, the subordinate government of the several states by their own legislatures, rendered the American Union possible and invulnerable."

The Leper Scare.

LONDON, June 21.—The Prince of Wales has supplied to the public, through his secretary, his authority for his story about the leper in a London meat market. His authority is unimpeachable, being Dr. Thorne, President of the Epidemiological Society and Medical Inspector to the Local Government Board. Dr. Thorne now repeats the statement.

It turns out that the leper has a wife and family of six grown-up children. They all get a living by buying oxtails and heads and similar off-scourings of the Central Meat Market and hawking them about the streets of London. The excitement over the discovery among all classes of society is intense.

Teuton and Muscovite at Odds.

LONDON, June 21.—The Pesther Lloyd to-day reasserts that the relations between Germany and Russia are strained, and says that it derives its information from sources in Berlin which are absolutely unimpeachable.

The circular recently issued from Belgrade denying the reports about a Russo-Servian military convention is given but little weight in London and is not credited anywhere.

To Debate the Land Question.

LONDON, June 21.—The debate on the land question between Henry George and Samuel Smith, M.P., will come off at the rooms of the Liberal Club next Wednesday.

Persico's Peril.

LONDON, June 21.—The Pall Mall Gazette asserts that Mgr. Persico, who made an investigation of Irish affairs in behalf of the Pope, inserted in his report of the result of his mission a statement that he feared the Irish Nationalists would kill him if he returned to Ireland, and declared he held proofs that that was their intention.

Flood and Fire.

BERLIN, June 21.—Floods in the Rosenbach River at Stuttgart have submerged portions of the city and eight people are reported drowned.

The buildings on the baronial estate of Henfstadet in Meiningen, Germany, have been burnt to the ground. They were set on fire by a stableman on the estate, who after applying the torch hanged himself in one of the burning buildings and perished in the flames.

Used a Battering Ram.

DUBLIN, June 21.—Several families were evicted on the Ponsonby estate to-day. The tenants offered a stout resistance and in some cases the evictors had to use a battering ram to effect an entrance into cottages. Several persons were injured while resisting the bailiffs. Six arrests were made.

A Socialist Paper Suppressed.

VIENNA, June 21.—The Government has suppressed the Socialist paper Gleichheit.

Readopted the Law.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 21.—Russia has readopted the law which forbids heirs to the throne marrying persons not members of the Orthodox Greek Church.

Kladno Rioters Arrested.

VIENNA, June 21.—Forty persons have been arrested for participating in the riots at Kladno. A proclamation has been issued prohibiting meetings of strikers. The municipal authorities of Kladno have requested that a permanent garrison be established there.

The Turf Scandal Compromised.

LONDON, June 21.—A compromise has been arranged between Sir George Chetwynd and Lord Durham in connection with the turf scandal.

The Boulangists' Trial Concluded.

PARIS, June 21.—The trial of Boulangists at Angouleme has been concluded; judgment will be rendered Monday.

Cuba Not For Sale.

MADRID, June 21.—In the Cortes to-day Senor Becerra, Minister of the Colonies, reaffirmed that the United States Government had made no proposition relative to the purchasing of Cuba. He added that no such proposition would be entertained.

A Railway Swap.

CHICAGO, June 21.—The Chicago roads to-day formally surrendered to the Lake Superior lines all the through traffic from the seaboard to St. Paul and will hereafter use local business with the Northwest to recoup the loss.

FATAL FIRE AT BOSTON.

Three Persons Perish and Three Others Probably Fatally Injured.

BOSTON, June 22.—A disastrous fire occurred here this evening. Three persons perished and three others received probably fatal injuries. It is feared there may be more victims among the debris. The building, a four-story brick structure, was occupied on the ground floor by C. E. Browning, milliner, and on three upper floors by Hoyer Bros., dealers in fancy goods and fireworks. Shortly after 5 p.m. while a salesman was waiting on a customer he saw a flash among some fireworks behind a counter. He ran for water and also gave the alarm. The flames spread with almost incredible rapidity cutting off the escape of several men in the upper stories and in five minutes the dense smoke and almost incessant discharge of fireworks of different kinds made a perfect pandemonium of the building.

C. A. Gage, aged 26, employed in the third story, hung from a window until he was obliged to let go. He fell to the ground striking two awnings and breaking his back. He will probably die.

C. F. Callahan and Thos. Paine, working on the fourth floor, jumped from a window and Paine was killed. Callahan was probably fatally injured. A body taken from the building was recognized by Mr. Hoyer as Samuel Cord, the chief packer. The body of a boy also taken out was badly charred and burned. This completes the list of casualties at present.

BIG MEAT AND SALT TRUSTS.

"Eastman's Limited" Will Have a Capital of Four Millions in Meat.

NEW YORK, June 21.—A big meat trust by London and New York operators which has been talked of for some time is now an accomplished fact and will be known as "Eastman's Limited."

Eight prominent English gentlemen, including Lord Grenville and James John Thompson, are the London directors, and the New York Board of Management will consist of President George C. Williams of the Chemical National Bank, and T. C. and Joseph Eastman. The capital stock is $4,500,000, of which $2,000,000 is in 8 per cent. cumulative preferred shares of $5 each, the balance being in ordinary $50 shares paying 16 per cent.

F. C. Eastman was a pioneer in the business of exporting American fresh meats in refrigerators to England in 1875, and John Bell & Sons handled his exports in England, an enormous trade being built up, opening 330 retail stores.

It is claimed by Joseph Eastman that the amalgamated concern will still further lower the price of meat, which had been lowered somewhat by the two firms acting in accord.

Another trust which will soon be consummated is the North American Salt Company, limited, with a capital of $5,000,000.

AMBITIOUS CITY NOTES.

Struck By Lightning—An Old Crook With a Penchant For Horses.

HAMILTON, June 21.—About 7 o'clock this morning the lightning shattered the chimney of J. M. Lester's residence, 28 Victoria-avenue south.

The forty-eight hour test of the pumping engines at the beach was concluded this morning and is satisfactory.

In the Anglican Synod last night the anti-Ritualist motion, which caused such a hot discussion, was withdrawn. Anti-Jesuit resolutions were passed, routine business transacted and the synod finally adjourned at 11.30.

John Gorman, an old broken-down thief, was in the dock at the police court to-day. He is 68 years old, and fully 27 years of that time has been spent in jail. He gained the reputation of being the most notorious horsethief in the country. On the last occasion that Gorman stole a horse he deliberately took it so that he would be sent to jail. The magistrate took pity on the old crook and gave him three months for vagrancy. Gorman is dying and will hardly live that long.

A FIRE HORROR IN CHINA.

Twelve Hundred Persons Killed and Ten Thousand Rendered Homeless.

SHANGHAI, June 21.—One-half of the City of Lochan has been destroyed by the recent fire. The conflagration raged for four days. It is now estimated 1200 persons were killed. Most of them were crushed in trying to escape from the narrow streets. Ten thousand persons are homeless. A fund has been started for their relief.

A Family of Five Murdered.

HELENA, Mont., June 22.—A brutal crime has been committed in what is known as Judith County, 150 miles north of Helena. On Saturday last the body of a middle-aged woman, who had been shot in the back, was found by a cowboy in a wild and unfrequented spot on Judith River. The coroner's inquest developed no information as to who she was. On Tuesday the bodies of two men, a 16-year-old girl and a 6-year-old girl were discovered 100 yards above the same place. All were shot in the back except the child, who had been strangled. Nearly everything by which the bodies might have been identified was destroyed and nobody can recognize them. The victims are supposed to have been a family of emigrants from Iowa or Illinois. A hundred horsemen are scouring the plains seeking the trail of the murderers.

A Hamilton Snake Tale.

HAMILTON, June 21.—The Times to-night chaperons this story: A little son of Mr. George Plastow went to the mountain top yesterday afternoon by the Donovan Stairway, and wandered about in search of flowers with some other lads. Plastow had with him a small black-and-tan dog that ferreted out a snake's nest. The dog made a snap at one of the snakes, and had no sooner done so than the reptile caught him about the neck and proceeded to wind himself around the animal's body, squeezing him until life was extinct. The small boys got quite a fright. Plastow reached home bemoaning the fate of his favorite. It is said that several large black snakes were in the nest.

Serious Accident at Gananoque.

GANANOQUE, June 21.—An accident occurred at 6 p.m. yesterday through the giving way of some part of the running gear of the elevator at the Ontario Wheel Company works. Four of the employes, who were on the elevator at the time, are seriously injured and it is thought that in one or two cases the injuries will be fatal. The names of the injured are Thos. Clark, Kingston; F. Black, Cardinal; F. Johnston and J. Reid, Gananoque. Clark's injuries are the most serious.

An American Schooner Fired On.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., June 21.—The schooner Baltic of Provincetown, Captain Joseph Fisher, arrived to-day from an Atlantic Ocean whaling voyage. May 13 while at Sam Bay, Santo Domingo, the vessel put in for water. At six o'clock in the evening five soldiers under command of an officer came down and fired 12 or 15 shots at the schooner. They were armed with American rifles. The captain and two seamen narrowly escaped being hit. The firing was so hot there was no chance to show the American flag.

A Veteran Politician at Death's Door.

LANCASTER, Pa., June 21.—General Simon Cameron is very low and believed to be sinking. Death may occur at any moment.

PRICES AND PROSPECTS.

MODERATELY INCREASED ACTIVITY IN TRADE.

Eight Leading Staples Advance in Price, and Five Firm; But Coffee, Cotton and Hog Products Show a Decline.

NEW YORK, June 22.—Special telegrams to Bradstreet's this week report a moderately increased activity in general trade at Boston, Philadelphia, Memphis and Burlington. This is likewise true at Pittsburg now that railway traffic in the Pennsylvania flood region has been resumed. At Kansas City, the improvement is most prominent, where reduced lumber freight rates have increased shipments and stimulated building. There has been only a moderate business at New Orleans, St. Louis, Galveston, Omaha, Detroit and San Francisco. Chicago, St. Paul, and New York maintain fall seasonable averages.

Heavy rains over the central and western States are reported, but no serious damage to crops is reported. Eight out of eighteen leading staples have advanced in price this week; five are steady, even firm; coffee, cotton and hog products alone being noteworthy as showing declines.

In spite of disturbing elements in the western railroad situation, the danger of disruption to the Inter-State Association and apparent sensitive conditions of the money market stock speculation at New York continues to show a decidedly bullish temper. Activity is slightly decreased and attention drifts from the grangers to the coal stocks and industrial specialties. Bonds are strong in anticipation of a July reinvestment demand. Over $5,000,000 gold was shipped to France and the New York money market stiffened the rate for call loans, rising from 2 and 2 1-2 to 3 per cent. at the close of the week. Foreign exchange is firm. Sterling is lower relatively than continental bills. Demand sterling $4.88 to $4.88.

Gross and net earnings of ninety-one railroads for April and for four months ending April 30 show gains over April 1888, in gross of 3 per cent. and in net of 6.3 per cent. For the four months the gain in gross is 5.7 per cent. and in net 16 per cent. A phenomenal improvement by the granger roads is due to comparison being made with the period of the great Burlington strike of last year.

There has been an advance all around in breadstuffs despite the glowing domestic crop reports, wheat having gained 2½ cents, corn ½ cent, and oats 1 cent per bushel. Flour has shared the stimulus and on a freer export movement is quoted higher. Wheat has been very variable, down on good weather reports and easy cables, and up again on rumored revived crop [illegible]. New crop winter wheat has sold at St. Louis at 75 cents. The Australian and Brazilian demand for California wheat advanced spot at San Francisco to [illegible] per cental, as millers there want old [illegible] and new crop is slow in coming in. [illegible] products have been more active, but lower or barely steady, as receipts at western centres continue very [illegible].

Demand for raw sugar has [illegible] ed owing to a modified request for [illegible]. Foreign markets remain very [illegible] active. Production of refined at New [illegible] has, however, been increased to [illegible] cumulating orders. Holders of [illegible] fer to store rather than accept [illegible]. The latest report of the world's [illegible] ply to 782,633 tons, against 1,063,[illegible] year ago. Prices remain firm.

Heavy liquidating orders in the [illegible] lative coffee market here and abroad [illegible] resulted in unusual excitement [illegible] cline of 1 3-5 to 1 3-5 cents per pound. [illegible] break in prices abroad was [illegible] precipitate. The outlook is not [illegible] as encouraging. Large new crop [illegible] current.

Pig iron is more active with occasional slight increases in price. Some [illegible] have refused contracts for future [illegible] at current prices. Anthracite [illegible] withstanding curtailed output due [illegible] mines being flooded, has not sold [illegible] late advance in circular rates. Trade is dull. There is a better demand for [illegible] per but American mines are being [illegible] worked. Prices remain at 12c. [illegible] European visible supplies and Chili [illegible] Australian stocks about declined [illegible] during the first half of June. The [illegible] for steel rails is the largest since April.

At eastern dry goods centers [illegible] opens with dark prints and ginghams [illegible] demand, the latter—leading makes [illegible] at 8½ cents. Cotton goods are firm [illegible] some bleached goods are higher, [illegible] annual clearing out sales are being [illegible] ed. Woolen goods are firm but [illegible] Print cloths are stronger. Manufacturers have bought wool more freely [illegible] staple is firmer, more active, and [illegible] points 1c. higher. Raw cotton is in [illegible] active demand at a decline of ⅛ cent.

The Week's Failures.

NEW YORK, June 21.—Business failures reported to Bradstreet's number [illegible] United States this week against [illegible] week and 177 this week, last year. Canada had 26 this week against 20 last week. The total failures in the United States from Jan. 1 to date is 5874, against 5048 in 1888.

The Latest From Hayti.

NEW YORK, June 21.—The latest news from Hayti was brought to the city by passengers on the Clyde Line steamer [illegible] nare which arrived yesterday [illegible]. According to their report Legitime is in a precarious situation. The troops of Hippolyte have overrun the whole country, pursuing Legitime up in the city of Port au Prince, his last stronghold. They say that Hippolyte had 15,000 men before the place and that Legitime, with a much smaller force, was making his last stand in a fort about four miles from the city, and that it was a question of only a few days before Legitime would be forced to surrender or flee the island.

Died in the Harness.

TROY, N.Y., June 21.—Charles S. Collins, for many years a leading editorial writer on The Troy Times, died Wednesday night. He was engaged in writing an article at his desk in The Times editorial rooms when the pipe which he was smoking fell from his mouth and his head dropped forward. His associates hastened to his side and found him unconscious. Everything was done for Mr. Collins that medical skill could suggest, but he did not regain consciousness. Mr. Collins has been connected with one or other of the leading papers of Western New York since 1867.

West Bruce Reformers.

KINCARDINE, June 21.—At the annual meeting of the West Bruce Reform Association held in the Town Hall here to-day Mr. Peter Mackenzie of Kinloss presiding, a resolution expressive of regret at the failure of the House of Commons to support Col. O'Brien's motion for the disallowance of the Jesuits' Estates Act was carried by a vote of 20 to 12. A confidence resolution was, however, unanimously adopted in the leaders of the Liberal party and Mr. James Rowand, M.P., on their general work.

Mignonette and marguerites are the favorite flower for window boxes, which are seen none too often against the brownstone facings of New York houses.

Useful as well as pretty bags are made picot-edged ribbons in three colors. The ribbons are sewed together to form a bag, then lined and tied with narrower ribbon.

The Old Doctors

Drew blood, modern doctors cleanse it; hence the increased demand for Alteratives. It is now well known that most diseases are due, not to over-abundance, but to impurity, of the Blood; and it is equally well attested that no blood medicine is so efficacious as Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

"One of my children had a large sore break out on the leg. We applied simple remedies, for a while, thinking the sore would shortly heal. But it grew worse. We sought medical advice, and were told that an alterative medicine was necessary. Ayer's Sarsaparilla being above all others, we used it with marvelous results. The sore healed and health and strength rapidly returned." —J. J. Armstrong, Weimar, Texas.

"I find Ayer's Sarsaparilla to be an admirable remedy for the cure of blood diseases. I prescribe it, and it does the work every time." — E. L. Pater, M. D., Manhattan, Kansas.

"We have sold Ayer's Sarsaparilla here for over thirty years and always recommend it when asked to name the best blood-purifier." — W. T. McLean, Druggist, Augusta, Ohio.

"Ayer's medicines continue to be the standard remedies in spite of all competition." — T. W. Richmond, Bear Lake, Mich.

AMERICAN AGGRESSIVENESS.

Our neighbors are beginning to do what they once reproached J. B. with doing, teste Mr. Lowell—looking upon the ocean as their own backyard, says the Montreal Gazette. When "The Biglow Papers" were written the United States had not yet begun to dream of the Pacific as a field for the exercise of influence, and, as for entering into rivalry with the great powers of Europe for the assertion of prestige half way across that broad expanse, it would then have been looked upon as a nightmare suggestion. To cross the continent by rail was still deemed a wild and impracticable enterprise, and to statesmen of the older generation a sheer waste of time and money. But the world has changed materially in thirty years or so, and this continent's development has not been the least noteworthy feature in its mutations. That the policy of Washington Administrations has been affected by the course of events in Canada is becoming more and more evident. The possibility of a transcontinental railway was realized as early by Canadian public men and engineers as it was by those of the United States, and the undertaking and execution of the project by the latter, were finally stimulated by the contemplation of a like movement gradually gaining strength on this side of the line. In like manner the determination of the Washington Government to exert control in the Pacific, has been prompted very clearly by Canadian tendencies in the same direction. The command of the Pacific in the future will devolve very largely on three nations of European stock—the United States and Canada on the one hand, and Australia on the other. The rivalry will, of course, be between the neighboring powers, and the triumph of the American commissioners in the Samoan question really concerns Canada more nearly than it concerns Germany as we may find out before long.

Sporting Sparks.

The Athletics and Association baseball teams will play a practice match on the P.A.A.A. grounds this evening, if the rain does not interfere.

A nine chosen from the cricketers have an idea that they can defeat the Association baseball team, and it is probable that a game will be played some night next week to show them the mistake they are laboring under.

[illegible] rain last night again prevented the [illegible] lacrosse match between the [illegible] and Packenham teams, but sides were [illegible] and a short practice put in.

Y.M.C.A. Notes.

[illegible]inners Bible class Sunday morning [illegible].30 to 10.30.

[illegible] will run every 15 minutes after 7 p.m., fare 5c. Y.M.C.A. band will furnish music

We desire to thank Mr. J. J. Turner for a flag and Mrs. Mowry, Ashburnham, and Miss M. Green for flowers for our parlor.

To-night our Young Men's Meeting will be held at 8 p.m. Addresses are expected from Messrs. Armstrong and Wallbrooke. Subject, "Heirship." Singing led by the Y.M.C.A. orchestra.

The postponed garden party of our Ladies Auxiliary will, D.V., be held on the grounds of Mrs. Joseph Dixon, Smithtown Hill, on Monday evening, when, if the weather is favorable, a very enjoyable evening will be spent as no pains are being spared to make it a great success. Through the kindness of Mr. T. G. Hazlitt we hope to have an electric light placed on the grounds, and with Chinese lanterns, &c., the grounds will be beautifully illuminated. Friends will confer a favor on committee if they would send their provisions to Mrs. Dixon's not later than 4 p.m., if not convenient they can be left at the rooms.

A Gospel and Song Service at 8.30 Sunday evening for men only will be addressed by Rev. J. A. K. Walker, an old Y. M. C. A. worker, who is under appointment to go as a missionary to India in September. By the kindness in Toronto and here we have been enabled to add to our reading room "The Golden Rule," the organ of the Christian Endeavor Society, which is full of valuable hints on the work of these useful aids in church work among our young people, also the Montreal Daily Witness and Canadian Baptist.

It would increase the interest in our reading room if some kind friends would donate us the Scottish American, New York Tribune and Witness.—Com.

BENSFORT BRIEFS.

A Dwelling House Destroyed by Fire—Other Notes.

Correspondence of the Review.

Fire.—It is not often we have to chronicle a case of fire in this neighborhood. Mr. Wilfred Dawson had the misfortune to lose his dwelling house, destroyed by fire on the 12th inst. It is supposed to have originated by a spark from the chimney, for when first seen the roof was in flames. They succeeded in saving some of the furniture, but still the loss was considerable. The contents were covered by insurance. The building was the property of Mr. John Rutherford and very unfortunately the insurance policy upon it had expired a few days previous to the occurrence of the fire.

Farmers' Picnic.—This part of the township was well represented at the farmers' picnic at Jubilee Point. They all speak as having enjoyed themselves immensely.

To the Northwest.—Mr. D. Trescott and Mr. James Doyell left here last week to do the Northwest. They went by the C. P. R. excursion train. We wish them a safe and pleasant trip and hope they will not get lost on the lone prairie.

Sporting.—The Bensfort foot ball club was out in full force for practice on Saturday evening last. They had a good lively time and appeared to enjoy themselves.

Road Work.—The residents in this district are busy performing their statute labor, fixing up the Queen's highway in good style, thereby making it more pleasant for the young gentlemen who take their dew drops out for a drive seven evenings in the week, also giving them a better opportunity to discuss the knotty questions which they generally have on hand on such occasions, instead of having to occupy their whole attention to steering clear of the rocks and puddle holes as formerly.

ENNISMORE.

Correspondence of the Review.

Desideratum.—A consequential movement took place here a few days ago, although not of a religious or political nature, still in one case at least it will make the anvil and hammers ring. Mr. McCarthy, Ashburnham, the famed building mover, with his ruddy face and ever ready smile, made a raid amongst us accompanied by his son, wire cable, his universal rollers, his Clydesdale and two uncle jacks. He first grappled with a large frame building on the south side of Church-st. belonging to Nathanial Carew, blacksmith, formerly used as a blacksmith shop, dwelling house and carpenter shop, moving it in fine style along Church-st., thence across Post Office avenue, placing it without damage or accident on Mr. Carew's lot adjoining his present shop, which no doubt will be a useful addition to the corner. His next pitch-in was a large stable belonging to David Trevina, boundary of Emily, which he likewise moved a considerable distance, turning and placing it at the end of his other buildings without either mishap or accident. But the end is not yet. He then applied his jacks, rollers and cable to a heavy stable belonging to Thomas Telford, again confirming us in his skill as a building mover, and placing it in fine position, and undoubtedly giving good satisfaction to all by whom he was employed.

Obituary.—On Friday evening, the 14th instant, Robert McGee, second son of the late Thomas McGee Esq., lot 19, con. 1, township of Emily, after a long and painful illness, quietly passed away in the 20th year of his age with a sure hope in a loving Redeemer. Deceased was a kind, obliging, cheerful young man, combined with good business qualities made him a general favorite with all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance. He was ever ready with a good advice when his opinion was solicited. The esteem in which deceased was held was seen on Sunday, when about 170 vehicles followed his remains to their last resting place in Omemee Cemetery. The family has the sympathy of all acquaintances in this their second bereavement, being only two years on the 15th since his father was interred in the same cemetery. Both are now sleeping side by side their last sleep.

Hints to the Housewife.

How to Make Soap.—Three and a half pounds of grease, four gallons of soft water, if possible; one box of concentrated lye. After the lye is dissolved boil three hours.

Birch Beer.—One gallon of water, one quart of molasses, one-quarter ounce of whole cloves, one-quarter ounce of white ginger root, one-half ounce of whole allspice, one ounce of birch, one-half ounce of sassafras. Boil all for three hours. After taking it from the fire pour it into a clean tub and add one and a half gallons of water. Let it stand until milk-warm; then add two tablespoonfuls of bakers' or brewers' yeast. Stand away in the cellar or some cool place during the night, covering it. The next day it will be fit for bottling. One or two raisins with a hole punched in them with a fork add greatly to the flavor. Put it in strong bottles, cork tightly and tie down with twine. Set it in a cold cellar, and it will be fit for use in four days.

Ham and Eggs.—Soak ham over night in milk. In the morning fry until brown, then remove to a platter. Fry eggs by dipping gravy over them until done, instead of turning, then take up carefully and lay upon the slices of ham.

Rice Pudding.—One teacup of rice, one pint each of milk and water, or one quart of milk, one cup of molasses, one teaspoonful of salt, one-third of a nutmeg and a piece of butter the size of an egg. In mixing reserve one cup of milk, not to be added until the pudding has been in the oven from one-half to three-quarters of an hour. First mix all the ingredients together in a buttered earthen pudding-pot; let it stand on the back of the stove until ready to bake, so as to let the rice swell, and bake about two hours. Do not stir after you add the rest of the milk. If it is baked properly it should have whey on the top like an Indian pudding. Use dark molasses. Serve hot with butter and milk.

Sour Cream Pie.—One cup of sour cream, one cup of sugar and three eggs. Use the white of one egg for frosting and season with lemon.

'A Spring Message'

From the New Firm of

H. LeBRUN & CO.

Sign of the Golden Horse-shoe.

The people of Peterborough and vicinity are all aware of the business change which took place in the CITY CLOTHING STORE on the first day of February last. The new firm beg leave to make their first bow to the public through the columns of the Review, and to request a careful perusal of the following Spring and Summer circular:—

The City Clothing Store

in past years, by long experience in business, by buying always for spot cash, importing direct from the principal houses of the old country and from the leading houses of Canada, and by strict economy in conducting its business, has always been able to force prices down to an exceedingly fine point. The members of which the new firm is composed will form a still stronger "combine," by which the CITY CLOTHING STORE will be even better prepared to procure for its customers a continuation of those superior inducements in the future for which it has been noted in the past.

Men's Clothing.

The magnitude of our stock and lowness of prices gives us a great advantage over all other competitors in the trade. We carry in stock all the fast selling lines, styles and patterns, and can fit the tall, the short, the fat and the lean. More Suits, Better Fabrics, Finer Styles than were ever handled before.

Special values in Fine Spring Overcoats, and Fine Spring and Summer Suits. Don't fail to see them. The superb styles, workmanship, and the beautiful fabrics and patterns that we offer will surprise you.

Merchant Tailoring.

"For the apparel oft proclaims the man."

Fine dressers in search of new, neat and nobby Overcoatings, Suitings or Trouserings will find this department crowded to overflowing with cloth from all countries. To select from the largest assortment is an advantage we offer to our customers, backed up by the skill of experienced cutters and tailors. Besides perfect fit and first-class trimmings, we guarantee absolutely first-class workmanship.

Boys' and Youths' Clothing.

Clothing for the little ones—boys and children—has always been a specialty with us. We have always sought to give great values in this department, and to provide a larger and finer variety of goods for parents to select from than they could find elsewhere.

This means that we are showing a large assortment of Boys' and Children's Suits, Boys' and Children's Blouses, Shirt Waists, Pants, &c.

This spring there are an unusual number of new and nobby styles and an enlarged variety of fabrics and patterns. Be sure and see our stock.

Gents' Furnishings.

Gentlemen of Peterborough seeking the latest styles and best values for their money, as well as an opportunity of selecting from the largest stock of Furnishing Goods, should not fail to visit this department at once. We offer the finest, best selected and the largest assortment of Neckwear, Hosiery, Underwear, Gloves, Shirts, Handkerchiefs, etc., to be found in any first-class establishment.

Decoration Day.

The joint committee from Otonabee and Peterborough Lodges, I.O.O.F., which has the arrangements for decoration day in charge, met in Otonabee Lodge room last night and furthered the arrangements for Friday next. With fine weather and the half holiday it is probable that the occasion will be observed in a most successful and auspicious manner. The Oddfellows are to meet in their respective lodge rooms at two o'clock, and then assemble at the Central Park at 2.30 and from there proceed in procession to the cemetery.

Prof. Dorenwend and the Ladies.

Is there a lady in the Dominion who has not at one time heard of Prof Dorenwend of Toronto? Dorenwend is a household word and justly so. How many ladies are indebted to the Prof's. goods for their handsome appearance. The Prof. was the first one to introduce into Canada the style of wearing artificial Bangs, Frontpieces Waves, etc. He has moderized the ideas in Hair goods in this country and to-day there are thousands of ladies who can testify the Professor's goods are important factors of Beauty. Prof. Dorenwend will be at Phelan's Hotel on Friday and Saturday, June 28 and 29, with a large stock of his famous Hair goods. Every accommodation is provided for ladies visiting him. 1w24-2d146

A Remarkable Case.

For some months, says the Lindsay Post, Mrs. James Dickson, of Fenelon Falls, wife of the well known J.P. and surveyor, had been complaining of a painful spot which would appear first on one side and then on the other side of the abdomen. A reddish spot would be shown on the surface. While in Toronto recently Dr. Temple was consulted, and after a few minutes diagnosis the doctor drew out a darning needle three inches long. This was the cause of the trouble. Mrs. Dickson had a wonderful escape for Dr. Temple assured her that had the needle penetrated a vital part death would have taken place instantaneously. Mrs. Dickson has no idea how long the needle has been meandering through the system, but thinks it may have started about fourteen years ago.

His Lordship at Lindsay.

The annual distribution of prizes at Loretto academy, Lindsay, took place last Monday afternoon in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends of the pupils. Bishop O'Connor, of Peterborough, was present and was presented with a beautifully engrossed address on behalf of the institution, to which his lordship made a happy reply. There were also present Vicar Gen. Laurent, Revs. Fathers White, Rholeder, O'Connell and Connolly.

The Last Sad Rites.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Eastland, of Lakefield, took place yesterday afternoon from that village to Little Lake Cemetery. The cortege was a long one and both Lakefield and Peterborough friends paid their last respects to the deceased lady. The Chronicle says:—The many friends of Mrs. Thos. Eastland, both in the village and Peterborough, where she resided so many years, will hear of her death on Wednesday evening last with regret and will extend their sympathies to the bereaved husband and family. Deceased had been ailing for some months past, but had only been confined to her bed a few days.

I. O. O. F. District Meeting.

A district meeting of the I. O. O. F. was held in Otonabee Lodge room last evening, when Bro. Thos. Workman, D. D. G. M., presided, and those present were:—Otonabee Lodge, Bros. M. Mowry, P. G., John Mathieson, P. G., G. J. Early, P. G; Peterborough Lodge—Bros. A. McFarlane, P. G., A. J. Johnston, P. G., D. H. Moore, P. G., and J. Fraser, P. G. Bro. Dr. R. W. Bell, D. G. M., was present by invitation and conferred the past official degrees. Bro. G. J. Early, P. G., was appointed secretary, and Bro. Dr. Pettigrew, of Norwood, was elected as nominee for the D. D. G. M. of this district. Considerable other business was discussed, and the meeting proved of interest to those present. After the business was concluded the meeting adjourned to the anteroom, where Bro. H. Long had refreshments provided in his usual excellent style, and a short time was pleasantly spent by the brethren.

With a Merciful Hand.

The two Whitfield boys and young Albert Green came before Magistrate Dumble this morning at the Police Court, the first two to receive sentence, one for robbing Wyatt's jewellery store and the other for receiving stolen goods, and the last one of the three was to receive his trial also on a charge of having received a watch, knowing the same to be stolen. There seems to have been considerable interest taken in the boys' case by the general public, and the court room was crowded this morning to hear them receive sentence. A good many anticipated that the sentence would be such as it was, and it is safe to say that the Magistrate's view of the case is that of all who have known the past character of the boys. The boys received their sentence one by one, the first to be addressed by the court being Willie Whitfield, the elder brother who received the stolen watches. Then Walter, the younger one, who entered the store and took the watches, received his lecture. The Magistrate spoke to them both at some length, impressing upon them the seriousness of the crime of which they were guilty, warning them against temptation of all kinds and allowing them to go under suspended sentence, Willie having to furnish bonds for two hundred dollars that he would appear when called upon for sentence. The Magistrate said he had feared lest the community might think he was not doing his duty in dealing with the boys so leniently, but he said he could not, viewing their past good character and behavior, blight such young lives by sending them to the penetentiary. Albert Green was also allowed to go on his father's recognizance for two hundred dollars that he would appear when called upon for trial. The boys have received a lesson and warning in thus being detected in their first step in crime, which, it is earnestly hoped, will have a great influence in their future lives, causing them ever to shun evil and temptation.

COUNTY LEGISLATURE.

VALUATORS APPOINTED FOR COUNTY ASSESSMENT.

Grants to the Riding Agricultural Societies —No High School Special Grants— The Reports of Committees.

FRIDAY.

The Council held a session on Friday afternoon, the first part of the day having been spent in committees.

EQUALIZATION.

Mr. Burnham submitted the following report of the Committee on Equalization:—

The Committee on Equalization and Assessment beg leave to report as follows:—

1. That in the opinion of this Committee it is desirable that the County appoint County Valuators according to statute, to value the land of the several municipalities of the County as a basis for County assessment.

2. That Messrs. Sanderson, Moore, Moloney, Stewart and Casement be a committee to name such County valuators and to report as to the remuneration to be paid and as to the instructions to be given the valuators for their guidance, the committee to report to the Council.

3. Your Committee would recommend that all assessment of personal property in the township municipalities be struck out, inasmuch as the statute of 1889 practically does away with the assessment of farm stock and none would have appeared upon the assessment rolls of 1889 if the municipal assessments had not been completed before the passage of the act in March, 1889.

4. Your Committee recommend that the several municipalities be equalized at the amounts set forth in the schedule hereto annexed. These amounts show an increase on the equalized value of the villages of ten per cent in the cases of Lakefield and Ashburnham and a total increase of $54,000 in the case of Norwood, which has admittedly been too low for some years past. The rate per acre at which the different townships were equalized last year is increased about ten per cent.

All of which is respectfully submitted,
JOHN BURNHAM,
June 21, 1889. Chairman

The total equalized value of the municipalities was as follows:—

Ashburnham	$ 366,300
Lakefield	181,800
Norwood	138,000
Asphodel	854,695
Belmont	257,306
Methuen	29,696
Burleigh	23,720
Anstruther	19,320
Chandos	81,994
Dummer	641,471
Douro	970,138
Ennismore	477,382
Galway	53,246
Cavendish	8,437
Harvey	200,544
Monaghan	480,612
Otonabee	2,142,800
Smith	1,894,[illegible]
	$8,914,966

POLICE MAGISTRATE.

Mr. Kidd moved, seconded by Mr. Elmhurst—That the Ontario Government be recommended to appoint a salaried county police magistrate for the county.—Carried.

VALUATORS.

Mr. Moloney read the report of the subcommittee of the Committee on Equalization, as follows:—

The sub-committee of the Equalization of the Assessment Rolls Committee, beg leave to report:—

That Sammual McKibbin and Wm. Drummond be valuators for the county.

That the whole cost shall not exceed $1,000, that as far as practicable the Assessment Act be followed, and that the Warden appoint a committee to arrange with said valuators.

All of which is respectfully submitted.
JOHN MOLONEY,
Peterborough, June 21, 1889. Chairman.

The report was adopted.

HIGH SCHOOLS.

Mr. Burnham submitted the report of the special committee on High Schools:—

The Committee to which was referred the question of aid to High Schools beg leave to report:—

Your Committe met and conferred with the representatives from the Norwood and Peterborough High School Boards.

The Committee were unanimously of opinion that it was undesirable to establish High School districts.

The Committee also decided that they could recommend no grant for High School purposes.

All of which is respectfully submitted,
JOHN BURNHAM,
Chairman.

The report was adopted and the Council adjourned.

SATURDAY.

The Council resumed this morning shortly after nine o'clock.

COUNTY PROPERTY.

Mr. Sanderson presented the following report of the County Property Committee:—

The Committee on County Property beg leave to report:—

1. That the County Engineer be instructed to have a new sidewalk erected at the southern front of the Registry office.

2. That the gaoler be instructed to procure the paint necessary to paint the gaol cells.

All of which is respectfully submitted,
M. SANDERSON,
Chairman.

Peterborough, June 22, 1889.

The report was adopted.

PRINTING.

Mr. Casement read the following report of the Printing Committee:—

The Committee on Printing beg leave to report as follows:—

1. That the County Clerk be instructed to procure his supplies of paper from Messrs. J. R. Stratton, Lee & Thompson, Sailsbury Bros. and the Peterborough Review in equal proportions, as far as possible, and at a price not greater than their tendered rate.

2. That the list of convictions for the balance of the year be printed by the Lakefield Chronicle at the same rate as paid the Norwood Register.

All of which is respectfully submitted.
W. H. CASEMENT,
Chairman.

ROADS AND BRIDGES.

Mr. Moloney read the following report of the Road and Bridge Committee:—

The Committee on Roads and Bridges beg leave to report as follows:—

1. That the report of the County Engineer be adopted.

2. That the matter of the Pigeon Creek bridge be left to the Bridge Building Committee.

3 That the matter of the Mud Lake bridge and swing be referred to the Bridge Building Committee.

4. That the Reeve of Smith have the approaches to the Buckhorn bridge satisfactorily repaired.

5. That the County Clerk be instructed to memorialize the Dominion Government to build a pier and guide boom to the entrance of the Locks bridge as suggested by the engineer's report.

6. That the matter of building and placing a scow for traffic over the narrows between Harvey and Ennismore be left to the Bridge Building Committee with full power to build the said scow at such place and at such price as they see fit, and that for the purposes of the bridge Messrs. Shaw and Crough be added to the committee.

7. That a special grant of $50.00 be granted towards the bridge over Deer River at John Wilson's, provided the County of Hastings grant a like amount for the same purpose, and that the Reeve of Burleigh be Commissioner for the expenditure of the same.

8. That a special grant of $50.00 be given towards the building of the road on the eastern boundary between Asphodel and Belmont, and that the Reeves of Dummer and Asphodel be the commissioners for the expenditure of the same. This grant is on condition that the municipalities interested grant a sufficient sum to complete the above road.

9. That a special grant of $50.00 be given to each of the townships of Harvey and Galway, to be expended on the roads therein, and that the Reeves of Harvey and Galway respectively be commissioners for the expenditure of the same.

10. That a grant of $100.00 be given towards the building and repair of the boundary road between Belmont and Marmora, on condition that the County of Hastings grant a like amount for the same purpose, and that the Reeve of Belmont be commissioner for the expenditure of the same.

11. That a grant of $50.00 be granted towards the repair of the fifth concession line in the Township of Ennismore, and that the Reeve of Ennismore be the commissioner for the expenditure of the same.

12. That a grant of $50.00 be given towards the opening of the extension of Spring and Oak-sts. in the village of Norwood, and that the Reeve of the village of Norwood be commissioner for the expenditure of the same.

13. That the Deputy Reeve of Otonabee be instructed to have the Norwood Road bridge over Indian River properly repaired.

14. That a grant of $50.00 be granted towarps the repair of the road and bridges over the boundary line between Smith and Monaghan, and that the Reeve of Monaghan be commissioner for the expenditure of the same.

15. That a grant of $50.00 be granted towards the road on Water-st. in the village of Lakefield, and that the Reeve of Lakefield be commissioner for the expenditure of the same.

All of which is respectfully submitted.
JOHN MALONEY.
Chairman

The report was adopted.

SCHOOLS.

Mr. Finlay submitted the report of the Committee on Schools, as follows:—

The Committee on Schools beg leave to report as follows:—

1. That Messrs. J. Coyle Brown, the County Inspector, John Davidson, B.A., Norwood, and John Stirling, Peterborough, be the County Board of Examiners to examine teachers and give certificates in accordance with the Statutes in that behalf. 2. That the County Treasurer be authorized to pay to the board of Examiners for examining entrance pupils and for teachers certificates their accounts when properly certified to according to Statute. 3. Your Committee recommend that the Minister of Education be memorialized to introduce such legislation so as to permit Board of School Trustees to apportion the midsummer and Christmas holidays in such a way as to them seems best in the interest of their schools, retaining, however, the present aggregate number of holidays. 4. That the County Clerk be instructed to advertize that he will receive applications from parties desiring to be nominated for free admission to and tuition at the Agricultural College and that the Warden and County Clerk be a committee on the selection of such County Student.

All of which is respectfully submitted.
JOHN FINLAY,
County Council Chamber, Chairman.
Peterborough, June 22, 1889.

The report was adopted.

PETITIONS.

Mr. Stewart presented the report of the Committee on Petitions, as follows:—

The Committee on Petitions beg leave to report:—

1. That no action be taken with reference to the circular of the Mayor of Ottawa asking this Council to send a representative to a conference at Toronto to take into consideration the question of the abolition of tax-exemptions and other municipal questions. 2. That with reference to the circular of Dr. A. M. Rosebrough regarding prison reform whilst your committee approve of most of the reforms suggested they perceive the difficulty of carrying them out at present.

All of which is respectfully submitted.
GEO. STEWART,
Chairman.
County Council Chamber,
Peterborough, June 22, 1889.

The report was adopted.

APPOINTMENTS.

Mr. Forster read the following report of the Committee on Appointments:—

The Committee on Appointments beg leave to report:—

1. That Dr. A. E Yelland be appointed Gaol Surgeon.

2. That Mr. W. Garner Nicholls be re-appointed Inspector of Municipal Licenses at a yearly salary of $35, his appointment to date from 1st January last.

All of which is respectfully submitted,
J. FORSTER,
Chairman.

Peterborough, Jan. 22, 1889.

The report was adopted.

The balance of the report is held over until Monday.

A Consignment From Japan.

This week Mrs. George Munro received a package which was forwarded to her from Japan and sent by Miss Munro, Tokio, where she is engaged in mission work. Among the odd things received are specimens of various kinds of Japanese fancy work and a large number of articles of extraordinary make. Small idols of stone, basket work, bamboo work, raw silk, dolls not handsome of countenance but gorgeous in raiment, photographs of pupils at the mission schools, rock crystals cut to peculiar shapes, and dozens of quaint things. Copies of late Japanese newspapers are rather interesting matter for perusal when one has acquired the language, and the fact may be noted that the subscription price for a daily paper not so large as the Daily Evening Review is $24 a year.

Personal.

Rev. S. J. Shorey has returned from conference and a short holiday, and will occupy his own pulpit to-morrow.

Masters Oziae Laplante and Adolphe Letellier, who have been attending college at Ottawa, have returned home for their holidays.

Rt. Rev. J. T. Lewis, Lord Bishop of Ontario, will arrive here this evening and will be the guest of Mr. A. P. Poussette while here.

In another column appears a notice of the marriage of Miss Jennie Davis, daughter of Mr. J. R. Davis, formerly of Peterborough, to Mr. Albert C. Rudolph, of Buffalo. Miss Davis' many friends in Peterborough and vicinity will join in wishing them a long and happy life.

Rev. W. C. Bradshaw, Mrs. Bradshaw and their daughter Mabel arrived home yesterday morning from Denver, Col. They are much improved in health, which will be glad news for their many friends in Ashburnham and Peterborough, and they will receive a joyful welcome by the members of St. Luke's as well as their numerous other friends.

On Monday, July 1st, says the Post, a large party of Lindsay residents will leave on a trip to the old country that will possibly be made to embrace a visit to the great fair in Paris, an Eiffel tower ascent and a glimpse at Col. Bill Cody's wild west show, which is at present delighting the hearts of the Parisians and visitors to the city. Following is a list of those who will make up the party: Mr. J. R. Dundas, the Misses Lillie and Ada Dundas, Miss Maggie Flavelle, Mr. F. C. Taylor and Mr. Geo. Matthews. Dr. Jones and wife and Miss Jones of Rochester, N.Y., will join the party at Montreal.

Brevities.

—The was only a fair market this morning.

—There was an undisturbed quiet in policedom last night.

—The regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held in their hall, George st., Monday, at 4 p. m.

—The front of the Grand Central Hotel is to be improved by balconies, the workmen having commenced on the work yesterday.

—The tail of Gilmour's drive of logs which has been coming down the river will probably be in Little Lake to night. There are between eighty and ninety thousand logs in the drive.

—Special services will be held by the Salvation Army in Lakefield on Saturday, Sunday and Monday, July 6th, 7th and 8th, led by Staff-Capt. Marshall, D. O., of Peterborough.

—The Lakefield Chronicle says:—Mr Sheldrake the other day found a very perfect specimen of an Indian copper arrow head in his garden. It is a very common thing to find flint arrow heads in this district, but very few copper implements have been found.

—The inquest held by Dr. Poole, coroner, in the case of the sudden death of Mrs. Elizabeth Campbell, of the township of Fenelon, has resulted in the verdict of death from the use of arsenic, but whether taken by the woman herself or given to her by some other person, the jury were unable to say.

Saved.—A fine family of children were all afflicted with scrofula. Two died early; the rest would soon have followed, but for the timely and persevering use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which built them up into a healthy and vigorous manhood.

Dominion Day Celebration at Port Hope.

This year's programme for the celebration of Dominion Day in Port Hope is the best ever presented by that town. It comprises an immense gathering of Firemen,—a Fireman's Parade,—Special Games for Firemen,—Athletic Sports,—Grand Horse Races, &c, during the day. In the evening, the "Pigs in Clover" will be practically illustrated by the real live article, the whole concluding with a Grand Display of Fireworks. We would strongly advise our readers to make their arrangements to spend Dominion Day in Port Hope. The programme there is always fully carried out. Any information desired can be obtained by writing W. E. Beamish, Secretary of Committee. 11d123

HAIR GOODS
Ladies' Frontpieces, Bangs, Waves Wigs, Switches, etc., Gent's Wigs, Toupees, etc.
Don't miss it. Come and see the new styles. Something to suit every face. Prof. Dorenwend has completed his new spring designs which he will show here. The stock on this visit will be the most complete yet offered. Every lady should consider the great benefit of having a nice becoming head-dress. With one of the Professor's pieces you can dress your hair quicker and get a better effect than by arranging your own. Gentlemen who are bald will find that by getting a real fine Wig or Toupee they will be less liable to diseases and their personal appearance will be improved a thousand per cent. Drop in at the show rooms and see the fine assortment.

SATURDAY, JUNE 22 1889.

HER LIFE FOR HIS.

It was early morning in the tropics, not quite 6, and consequently the sun was not yet risen on the earth. The Mundeli had some time before tumbled himself yawning out of his mosquito disturbed hammock. The stillness outside was gradually breaking into the stir of an awakening encampment. The garrison were lighting their fires, cooking their breakfasts, and grumbling in a feeble kind of way at the chill morning air and the order of things in general.

Suddenly above these accustomed sounds pierced a shrill whistle from beyond the outer boma, which caused the chief to leap from his seat, oversetting his unlucky servitor head over heels in so doing.

"It's the steamer! Run, run, you idiot, and see if they've got any mails on board!" And, having induced socks and shoes in a twinkling, he followed Uledi out of doors.

The house he left was a rough log hut, thatched with palm leaves, and surmounted by a flagstaff whence waved the dark blue banner with the golden star.

Lukebu was one of the smallest and newest stations of the Etat Independent du Congo, and all of it at present visible, besides the house above mentioned, was a row of huts for the garrison (consisting mostly of Gold Coast negroes from Accra), a couple of store tents, and an unfinished structure destined eventually to take their place, the whole surrounded by a strong boma of stakes and thorny bushes, with a gate leading to the river.

Outside this was the landing place for steamers, where the chief of the station intended constructing a jetty; but the only approach as yet to a realization of this idea was the leveling of a portion of the steep bank of red clay.

The chief, whose name in private life was Raymond Oliphant, hurried across the inclosure, a tall, boyish looking figure in white flannels and pith helmet, and, in the gateway, nearly fell into the arms of the returning Uledi.

"Him no bring mail, sir; him only Gazelle come back from Falls, sir."

"Bon jour, mon cher!" shouted her captain, a burly Belgian, known in private life as "Jumbo," looking out from under the awning, and mopping his red countenance with a vast red handkerchief. "En voila une belle!"

"What's wrong?" asked Oliphant, promptly.

"Arabs, mon ami. Slave raiders from Nyangwe, some 200 strong—been firing at us from both banks; no one hurt, happily. Pretty goings on up the river. Villages burnt to the ground; there'll be scarcely a living soul left between Falls and the Aruwimi. Had to steam all night to get away from them. We're out of wood; I suppose you have some?"

"Certainly!" Oliphant turned to give the necessary orders.

"And we've no time to lose, so you'd better come on board as quick as you can."

"What for?" asked the chief, with provoking coolness.

"What for? Why, man alive, I suppose you don't mean to stay here?"

"I've no orders to leave the station."

The captain shrugged his extensive shoulders. "As you please, my friend. If you like to wait three months or so, till you hear from Boma, I dare say Hassan Ben Ali, or whatever the gentleman's name is, will have the politeness to wait likewise."

"It's not likely they'd attack the station, and if they did, why, I'd back these fellows to hold it against them for a month. What sort of fighting can they do with those miserable duck guns of theirs, loaded with brass slugs?"

The captain gave another slow Flemish shrug, as who should say, "He that will to Cupar, maun to Cupar," and repeated slowly, "As you will; it's no affair of mine;" and half an hour later Oliphant was watching the Gazelle as she steamed away down the river, in no deep depression of spirit.

He was only 22, and new to the country; fighting, to his mind, assumed the aspect of a "jolly good lark," and if there was one man he would have pitched into with greater pleasure than another that man was an Arab slave trader.

So, forgetting all about the mails, he whistled softly to himself as he swung back slowly across the place, while Uledi followed behind, with a lugubrious countenance, casting glances of indignant contempt at the garrison, who were congregated, loudly chattering, under the shade of the great baobab in the center. But he did not speak till they had reached the hut and Oliphant had ordered him to get breakfast, when he stood meditatively still in the doorway, and then remarked:

"Bwana, him Accra man sabby Franceen."

"Well, you see, and what of that?"

Uledi did not reply in words, but spread the palms of his hand outward, shrugged his shoulders, turned his head backward till he seemed in danger of breaking his neck, and finally showed all his teeth in a portentous grin void of the slightest semblance of mirth. And having thus expressed his sense of the worthlessness of Accra men in general, he turned away and began to make the tea.

But when the Mundeli went out after breakfast to drill those Accras, they looked so smart and soldierly in their neat white uniforms, and showed themselves so quick and handy in learning the use of their newly acquired rifles, that his heart was filled with pride and pleasure, and utterly despised the warnings of Uledi, who was probably jealous. He could surely depend on these fellows in any emergency.

II.—A RUNAWAY SLAVE.

After drill there was the erection of the new store to be superintended (and a vast deal of superintendence those Ba-yanzi did require); and so the busy day wore on till noon, and the chief retired to his hut to sleep the siesta of the just. He was rudely awakened, however, before it was half over.

"Bwana, there's a man come from the Arabs to say there's a runaway slave of theirs here, and they want her back."

Oliphant swung his feet out of the hammock with a huge yawn which merged into a groan.

"There's no such thing here," he said, testily; and then, in an audible English aside, "Don't I jolly well wish there were!"

"But, Bwana, there is. Just before the men came they found a woman hiding in one of the canoes."

"By Jingo!" ejaculated Oliphant, hurrying out of the hut and striding up to the noisy group assembled under the baobab tree. The throng of Accra soldiers and Ba-yanzi laborers parted asunder and allowed him a full view of the centre of attraction.

She was crouching on the ground, this miserable piece of contraband goods—a sickening spectacle enough. The gaunt frame covered only by a rag of dirty grass cloth, showed the poor bones everywhere through the loose, wrinkled skin, gashed and scarred by the slave driver's whip and the thorny branches of the jungle.

And beside her shouting and gesticulating, emphasizing his statements on Karenga's person by occasional prods with the but end of the "courbash" he held in his hand, was an ugly half caste Arab in a dirty dishdasheh, while some half dozen of his followers showed their teeth in ferocious grins and snarl's.

"Stop that, you brute!" was Oliphant's salutation, accompanied by a well delivered "right-hander" that nearly upset the Arab's equilibrium. He had just been in time to see the whip handle brought down with a sounding thwack on the poor wretch's shoulders.

She was too cowed and spiritless to cry out much; she only gave a little moan and rubbed her skinny knuckles into her eyes. But when she saw her tormentor stagger back several paces, and finally bring up against one of his hench-men, whom he immediately fell to abusing, she sat up and became perfectly rigid and open mouthed with astonishment.

"Here, Uledi," said the chief, whose Swahili was not sufficient for the angry harangue that followed; "ask the fellow what he wants."

A Marriage Ceremony at "Pine Grove"—Other News.

Correspondence of the Review.

HYMENEAL.—"Pine Grove," the residence of Mr. David Payne, was the scene of a very pleasant occasion on the 12th inst. About 100 friends had convened to witness, at the hour of 6 p.m. the marriage of Miss Annie Payne to J. B. Moore, Esq., of Hastings. The ceremony was conducted by Rev. M. Metherell, brother-in-law of the bride. After the solemn vows had been duly recognized and witnessed by the spectators, the wedding supper was partaken of, and was all that could be wished for on such an occasion. The evening was one of the finest, the temperature being suitable, and the cloudless sky allowed the mellow moon-light to fall from the friend of the nocturnal travellers, who were arrayed in white, on the grassy lawns and down through the young growth of foliage in such beauty until one's eyes naturally were uplifted to view the source, accompanied by one star—which made all to feel, especially the old bachelors, "I wish I too had a companion." But then the other side of the question cannot be disposed of so easy. The programme was music and conversation and was kept up until every one felt there was no place like home. Miss Annie, or now Mrs. Moore, is the second daughter of Mrs. David Payne, and is much respected by all who are thoroughly acquainted with her. The bride was dressed in brown satin and was supported by her sister. Many valuable presents were given amounting to about 120 or 130 dollars. We will allow some one else to speak of Mr. J. B. Moore as we are not acquainted with him, but trust all he was lacking was a wife and is now living in prefection. Some one may say Dummer has lost a girl, but don't fret, we expect interest at 100 per cent in the near future with principal too.

PLUCKED IN HIS BLOOM.—We have to regret the death of Thos. Hawthorne, one of our finest young men, who died on the 15th inst. after a few month's sickness. He has been a teacher and student and was in good standing as a teacher. His life was an exemplary one and he was loved and respected by all in this locality. His remains were followed by about eighty vehicles to the Warsaw cemetery. He said in his last hours, "It is religion that can give sweetest pleasures while we live, and 'tis religion that can supply solid comfort when we die." When asked about his suffering he said, "I can bear all things through God who strengtheneth me." You see he had something to hold to. His friends have our warmest sympathy.

CROPS.—The crops are looking well in this locality.

AWAY WEST.—Alfred Payne, Mr. Jos. Payne's eldest son, is expected home again soon. He has been visiting out through western Ontario.

FASHION NOTES.

Jet has gone out of fashion.

Irish poplins are coming into favor.

Parasol handles have grown ridiculously long.

Russian leather has been skillfully imitated.

Sailor hats are only in use for yachting excursions.

About one lady in every six has her hair dressed low.

Tan, blue, gray and black are the favorite colors for socks.

Fashion in dress is governed by individuality this season.

Some of the new spring hats are like small flower gardens.

Gentlemen who ride horseback wear black melton cutaway coats.

"Pattern" dresses in wool and other materials find great favor.

Ladies who are wise never touch the hair with the curling tongs.

Green and gray are decidedly the reigning colors of the season.

There are more elegance in simplicity than in all the furbelows in creation.

It is no longer considered a part of a girl's education to have her ears pierced.

There is a summer airiness about lace hats that is decidedly in their favor.

There are many imitators of the Marguerite style of dress at the present time.

A ruching of fringed-out silk is the principal trimming for summer silk dresses.

Medici collars are likely to take the place of the straight high collars so long worn.

Silver-lined cooking utensils are taking the place of those made of copper and brass.

Fashionable ladies indulge in sweet-scented note paper, but their taste is questionable.

Artificial poppies are to be had in any color desired. Such are the modern improvements on nature.

White summer gowns for morning wear are as fashionable as they were in the time of Marie Antoinette.

Now that the season's fashions have been settled the discovery is made that some of the bonnets are as high as ever.

The round waists of the simple gowns now worn show but one seam, but the lining is as perfectly fitted as the art of dressmaking can devise.

For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Price 25 cents. S. C. Wells & Co., Proprietors, LeRoy, N.Y.

WOMEN AND MICE.

The reason why a woman is afraid of a mouse is a profound mystery—indeed, it has never been very clearly proven that she is. But some women are constantly in such a nervous, irritable condition that the slightest thing annoys and startles them. The cause of this unfortunate state of affairs is usually some functional derangement; some distressing or painful irregularity, some derangement or peculiar weakness incident to her sex; or, it may be due to inflammation, ulceration or displacement, of some of the pelvic viscera, or to other organic lesions peculiar to her sex. From whichever cause it may arise, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a positive remedy, so certain in its curative results that its manufacturers sell it, through druggists, under a guarantee of its giving satisfaction in every case, or money paid for it will be promptly refunded. As a soothing and strengthening nervine, "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, exhaustion, prostration, hysteria, spasms and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the womb. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

ATTRACTION

—AT—

TURNBULL'S

The first month of summer is an interesting period to the retail buyer. Keep your eye on this column, it's newsy. Each week things will appear that are the month passes will likely make you richer for the reading.

There is scarcely a weak spot in our Trimmed Millinery yet. The latest hat kind are turning up their pretty faces every day and all the time floods of freshness and brightness keep pouring in new goods constantly. That job line of Untrimmed Hats we spoke of last week is what pleases everybody, variety and prices being right. This week we have placed on our Dress Goods counter a dozen pieces of Fancy Dress Cloths at fifteen cents a yard. The only reason we can conceive that these goods have not sold earlier at higher prices is that they were too new. They ought to, and no doubt will, go out very fast now. Attention is called to them. Shanting Pongee, the dustless kind. You know how the heathen Chinee crams dust into the common run of Pongee; he does not do it to the Shanting—Pure Silk and clean. These goods make up beautiful with our fine Henriettas.

In the Tweed Department we have a fine line of Halifax Tweeds that handle soft and fleecy, just as they ought to handle.—Sale price 35 cents.

We expect to-morrow's train to bring us in a large shipment of Corsets. We keep what our judgment says is the best make in the trade. We see representatives from all the factories. Our 50c. Corsets, we believe, are the best shown in Peterborough for years.

We have been able to repeat that line of Ladies Black Hose, heavy weight, at 15c. a pair. Those who have had these goods will be glad to hear they can get them again now.

Pink is the favorite color in Chambrays this season again. A fresh lot just arrived.

We keep suits for boys and small boys either with or without trimmings, at all prices. Before you buy see them.

KINGSTON EXCITED.

REPORTED CONSPIRACY AT THE PENITENTIARY.

All Sorts of Rumors Afloat – Troops From A Battery Called Out – What the Warden Says.

KINGSTON, June 22.—This morning a rumor flew about the city to the effect that a conspiracy to attempt an outbreak was discovered in the penitentiary last evening and that one of the convicts having made a confession in secret to the warden A Battery was called out during the night so that everything would be in readiness for an emergency. It was ascertained for a fact that a detachment of soldiers did go to the penitentiary during the night.

This morning a reporter called on Warden Lavelle at the penitentiary. He was in his office with Sir John Thompson, Minister of Justice, who was taking statements from several convicts who had expressed a desire to see him in order to get him to take interest in their cases. The reporter sent in a note stating that there was quite a commotion in the city over the rumored attempt at an outbreak on the part of the prisoners, and that an interview was desired. The warden appeared with his face wreathed in smiles, and explained that there was not the slightest cause for alarm, that the convicts were all safe and that everything was as it should be.

To the question, "What about the conspiracy?" he said he had nothing to say—not a word; but that in a day or two he would give full particulars for publication.

"Was there a conspiracy?" he was asked, when he replied that he had made up his mind to withhold all facts until after Sir John Thompson went away.

Several residents of the village of Portsmouth who were spoken to were all of the opinion that a gigantic conspiracy had been nipped in the bud and the village which lies adjacent to the penitentiary had narrowly escaped being overrun by a horde of criminals.

The batterymen were still in the penitentiary this afternoon.

There are all sorts of rumors afloat. Some say that a plot to blow up the prison was discovered, while others say the soldiers are in hiding to await an émeute, which is about to occur.

Another Account.

KINGSTON, June 23.—Warden Lavell, hearing that an insurrection was on the tapis in the penitentiary, took precautionary measures on Saturday to stop it should it occur. At 2 a.m. fifty men of A Battery were sent to the prison and were concealed for eighteen hours. In the meantime the convicts became suspicious that the plot had been discovered and the attempt at seizing and tieing the officers and then bombarding the gates fell through.

Remodelling the Prison.

KINGSTON, June 23.—Sir John Thompson's visit to the penitentiary is in connection with the scheme for remodelling that institution. It is the intention to introduce a system of classification by which old criminals will be separated from those who do not belong to the hardened class. At present the convicts are worked in gangs and all classes are mixed up.

Work has already been commenced on building cells which are to be considerably larger than those now in use, so that the convicts may work in their own cells. When the work is completed all the cells in the central dome will be transformed.

INCREASING ARMAMENTS.

Emperor Francis Joseph Says the Situation is Not Without Danger.

VIENNA, June 22.—Emperor Francis Joseph, in receiving the Delegations yesterday, said Austria's foreign relations and general foreign policy were unchanged and she was in full agreement with her allies. The Government was doing its utmost to insure the peaceful development of the European situation, which was still unsafe. He hoped the blessing of peace would be maintained notwithstanding that armaments were everywhere being increased. It was this increase of armament that compelled Austria not to halt in the work of completing means for defence.

Regarding Servia, the Emperor said Milan's regrettable action had given power, during the minority of his son, to a regency. The Government had received from the Regents formal assurances that friendly relations with Austria would be maintained. He continued:

"I wish the name and hope the wisdom and patriotism of the Servians will protect Servia from serious dangers. I rejoice that order and peace reign in Bulgaria and am pleased at her continual progress in spite of the difficult situation."

The Emperor said the special credits asked would be devoted to strengthening the army.

Business on the Bourses.

LONDON, June 22.—During the past week the Stock Exchange recovered its tone. Business, however, was very limited. American railroad securities were inactive and dull during the greater part of the week. The market closed more active.

On the Paris Bourse business was active and prices showed a rising tendency.

Business on the Berlin Bourse early in the week was very flat but it closed better.

On the Vienna Bourse during the week prices were irregular.

At Frankfort prices were firm.

It pays to advertise in the REVIEW.

BURKE, COONEY, COUGHLIN

BELIEVED TO BE THE MEN WHO BUTCHERED CRONIN.

O'Sullivan Anxious to Make a Full Confession—Has Burke "Squealed" to Chief McRae of Winnipeg?

CHICAGO, June 22.—The Chief of Police breathes freer now that Burke has been positively identified at Winnipeg by Martensen, and says: "For the first time I can see my way clearly. All I wanted was the capture of one of the principals. There will be a 'squealer' now because we are in a position to do without one. O'Sullivan wants to tell all he knows, and we will give him the opportunity very shortly. The evidence we have shows that Burke was one of the actual murderers, but I will not give the evidence away to the public yet."

In Burke the police have the man who rented the cottage. Burke is "Frank Williams" and Cooney is his "brother." Burke made Chicago-avenue and Market-street his loafing place, and Martensen saw him several times after he hauled the furniture for him to the Carlson cottage. Burke's intimacy with Dan Coughlin is well known, and has been established. Woodruff's part in the job has also been fixed. The part played by O'Sullivan was a passive one. The police think Burke, Cooney and Coughlin were the men who killed Cronin, though the third man may have been another than Coughlin. If not Coughlin he was another member of the famous Market-street gang which had so much to do with the management of Camp No. 20, and in which Coughlin was so influential.

As to who hired the bravos who did the killing the police are rather in the dark. It will be easier to convict the murderers than the instigators of the plot.

It is said that the police have recovered the lost clue to the movements of Patrick Cooney, supposed to be J. Simonds, who bought the furniture for the Carlson cottage. It is given out that the police expect to capture Cooney positively within a few hours. Lieut. Elliott believes Burke was concerned in a murder previous to the murder of Cronin.

Frank Woodruff has commenced a suit for $19,500 damages for libel against the proprietor of a dime museum who has on exhibition a wax "figger" of the horse thief as one of the accomplices in the Cronin murder.

A special from Winnipeg reports Chief of Police McRae as saying: "There is no doubt in my mind that Burke was used as a tool by the gang who planned the Cronin murder, and that he is really the one who committed the deed. Burke was so thoroughly scared when arrested that I verily believe if I had chosen to pump him I could have got a complete confession."

"I suppose he did tell you something important," was suggested.

"I don't wish to answer that question. I will doubtless be called upon to give my evidence in court."

The chief further said: "The Chicago police know exactly what is wanted and will send all the evidence required. I have no doubt about Burke's extradition."

There was a rumor afloat last night to the effect that seven members of the executive committee of the United Brotherhood were in town and that an executive meeting was to be held in which some line of action in regard to the Cronin mystery was to be settled upon. Luke Dillon would neither corroborate nor deny this rumor, though after considerable pressing he finally stated that there were only four members of the executive committee in the city at present. They could not hold an executive session, for the obvious reason that five of the nine members constitute a quorum. Contrary to expectations Capt. Condon did not arrive until late yesterday afternoon. He has taken up his quarters with Luke Dillon at McCoy's Hotel and will probably remain here for some time. The captain declines to be interviewed.

"A cablegram from the solicitor of The London Times," says The Daily News, "was received at the office of Attorney Frank Collier to-day. It requested him to procure as soon as possible, a certified copy of the evidence taken by the coroner in the Cronin inquest. The evidence makes 1100 pages in typewriter print and the copy, which will be made next week, will cost $250. For what purpose The Times wants the evidence is not known. Mr. Collier is now on his way to England."

Michael Walsh, a plumber who has been working at Joliet, and who knew Burke, the Winnipeg suspect, in Chicago, was arrested to-day. Burke, it is reported, turned up in Joliet the day after the tragedy and remained with Walsh practically penniless until June 9, when it is thought a money order came to Burke from Chicago. It is supposed the police arrested Walsh in order to secure information from him regarding Burke.

Information extracted from Walsh, while worth having, did not afford the rich leads for which the police hoped and he has been released.

BURKE IS MUM.

His Counsel Preparing to Make a Big Fight Against Extradition.

WINNIPEG, June 23.—Notwithstanding sensational despatches appearing in American papers there is absolutely nothing new in the Burke case. The prisoner has not unbosomed himself even to his counsel, Perdue and Campbell, who are preparing to make a big fight for his defence. An eminent attorney from Chicago is expected to aid Mr. Howell, Q.C., in the prosecution, but it is doubtful if the case will be ready for Wednesday and another remand will probably be asked for.

Detectives Broderick and Collins, with the witness Martensen, had a long interview with Mr. Howell yesterday, the result of which is of course unobtainable.

The general impression is that Burke, even if the actual murderer, was a mere tool in the hands of other men and that before long their connection with the murder will be established.

A long and tedious legal fight may be expected which may possibly last a month or more.

Crime and the Clan-na-Gael.

LONDON, June 24.—A Rome despatch to The Standard says: Archbishop Feehan of Chicago having made a long report to the Vatican through Cardinal Simeoni on the criminal acts of the Clan-na-Gael, the Pope has given instructions that the faculty be granted the Archbishop to take whatever measures he may deem opportune to declare the Clan-na-Gael in opposition to the church.

Wheat in Illinois.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 22.—The State Board of Agriculture estimates that the wheat crop will not average more than 12 bushels per acre, making the total yield of the Illinois crop 28,[illegible],370 bushels. The quality is fully up to the average. The exceedingly dry weather of April and the first half of May depreciated the condition of the growing crop about 10 per cent. The damage from the corn plant louse, which caused so much alarm in Southern counties, has not been serious.

A Hamilton Kissing Case.

HAMILTON, June 22.—At the Police Court to-day Henry Halford was charged by Rosa Wolfe with assault. The defendant, a barber, it is alleged, kissed the complainant, a girl of 9 or 10 years. The case was adjourned till Monday.

SIX WERE DROWNED.

A Batteau Swept Over the Falls in the St. Maurice River.

THREE RIVERS, Que., June 22.—At noon to-day, while a batteau loaded with passengers and freight was crossing the St. Maurice River at the Grand Piles Railway station, Grand Piles, the strong wind and current, against which the rowers were unable to make headway, drove the batteau down stream and over the falls at that place. One man leaped out of the batteau into a bark canoe which was towed behind. Another clung to a rock and both were saved but Joseph Rivard and his two children, George Harnetic of St. Etienne, B. Bellerive and Miss Bellerive were drowned. The bodies of Joseph Rivard and Miss Bellerive were recovered, but none of the others have as yet been found. The cries of the terrified passengers were heartrending, but no assistance was possible in the boiling waters.

Two Men Drowned.

QUEBEC, June 22.—Two men named Bertrand and Leblonde were drowned yesterday while fishing in River St. Henri by the upsetting of their canoe. Bertrand was postmaster at Levis and Leblonde was a commercial traveler for Garneau & Son of this city.

A COAL COMBINE.

Rumors That a Great Trust is in Process of Formation.

NEW YORK, June 22.—Rumors that a gigantic coal trust is in process of formation stirred up Wall-street yesterday and were generally regarded as not at all improbable. Some brokers said that an English syndicate had been formed to buy up all the coal companies and to guarantee individual operators who would join the trust a profit of 25 cents a ton on all the coal mined. Another report is that the alleged syndicate was entirely American and that Austin Corbin and Sam Sloan are back of it. At the offices of the various coal roads nobody could be found who was willing to talk about the proposed coal trust. It is believed that the efforts which are now being made to break the Reading voting trust are inspired by the syndicate, who can better carry their plan into effect with the Reading shares scattered. It would take an immense capital to carry out the scheme. The market value of the stocks of the great coal roads and mining companies is $186,000,000. The companies which it would be necessary to have in the trust are the Reading, Lehigh Valley, Jersey Central, Lackawanna, Delaware and Hudson, Pennsylvania and Lehigh Navigation.

THE AMERICAN DERBY.

Spokane Pulls off the $15,000 at Chicago—Proctor Knott Unplaced.

CHICAGO, June 22.—Seven horses ran to-day in the American Derby for three-year-olds out of 147 originally nominated. The contest was witnessed by 40,000 people, and nearly $1,000,000 changed hands on the event. Sorrento was first on the track with Taral in the saddle. Then Proctor Knott with Fitzpatrick appeared, and was followed by Long Dance (Barnes), Don Jose (Winchell), Retrieve (J. Lewis) and Once Again (Murphy). Last came Spokane, whom Tom Kiley allowed to lope past the cheering crowd to the post. During the three breakaways Proctor Knott broke away in front each time. When the flag fell Once Again was in front, followed by Sorrento, Don Jose, Proctor Knott, Long Dance, Retrieve and Spokane in the order named. The "dare devil" immediately plied the whip and Knott shot ahead like a flash, Once Again being taken back by Murphy. Past the clubhouse Knott lost some of his lead and as the seven horses raced passed the three-quarter pole Sorrento was one and one-half length behind the leader and one-third that distance better than Don Jose. Then, as Fitzpatrick let out a link, all moved up and the pace became more desperate. When the half-mile mark fell behind there was just daylight between Knott and Retrieve who had come up in the rush while Don Jose was still third and Spokane fourth, Long Dance and Once Again being practically out of the chase. Sorrento, who had been running easily second all along was cut off on the great turn, and while making for the stretch was actually last. Then Taral pulled the Californian to the outside and making up lost ground flew to the leaders so rapidly that his backers trembled with joy.

As the home stretch was touched he was second again to Proctor Knott, but there the Futurity winner gave out and there Spokane made his run. So fast did the Montana colt come that rushing past the last quarter he was actually leading, while Knott had already fallen into third place, Retrieve dividing the pair. Again Sorrento advanced gamely, but though stronger than those behind could not disturb Spokane, who came away under Kiley's upraised hand, but without tasting whip or spur, and won very easily by a full length. Sorrento was second, a length before Retrieve, followed by Don Jose, Long Dance, Once Again, and Proctor Knott.

So much money came down from the northwest that Spokane went to the post as heavy favorite at 6 to 5. The closing odds on Knott were 2 to 1, Spokane 4 to 1, Once Again 6 to 1, Sorrento 8 to 1, Long Dance and Retrieve 20 to 1 each. The other winners were Marchina, Penn P., Redlight and Donovan.

ENGLISH SPORTS BACKING SEARLE.

The Australian Already Training on the Thames for His Race with O'Connor.

NEW YORK, June 23.—A World's despatch from London says: Searle, the Australian champion sculler, is already training on the Thames for his match against O'Connor. He is a big, powerful looking fellow. Sporting men here like his appearance so well that they are backing him heavily to win. Searle came to The World office to-day, and wanted to find out what the American papers had been saying about O'Connor. He said: "I do not underrate his abilities in the least. From all I can learn he is a first-class sculler; but I have made up my mind to beat him, and I think I shall be able to do it, barring accidents. I feel very strong now, and think I shall row faster on the Thames than ever I have done in Australia."

Russian Encroachments.

SHANGHAI, June 23.—Russia has occupied Deer Island in Corea as a coaling and naval depot. There is a Russian man-of-war there and nobody is allowed to land or leave without a permit from the admiral. The possession of the island gives Russia great advantage over England.

THE LATEST WAR SCARE.

NOTHING UNUSUALLY SERIOUS IN THE BALKAN SITUATION.

Mr. Balfour's Speech—Discussing Home Rule Plans—Society at Ascot—A Tumultuous Girl.

LONDON, June 22.—There has been some loud talk about war this week, as there was last week, but the situation is probably no more serious than usual. Servian troubles become acute for a moment, then subside into the usual state of chronic inflammation. Russian intrigues continue, and Austrian counter-intrigues continue. Whether a military convention between Servia and Russia has been signed, whether Russia thinks that the time for an outbreak in Servia has arrived, whether Austria has sent a firm despatch to St. Petersburg—all these are questions on which evidence is conflicting. The scare, if scare there were, is on the whole dying away. Nor is there anything in the dispute between Germany and Switzerland about the right of asylum which is likely to go beyond diplomatic remonstrances.

Mr. Balfour's speech has made an impression on those English Home Rulers who do their thinking for themselves instead of accepting the cut-and-dried results to the loose thinking of other people. The Manchester Guardian is one of these. There is no stronger advocate for Home Rule for Ireland, but it must be a reasoned and reasonable Home Rule. It declines to follow the newest federal fad. The conditions of successful federation do not exist in these islands, says that journal, and even if they did exist, a federal form of government would be anything but desirable for a country which is in the near neighborhood of the great military States and which has an empire to govern. "We are willing and anxious," proceeds The Guardian, "to do a good deal for Ireland, but not to put the British Constitution into the melting pot. However this Irish question be settled, there is one thing that must survive its settlement, and that is the House of Commons."

The Guardian admits, nevertheless, that the next Home Rule bill must keep the Irish members at Westminster. Their presence will logically involve the acceptance of one of two theories, Federal Home Rule or Colonial Home Rule. The former is impossible, the latter is impracticable. The Guardian escapes from this dilemma in a truly English way. Logic is nothing. "Try the experiment, since we must, of keeping the Irish, letting them vote not on Imperial affairs only, but on anything they like. Perhaps it might not work so badly after all," sighs our English Home-Ruler.

Such are the straits to which Mr. Balfour has all at once reduced the most thoughtful of English Home Rule journals. Such evidence is the more significant because it comes from one of those provincial journals to which Mr. Gladstone has so often appealed as affording a true index to public opinion. It is, moreover, in justification of Mr. Gladstone's original Home Rule scheme, which banished the Irish members from Westminster. Mr. Gladstone undoubtedly believes his original scheme to be sound. The opposition of his own party drove him to abandon it, but he abandoned it reluctantly and after long hesitation, and he would probably return to it with joy. A few such articles as this might well produce a revulsion in the party and restore to Mr. Gladstone that free hand which he has not lately had. So should Mr. Balfour prove to him a blessing in disguise.

The Prince of Wales and the press between them have run to earth that London leper whose existence the Prince affirmed and some doubted. His name is Edward Foxall and he is a meat hawker at the Central Market. He was hawking and handling meat so lately as last Wednesday, but is now detained for treatment at the Whitechapel Infirmary.

The majesty of the law has been vindicated by a rule nisi from the Queen's Bench ordering Mr. Bridge, a police magistrate, to show cause why he should not hear and determine a summons against the Duke of Cambridge for assault on Mr. Sims, a journalist.

Half, or more than half, of the London world has been at Ascot all this week. Society has camped out on Ascot Heath, and will to some extent stay there through next week on account of the Royal Agricultural Show at Windsor. This show is one in which the Queen takes an interest, although herself at Balmoral, wherefore it will be thronged by the world of fashion as well as by the world in general. Ascot by common consent, has seen a more crowded week than ever before.

Next week, however, London gayeties recommence in spite of Windsor. It is London's last free week before the arrival of the Shah. London's everything is done for that potentate which policy or politics can suggest. Public and private pageants in his honor fill every day and hour. Yet his coming is dreaded privately to a degree of which the papers will give you no hint. His personal habits, and still more the personal habits of his followers, are such that his entertainment involves both sacrifices and risks. Sir Henry Wolff, the British Minister to Persia, will have him in charge. Sir Henry is credited with the responsibility for this present European journey. He it was who advised it, say his friends, thinking that the Shah needed once more to be impressed with the military power of England. Yet at St. Petersburg they think that they have filled His Majesty's mind with wholesome prejudices against England, and expect him to revisit the Russian capital on his return journey.

Mrs. Chanler has again attracted the attention of The Saturday Review, which continues to call her Miss Amelie Rives. She has been denounced in America, observes her present critic, with superfluity of seriousness. To The Saturday she seems what another American young lady seemed to Wordsworth, a tumultuous girl, and her books by no means without promise.

Lord Tennyson's protest against the sale of his manuscripts comes too late. He had every opportunity to stop the sale by an injunction, but elected to let it go on. There were legal difficulties. The moral force of his protest is, however, considerable, sustained as it is by the general opinion that legal title to such documents gives no moral right to publish or sell them against the author's wish. Another Erie Canal Break.

ALBANY, June 22.—A special to The Express from Tribe's Hill says that late this afternoon a break occurred in the Erie Canal on the heel path just west of Schoharie Creek, on the 14 mile level, at Fort Hunter. The water was drawn down several feet and navigation suspended. A large force of laborers is at work. Nearly 50 feet of the bank has gone out.

The Army Worm in Northern Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 22.—The army worm has made its appearance in Elkhart County and is going through the wheat, rye and oats at an astonishing rate. Farmers are much wrought up over its work.

Two Were Killed.

SYDNEY, N.S.W., June 22.—A late despatch from Newcastle says all the miners imprisoned in the pit except two were rescued. The two bodies were recovered.

A Big Blaze at Bradford.

LONDON, June 22.—A portion of the Manningham mills at Bradford was burned to-day. Loss £50,000. Two firemen were killed by falling debris. Several firemen and workmen were injured.

The Old Doctors

Drew blood, modern doctors cleanse it; hence the increased demand for Alteratives. It is now well known that most diseases are due, not to over-abundance, but to impurity, of the Blood; and it is equally well attested that no blood medicine is so efficacious as Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

"One of my children had a large sore break out on the leg. We applied simple remedies, for a while, thinking the sore would shortly heal. But it grew worse. We sought medical advice, and were told that an alterative medicine was necessary. Ayer's Sarsaparilla being above all others, we used it with marvelous results. The sore healed and health and strength rapidly returned." — J. J. Armstrong, Weimar, Texas.

"I find Ayer's Sarsaparilla to be an admirable remedy for the cure of blood diseases. I prescribe it, and it does the work every time." — E. L. Pater, M. D., Manhattan, Kansas.

"We have sold Ayer's Sarsaparilla here for over thirty years and always recommend it when asked to name the best blood-purifier." — W. T. McLean, Druggist, Augusta, Ohio.

VALUATORS APPOINTED FOR COUNTY ASSESSMENT.

Grants to the Riding Agricultural Societies —No High School Special Grants—The Reports of Committees.

FINANCE.

Mr. KIDD presented the following report of the Finance Committee:—

The Committee on Finance beg leave to report as follows:—

1. Your Committee acknowledge receipt of $19.21, amount of jury fees collected by the Clerk of the First Division Court, Peterborough, up to January, 1889, and recommend that the County Clerk be instructed to take proceedings to collect arrears of jury fees from the former clerk of that Court. 2. That the account of Mr. M. Sheris be paid as soon as the County Solicitor satisfies the County Clerk of the legal liability of the county to pay for the same. 3. That the account of the County Solicitor in the matter of Victoria vs. Peterborough be paid when certified by the taxing officer. 4. That no action be taken with reference to the application of the West Peterborough Agricultural Society for a grant. 5. That the matter of the sale of the debentures be left in the hands of the Warden, the County Treasurer and Mr. Henderson. 6. That the rate for the coming year for County purposes be 2¼ mills on the $ on the equalized value of property. 7. Your Committee recommend that the payments $3465.70, made by the Treasurer as per the annexed schedule, be confirmed. 8. Your Committee recommend that the following accounts be paid:—

All of which is respectfully submitted.

A. R. KIDD,
Chairman.

Peterborough, June 22nd, 1889.

The report was adopted.

Mr. KIDD moved in amendment seconded by Mr. MOORE,—That clause four be amended by granting $200 to the East Peterborough Agricultural Society and $200 to the West Peterborough Agricultural Society.

This amendment was carried in the following division:—

YEAS.—Messrs Moore, Burnham, Crowe, Harrison, Shaw, Wilson, Kidd, Finlay, Forster, Elmhirst, Wright.—11.

NAYS.—Messrs Moloney, Garbutt, Crough, Casement, Stewart, Henderson, Anderson and Middleton.—8.

Mr. Finlay moved, seconded by Mr. HARRISON,—That the report be referred back to insert a grant of $200 to the Norwood High School.

Mr. KIDD said he was opposed to grants to High Schools on principle, but the pupils from the county attending this school were not charged and the Board needed help. He would vote that those who attended should pay a fee, but the Board was in an embarrassed position, this was their school and they should give them help this time. The High School district was a small one and it had become burdensome on the people there.

Mr. WILSON said he had gone out to see Norwood and was agreeably surprised to see such a fine village. He would like to know how much the Board was behind.

Mr. KIDD said about $1,200.

Mr. BURNHAM said as Mr. Kidd had said he would vote against such grants in the future, he thought they might commence now. He had supported grants to the High Schools, but they had submitted the question and the decision was that they would not give such grants. The Norwood High School got $800, and the Peterborough school, which was of as great benefit to the country, received nothing.

The amendment was lost in the following division:—

YEAS—Messrs. Moore, Harrison, Casement, Crowe, Kidd and Finlay—6.

NAYS—Messrs. Moloney, Garbutt, Burnham, Shaw, Crough, Wilson, Elmhurst, Wright, Anderson, Middleton, Henderson, Stewart and Foster—13.

The report was then adopted.

BY-LAWS.

A by-law to raise $2,461 for school purposes was passed and by-laws to confirm the reports of the different committees. Also a by-law to raise $[illegible] for county purposes.

VALUATION.

The WARDEN appointed Messrs. Moloney, Burnham, Kidd, Stewart and Henderson a committee on the valuation to instruct the valuators.

The Council then adjourned.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

You can never know till you try, how quickly a dose of Ayer's Pills will cure your sick headache. Your stomach and bowels need cleansing, and these pills will accomplish it more effectually and comfortably than any other medicine you can find.

The Railway Suit.

At Osgoode Hall on Saturday in the Queen's Bench Division, before Falconbridge J., and Street J., judgment was given in the following appeal case which is of local interest. The Empire says:—Fitzgerald v. Midland R.W. Co.—Judgment on appeal from the judgment of Robertson, J., in favor of plaintiff for damages to plaintiff's land in the town of Peterborough by reason of the highway in front of it being raised for the purpose of the defendants' railway. The defendants appealed on the ground that the work complained of was done by the Peterborough and Chemong R.W. Co., and not by the defendants. The court was of opinion that there was nothing in the evidence to induce the opinion that the work was not done by the G.T.R. Co., and therefore dismissed with costs, as against the defendants the G.T.R. Co.; but, as there was nothing to connect the defendants the Midland R.W. Co. with the matter, as to their appeal allowed and action dismissed with costs. W. Cassels, Q.C., for the defendants. E. B. Edwards (Peterborough) for plaintiff.

'A Spring Message'

From the New Firm of

H. LeBRUN
& CO.

Sign of the Golden Horse-shoe.

The people of Peterborough and vicinity are all aware of the business change which took place in the CITY CLOTHING STORE on the first day of February last. The new firm beg leave to make their first bow to the public through the columns of the REVIEW, and to request a careful perusal of the following Spring and Summer circular:—

The City Clothing Store

in past years, by long experience in business, by buying always for spot cash, importing direct from the principal houses of the old country and from the leading houses of Canada, and by strict economy in conducting its business, has always been able to force prices down to an exceedingly fine point. The members of which the new firm is composed will form a still stronger "combine," by which the CITY CLOTHING STORE will be even better prepared to procure for its customers a continuation of those superior inducements in the future for which it has been noted in the past.

Men's Clothing.

The magnitude of our stock and lowness of prices gives us a great advantage over all other competitors in the trade. We carry in stock all the fast selling lines, styles and patterns, and can fit the tall, the short, the fat and the lean. MORE SUITS, BETTER FABRICS, FINER STYLES than were ever handled before.

Special values in FINE SPRING OVERCOATS, and FINE SPRING and SUMMER SUITS. Don't fail to see them. The superb styles, workmanship, and the beautiful fabrics and patterns that we offer will surprise you.

Merchant Tailoring.

To select from the largest assortment is an advantage we offer to our customers, backed up by the skill of experienced cutters and tailors. Besides perfect fit and first-class trimmings, we guarantee absolutely first-class workmanship.

Boys' and Youths' Clothing.

Clothing for the little ones—boys and children—has always been a specialty with us. We have always sought to give great values in this department, and to provide a larger and finer variety of goods for parents to select from than they could find elsewhere.

This means that we are showing a large assortment of BOYS' and CHILDREN'S SUITS, BOYS' and CHILDREN'S BLOUSES, SHIRT WAISTS, PANTS, &c.

This spring there are an unusual number of new and nobby styles and an enlarged variety of fabrics and patterns. Be sure and see our stock.

Gents' Furnishings.

Gentlemen of Peterborough seeking the latest styles and best values for their money, as well as an opportunity of selecting from the largest stock of Furnishing Goods, should not fail to visit this department at once. We offer the finest, best selected and the largest assortment of NECKWEAR, HOSIERY, UNDERWEAR, GLOVES, SHIRTS, HANDKERCHIEFS, etc., to be found in any first-class establishment.

Personal.

The Rev. C. B. Kenrick, of St. John's, left town last night on the C. P. R. express for his summer vacation. He proposes visiting friends at St. John's, N.B. From Montreal the greater part of his journey will be by water, he having chosen the Gulf of St. Lawrence route for the sake of the sea air The rev. gentleman will return in a month's time and take charge of the parish while Rev. J. C. Davidson has his holidays.

The R. C. Cemetery to be Beautified.

The Roman Catholic cemetery has not been as well looked after in the past as many would like, and as a consequence the congregation of St. Peter's Cathedral have decided to take immediate steps to have the last resting place of their departed friends placed in a better condition generally. A caretaker will be appointed, who will have as his sole duty the superintending of the grounds and making such changes as will add to the beauty and appearance of the necropolis. A committee has been appointed to take the matter in hand, which consists of Messrs. Thos. Kelly, Thos. Cahill, John Doherty, Chas. Leonard (secretary), Geo. Ball, N. T. Laplante, John Kelly, James Hanlon. The caretaker will be appointed at once and the cemetery will be a changed place, as far as appearance is concerned, in the near future.

For hot weather the "Montserrat" Lime-Fruit Juice, diluted and sweetened to the taste, is a delightful and healthful drink.

A Young Wife's Death.

Referring to the death of Mrs. B. G. Ostrom, of Ashburnham, who recently came to that place where her husband has opened a grocery store in the old office of Mulhern's mills on Elizabeth-st. and who formerly resided in Belleville, the Belleville Intelligencer of Saturday says:—"We regret to learn that Emma, wife of B. G. Ostrom and the only daughter of Wm. A. Stoneburg, formerly of this city, died at Ashburnham yesterday morning. Mrs. Ostrom, who was aged but 22 years, 8 months and 6 days, will be regretted by many friends here. We tender our sympathy to the bereaved husband and parents. The funeral took place to-ay, the remains being conveyed here from the Grand Trunk depot to the cemetery."

Y.M.C.A. Notes.

Our Saturday night meeting was well attended, the addresses by Messrs. Armstrong and Wallbrooke were very helpful and instructive.

The Beginner's Bible Class was a season of refreshing on Sunday morning.

Last evening Rev. J. A. K. Walker, who is about to leave for India as a missionary, gave an earnest address on "Power for Service," which was listened to with much profit by all present.

A garden party by the Ladies' Auxiliary will be held, D. V., to-night at Mrs. Joseph Dixon's, Smithtown Hill. Busses leave the Y. M. C. A. rooms every 15 minutes after 7 p. m.—Com.

In the Wrong House.

Early Sunday morning a little excitement occurred in the western portion of the town, by which a family living on Downie-st. were disturbed in their night's rest, and so were some of the neighbors. The lady of the family with one of her daughters sleeps in a bedroom down-stairs in the front of the house, and between one and two o'clock yesterday morning the two ladies were horrified upon awakening to find two men standing in the hall, which was dimly lighted by the hanging lamp which is left burning all night. One of the men was heard to remark to the other "We are in the wrong house" and when the ladies screamed the men left without taking anything with them. They had gained an entrance by forcing the front door, the noise they made in doing which probably awakened the ladies. It is a question whether the men entered the house with intent to burglarize or were a little intoxicated and made a mistake in the house. The police were summoned, but no trace of the men could be found when the officers arrived.

A New Banking Firm.

Messrs. Mulholland & Roper will open a private banking and general agency business in Peterborough about July 19th. The firm will be composed of Messrs. J. H. Roper, of town, and Robert Mulholland, of Cobourg. Mr. Roper needs no introduction to the business community of Peterborough. He has been a resident of the town for over twelve years and by his business ability and integrity received and has retained the respect and confidence of business men and the esteem of the citizens generally. Mr. Mulholland was for years a successful merchant in Cobourg, and retired from business a few years ago. He has occupied many public positions, having for many years been in the Town Council and is now chairman of the Cobourg Town Trust Commission, and he represented West Northumberland in the Ontario Legislature during the last Parliament. He is favorably known in Peterborough and is one who may be described as a good, solid man. We are pleased to learn that Mr Mulholland will become a resident of the town, as he will be an acquisition to the community. The firm has made satisfactory arrangements with the Merchants' Bank of Canada, one of the leading banks of the Dominion, by which they will be enabled to do a general banking business. Their place of business will be in the Erskine block on Hunter-st., east of McClelland's Jewelry Store, and the premises are now being fitted up with a view to convenience and comfort in carrying on a general banking and agency business. This firm will undoubtedly be welcomed and do a good business.

AMONG THE CHURCHES.

MISSIONARY ADDRESSES IN BAPTIST AND ST. PAUL'S CHURCHES.

Rev. Mr. Walker Delivers an Excellent Sermon in the Baptist Church—A Lady in St. Paul's—The Confirmation Service at St. John's—A Crowded Church—About Eighty Candidates Confirmed.

Services of a special character were held in several of the churches yesterday, missionary addresses being delivered in the Baptist and St. Paul's churches and confirmation services being held at St. John's church.

THE BAPTIST MISSIONS.

In the Baptist church Rev. J. A. K. Walker, missionary designate to the Telugus, India, occupied the pulpit at both the morning and evening services, and delivered excellent missionary sermons on each occasion. The rev. gentleman is a comparatively young man, possesses a good flow of language, but his voice is not remarkably powerful. His morning discourse was based on the words:—

"Forbidding us to speak to the Gentiles that they might be saved, to fill up their sins always,"—1 Thessolonians ii., 16.

The rev. gentleman's entire discourse had for its one theme foreign missionary work, and in opening he took for consideration the three heads or thoughts, (1) the sin of withholding the Bread of Life from the heathen; (2) the way this sin is committed, and (3) some of the incentives they had in the discharge of their duty as Christians towards the heathen. Speaking to the first of these, he said that he believed the withholding of a gospel to be a sin, because it was opposition given to the work, for, while at the present day there was not that active opposition to the sending of the Gospel to the heathen that there was in Paul's time when he preached the Gospel to the Gentiles, yet they had something very nearly approaching to that. There was an obstruction which was sufficient to bar the way and place insurmountable difficulties in the way of the spreading of the Gospel in heathendom, and that was the apathy and lethargy of many Christians. It was also a sin, he believed, to withhold the gospel, because in doing so they were not doing as much as they might in the work of accomplishing God's purpose, because it indicated a state of mind and soul not in harmony or sympathy with God's mind and soul. The life of the Saviour was the most lofty and perfect emblem of charity and He showed them that while charity began at home it did not end there, and while He was a home missionary He was a foreign missionary as well. So with all

GENUINE CHRISTIAN CHARITY AND LOVE, it only started at home and then went out to the Gentiles or heathens in every land. It was also sinful, the minister believed, because it was in God's plan for the salvation of the world that the world should be evangelized and the Gospel preached in every nation. If it was not in their plan then their plan was not in sympathy with God's, and one of the first things a Christian should do was to find out God's plan and make that their plan. It was also a sin to withhold the Gospel because it indicated a state of soul disobedient to God, for His parting words to His disciples were "Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel to every creature." This withholding seemed a sin to the preacher because it was positive robbery, for God had given the Gospel to them, not that they might confine its privileges and blessings to themselves, but had entrusted it to them for the benefit of those who had never heard the Word of God preached. They stood as debtors to the heathen world, and were threefold debtors because they had kept the Word from them so long and had sent into some of these dark and benighted lands bad and terrible habits by carrying on the liquor trade with India and the opium traffic with China, through the influence of which thousands of souls had been lost. God might, he said, look upon them as idolators and hold them responsible for the large number who were going down to death in darkness. The cry had come over from India this year to the 75,000 Baptists of this country for fifty-two men to preach the gospel, and he thought it would be a shame and disgrace if they did not send the fifty-two men wanted. It was not a question as to whether the heathen would be saved without the Word of God, but whether they (the Christians) would be saved if the heathen had not the Gospel. He thought the Bible taught that the soul was lost if not saved by a knowledge of Jesus. In concluding the preacher touched on his two last thoughts, pointing out that this sin of withholding was committed by refusing to go and preach the Gospel when they could and should go, but if they could not go they should uphold the work at home and open their hearts and purses and send others. Lastly he spoke of the encouragements they had in this work by an assured presence of God and an assured preparation. Speaking of the preparation for the work which God had made, he referred to the work in Telugus where he said the Baptists had committed to their charge three million souls, and where although the Baptist Mission was scarcely in its teens, yet they had 2100 converts, which should encourage them in the work.

Confirmation Service.

St. John's Church was far too small to accommodate the crowd of people who sought admittance last evening to be present at the Confirmation service, and scores and scores were turned away from the door, being unable to gain even standing room within. The aisles were filled with chairs and the porch was crowded with interested people who stood the whole service through. It was shortly before seven o'clock when the procession of candidates for confirmation came from the school house, entered the front door of the church and passed up the centre aisle to seats in the front. There were about eighty candidates, thirty-seven of whom were boys and men. His Lordship Bishop Sweetman, of Toronto, performed the solemn rite. After Evening Prayer, His Lordship addressed the candidates relative to the Baptismal vows which they were about to solemnly renew in their own persons. He desired rather to remind them of the past than speak of the future, for it was upon past facts their spiritual future was built. The more they realised and understood what had been done for them in the past, the more directly could they derive help for use in the future. The great fact to which this service carried them back was their admission into the Church of Christ and family of God. Following the teaching of the Bible and that of the church universal ever since Bible days, they knew that this admission to the privileges of sonship had taken place at their Baptism. Since that day they were able to approach God as their Father, being assured of His constant readiness to forgive and help them. Thus, said the Bishop, do you in that spirit approach Him to-night. You come as His repentant sons proclaiming your allegiance to Him and pleading for His gift of the Holy spirit to enable you to continue in that allegiance. At the conclusion of a most earnest and forcible address, the Bishop requested the candidates to stand and thus to answer the question of allegiance. After the prayer for the descent of the Holy spirit (which the Bishop explained had been in use in the church for fourteen hundred years), the candidates went forward by sevens for individual confirmation, a verse of the hymns "Come, Holy Ghost" and "Just as I Am," being sung as each seven advanced and returned. According to Apostolic precedent as narrated in Acts viii. the Bishop laid his hands upon the head of each candidate, at the same time solemnly pronouncing the prayer "Defend, O Lord, this thy servant," etc. During the offertory the congregation joined heartily in singing "Old Hundred," and after the Benediction the service was concluded in singing "Onward Christian Soldiers" to the inspiriting time adapted by Mr. Seward, the candidates returning in procession to the school house. The music was of a special character, appropriate to the occasion and was most excellently sustained throughout.

His Lordship left on the 8.30 train this morning for Lindsay where he holds a reception this afternoon and Confirmation this evening.

Address by a Lady.

In the afternoon at 3:30 Miss Campbell, a returned missionary from the China Inland mission, gave an address in St. Paul's church. The audience which assembled was a fair one, and was composed almost exclusively of ladies, who were apparently much interested in the address of the lady missionary. After an opening hymn and Rev. E. F. Torrance had read part of the 28th and 9th chapters of Matthew, Miss Campbell was introduced, and in a three-quarters of an hour's address she spoke in an interesting but general manner of the work in China, and urged any who might hear the call of the Master telling them to go out into the work, to respond heartily, and pointing out that they would be encouraged in the work by His promise, "Lo, I am with you alway." She also dwelt on their duty as Christians in helping in the work, either personally or with their means, and related several incidents or experiences in missionary life, showing the success which attended the labors of those who went out, no matter from what position in life they were called. A closing hymn and the benediction brought the meeting to a close.

Church Notes.

Rev. W. C. Bradshaw officiated at both the morning and evening services at St. Luke's yesterday, and, needless to say, his congregation listened with pleasure to their esteemed pastor after his lengthy absence abroad.

The Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor of St. Paul's church will meet at half past seven to-night.

The Y. P. C. A. of the George-st. church meets this evening.

The Pastor's "At Home" at the George-st. parsonage will be held to-morrow evening.

SAVED.—A fine family of children were all afflicted with scrofula. Two died early; the rest would soon have followed, but for the timely and persevering use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which built them up into a healthy and vigorous manhood.

A Baseball Match.

On Saturday evening the Athletics and Association baseball clubs played a friendly game of baseball on the P.A.A.A grounds, which resulted in a victory for the latter. Only five innings were played, as darkness then made it necessary to call the game. The game was a better one than the score would lead a person to believe, as three of the runs of the Athletics were scored on an error at the home plate, when a man was running home and Pearson fielded the ball to Callahan who held it, but but the runner knocked the ball from Callahan's hand. The umpire called the runner safe, and in the disturbance two other men scored. The Association scored a good many unearned runs, but on the whole the game was a good one. Pearson and Callahan did the battery work for the Association team, and the latter did good work. Taber and Hazard were in the points for the Athletics, and the former was not hit hard that was not well supported at times. The score was as follows:—

The Daily Review.

MONDAY, JUNE 24 1889.

HER LIFE FOR HIS.

The demand was interpreted.

"Tell him we'll do no such thing."

The Accra men's countenances fell, and Khamis looked vicious.

"Tell him Englishmen don't make slaves, and they don't allow others to make them, and he shan't have her. Why, we wouldn't treat a dog that way. It's—why, it's a confounded shame!"

"He says if Bwana no send back, Suleman bin Abed come fetch him."

"Let him. Tell him the white men have plenty of guns. There, that's all about it. Tell him if he don't go at once he shall be kicked out."

Which message, being faithfully delivered by Uledi, had the desired effect, and Khamis retired grumbling with his satellites.

"What are you fellows all standing staring for? Go about your business. Here, one of you—get this poor creature something to eat; she's half-starved. Uledi, can you make her understand? Tell her there's nothing to be frightened of; we won't let any one hurt her." For she still crouched there, trembling and terrified, with eyes nearly starting out of her head.

Then he turned on his heel and walked thoughtfully away, presently disappearing into the store tent, where he proceeded to measure out, from the last opened bale, some four or five yards or so of red and white striped trade calico.

"I say, Uledi! Take this to her, and tell her she can put it on if she wants, and see that none of the other beggars grab it. And —I say, you can tell her to come here afterward, when she's rested and had something to eat, and she can get that arm of her's tied up if she likes."

"Tell her we—I mean, confound it all!— if one of 'em tries to lay a finger on her we'll blow him into little bits." And, leaving this piece of consolation behind him, he went to see to the defenses which he considered so utterly unnecessary.

Then the sunset bugle sounded, the Bayamba trooped off to their homes outside the stockade, the gates were closed and the watch fires lighted, and having gone the rounds and seen that all was well, the Mundeli lay down to sleep.

Past midnight, perhaps about 2 in the morning, he became conscious that some one was standing over him and heard a faint, far off voice saying something, to which he paid no attention, till it gradually dawned on him that the voice was close by him and addressed to him.

"Bwana, Bwana, wake up!"

"Well, what now?"

Uledi was almost sobbing.

"Oh, sir! sir! Arab coming, and—him Accra man all run away!"

III.—THE FLIGHT OF COWARDS.

Oliphant was on his feet in an instant, six-shooter in hand. They ran out, paying no heed to a trembling, sobbing figure that crouched beside the door, crossed the place, saw the river gate standing wide open, and reached it just in time to see a canoe crowded with black bodies and white uniforms push off from the landing place.

"Stand! Halte la! stop this instant!" he thundered, and the crack of the pistol rang out on the still night air. One or two supposed yells were heard, but the flying paddles slackened not for a moment, and the canoe shot across the moonlit surface into the black shadows of the nearest island.

"Who's left here? Uledi, help me get out the mountain Krupp. Here, you fellows!"

He was rushing toward the gun himself, when Uledi touched his arm and pointed eastward along the river. A huge black mass was seen moving slowly across a broad silvered reach, creeping nearer and nearer.

"El Arab!" whispered Uledi.

"What are we to do?" That only flashed through Oliphant's mind—he did not say it aloud. His next words were:

"Come and bar the gate. Who's left beside yourself?"

"Only Marsouk and Ferajji—and Karenga."

"Who's Karenga?"

"The slave woman who ran away. She called me and told me they were going away in canoes."

"Pity she couldn't have done it a little sooner!"

"Bwana, they'd have killed you! What could we do against so many?"

"Well, well!"

Marsouk and Ferajji had by this time arrived on the scene, and the gate was effectually barricaded.

"Now we ought to have the boats ready in case—"

"Bwana, there are none left; they have taken all!"

"All!"

It was too true. Even the whaleboat, usually kept inside the stockade for safety, was gone. A little further inspection revealed the fact that the store tent had been broken open and a large part of its contents abstracted.

There was no time to be angry, with that black shadow creeping nearer. A careful reconnoitering through the loop holes revealed it still holding on its way. The gun was got into position beside the gate, all the available fire-arms loaded, and then came the suspense of waiting.

The strained ears of the listening four soon caught the muffled splash of paddles alongside the gateway. Then there was a long pause, and then a shuffling and scrambling and the sound of many bare feet on the clay. Oliphant stood, rifle in hand, at one of the loop holes, Uledi beside him similarly armed. Marsouk, who had some skill in gunnery, was attending to the mountain Krupp.

"Fire!" said Oliphant, and the rifles cracked. There was a howl and a scattering rush outside, which showed that the shots had told, and after awhile answering shots began to find their way through the boma to right and left, which, though praiseworthy in intention, lamentably fell short in effect.

When this had gone on for some little time, something like a shooting star came sailing through the air—an arrow wrapped round with blazing oiled palm fiber. It fell dangerously near one of the huts, but before it could catch or any of them could reach it, something dark had sprung out of the shadow and probably trodden it out, for the light disappeared.

"Who's that?" asked Oliphant, a little startled. He had looked around just in time to see this.

TORONTO TOPICS.

A Pair of Brother Burglars Puzzle the Police, But are Captured.

TORONTO, June 24.—Inspector Stark was happy yesterday, feeling sure that his men had succeeded in laying by the heels two of the gang of burglars who have been making such heavy hauls of silverware within the past few weeks. On Saturday night all the detectives and plain clothes men who could be got together were detailed to watch the city from midnight until 6 in the morning, in order to look out for the gang of burglars. At 3 o'clock yesterday morning Detective Alf Cuddy was dodging in and out among the lanes in the neighborhood of Wellesley-street, when he saw three men scale the fence in rear of Mr. E. S. Cox's residence, Wellesley-place. He followed them into the yard and saw them commence operations on a window, when one of the marauders discovered the officer's presence and gave the alarm.

The three men jumped the fence again and forced their way through private grounds into Jarvis-street. Cuddy meanwhile was searching the grounds for them, while they having thrown him off the scent started down Jarvis-street on a run. Policeman Lilly, who was on duty in Wellesley-street near Church, saw the men dash past him down Jarvis (the third had disappeared) and at once started after them. At Maitland-street one of them rounded to and drawing a revolver fired two shots at the policeman. The latter returned the compliment with a single shot, but in the interchange no one was hurt. It was very dark at the time, the lamps having just been put out, and the burglars took advantage of this to make good their escape for the time being.

Acting Detective Watson and Patrol Sergeant Archabold were also on the alert that morning. They were on the lookout along Parliament-street about 3.15, when they noticed a man sneaking out of a lane running from the west into the street. They made for him, but the fellow took to his heels. After a hot pursuit of five minutes they ran him down in a yard off Gerrard-street. He was taken to the Wilton-avenue station and there gave the name of George Pierce.

About the same time Detective Alf. Cuddy picked up a man in Church-street, near the north end, who failed to give a satisfactory account of himself. He was also taken to Wilton-avenue Station, where he registered himself as Edward Pierce, brother of George, the first prisoner. They live at 59 Power-street, and it is believed that they are the men so badly wanted. Both have bad records. In 1878 George was convicted of larceny and got a short term. In 1880 he was found guilty on three charges and was sent to Kingston for three years. In 1884, when he was out about a year, he was sent to jail for 1 month for larceny and has been fairly quiet since. Edward was convicted in 1886 and got a short term, and a few months ago was up again, but was found not guilty. The brothers will be arraigned on five distinct charges.

EPPS'S COCOA

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.

Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold only in packets, by grocers, labelled thus:
JAMES EPPS & CO., Homœopathic Chemists London England.

HE MARCHED WITH SHERMAN TO THE SEA;

Trudged all the way on foot, over mountain and through morass, carrying knapsack and gun, slept on brush heaps to keep out of the mud, caught cold, from the effects of which his friends thought he would never recover. Lingering with slow consumption for many years, he saw Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery advertised in a country newspaper, and he determined to try it. A few bottles worked a change; six months' continued use cured him. Always too independent to ask his country for a pension, he now says he needs none. He helped save his country, he saved himself! Consumption is Lung-scrofula. For scrofula, in all its myriad forms, the "Discovery" is an unequaled remedy. It cleanses the system of all blood-taints from whatever cause arising, and cures all Skin and Scalp Diseases, Salt-rheum, Tetter, Eczema, and kindred ailments. It is guaranteed to benefit or cure in all diseases for which it is recommended, or money paid for it will be refunded. Sold by druggists.

ATTRACTION —AT— TURNBULL'S

The first month of summer is an interesting period to the retail buyer. Keep your eye on this column, it's newsy. Each week things will appear that are the month passes will likely make you richer for the reading.

There is scarcely a weak spot in our Trimmed Millinery yet. The latest hat kind are turning up their pretty faces every day and all the time floods of freshness and brightness keep pouring in new goods constantly. That job line of Untrimmed Hats we spoke of last week is what pleases everybody, variety and prices being right. This week we have placed on our Dress Goods counter a dozen pieces of Fancy Dress Cloths at fifteen cents a yard. The only reason we can conceive that these goods have not sold earlier at higher prices is that they were too new. They ought to, and no doubt will, go out very fast now. Attention is called to them. Shanting Pongee, the dustless kind. You know how the heathen Chinese crams dust into the common run of Pongees; he does not do it to the Shanting—Pure Silk and clean. These goods make up beautiful with our fine Henriettas.

In the Tweed Department we have a fine line of Halifax Tweeds that handle soft and fleecy, just as they ought to handle.—Sale price 35 cents.

We expect to-morrow's train to bring us in a large shipment of Corsets. We keep what our judgment says is the best make in the trade. We see representatives from all the factories. Our 50c. Corsets, we believe, are the best shown in Peterborough for years.

We have been able to repeat that line of Ladies Black Hose, heavy weight, at 15c. a pair. Those who have had these goods will be glad to hear they can get them again now.

Pink is the favorite color in Chambrays this season again. A fresh lot just arrived.

We keep suits for boys and small boys either with or without trimmings, at all prices. Before you buy see them.

PURE LIME FRUIT JUICE.

WHAT IS LIME JUICE?

This question is rendered necessary by the prominent attention Lime Juice is attracting as the Best Temperance Beverage. The answer is that it should be the juice of the Lime Fruit without admixture.

By the "MONTSERRAT" Company alone is the Lime Fruit cultivated for this purpose, and great care should be taken to obtain this brand (as supplied by the British Government) in lieu of the numerous concoctions sold under the name of Lime Juice Cordials, Prepared Lime Juice, etc. Sold by all Druggists, Grocers, and at the leading hotels.

THE TORONTO BUDGET.

A THIEVING PHOTOGRAPHER APPLIES FOR A "SIT."

And is Accorded Free Board and Lodging—Oarsman O'Connor off for England—The Shooting Burglars.

TORONTO, June 25.—William O'Connor, the champion oarsman of America left by the Empress of India at 3 o'clock yesterday en route to New York whence he will sail to-morrow by the Germanic for England to contest against Searle of Australia for the championship of the world. He took with him his new Warin boat, in which he hopes to win the laurels that will make a second Toronto boy the champion oarsman of the world. Immediately upon reaching England he will go into training for the race which will take place in September.

At the Police Court yesterday George and Edward Pearce of Power-street were remanded till Friday on charges of attempting to burglarize the residence of Mr. E. S. Cox and with shooting at Constable Lilly with intent to kill him. Mr. Matthew O'Connor, who lives at No. 106 Maitland-street, near Mutual, heard the shooting between Constable Lilly and the Pearce brothers on Saturday night, two of the bullets striking a wall of his house near the window. On Sunday morning he found one bullet which had struck the house and been flattened, while he got hold of another that had gone into the sidewalk. He handed them over to Sergeant-Detective Reburn.

The trial of the Halton election petition was yesterday announced to be adjourned from July 3 to Sept. 3.

"Do you want to hire a first-class expert photographer?" said a shaggy haired spectacled young man at police headquarters yesterday morning. Detective Reburn wanted an expert photographer right enough and invited him into his parlor. Then diving into his cabinet Reburn drew out a small card photograph, which he held before the eyes of the stranger. "That is my picture," he said. "And you are my prisoner," rejoined Reburn. "You are wanted at Bay City, Mich., for the larceny of a valuable camera," he further informed him. The prisoner was terribly surprised at the unexpected turn events had taken. The name of the prisoner is Van Gleson.

The police yesterday started to lock up some of the local crooks under the Vagrant Act. This move is made because of the numerous daring burglaries that have been committed in the city of late. Charley Thompson with a record, "Gas" Burns and Ed. Jackson were put behind the bars yesterday. They will probably be ordered to leave town.

The City Council decided last night to submit to a vote of the electors on July 9, the vexed question of whether or not there should be a commission to manage the erection of the new court house and city hall.

BURKE'S TRIAL.

It Will Be Postponed to Await the Arrival of the Extradition Papers.

WINNIPEG, June 24.—Without doubt the trial of Burke will be postponed when it comes up Wednesday as Assistant State's Attorney Baker will not arrive till Thursday or Friday, and the case can not be fully gone into until his arrival.

Chief Hossack of the Canadian Pacific Railway police made a statement to-day clearing up the mystery in connection with Burke's arrest. He learned from Chief McRae that information had come regarding the man now behind the bars and told his men at the depot if they saw a man answering the description given them to telephone Chief McRae. Officer Sherwood saw Burke on the platform, telephoned McRae, he came up and effected the arrest.

It is also stated that Burke is wanted in Ireland for the murder of an American detective. He laughs at the idea and says he guesses he will go to Chicago first.

The Extradition Papers.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The President to-night signed the Burke extradition papers. The papers will be properly authenticated at the State Department to-morrow morning and will be taken at once to Chicago. The requisition names Detective Collins, now in Winnipeg, as the authorized representative of the United States to convey the prisoner back to Illinois.

ILL-FATED JOHNSTOWN.

Twenty-five Houses in the Flood-stricken City Destroyed by Fire.

JOHNSTOWN, June 24.—The fire here to-day consumed all but three of the buildings in the district bounded by Market and Walnut-street, Main-street and the river. Twenty-five houses were destroyed, including the large brick schoolhouse. Many of the buildings had been washed from their foundations, though several contained household goods saved from the flood. But a small amount of these goods were saved. The fire is supposed to have originated from sparks flying from burning debris. The Philadelphia fire companies fought the flames, which for a time got beyond their control and were only subdued by tearing down houses in their path. The loss has not yet been fixed.

Five Mills Idle.

BANGOR, Me., June 24.—The men in Gould & Hastings' and Sterns & Co.'s mills to-day joined the men who went out last week from the other saw mills and now five mills are idle. The strikers visited Hargate's mill to-day, the only one running, and tried to induce the men there to join them. Violent talk was made and the sheriff dispersed the crowd. About 500 men are out. Nothing looking to a compromise had been done.

You've heard it, thought of it, now try it and prove that M. R. KIDD sells No. 1 groceries at lowest prices.

WILL DIE IN THE CHAIR.

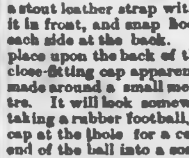
THIS WEEK HAS TO WITNESS THE FIRST "ELECTROCUTION."

How Joseph Kemmler Will be Executed by Electricity at Auburn Prison Unless the Courts Interfere.

Joseph Kemmler was to be put to death at the New York State Prison at Auburn some day during the week beginning June 24. Habeas corpus proceedings are pending on the ground that the infliction of the death penalty by means of electricity is a "cruel and unusual" punishment and therefore in contravention of the constitution of the State of New York. The apparatus by means of which a murderer is to be killed for the first time under a law requiring the execution of the death penalty by electricity, is nearly completed and the details are rapidly being arranged by the warden of the prison. The machines for the generation of current are ordinary Westinghouse dynamos on the alternate system, which experiments on animals have shown to be peculiarly deadly in their effect.

The proceedings on the day of putting to death of Kemmler, so far as they are at present arranged, will be as follows:—On whatever morning shall be decided upon in the week of the execution the prisoner will be notified, and whatever opportunity he desires of religious consolation and farewell words will be given him. These over, just before the hour fixed upon for the execution the officers will enter the cell, and the death warrant will be read.

His shoes will then be removed and a pair resembling regular army brogans will be substituted.



In the sole of these there will have been inserted a metal plate covering the whole sole, and connecting with wires passing out through the heels. While one officer is making this change of shoes, another will fasten the prisoner's hands together in front, and will place around his body, just beneath the armpits, a stout leather strap with a buckle fastening it in front, and snap hooks projecting from each side at the back. Another officer will place upon the back of the prisoner's head a close-fitting cap apparently of black rubber, made around a small metal piece in the centre. It will look somewhat as if made by taking a rubber football, and with a metal cap at the hole for a centre, cutting off the end of the ball into a sort of a hood.

The cap will fit over almost the whole of the head, from the base of the brain to well towards the forehead. Inside it, in the centre about the metal piece, will be a spiral arrangement of copper wire, about five inches in diameter, and made to fit down over the part of the head that it will cover. The wires, just before the cap is placed on the prisoner's head, will be covered with sponge saturated with salt water.

While these arrangements are being put on, the prisoner will be sitting on a chair in his cell. This chair not differing apparently from an ordinary one, but which is being made especially for the purpose, will be connected with wires leading to another room, and the prisoner, sitting in the chair, will, without knowing it, be subjected to a current of electricity too light to be felt, but heavy enough to give an expert electrician in the other room an exact measurement, by the use of what is known as the "Whetstone bridge" of electrical resistance of the man. This will take only an instant, and will be done before the officers have the prisoner ready to leave the cell.

From the cell the procession will be much as now to the execution room, where the deputies and other persons permitted by law to witness the execution will be waiting.

Near the centre of the room, raised upon a small platform about eight inches above the floor, will be a chair, made somewhat like a large reclining chair. The long, straight frame that forms the slanting back will be hardwood pieces, three inches square, and will be long enough so that if a seven-foot man should lie down in the chair this head would rest upon the back. The seat and arms will be of plain wood and without any peculiarities. The upper part of the back frame on each side will be fitted with a slot, in which will slide back and forth a small arrangement with a ring at the top and a thumbscrew beneath. The rings are to receive the hooks in the back of the belt about the man's body, and the screws are to fasten the arrangement in place at the spot where the rings will meet the hooks, which will vary according to the height of the prisoner. In front of the chair will be a foot-rest, something like those in a barber's shop, except that the top portion, instead of being fixed, will be balanced upon a pivot to permit it to dip front or back, so that the feet will lie firmly upon it. This whole foot rest will be arranged to slide backward and forward, and to be secured with a screw at the point where the prisoner's feet will rest upon it.

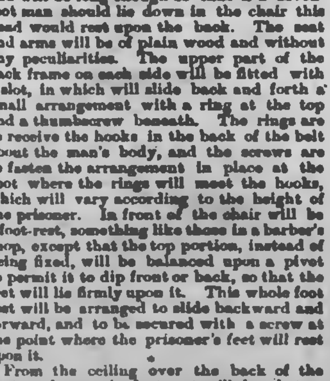


DIAGRAM OF THE CHAIR.

From the ceiling over the back of the chair and over the foot rest will dangle two flexible wires, like those from which small electric lights swing. On the wall at one side will be a small round dial attached to a brass instrument. A hand upon the dial will indicate the intensity of the current that will pass over the wires. Near it on the wall will be a small double-pole switch, a brass instrument similar to the familiar switches used to shut off or let on the current wherever electricity is used, but designed especially to show at a glance whether the current is off or on, in order to prevent accidents which carelessness in handling the apparatus might bring about. This will be all of the apparatus apparent in the room.

The prisoner, immediately on entering the room, will be led to the chair, and in a moment will be pushed back into it, the hooks in the belt about his body slipped into the rings in the chair, and there fastened by a turn of the screws. At the same moment his feet will be raised, the foot rest slipped under them and fastened by a turn of the screw, and a strap on top of the rest will be buckled tightly over his ankles. In another moment the two dangling wires will be fastened, one to the metal at the centre of the back of the cap and the other to the metal connection on the heel of each shoe. A black cloth will be pulled over the face of the prisoner, the officers will stand back from the chair, and at a signal the electrician at the switch will turn on the current, the volume of which has previously been adjusted to suit the resistance of the prisoner, as shown by the test in the cell.

Only the experience of Joseph Kemmler can certainly tell what will happen then, but if the confidence of those in charge, or the efficiency of the apparatus is well founded, at the instant that the switch is touched there will be a little stiffening of the prisoner's body, a little quivering of the limbs, life will flutter for a bare instant, like the needle that will be dancing upon the dial on the wall, and then it will all be over. There will be no pain, no convulsion, scarcely a movement to mark the passage from life to death, but the victim will be hopelessly and unmistakably dead.

A FAITH CURE PRIESTESS.

Alleged Healing by Christian Science in Elgin.

ST. THOMAS, June 24.—Mr. A. R. Lewis of Aylmer, husband of the lady who has been called the Faith Cure Priestess of Elgin, because she is a healer and teacher of Christian Science, was in St. Thomas to-day, and states that the new creed is gaining converts by the score in East Elgin since Mrs. Lewis has succeeded in making numerous cures after all the regular practitioners abandoned the cases as hopeless. He recites several cures in this city and East Elgin where women who had been bedridden for years and whom medicine could not remedy have been cured after a week's treatment by the Christian Science method, which teaches and believes that all diseases are but the photograph of the mind on the body, and by spiritually treating the mind can be cured—that is to say by dealing with the thought, the originator, or in other words by treating the cause and not the effect, as Jesus Christ did when on earth. The house of the priestess is besieged daily by people who have become interested in the new science, and who express their determination to stand right up at the altar of the faith. Thirteen called yesterday and Mrs. Lewis proposes to establish a class among the disciples of the creed, which forbids the engagement of a wordly physician, the belief being that if a Christian Science practitioner cannot effect a cure, then medicine is useless.

AMBITIOUS CITY NOTES.

A Breach of Promise Case Settled for $2000—The Kissing Assault.

HAMILTON, June 24.—T. E. O'Callaghan has settled his breach of promise case with Miss Hurrell, and will not appeal. The young lady accepts $1000 less than the jury awarded her—namely, $3000.

A private despatch from Leipsic, Germany, announces the death of August Eckhardt of this city, who has been studying music in Leipsic for the past two years.

At the Police Court this morning the adjourned charge of assault brought by Rosa Wolff, a little girl, against Henry Halford was dismissed. The assault consisted in the defendant taking the girl up in his arms and kissing her. While the girl was certain that Halford was the man other witnesses swore that he was otherwise engaged at the time.

Another charge against Frank Rowlin for carrying on the business of blood boiling, manufacturing manure and other noxious processes without the permission of the Barton Council was investigated at the Police Court this morning. A lot of evidence was heard and the case taken under advisement.

Hamilton Clark of Chicago, who was the most seriously injured of all those who were taken to the hospital from the accident at the Y, is able to be about.

MANITOBA MATTERS.

A Customs Seizure—Opium Smuggling—Fatal Accident—A Double Elopement.

WINNIPEG, June 24.—The customs authorities seized a team of horses Saturday belonging to a man named McCowan, who is charged with bringing the animals across the line contrary to law, and it is alleged they were used some days ago to carry $6000 worth of opium across the boundary line, where it is now hidden. Two American detectives are here working up the case, which will be fully investigated.

At Calgary Friday while a young Englishman named Lee was out driving the horses ran away. He became entangled in the lines and was killed.

Two young German girls lately from the old country, working in the Mennonite village, eloped with two young Mennonites Saturday. When last heard from they were in Fargo, Dakota.

THE JESUITS' ACT.

North York Conservatives Censure Its Allowance by the Government.

QUEENSVILLE, June 24.—At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Liberal-Conservative Association of North York, held at Grant's Hotel, President James Anderson in the chair, this resolution, moved by James Cavanagh of Queensville, seconded by T. Zennett of Belhaven, was unanimously carried:

That we, the Executive Committee of the Liberal-Conservative Association of North York, having in the past approved of the general policy of the leaders of the Conservative party, and while pledging ourselves to support such a policy in the future, cannot, however, endorse the action of the Government in their endorsation of the Jesuit Bill, and in consequence we pledge ourselves to oppose any candidate committed to legislation of a similar character either in the past or future.

A SIMCOE STABBING AFFRAY.

Hotel Keeper Brooks Attacks a Rough Who Assaulted Brooks's Wife.

SEVERN BRIDGE, June 24.—A serious stabbing affray occurred at Washago, about two miles from this village, between 1 and 2 o'clock this morning. The parties concerned are Thomas Brooks, hotel keeper of Washago, and Donald McAulay, driver of Severn.

McAulay broke into the hotel during Brooks' absence and attempted an assault on Brooks' wife.

Brooks returned before McAulay escaped and a fight ensued.

Both parties used knives and both were seriously injured.

No arrests have been made.

WITHOUT PREJUDICE.

Part Payment Accepted From the G.N.W. by the Montreal Co.

MONTREAL, June 24.—A part payment on account of the quarterly payment due by the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company, on April 1 last, has been received by the Montreal Telegraph Company, without prejudice to their claims under the agreement of August, 1881. The balance of $10,000 is on deposit drawing interest in the Canadian Bank of Commerce, in the joint names of Mr. George Hague, General Manager of the Merchants' Bank, and Mr. Alex. M. Crombie, Manager of the Montreal branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, as trustees pending final judgment in the case now before the Superior Court.

THE DUTIES ARE TOO ARDUOUS.

Justice Strong Says He Cannot Accept the Law School Principalship.

OTTAWA, June 24.—Mr. Justice Strong of the Supreme Court returned from Toronto on Saturday. He says he has no intention of accepting the position of principal of the new Toronto Law School or of resigning his seat on the bench. The duties of the principalship would be very arduous and the additional remuneration which he would receive would not, he thinks, compensate for the additional labor.

The Armagh Disaster.

ARMAGH, June 24.—The railway employes charged with causing the recent disaster have been committed for trial.

The Nipsic Sails from Samoa.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The Nipsic, the sole survivor of the American fleet at Samoa after the hurricane, has started for San Francisco under convoy of the Alert.

A New Comet in Andromeda.

ROCHESTER, June 24.—A telegram was received in this city to-day announcing the discovery by Prof. Barnard of Lick Observatory of a new comet located in Andromeda. It is very faint.

Repeating Rifles for the Swiss Army.

BERLIN, June 24.—The Council has decided to borrow 15,000,000 francs with which to purchase repeating rifles for the infantry.

A REVEREND EMBEZZLER.

KINGSTON'S DEPUTY POSTMASTER ARRESTED.

He is Charged With Making False Returns of Deposits to the Government to the Extent of $3000.

KINGSTON, June 24.—Rev. R. T. Burns, Deputy Postmaster, was this morning arrested on a charge of embezzlement. Previous to his appointment a few months ago to the position of Deputy Postmaster he was employed in the money order department. It is charged against him that while filling that position he made false returns of deposits to the Government to the extent of $3000.

The case on which he was arrested is that of Mrs. Love of South Mountain. In June, 1888, she deposited $300, which figures were placed in her book by Mr. Burns. Recently she moved to draw $50, when the reply came from Ottawa that there was only $7 to her credit. This fact led to an investigation with the above result. It is understood that Mr. Burns has confessed to appropriating about $3000.

The case has created quite a sensation in the city and much sympathy is expressed for his family. He has been an employe in the postoffice since 1863 and was considered one of the most capable and correct officials in the department.

Mr. Burns' salary was $1000. He is a son of the late Justice Burns of Toronto and is 58 years old. Since the drowning of his two sons last fall he has not been himself, acting frequently as if insane. The trial will probably occur to-morrow or as soon as Mrs. Love can be brought here.

AN OLD TIME BOOM.

A Cyclone Strikes the Petroleum Market—The Standard's New Deal.

NEW YORK, June 24.—There was an old-time boom on the petroleum market to-day, and to the bears who had sold pipe line certificates short it seemed that a cyclone had struck the market, so sudden was the advance. The market opened firm at 83½. There were several buying orders put in by Standard Oil people and the price moved slowly until noon, when it sold at 84½. Then without warning there was a flood of buying orders given out in all the principal markets both by Standard Oil people and producers, and before half an hour had passed the price reached 95. A reaction of 5 points followed, but at 90 the Standard Oil brokers continued the principal buyers. The cause of the sudden advance was the fact that the Standard people had brought about a settlement of their agreement with the Producers' Protective Association, which was not expected to expire until July 12. By this agreement the Standard had the call on 3,500,000 barrels of oil held by the association at 62 cents with charges since Nov. 1, 1887.

TWELVE YEARS IN SKIRTS.

A Detroit Barber's Prospective Wife Proves to Be a Man.

DETROIT, June 24.—Clara Ellis, who was sent to the House of Correction as a disorderly woman, but whom the physicians say is a man, was put at hard work by Supt. Nicholson to-day.

Clara is medium sized, with large grey eyes and had dark brown hair reaching several inches below her waist. "She" was apparently about 25 years of age. Supt. Nicholson compelled the prisoner to don trousers Saturday and have the beautiful bangs and hair cut. "Clara" was persuaded yesterday to give her name, which is John Ready. He says he was twelve years growing his hair and has, during all that time, worn woman's habiliments.

Mrs. Westgate says Clara Ellis roomed there several weeks recently. A barber in Larned-street kept company with "Clara" during the latter's stay at Mrs. Westgate's, and the landlady says they were to be married soon. "Clara" was an expert dressmaker and made several dresses for wealthy ladies in Jefferson-avenue. Mrs. Westgate says Clara drank heavily at times. The hair on her face grew rapidly and "Clara" shaved it off daily.

Bessie Henkie, a boarder at the same house, says she was well acquainted with "Clara" and had been quite intimate with her at times. But no one suspected Clara was a man, although she (or he) had a very deep, hoarse voice. "Clara" is a fine organist, Bessie says, and told her of many places in which she had been chambermaid and Bessie cannot realize that her old chum is really a man.

Dunnville News.

DUNNVILLE, June 24.—The man Barry, who was so badly stabbed a few days ago by his neighbor Thos. Grills, is in about the same condition. He will probably recover. Grills is now out on bail.

The Conservative convention held at Wellandport on Friday last was largely attended in spite of the wet weather. Much routine work was gone through with, and speeches delivered by Senator McCallum, A. Boyle, M.P., Dr. Montague and others on matters of importance to the party in this riding.

Dominion Day will be celebrated here in becoming style. Extensive preparations are being made by the citizens to entertain the members of the Equitable and Union excursion of Buffalo, who are coming in three steamers, and numbering about 1500 people. Athletic games, horse racing, balloon ascension, boat racing, international tug-of-war and baseball match between Elks of Buffalo and Dunnville club; football competition, fancy exhibition drill, brilliant display of fireworks and other attractions form the program. Many thousands are expected here.

A Well Deserved Thrashing.

GUELPH, June 24.—About 9.30 last night a farmer was walking along the Waterloo-road about 4½ miles from the city, when his attention was attracted to the peculiar proceedings of the driver of a horse and buggy. Three times the animal was run up against the fence, and the farmer crept up behind the buggy, and when he had heard enough to satisfy him that the young woman in company with the driver was endeavoring to resist his advances he sprang forward, seized the whip and chastised him until he had to call for mercy. The only excuse for the young fellow's conduct is that he appeared to be under the influence of liquor. The girl was only about 16 years old.

Chinese May Pass Through the States.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Solicitor Hepburn has given an opinion to the Secretary of the Treasury that there is nothing in the law to prohibit the landing of Chinese laborers who desire merely to pass through the territory of the United States in transit. Application for the landing at San Francisco of a number of Chinese destined to Cuba, bond being offered for their departure from the United States territory, has been granted.

Strikers' Families Destitute.

SPRING VALLEY, Ill., June 24.—The coal miners here have been locked out since May 1 because they would not agree to a reduction of wages. The town has decreased in population from 5000 to 2500 in consequence. Most of those who have gone away are men leaving large numbers of women and children unprovided for. Outside relief so far has amounted to about 25 cents per family in the aggregate. Many families are absolutely without food.

He Was a Noted Gambler.

MEMPHIS, June 24.—Alf. Grimes was hanged by a mob, supposed to be composed of negro gamblers, at Tiptonville last Wednesday. He won all the money the negroes had and they, enraged at their loss, carried him off in a boat, first throwing a sack over his head. They then took him into the woods and drew him up to a limb, demanding that he should return the money. He refused and they jerked him up for good. He was a noted gambler.

Nell Burgess Badly Burned.

HIGHLANDS, N. J., June 24.—Nell Burgess, the actor, was seriously burned here to-day by the explosion of gasoline caused by a small boy throwing a lighted match "just for a joke" at a [illegible]-gallon can of gasoline while the servants were cleaning some furs. Mr. Burgess tried to extinguish the flames but his clothes caught fire. He ran into the house and his wife saved his life by wrapping him in a rug. He is suffering greatly but will recover.

"Try Ayer's Pills"

For Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout. Stephen Lansing, of Yonkers, N. Y., says: "Recommended as a cure for chronic Costiveness, Ayer's Pills have relieved me from that trouble and also from Gout. If every victim of this disease would heed only three words of mine, I could banish Gout from the land. These words would be—'Try Ayer's Pills.'"

"By the use of Ayer's Pills alone, I cured myself permanently of rheumatism which had troubled me several months. These Pills are at once harmless and effectual, and, I believe, would prove a specific in all cases of incipient

Rheumatism.

No medicine could have served me in better stead."—C. C. Rock, Corner, Avoyelles Parish, La.

C. F. Hopkins, Nevada City, writes: "I have used Ayer's Pills for sixteen years, and I think they are the best Pills in the world. We keep a box of them in the house all the time. They have cured me of sick headache and neuralgia. Since taking Ayer's Pills, I have been free from these complaints."

"I have derived great benefit from Ayer's Pills. Five years ago I was taken so ill with rheumatism that I was unable to do any work. I took three boxes of Ayer's Pills and was entirely cured. Since that time I am never without a box of these pills."—Peter Christensen, Sherwood, Wis.

OBITUARY.

The Late Wm. Kidd, of Dummer.

One of the earliest settlers in the township of Dummer passed away on Saturday evening in the person of Mr. Wm. Kidd. Mr. Kidd had been troubled with enlargement of the heart for two years, and during that time suffered a great deal, but as his end drew near his sufferings ceased and he passed quietly and easily away. Mr. Kidd was born in Invernesshire, Scotland, in 1806, and came to Canada with his father, Alexander Kidd, with whom were five other sons and five daughters. They first settled in the county of Perth, but in 1832 the deceased came to Dummer as a government guide—to direct incoming settlers to their locations. In order to better attend to these duties he went some distance into the township and settled on lot 9 in the 1st concession. The township had been surveyed before that year, but there were no settlers in it and but few in Douro, and there was no road, but nothing daunted the pioneers of those days. Of those who went into Dummer with Mr. Kidd at that time only one survives, Mr. Lazarus Payne, of Peterborough. Mr. Kidd's father and the remainder of the family followed him soon after into Dummer, and of them three brothers and three sisters are still living. Mr. Kidd was one of the first Trustees of the Warsaw school section and always took a deep interest in educational matters. He was also assessor of the township and held a prominent place in the community. He was a member of the Baptist denomination and at the time when there was no church of that denomination near service was held in his house, Mr. Walter Kidd, his brother, frequently conducting the services. His first wife was Miss Christie Robertson, of Dummer, who died in 1872, and Mr. Kidd was again married to Miss Christie McDonald, who survives him. He had eight sons and two daughters. Six of his sons survive him, being Mr. A. R. Kidd, Reeve of Dummer, Messrs. M. R. Kidd and R. J. Kidd, merchants, of Peterborough, Alexander, who is in Michigan, William, who lives in Iowa, and Walter, of Cardiff. His daughters are Mrs. White, of Kingston, and Mrs. S. S Ritchie, of Lindsay. The two sons who crossed the great river before him both met with a tragic death, John having been drowned in Rice Lake, and James accidentally killed in a quarry in Dummer. Mr. Kidd was universally respected and esteemed, as was attested by the immense cortege which followed his remains yesterday to their resting place, in the South Dummer burying ground, where members of his family had been laid before him. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Peer, of Norwood, and Rev. Mr. Power, of Warsaw.

St. Andrew's S. School Picnic.

The St. Andrew's S. School picnic will be held on Thursday, 11th July. Jacob's Island in Pigeon Lake will be its destination. A delightful time may be expected, and everything that can be done to make this picnic a great success will be done. d148eod

An Army Funeral.

A Salvation Army funeral took place to-day, when Miss H. Bacon, a lieutenant in the Army, who lived on Ware st., was buried according to the Army regulations. The local corps turned out in large numbers, headed by the band. The drums were muffled with white, and each of the soldiers wore a badge of pure white on the arm.

At Home To-night.

The following persons will assist in the programme at the George-st. Church parsonage this evening:—Mrs. Goldsmith, New York; Mrs. Daly, Miss Sanders, Miss German, Miss Cameron, Miss Miller, Miss Gray, and Messrs. Dobbin, W. A. Dixon, Dingle and Norton. The indications are that there will be a large gathering and an enjoyable evening.

Canker in the mouth can be cured only by expelling the poisonous humor from the system. To do this effectually requires the persistent use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, together with a good, generous diet. One dollar a bottle. Six bottles for $5. Begin at once.

Their Heads Covered.

Mr. Wm. Loch, hatter, has presented the Riverside lacrosse team with a dozen natty new caps. They are the regulation lacrosse caps with a peak and are of blue material to match the shirts of the team. The boys are duly gratified to Mr. Loch and wish to express their thanks to him for his generous gift. They will wear their new caps for the first time on Dominion Day when they play the Beavertons.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

A Nasal Injector free with each bottle of Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy. Price 50 cents. S. C. Wells & Co., proprietors, Le Roy, N.Y.

The presence of dandruff indicates a diseased scalp, and if not cured, blanching of the hair and baldness will result. Hall's Hair Renewer will cure it.

A Presentation and Wedding.

This morning at St. Peter's Cathedral a large and interested group of friends witnessed the tying of the nuptial knot between Mr. Wm. Leahy, of the Balmoral hotel, and Miss Lizzie Sullivan, daughter of Mr. Michael Sullivan, of George and Edinburg-sts. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Rudkins, Chancellor of the diocese. The groom was assisted by Mr. Frank Conroy, while Miss Nellie Halpin attended the bride and fulfilled the duties of bridesmaid. The ceremony finished the wedding party drove to the residence of the bride's father, where an elaborate wedding dinner had been prepared and the afternoon was pleasantly spent by the happy couple and their friends. The happy couple will be the objects of the congratulations and well wishes of a large circle of friends, and that their friends are many was unmistakeably evidenced by the numerous and costly presents of which they were the recipients. Among these was a handsome and substantial testimony of the esteem and respect in which Mr. Leahy was held by the boarders of the Balmoral, in the form of an elegant silver tea-set, and a beautiful hanging lamp. This handsome presentation was made at the Balmoral last evening, and was accompanied by an address, which conveyed to Mr. Leahy the feelings which the boarders of the house held towards him and extended their hearty congratulations and well-wishes for a prosperous and happy future. Mr. Leahy was taken completely by surprise by the address and handsome presentation, but fittingly acknowledged them. The happy couple leave on the evening train on their wedding trip.

Stop that Cough

Many people neglect what they call a simple cold, which, if not checked in time, may lead to Lung trouble. Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites, will not only stop the cough but heal the lungs. Endorsed by thousands of physicians. Palatable as Milk. Try it. Sold by all druggists at 50c. and $1.00.

'A Spring Message'

From the New Firm of

H. LeBRUN & CO.

Sign of the Golden Horse-shoe.

The people of Peterborough and vicinity are all aware of the business change which took place in the CITY CLOTHING STORE on the first day of February last. The new firm beg leave to make their first bow to the public through the columns of the REVIEW, and to request a careful perusal of the following Spring and Summer circular:—

The City Clothing Store

in past years, by long experience in business, by buying always for spot cash, importing direct from the principal houses of the old country and from the leading houses of Canada, and by strict economy in conducting its business, has always been able to force prices down to an exceedingly fine point. The members of which the new firm is composed will form a still stronger "combine," by which the CITY CLOTHING STORE will be even better prepared to procure for its customers a continuation of those superior inducements in the future for which it has been noted in the past.

Men's Clothing.

The magnitude of our stock and lowness of prices gives us a great advantage over all other competitors in the trade. We carry in stock all the fast selling lines, styles and patterns, and can fit the tall, the short, the fat and the lean. MENS SUITS, BETTER FABRICS, FINER STYLES than were ever handled before.

Special values in FINE SPRING OVERCOATS, and Fine SPRING and SUMMER SUITS. Don't fail to see them. The superb styles, workmanship, and the beautiful fabrics and patterns that we offer will surprise you.

Merchant Tailoring.

"For the apparel oft proclaims the man."

Fine dressers in search of new, neat and nobby OVERCOATINGS, SUITINGS or TROUSERINGS will find this department crowded to overflowing with cloth from all countries. To select from the largest assortment is an advantage we offer to our customers, backed up by the skill of experienced cutters and tailors. Besides perfect fit and first-class trimmings, we guarantee absolutely first-class workmanship.

Boys' and Youths' Clothing.

Clothing for the little ones—boys and children—has always been a specialty with us. We have always sought to give great values in this department, and to provide a larger and finer variety of goods for parents to select from than they could find elsewhere.

This means that we are showing a large assortment of BOYS' and CHILDREN'S SUITS, BOYS' and CHILDREN'S BLOUSES, SHIRT WAISTS, PANTS, &c.

This spring there are an unusual number of new and nobby styles and an enlarged variety of fabrics and patterns. Be sure and see our stock.

Gents' Furnishings.

Gentlemen of Peterborough seeking the latest styles and best values for their money, as well as an opportunity of selecting from the largest stock of Furnishing Goods, should not fail to visit this department at once. We offer the finest, best selected and the largest assortment of NECKWEAR, HOSIERY, UNDERWEAR, GLOVES, SHIRTS, HANDKERCHIEFS, etc., to be found in any first-class establishment.

Improving the Front.

The appearance of the Grand Central hotel is to be greatly improved, and when the improvements are completed this first-class hostlery will be an ornament to George-st. and a credit to Peterborough. A cast-iron balcony has been placed along the front at the second storey, which adds greatly to the appearance of the front elevation as well as to the convenience of guests on summer evenings, affording them a cool and pleasant place to sit. The centre window on this storey leading out from the main hallway will be made into a door by which access will be gained to the balcony. The front of the hotel is to be all repainted and tuck pointed and a new awning is to be placed over the balcony, which when it is all finished will change the appearance of the Grand Central materially. The iron balcony is a neat construction and is made by a Windsor firm.

Strawberries by the crate, fresh every morning, at M. R. KIDD'S. Prices very low.

INCREASED ACCOMMODATION.

Peterborough's Business College making a Change—Their new Premises.

By the first of next week the Peterborough Business College will, it is expected, be installed in their commodious and handsome new quarters on Water-st., over the offices of Mayor Stevenson in what is known as the old roller rink. The move will give the college about twice the accommodation which they possess in the building which they now occupy, the seating capacity being estimated at one hundred and fifty. The rink has undergone an entire change and re-modelling and has been so arranged as to be transformed into an excellent and first-class college, and Messrs. Bean & Rooney will be better situated than ever before to accommodate a larger number of students, while the increased facilities will tend to increase, if possible, the proficiency of the College training.

At present the work is not completed, but a visit to the premises will show the arrangement of the class-rooms, etc. On ascending the stairs the first apartment into which the visitor will step will be a neat and nicely furnished reception room, which will be carpeted and furnished in a suitable manner. Then from this reception room there are four doors, one opening into a cosy little private office of the principals, which overlooks Water-st., another leads into a class room across the front of the building which is to be used for the shorthand department, while the third door connects with another large apartment which is the practical business department. Both of these class rooms are well lighted, and will be furnished with tables and chairs. In the latter, the business department, is the bank, which is appropriately fitted up with wire screens, etc. In the rear of this business department is the largest class-room of the college which will be utilized for the theory department, where the students will be given a theoretical knowledge of book-keeping, etc. This is a fine large room and is excellently adapted to classroom purposes. Unlike the other two rooms this will be fitted up with desks for the students. A blackboard extends the entire length of the building, and the centre class room is well lighted as all the partitions are of glass, so as to allow the light to be transmitted. Divided off by a partition along the south side of the building is ladies' and gentlemen's cloak rooms and a wash room and closet. The premises throughout are all newly and tastefully painted, the walls have been decorated with paper, and the floors of hardwood are perfect.

Everything considered the new premises are first-class in every particular and are excellently adapted to the purpose to which they have been designed, and when the Peterborough Business College is duly established in these new quarters they will be in a better position to accommodate a larger number of students than heretofore and they will be extended wishes for increased success, with the increased facilities.

A carload of horses was shipped yesterday per the C. P. R. to Brandon, by Mr. W. F. Greer, of that place. The animals were all purchased in this district and were nineteen in number, sixteen mares and three fillies.

Lindsay's New Station.

Lindsay is to have a new station and the G. T. R. are commencing work at once. It will be erected at the foot of William-st., where the station burned some four years ago was located. The building will be a large and handsome one and in keeping with the importance of the business of the line at this point, which is very large. It is not definitely known but assumed that the corner stone will be laid by citizens with general rejoicing, and that the town ditching machine will proceed to cut a wide swath in honor of the occasion. Lindsay deserves its new accommodation and will enjoy the convenience.

Prof. Dorenwend and the Ladies.

Is there a lady in the Dominion who has not at one time heard of Prof Dorenwend of Toronto? Dorenwend is a household word and justly so. How many ladies are indebted to the Prof's. goods for their handsome appearance. The Prof. was the first one to introduce into Canada the style of wearing artifical Bangs, Frontpieces Waves, etc. He has moderized the ideas in Hair goods in this country and to-day there are thousands of ladies who can testify the Professor's goods are important factors of Beauty. Prof. Dorenwend will be at Phelan's Hotel on Friday and Saturday, June 28 and 29, with a large stock of his famous Hair goods. Every accommodation is provided for ladies visiting him. 1w24-2d146

A Bill of Particulars.

Date, Tuesday evening, this evening, in fact. Time, 7.30 o'clock. Scene, the Methodist parsonage. Occasion, the Pastor's at Home. Object, to accumulate a little fund to set against parsonage improvements, and incidentally to afford the friends an opportunity for social enjoyment. This brief aggregation of facts should be explicit, and the additional information may be afforded that there will be refreshments served in charming style by young ladies of the church, that an excellent programme of music will be rendered and that everything will be done to make everyone comfortable and to enjoy themselves. With these inducements to attend before you, can you conscientiously stay away? Hardly. Then come!

An Evening Outside.

Notwithstanding that the evening was rather cool, a goodly number attended the garden party given in the grounds of Mrs. Joseph Dixon last evening. The affair was given under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. Of course, to the ladies of the auxiliary falls a major portion of the credit for the success which attended the party, as they arranged and served at the tables which were scattered through the beautiful grounds. The innumerable Chinese lanterns which were hung among the trees and across the lawn gave a very attractive and festive appearance to the spacious and well-suited grounds, and the excellent music which was furnished by the Y.M.C.A. Band lent a pleasant and inspiring effect to the surroundings. Several tables were scattered throughout the premises, where the ladies dispensed strawberries and cream, cake, coffee and ice-cream, although, needless to say, the latter was at a discount. The evening was enjoyed by those who attended, promenading the walks, listening to the music, chatting, etc., and it is safe to say that everyone was pleased with the night, and will wish the young men even better success next time. The 'bus line which ran up to the grounds was well patronized, and if the evening had not been so cool the attendance undoubtedly would have been much larger.

A World of Information.

The New York World almanac for 1889 is a book of 290 pages and contains, in the most compact yet clear form, a large amount of information on a great variety of topics. The World is one of the most successful of the great newspapers. A question having arisen lately as to its circulation an independent commission was appointed and reported the average circulation for March to have been 345,468 copies a day.

Ratio of Mortality.

The mortuary statistics for the month of May are to hand and they show the ratios of mortality according to population in various places to have been as follows:—Woodstock .36, Galt .41, Peterborough .66, Guelph .76, Belleville 1.11, St. Thomas 1.05 Kingston 1.61, Toronto 1.19, Hamilton 1 85, Ottawa 1.85. Peterborough stands third lowest on the list with six deaths, one male and five females, one of whom, the male, died of constitutional disease, one from a local disease and four from a developmental disease.

A Very Sad Affliction.

The family of the Rev. Dr. Burwash, Chancellor of Victoria University and President of the Bay of Quinte Conference, has been sorely bereaved. The latter part of last week one child was buried, having died from a malignant type of diphtheria, and yesterday three more children were carried away by the same terrible disease. Dr. Burwash will have what comfort the deep sympathy of the people who have known him throughout the Province can give in this most sorrowful affliction that has befallen him. Other members of the family are ill with the disease. Rev. Mr. Pearson has received a communication with reference to relieving Dr. Burwash of his duties as President for a time.

The Late Geo. V. Walker.

The President of the Canadian Philatelic Association contributes the following to the Halifax Philatelist for June:—"It is with feelings of the most profound regret, which I am sure will be shared by all the members of the C.P.A., that I, as President, announce to the Association the demise of our valued Vice-President for Ontario, Mr. George V. Walker, which sad event occurred very unexpectedly on Thursday, the 6th of June, at his late residence in Peterborough, Ontario, at the early age of 22 years. Deceased was an active, energitic and enthusiastic philatelist, whose early death robs our Association of one of its most useful members and officers."

Sons of Canada.

At the regular meeting of Peterborough Lodge, No. 12, Sons of Canada, last evening the following officers, who will be installed on the evening of Monday, July 8th, were elected for the ensuing term:—

The Central Exhibition.

The Board of Directors of the West Peterborough Agricultural Society held a meeting at the Morgan House on Saturday afternoon to make further arrangements for the Central Exhibition to be held on Sept. 24th to 27th inclusive. President Rutherford occupied the chair and all the directors were present. The Secretary was instructed to write and invite Hon. John Carling, Dominion Minister of Agriculture, to attend and formally open the Exhibition on Sept. 25th, and also to arrange with Mr. H. W. Kent for the erection of telephone poles from Crescent-st. to the grounds. Arrangements were made with Mr. J. J. Turner for his large tent, 62x40 feet, so as to be able to give more room for exhibits. By this the directors will be in a position to afford more accommodation for exhibitors and at the same time relieve the building from the crowded state it was in at past exhibitions, making it more advantageous for exhibitors and pleasant for spectators. A committee to revise the prize list was appointed, consisting of Mr. W. Rutherford, the President, and Messrs. Vance, Tully and Elliott. Another committee was appointed to lease the grounds or buildings for circuses, shows or sports, to consist of Mayor Stevenson, Mr. A. P. Morgan and the Secretary, Mr. Collins. The Board adjourned to meet on July 8th at 2 o'clock at the Morgan House.

CHEESE BOARD.

The Board of 2,547 Boxes Cleared at Good Prices.

The Cheese Board met to-day in the old music hall when twenty factories boarded 2547 boxes. The Liverpool quotation was 47s. The buyers present were Messrs. Wrighton, Flavelle, Cook, Fitzgerald and Cluxton. The bidding was brisk and lively, and the board was cleared, although considerably cut up. The cheese boarded was as follows:—

PETERBOROUGH DISTRICT.

Factory.	No. of Boxes.
Keene	225
Warminster	183
Shearer	225
North Smith	178
Central Smith	166
Cherry Grove	138
Missing Link	98
Warsaw	86
Westwood	170
Norwood	210
Melrose Abbey	95
South Dummer	196
Pine Grove	97
Otonabee Union	80
Maple Leaf	80
Bensfort	80
Total	2316

LINDSAY DISTRICT.

Factory.	No. of Boxes.
Reaboro	46
Bobcaygeon	111
Scotch Line (Star)	93
Cambray	60
Total	211 2336
Grand total	2,547

The bidding was started by Mr. Cook who offered 8c. for the board. Then Mr. Wrighton raised it to 8½c. for board, Mr. Bird offered 8½c. for selections and Mr. Cook bid 8¾ for the board and Mr. Wrighton 8⅞c. for board, but Mr. Bird wanted his selections and was willing to give 9c., for them. Mr. Cook stayed with him, however, and offered 9⅛c. for the board. So it went on until finally Mr. Bird silenced the other bidders by offering 9¼c., for selections, and at this figure he got three factories—Keene, Shearer and Cherry Grove. Then Mr. Cook wanted the balance, but Mr. Cluxton was after some further selections and after starting at 9⅛c. the latter gentleman got his selections at 9 3-16c. The factories he secured were Warminster, North Smith and Maple Leaf. Mr. Cook then got the remainder of the board at 9⅛c. having to raise his bid over Mr. Bird and Mr. Cluxton, who were after other selections.

Turning the First Sod.

This morning a group of eminent citizens might have been seen on the top or the hill near the Barnardo Home. The party carried pegs, tape lines, an axe and spade. The number included the contractor for and architect of the new North Ward School, and the mission in hand was to lay out the ground prepartory to excavating the foundation. The position of the building on the lot was approved by several of the trustees present, and amidst general concern for the safety of the spade, Councillor Kendry lifted the first load of turf and soil and carried it outside the line of excavation. It is understord that the contractor, in keeping with the usual procedure at ceremonies of the kind, will present Councillor Kendry with the spade, suitably marked on the handle, in view of his important services on this occasion. Men will be set to work to-morrow to take out the cellar, and next week the stone work will be started.

TUESDAY, JUNE 25, 1889.

HER LIFE FOR HIS.

"Him Karenga, Bwana," replied the sententious Uledi.

"Karenga? Oh, I'd forgotten her! Poor old girl! Well, we must stop that game of theirs. Marzouk, you might fire now!"

Bang went the gun, with what result could not be known, for in the chorus of yells and howls which followed fright could not well be distinguished from injury. "They've had enough," laughed Oliphant, forgetting for the moment the desertion of his men and all prospective troubles and difficulties in the flush of victory. Uledi looked grave in spite of the sounds which assured him that the enemy were again on the river and paddling away.

"Him go, Bwana, but him come back."

"Well, he can have a second edition if he likes."

"Bwana," said Uledi in a low voice pointing to the kegs lying glistening in the moonlight on the top of a packing case, "those are all we could find."

Oliphant whistled. Just then Marzouk rose from his knees, in which posture he had been carefully examining the gun, and came toward him with clasped hands and dejected countenance.

"Bwana!" he said, appealingly. Marzouk was a good fellow and true, but he had little English, and of that little trouble of mind had bereft him. "Bwana, the gun is dead!"

"What do you mean?" asked Oliphant somewhat sharply in Swahili.

Poor Marzouk fairly dropped on his knees. "Bwana, I didn't do it. I don't know how it happened. Come and look at it. It will break if it is fired again."

Oliphant went over and investigated matters as well as he could by the moonlight and the help of a match or two. There was an undoubted crack, and it was evident that another shot, or at most two, would fulfill Marzouk's prophecy. He remained looking at it in gloomy silence, while Marzouk stood at "attention" before him, with the air of a man who is going to be hanged and knows that he deserves it. He looked so miserable that Oliphant was quite touched and roused himself up to administer consolation.

"There, there, nobody blames you for it. It's a flaw in the iron—it wasn't your fault. Well, it can't be helped. If Suleyman comes again we'll fire her off and send the pieces flying at him. And what's to be done now?"

"We may beat them off before the cartridges are done," he continued. "If not, there's nothing for it but to take to the bush. We might reach Itembo, get a canoe there, and so go down to Bangala. But we can't leave the powder and guns for Suleyman. Put the big powder keg and all the petroleum casks ready in the store tent and anything else that will burn. And get together all the rifles you can find—all except your own—we must dig a hole and bury them."

IV.—'GAINST FEARFUL ODDS.

Suleyman's men came back re-enforced before the night was out. The gun burst, as Marzouk had predicted, and hurled a great mass of metal over the gateway, but without hurting anyone inside the boma. The flintlock muskets kept up an incessant crackling and thick and fast came the fiery arrows whizzing through the air.

Already three or four black figures had appeared above the gate and fallen back with a yell at the crack of Oliphant's rifle; and now, when they seem to have fallen back a little and there was a lull in the firing, the chief turned and laid his hand on Uledi's shoulder, asking him in a whisper whether he had any cartridges. Uledi shook his head sadly. The others, however, had about a dozen left between them.

"Don't use them now," said Oliphant; "it's no good. They are coming up to fire the gate and the boma. I saw them bringing burning brands. Feraji, you go quietly and undo the little back gateway. Marzouk and Uledi, take your guns and come with me. I am going to blow up the magazine."

In three minutes more they had rejoined Feraji outside the postern gate, and were stealing silently in Indian file along the narrow, tortuous path that led through the jungle to the nearest village of the Bokomela.

They had not gone very far before a crash like a sharp, sudden clap of thunder shook the ground under their feet, though the jungle was too thick for them to see the pillar of flame that rushed up into the sky, to the momentary discomfiture of the Arabs, who were pouring in like salamanders over the battered down gate and blazing boma.

Poor Karenga shrieked, and flung herself down, and with her hands over her eyes, to shut out she knew not what fearful sight.

Don't ask me to describe the day that followed such a dawn. It was the end of the rainy season and the best parts of the track were knee deep in black, sticky mud, while in other places there were streams to be forded, or flooded tracts only to be crossed by springing from root to root of the trees.

The villages they reached were mostly deserted for fear of the Arabs, and the provisions they had with them soon exhausted; but in spite of hunger cold and weariness, Oliphant struggled on.

To be Continued.

ST. JEAN BAPTISTE FETES.

A Monument to Jacques Cartier Unveiled at Quebec Yesterday.

QUEBEC, June 24.—The St. Jean Baptiste festivities were opened this morning at River Lairet, a short distance from the city, where 353 years ago Jacques Cartier, the immortal discoverer of Canada, landed amid the awe-struck savage tribes and planted a cross in the name of France and Christianity. At 9 o'clock the artillery announced the beginning of the divine service, Cardinal Taschereau officiating, assisted by two bishops. At the elevation of the host, bugles sounded, drums rolled, artillery fired a royal salute while the troops presented arms.

After service Lieut.-Gov. Angers went through the official inauguration of the Cartier-Brebeuf monument and then awarded gold, silver and bronze medals for the best essays on the life of Jacques Cartier. The procession was then formed and marched through the principal streets of the city.

The number of visitors is very great. They are from all parts of Canada and the United States. Yesterday the different sister societies from Canada and the United States presented their homage to His Eminence Cardinal Taschereau, who received them with his habitual kindness. Pro-Mayor Tessier held a reception at the City Hall, which was well attended. In the evening an enormous bonfire was lighted by Lieut.-Governor Angers, which was answered by similar bonfires all along the banks of the St. Lawrence. It was the prettiest thing ever seen in Quebec and was witnessed by hundreds of thousands of spectators.

Chicago's Celebration.

CHICAGO, June 24.—The French-Canadians here observed to-day as a holiday, and marched through the streets with bands, banners and allegorical floats.

An Afflicted Family.

COBOURG, June 24.—Dr. Burwash, Chancellor of Victoria University, has lost two more children by that dreadful scourge, diphtheria. On Thursday last one son died, aged 5 years; another son died this morning, aged 8 years and 8 months, and an only daughter, aged 11 years. Another child is ill with the same disease.

Received and Pardoned

OTTAWA, June 24.—Frank Beard, the 19-year-old English youth who was clandestinely married to Miss Taschereau, daughter of Judge Taschereau and niece of the cardinal, has been received and pardoned by the bride's father. He receives a salary of $35 a month.

Guelph Board of Trade.

GUELPH, June 24.—An effort is now being made to reorganize and increase the membership of the Guelph Board of Trade. An adjourned meeting for the election of a council and other business will be held in the Council Chamber, city hall, to-morrow night.

Probably Is Did.

OTTAWA, June 24.—Sir John Thompson, Minister of Justice, is still in Kingston. An official here states that he is firmly of the opinion that the presence of A Battery quelled a threatened revolt.

FRIDAY & SATURDAY, JUNE 28 AND 29

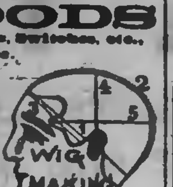
Prof. Dorenwend, of Toronto, and his big stock of

HAIR GOODS

Ladies' Frontpieces, Bangs, Waves Wigs, Switches, etc., Gent's Wigs, Toupees, etc.

Don't miss it. Come and see the new styles. Something to suit every face. Prof. Dorenwend has completed his new spring designs which he will show here. The stock on this visit will be the most complete yet offered. Every lady should consider the great benefit of having a nice becoming head dress. With one of the Professor's pieces you can dress your hair quicker and get a better effect than by arranging your own. Gentlemen who are bald will find that by getting a real fine Wig or Toupee they will be less liable to diseases and their personal appearance will be improved a thousand per cent. Drop in at the show rooms and see the fine assortment.

Remember at Phelan's Hotel on Friday and Saturday, June 28th and 29th. 3d149-2w25



ATTRACTION

—AT—

TURNBULL'S

The first month of summer is an interesting period to the retail buyer. Keep your eye on this column, it's newsy. Each week things will appear that are the month passes will likely make you richer for the reading.

There is scarcely a weak spot in our Trimmed Millinery yet. The latest hat kind are turning up their pretty faces every day and all the time floods of freshness and brightness keep pouring in new goods constantly. That job line of Untrimmed Hats we spoke of last week is what pleases everybody, variety and prices being right. This week we have placed on our Dress Goods counter a dozen pieces of Fancy Dress Cloths at fifteen cents a yard. The only reason we can conceive that these goods have not sold earlier at higher prices is that they were too new. They ought to, and no doubt will, go out very fast now. Attention is called to them. Shanting Pongee, the dustless kind. You know how the heathen Chinee crams dust into the common run of Pongees; he does not do it to the Shanting—Pure Silk and clean. These goods make up beautiful with our fine Henriettas.

In the Tweed Department we have a fine line of Halifax Tweeds that handle soft and fleecy, just as they ought to handle.—Sale price 35 cents.

We expect to-morrow's train to bring us in a large shipment of Corsets. We keep what our judgment says is the best make in the trade. We see representatives from all the factories. Our 50c. Corsets, we believe, are the best shown in Peterborough for years.

We have been able to repeat that line of Ladies Black Hose, heavy weight, at 15c. a pair. Those who have had these goods will be glad to hear they can get them again now.

Pink is the favorite color in Chambrays this season again. A fresh lot just arrived.

We keep suits for boys and small boys either with or without trimmings, at all prices. Before you buy see them.

SUICIDE AND ATTEMPTED MURDER IN MANITOBA.

A Slick New York Forger Works a Number of Montreal Brokers—Suicide at Clinton—Blew Her Brains Out.

WINNIPEG, June 25.—A farmer named McDermott, living near Elkhorn, shot his wife three times last night while insane. He then took laudanum and while he was asleep she stole out of the house. This morning his body was found hanging in a barn, he having committed suicide during the night. The wounded woman will recover.

The Methodist Conference to-day passed resolutions condemning the Jesuit Bill.

An Icelandic boy was drowned at Selkirk to-day.

SUICIDE AT CLINTON.

A Stratford Man Named McCoy, While Drunk, Takes Paris Green.

CLINTON, June 25.—About 9.30 this morning a man named McCoy, while under the influence of liquor, purchased an ounce of Paris green, took it to the hotel, mixed it up and drank it. As soon as it was known what he had done efforts were made to give him emetics but he resisted and the services of Chief Paisley were enlisted. He took the man to the Council Chamber, where a stomach pump was used, after which McCoy was put in the lock-up. He died about 5 o'clock. While in the cell he had battered his head badly against the walls. McCoy was a stranger here; his friends are supposed to live in Stratford.

Blew Her Brains Out.

HALIFAX, N.S., June 25.—Hattie Coared, aged 19, blew her brains out at Laurencetown, near Halifax, Sunday afternoon. Her body was found at midnight in a clump of bushes near her parents' house; she was lying on her back and had an open knife tightly clenched in her right hand and a pistol all smeared with blood, resting on her breast. She had shot herself through the mouth. The back of her head was shot to a jelly.

A CLEVER SWINDLE.

How a Young New Yorker Worked Montreal Brokers by Forged Checks.

MONTREAL, June 25.—A young man named Charles Kesler, hailing from New York, succeeded in getting several forged checks, purporting to be signed by J. J. Curran, M.P., cashed to-day by a clever ruse. The swindler called up a number of brokers' offices by telephone and told them he was Mr. Curran and that a boy would be around in a few minutes with a check which he would like cashed as it was after banking hours. The boy duly appeared and in several instances the checks were cashed.

A Colporteur's Close Shave.

OTTAWA, June 25.—A colporteur named Trappier had a narrow escape at the Edbrum-Russel company's works. He went there to distribute Bibles and tracts among the French Catholics, many of whom attempted to mob him. They threatened to drive him out of town and over fifty dogs were actually gathered for the chase. A French Catholic named Lachapelle interposed and saved him, but not a moment too soon.

Whitby Presbyterian Festivities.

WHITBY, June 25.—The Presbyterians have been having three days' festivities over the reopening of St. Andrew's Church, which has been in the hands of decorators and upholsterers for many weeks. Special sermons were preached Sunday by Principal Caven. There was a social and lecture by Dr. Grant of Kingston last night, and another social to-night.

An Ottawa Hotelman in Luck.

OTTAWA, June 25.—W. J. Minns, manager of the Grand Union, got word to-day that he drew a $15,000 prize in the last drawing of the Louisiana lottery.

Six Were Drowned.

ALBANY, June 25.—Edward F. Cote, 25, John J. Mattimore, 22, Albany; Maude Horner, 17, Maggie Horner, 15, Bath-on-the-Hudson; Kate Ryan and Mary Hennessey, Hudson, were run down by a tug while boating on the Hudson to-night and drowned.

Kenny Didn't Know Le Caron.

LONDON, June 25.—At the meeting of the Parnell Commission to-day Joseph Edward Kenny, M.P., denied that he had introduced Le Caron to Mr. Sexton. He never knew the man. He declared that he would not admit such a man to his house, as he showed by his face that he could not be trusted.

Switzerland Heeds the Powers.

BERNE, June 25.—As a result of the complaints made by foreign powers of the actions of Socialists and others in Switzerland the Government has appointed a permanent public prosecutor to strengthen the control of the police over the movements of the refugees.

Washed Ashore at Nantucket.

NANTUCKET, Mass., June 25.—Several English electric lamps have been washed ashore on the west side of the Nantucket since the last report. They are thought to be from the steamer Victoria.

THE BAROMETER OF WAR.

FRANCIS JOSEPH'S SPEECH DEPRESSES THE BOERSES.

But the Emperor Doesn't Think Matters are so Bad as They Look—Jack the Ripper's Latest Victim.

LONDON, June 25.—A despatch from Odessa says that war clauses have been added to nearly all Russian private commercial agreements.

The Standard's Vienna despatch says: Emperor Francis Joseph, speaking individually to the delegates yesterday, said the public and the press view the foreign situation in a far more disquieting light than the facts warrant either in Roumania or Servia, where good immediate prospects of peace exist.

The Russian censorship of the press, which has never had a reputation for extreme leniency, has redoubled its vigilance in the past two weeks, and is now so rigorous that the items of news which come by telegraph from St. Petersburg or elsewhere in the empire are of the mildest and most colorless nature. Everything of a political character is now forwarded by Russian correspondents by mail as far as the German frontier, whence it is telegraphed. Such news as is allowed to filter through in this way confirms the reports heretofore received of the strained relations between Russia and Italy, and indicates that the Italian Ambassador at St. Petersburg, M. de Marochetti, finds himself at the Russian Court in a position that is all but unbearable. The Russian Imperial family is preparing for a yachting cruise in the waters of Finland, but the Czar will not accompany them.

The Boerses Depressed.

VIENNA, June 25.—The speech made by Emperor Francis Joseph in receiving the Delegations has had a depressing influence on the Vienna and Berlin Boerses.

The Neue Freie Presse says the Emperor's remarks indicate definitely that the idea of conciliating Russia has been abandoned, otherwise the Emperor would not have referred to Bulgaria as he did.

An Alarming Rumor.

PARIS, June 25.—Rentes fell here yesterday on the receipt of a telegram from Strasburg saying an alarm was sounded there early yesterday morning, and the whole garrison turned out in heavy marching order.

A New Strategic Railway.

LONDON, June 25.—Austria has begun the construction of a second strategic railway. It will run from Hatvan to Miskolcz, in Hungary.

The News in Paris.

PARIS, June 25.—The Government considers the sentences imposed at Angoulême upon Deroulede and Laguerre were not severe enough and has lodged an appeal to have the judgment set aside and the cases re-tried.

The Boulangist, Imperialist and Monarchist journals are jubilant over the result of the trial and characterized it as another blow at the Government.

Prince Victor Napoleon has written a letter endorsing the sentiments expressed in the manifesto of the members of the Right in the Chamber of Deputies, in which the action of the Republican majority is condemned and an appeal made to the people to unite in the name of France and Liberty against Parliament and Feudality. The Prince says a Government based upon the sovereignty of the people can alone insure greatness and prosperity to the nation.

Jack the Ripper's Latest Victim.

LONDON, June 25.—The name of the woman whose body was cut up and thrown into the Thames recently was Elizabeth Jackson. This fact has been established by scars on the body and by the clothing. She was of low character and was in the habit of frequenting common lodging houses in Chelsea. The theory that she was a victim of Jack the Ripper is again revived.

Preparing an Encyclical.

ROME, June 25.—The Pope is preparing an important encyclical letter which will be issued on St. Peter and St. Paul Day.

DRUGGISTS IN COUNCIL.

An Association Formed Yesterday at Guelph—The List of Officers.

GUELPH, June 25.—A meeting of the druggists of Wellington, Peel, Halton, Dufferin and Cardwell was held in the City Council Chamber to-day for the purpose of organizing an association. W. Colcleugh of Mount Forest was elected chairman and W. G. Smith of this city secretary pro tem. Others present were: P. H. Perry and R. Phillips of Fergus, T. Stevenson, J. R. Dodds and A. Turner of Orangeville, J. H. McCollom of Milton, R. Wood of Erin, A. B. Petrie, T. S. Petrie and Dr. Herod of Guelph. A constitution and bylaws were adopted, after which these officers were elected:

President, W. G. Smith, Guelph; First Vice, Thomas Stevenson, Orangeville; Second, J. H. McCollom, Milton; Third, R. H. Hodgson, Brampton; Secretary, W. Colcleugh, Mount Forest; Treasurer, L. W. Yeomans, Mt. Forest; Auditors, R. Wood, Erin, and J. R. Dodds, Orangeville. Committee on Chemistry, Pharmacy and Legislation—L. W. Yeomans, A. B. Petrie, Dr. McGuire, J. R. Dodds and Thos. Ruston. Trade and Commerce—W. G. Smith, Thos. Stevenson, R. H. Perry, J. McCallum and C. Stark. Grievances—W. Colcleugh, T. P. Smith, A. Turner, T. S. Petrie and P. Wood. Entertainments—R. Jamieson, Dr. Herod, W. Colcleugh, L. W. Yeomans and R. Phillips.

As the time for nominating a representative for the college has passed it was decided to take no action in the matter. Great dissatisfaction was, however, expressed at a circular purporting to come from the Brantford Association nominating certain members as candidates for the college, being representatives of associations, which is misleading because it is not the fact.

Before adjournment, which took place at 5 o'clock, the association decided to hold its next meeting at Brampton.

Sale of Phosphate Lands.

OTTAWA, June 25.—Mr. Angus McMillan who for some time has been placing on the market his phosphate mining lands has effected a sale for $15,000 to an American syndicate. The property is within a short distance of the Little Rapids on the Lievre River, and promises very well. The new syndicate will take possession before the end of the week.

THE KINGSTON EMBEZZLEMENT.

Deputy Postmaster Burns Committed for Trial in the Love Case.

KINGSTON, June 25.—The case of Deputy Postmaster R. T. Burns, charged with taking $382 from Mrs. Love for deposit in the savings bank and afterwards appropriating that amount of Her Majesty's funds, was heard. Acting Chief Inspector Sweetnam of Toronto and Inspector Griffin of Kingston watched the case for the Government. The prisoner declined to elect how he should be tried. Mrs. Love and Money Order Clerk Deacon gave evidence for the Crown. The magistrate committed the defendant for trial.

The Premier's Vacation.

OTTAWA, June 25.—It is understood that Sir John Macdonald will leave for the seaside on July 3 if public business will permit.

GOSSIP ABOUT ROYALTY.

Edmund Yates Writes of Queens, Princes and Eastern Potentates.

LONDON, June 25.—The Queen left Balmoral yesterday afternoon for Windsor, where she will not stay much more than a fortnight before going to Osborne. The Prince and Princess of Wales dined at the castle to-day with the Queen. There will also be a dinner party on Thursday. The Queen will come to town on Thursday week for the Marlboro Lodge garden party. During the Queen's present stay at Balmoral a messenger has left London every morning, dispatched from Buckingham Palace and the Home Office alternately. These messengers leave King's Cross at 10 and arrive at Balmoral at 2 the next morning. The return messenger leaves the castle at 1 and reaches Euston station at 8 the following morning. The Queen deals every morning with the boxes which arrive during the previous night. Usually she sends them back by return messenger the same day.

The royal agricultural show at Windsor was opened under most favorable conditions. The most interesting feature so far has been the visit of the Prince and Princess of Wales, who, with their five children, attended morning service on Sunday in the show yard. To suit their convenience this service, generally held at 11, was postponed until 12 o'clock. The Prince and Princess brought Lord and Lady Londonderry, Lord Cadogan, Lord Fife, Lord Clonmel, Col. Montague and Christopher Sykes. The platform upon which the Dean of Windsor, assisted by one of the minor canons and a surpliced choir, was waiting to begin the services, was crowded with royalties. Prince and Princess Christian and their young son and two daughters were also present. A great many other well known people were among the congregation.

The Shah of Persia will never probably know to what extent he is indebted for the reception which waits him in England to the energy and influence of the Prince of Wales. The visit, when first proposed, was very unfavorably received in many quarters, but the Prince's arguments about geographical position, the flank of India and the advance of Russia carried the day and silenced all would-be objectors.

The opposition in the city was dumfounded at the idea of H. R. H. being adopted by the leprosy committee, and this has caused a commotion among them which bids fair to eclipse that created by Sir Morell Mackenzie's book. The college views with much disfavor the idea of creating a leper centre in the metropolis. The official heads of the profession are very angry at not having been consulted before the movement was initiated. Sir Andrew Clark was averse to it, yet his name appeared on the committee in the face of three categorical refusals, and he is not a little indignant at this unfortunate mistake.

The Prince of Wales while at Ascot last week did his best to bring about an understanding between Lord Durham and Sir George Chetwynd. Lord Durham's motto has been "no surrender" from the first. He avers that it is a warning against the system, not against the individual. I am not surprised that His Royal Highness' well-meant mediation was unattended with the desired result.

The judges who are going on the northwestern circuit have just received an intimation from the Mayor of Liverpool that the Shah will visit the town during the assize. This will create a curious question of precedence, for the judges always take rank as representatives of the Queen, and difficulty will arise as to what they will do. Justice Stephen is not likely to make any difficulty, but it will trouble the soul of the Lord Chief Justice sorely, to whom his rank, position and precedence are such a vital satisfaction.

Last week George Lewis, acting under instructions from Mrs. Mackay, served writs in an action for libel against two well-known newspapers, one published in London, the other in the country. Sir Charles Russell will appear for the plaintiff, whose object is to discover, if possible, and severely punish the real authors of the gross slanders in question. In the event of obtaining damages Mrs. Mackay proposes to give them to a London charity. EDMUND YATES.

AMBITIOUS CITY NEWS.

The Sunday Observance Convention—Equal Rights Association—Girl Burglars.

HAMILTON, June 25.—The convention called to form a permanent organization for the protection and preservation of the Lord's day met this morning in the schoolroom of St. Paul's Church. Rev. D. L. Brethour was elected chairman and Rev. John Mordy secretary. A resolution was adopted that forms of petitions be prepared and forwarded to ministers of the gospel in charge of congregations, with a request to have them signed by residents of 21 years of age and over in their respective localities, and returned to the executive before a date agreed upon hereafter. In the evening a public meeting was held in James-street Baptist Church, when addresses were delivered by Rev. George Burson of St. Catharines, Rev. D. L. Brethour, Ph.B., Thorold, and others.

A branch of the Equal Rights' Association was organized here yesterday on the lines laid down by the Toronto convention on June 12. These officers were elected: Chairman, Edward Martin, Q.C.; Vice-Chairman, Dr. Macdonald; Treasurer, K.A. Colquhoun; Secretary, William Murray; Executive Committee, Revs. R. G. Boville, R. J. Elliott, Mungo Fraser, R. J. Laidlaw, Samuel Lyle, John Pickering, J. S. Ross, D. H. Fletcher, Messrs. A. Gaviller, Wm. Bell, James Hutchison, Seneca Jones and John Alexander. The work of circulating petitions praying for the disallowance of the Jesuit Estates Act was fully considered and arrangements made to secure signatures. The association will meet on July 2.

Canon Myles of Montreal, who is in the city, has received a pressing invitation to accept the position of rector in charge of Christ Church Cathedral, but has not yet signified his intention of accepting it. Canon Myles is at present in charge of Trinity Church, Montreal.

Mrs. Brown, wife of the humane M.P., was yesterday presented with an address by the Directorate of the Art School in recognition of her services as President of the Art Exposition.

The corner stone of the new Y.M.C.A. building was laid last evening.

On Saturday afternoon some little girls entered the house of Mrs. Irvine, 84 Tisdale-street, while she was absent and ransacked the place. They took away a bracelet, a gold ring and a bottle of perfume. The house of Mrs. Hill, 75 Tisdale-street, was also entered and a gold watch taken. Constable Campaign recovered all the articles, but in view of the extreme youth of the culprits they were not prosecuted.

This morning Redmond F. O'Brien, a telegraph operator from Detroit, was arrested for stealing a coat belonging to John Saltz, from the Great Northwestern telegraph office. O'Brien was trying to dispose of the garment, when he was nipped. He is suspected of having stolen other coats.

The Rowlin nuisance case was finished to-day. The magistrate reserved his decision until Thursday.

The Fall River Celebration.

FALL RIVER, Mass., June 25.—Clear skies smiled upon the third day of the grand festival of St. John the Baptist and the weather left nothing to be desired to complete the success of the big French-Canadian demonstration. The parade made a most imposing display.

CAMP NUMBER TWENTY.

ONE OF THE INNER CIRCLE TELLS ALL HE KNOWS.

How Cronin was Tried, Found Guilty of Being an English Spy and Sentenced to Death—His Assassins Selected By Lot.

CHICAGO, June 25.—One of the inner circle of Camp No. 20 of the Clan-na-Gael, a man who attended the meeting when Cronin was tried and sentenced to death, has told State's Attorney Longenecker all he knows. There were ten men present at this meeting, and one of them—the State's Attorney's informant says—refused to vote on the death sentence because his heart and nerve failed him. He insisted that Cronin should be present and heard in his own behalf, but, as might have been expected, this reasonable request was refused. The charge against Cronin—that he was a British spy—was brought up by a man whose name has been prominently identified with the case, but preferred through a second party. The man who conducted the prosecution was an Irish lawyer here, an honest fellow under ordinary circumstances, but a blind follower of his leader. The names of seven of the ten men present at the secret meeting are in the possession of the State's Attorney, together with the name of the lawyer who acted as prosecutor upon that occasion. A German saloon on the North side is given as the rendezvous of the Inner Circle at the time the trial took place, but it is not thought that the conspirators would have chosen this place when there are saloons kept by good Clan-na-Gael men in plenty in that section of the city.

The informer has been on nettles ever since the body of Cronin was discovered, and at last determined to ease his conscience by telling the State's Attorney everything. He did not vote at all on the death penalty, he says, and Judge Longenecker is inclined to believe him. The meeting of the inner circle, at which Cronin was condemned, was held one Friday night in the latter part of February. Whether the Senior Guardian of the camp presided or not is not as yet known; at any rate the informer says he was there. Those in attendance were men known to be faithful, beyond a shadow of a doubt, to the behests of their superiors. Cronin was found guilty of being a British spy and the punishment was fixed at death. Death was always the penalty which traitors paid, and Cronin was to be no exception to the rule.

The law of the order is that whenever dangerous work is to be done, if no one volunteers for the mission, lots must be drawn in the camp to which the accomplishment of an object is intrusted, and the brother to whom chance awards the task undertakes it without question and without thought of life or liberty. In the matter of the removal of Dr. Cronin no volunteers were called for. It was necessary to preserve the greatest secrecy, for Cronin was a man of many friends, and some of them were sufficiently attached to him to run the risk of their lives to save his. Lots were therefore drawn. The names of those present were put on separate slips of paper and the lottery of murder was carried out in all its details. The names of the men selected for the fearful deed were not made known at the meeting. No one knew the names of the men who were to "remove" Dr. Cronin except the man who was to notify them that they had been selected for the act of blood and were expected to begin at once. This man was one of the prisoners now under arrest, and he directed the murderous proceedings.

Chief of Police Hubbard said last night: "Dan Coughlin was not at home the night of May 4; he was not at the East Chicago-avenue station and we have traced him almost to the very door of the Carlson cottage."

The police will not say that Senior Guardian John F. Beggs is one of the men who is eagerly and anxiously wanted, but it is a fact that detectives were looking for him all day. It is not believed that he has left the city and therefore his usual haunts were thoroughly searched without success.

Detective Palmer had a long interview with Judge Longenecker early in the morning and about an hour later a flurried looking man was admitted to the Judge's office by the side door. He was a Clan-na-Gael man, and he was the one who gave the State's Attorney the names of seven of the ten men who compose the inner circle of Camp No. 20.

The trial, condemnation and execution of Dr. Cronin was entirely in accordance with the usages of the Clan as practised in other cases, notably that of the informer Carey, who was tried by the same process under which Dr. Cronin suffered death.

The gravity of the charges made against the men composing the inner circle of Camp No. 20 is fully appreciated by the State's Attorney, who has had several officers detailed to guard the informer, to prevent harm being done him. He will not be arrested, and no sign will be made by the officers that would indicate to the conspirators that he is under the protection of the police.

These disclosures confirm the worst apprehensions of the character of Clan-na-Gael. The facts show pretty conclusively that this organization should have no abiding place in the Republic, but be destroyed root and branch. The authorities here have a very serious business on hand. They may rightly claim the sympathy and support of every right minded man in the world. It is a crime against the country and the civilization of the century which they are bringing to light. The task is difficult, but the necessity of punishing the guilty is urgent.

The Burke Extradition Case.

WINNIPEG, June 25.—The indications are that the only evidence to be given in the Burke extradition case to-morrow will be that identifying the prisoner, other witnesses being unable to arrive in time.

It transpires that on the day of his arrest Burke sent a telegram to a friend in Hancock, Mich., telling him not to reply to a note sent him. Burke did not take the telegram to the office himself but got another person to take it. This is an important fact, as it forms another link in the chain of evidence against the prisoner.

"Try Ayer's Pills"

For Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout. Stephen Lansing, of Yonkers, N. Y., says: "Recommended as a cure for chronic Costiveness, Ayer's Pills have relieved me from that trouble and also from Gout. If every victim of this disease would heed only three words of mine, I could banish Gout from the land. These words would be—'Try Ayer's Pills.'"

"By the use of Ayer's Pills alone, I cured myself permanently of rheumatism which had troubled me several months. These Pills are at once harmless and effectual, and, I believe, would prove a specific in all cases of incipient

Rheumatism.

No medicine could have served me in better stead."—C. C. Rock, Corner, Avoyelles Parish, La.

C. F. Hopkins, Nevada City, writes: "I have used Ayer's Pills for sixteen years, and I think they are the best Pills in the world. We keep a box of them in the house all the time. They have cured me of sick headache and neuralgia. Since taking Ayer's Pills, I have been free from these complaints."

"I have derived great benefit from Ayer's Pills. Five years ago I was taken so ill with rheumatism that I was unable to do any work. I took three boxes of Ayer's Pills and was entirely cured. Since that time I am never without a box of these pills."—Peter Christensen, Sherwood, Wis.

IS IT A DREAM?

THE schemes of imperial federation and inter-imperial trade have been said to be dreams that it would be impossible to realise. Many who felt drawn towards these politics by the strong sentiment of loyalty to the Mother Country have held back on account of the fear that they were impracticable. Yet the subject of inter-imperial trade is receiving attention in England. At a recent meeting of the Association of the Chambers of Commerce, a North Staffordshire Chambers delegate remarked on what he feared were dangerous separatist tendencies in colonial politics and continued:—

"This direction of events could be changed by drawing together the bonds of union which united the Mother Country to the colonies, by enlisting them in the ranks of defence, by giving them a voice in Imperial deliberations, and CONCEDING ADVANTAGES OVER THE REST OF THE UNIVERSE IN THEIR COMMERCIAL DEALINGS WITH THIS COUNTRY."

There is no doubt that such a course as that indicated as to trade relations, were an equitable arrangement made, would be advantageous to the colonies and to Great Britain, and, consequently, to the Empire. In addition to the strong sentimental and material ties binding the Empire together, it would forge another link in the commercial chain which binds the outlying portions to the Mother land. It is a remarkable fact that at the next annual banquet of the Cobden Club Sir Thomas Farrer and Mr. Giffen will introduce the question of giving a preference to Canadian wheat and West India sugar. This is remarkable because it was from free traders, such as the members of the Cobden Club, that the strongest opposition to inter-imperial trade, or the policy of discriminating in favor of British products, was expected to come. In this connection the following from the London Chronicle will be of interest:—

"Why should there not be absolute free trade between the various sections of the Empire, or some arrangement whereby special advantages should be enjoyed by British possessions in regard to British trade? The report of the council of the Imperial Federation League suggests a reason why such advantages are not obtainable at present. We are told that among the serious obstacles to trade reciprocity between any two countries of the Empire are those treaties between the United Kingdom and certain foreign countries which 'expressly preclude' preferential fiscal treatment of British goods in the colonies and dependencies of the British crown.' It seems strange that the Government of this country should have agreed to conditions of this sort. We find it difficult to understand why England, of all countries, should thus allow her hands to be tied. No other nation is in the same position. We might just as well agree to have Ireland dealt with on the same basis as the colonies. Of course such treaties stand in the way of the realization of those Canadian aspirations to which we have referred. But will the nation allow these limitations to be continued indefinitely for the advantage of our foreign rivals? We think not. There is a growing desire for closer union, and an increasing appreciation of the advantages to be obtained from greater freedom in the trade relations between the Mother Country and the colonies."

Another Industry.

A representative of an industry now established at Plainville, Ohio, was in town to-day inspecting the facilities for establishing a branch of the industry here. The company manufactures an article which is not made in Canada, although in demand. The gent was shown around town and was favorably impressed with what he saw.

Our National Holiday.

On the evening of Dominion Day the grandest display of fireworks that has been seen in Peterborough will be given at the P. A. A. A. grounds under the auspices of the Fire Brigade. Prof. Palmer, of Rochester, whose reputation is well-known, is to furnish the fireworks for the occasion and no one should fail to witness the grand display. Besides the pryotechnic display the Fire Brigade band will be in attendance and will discourse some of their choicest selections during the evening, so that there will be combined with the fireworks a first-class band concert.

A Peculiar Liquor Case.

A peculiar case came up at the Police Court this morning, when Cornelius Wall was charged with selling liquor under the Crooks Act without a license. Wall is a tanner, employed in W. Paterson & Son's tannery, and he lives in a house on Aylmer-st. just opposite the tannery. The peculiar feature of the case is the fact of Wall being a private citizen who does not or has never kept an hotel or sold liquor. It would appear from the evidence that what caused him to get into trouble was his hospitality and generosity in treating any of his friends who he chanced to meet on Sundays. Three witnesses testified that they had beer to drink at Wall's on different Sundays, but they all swore most positively that they paid no money for the same. They knew "Con" kept a keg in the house, and went around to see him. Wall was allowed to give evidence in his own defence and he stated that he had always kept beer in the house ever since he had been married, but he had never sold a glass in his life. Any persons whom he asked in to have a drink had given no money or consideration of any kind, but took it as it was given, in the spirit of hospitality. One of the witnesses had "chipped in" with Wall and helped buy a keg for Sunday, but they never charged for the drinks but had it so they would not have to go around to the hotels. The Magistrate said he would dismiss the case, but he warned the defendant against the dangerous habit of treating in such a wholesale manner and having a crowd going to his house for drinks. Mr. E. B. Edwards appeared for the prosecution.

Flowers for Decoration Day.

On Friday next the local Oddfellows decorate the graves of their deceased brethren, and a large supply of flowers of course will be required. The brethren will be deeply indebted to the ladies and others who may be able to contribute flowers, if they would leave them at Mr. H. Long's confectionery store, or Mr. A. Mercer's, the former being for Peterborough and the latter for Otonabee Lodge. The ladies of St. John's Church, who are holding a garden party at Mr. Stethem's to-morrow evening, will have wreaths and boquets for sale on the grounds, which will be suitable for any of those who may desire flowers for the afternoon.

DIED.

LYNCH.—In Otonabee on June 25th, MICHAEL LYNCH, aged [illegible] years.

The funeral will leave the family residence, lot 21, Concession 14, (half-mile south of the Locks Bridge), on Thursday morning, June 27, at nine o'clock, and proceed to St. Peter's Cathedral, thence to the Roman Catholic Cemetery.

'A Spring Message'

From the New Firm of

H. LeBRUN & CO.

Sign of the Golden Horse-shoe.

The people of Peterborough and vicinity are all aware of the business change which took place in the CITY CLOTHING STORE on the first day of February last. The new firm beg leave to make their first bow to the public through the columns of the REVIEW, and to request a careful perusal of the following Spring and Summer circular:—

The City Clothing Store

in past years, by long experience in business, by buying always for spot cash, importing direct from the principal houses of the old country and from the leading houses of Canada, and by strict economy in conducting its business, has always been able to force prices down to an exceedingly fine point. The members of which the new firm is composed will form a still stronger "combine," by which the CITY CLOTHING STORE will be even better prepared to procure for its customers a continuation of those superior inducements in the future for which it has been noted in the past.

Men's Clothing.

The magnitude of our stock and lowness of prices gives us a great advantage over all other competitors in the trade. We carry in stock all the fast selling lines, styles and patterns, and can fit the tall, the short, the fat and the lean. MORE SUITS, BETTER FABRICS, FINER STYLES than were ever handled before.

Special values in FINE SPRING OVERCOATS, and Fine SPRING and SUMMER SUITS. Don't fail to see them. The superb styles, workmanship, and the beautiful fabrics and patterns that we offer will surprise you.

Merchant Tailoring.

"For the apparel oft proclaims the man."

Fine dressers in search of new, neat and nobby OVERCOATINGS, SUITINGS or TROUSERINGS will find this department crowded to overflowing with cloth from all countries. To select from the largest assortment is an advantage we offer to our customers, backed up by the skill of experienced cutters and tailors. Besides perfect fit and first-class trimmings, we guarantee absolutely first-class workmanship.

Boys' and Youths' Clothing.

Clothing for the little ones—boys and children—has always been a specialty with us. We have always sought to give great values in this department, and to provide a larger and finer variety of goods for parents to select from than they could find elsewhere.

This means that we are showing a large assortment of BOYS' and CHILDREN'S SUITS, BOYS' and CHILDREN'S BLOUSES, SHIRT WAISTS, PANTS, &c.

This spring there are an unusual number of new and nobby styles and an enlarged variety of fabrics and patterns. Be sure and see our stock.

Gents' Furnishings.

Gentlemen of Peterborough seeking the latest styles and best values for their money, as well as an opportunity of selecting from the largest stock of Furnishing Goods, should not fail to visit this department at once. We offer the finest, best selected and the largest assortment of NECKWEAR, HOSIERY, UNDERWEAR, GLOVES, SHIRTS, HANDKERCHIEFS, etc., to be found in any first-class establishment.

Obituary.

Mr. Michael Lynch, of Otonabee, passed away yesterday at the advanced age of 86 years, after an illness of about two months duration, caused by the weight of the years that he had borne. Mr. Lynch was borne in County Cork, Ireland, in 1803, and came to America about the year 1837. He remained four years in New York state, and then came to Canada, settling in Otonabee on lot 24, concession 14, where he resided for nearly fifty years, until the time of his death, retaining the respect of a large circle of friends. His oldest son was killed in the United States civil war at the first battle of Bull Run, and he leaves a family of three sons and two daughters, one of whom, Mr. Edward Lynch, resides at the homestead. The funeral will take place from his late residence at 9 o'clock on Thursday morning and proceed to St. Peter's Cathedral and thence to the Roman Catholic cemetery.

LOCAL SPORTS.

The Wheelmen's Meet—Going to St. Catharines—Canoeing.

A meeting of the wheelmen was held in their club room last evening, when arrangements were made for the second of their fortnightly meets which is to be held to-morrow night on the P.A.A.A. grounds. The races, which were interesting last time, will be more exciting to-morrow evening, as the boys are now interested and have been doing considerable riding which will make the events closer and more interesting.

The trip to St. Catharines on Dominion Day for the association meet there was also discussed at the club meeting last night and arrangements for the visit were considered. It is probable that ten of the local 'cyclists will take in the meet and they expect to have a big time. Those who will likely represent the Peterborough club are Messrs. R. B. Rogers, Alex. Gibson, Fred Might, F. Matthews, J. E. Dolan, Jas. McGill, J. McKim, W. H. Meredith, A. H. Stratton and R. Fife.

Sporting Sparks.

The cricket eleven left at noon to-day for Port Hope to play a match there with the local eleven.

The Otonabee Canoe Club will hold their second fortnightly regatta on the Little Lake on Friday evening next. A good evening is expected and all canoeists should attend.

A baseball match may be arranged for Friday afternoon next.

Very Convenient.

Townspeople will not have to go far on Dominion Day to enjoy a picnic where there will be ample provision for entertainment. The programme at the picnic in the grounds of St. Joseph's Hospital, Ashburnham, will commence in the morning with a baseball match between teams from the Lock Works and Wm. Hamilton's Works, followed by a tug of war. Dinner will be served on the grounds, and in the afternoon a programme of sports and games will be carried out. Prof. Doucet's orchestra will furnish music for dancing during the day. The attendance will no doubt be large. 1d

Canoe Races at Toronto.

The canoe races to be held in Toronto on Dominion day under the management of the Toronto Canoe Club, the Mail says, are looked forward to with much interest by the aquatic fraternity generally. The city has presented a large number of handsome medals to be competed for by all amateur canoeists who are members of any recognized canoe, yacht, or boat club. The T.C. C. will turn out in full force, and many competitors from outside clubs are expected. The programme of races will be issued immediately, and no time should be lost by intending competitors in making their entries with the secretary of the T.C.C., Mr. W. H. P. Weston, 65 King-st. east. Besides the competitor's name the entry should give the name of the club to which he belongs and the dimensions of his canoe.

"At Home" At the Parsonage.

The "At Home" given at the parsonage of the George-st. Church by Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Pearson last evening proved a very enjoyable and sociable success. The attendance was large and a freedom and social spirit prevailed which could not fail to make all feel at home and therefore enjoy the evening. Refreshments were served during the evening, and the social intercourse was broken at intervals by the rendition of a short programme. Mr. A. Rutherford performed the duties of chairman. Vocal solos were given by Mrs. Daly and Misses Glass, Miller and Sophie Cameron, which were acceptably rendered and duly appreciated. Mr. W. H. Dingle gave an excellent piano solo, and good recitations were contributed by Misses Gray and Sanders and Mrs. Goldsmith, of New York. Mrs. Goldsmith rendered her contributions in a capital manner and was compelled to respond to three requests during the evening. It was shortly after ten when the gathering dispersed, delighted with the evening and wishing Rev. Mr. Pearson and his family continued success during the term of his pastorate upon which he be has just entered.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

THE BOARD OF TRADE.

AN ANIMATED MEETING HELD IN THE COUNCIL CHAMBER.

The Ontario Pump Company—Extending the Bridge Works—The New Market Buildings—The Plans and Action of the Town Council Condemned.

The Board of Trade met last evening in the Council Chamber, and filled comfortably the chairs of the ward councillors. There were present Messrs. Meldrum, Fair, Bellegham, Manson, Lewis, Brooks, Minore, Dumble, Kelly, Dobbin, Hay, Loch, Pollie, Cahill, Matthews, Macdonald.

The minutes of previous meetings were read and confirmed.

REPORT OF A COMMITTEE.

The Manufacturers Committee to whom had been referred the question of bonusing and the application of the people to encourage the development of industries in the town, had handed a written report to the secretary which, while it endorsed the system of bonusing, yet in reference to the case of the Ontario Pump Comany, it stated that the only information that the committee had been able to obtain was the verbal communication of the manager of that company, they, therefore, did not deem it advisable for the Board to express an opinion upon the matter until all the correspondence had been laid before it.

Mr. CAHILL, as chairman, gave some reasons as to the committee arriving at the decision as noted.

The report was adopted.

EXTENDING THE BRIDGE WORKS.

Mr. DOBBIN brought up the matter of encouraging a home manufacturer as well as inducements offered to outsiders to come in and locate here and referred to the proposed extension of the Central Bridge Works, by Mr. W. H. Law, the proprietor. The works were capable of being extended very much. Mr. Law needed more room for additional plant and if the room was provided the output would be largely increased. The suggestion was made by the speaker that the Manufacturers Committee should meet Mr. Law and discuss any proposition he would offer looking to the employment of a larger number of hands.

After some discussion in which Messrs. Dumble, Cahill, Pollie, Meldrum and Kelly tood part, it was moved by Mr. Pollie, seconded by Mr. Hay, that "This Board would respectfully request the Town Council to confer with Mr. W. H. Law with a view to the extension of the Central Bridge Works and consequent employment of a larger number of men in town, and would urge upon the Council the advisability of rendering Mr. Law such assistance as will enable him to do so."

The resolution was carried.

THE MARKET BUILDING.

Mr. DUMBLE said there was a matter within the province of the Board which, he thought, they should express an opinion upon and that was the market building which was being erected by the town. The building was being constructed for market purposes and the benefit of the people and not for erecting stores for the rental derived. He said they should not consider the rent which would be derived, and make the farmers' wives and townspeople climb upstairs into room with a thirty-foot ceiling which could never be heated. What was wanted was a good market building on the ground floor which would advertise the town. It was just possible that the plans might have been changed, but he thought at all events the Board should express itself so decidedly that a change would be ensured, and he therefore moved, "That in the opinion of this Board the new town buildings should be so erected that there may be ample room for all market purposes on the ground floor."

Ma. Lewis seconded the resolution.

Councillor CAHILL replied to Mr. Dumble, remarking that he should act on the defensive as he was chairman of the Market Committee of the Town Council. He explained the plan of the building which had been decided upon, according to which shops were to be on the ground floor, the rents of which it was expected would pay the interest on the debentures. The building would cost probably $20,000 and would be one of the finest market buildings in the Province. He thought the matter had gone too far for the Council to change the plans, and he hoped the Board would consider all the facts before adopting the motion.

THE PLANS CONDEMNED.

Mr. DUMBLE rose and in a most emphatic manner expressed himself in regard to the proposed building. He said the Council had acted in a high-handed manner in reference to this market building, by proceeding to erect the building and forcing the plans upon the people without submitting a by-law to the ratepayers. He was surprised at Councillor Cahill, who was so level-headed, endorsing such a course, and he objected strongly to the policy of the Council in sacrificing the accommodation and convenience of the people for a little rent. He thought the Council should change these plans or they would most assuredly hear about it. It was an outrage and the Board should express itself strongly upon the matter.

Mr. LOCH thought the blunder had been made when the present town buildings had been built. He endorsed all Mr. Dumble had said.

Mr. BELLEGHEM also agreed with Mr. Dumble and did not think they should have a market upstairs. There was time to change the plans and he thought all the members of the Board should express themselves on the matter.

Mr. POLLIE asked if a rental could not be derived for a public hall if the market was on the ground floor and a hall above.

Mr. MELDRUM did not think the town should come into competition with private individuals by renting shops on George-st. He thought the market should be on the ground floor, and believed it a great mistake and an outrage to ask farmers' wives and townspeople to climb upstairs.

Mr. LEWIS agreed with what Mr. Dumble had said, for he did not think it was a matter of revenue, but a question of market.

The resolution was adopted.

NEW MEMBERS.

The following gentlemen were proposed as members of the Board:—Messrs. A. J. Gough, W. A. Stratton, T. E. Bradburn and Robt. Neil. These names were balloted on and the gentlemen duly elected.

Mr. CAHILL moved, seconded by Mr. POLLIE,—That Mr. Dumble be added to the Manufacturing Committee.—Carried.

A meeting of the Council of the Board will be held on Friday evening.

The Outing at St. Leonard's.

The children of the Convent enjoyed their outing at St. Leonard's yesterday immensely, and the day will be remembered by the little ones. It was spent in picnic fashion and mirth and games of all kinds which were entered into with a zest by the scholars. His Lordship Bishop O'Connor visited the grounds during the afternoon.

A PRESENTATION.

A Young Man Remembered by his Friends on the Eve of his Marriage.

Last evening a number of the friends of Mr. Louis Squair gathered at the Commercial house and entertained that gentleman at a complimentary supper on the eve of his marriage this afternoon to Miss Lottie McGill, of Bethany. During the evening Mr. Squair was presented with the following address which was accompanied by an elegant dinner and tea set:—

DEAR FRIEND LOU,—It is with mingled feelings of pleasure and regret that we are gathered here to congratulate you upon your approaching happiness, and at the same time bid farewell to you as one of ourselves. We realize that in your new relationship there will be other and dearer ties to bind you to the one you have chosen as a life partner, and though we hope to often meet you in future and sustain the friendship of the past, we can no longer claim you as one of the boys.

Permit us to wish you the very greatest joy and add the hope that that you may never regret having left the ranks of bachelorhood and become a benedict.

We will greatly miss you in more ways than one. On the field of sport you were ever present, and we were all proud of your athletic powers. As a jolly good companion also, we esteem you highly. May we hope that in your new found joy you will not entirely forget your old associates.

As a slight token of our regard for you, we ask you to accept the accompanying dinner and tea sets.

May they ever serve to remind you of the pleasant times you spent with us before you determined upon seeking a higher happiness.

In conclusion we wish you and your bride a long and happy wedded life and may sorrow and trouble never cast their shadows over you.

Congratulations and good wishes were in order during the evening and Mr. Squairs' friends will wish him prosperity in his wedded life.

The Daily Review.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 26, 1889.

HER LIFE FOR HIS.

It might have been the sixth day of their wanderings in those awful woods—Oliphant says he had quite lost count of the time. He was dragging himself along in stolid endurance, feeling that, on the whole, it would be much pleasanter to lie down and die on the spot, only it wouldn't do.

Just here it was that suddenly the deep boom of the war drums and clash of the war bells was heard at a distance, and nearer by an answering yell of ya-ha-ha-ha-ha, and out of the ghastly blackness of that deadly forest burst half a dozen naked warriors, with leopard skin shields and broad bladed spears.

Then in one swift flash of freakish memory, Oliphant seemed to be back in "Meads" at Winchester, himself a little chap, cheering away with all his might because they had won the match against Eton.

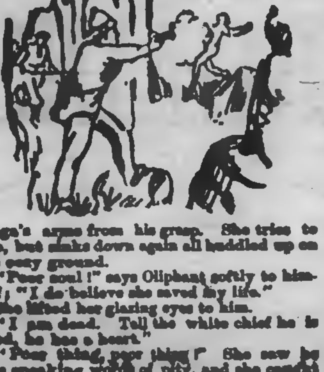
"Uledi! Uledi! Nju hapa! Come up, quick!" He fired; the foremost savage dropped with a yell. He aimed a second time and pressed the trigger with all his might; the weapon would not go off. He tried again it was no use; there was another man not a dozen feet away with a light assegai poised to throw. Oliphant, in a sort of desperation, lifted the revolver in both hands and dashed it in his face. He dropped the assegai and ran back. Oliphant sprang forward, picked it up, and, with a desperate energy of fighting blood once up, attacked a third enemy with it.

At the same time he saw on his left a fourth bearing down on him with a huge broad bladed spear that would have sliced a man in two at a single blow. He saw, but in his preoccupation with the adversary before him, his mind, as it were, failed to grasp this other danger.

In another moment it would have been too late, but just in that one undecided moment a dark figure sprang between them, sprang like a wildcat at the tall warrior's throat, seized him round the neck, and hung clinging there till he reeled under her weight, dropping his spear, gasping, choking, trying in vain to shake her off, for all the life and strength of her body seemed to have gone into the grasp of those bony hands.

Oliphant, hard pressed by the three yet unwounded ones, makes a drive with his spear, it breaks off short in his hand after transfixing one. Well, as well first as last!

"Bwana! Bwana! Here is your gun!" and Uledi thrusts it loaded into his hands and lays about him with the butt end of his own. One or two shots scatter those still able to flee. Three are left on the ground, two dead—the other? Uledi cooly delivers a smashing blow on his head and frees Karenga's arms from his grasp. She tries to rise, but sinks down again all huddled up on the oozy ground.



"Poor soul!" says Oliphant softly to himself; "I do believe she saved my life."

She lifted her glazing eyes to him.

"I am dead. Tell the white chief he is good, he has a heart."

"Poor thing, poor thing!" She saw he was speaking words of pity, and she caught his hand in her feeble grasp and laid her cheek against it.

"What does she say, Uledi?"

"She wants to know if she will go to the white man's land now!"

Oliphant felt helpless and perplexed. His mother knew how to comfort poor souls like this. If she had only been in his place, and those wild, hollow eyes fixed so pleadingly on his.

"Tell her, Uledi," he said, choking down something very like a sob, "tell her she is going to God, and he loves us all, loves white and black alike, and no one will be cruel to her any more."

I do not know whether Uledi interpreted faithfully or whether she understood. Her eyes still rested on his face with a wistful, loving look like that of a dog; she smiled a little and stretched out her feet and was gone.

Oliphant took up the poor body—he could not bear to leave it there in the wood—and laid it, with Uledi's help, in a deep cavity among the roots of a tree—that was better than no grave at all. And then they looked at each other with sad, hopeless eyes, and went on together through that horrible wilderness.

For the reader's satisfaction I may add that Oliphant reached Bangala in safety, along with Uledi and Feraji, and that all three are at the present day alive and well, and distinguishing themselves in the service of the Etat Independent du Congo.—A. Werner in Longman's Magazine.

APSLEY AFFAIRS.

An Interesting Budget of News Notes from the North.

Correspondence of the Review.

OBIT.—Mrs. T. Eastland, of Lakefield, mother of our esteemed townsman, Mr. T. G. Eastland, passed from earth and its troubles on Wednesday, 19th inst. The deceased lady and her family have been so long and intimately associated with this place that her demise has cast a gloom over the entire community. The sympathy of her large circle of friends here is extended to the mourners in their affliction.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT.—The superintendent, officers and teachers of the Apsley Union Sunday School desire to acknowledge the donation of $[illegible] to their school funds by St. Paul's Church, Peterborough, through Mr. Spear, resident Presbyterian missionary.

A WOMAN HANGED.

Mrs. Whiteling Suffers the Death Penalty at Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 25.—Mrs. Whiteling was hanged here this morning for the deliberate poisoning of her husband and two children with arsenic, for the purpose of securing the insurance on their lives.

The woman's bearing throughout the ordeal was a most remarkable exhibition of fortitude and resignation to her fate. During the entire morning she never for a moment showed the slightest evidence of weakness and frequently expressed her pleasure at the "prospect of meeting her husband and children." Mrs. Whiteling spent her last night walking about in her cell singing and praying. She ate with apparent relish a breakfast consisting of fried eggs, toast and chocolate. She was then taken to another cell, where she was joined by her spiritual advisor, Rev. W. D. Jones, of the South Methodist Episcopal Church. Mrs. Whiteling joined in the devotional services with considerable spirit and apparently obtained much comfort therefrom.

She was escorted to the scaffold by two ministers. She walked firmly and showed no hesitation. At 10.07 the trap was sprung. The fall was about five feet, and the physicians stated that death was instantaneous from strangulation, though the heart continued to beat spasmodically for some time thereafter. The body was turned over to Dr. Alice Bennett of the Norristown Hospital for the Insane for examination of the brain, after which the body will be buried by the side of the murdered husband and children.

[Mrs. Whiteling's husband died March 20, 1888, apparently of gastric fever. April 24 followed her daughter Bertha, 9 years old, apparently of gastric fever also. Thirty-two days later Willie, her 2-year-old son, died, apparently of congestion of the bowels. June 12 of the same year Mrs. Whiteling confessed to having poisoned her two children with rat poison, but denied having caused the death of her husband. Two days later she told the coroner how she murdered her husband by putting rat-poison in his egg-nogg. She was convicted of the three murders and sentenced to death. Opponents of capital punishment tried hard, but unsuccessfully, to secure a commutation of sentence to life imprisonment. It is believed the unnatural wife took her husband's life for the insurance upon it; also that of her eldest child, whose life she had insured before she killed it. The baby, she said, she killed "because it was in the way." There are those who believe the woman was insane.]

Cheated the Gallows.

PHILADELPHIA, June 25.—Geo. McCann, awaiting trial for the murder of his wife, hanged himself in the county prison early this morning. His cell was but a few yards from that in which Mrs. Whiteling was awaiting execution. He hanged himself with a pocket handkerchief fastened to the door knob.

"Red Nosed" Mike's Confession.

WILKESBARRE, June 25.—One of the clergymen who attended "Red Nosed" Mike, who was hanged to-day, states that Mike left a written confession in which he admits that he shot both McClure and Flanagan, but claims he took part in the crime only through fear of his accomplices.

JENKS' DREAM.

Jenks had a queer dream the other night. He thought he saw a prize-fighters' ring, and in the middle of it stood a doughty little champion who met and deliberately knocked over, one by one, a score or more of big, burly-looking fellows, as they advanced to the attack. Giants as they were in size, the valiant pigmy proved more than a match for them. It was all so funny that Jenks woke up laughing. He accounts for the dream by the fact that he had just come to the conclusion, after trying nearly every big, drastic pill on the market, that Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets, or tiny Sugar-coated Granules, easily "knock out" and beat all the big pills hollow! They are the original and only genuine Little Liver Pills.

Beware of Imitations, which contain Poisonous Minerals. Always ask for Dr. Pierce's Pellets, which are Little Sugar-coated Pills, or Anti-bilious Granules. One a Dose.

SICK HEADACHE,

TURNBULL'S

The first month of summer is an interesting period to the retail buyer. Keep your eye on this column, it's newsy. Each week things will appear that ere the month passes will likely make you richer for the reading.

There is scarcely a weak spot in our Trimmed Millinery yet. The latest hat kind are turning up their pretty faces every day and all the time floods of freshness and brightness keep pouring in new goods constantly. That job line of Untrimmed Hats we spoke of last week is what pleases everybody, variety and prices being right. This week we have placed on our Dress Goods counter a dozen pieces of Fancy Dress Cloths at fifteen cents a yard. The only reason we can conceive that these goods have not sold earlier at higher prices is that they were too new. They ought to, and no doubt will, go out very fast now. Attention is called to them. Shanting Pongee, the dustless kind. You know how the heathen Chinee crams dust into the common run of Pongees; he does not do it to the Shanting—Pure Silk and clean. These goods make up beautiful with our fine Henriettas.

In the Tweed Department we have a fine line of Halifax Tweeds that handle soft and fleecy, just as they ought to handle.—Sale price 35 cents.

We expect to-morrow's train to bring us in a large shipment of Corsets. We keep what our judgment says is the best make in the trade. We see representatives from all the factories. Our 50c. Corsets, we believe, are the best shown in Peterborough for years.

We have been able to repeat that line of Ladies Black Hose, heavy weight, at 15c. a pair. Those who have had these goods will be glad to hear they can get them again now.

Pink is the favorite color in Chambrays this season again. A fresh lot just arrived.

We keep suits for boys and small boys either with or without trimmings, at all prices. Before you buy see them.

WHAT IS LIME JUICE?

This question is rendered necessary by the prominent attention Lime Juice is attracting as the Best Temperance Beverage. The answer is that it should be the juice of the Lime Fruit without admixture.

By the "MONTSERRAT" Company alone is the Lime Fruit cultivated for this purpose, and great care should be taken to obtain this brand (as supplied by the British Government) in lieu of the numerous concoctions sold under the name of Lime Juice Cordials, Prepared Lime Juice, etc. Sold by all Druggists, Grocers, and at the leading hotels.

FIGHTING AT NOVI-BAZAR.

THE TURKS BATTLING WITH THE INSURGENTS.

Origin of the Trouble—A Lively Scrapping Match in the French Chamber of Deputies—Bismarck Making Mischief.

VIENNA, June 26.—Despatches from Bosnia report that fighting is going on between the Turks and insurgents at Novi-Bazar. It is rumored that all the Servians in the town have been imprisoned.

The origin of the trouble in the Sandjak of Novi-Bazar is made clear by the organ of the Bosnian administration, The Bosnische Post. It states that a number of the Herzegovinian refugees to whom the Prince of Montenegro gives shelter made an incursion into the Sandjak early in May. The Turkish authorities were duly warned and gave the raiders the reception they deserved. Two of the leaders were slain, but the chief, one Risto Vujovich, escaped. The band was readmitted into Montenegro, where it was pretended that Vujovich was under detention. The Bosnian semi-official organ ironically remarks that, as the Montenegrins who break into neighboring countries to cause revolts do so under the eyes of the Montenegrin authorities, it would be far preferable if they were detained before they left. The prominent position which Montenegro now holds among the Balkan States invests the doings of its people with interest for the whole of Europe, and it is well to be reminded by occurrences of this kind of its peculiar methods.

In the Delegations yesterday, Count Kalnoky, in a long speech, strove to show that the peace of Europe was not at present endangered.

The Hungarian Government has forbidden the holding of any demonstration at the Ravanitza Monastery on the anniversary of the battle of Kosovo. The issue of passports between Austria and Servia has been stopped and no one will be allowed to cross the frontier to attend the fetes.

Francis Joseph Criticized.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 26.—The Novoe Vremya, commenting on the Austrian Emperor's speech to the delegates, severely criticises his reference to Bulgaria as being especially directed against Russia.

Russia's New Rifles.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 26.—The Russian army will be equipped with new rifles of small calibre. The weapons will be manufactured in France.

Bismarck Making Mischief.

LONDON, June 26.—The Portuguese Government to-day cancelled the concession it had granted for the building of a railroad at Delagoa Bay. The British Consul at Delagoa Bay has asked that a man-of-war be sent there to protect the interests of British subjects. It is reported that Germany is backing Portugal in an endeavor to counteract British influence in Africa.

Lord Salisbury, in the House of Lords last evening, stated that the Government had earnestly requested Portugal to refrain from taking hasty action and to give time in which to settle this considerable difficulty. He declared it would not be within Portugal's power to refuse to arbitrate the matter.

Deputies Scratch and Pull Hair.

PARIS, June 26.—In the Chamber of Deputies last evening M. Laguerre asked leave to interpellate the Government regarding the violation of Parliamentary immunity the authorities of Angouleme had committed in causing the arrest of M. Laisant and himself.

Prime Minister Tirard proposed a postponement of the matter.

M. de Montjau denounced the interpellation.

The Left applauded him, and M. Lejeunne shouted "Canaille." A row and a general scuffle followed, in which the combatants used their fists and pulled each other's hair and M. Andrieux drew a revolver.

When quiet was restored Lejeunne was excluded from the Chamber and the interpellation was postponed.

The General's Pension Stopped.

PARIS, June 26.—The Figaro says that the request of the Senate Committee, which made an investigation into the charges against General Boulanger, the payment of General Boulanger's pension has been stopped. General Boulanger will bring suit against the Government.

Another Decline in Rentes.

PARIS, June 26.—The tone on the Bourse was very weak to-day. At 2 p.m. rentes had declined 52 1-2 centimes since the closing last night.

Sexton on Boycotting.

LONDON, June 26.—Mr. Sexton, M.P. and Lord Mayor of Dublin, appeared before the Parnell Commission to-day. Mr. Sexton would not say that he opposed the principles of the Fenian society. He claimed boycotting was a necessary evil.

Typhoid at Johnstown.

JOHNSTOWN, June 26.—Surgeon Foster of the Laboring Men's Camps reported to-night that within the last 24 hours forty-nine laborers were taken seriously sick with symptoms of typhoid fever. Many of them were sent home and the others are being cared for in the hospital. The river channel above the railway bridge was for the first time opened this morning.

THE TORONTO BUDGET.

ROLAND GIDEON ISRAEL BARNETT GETS THE LIMIT.

Sentenced to Seven Years in Kingston—The Pierce Family's Misdeeds—Grand Lodge I.O.G.T. Proceedings.

TORONTO, June 27.—Roland Gideon Israel Barnett, of Central Bank notoriety, was yesterday sentenced by Mr. Justice McMahon, in the Criminal Assize Court, to the full term of seven years in the Kingston Penitentiary. At the Spring Assizes the jury decided that Barnett on Nov. 6, 1886, in Toronto, then being a trustee of two negotiable securities for the payment of $6250 each, the property of the Central Bank for its use and benefit, unlawfully and with intent to defraud, converted and appropriated these two securities to his own use and benefit. The presiding judge at that time reserved judgment on two points: Whether Barnett had committed an offence under the act and secondly whether there was evidence enough to go to the jury. Subsequently the Queen's Bench division gave judgment in favor of the crown against the prisoner and sustained the verdict of the jury. Yesterday Barnett was brought before Mr. Justice McMahon to be sentenced on the above charges. His Lordship put the usual question: "What have you to say, Roland Gideon Israel Barnett, why sentence of the court should not be passed upon you?" The prisoner replied that having thrown himself upon the consideration of the court he would look for that consideration. Barnett, His Lordship said, had been intimately connected with the wreckers of the Central Bank. Knowing the consequences the prisoner had appropriated the drafts. His Lordship thus concluded: "The sentence of the court upon you, Roland Gideon Israel Barnett, is that you be confined in the Kingston Penitentiary for the period of seven years." The prisoner seemed to consider that the one year he had already been confined in jail should have been taken into account.

Wm. E. Mahoney pleaded guilty to the indictment of larceny preferred against him. He was sentenced to nine months in the Central Prison.

William Williams, charged with larceny and housebreaking, was found guilty and sentenced to three years.

George McKay was convicted of having stolen $40 from John Coulter, a barkeeper at the Carlton House. He was let go on giving $2000 bail to appear for sentence when called for.

John O. Wood, the druggist indicted for the murder of Lily Charlton, was informed by Mr. N. Gordon Bigelow, his counsel, yesterday that he would not be required at the Criminal Assize Court. The impression prevails that the ex-King street druggist will get out of the difficulty without even a scratch. It seems that owing to the imperfect and unsatisfactory evidence to be secured, the Crown has about concluded to let the case go. It was announced at the Assize Court by Mr. Æ. Irving that the Crown would not be able to go on with the case on account of the illness of Mrs. Charlton and the absence of the nurse, Mrs. Johnston. Mr. Wood was not even called in court yesterday, and is now free to come and go as he pleases.

Among the thousand-and-one articles found in the Pierce residence by the police was a peculiarly shaped ivory fork and a tobacco pouch. On Friday night last the residence of Mr. John Ross, 623 Sherbourne-street, was broken into, and among the articles carried off were these two. The visitors tested the Ross silverware with acids, but finding it not up to the standard did not take the trouble to carry it away with them. Yesterday Mr. Ross, seeing the description of the articles, dropped into Headquarters and identified the fork and tobacco pouch as being his property. This adds another charge to the already long list which is piling up against the Pierce family. Up to date the detectives have five charges of burglary and one of shooting with intent against the prisoners, who will be asked to plead to them to-morrow. Inspector Stark said last night that with the arrest of Pierce and Andy Ennis, he believed that the gang of burglars which had been operating for the past month so successfully in the city had been laid by the heels.

The police are beginning to think there is not very much in the story told by Mrs. Annie Simpson about being robbed of $600 in the G.T.R. express between Paris and Toronto. She was examined by Inspector Stark yesterday, and betrayed an astonishing ignorance of Michigan where she says she hails from.

The Grand Lodge Independent Order of Good Templars held its second session yesterday. Grand Chief Templar J. H. MacMullen presided. J. B. McKinnon, Grand Councillor of the Grand Lodge, Scotland, with Mrs. McKinnon and Mrs. Shipway were introduced to the Lodge. The visitors gave an encouraging account of the work across the pond. As soon as this pleasing portion of the program was past, the subject of the next place of meeting was taken into consideration. Galt was unanimously selected. These officers were elected:

Grand Chief Templar, J. H. MacMullen, Toronto; Grand Councillor, Frank Metcalf, Blyth; Grand Vice Templar, Mrs. Scott, St. Alban's Ward; Grand Superintendent of Juvenile Templars, John E. Wilson, Galt; Grand Secretary, Thomas Lawless, Hamilton; Grand Treasurer, A. Burritt, Mitchell; Grand Auditors, John T. Dyson, Toronto, and W. J. Turnbull, Paris. Daniel Rose was recommended as Deputy Right Grand Templar for Ontario.

The executive was instructed to make arrangements for a Templars' picnic to be held in Huntsville, Muskoka, about the middle of July.

More than 18,000 signatures have been obtained by the Equal Rights Association for disallowance of the Jesuits' Estates Act.

Gossip From Guelph.

GUELPH, June 26.—A writ was issued this morning on behalf of Wm. McCarroll against Dr. Herod, Chief Randall and Police Constable Hammond for $2500 damages for false arrest and imprisonment. It is alleged that McCarroll left Dr. Herod's employment, and was arrested right afterwards on last Friday night on a charge of owing his late employer $5. He was kept in the cells all night and on Saturday morning, no one appearing to prosecute, he was discharged. He claims that there was no justification whatever for his arrest.

Five more dogs have fallen victims to poison, in addition to the former list; and if the poisoners are caught there will be a hot time. Mr. Richard Watt, Surrey-street, has lost two hounds; Mrs. Challoner, Glasgow-street; a black and tan; Herbert Horning, Glasgow-street, a spaniel, and Rev. G. R. Turk, Dublin-street, his valuable English hound, the mother of which sold for $500 guineas. There is said to be an exodus of valuable dogs to the country on account of the slaughter which has taken place this week.

Gov. Foraker Renominated.

COLUMBUS, O., June 26.—The Republican state convention to-day renominated J. B. Foraker for Governor on the second ballot.

A Wholesale Horse Thief Arrested.

WINNIPEG, June 26.—John T. Cable, a well-known horseman, was arrested here last night for stealing sixty horses at Calgary three years ago. One of those implicated in the robbery gave the police the information.

TORONTO AND THE C.P.R.

The City and the Railway Board by the Railway Committee.

OTTAWA, June 26.—This was a field day before the Railway Committee of the Privy Council, nearly five hours being consumed in discussing the important relations that now exist between the City of Toronto and the Canadian Pacific Railway. As time goes on, the importance and magnitude of the Queen City's water front cannot be over-estimated, and although the subject has been before the public in one shape or another for several years, yet certain things are now coming to light which amply bear out these statements. The entrance of the big railway from the east down the west bank of the Don River over the very expensive improvements which the city is now making—this is but a minor consideration when put beside the control of the immense water-front paradise of the prosperous Queen City of the West. The Railway Committee itself seemed to be fully aware of this fact to-day and Sir John Macdonald and his colleagues will no doubt give the matter "their most serious consideration" before they permit any act of spoliation or usurpation on the part of the railway.

Stripped of their technical language the two points are these: (1) Will the Canadian Pacific Railway have the exclusive right of coming down the west bank of the Don? and (2) Will they be allowed to fill in about 28 acres of water lots on the new Windmill line and retain the same for their own exclusive and private benefit without paying the city a rental or any compensation—that is, will the company be handed over the fee simple of these 28 acres, the city to have no say whatever in the matter? These are the two points in the dispute.

After a great deal had been said all round Sir John Macdonald announced these decisions:

As to the exclusive entrance down the west bank of the Don they would get a report from one of the Government engineers, who would confer with the Canadian Pacific, the Grand Trunk and the city engineers. They would see just how the land lay and whether it would be judicious to give the Canadian Pacific an exclusive strip of its own and also set apart another strip for other roads who in the future might come in that way.

As to the water lots, that was of the utmost importance. The committee would give it every consideration, and everyone who was in any way interested would be heard by the ministers. Sir John invited the fullest discussion and recommendations from the citizens, the Board of Trade, etc., and all their representations would be carefully considered. It might be necessary to have another conference shortly, he said; everyone, therefore, interested is at perfect liberty to offer suggestions or objections to the committee.

PLEADING FOR KEMMLER.

His "Electrocution" Apparently Indefinitely Postponed.

AUBURN, June 26.—Since the conviction of William Kemmler at Buffalo for murder and his sentence to death by electricity considerable interest has been excited by electrical expert opinion concerning the use of the electric current as an agent for producing death. Bourke-Cockran has been retained by some unknown parties to defend Kemmler. He came to this city yesterday morning to plead for the murderer before Judge Day. Mr. Cockran was soon joined by George Quimby, District Attorney of Erie county, and Charles S. Hatch, the lawyer who defended Kemmler on his trial at Buffalo.

Mr. Cockran opened the case, and in his eloquent plea held up to ridicule the commission of experts which reported in favor of killing criminals by electricity. He disputed the legality of the sentence upon the ground that the punishment was cruel and that while it might not result in death it certainly would result in torture. He asked for his discharge.

Mr. Cockran filed the papers with the court, and then addressed the court for an hour, during which he said that the constitution forbids the infliction of cruel and unusual punishment, and no State Legislature has the right to inflict any punishment not within the meaning of the constitution. In the case of Felton, who killed the Duke of Buckingham and asked that his hand be cut off as a punishment, it was established that the right to inflict torture had no place in the system of English jurisprudence. This mode of execution was only an experiment, to be handled by inexperienced and incompetent men. The State, he said, cannot experiment with human life.

Mr. Cockran closed by offering to prove that the punishment was cruel and unusual, and that it could not be lawfully inflicted.

Attorney-General Tabor followed, arguing that the law was constitutional, and that the Legislature had the power to inflict the death punishment by electricity. He went into the history of the appointment of the commission, and said that the members were smart men. In closing, he objected to the admission of Mr. Cockran's evidence, but the court held that the evidence was necessary in order to pass upon the question.

It was agreed to have evidence taken by a referee, and Counsellor Tracy C. Becker of Buffalo was appointed referee. The case was then adjourned to July 30. The evidence will be taken during July.

CROP PROSPECTS.

Decidedly Above the Average—Wheat, Oats and Rye Far Better Than Usual.

OTTAWA, June 26.—Crop reports from sixty district correspondents in Ontario show reason for gratification at the prospects. All speak of the excess of rain doing much damage on the lowlands, but in spite of this the crops are, on the whole, nearly everywhere pronounced decidedly above the average. Grain is doing splendidly. Wheat, oats and rye are all far better than usual. Barley is good, peas excellent and most of the root crops are doing well. Potatoes, however, are seriously damaged by the wet, and so is corn. Hay is scarcely up to the average and fruit is considerably injured. Further heavy rains will injure the whole harvest seriously, but, on the other hand, average fine weather now will give far more abundant harvest than usual.

The British Invasion of the U. S.

BALTIMORE, June 26.—The Manufacturers' Record states that an association of English capitalists will build extensive iron and steel works and establish a new town at Cumberland Gap, on the line between Tennessee and Kentucky. Over $4,000,000 has been paid out and upwards of 80,000 acres of mineral land has been purchased. Over $7,000,000 more has been pledged for the enterprise.

New England's Defender.

MYSTIC, Conn., June 26.—The monument to Captain John Mason, called the "Defender of New England in 1637," was unveiled to-day on Pequot Hill, the site of the old Pequot fort.

The City of Cleveland Released.

DULUTH, June 26.—The steamer City of Cleveland was released from the rocks below Two Harbors and brought here to-day. She is damaged about $16,000.

Five Bodies Recovered.

ALBANY, June 26.—The bodies of five of the six victims of Tuesday night's drowning fatality on the river above this city were recovered to-day.

A RAILWAY CALAMITY.

TERRIBLE TRIPLE COLLISION IN PENNSYLVANIA.

Twenty-five or Thirty Persons Killed—Ten Dead Bodies Recovered—List of the Dead—Eleven Injured.

LATROBE, Pa., June 26.—A triple collision of freight trains occurred near here on the Pennsylvania Railroad at 2.30 o'clock this morning. Thirty cars were wrecked, 25 or 30 persons killed and 11 injured, several of whom may die.

The debris of the wreck is being rapidly cleared away. Up to 6 o'clock to-night ten dead bodies have been recovered. Those of Engineer Caldwell and Fireman Fralick have not yet been found. The dead recovered are:

Geo. Corgal, aged 23, of Jersey City; Hugh Kelly of Philadelphia; unknown man about 35 years, 5 feet 11 inches in height, weight about 170 pounds, black mustache and hair; John Critchlow of Homestead, Pa., aged about 35, leg and arm were burned off; three unknown men; C. R. Ferguson—in his memorandum was the name; C. E. Harden, miller, Northumberland Co., Pa.; Myers Marhood, aged about 35; Benjamin Emerich, supposed to be the front brakeman, about 35 years old.

The injured number eleven and four of these are in danger. The others it is believed will recover. The dead are being taken to an undertaker's and prepared for burial. It is almost certain that from 25 to 30 people were killed in the wreck. The water in the creek where the accident occurred is twelve feet deep, and it is expected 10 or 12 bodies are in the bottom of the creek held by the wreckage.

Flagman Miller states that the proper signal was given when the position of the shifter was discovered and Engineer Caldwell answered but the speed was too high.

When the ill-fated train left Bolivar about forty workmen boarded her but Conductor Barnhart put them off at Derry. When the train left there a great many of them boarded her again. Four of the injured taken from one car stated that 11 others were in the car and in another box car it is stated by one of the rescued there were 15 or 20 men. One or two of the bodies taken from the wreck were terribly burned by the lime which covered the wreck. At 9 o'clock to-night the work of clearing the debris was discontinued for the night.

The loss to the railway company will reach $1,000,000.

The "Cow" Again.

PINE BLUFF, Ark., June 26.—A passenger train on the St. Louis, Arkansas and Texas Railway struck a cow at the trestle across Crooked Bayou. The engine was thrown from the track and went across the ties and shattered the bridge to pieces. The express, baggage and mail cars and two passenger coaches went into the bayou, 28 feet below. S. C. Stafford, express agent, was killed. Postal Clerks Jackson and Hanguin were probably fatally bruised. A lady suffered contusions about the head. A large number of people received less serious injuries.

Went Down an Embankment.

NASHVILLE, June 26.—An accident has occurred near Bledsoe, on the Chesapeake and Nashville Railroad. The passenger and baggage coaches went down an embankment. It is reported that several persons were buried in the wreck.

A DYNAMITE PLOT AT HARVARD.

An Abortive Attempt to Blow Up the Old College Hospital.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 27.—The fondness of the Harvard students for all sorts of mad pranks has shown itself time and again in divers ways, but it now appears to have reached the dynamite stage. But if the college faculty, or the police, for that matter, discover who are the mischievous students who have essayed to imitate the Nihilists and Anarchists their punishment will probably deter all other students of Harvard from following their example.

All old Harvard College men will remember a two-story frame structure that stands on Holme's Field, just beyond the rightfield foul line of the ball grounds. It was formerly a college hospital, but for years unoccupied, except when baseball games were in progress, when the students took possession of it. Yesterday morning, on the window sill, on the lower floor of the old hospital, there was discovered a large piece of cardboard, perforated with ten holes, in each of which was a dynamite cartridge, of the orthodox pattern, properly loaded and capped and adjusted to a common fuse. Each cartridge was seven inches long and about 1½ inches in diameter. The fuse was burned down to within about two feet of the cartridges, and at the point where it had ceased burning it had been saturated with kerosene, the dynamiters showing thereby their inexperience in such things, for the kerosene, instead of hastening the burning of the fuse, as intended, had had the opposite effect, and the fuse had gone out before its spark could reach the cartridges. That the building was not totally destroyed is due only to accident.

The cartridges were discovered by Police Capt. Lacy and Patrolman McElroy, who took them to Station 1. To make sure that the cartridges were the genuine death-dealing instruments they were taken to an adjoining field, and, in the presence of a Harvard professor, one of them was discharged. It made a very loud explosion and tore up several feet of earth. Had it exploded as was intended it would have badly shattered the hospital, and if the whole ten of the cartridges had gone off there would have been nothing left of the building but a mass of splinters.

The police and the faculty are making an investigation with a view of discovering whether Harvard contains amateur Nihilists within her walls. There is no suspicion, however, that anything more serious than a striking display of dare-deviltry was intended.

Lacrossemen as Sprinters.

OTTAWA, June 26.—The 220 yards handicap race open to members of the Ottawa Lacrosse Club took place to-night. There were 15 starters. The result was as follows: C. O. Billings 1st, W. G. Cameron 2nd, G. Powers 3rd, F. C. Bate 4th. Time 25 sec. The race was very closely contested.

"Try Ayer's Pills"

For Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout. Stephen Lansing, of Yonkers, N. Y., says: "Recommended as a cure for chronic Costiveness, Ayer's Pills have relieved me from that trouble and also from Gout. "By the use of Ayer's Pills alone, I cured myself permanently of rheumatism which had troubled me several months. These Pills are at once harmless and effectual, and, I believe, would prove a specific in all cases of incipient

"I have derived great benefit from Ayer's Pills. Five years ago I was taken so ill with rheumatism that I was unable to do any work. I took three boxes of Ayer's Pills and was entirely cured. Since that time I am never without a box of these pills."—Peter Christensen, Sherwood, Wis.

A PROPOSED STOCK MARKET.

The annual meeting of the West Peterborough Farmers' Institute will be held in the Council Chamber on the afternoon of Saturday, July 6th. In addition to the usual though important business of an annual meeting, it is announced that a special subject will be brought forward for consideration. This subject is the question of the advisability of holding periodical stock fairs—a question of considerable importance and one that can only be decided by the farmers or stock breeders themselves. There are obvious advantages in such an institution. If those in the riding or district who have stock for sale brought them to one point at a specified time the dealer would be spared the trouble and expense of driving through the county picking up single animals, and this should enable him, by lowering his expenses, to give a better price for the stock he purchased. The seller would have the advantage that a market always gives in the sale of produce—he would be in a better position to obtain a knowledge of the current prices and to sell to advantage. It is unnecessary to point out the advantages of a market. In the sale of all kinds of produce they have been felt. The cheese factories would not care to abandon the cheese market and return to the old system, and although stock might not be sold on the same principle as cheese the benefits of competition should be secured by the establishment of the market. However, there may be some question as to the prospects of the success of such a market, and the question is one that can best be settled by a conference of the farmers. For that reason it is to be hoped that there will be a large attendance of those interested at the meeting on July 6th.

The Market Building.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—I have noticed that the Town Council is erecting a block of buildings on the south end of the market block. The cellars are out and the masonry is nearly complete. The plans are made and the building is being pushed on. I also notice that a by-law is being submitted to the people to know whether they will vote the money to erect these buildings—and the vote will be taken about the time the building is half up. These buildings will cost from $20,000 to $25,000. So here we have a new departure. The law requires all such expenditures to be approved of by the people, but this Council first spends the money and then asks permission.

This is treating the ratepayers with great respect, and I am sure they must appreciate it!

The Council says the building is being erected for the purpose of giving increased market accommodation.

I would have thought that an expenditure of a couple of thousand dollars on the old building would have given ample accommodation for the two butchers and the country people who bring in the produce.

It cannot be that the true object is stated. There is some other reason—something dark in the fence.

If it was intended to accommodate the people of the town and county would any sane person place the market for poultry, butter, eggs, etc., up a stairs 15 feet high?

Are the country people to be compelled to carry all their stuff up a very long flight of stairs? Are our ladies who frequent the market to be compelled to climb these stairs? Is that which might make a fine show of business and be a real accommodation to be made a nuisance, and that when it is in our power to have magnificent accommodation right on the ground floor?

It is argued by the Council that the ground floor should be retained for shops which will bring in a revenue. Revenue is not the first consideration—the whole object of the great expenditure is said to be market accommodation—then let us have that accommodation and not be compelled to wage eternal war with a 15 foot staircase. Then again why hide away our market business in an upper room, approached by a back stairs. A stranger coming into the town would not know that we had a market. Let us make all the show of business in our power. And let us accommodate our own people by having everything that is to be sold on the ground so that with the greatest comfort to all we may do our daily marketing business. Our Council no doubt desire to do the best for the people and only want to know the people's wish in order to meet it. We trust that immediate instructions will be given to the architect to arrange for a large and comfortable place for buyer and seller that the present uneasiness about this market business may be allayed.

Firemen and Fireworks.

Don't fail to witness the grand pyrotechnic display to be given on the P.A.A.A. grounds by Prof. Palmer, of Rochester, under the auspices of the firemen. The display will be as fine as the Professor can give, and will probably eclipse anything of a similar kind ever seen here. The fire brigade band will be in attendance and during the evening will give a choice programme of music. Everybody should turn out on our national holiday, as this is the only attraction of the evening.

A Child's Skull Fractured.

A sad and painful accident occurred at Nassau yesterday afternoon by which a little daughter of Mr. John Higgins, who keeps a boarding house at that place, had her skull fractured. The little girl is about five or six years old and was out in the pasture field with an older sister. A horse which was in the field was being driven out and when it was jumping the stile it kicked the little child on the side of the head fracturing her skull. The injury is a serious one, as in a case of this kind there is always danger of brain trouble. At present the child is progressing favorably. Dr. King was summoned and attended to the injuries.

George-st. S.S. Picnic.

At a meeting last evening after prayer service in the George-st. church it was decided to hold the annual Sunday school picnic on Wednesday next, the 3rd of July, and from several suggested destinations that of Campbelltown was selected as the picnic ground. The Golden Eye and palace scow will be chartered for the occasion and several committees were struck to perfect the arrangements. It is expected that, with favorable weather, the children will have a pleasant outing. There will be a general table for the children and the infant class will go free.

Rev. D. M. Mihel, Ph. B., of Belleville, was elected Moderator, and Rev. P. Clifton Parker was chosen Clerk. Rev. J. B. Huff, of Smith, was appointed on the Committee on Resolutions, and Rev. W. Peer, of Norwood, and Mr. W. Graham, of Smith, on the Committee of Application of Churches. At yesterday's session resolutions were passed condemnatory of the action of Parliament on the Jesuit Estates Bill, and declaring against the exemption of church property from taxation.

Charged With Indecent Assault.

John Quinn, a resident of the township of Harvey, was arrested in Lindsay on Tuesday on a warrant charging him with indecent assault and he was brought here at noon to-day by Constable Louis Winters, of Harvey township. The alleged indecent assault is said to have been committed on the 14th of May last, since which time Quinn has evaded arrest until Tuesday. The assault was attempted, it is alleged, upon a Mrs. Todd, of Harvey, who is said to have been pulled from a waggon on the road by the prisoner who was, however, prevented from accomplishing his vile purpose by the arrival of several neighbors. The man was brought before the Magistrate at 2.30 this afternoon, when he elected to be tried by a jury. He was remanded until Tuesday when he will be given his preliminary trial. Mr. C. W. Sawers appeared for the prisoner.

'A Spring Message'

From the New Firm of

H. LeBRUN & CO.

Sign of the Golden Horse-shoe.

The people of Peterborough and vicinity are all aware of the business change which took place in the CITY CLOTHING STORE on the first day of February last. The new firm beg leave to make their first bow to the public through the columns of the REVIEW, and to request a careful perusal of the following Spring and Summer circular:—

The City Clothing Store

in past years, by long experience in business, by buying always for spot cash, importing direct from the principal houses of the old country and from the leading houses of Canada, and by strict economy in conducting its business, has always been able to force prices down to an exceedingly fine point. The members of which the new firm is composed will form a still stronger "combine," by which the CITY CLOTHING STORE will be even better prepared to procure for its customers a continuation of those superior inducements in the future for which it has been noted in the past.

Men's Clothing.

The magnitude of our stock and lowness of prices gives us a great advantage over all other competitors in the trade. We carry in stock all the fast selling lines, styles and patterns, and can fit the tall, the short, the fat and the lean.

MORE SUITS, BETTER FABRICS, FINER STYLES than were ever handled before.

Special values in FINE SPRING OVERCOATS, and FINE SPRING and SUMMER SUITS. Don't fail to see them. The superb styles, workmanship, and the beautiful fabrics and patterns that we offer will surprise you.

Merchant Tailoring.

Fine dressers in search of new, neat and nobby OVERCOATINGS, SUITINGS or TROUSERINGS will find this department crowded to overflowing with cloth from all countries. To select from the largest assortment is an advantage we offer to our customers, backed up by the skill of experienced cutters and tailors. Besides perfect fit and first-class trimmings, we guarantee absolutely first-class workmanship.

Boys' and Youths' Clothing.

Clothing for the little ones—boys and children—has always been a specialty with us. We have always sought to give great values in this department, and to provide a larger and finer variety of goods for parents to select from than they could find elsewhere.

This means that we are showing a large assortment of BOYS' and CHILDREN'S SUITS, BOYS' and CHILDREN'S BLOUSES, SHIRT WAISTS, PANTS, &c.

This spring there are an unusual number of new and nobby styles and an enlarged variety of fabrics and patterns. Be sure and see our stock.

Gents' Furnishings.

Gentlemen of Peterborough seeking the latest styles and best values for their money, as well as an opportunity of selecting from the largest stock of Furnishing Goods, should not fail to visit this department at once. We offer the finest, best selected and the largest assortment of NECKWEAR, HOSIERY, UNDERWEAR, GLOVES, SHIRTS, HANDKERCHIEFS, etc., to be found in any first-class establishment.

In the afternoon regular trips will be made every fifteen minutes after two o'clock. Fare ten cents. 3d148

An Enjoyable Evening.

The reception and entertainment to be given in connection with the opening of the new lodge room of the Sons of England to-morrow evening promises to be of an interesting and enjoyable character. There will be a first-class musical and literary programme, which includes some of the best local talent. The new rooms can be inspected, and as there is no attraction of a similar kind, there is little doubt but that the handsome new lodge room will be crowded. The evening will be enjoyable and should not be missed by any of the friends of the Sons of England.

ELEGANT QUARTERS.

Description of the New Hall and Rooms of the Sons of England.

To-morrow has been proclaimed a public half holiday in honor of the Oddfellow's decoration day, but the day will witness another event of great interest to Englishmen who are members of the two local lodges of the Sons of England. The event which will mark the beginning of a new era in the history of the Englishmen's society in Peterborough, and make them the possessors of one of the finest suite of rooms in town will be the dedication of their new lodge room. The rooms, for there are three besides the main lodge room, are in the third storey of the Muckleston block on Hunter-st., and are remarkably well adapted to the purpose for which they have been leased. Up to the present time the Sons of England have had no hall which they could call exclusively their own, but after to-morrow they will have handsome, commodious and well-furnished quarters which will equal those of any organization or society in town and which they can with pride throw open to the inspection of the public or visiting brethren. Peterborough and Lansdowne lodges have both good membership rolls on which are some of the leading men in Peterborough, and the prosperity of the lodges, as evidenced by the grand new premises into which they are entering, is a matter for congratulation.

DESCRIPTION OF THE ROOMS.

The rooms are reached by ascending the stairway just west of Muckleston's hardware store, turning to your left and again climbing a flight of stairs which land you in a hallway. From this hall two doors lead into the Sons of England quarters. Directly across from the head of stairs is a large double door which opens into the lodge room, while to the left hand side is a door leading into the reading room. This reading-room is well lighted, is fitted with hooks for the reception of hats and coats and will be suitably furnished. On the west side of this reading room is another good-sized room which will be utilized as a committee room. Both of these rooms are nicely painted and are very suitable as reading and committee rooms. From the reading-room a door in the east side opens into a long hallway running back to the rear of the block, where, behind the main lodge room is situated the kitchen and pantry. There are also two doors at either end of this hall opening into the lodge room. This lodge room proper is a fine hall, there being only one feature which prevents it being classed as the finest in town, and that is the fact that the ceiling is slightly low. But the painter's skill has caused this slight defect, if such it may be called, to be hardly noticeable, as the coloring of the wall has been extended a short distance into the ceiling. The hall is so designed that it can be thrown into one large apartment, or by a moveable partition across the centre be made into two commodious rooms. This is an excellent plan as on lodge nights the rear part of the hall will probably be large enough for the meetings, while on special occasions the partition being removed a fine, large hall will be at disposal for a concert, lecture, etc. When all in one, the lodge room measures about 90x26 feet. The floor has been covered with a rich carpet, the walls have been kalsomined a beautiful terra-cotta color, the wood work is beautifully grained, the ceiling is nicely decorated, and when the handsome new furniture, which will be of blue rep, is put in with elegant new gaseliers, the hall will present a remarkably fine appearance and will be an honor to the Sons of England. At the south end, overlooking Hunter-st., a low platform is raised, and here the seat of honor will be placed. From this running description it will be seen that the quarters are convenient and well adapted, and a visit will convince the reader of what has been said regarding the beauty and appearance of the lodge room.

The painting, graining and decorating has been done throughout by Mr. W. M. Green, and the work reflects much credit upon that gentleman's taste and skill.

Summer or Winter.

There is one beverage holds its own. Every table in the land sets it out. Rich and poor alike enjoy its comforting qualities. That beaverage is tea. To get the best out of it get the best tea. Get it at Hawley Bros., George-st., who deal exclusively in tea for the million. d148

Canker in the mouth can be cured only by expelling the poisonous humor from the system. To do this effectually requires the persistent use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, together with a good, generous diet. One dollar a bottle. Six bottles for $5. Begin at once.

Personal.

Mr. Thomas Donnelly, of Belleville, formerly a resident of Peterborough, dealer in musical instruments and insurance and steamboat agent, will shortly move to Toronto to assume a position of importance in the business of his brother-in-law, Mr. Geo. A. Cox.

Among the list of prize and diploma winners at Albert College, Belleville, the name of Mr. James Hannah appears, he having been awarded an honor certificate for first year standing in collegiate course.

A Start in Money-Making.

The young man who begins life savingly and industriously will, if he invests his savings wisely in real estate, be well off by the time he is thirty. There is such an aimlessness in the manner of some people's saving that much can not be done. To succeed quickly one needs to have a trade, profession or calling from which to derive a good, steady income; next, he should have a good bank in which to place his net earnings. If a savings bank be used then the first "rainy day" he withdraws his savings, but if it is well invested in a building lot or a house and let he leaves it there, and by planting trees, levelling up, filling in, building and putting in his own leisure moments in improving it, presently the once improvident, even worthless, young man finds himself comparatively wealthy.

LOCAL SPORTS.

The Cricketers Victorious at Port Hope—Sporting Notes.

The first eleven of Peterborough went to Port Hope at noon yesterday and had a pleasant match with the College boys. Peterborough succeeded in winning by 16 runs in the first innings, but had the match been played out the boys might have had a chance of winning, as they had only 13 runs to get and 3 wickets to go down.

For the home team the batting of McCarthy and Martin was very fine, while Britten, by hard hitting, contributed 11 at an opportune time. The bowling of Pellatt and Britten was well on the spot, and the fielding was excellent, a fine catch by Pellatt off his own bowling being especially noticeable.

For Peterborough Ray, Stratton, Macdonnell and Rutherford all contributed well and got their runs by good cricket. In the bowling line Attewell did splendidly, though the ground was far too soft to suit his style of bowling. Stratton in the first innings bowled well indeed, getting seven wickets, Rutherford getting the other two. In fielding, Salisbury made a fine catch at long-leg.

After the match the Peterboroughs were hospitably entertained by the collegians.

The score and batting analysis were as follows:—

Sporting Sparks.

Harry Dean, of Belleville, having challenged Mate Roy for two mile handicap bicycle race for the Oddfellows' cup within three weeks, the date has been set by Roy for July 11th. Harry Price, of Madoc, intends riding for the cup.

Another attraction for to-morrow's half holiday will be a baseball match on the P. A.A.A. grounds between the Association team and the Ashburnham nine. A good game can be expected. Play will be called at four o'clock.

The bicycle meet will be held on the P.A A.A. grounds to-morrow evening, instead of this evening. The programme of races will be interesting and exciting, and will be well worth witnessing. The boys are all going in to win the medals, and some close riding can be expected.

The Otonabee Canoe Club will hold their second fortnightly regatta on Little Lake to-morrow evening, when a good programme of races will be paddled.

The two sporting attractions for Monday are the championship Riverside and Beaverton lacrosse match and the game of cricket between the local eleven and the Rosedale team.

"O'Keefe & Co.'s Lager"

No Second Chance to Refuse.

A rustic from Percy recently asked the price of a railway ticket to Peterborough, says the Hastings Star, and being told 70c., replied to the agent—"I'll give you 50." The offer being refused he set out to walk. He had not gone far when the engine whistled behind him. Turning about he shook his fist at the engine, exclaiming—"You needn't whistle for me; I made you an offer once!" and then jogged on.

A Pleasant Spot.

The grounds of St. Joseph's Hospital, Ashburnham, are admirably adapted for a pleasant gathering. On Dominion Day the picnic of St. Peter's Cathedral congregation will be held there, and there will be a good programme to entertain the people who will throng the grounds. A baseball match, dancing to the music of Prof. Doucet's orchestra, a thrilling tug of war, and a programme of sports and games. Dinner on the grounds. Old and young should be there. Admission 25 cents; children 15 cents; dinner 25 cents. 1d

Farley in Prison.

A correspondent writes from Gananoque that he paid a visit to the Kingston Penitentiary yesterday and had a conversation with James F. Farley, who was committed for life for killing the Indian showman Elijah here a year ago last Monday. He again expressed his gratefulness for the interest taken in his case here and had a hope that he might not have to remain in prison during his whole lifetime. He is in good health and weighs just one pound more than he did a year ago. The guards say that he has behaved well since given to their charge.

An Abused Man.

Two drunks graced the bench before the Magistrate at the Police Court this morning, and both of the unfortunate delinquents met the same fate, and will board at the castle on the hill for the next ten days. Wm. Baird, a town man, was fined two dollars or ten days, and being financially embarrassed he took the ten days. John Davis was the name of the other inebriate, and a sorry sight he presented. He is a river driver and appeared in court in his shirt sleeves, while his face was decorated with some bad bruises, the worst of which was a badly blackened eye. Davis had been drinking at one of the Ashburnham hotels and says he was set upon by some roughs and beaten in a shameful manner, and that he was beaten can readily be credited, when his damaged head and face was seen. He had to go to a doctor for repairs, and later on he ran against the police and was locked up. He too was fined two dollars or ten days and chose the cheap board.

TO-MORROW'S CEREMONY.

The Programme of the Decoration Ceremony of the Oddfellows.

With pleasant weather there is not the least doubt that there will be an immense gathering of citizens at the cemetery to witness the ceremony of the Oddfellows. The programme of the I.O.O.F. will be about as follows:—The brethren will meet at 12 o'clock at their respective lodge rooms to receive badges, when visiting brothers are cordially invited to join with either lodge. The lodges will proceed to Central Park where the procession will be formed as follows:—

The Band.
Patriarchs Militant in uniform.
Members of Subordinate Lodges.
Visiting brethren.
Officers of Subordinate Lodges.
Past Grands.

At the cemetery the brethren will form in a circle and the hymn "Nearer my God to Thee" will be sung. Then the opening ceremonies will be gone through with, after which they will visit the graves of the deceased brethren. When this is finished the brethren will return to the circle to attend the closing ceremonies. After that, if the day is fine, fifteen or twenty minutes may be spent in roaming the necropolis. The Oddfellows will be called together by the sound of the bugle and reform in procession and return to Otonabee Lodge room for dismissal. The ladies are cordially invited to take part in the singing.

A large quantity of flowers will be required to perform the ceremony as it should be, and any person who can contribute flowers will confer a great favor on the brethren if they would leave them to-morrow morning at H. Long's confectionary store or A. Mercer's, for Peterborough and Otonabee Lodge respectively.

Replies have been received from several of the neighboring lodges to whom invitations were sent, and some of those, although being unable to attend as a lodge, will be represented by individual members. The turnout of brethren, it is expected, will be very large.

The joint committee of the two lodges will hold a final meeting in Peterborough Lodge room this evening when all the arrangements will be completed.

To Housekeepers.

Remember you'll hardly ever have such another chance to buy stoves, tinware, lamp goods or granite ware as now offered at the clearing sale now going on at H. BEST'S, George-st. d146tf

A Fine Sample of Barley.

Another sample of fine barley has been left in this office. It was grown on the farm of Mr. John F. Fowler, lot 2, 12th concession of Monaghan, and measures 54 inches in length. It was raised from Manitoba seed.

A Council Meeting.

A special meeting of the Town Council is called for to-morrow evening, when the question of the change of the plans of the new market building will probably come up, as well as other interesting business. A long session can be expected.

Parasols.

Mr. P. D. Doran tell us he will offer all his stock of Parasols and lace curtains (imported by him direct from Europe this spring) at 25c. 50c. 75c. and $1.00, less than regular prices, on Saturday next at his sale of Bankrupt stock. 2d150

St. Andrew's S. School Picnic.

The St. Andrew's S. School picnic will be held on Thursday, 11th July. Jacob's Island in Pigeon Lake will be its destination. A delightful time may be expected, and everything that can be done to make this picnic a great success will be done. d148eod

FLOWERS.

The Oddfellows kindly request the ladies who wish to denote flowers for to-morrow to send them this evening or to-morrow morning early. For Peterborough Lodge, may be left at Mr. Harry Long's, and Otonabee Lodge at A. Mercer & Co.'s.

Tea Towel Social

by the Band of Hope Saturday afternoon next from 3 to 5 o'clock. This Band of Hope is composed of about sixty children at present, gathered from all parts of the town. They meet every Saturday afternoon in the W. C. T. U. hall and are taught to sing temperance songs, also the effect of alcohol on the human system, and now next Saturday is their gala day. Their towels are hemmed and ready for sale. A good programme is prepared. Refreshments in the shape of strawberries and cream. Come one and all and spend a short time with the children in the W.C.T.U. hall, George-st. Saturday next. Admission free.

Brevities.

—With fine weather to-morrow will be quite a gala day in town.

—The ladies and gentlemen who received invitations to the private excursion down the river to-morrow afternoon are requested to be at the wharf at 1.30.

—A lodge of the Sons of England is to be installed in Campbellford this evening. Brethren from Belleville are to officiate. Several of the local brethren will also attend and take part in the installation.

As an Emergency Medicine, for sudden colds, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral takes the lead of all remedies, a dose or two generally sufficing to stop ordinary coughs and ease the worst. For the cure of throat and lung disorders, this preparation is unequalled.

THE PURSUIT OF COONEY

Two of Cronin's Murderers Believed to have been Strangers in Chicago

CHICAGO, Ill., June 26.—The police are certain that two of Cronin's murderers were strangers in Chicago and may have come from England or Ireland, and Ryneton or Rynston, Burke's friend, may be one of them. Chief Hubbard will not say anything further than that there is something he must keep from the press.

The pursuit of Cooney is being prosecuted and the police have issued a circular and photograph of him, accompanied by the following description: "Patrick Cooney, Irish, about 35 years old, 5 feet 6½ inches tall, 155 pounds, full chested (forty inch girth), round face, sallow complexion, slightly pockmarked and freckled, light blue or gray eyes, brown hair and reddish horseshoe mustache. He is an intelligent talker and has a slight English accent, is quick and precise in movement, and acts as though he had a military training.

"He is wanted for the murder of P. H. Cronin. All information should be addressed to George W. Hubbard, General Superintendent of Police, Chicago."

Twenty thousand or thirty thousand of these circulars will be printed and scattered broadcast over this country and Canada, and some will be sent to the English authorities at Scotland Yard.

Burke Again Remanded.

WINNIPEG, June 26.—At the Burke extradition trial this morning a further remand was asked for, but the prisoner's counsel objected. The evidence of officers Collins and MacKinnon was heard. The former testified to knowing Burke in Chicago, and recognizing him in the Winnipeg police station. MacKinnon gave details of Burke's arrest. The case was then remanded till Tuesday next.

Camp 20 Disbanded.

CHICAGO, June 26.—Camp 20, Clan-na-Gael, it is learned, has within the past week been disbanded. Edward Spellman, President of the Whisky Trust, who is the chief officer of the Clan-na-Gael for the districts of Illinois and Michigan, has been subpœnaed to explain the disbandment.

FIRES OF A DAY.

Watson's Cooper Shop at Bracebridge Burned—An Incendiary Blaze.

BRACEBRIDGE, June 26.—This evening at 8.30 a fire broke out in Watson's cooper shop, which was totally consumed together with the stock and tools, also two billiard tables which were stored in the building. Loss about $800. Watson's dwelling house was badly damaged, as was also Cheney's bakery and dwelling.

An Incendiary Fire.

JAMESVILLE, Tex., June 26.—A fire broke out in the tin cornice factory of Thompson Brothers yesterday morning, followed by an explosion which shattered everything within the building and shook the entire city. It is thought that a large quantity of powder was placed under the floor by incendiaries, who built a fire on the floor above the powder. The damage is $20,000.

TWO YEARS' IMPRISONMENT.

Kingston's Deputy Postmaster Pleads Guilty and is Sent to the Penitentiary.

KINGSTON, June 26.—Rev. R. T. Burns was brought before Judge Price this morning charged with appropriating to his own use moneys entrusted to him by Mrs. Love while he was a clerk in the postoffice here. The defendant elected to be tried by the court and pleaded guilty. Judge Price said that, considering the circumstances of the case, which was the saddest that had ever come before him, he felt justified in inflicting the lightest punishment permitted by the law, and accordingly sentenced the prisoner to two years in the Kingston penitentiary. Burns was removed to the penitentiary this afternoon.

AN OLD TRICK.

Farmer Mitchell of Ancaster Gives Two Good $5 Bills for a Bad $10.

HAMILTON, June 26.—An old trick was successfully worked upon Mr. Alexander Mitchell, farmer of Ancaster, yesterday morning. A young man ran up to him at the market and asked if he could change a $10 bill. Mr. Mitchell said he could give two fives, but nothing smaller. The young man said he just wanted to pay a man $5, so that two fives would suit. Mr. Mitchell handed over the change and took what he supposed to be a good $10 bill. Before long, however, he discovered that the $10 bill was issued by the late lamented Confederate States.

At a meeting of Christ Church congregation, held yesterday, Canon Mills of Montreal indicated that he was prepared to accept $1400 a year and a free manse. The congregation is considering the matter.

The Icelanders' Exodus to Canada.

OTTAWA, June 26.—In a letter received from Baldwinson, agent of the Department of Agriculture, at present in Iceland, he states that many of the 300 Icelanders now en route to Canada have had their passages prepaid by relatives or friends now resident in Manitoba or the Northwest. This speaks well for the progress these people are making in Canada. Baldwinson states that if the people of Iceland could only find means of disposing of their stock and possessions that all would emigrate to our Northwest.

A Singular Accident.

QUEBEC, June 26.—A man named Blais, working on the steamship Acadian discharging coals at Allan's wharf yesterday, got his thumb caught in the chain around the tub, and was lifted from the dock about six feet, when the thumb was torn from its socket, dragging a portion of the sinews with it. The doctors say that his arm will have to be amputated below the elbow.

BRUIN MADE THEM RUN.

But Fortunately It Was in the Direction of the Bear, Which Was Killed.

CHARLOTTE, N.C., June 26.—A big wild bear created some excitement in the neighborhood of Waxhaw, N.C., on Saturday. Such a tramp abroad is an uncommon thing in that section, and the presence of the beast put everybody on the qui vive. The negroes in the immediate neighborhood were thrown into consternation and were afraid to go into the fields to work. A party of 100 passed through Waxhaw Saturday in pursuit of the bear. A number of dogs caught up with him but were killed in the encounter which ensued. Saturday night the bear was reported to have reached Lancaster County, S.C.; to-day he was killed near Fort Mill, S.C.

Early this morning the chase began. Several men were in pursuit. The bear swam across the Catawba River, then back again, leading the hunters a wild chase over hill and stream. The pursuers dashed through cotton fields, over fences, through briar and brush. The bear was brought to bay about three miles from Rock Hill. He slapped dogs down unmercifully during the incessant fire by the men who had got within range. After about a dozen shots the bear fell, Mr. Charley Graham firing the fatal shot. The bear was carried to Fort Mill and borne into the town amid cheers. He was weighed and tipped the scales at 350 pounds.

Up Goes Flour.

MINNEAPOLIS, June 26.—The Northwestern Miller says: The flour output last week was 109,800 barrels, against 112,700 the week before and 109,200 for the corresponding time in 1888. The firmness in wheat has induced a good deal of buying of flour. Prices are about 25 cents higher than a week ago and some parties talk of putting them up 10 to 15 cents more to-night. There is a stronger feeling in the export market. The direct exports of flour last week were 35,900 barrels, against 34,600 for the preceding week.

A man fishing off Beacon Hill was attacked by an octopus (devil fish) twenty feet in length, says a Victoria correspondent of the Portland Oregonian. The fish fastened itself to the boat, retaining its hold of the rocks beneath, and almost succeeded in upsetting the boat. A large hook thrown out caught in the fish, which made off, snapping the stout line like a silken thread.

FRIDAY & SATURDAY, JUNE 28 AND 29

Prof. Dorenwend, of Toronto, and his big stock of
HAIR GOODS
Ladies' Frontpieces, Bangs, Waves Wigs, Switches, etc., Gent's Wigs, Toupees, etc.

Don't miss it. Come and see the new styles. Something to suit every face. Prof. Dorenwend has completed his new spring designs which he will show here. The stock on this visit will be the most complete yet offered. Every lady should consider the great benefit of having a nice becoming head dress. With one of the Professor's pieces you can dress your hair quicker and get a better effect than by arranging your own. Gentlemen who are bald will find that by getting a real fine Wig or Toupee they will be less liable to diseases and their personal appearance will be improved a thousand per cent. Drop in at the show rooms and see the fine assortment. Remember at Phelan's Hotel on Friday and Saturday, June 28th and 29th. 3d146-2w21

ATTRACTION

—AT—

TURNBULL'S

The first month of summer is an interesting period to the retail buyer. Keep your eye on this column, it's newsy. Each week things will appear that are the month paces will likely make you richer for the reading.

There is scarcely a weak spot in our Trimmed Millinery yet. The latest hat kind are turning up their pretty faces every day and all the time floods of freshness and brightness keep pouring in new goods constantly. That job line of Untrimmed Hats we spoke of last week is what pleases everybody, variety and prices being right. This week we have placed on our Dress Goods counter a dozen pieces of Fancy Dress Cloths at fifteen cents a yard. The only reason we can conceive that these goods have not sold earlier at higher prices is that they were too new. They ought to, and no doubt will, go out very fast now. Attention is called to them. Shanting Pongee, the dustless kind. You know how the heathen Chinee crams dust into the common run of Pongees; he does not do it to the Shanting—Pure Silk and clean. These goods make up beautiful with our fine Henriettas.

In the Tweed Department we have a fine line of Halifax Tweeds that handle soft and fleecy, just as they ought to handle.—Sale price 35 cents.

We expect to-morrow's train to bring us in a large shipment of Corsets. We keep what our judgment says is the best make in the trade. We see representatives from all the factories. Our 50c. Corsets, we believe, are the best shown in Peterborough for years.

We have been able to repeat that line of Ladies Black Hose, heavy weight, at 15c. a pair. Those who have had these goods will be glad to hear they can get them again now.

Pink is the favorite color in Chambrays this season again. A fresh lot just arrived.

We keep suits for boys and small boys either with or without trimmings, at all prices. Before you buy see them.

HIS WIFE CO-RESPONDENT

THE PERPLEXING MARITAL SNARL OF JOSEPH SHACKLETON.

He Had One Wife in Jersey and One in New York—Henry Illsley's Wife Figures as Co-Respondent for Wife No. Two.

NEW YORK, June 28.—"Marriage, Divorce and Bigamy," by Joseph Shackleton. A highly interesting legal novellette. Superior to "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde." By subscription only.

Mr. Joseph Shackleton has not written a book of the above title, but the facts which go to make up the romance of his Lothario-like existence would furnish material for two such novels.

Mr. Shackleton, though a modest looking man of 40 or thereabouts, has two legal wives, both of whom are suing him for divorce, No. 1 making No. 2 co-respondent in her case, No. 2 making a certain dashing Mrs. Mary Illsley co-respondent in her suit, while the husband of the Illsley woman seeks separation from her, and boldly asserts that Lothario Shackleton is the cause of his woe. The peculiarity of this badly mixed domestic melo-drama is that so well known a man as Shackleton was able to bear the relation of husband to two women, one in Rahway, the other in New York, without discovery, for eight years.

Mr. Shackleton is president of the Shackleton Car Heating and Ventilating Company, he being the inventor of the patent used. The business office is at No. 115 Broadway, while the manufacturing plant is at Bound Brook. According to the complaint of wife No. 1, whose name is Sarah and whose residence is Rahway, she was married to Joseph Aug. 17, 1867, and the fruit of their marriage is five children, the eldest 20, the youngest 10 years of age. June 3 she, through her attorney, William McCloskey, petitioned Chancellor McGill of the New Jersey Court of Chancery to annul her marriage with Shackleton. She alleges that she is entitled to the decree because of the diver acts of infidelity committed by Shackleton with Mrs. Mary Illsley, whose husband keeps a famous road-house at Scotch Plains, near Plainfield, N.J.

Mrs. Shackleton further alleges a deviation from the path of rectitude in regard to his conduct with a certain Ruth Emmeline Bickell, with whom he had lived continuously since 1881, introducing her everywhere as his wife and living with her in grand style in this city. She also alleges that on April 1, 1889, Ruth Emmeline Bickell commenced action against Shackleton for divorce in the Superior Court of the State of New York, and calls attention of the Court to the fact that the said Ruth E. Bickell claimed to have been married to Shackleton Nov. 21, 1881. Upon the recital of the above facts Vice-Chancellor Bird of Jersey City yesterday granted an order compelling Shackleton to pay the plaintiff $25 counsel fees and $7 per week alimony. This is wife No. 1's status at present.

Wife No. 2 commenced her action April 1, last, through her attorney, A. F. McNickle. Mrs. Bickell is a refined, cultured lady of perhaps 40. She was a widow. Her husband, George Bickell, owned the biggest hotel in Lawrence, Mass., and when he died she took charge of it. In 1881 Shackleton stopped with her while on a tour collecting royalties on his patents. He fell in love with her and she consented to become his wife, not dreaming she was marrying a bigamist. After the marriage she sold her property, realizing nearly $10,000 therefor, and came to New York, where he located her in Greenwich-street, keeping a furnished house. Her money went rapidly and now she has none. They also resided in Newark, N.J., and their social position was the best. Finally, she alleges, Shackleton became infatuated with Mrs. Illsley and took her down to Bound Brook. His relations becoming known to her she commenced this action. Yesterday Mr. McNickle secured an order from Judge Truax of the Superior Court, compelling the much-married man to pay wife No. 2 $15 per week alimony and $100 counsel fees. Judge Bruce, of New Brunswick, N.J., is Shackleton's lawyer, and through him the defendant denies the marriage with wife No. 2. But she has letters written by his loving hand, beginning "My dear wife" and signed "Lovingly, Joey," and "yours until death, Joey."

Henry Illsley, the road-road man, is represented by Lawyer Henry Cook of Plainfield. His confidence in plump, pretty blonde women is badly shattered.

"Shackleton is a shrewd fellow," said Lawyer McCloskey yesterday. "He used to visit Mrs. Shackleton No. 1 at Rahway during the day and leave at night, telling her he had to be at the Bound Brook factory early—quite early—you know. Then he would join Mrs. Shackleton No. 2 and excuse himself during the day on a similar plea. Yes, he is liable to be arrested for bigamy at any time. No, there are no more wives at present, but one or two more may turn up at any time."

The Railroad Smash.

DOVER, N.H., June 27.—A Boston and Maine passenger train having on board Crescent Division Knights of Pythias, while entering this city this evening ran into an open switch and the engine, tender and three cars went down an embankment. The engineer applied the air brakes and jumped, as did the fireman. Both were terribly shaken up. The Knights were badly shaken up. Oscar F. Kimball, Grand Chancellor of the State, was hurt in the head and back, Wm. Hilliard was hurt internally, Fred Wilson was injured about the head and Will Hynes received a broken arm.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

James Karn of Beachville a Victim of Yesterday's Storm.

BEACHVILLE, June 27.—James Karn of Beachville was struck by lightning and instantly killed during the severe storm of to-day. He was found two hours after the storm lying partly on his face at the roots of a tree that had been shattered by the lightning. The bolt struck him on the temple and right side of the face, passing down over the body, which is badly discolored. Mr. Karn was an old resident, having been in the hotel business in Beachville for over 25 years, and was much respected.

THE COUNTRY OF FLOODS.

Floods and Washouts in Northern New York—A Railway Blockade.

WATERTOWN, N.Y., June 27.—Rain came down in torrents in various parts of Jefferson County and northern New York yesterday and last night. There have been no trains on the Cape Vincent branch of the R., W. & O.RR. this morning on account of the serious washouts two miles west of Chaumont.

Struck by Lightning.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 27.—A terrific thunder storm struck this city last night and rain fell in torrents. Lightning struck a barn and killed three horses. It also struck several church spires. Vogel's tannery was struck and damaged by fire. A farm house in Wauwatosa was struck and burned.

ANOTHER "TRUST" ON CHANGE.

The Distillers and Cattle Feeders Combine on the N. Y. Stock Board.

NEW YORK, June 27.—Another Trust was yesterday placed in the unlisted department of the Stock Exchange by the Governing Committee, and beginning with to-day the public has one more opportunity to part with its money. This new member of the Trust family is known as the Distillers and Cattle Feeders' Trust, and it will be known in the quotations by its initial letters. At first it was intended to use only the two letters, D. T., but the governors finally concluded that they would be too suggestive.

Business in the other trusts—sugar and lead—which has been so active of late, quieted down yesterday. Sugar Trust certificates were especially weak, and the price fell off to 112, or thirteen points below the highest figures of the week, causing a good many men who had bought at the high figures to wear long faces and carry depleted pocket books. Lead Trust certificates were firmer than sugar, but there was nothing like the activity of Monday and Tuesday in them.

ONE AMONG MANY.

Senior Guardian Beggs of Camp 20 Arrested—An Imaginative Nebraskan.

CHICAGO, June 27.—Assistant State's Attorney Baker left for Winnipeg last night, with the papers for the extradition of Burke.

John F. Beggs, Senior Guardian of Camp 20, Clan-na-Gael, is under arrest. Beggs was taken before the Grand Jury. He is a well-to-do lawyer, and has had some prominence as a politician. The rumor that he has turned informer is not generally credited.

Says Camp No. 20's All Right.

PEORIA, Ill., June 27.—Edward Spellman, district delegate for the Clan-na-Gael, in an interview in reference to the disbanding of Camp No 20 of Chicago, says positively that the camp has not been disbanded and will not be. He says: If the State's Attorney calls upon me for the records I will produce them for him at any time. Camp No. 20 has no connection with the Cronin affair.

Relies on Imagination for Facts.

KANSAS CITY, June 27.—O. H. Rothaker, managing editor of The Omaha Republican, is here visiting Recorder Boland. Mr. Rothaker yesterday said: "Cronin is not dead. He is alive and well and will show up in England before many more days." Mr. Rothaker said that for years he had been in a position to know the character and movements of Irishmen connected with the organizations in the United States interested in the emancipation of Ireland. He was positive that the body found in the sewer was not that of Cronin, but a stiff obtained from a Chicago medical college. Mr. Rothaker said: "My belief that Cronin is alive is strengthened by a telegram addressed to a prominent Irishman in Omaha, and which was shown me. It was sent from Chicago, and its contents were to the effect that positive assurance had been received by the sender that Cronin was still alive, and requesting information as to his whereabouts."

Belle Star's Son is Caged.

FORT SMITH, Ark., June 28.—Government officers succeeded in capturing yesterday Ed Reed, the notorious son of the famous Belle Star. Reed defiantly marched into this city with a pack of stolen horses and proceeded to sell them. The animals were stolen in the Choctaw Nation, where the frequency of Reed's raids has excited much indignation. He has always boasted that he would never be taken alive, as he would have to face trial on a dozen charges of murder and horse stealing. His arrest was effected by United States Deputy Marshal Cole and Detective Cox, who caught Reed in a stall of the livery barn and compelled him to surrender. Reed's father, mother, brother and two sisters have all died violent deaths in the Indian Territory, and the criminal history of the family would fill volumes.

AMBITIOUS CITY NOTES.

The Barton Nuisance Case—The Defendant Fined $200.

HAMILTON, June 27.—The Barton nuisance case was decided by the Police Magistrate this morning, Frank Rowlin, the defendant, being fined $200.

Mrs. Evans of the Shaftesbury Home, who was injured in the St. George accident last February, is recovering very slowly. It will be several months before she will be able to resume her duties.

The trial of David Guthrie, William Grason and John Fielding—the former charged with assaulting Chief Constable Rose, and the latter two with attempting rescue—took place before Judge Muir this afternoon. Grason was acquitted. Guthrie and Fielding were found guilty and allowed to go on deferred sentence.

Charles R. Sayer, secretary of the Niagara Falls (N.Y.) Y.M.C.A., and Miss Minnie Dryland of this city were married last evening at the residence of the bride's mother.

Yesterday afternoon Miss Sarah S. Brennen, second daughter of M. Brennen, was married to the Rev. James Thompson of Wycliffe College, Toronto.

William Morris, for 26 years a resident of this city, died at his residence here yesterday. He has been in feeble health for the past four years.

A St. Louis Murder.

ST. LOUIS, June 27.—The body of a young woman was found early this morning in Union-avenue in the western suburbs of the city. From bruises and slight cuts about the face and neck and the disordered condition of her clothes it is supposed the woman was murdered, perhaps outraged, and afterwards taken to the place where she was found to prevent detection.

THE TORONTO BUDGET.

A MONTREAL FORGER CAPTURED IN THE QUEEN CITY.

Annual Convocation of the University of Trinity College—Electricity from the Niagara Cataract.

TORONTO, June 28.—At the Police Court yesterday William Dixon, the G.T.R. constable who shot Baggageman McLachlan some days ago, was again put back for a week to allow the wounded man to gain strength enough to appear against him. An application for bail was rejected.

Wm. Guillet was crossing College-street when he was run down by a horse driven by Wm. Coleman, who, it is alleged, could have prevented the accident. Guillet, who is badly injured, had Coleman arrested. He was shortly after arraigned and remanded.

In Montreal, on Tuesday, several checks purporting to be signed by J. J. Curran, M.P., were honored by several brokers. Afterwards they were discovered to be forgeries. The forger adopted a most ingenious method to carry out his scheme. He would call up the broker by telephone and tell him that Mr. Curran was speaking and ask to have a check, which he would send by messenger, cashed. In a few minutes the boy would present the check and, in every instance, the money was promptly paid. The various forgeries were traced to a young man who was believed to have taken passage on the steamer Algerian for Toronto, and a despatch asking for his arrest on the arrival of the boat in Toronto was sent to Col. Grasett. The message was handed to Detective Davis, who met the steamer on its arrival at Yonge-street wharf at 6.45 yesterday morning, and found the party he was looking for. At police headquarters the prisoner registered as Charles R. Keeler. He is about 22 years of age. An officer from Montreal is expected to arrive here to-day for the prisoner.

The Convention of Swedenborgians or New Church delegates was held yesterday in the New Jerusalem Church in Elm-street, with a fair attendance.

A little three-tonner capsized yesterday morning off the western point of the Island, and her two occupants were compelled to cling to the keel for half an hour before being rescued. There was an exciting time at the Island in the interval.

The annual convocation of the University of Trinity College was held yesterday afternoon, Hon. G. W. Allan, the Chancellor, presiding. The honorary degree of D.C.L. was conferred on Dr. Bourinot of Ottawa; Rev. Dr. Potter of Hobart College, New York, and Prof. Jones of Trinity College. Bishop Courtney of Nova Scotia, who was to have been admitted to the same degree, was unable to be present. Convocation Hall was crowded.

Annie Simpson, the alleged victim of the Grand Trunk Railway train thieves, turns out to be a fakir of the worst kind. She was examined again by the detectives yesterday, and finding her very contradictory in her statements she was taken into the matron's room and subjected to a thorough search. The result was the finding of $25 and a card appealing to the charitably inclined concealed in the skirt of her dress. She was allowed to get out of town.

If things go the way Col. Gzowski wants them to go Buffalo will not be the only city to have the prospect of getting electricity out of Niagara Falls. Negotiations are now going on between Col. Gzowski, representing the Queen Victoria Niagara Falls Park Commissioners and a company of United States capitalists for the purpose of granting water power privileges at the Falls on the Canadian side to the said company. The question in dispute now, it is said, is the amount the rental is to be fixed at. Col. Gzowski wants $35,000 a year, and the company, it is said, want to pay something under that sum. If $35,000 a year is got for the use of the Falls' water power it ought not to cost the people much for maintaining Queen Victoria Niagara Falls Park. Perhaps all the fees might be abolished. It is understood that the company intend transmitting electric power to the different towns and cities from Niagara as far east as Toronto.

LAKE INSURANCE.

A London Company Getting the Cream of the Business.

CHICAGO, June 27.—When the general agents of the marine insurance companies doing business on the great lakes last spring agreed upon a tariff of rates for the season and pledged themselves to abide by the form of policy then in common use, it seemed that vesselmen had but two courses to follow, either to accept the insurance companies' conditions or let their floating property go uninsured. The insurance men looked for a season of good premiums and large net profits. A Cleveland vessel owner objected to paying 3½ per cent. on first-class steel steamers. He thought he could do better and went to an English company and asked for rates. He was given 2½ per cent. if $3,000,000 insurance could be placed in a lump. The policy offered, with its highly favorable conditions, made the regulative lake policy look like no insurance at all. The Cleveland man laid his plans before other owners and the $3,000,000 limit was quickly reached and has been added to until the total lake insurance now placed through the London company is $5,000,000. That $5,000,000 is the cream of the lake insurance business, and the lake companies are wondering what they are going to do next year to meet the English invasion. It is estimated that of the $45,000,000 of floating property rated in the Inland Lloyds not over $25,000,000 carries insurance. It is not likely a fifth of this business will be permanently lost without an effort to regain it. That effort must be either a reduction in rates or a radical change in lake policies.

WAS HE SHOT IN COLD BLOOD?

A Report That John Hoch Was Killed by United States Army Officers.

BLACK FEET AGENCY, PIEGAN, Mon., June 28.—According to news brought here yesterday, John Hoch, a squaw man and a notorious thief, was discovered on Sunday last hiding in the quarters of one of the officers of the Twenty-fifth Infantry. The thief made no attempt to explain his presence, but grappled with the officer who had found him there and used his bowie knife, severely wounding him. Hoch was finally subdued and was thrown into an outhouse. The report of the capture soon spread through the post and subsequently Hoch was deliberately killed by his enraged captors.

It is impossible to learn the names of the men who did the killing, but the courier who brought the news here says it was done by officers, and that no arrests have been made. The edict has been promulgated, he says, that all thieves captured at Fort Shaw shall be summarily shot. There are four companies of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, B, C, F and E, at Fort Shaw. Lieut.-Col. J. J. Van Horn is commander of the post. Gen. Ruger, commander of the Department of Dakota, has been notified of the affair.

New U.S. Life Saving Stations.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Steps are being taken at the Treasury Department for the establishment of life saving stations at Marquette, Mich., and Kewaunee, Wis., with a view of having them in operation before winter.

NEWS OF THE OLD WORLD.

PORTUGAL'S CONDUCT IN THE DELAGOA BAY MATTER.

The London Papers Characterize the Action as a National Disgrace—England Declines to Guarantee the Evacuation of Egypt.

LONDON, June 27.—A Government decree says: The Delagoa Bay Railroad concession was cancelled because the concessionaires failed to keep their engagement. The Government will construct the railroad and indemnify the concessionaires for the work already done.

Blaine to Take a Stand.

LONDON, June 27.—It is understood that Mr. Blaine, in response to a petition, will send an American man-of-war to Delagoa Bay.

Accused of Setting a Trap.

LONDON, June 27.—The Times accuses Portugal of entrapping the Delagoa Bay Railway Company by fixing time limits within which the Government knew it would be impossible to finish the line, owing to climatic difficulties. The Times thinks England ought to call Portugal to account. The directors of the company are unable to believe Portugal would take so unprecedented and violent a measure without the slightest justification, against the vigorous protests of Great Britain and America. The Crown Counsel and other eminent lawyers are unanimous in the opinion that such action is illegal.

A Breach of Faith.

LONDON, June 27.—The Globe, commenting on Portugal's conduct in the Delagoa Bay railway matter, says: "Portugal has been guilty of an unwarrantable breach of faith and of shameful dishonesty, and has disgraced the national name."

A British gunboat is expected at Delagoa Bay Saturday. The railway employes are preparing to forcibly resist any attempt on the part of Portugal to take charge of the road.

The Egyptian Debt Conversion Scheme.

LONDON, June 27.—England has declined to guarantee the evacuation of Egypt, which was demanded by France, as a condition of her acceptance of the Egyptian debt conversion scheme. The scheme has therefore been abandoned.

France has also demanded an annulment of the Anglo-Turkish Convention of 1887.

Irritation at Cairo.

CAIRO, June 27.—The people of this city are irritated over the opposition of France to England's scheme for the conversion of the Egyptian debt, because England would not consent to evacuate Egypt. The abandonment of the scheme will prevent a continuance of the work to improve irrigation by the waters of the Nile, and will also hinder a decrease in the rates of taxation.

A German Attack on Switzerland.

BERLIN, June 27.—The North German Gazette renews its attack upon Switzerland to-day. It charges that Switzerland promotes the dissemination of social democratic ideas among the young men of the country. It says Anarchists without credentials are allowed to remain in Switzerland without effort on the part of the authorities to identify them. It declares that the reply of M. Droz, the Swiss Foreign Minister, to the recent interpellations of the National Rath in which he declared that under no circumstances should Switzerland share with any power the right to police his own territory, was inadequate and unsatisfactory. It says, however, that the reply of the Bundesrath to the complaints made by Russia and Austria was more polite than was expected from the wording of the interpellation.

Sexton Downs the Attorney-General.

LONDON, June 27.—Mr. Sexton admitted before the Parnell Commission yesterday that he had been asked to join the Fenians, but refused to name the man who asked him. Attorney-General Webster, for The Times, pressed him hard, but in vain, to give the name, and became angry and excited. After a passionate scene between counsel and witness, the former abandoned the attempt. Witness declared he held Alexander Sullivan in high estimation on account of his public services.

Attorney-General Webster, it is said, will claim the right to extort from a Parnellite witness any information not obtainable by usual methods. The Parnellites are determined to resist this, and if the Attorney-General persists they will probably leave court with their counsel.

Chatham's Improvement Bylaw Carried.

CHATHAM, June 27.—A bylaw to raise $30,300 for local improvement was voted on to-day and carried, only 45 voting against it. This will enable the council to put King-street and the bridges in good condition.

Last Honors to Mr. Cameron.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Secretary Proctor issued an order to-day announcing the death of Simon Cameron, ex-Secretary of War, and directing, as a mark of respect to his memory, that the offices of the War Department be draped in mourning for 30 days and all business be suspended therein on the day of the funeral. As an additional mark of respect General Schofield has ordered seventeen guns fired at each military post.

TOPICS FROM THE CAPITAL.

The Commons Debates—An Influx of M.P.s—The Government Printers.

OTTAWA, June 27.—The work of compiling and printing the debates of the House of Commons has just been completed, and the work, which will be in two volumes, has been placed in the hands of the binder. It comprises 1730 pages with 80 pages of index. The second volume commences with the now famous anti-Jesuit Estates debate.

Among the visitors in the city is Dr. Montague, ex-M.P. for Haldimand. He had an interview with Sir John Macdonald and afterwards did the rounds of the departments. Dr. Hudspeth, M.P., Clarke Wallace, M.P., and S. J. Dawson, M.P., are also here. Quebec is represented by Messrs. Curran, M.P., and Bergeron, M.P.

All the Government printers, with the exception of 19, have been notified that their services will be retained. It is understood that as the 19 have not got any notification their services will be dispensed with.

FIRE AT MONTREAL.

A $60,000 Blaze in the Federal Telephone Company's Building.

MONTREAL, June 27.—Fire broke out in the Federal Telephone Company's building in St. Sacrament-street early this morning, and spread to a building on the west and the Stock Exchange on the east before the firemen, in response to three alarms, reached the scene. Mr. and Mrs. Ross, caretakers of the Stock Exchange, had to escape by the roof of that building, whence they were rescued by the firemen. Mrs. O'Meara, wife of the caretaker of the Federal Company's buildings, also had a narrow escape.

The two upper flats of the building were completely gutted, and the loss is estimated at $60,000.

A Georgetown Factory Burned.

GEORGETOWN, June 27.—About 2 o'clock this morning Campbell & Kay's building machine factory here was totally destroyed by fire; loss not known, insurance $2500. The building was owned by F. W. Barber; no insurance.

"Try Ayer's Pills"

For Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout, Stephen Lansing, of Yonkers, N. Y., says: "Recommended as a cure for chronic Costiveness, Ayer's Pills have relieved me from that trouble and also from Gout. If every victim of this disease would heed only three words of mine, I could banish Gout from the land. These words would be—'Try Ayer's Pills.'"

"By the use of Ayer's Pills alone, I cured myself permanently of rheumatism which had troubled me several months. These Pills are at once harmless and effectual, and, I believe, would prove a specific in all cases of incipient

Rheumatism.

No medicine could have served me in better stead."—C. C. Rock, Corner, Avoyelles Parish, La.

C. F. Hopkins, Nevada City, writes: "I have used Ayer's Pills for sixteen years, and I think they are the best Pills in the world. We keep a box of them in the house all the time. They have cured me of sick headache and neuralgia. Since taking Ayer's Pills, I have been free from these complaints."

"I have derived great benefit from Ayer's Pills. Five years ago I was taken so ill with rheumatism that I was unable to do any work. I took three boxes of Ayer's Pills and was entirely cured. Since that time I am never without a box of these pills."—Peter Christensen, Sherwood, Wis.

IRON AND COPPER.

A PROPOSITION has been placed before the Dominion Government by United States capitalists, represented by Mr. S. J. Ritchie, of Akron, Ohio, which Mr. Ritchie has explained in a letter to the press. The company represented by Mr. Ritchie proposes to extend the Central Ontario railway from Coe Hill to Sudbury and to erect a blast furnace on the line of railway. The railway would run through a large district, containing minerals, timber and a fair percentage of land fit for agriculture, that is not served by a railway. Mr. Ritchie says the proposed furnace would have a daily capacity of 250 tons of pig iron and would be so located that it would draw its supplies, not only from the mines upon the Central Ontario railway, but also from any that might be located upon other railways connecting with the Central Ontario. The actual daily cash outlay for running this furnace, Mr. Ritchie says, would be $3,500 or more than a million annually. The Canadian Copper Company also propose to erect a large furnace at Sudbury and refining works at some large business centre. Mr. Ritchie asks that the Railway Company be aided to build the railway and suggests that they receive $1,000,000, and that the coke used in the furnace and the machinery used in the mining and smelting, such as is not now made in Canada, be admitted free of duty.

Mr. Ritchie is perfectly right in saying that it would be a wise policy for Canada to adopt measures to induce foreign capital to come in and develop this country. That was the conclusion the people came to in 1878 and to which they still adhere. That is the policy of the present Government. Mr. Ritchie's proposition is an important one that deserves and no doubt will receive careful consideration. One of the things that this country needs—that would do a great deal to advance its development and prosperity—is the establishment of iron industries such as the one proposed. The concession of the free admission of machinery, such as is not manufactured in in Canada, would not injure any Canadian industry, and as it is not now imported it would not be a direct loss to the revenue. It would be much the same as a municipality granting exemption from taxation to secure an industry. The free admission of coke stands in much the same position. The Government, however, might not wish to commit the country to the free admission of anything for an indefinite time. The principle of aiding the railway is one that may be admitted, and the amount of aid that it would be wise to give can best be decided by the Government, which would have full information before deciding.

That there are good grounds for believing that the enterprise will be carried out we believe, because if the capitalists interested are in earnest, and intend establishing an industry such as that described, they will not be likely to press for unreasonable concessions, and the proposed industry, and the encouragement of inducing foreign capital to come in and establish manufacturing here, being in the line of the Government's policy, the administration will be ready to meet the company in any reasonable way that would not prejudice the interests of the people.

REVIEWS.

SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE.—The July issue of Scribner's Magazine is a Midsummer Fiction number, containing seven complete short stories, four of them richly illustrated by such artists as Frederick Remington, Robert Blum, and Chester Loomis; and an unusually exciting instalment of Mr. Stevenson's serial, The Master of Ballantrae, the illustration of which, from a drawing by William Hole, is the frontispiece of the number. There are also included the second article in the new Electrical Series, and interesting Poems. Among the contents are How the Derby was Won, is a Kentucky story by Harrison Robertson, Managing Editor of the Louisville Courier Journal; The Book of Beranger; by T. R. Sullivan, is a story of comedy and sentiment, in an entirely different vein from this author's previous romantic fictions. There is a striking railway sketch by John R. Spears, entitled The Story of a Lost Car, which is ingenious in construction. The central incident is the mysterious disappearance from the Lake Shore Railroad of a freight-car, loaded with silver. The story is a most accurate picture of railway life, and has a fine vein of romance running through it. The Electric Series is continued by Charles L. Buckingham, with The Telegraph of To day, which is the leading article in the Magazine, containing very rich illustrations showing views of the great Western Union operating-room, the Commercial Cable offices, and many of the wonderful inventions of modern telegraphy. Mr. Buckingham explains with remarkable clearness and interest the duplex and quadruplex methods; the Wheatstone, chemical-automatic, and stock telegraphy, and the methods of finding breaks in cables, communication between ships at sea without a wire, and telegraphing from moving trains by induction.

BUFFALO'S BAD BORDER.

OUR CORRESPONDENT TELLS US ABOUT CHEEKTOWAGA.

Will the Common Council Experience a Premature Explosion?—The Queen City's Coal and Lumber Trade—Buffalo to Secure an Art Treasure for Which Many Cities Have Struggled in Vain.

[From Our Special Correspondent.]

BUFFALO, June 24.—Upon the authority of several of the largest dealers in this city I have the statement that coal three weeks ago touched the lowest point to which it will go this year. People who have been looking forward to an opportunity for laying in their winter supply at low figures next month or in August will consequently be disappointed. It may not be generally realized that Buffalo is one of the largest coal and lumber centres in the United States. For coal it is clearly the chief shipping port to the entire northwest, being the terminus of several railroads which mine all the coal freight they are able to handle along the line of their own territory. Coal dealers in Buffalo, therefore, doubtless speak with authority concerning what may be expected of the market, and there is no reason whatever to doubt that the "Coal Barons" have made all the concessions to the public that they propose to make this year.

Accepting Chicago as the greatest lumber market in the United States, I wonder who of your readers can name the second and third greatest! Tonawanda people very well know that the town of that name holds second place, and as a matter of fact Buffalo comes third. And the Buffalo lumber market is booming in an exceptional way just at the present time. A Buffalo syndicate has just completed the purchase of 12,000 acres of heavily timbered lands on the border line of Virginia and North Carolina. The growth of the lumber business here is shown by the rapidly increasing number and extent of the lumber yards. Some of them are going to make fine conflagrations one of these days.

The vicinity of the Buffalo lumber yards would be a bad place for the shooting off of the generous amount of fireworks which the Common Council seems bent upon providing for the Fourth of July. As I predicted in my letter of a week ago would be the case, this 4th of July celebration has set municipal fur flying. Each of the aldermen who have constituents who are Schutzen fest inclined, declare by all the Gods of War that unless an appropriation is made for the benefit of the rifle companies, the American eagle shall not scream at public expense, and other alderman, the young voters of whose wards are interested in boating and baseball, are equally determined that these sports shall have a share of boodle patronage. The whole discussion of the subject was by unanimous consent adjourned from last week to this and lively times are predicted between now and the 4th.

It would occur to a looker on in Venice that the authorities of Buffalo might be more profitably engaged in endeavoring to discover some means by which the disgraceful proceedings of Cheektowaga are allowed to continue unmolested. While Buffalo is perhaps on the whole as well governed a city as can be found anywhere, and while the percentage of vice in the city is at a minimum, there is no avoiding the fact that its virtues cease altogether too close to the corporation limit. Adjoining the city on the east is the township of Cheektowaga, a very Sodom of high temperatured vice. The Walden Avenue park lies upon the border line and on any Sunday afternoon can be seen the curious spectacle of individuals standing in the city of Buffalo while engaged in the nefarious occupation of gambling in Cheektowaga. Their legs are in the city but their hands are stretched across the line and deposit fools' money upon wheels of fortune and other swindling machines that are operated by the cunning bunco men just outside of the city limits. It is a nice point to determine whether the law abiding legs of a man in Buffalo can be arrested for misdemeanors committed by the upper part of a man's body in another township. Certain it is that the precedent of such arrest has not yet been established, and the melancholy farce of Buffalo policemen standing helplessly around in the presence of vice continues. That little assistance towards purifying the locality can be counted upon from the Cheektowaga authorities will be appreciated when it is learned that one of the magistrates of this township is financially interested in a low resort just over the city line, where gambling and other vices go on continually. Brutal dog fights that would be a disgrace to frontier settlements are weekly events at Cheektowaga and within the past three months there have been four prize fights to a finish.

It is more singular that such a state of affairs as this is allowed to continue (for there surely must be some way of getting over the ridiculous boundary line excuse), though the fact that in the City of Buffalo proper the rule against gambling and similar vices is rigidly enforced.

The summer night concerts at Music Hall have thus far proved a very great success. Fashion has placed its stamp of approval upon this form of amusement and the wives and daughters of the wealthiest men of Buffalo may be seen nightly drinking their beer in the most plebean fashion at the little round tables with which the hall is filled. A guarantee fund sufficient to continue these summer night concerts for a period of two months was subscribed by the aristocracy before the doors were opened. I should, therefore, say that the vender of refreshments has a good thing of it.

Unusual interest is felt this year by the art lovers in Buffalo in the forthcoming International Fair, owing to the fact that the Fair managers have succeeded in obtaining a great prize for which all the other Expositions in the country have heretofore struggled in vain. It is authoritatively announced that Makoffsky's great picture "The Russian Wedding Feast" has been secured for the September Exposition. This painting is acknowledged by the critics of two continents to be the finest example of modern art extant. Since its arrival in this country it has been jealously guarded in a little room in John street, New York, its owner positively refusing to consent to its exhibition elsewhere. As a consequence of this fact, art lovers in all parts of the country, who had heard of the fame of The Russian Wedding Feast before it left Europe, have been compelled to journey to New York to see it, and when it is said that there are not three painters of any importance from Maine to California who have not gone to John street to study that picture, the pride that Buffalo feels in having secured it for the ten days of her second annual International Fair, can readily be imagined. The art gallery at the Fair grounds is, I learn, to be completed this year in accordance with the architect's plans, and is to be made one of the greatest features of the exposition. Ex-Governor Alger of Michigan has loaned his great picture "The Last Hours of Mozart," by the painter of "Christ Before Pilate," and there are to be nearly four hundred other paintings.

'A Spring Message'

From the New Firm of

H. LeBRUN & CO.

Sign of the Golden Horse-shoe.

The people of Peterborough and vicinity are all aware of the business change which took place in the CITY CLOTHING STORE on the first day of February last. The new firm beg leave to make their first bow to the public through the columns of the REVIEW, and to request a careful perusal of the following Spring and Summer circular:—

The City Clothing Store

in past years, by long experience in business, by buying always for spot cash, importing direct from the principal houses of the old country and from the leading houses of Canada, and by strict economy in conducting its business, has always been able to force prices down to an exceedingly fine point. The members of which the new firm is composed will form a still stronger "combine," by which the CITY CLOTHING STORE will be even better prepared to procure for its customers a continuation of those superior inducements in the future for which it has been noted in the past.

Men's Clothing.

The magnitude of our stock and lowness of prices gives us a great advantage over all other competitors in the trade. We carry in stock all the fast selling lines, styles and patterns, and can fit the tall, the short, the fat and the lean.

MORE SUITS, BETTER FABRICS, FINER STYLES than were ever handled before.

Special values in FINE SPRING OVERCOATS, and Fine Spring and SUMMER SUITS. Don't fail to see them. The superb styles, workmanship, and the beautiful fabrics and patterns that we offer will surprise you.

Merchant Tailoring.

"For the apparel oft proclaims the man."

Fine dressers in search of new, neat and nobby OVERCOATINGS, SUITINGS or TROUSERINGS will find this department crowded to overflowing with cloth from all countries. To select from the largest assortment is an advantage we offer to our customers, backed up by the skill of experienced cutters and tailors. Besides perfect fit and first-class trimmings, we guarantee absolutely first-class workmanship.

Boys' and Youths' Clothing.

Clothing for the little ones—boys and children—has always been a specialty with us. We have always sought to give great values in this department, and to provide a larger and finer variety of goods for parents to select from than they could find elsewhere.

This means that we are showing a large assortment of BOYS' and CHILDREN'S SUITS, BOYS' and CHILDREN'S BLOUSES, SHIRT WAISTS, PANTS, &c.

This spring there are an unusual number of new and nobby styles and an enlarged variety of fabrics and patterns. Be sure and see our stock.

Gents' Furnishings.

Gentlemen of Peterborough seeking the latest styles and best values for their money, as well as an opportunity of selecting from the largest stock of Furnishing Goods, should not fail to visit this department at once. We offer the finest, best selected and the largest assortment of NECKWEAR, HOSIERY, UNDERWEAR, GLOVES, SHIRTS, HANDKERCHIEFS, etc., to be found in any first-class establishment.

Tall Barley.

About the longest sample of barley of this season's growth yet to hand is a handful from the farm of Mr. J. J. McBain, North Monaghan, just outside the town. The farm is worked by Mr. W. S. Vatcer, who has put in a splendid crop. The sample is from a field of barley grown on very high land, loamy soil, and measures 60 inches from root to top of stock.

Everybody Should Go.

See the fireworks and do not live to report your negligence. They are to be given by the Fire Brigade on the P.A.A.A. grounds, on the evening of Dominion Day, our great national holiday. This will be the only evening attraction, and will be well worth witnessing, while the Fire Brigade Band will give a concert during the evening, the programme of which will include its choicest selections. Everyone should go and take the children, as it will be the grandest display ever witnessed here.

Domestic Infelicity.

Early this morning between twelve and one o'clock a woman carrying a little child in her arms came to the police station and reported that her husband was raising a disturbance at their house, and she had been compelled to fly from the house. The unfortunate woman's name was Mrs Foley, and her husband, George Foley, is a carter who at one time lighted lamps around town. Foley had been drinking, and while under the influence of liquor is inclined to be quarrelsome. Constable McGinty visited the house, which is opposite the G. T. R. station and is known as the G. T. R. resturant, but the husband was not arrested.

The Nine Hour Movement.

Commencing on July next nine hours will rate as a full day's work for carpenters. This action has been brought about by the efforts made in that direction by Union No. 375, of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, such being the official name of the local union. The following agreement speaks for itself:—

"We, the contractors and employers of carpenters of Peterborough, agree to grant nine hours as a full day's work for the ensuing year, commencing on 1st of July, 1889. (Signed.)

A. Rutherford	Robt. Clinkscale
Andrew Douglas	Henry Carveth
J. E. Dowell	D. Gamble
W. H. McIlwaine	H. C. Stabler
Thos. McKee	W. C. Mowat

J. Carlisle	Geo. Little.

Several others have signified their intention of adopting the nine hour scale for those in their employ.

LOCAL SPORTS.

Programme of the A.C.A. Meet—Other Sporting Sparks.

The fortnightly regatta of the Otonabee Canoe Club will not be held to-night, but will come off a week from this evening, when arrangements will be made for a good programme of races.

SPORTING SPARKS.

The first eleven of the local cricket club play a match with the Riverside team on the P.A.A.A. grounds on Monday. The local players will be as follows:—Stratton, Attewell, Rutherford, Parker, Ray, Barnham, Gower, Turnbull, Long, Salisbury and Rogers. W. J. Minore will be twelfth man. A good game is expected.

Mr. Wm. Clancy left yesterday with "Royal Jim," who is entered in the races at Wallaceburg on the 1st and 2nd July.

The Association baseball team and the Ashburnham nine play a game on the P.A.A.A. grounds this afternoon.

The A.C.A. Meet.

The American Canoe Association Year Book for 1889 is a neatly printed volume containing much information about the Association. The frontispiece is a portrait of Col. H. C. Rogers, the Commodore, and there are also portraits of the ex-Commodores, among them one of Mr. E. B. Edwards. The Year Book was edited by Mr. G. W. Hatton, the Secretary, and Mr. G. Bowyer Vaux. It contains a list of the honorary and active members, officers and ex-officers, financial statements, constitution and rules, and records of events at the meets, and is an interesting volume for canoeists. The regatta programme for 1889 is as follows:—

RECORD EVENTS.

1. Paddling, classes 2 and 3, decked, one-half mile.
2. Paddling, class 4, decked, one-half mile.
3. Paddling, classes 2 and 3, open, one half mile.
4. Paddling, class 4, open, one-half mile.
5. Combined Paddling and Sailing, one-half mile, alternately; total, three miles, A and B.
6. Sailing, classes A and B, four and one-half miles.
7. Trophy, Sailing, seven miles.

OTHER EVENTS.

8. Paddling, classes 2,3 and 4, open or decked, one mile.
9. Paddling, tandem, class 4, one-half mile.
10. Club fours, any canoe not over sixteen feet, one-half mile.
11. Paddling, upset (open canoes entering to have one-half minute start on condition of being emptied after turning over) 150 yards.
12. Hurry-Scurry, run, swim, paddle.
13. Sailing, upset.
14. Sailing, cruising race, six miles.
15. Gymnastics and tournament.

The Northern Division Cup will be raced for at the meet by members of the Division and there will doubtless be other special races, including races for unclassed canoes, if present.

The Novice prize, open only to members who never sailed a canoe before September 1888, will be awarded on the result of the first round of Race No. 6.

Visitors from Smith.

Wm. McNairn and W. Vanalstine, two residents of Smith township, who live just across the town line, were before the Magistrate this morning to explain how their horses came to be at large on the 26th of June. They stated that the animals must have broken through the fence of the pasture field, but they had to admit that the animals were at large. They were fined two dollars and costs each and told to keep their fences repaired.

Bodo's Frighten Him.

The Toronto World of this morning says: His Worship Mayor James Stevenson, M. P., of Peterborough, passed through Toronto last evening on his way home from a trip to Buffalo. "In the Queen City of the Lakes," said His Worship to the World, "I was introduced to one of the biggest politicians in town, but unfortunately I have forgotten his name. He said: 'Your people over in Canada are making a great noise about annexation. I might inform you that we intend to have Canada; peacefully if you will, but by force if necessary.'" Mr. Stevenson is not a big man, but he didn't scare the worth of a pint of cider.

Numerous Attractions.

The public are reminded of the picnic under the auspices of the congregation of St. Peter's Cathedral, in the grounds of St. Joseph's Hospital, Ashburnham. Delightful situation, beautiful grove, grateful shade and numerous other attractions. Baseball match at 10:30, a splendid programme of sports and games (for valuable prizes), exciting tug-of-war, a spacious platform for dancing, and Doucet's orchestra to furnish music. Dinner served and refreshing drinks and ices obtainable. In fine, everything arranged to give comfort and enjoyment. Admission to the grounds 25c; dinner 25c. A great day of enjoyment in prospect,—Dominion Day, at St. Joseph's Hospital grounds, Ashburnham. 1d

Canker in the mouth can be cured only by expelling the poisonous humor from the system. To do this effectually requires the persistent use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, together with a good, generous diet. One dollar a bottle. Six bottles for $5. Begin at once.

Dairy Maids' Party.

The Dairy Maid's Party, given at Mr. George Stethem's by the young ladies connected with the South Ward Mission, did not fall on a very favorable evening so far as the weather was concerned, as the sprinkling of rain which fell from time to time during the evening, prevented many from attending, who otherwise would have done so. However, there was a good attendance, and despite the threatening weather a good time was enjoyed. The young ladies who were in attendance on the tables were attired in dairy maid style, with white caps, kerchief and big apron, and the costumes looked exceeding well, as the busy ladies hummed here and there through the grounds. Three tents had been erected on the grounds and were used as refreshment and flower booths, and with flags and lanterns the grounds looked quite attractive. The house was also thrown open and during the evening several impromptu songs and instrumental selections were given to the appreciation of those listening. The Fire Brigade Band was in attendance and discoursed several fine selections during the evening. The flowers that were for sale found ready purchasers, while the strawberries, cream and cake supplied were delicious. A good sum was netted for the school. Mr. J. J. Turner kindly supplied the tents which were used.

"London Lancet strongly recommends "Montserrat" Lime-Fruit Juice as an absolutely pure and delicious hot weather drink.

DEPARTED ODDFELLOWS.

THE LOCAL ODDFELLOWS' DECORATION DAY.

A Large Turnout of the Brethren—The Ceremony at the Cemetery The Graves That were Decorated.

This was the day set apart by the local Oddfellows for the observance of the custom, which is now becoming general throughout America, of decorating the graves of their deceased brethren. The observance of such a day is a commendable one, evidencing that although having mingled for the last time with the brethren in the lodge room and although all the fraternal ties have been severed by death, yet the brotherly relationship of the lodge room are not allowed to terminate or the memories of the departed to be forgotten. The weather, although slightly cloudy during the morning, was favorable to the occasion and the brethren turned out in large numbers to pay respect to the memories of the deceased brethren. Year by year the number of graves to receive the attention of the decorating hands increases by two or three, but during the past year only two of the brethren have been laid at rest. Decoration day is now taking a place among the regular events of the year, and is observed not only by Oddfellows, but by all those who have friends lying in the cemetery. The half holiday which had been proclaimed was observed by all the business men of George-st. with few exceptions, and business was suspended. The Little Lake Cemetery was the centre of attraction for an immense crowd of citizens who either walked, drove, sailed or paddled down in large numbers.

THE PROCESSION

The different lodges assembled at their respective lodge rooms in large numbers and about 2.30 they proceeded to the Central Park where the procession was formed by Marshall S. Clegg, P.G., of Peterborough Lodge. The procession was a fine turnout, the brethren, headed by the Canton in their handsome and gay uniforms, made a highly creditable appearance, the shiny silk tiles and white gloves of many of the members of the subordinate lodges giving a dressy aspect to the procession. The order of marching was as follows:—

Fire Brigade Band.
Canton Peterborough No. 16 and banner.
Members of Otonabee and Peterborough Lodges.
Visiting brethren.
Officers of Subordinate Lodges.
Past Grands.

The brethren all carried beautiful boquets or floral devices and the line of march was crowded with spectators. On the march down George-st. Capt. Moore put his men through several fancy military movements, which were executed in a very creditable manner. The Golden Eye carried a large number to the cemetery while hundreds of others made their way to the same place either on foot or in carriages. Upon the arrival of the procession

AT THE NECROPOLIS

the subordinate lodges counter-marched at the gate, the band and Canton leading up the entrance walk. The cemetery entered, a circle was formed near the chapel, the band, Canton, and Bro. W. F. Green, N. G. of Otonabee Lodge, and Bro. A. McIntosh, N.G. of Peterborough Lodge, together with chaplains H. P. Lindsay, of Otonabee Lodge, and W. McIlwain, of Peterborough Lodge being stationed in the centre of the circle. The ceremony was then commenced by Noble Grand Green calling upon Chaplain Lindsay to invoke the divine blessing which the latter did in a short and impressive prayer. After which the brethren joined in singing "Nearer My God to Thee." Then the brethren divided into two bodies and led by Superintendent Kelly and an assistant the graves of the deceased Oddfellows were visited and floral tributes deposited upon each. The band, while the decoration was in progress, played several appropriate hymns. The graves upon which the offerings were laid were those of the following

CLOSING THE CEREMONY.

After the last grave had been decorated the circle was reformed, when the hymn, "In the Sweet Bye and Bye" was sung. Noble Grand McIntosh then delivered an appropriate address relative to the duties of the day and the ceremony which they had just performed, after which the chaplain offerered a brief prayer.

VIEWING THE CEMETERY.

The brethren then mingled with the immense crowd of people which thronged the cemetery and spent some time viewing the many beautiful plots and graves which had been decorated by friends of departed ones. The cemetery is in a remarkably clean and tidy condition, and Superintendent Kelly has reason to feel proud of the beautiful appearance which it presented. Of course the decorated graves were not confined to Oddfellows only, as nearly every plot had received extra attention, or floral offering for the occasion, and the result was that the always beautiful place appeared more beautiful and was admired by the many visitors.

After some time so spent the procession was re-formed and the brethren returned to Otonabee Lodge room.

NOTES.

Many citizens who had friends buried in the cemetery visited that place last evening and this morning, carrying flowers with which to decorate their plots.

The band played well, both on the march and at the cemetery.

It was unnecessary to have the roads to the cemetery sprinkled.

Bro. S. Clegg, who acted as marshall, performed his duties well.

The arrangements at the cemetery were most complete and everything passed off without any unnecessary waits or loss of time.

The custom of having an appointed decoration day not only keeps alive the memories of the departed, but also has a beneficial effect upon the cemetery, tending to cause plot owners to take more interest in beautifying.

The subordinate lodges walked two deep.

Making Preparations.

The Sons of England were busy last night and this morning decorating their new hall and making arrangements for its dedication and the grand concert and entertainment with which it will be opened this evening.

Sunday School Library

Messrs Lee & Thompson, booksellers and stationers, have just filled an order for a large new library of books for St. Paul's Church Sunday-school. The volumes are of course of a selected character. This is the fourth Sunday school library that this firm has furnished since they opened business, and they are enabled to fill there library orders at wholesale rates as they have special arrangements with the wholesale trade.

The Council's Plan Defended.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—I was rather surprised for the moment at the course Mr. D. W. Dumble took at the Board of Trade in reference to the new market building that the Town Council purpose erecting on the market square. If he was sincere in his remarks I might have some sympathy, but to get to the bottom of the facts. It is well known that Mr. Dumble is solicitor for a company which controls the stores on George-st. and when their interests are affected he thinks it his duty to protect them.

Now, Mr. Editor, if the Council was going to erect an unsightly or an inconvenient building I would say, by all means oppose it, but having seen the plans I am in a position to speak with authority. The building will have six stores below, with an arcade from George-st., 25 feet wide, to the market square, in which there will be an easy stairway ten feet wide, with an outside entrance from the verandah on the back, the same width, which will take you into a commodious room 60x127 feet. This room will be well heated in the winter and fall months.

The building will cost about $15,000, which will be paid by debentures bearing 4 per cent interest or an annual cost of $600, and the revenue from the stores will at a low estimate be $1,800. Add to interest say $200 for insurance and extras and we will have a net gain of $1,000 per annum, which compounded yearly will pay for the whole building in eleven years. Now, if Mr. Dumble, or Jane Jones, who bears the same relation to Mr. Dumble as Dr. Jekyll does to Ed. Hyde, wishes to put the ratepayers to a cost of $15,000, and a yearly ground rent of $635, which means a capital of $15,000 more, for the trouble of walking up fifteen feet once a week, I think he had better go back to his native town, where they have a standing monument of just such folly, and for which the town has been burdened in debt until recently, when for reasons which are obvious the Dominion Government cancelled their debt, and the Ontario Government has twice compromised their interest. Now, Mr. Editor, the town of Peterborough has never in the past gone into any such wild cat schemes, nor do I think they will in this case advocate the scheme of Mr. Dumble and a few others, principally strangers in the town, some of whom have never paid a dollar in taxes and can lift their traps and can move any day. Mr. Editor, it is an old saying that there are two classes of people "should never see work half done." I will venture to say that when Mr. Dumble returns after his periodical summer vacation that even he will say that the Council have done a good work and are a credit to the ratepayers.

If Mr. Dumble's ideas were carried out we would have the ground floor of a building on one of the best positions on our main street closed and idle five days in the week, without signs of life or business, which would not be a very good advertisement for the town, as strangers coming in from either railway station would, as soon as they turned into our main street, be met by a large vacant building, which could not do otherwise than give them an unfavorable impression.

Mr. Editor, I do not wish to take up too much space, but I would like to refer your readers back to some of Mr. Dumble's pet schemes in the past for running the town into debt. The proposed bonus to the Toronto & Ottawa railway, $150,000, and an advance on the same, $2,000, for which the Council of that day held Mr. Dumble's bond; Cobourg railway, $100,000, and everything else that came along that would run the town into more debt, are among the schemes of this far-seeing invividual, who "can see the gathering cloud when it no bigger than a man's hand."

PREPARING FOR THE FRAY.

South Wentworth Reformers Assembled in Council at the Ambitious City.

HAMILTON, June 27.—A meeting of the Reformers of South Wentworth was held this afternoon in the rooms of the Reform Association. Mr. D. A. Hyslop, vice-president, in the chair. The chairman stated the objects for which the meeting had been called—the election of officers, nomination of candidates for the Ontario Legislature and for the Dominion Parliament, and for making arrangements to look after the voters' lists. He thought it would be very long before the people of Ontario would allow the Mowat Government to be defeated. The National Policy was a dead horse, and Commercial Union must be considered.

Mr. D. A. Hyslop was unanimously elected President; Mr. E. F. Snyder, Vice-President; Mr. John Dickenson, Secretary-Treasurer.

When the subject of nominating candidates for the Ontario and Dominion Houses came up, Mr. John Dickenson said that at a meeting of a number of Reformers it was decided that if the meeting to be held on June 27 wished to make nominations they might do so, but if they wished further consideration of the subject it could be left over.

Mr. Hyslop, the president, said that there was a great deal of work to be done in revising voters' lists and seeing that all Reformers were on, and all Tories who should not be on should have their names struck off.

Mr. Joseph Rymal was then called upon to address the meeting on the subject. He said it was too early, he thought, to nominate a candidate yet. What the Reformers of South Wentworth should do was to take it upon themselves to see that the revision of the voters' list was thorough, that there was not a Reform name left off the list that should be on, nor a Tory name left on that should be off. All sorts of Tory villainy had to be met and the work must be done most thoroughly if the Reformers of South Wentworth wished to win.

Another Editor Honored.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The President this afternoon appointed Wm. J. Morgan to be collector of customs for the District of Buffalo Creek, N.Y. Col. Morgan is editor of The Buffalo Commercial Advertiser.

The College Sculls.

NEW LONDON, Conn, June 27.—The Harvard-Columbia freshmen race was won by the Harvards by two lengths.

In the boat race to-night Cornell won by two lengths, Columbia second, three lengths ahead of the University of Pennsylvania third.

The features were the exciting contest between Cornell and Columbia and the sensational collapse of the Columbia crew the instant they crossed the finish line. When they stopped rowing six of them—Bradley, Meiklehan, Robertson, O'Gorman, ——— and Klapp—fell over in a dead faint completely exhausted. Five of the six recovered consciousness within a few minutes but Meiklehan was unconscious for 30 minutes. The six men were then lifted out of their shell and placed on board the Carrie Goodwin. While these transfers were being made the other two men in the Columbia boat—Tuttle and Pelton—also fainted and had to be assisted out of the boat. When the Columbia launch arrived at their quarters the entire crew were lifted out and carried to their rooms and put to bed. The men were in pretty bad shape. They had been rowed to a standstill and had completely broken down. Tuttle was quite excited and at times slightly delirious. Jasper Goodwin, the famous Columbia oarsman, admitted that the men were badly used up and were still under the weather but there was nothing serious. From other sources it was learned that shortly after the race a boat was sent to Gales Ferry and a physician summoned, who remained at the Columbia quarters all night as a precautionary measure.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

ASSASSINATION IN A CEMETERY.

What is Called Lynching in the State of South Carolina.

COLUMBIA, June 28.—A horrible case of the butchery of a negro is reported from Union County. A white man named D. Gallman gave a ride in his buggy to a negro named A. McNight. The negro kicked the dashboard off the buggy, so Gallman says. The white man then cut the negro's throat, but not fatally, leaving him on the road. By and by the negro, half dead with loss of blood, limped along, and Gallman, who had got a gun from an acquaintance and was waiting for him, shot McNight in the stomach. The wounded man was taken to a neighbor's house and a doctor summoned. On Sunday night, while the negro was suffering great agony from his wounds, six masked men entered his room and roughly picking up the wounded negro took him to a churchyard, where they riddled his body with bullets. His entrails were oozing from the gaping wounds in his side, and his earrings were torn from his ears. The verdict of the coroner's jury was:

"The deceased came to his death by gunshot wounds in the hands of unknown persons."

Murdered by a Burglar.

LACROSSE, Wis., June 27.—A burglar entered the house of John Webber last night through the window of a room occupied by his two daughters, Kate and Lena. The girls were awakened while the robber was searching their clothing and Lena, aged 18, attempted to escape. She fell and before she could arise she was seized by the burglar, who plunged a knife into her body below the tenth rib. The knife was pulled upward, a deep gash nine inches long was cut which exposed the heart, lungs and intestines. The assassin then made a thrust at the other girl, who managed to evade the knife. The family was aroused by the noise but the burglar escaped. Lena Webber will die.

Why will you cough when Shiloh's Cure will give immediate relief? Price 10c. 50c. and $1. J. C. Wells & Co., proprietors, Le Roy, N. Y.

"If a woman is pretty,
To me 'tis no matter,
Be she blonde or brunette,
So she lets me look at her."

An unhealthy woman is rarely, if ever, beautiful. The peculiar diseases to which so many of the sex are subject, are prolific causes of pale sallow faces, blotched with unsightly pimples, dull, lusterless eyes and emaciated forms. Women so afflicted, can be permanently cured by using Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription; and with the restoration of health comes that beauty which, combined with good qualities of head and heart, makes women angels of loveliness.

WARRANTED. "Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. It is a positive specific for all those painful disorders, irregularities and weaknesses with which so many women are afflicted.

ATTRACTION

—AT—

TURNBULL'S

The first month of summer is an interesting period to the retail buyer. Keep your eye on this column, it's newsy. Each week things will appear that are the month passes will likely make you richer for the reading.

There is scarcely a weak spot in our Trimmed Millinery yet. The latest hat kind are turning up their pretty faces every day and all the time floods of freshness and brightness keep pouring in new goods constantly. That job line of Untrimmed Hats we spoke of last week is what pleases everybody, variety and prices being right. This week we have placed on our Dress Goods counter a dozen pieces of Fancy Dress Cloths at fifteen cents a yard. The only reason we can conceive that these goods have not sold earlier at higher prices is that they were too new. They ought to, and no doubt will, go out very fast now. Attention is called to them. Shanting Pongee, the dustless kind. You know how the heathen Chinee crams dust into the common run of Pongees; he does not do it to the Shanting—Pure Silk and clean. These goods make up beautiful with our fine Henriettas.

In the Tweed Department we have a fine line of Halifax Tweeds that handle soft and fleecy, just as they ought to handle.—Sale price 25 cents.

We expect to-morrow's train to bring us in a large shipment of Corsets. We keep what our judgment says is the best make in the trade. We see representatives from all the factories. Our 50c. Corsets, we believe, are the best shown in Peterborough for years.

We have been able to repeat that line of Ladies Black Hose, heavy weight, at 15c. a pair. Those who have had these goods will be glad to hear they can get them again now.

Pink is the favorite color in Chambrays this season again. A fresh lot just arrived.

We keep suits for boys and small boys either with or without trimmings, at all prices. Before you buy see them.

PURE LIME FRUIT JUICE.

WHAT IS LIME JUICE?

This question is rendered necessary by the prominent attention Lime Juice is attracting as the Best Temperance Beverage. The answer is that it should be the juice of the Lime Fruit without admixture.

By the "MONTSERRAT" Company alone is the Lime Fruit cultivated for this purpose, and great care should be taken to obtain this brand (as supplied by the British Government) in lieu of the numerous concoctions sold under the name of Lime Juice Cordials, Prepared Lime Juice, etc. Sold by all Druggists, Grocers, and at the leading hotels.

PRICES AND PROSPECTS.

BUSINESS GENERALLY BETTER THAN WAS ANTICIPATED.

High Money Causes Stagnation on the New York Stock Exchange—Sugar Continues to go Up and Coffee Down.

NEW YORK, June 29.—As noted in special telegrams to Bradstreet's, now that half-yearly stock-takings are showing the actual results, there has been a rather more encouraging view taken of the state of general trade. Merchants now are looking ahead to the autumn's business with rather more confidence, particularly at the west where crop reports continue quite favorable and where there is reported the largest demand for agricultural implements in Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska for three years.

Hogs have advanced 10 to 15 cents at leading western centres, with receipts not up to demand.

Cleveland expects the season's lake iron ore shipments to amount to 6,000,000 tons, the largest on record.

Exhausted by the speculative excitement in trust stocks the New York stock market has succumbed to the influence of higher money and the approach of the July holidays, prices being lower and trading stagnant. Bonds are firm and prime issues scarce. Money at New York is sensitive and the loan market disturbed by preparations for the July disbursements. Call loans 4 to 5 per cent. At all important money centres throughout the country funds are firmer and at some there are moderate advances in rates. Foreign exchange is weak with firmer money market demand. Sterling is $4.88 to $4.89½, but francs are still high and about $2,000,000 gold was shipped to Paris.

Petroleum certificates have startled old traders by suddenly displaying remarkable activity after a year's stagnation. Prices closed at 9½ cents on the week. The advance is variously attributed to a "squeeze" by opponents of newly started trading in petroleum options and to the Producers Association in order to get the best possible figures for their 3,500,000 barrels contract with the Standard.

Anthracite coal is to be advanced 5 to 15 cents July 1, which puts the nominal quotations 15 cents above the quotation one year ago. Last year trade was much more active while this year tide-water stocks are heavy, nearly 1,000,000 tons, and trade is not brisk.

The iron trade continues to improve, one or two pig iron companies have announced an advance of 50 cents for summer deliveries to small buyers. Two-thirds of the larger concerns of the country east and west have contracted for supplies ranging from 60 to 90 days; much of this business was taken at late spring quotations and the result of the demand has been a hardening and upward tendency of prices which small buyers will be obliged to pay.

Semi-annual stock-taking sales by New York dry goods jobbers at reductions of 5 to 30 per cent. from regular rates induced a heavy movement in seasonable cotton and woolen goods. Staple fabrics showed the smallest and fancy dress goods the largest reductions. There is more strength in dark prints and ginghams, and woolen and worsted dress goods are most active. Print cloths are in good demand with manufacturers slow to sell at the advance of 1-16 cent. Some makes of cassimeres have been opened at an advance of 5 per cent. over last season. Wool is active at interior markets and prices are strong. Arrivals at the seaboard are increasing. Most of the Ohio clip is reported out of first hands. Raw cotton is active in New York. Old crop future prices have strengthened.

Raw sugars under restricted offerings and freer inquiry advanced ⅛ to ¼ cent. The prediction is made that the "inadequate supplies of sugar will result in high prices throughout the coming year." Sugar trust certificates have touched 126 and reached to 115 this week.

Heavy receipts of coffee at primary Brazilian markets and adverse advices from European markets resulted in large sales and liquidating orders and a decline of 1.25 cent on the week.

Wheat flour is more active and prices are stronger. A very few Northwestern millers are said to control all of the old spring wheat on hand. Reports of damage to wheat abroad and at home and firmer foreign markets induced speculative trading and an advance in wheat of 2½ cents. Indian corn is up and oats are down ¼c. Exports of wheat and of flour as wheat from the United States, this, the last week of the cereal year, aggregate 1,555,951 bushels against 1,105,810 bushels last year and 1,353,197 bushels for the week ending June 30, 1888.

Once More the "Cow."

CAIRO, Ill., June 28.—The northbound passenger train on the Mobile and Ohio Railroad struck a cow twenty miles below here yesterday and was ditched. All the coaches were turned over. Six passengers were slightly hurt and an old negress was fatally crushed.

The Gananoque Camp Inspected.

KINGSTON, June 28.—Sir Adolphe Caron and Sir Fred Middleton visited Gananoque to-day and inspected the camp of 1700 men. They expressed themselves as being pleased.

Three Boys Drowned.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 28.—At Sheffield yesterday Edward Camp, Fred H. Bryte and Frank Oviat, aged from 12 to 14, all of this city, were drowned while bathing.

HAMILTON'S CROOKS.

The Ambitious City Authorities Warring Against Vagrants.

HAMILTON, June 28.—Patrick O'Brien, who was arrested three or four days ago on a charge of vagrancy, was brought up for trial at the Police Court this morning. He said that he had work and would leave the city to go to it right away if allowed to. His record showed two previous convictions, on both of which he served terms. The Magistrate sent him to the Central Prison for six months. The detectives and police are determined to rid the city of a number of such characters as O'Brien.

John Peterson was arrested last night on suspicion of larceny. It is alleged that he broke into a car on the railway and stole therefrom a roll of oilcloth. Peterson says he is a sailor and told the court this morning that he belonged to Port Stanley. When asked the names of some of the people of Port Stanley he was at a loss for a reply, and the conclusion was arrived at that he was yarning. He pleaded not guilty to the charge of larceny and elected to be tried by a jury. He was remanded.

At the Police Court this morning the formality of remanding Nannie Scruggs was again gone through. The unfortunate woman, it will be remembered, was arrested about six months ago on a charge of insanity.

TORONTO TOPICS.

The Pierce Family in Court—Serious Charge against a Barrister.

TORONTO, June 29.—There was a big crowd at the Police Court yesterday to see the debut of the Pierce family. There was James, the father, and Maria, the mother, with the sons Thomas, George and Edward and Andy Foley, alias Kanis. They were arraigned, charged with burglary, but no evidence was taken. They elected to be tried by jury and were remanded until next Wednesday. George and Edward Pierce and Andy Foley were asked to plead on the charge of attempted burglary of the residence of Mr. E. S. Cox, Wellesley-place. They put in a plea of not guilty. Among the witnesses examined was Sergeant Detective Reburn, who detailed a telltale conversation which took place between Edward and George Pierce while in the Wilton-avenue station cells and of which he was an unknown listener. They talked long enough to convince the listener that George was the man who shot at Policeman Lilly. The three were committed for trial, bail being refused. All the prisoners pleaded not guilty to the charge of entering the house of W. J. Gibson, Kew Gardens, and that of John Ross in Sherbourne-street, and their defence will be heard on Wednesday.

Mrs. Lawrence, widow of Rev. Geo. Lawrence, was seriously injured yesterday morning by the caving in of a temporary shed erected over the sidewalk in front of a new building in course of erection at 110 Queen-street west, the accident being caused by the weight of the lumber piled against the guard. Mrs. Lawrence, who was passing through, was caught beneath the timber and pinned to the ground. She was rescued as soon as possible and removed to her home in an ambulance. Last night she was reported to have had both ankles sprained and her back injured, causing her great suffering but no serious results.

The Federal Bank of Canada has entered a suit for $680,000 against Samuel Nordheimer, ex-president of the bank, and the Commercial Loan and Stock Company. This is the largest writ ever issued from Osgoode Hall.

The application for an injunction to restrain the city from proceeding with the erection of the new court house and municipal buildings until a commission is appointed was to have been made yesterday at Osgoode Hall, but was postponed until Tuesday.

A local barrister is accused of using without consent the name of a medical practitioner to secure bail for a client. The benchers will probably be asked to investigate.

The Swedenborgian convention was continued yesterday in the church of the New Jerusalem, Rev. Mr. Allbutt presiding.

Mr. Fred. D. Barwick has received the appointment of Postoffice Inspector for the Toronto division at last. Definite news was received from Ottawa yesterday, and his duties begin on July 2. The salary is some $2000. The present inspector, Mr. M. Sweetnam, is to be transferred to Ottawa, as Chief Inspector for Ontario, to fill the place of Mr. J. Dewe, who has been practically superannuated. Mr. Dewe's salary is $2800.

AMONG THE POLITICIANS.

The Conservatives of Welland in Council at Port Robinson.

PORT ROBINSON, June 28.—An unusually large and representative meeting of the Liberal-Conservative Association of the County of Welland was held here to-day, President John McDonough in the chair. Dr. Ferguson, M.P., explained the position he had taken regarding the O'Brien motion in the House of Commons. Resolutions of confidence in Sir John Macdonald, W. R. Meredith, M.L.A., and Dr. Ferguson, M.P., were unanimously adopted.

These officers were elected: President, John McDonough (re-elected); Vice-Presidents, Daniel Near, John Wilson, John Ramsden, T. F. Ellis (re-elected); Secretary, L. C. Raymond; Treasurer, Dr. Frank King.

East Huron Conservatives.

BRUSSELS, June 28.—A meeting of the Conservative Association of East Huron was held here to-day at which resolutions of confidence in the management of the affairs of the country by the government of Sir John A. Macdonald and of approval of the course pursued by W. R. Meredith were unanimously carried. The selection of candidates and the Jesuit question were left over.

Canada's Proposition re Lumber Duties.

OTTAWA, June 28.—The Dominion Government, through the medium of the Foreign Office, has proposed to the United States Government that both Governments should consider the propriety of removing the import and export duties on lumber of all kinds, or in other words, that the Canadian Government will abolish the import and export duties on lumber providing the Washington authorities reciprocate. As an earnest of good faith the Dominion authorities have meanwhile reduced the export duty on pine logs from $3 to $2 per thousand feet, board measure, the figure at which it stood in November last, previous to the representations of the lumbermen asking for an increase. This reduction in the export duty takes place on July 1.

The Fast Atlantic Service.

OTTAWA, June 28.—The negotiations between the Government and Mr. Anderson of London, Eng., for the establishment and maintenance of a fast line of steamships between Quebec and Plymouth have been brought to a successful termination. This morning the Minister of Justice finally approved of the form of the contract.

Destined for the Sideshow.

KOKOMO, Ind., June 28.—On Tuesday two miles south of here Mrs. Henry Jones had born to her twin girls inseparably connected at the hips and lower abdomen. No vital organs are connected except the spinal column, which is continuous from one end to the other. Each breathes and pulsates quite independently of the other, and both are perfectly formed and have free use of their limbs.

IN GUARDED WHISPERS.

COONEY THE FOX TALKS WITH RECORDER BOLAND.

The Cronin Suspect Suddenly Appears in Court at Kansas City and Swiftly Disappears—What Beggs Says.

CHICAGO, June 28.—Young Carlson, whose parents own the cottage in which Dr. Cronin was murdered, declares two men came to the cottage yesterday and threatened him with death if he should identify Martin Burke, now under arrest at Winnipeg.

The special Grand Jury will probably finish its work to-morrow handing in a few indictments. It is probable John F. Beggs and Patrick Cooney, Burke's partner, will be in the list. Alexander Sullivan's friends say they do not fear his indictment, yet there is a strong feeling that a true bill will be found against the ex-President of the Land League. So much evidence has been laid before the Grand Jury regarding the inner workings of the Clan-na-Gael that it is believed the Grand Jury has made up its mind to throw out a drag net. The iceman, P. O'Sullivan, has been "leaking" right along and it is probable by this time there is little he has not told. His attorney is a man who has been engaged in a number of murder cases where conspiracy has figured largely, and it is a noteworthy fact that his clients have generally saved themselves by telling what they know. O'Sullivan knows it will be easy enough to hang him on the testimony already gathered against him, so there is no merit in his being stubborn.

Dan Coughlin will not be asked to "squeal," but enough is known of him and his connection with the murder of Cronin to justify the prophecy that if anyone is hanged he will be one of the lot. The Illinois Conspiracy law is a fearful weapon, and in this case the State will use it for all it is worth. No difficulty is apprehended in inducing Burke to confess when he comes back.

The men who stand a chance of being placed on trial for the murder of Cronin are Daniel Coughlin, Frank Woodruff, Martin Burke, Patrick Cooney (when caught), Beggs and possibly Alexander Sullivan.

The Grand Jury to-day examined Edward Spellman, the Peoria distiller and district officer of the Clan-na-Gael. Mr. Spellman was called in to be examined about the alleged disbanding of Camp 20 since the murder. He told the Grand Jury the camp had not been disbanded. He said the records of the camp had not been destroyed and that any records pertaining to the camp were at the disposal of the Grand Jury.

D. J. Lyon, ex-police justice, was examined in regard to the bogus lawsuit tried before him in which Dr. Cronin was a witness. The suit was a trumped up affair, the sole object of which was to place the doctor on the witness stand so that on cross-examination his life from early boyhood could be gone over.

John F. Beggs, Senior Guardian of Camp 20 Clan-na-Gael, who was arrested Tuesday, was to-day allowed to see reporters. He denied that he has squealed and said that he had nothing to tell. He claimed his treatment by the police was brutal and that the police had not offered the slightest excuse for his detention, which he declared was illegal. Beggs attributed his arrest to the machinations of a local politician.

Cooney the Fox at Kansas City.

KANSAS CITY, June 28.—While Recorder Boland was holding court here to-day a stranger entered, sat beside the judge, and spoke with him for a few moments in guarded whispers. The judge looked much surprised and with difficulty controlled his agitation. The stranger soon left. A Chicago man who was in court recognized the stranger as Cooney the "Fox," the Cronin suspect. He hastened to notify the Chief of Police, but Cooney escaped and has not yet been found.

LIKE RATS IN A TRAP.

Six Persons Found Dead in a Paterson (N.J.) House of Ill-Repute.

PATERSON, N.J., June 28.—Four women and two men, all disreputable characters, were discovered dead to-night in a house of ill-repute here. Death was caused by asphyxiation. Three of the women were stretched out on the floor, half naked. The oldest, aged 40, was lying in a pool of blood, which came from an ugly wound in the head and covered her face and body. Her right eye was almost torn from the socket and the face was horribly swollen. The fourth woman, aged 17, was sitting in a rocking chair near the window with her arms folded. Goodfried, keeper of the dive, was found in the rear of the house lying on a cot with his tongue protruding and swollen to four times its normal size. His features were badly decomposed. He was about 50 years old. The second man was found in a sitting position with his head resting on the bed on which Goodfried was lying. Near him was a gas stove, which had evidently done the fatal work. The gang were last seen Wednesday night going into the dive. It is believed they have been dead since Thursday morning. The coroner and police are investigating the case.

AN ORGANIST'S SUICIDE.

The Well-Known Dr. Eugene Thayer Blows Out His Brains.

BURLINGTON, Vt., June 28.—Dr. Eugene Thayer, the well-known organist of New York, committed suicide this morning by shooting. He had been out walking with Mrs. Thayer. On returning she noticed that he had a parcel in his hand. She went to her room and about an hour later she found Dr. Thayer in a closet dead with a revolver in his hand. No noise had been heard. He had placed the pistol in his mouth and fired. Mrs. Thayer says the deceased had been mentally wrong for some time. The deceased was one of the best known musical writers in the country.

Fatal Conflict With a Lunatic.

KEOKUK, Ia., June 28.—W. McGinnis, living north of Cambria, has been showing symptoms of insanity. To-day Sheriff Ramsay, Deputy Rollins and a man named Bloese went to McGinnis' house to take charge of him. McGinnis drew a revolver, shooting Sheriff Ramsay through the head and killing him. Rollins then shot McGinnis through the jaw, inflicting a painful wound. McGinnis then shot Rollins through the arm, the ball passing into his side, inflicting a fatal wound. McGinnis then turned on Bloese, but the latter shot him through the head. McGinnis will die.

The Western Freight Meeting.

CHICAGO, June 28.—Nothing was done at to-day's meeting of the western association to change the northwestern situation. The matter will be considered further to-morrow.

Steamship Collision.

BOSTON, June 28.—The steamers Kolus and Bay Queen collided to-day off Narragansett and were badly damaged. The passengers were taken off.

A Terrible Storm.

RACINE, Wis., June 28.—An electric storm passed over this city Wednesday night, which was the most severe known here for years. Thirteen houses and barns were damaged by lightning.

FIRES OF A DAY.

Two Losses at Montreal—One Hundred Square Miles of Flames in Montana.

MONTREAL, June 28.—The Protestant school building at St. Louis De Mile End was partially destroyed by fire early this morning.

Another fire in Mrs. Penton's residence on Burnside-place did $8000 damage, covered by insurance.

The Manotick Fire Victims.

MANOTICK, June 28.—This morning the fourth victim of the Wilson fire horror was buried. She was Mr. Wilson's second daughter, named Mary. This morning a telegram from Ottawa announces Mrs. Wilson's death at the hospital, making the fifth victim, and the boy Henry, now at the hospital, is not expected to live. The eldest girl, Rebecca, is at the hospital, and may recover.

A $300,000 Blaze at Chicago.

CHICAGO, June 28.—The Burton block, corner of Van Buren and Clinton-streets, a big six-story building, took fire at 5 o'clock this morning, and by 7 o'clock the big building was in ruins. Loss $300,000. Finished as it was with pressed brick and cut stone trimmings the building was regarded as the model manufacturing building of the neighborhood.

Montana on Fire.

HELENA, Mont., June 28.—A forest fire started in Cascade County, near Sand Coulee, two days ago and all efforts to check it proved unavailing. Last night the fire covered an area of over 100 square miles and had destroyed the best hay in the region. The loss will be very heavy. No lives are reported lost, but several ranchmen have been burned out.

A DESTRUCTIVE COMBINATION.

Cyclone, Waterspout and Hail Join Forces in Minnesota.

RUSHFORD, Minn., June 28.—A combined cyclone, waterspout and hail storm passed from one to five miles east of here last night, destroying everything in its path. The damage is estimated at $100,000. Some of the hailstones were as large as a man's fist. Two men were drowned in swollen streams.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT.

Yale Wins the Four-Mile Eight-Oared Race From Harvard.

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 28.—The fourteenth annual four-mile straight-away eight-oared race between crews representing the Universities of Yale and Harvard was rowed this evening over the Thames River course from Winthrop's Point to Gales' Ferry and was won by Yale by six boat lengths. Official time—Yale 21.30, Harvard 21.55. The series of races between these colleges now stands: Yale 8 victories, 6 defeats; Harvard 6 victories, 8 defeats. Yale also holds the record for the fastest time over the course (20.10), made last year.

The start was at 7.30. At the word "go," Harvard caught the water first and her shell forged ahead of Yale by half a length. Harvard started with a stroke of 34 and Yale 32. Harvard held her lead for about 150 yards, then Yale began to gain at every stroke and at the quarter they were on even terms. At the half the two shells were even. Just after passing the half Harvard took a lead of about 10 feet and as they reached the mile flag Yale spurted, running the stroke up to 33 and getting a quarter length in front, passing the mile flag in 4.47, with Harvard two seconds behind. This spurt settled the race, as after passing the mile flag Yale gradually increased her lead and Harvard was unable to prevent it. Harvard was plainly distressed while Yale was pulling in perfect form. At the 3 miles Yale had a boat's length of clear water and the race was finished so far as Harvard's chances were concerned. At the 3½ Yale struck smooth water close under the bank and two additional lengths were quickly added to her lead. Harvard made a final effort to lessen the distance but to no purpose, as Yale crossed the line an easy winner by six lengths.

OTTAWA, June 28.—The will of the late Wm. Davis, contractor, has been admitted to probate. The estate is valued at $767,-000.

THE DELAGOA DIFFICULTY.

TO BE CONSIDERED BY SALISBURY'S CABINET TO-DAY.

A Salvationist Procession Dispersed to the Sound—Loss of a British Bark and Her Crew.

LONDON, June 29.—A special Cabinet council will be held to-morrow to consider the Delagoa Bay Railroad question. It is expected a portion of the Cape of Good Hope squadron will participate in a naval demonstration at Lisbon.

Portugal Said to Have Backed Down.

LONDON, June 28.—A despatch from Durban says: The Governor of Delagoa Bay telegraphs that the decree cancelling the railway concession has been rescinded and the company will continue the building of the railroad.

The shareholders of the company whose concession to build the Delagoa Bay Railway has been cancelled by Portugal held a meeting in London to-day. It was resolved to resist any attempt on the part of Portugal to take the work out of the company's hands, as such action would result in a grave crisis. It was further determined, in the event of Portugal persisting in carrying out her threatened action, to call upon the British Government to demand from Portugal the payment of her debt to England of $45,000,000 incurred in 1884, and to ask that such sum be applied to the purchase of the railway. It was also decided that the company should claim from Portugal and request the British Government to enforce the claim.

Austria-Hungary's Policy.

VIENNA, June 28.—Count Kalnoky, addressing a committee of Hungarian delegates yesterday, objected to pessimist judgments on Austria-Hungary's eastern policy, which was founded upon a spontaneous development of Balkan independence, and is necessarily slow in its effects. He expressed doubts as to whether a Russo-Servian convention was mooted, and said he had no reason to distrust the Servian regents. He also said he approved the principle of Bulgarian development and accepted Roumania's zealous desires for independence. He had a firm belief in the formation of states possessing vitality in themselves as the closing phase of the Eastern question. He was ardently desirous of deferring war as long as possible.

Lost With All Her Crew.

LONDON, June 28.—The British bark Ecuador, Captain Hughes, from Buenos Ayres April 23 for Barbadoes, has been lost with all her crew.

Salvationists Dispersed.

LONDON, June 28.—The policy of forbidding street demonstrations, hitherto employed only against the Socialists, was applied yesterday to the Salvation Army. Their procession was dispersed in the Strand as being an approach to Trafalgar-square. A feature of the procession was 100 men and women in convict costume, who have been imprisoned for holding Salvation meetings in the streets.

A Tell-Tale Silence.

LONDON, June 28.—At the meeting of the Parnell Commission to-day James O'Brien, M.P., refused to say whether he had been a member of the Fenian Executive Council.

The News in Paris.

PARIS, June 28.—The Chamber of Deputies to-day passed the Panama Canal relief bill.

The Senate Committee will on Thursday next consider the question of indicting Boulanger.

Threatened Massacre.

ZANZIBAR, June 28.—The Arabs threaten a massacre of 60 British Indians at Lindi if he man-of-war fire a single shot.

The Loss of Life at Johnstown.

JOHNSTOWN, June 28.—The timekeepers in the Cambria offices estimate that from 400 to 500 of their workmen in the Gautier and Cambria Iron Works were lost. Counting women and children dependent upon them they put their loss of people at 2000. They estimate the entire loss of life at 10,000. Four bodies were recovered this morning.

The situation here is growing brighter every day. Eighty thousand dollars arrived to-day to pay the men in the various departments. The registering of flood sufferers for the purpose of distributing local funds was finished to-night. The men in charge of the work do not think more than 4000 lives were lost. Rev. Mr. Beale, chairman of the Morgue Committee, has issued his official report. He has a record of about 2300 bodies. Ten bodies were recovered to-day. Property losses amounting to nearly $8,000,000 have been reported.

Two men with a forged order purporting to come from General Hastings to-day took away Leona Smith, aged 11, from the house of Mrs. Moses Kelly in Morrellville. It is feared the girl was kidnapped.

The St. George Victims to Combine.

WOODSTOCK, June 28.—Thomas E. Martin, Joliet, Ill., with [illegible] Nellas, S. G. McKay and W. T. McMullen, legal gentlemen of Woodstock, all interested in the legal proceedings arising out of the St. George railway accident, state that the plaintiffs in the several suits against the Grand Trunk Railway for damages for injuries sustained in the accident will unite in employing counsel, and the cases will come up before the November sittings of the assizes in Woodstock. They declare that they will carry the matter to the Privy Council if necessary to secure a decision in their favor.

Short in His Accounts.

PHILADELPHIA, June 28.—George W. Wright, a well known business man prominently connected with several beneficial associations, is said to be short in his accounts as treasurer of the Order of Tonti and it is understood warrants for his arrest have been issued. "Try Ayer's Pills"

For Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout. Stephen Lansing, of Yonkers, N. Y., says: "Recommended as a cure for chronic Costiveness, Ayer's Pills have relieved me from that trouble and also from Gout. If every victim of this disease would heed only three words of mine, I could banish Gout from the land. These words would be—'Try Ayer's Pills.'"

"By the use of Ayer's Pills alone, I cured myself permanently of rheumatism which had troubled me several months. These Pills are at once harmless and effectual, and, I believe, would prove a specific in all cases of incipient

Rheumatism.

No medicine could have served me in better stead."—C. C. Rock, Corner, Avoyelles Parish, La.

C. F. Hopkins, Nevada City, writes: "I have used Ayer's Pills for sixteen years, and I think they are the best Pills in the world. We keep a box of them in the house all the time. They have cured me of sick headache and neuralgia. Since taking Ayer's Pills, I have been free from these complaints."

"I have derived great benefit from Ayer's Pills. Five years ago I was taken so ill with rheumatism that I was unable to do any work. I took three boxes of Ayer's Pills and was entirely cured. Since that time I am never without a box of these pills."—Peter Christensen, Sherwood, Wis.

SONS, OF ENGLAND HALL

OPENED BY AN ENTERTAINMENT AND DEDICATED.

The Supreme Grand President Dedicates the Hall—A Largely Attended and Pleasant Reception.

The new hall of the Sons of England Benevolent Society, in which Lansdowne and Peterborough Lodges will meet, was opened last evening by a reception and entertainment. A description of the hall appeared in the REVIEW a few days ago, and since then the furniture for the hall, which is elegant and substantial, has been placed in position, having been obtained from the establishments of Mr. Clegg and Mr. Bellegham, and the premises are elegant and comfortable.

The hall had been beautifully decorated for the occasion. Over the platform there were pictures and flags, and the walls were decorated with flags and bunting, and adorned with pictures of the Queen, Royal Family, eminent Englishmen, and patriotic and other scenes. Over the door there was a motto, "Welcome to All," and opposite the door "God Save the Queen," and around the hall were other mottoes, such as "Canada Our Home," "Loyal Hearts and True," and "The Bible Our Rule of Faith." The entrance hall was also decorated with flags and illuminated with Chinese lanterns, giving the visitors a pleasurable impression even before entering the hall.

The chair was occupied by Bro. J. W. Kempling, of Barrie, Supreme Grand President, who was supported on the platform by Bro. W. Brundrett, P.P., Bro. T. Gunn, P. P., and Bro. Dr. Pigeon. The attendance was large, the spacious hall being filled with the members and their friends who had come to attend the opening reception.

The entertainment was opened with a tableau, "Britannia," which was a very effective commencement. Miss Brundrette, seated on a throne, represented Britannia, and on the platform were representatives of the volunteer force in uniform and carrying arms, while the members of the Order on the platform joined in singing the chorus of "Rule Britannia." Mr. Walter Stocker, in a sailor's uniform and looking the typical Jack Tar, sang the solos. The second number was an instrumental trio (violin, cello and piano), by Messrs. W. E. Leech, K. G. Leech and A. F. Hoover, which was a fine piece of music excellently executed. A solo was given by Mr. M. Bowman, who possesses a very pleasing voice. Mrs. Bowman followed with a solo in her usual good voice, and was liberally applauded. An instrumental duet by the Misses Leech was excellent and richly deserved the applause it called forth. Mr. W. A. Dixon gave an exhibition of ventriloquism and imitations. He was very successful and was frequently applauded, and concluded amid loud cheers. The first part of the programme was concluded by a spirited song by Mr. K. G. Leech.

An intermission followed, during which refreshments were obtained at a booth in the hall. The booth was admirably arranged with two tents (which, as well as the flags, were from Mr. J. J. Turner's factory), and was under the management of Mr. Hooper. It was well patronized during the intermission and afterwards.

The second part opened with the "Crowning of the May Queen," and the May pole dance by twenty-five little girls —daughters of England. The singing and crowning of the queen, represented by Miss Tivey, was well carried out, and the dancing was a very pretty spectacle that was generously applauded. The children had been well trained by Sergt.-Major Rundle. Then followed an instrumental trio by Messrs. W. E. Leech, K. G. Leech and A. F. Hoover, a solo by Mrs. Bowman, a song by Mr. M. Bowman, a song, "The Union Jack of Old England," by Mr. George Varnes with a chorus, and a solo by Mr. K. G. Leech. The programme was [illegible] by the audience singing the [illegible] Anthem.

[illegible] entertainment was [illegible] every respect, the attendance [illegible], the programme excellent [illegible] occasion a very enjoyable one. [illegible] Sons of England excursion on [illegible] will be another very enjoyable [illegible]

CANADA'S NATAL DAY.

The Programme for the Celebration on Monday.

There will be ample opportunity for all to enjoy themselves on Monday, as the programme for the celebration is varied.

CRICKET.

In the forenoon at 9 30 a cricket match will be begun in the Association ground between the Peterborough club and the Rosedale club, of Toronto. This will be an interesting match.

LACROSSE.

In the afternoon at 2 30 the Riversides and Beavertons will play a championship match. The Beavertons are one of the strongest clubs in the district and the match will be exciting.

AT ST. JOSEPH'S

The St. Peter's picnic in the grounds of St. Joseph's hospital promises to be most successful. There will be a baseball match at 10 a. m., a tug of war, dinner on the grounds, a list of sports and games and dancing all day.

TO JACOB'S ISLAND.

The annual Sons of England excursion will be run to Jacob's Island in Pigeon Lake. The excursionists will go by the Chemong Lake Railway to Chemong Lake, and by steamer and palace barge take a pleasant sail through the lakes. It will be a most enjoyable outing.

FIREWORKS.

A pyrotechnic display will be given by the firemen in the Association grounds in the evening. There will be a procession of the Brigade and Band to the grounds, and the display will be well worth witnessing.

DOWN THE RIVER.

The Salvation Army will run an excursion down the river to Jubilee Point, where they will meet excursionists from other points. A pleasant day is in store for them.

A Brilliant Graduation.

It is with unfeigned pleasure that the REVIEW congratulates Sergt.-Major H. S. Rogers, son of Col. H. C. Rogers, on the brilliant manner in which he graduated from the Royal Military College at Kingston. He carried off the Stanley gold medal for obtaining the highest aggregate of marks in the whole course, and the Lord Stanley prize to a qualified graduate intending to pursue the military profession, either in the Imperial forces or in the Dominion militia, for highest proficiency at the final examinations in military engineering, military administration and law, strategy and tactics, military surveying, topography and reconnaissance. He also won the class prize for highest proficiency and five class prizes in the entire course. Sergt.-Major Rogers has been recommended for a commission in the Royal Engineers. The Empire's report says.—"On the conclusion of the report, the prizes, consisting of a travelling kit, cricket kit, revolver, books, etc., were distributed by the Minister of Militia and Sir Fred Middleton, the commandant announcing the names. Co. Sergt.-Major Rogers carried off a wheelbarrow full of prizes and he returned so soon after to the platform that when the commandant called R-O-G-E-R-S it was the signal for loud cheers" The Mail thus describes the scene—"The presentation of the prizes was an exciting event. As the winners walked up to the platform they saluted Sir Adolphe Caron, who tendered them their trophies amid great applause. H. S. Rogers was the cynosure of all eyes, and he seemed to sweep the boards, finally getting a comrade to aid him in carrying off his honours. Major-General Cameron appreciated the general enjoyment, and with a voice like a cannon, roared, 'Company Sergt.-Major Rogers,' with a roll on the 'r' like a roar of artillery, making the audience scream with delight. It truly was a great event for the young men. His less victorious comrades received tributes of admiration by hearty hand clappings and cheers." Sergt.-Major Rogers is a worthy son of a worthy sire and ancestors, and with such a brilliant beginning his future career will, we hope and do not doubt, be as successful as his numerous friends could wish.

Religious Services.

The following is a list of services in the several churches to-morrow:—

AUBURN MISSION.—Service of song in Sunday School to-morrow afternoon, Rev. P. Clifton Parker to preside. The Crossley and Hunter hymn books will be used.

Mr. Dumble Addresses the Council.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—I have read the proceedings of the Town Council at their meeting last night. I do not wonder at the conclusion they came to in reference to the new market buildings. When men are elected to a place calling for wisdom, they take it for granted that they are wise—and as naturally assume that the people out of the Council are a little lacking, and so they resent any suggestions from the people as a censure. In this market building matter the Council suddenly resolved to build. The next morning, without plan, or estimate, or approval of the ratepayers, they broke ground. Three times they have changed their plans, and now the foundation calls for twice the quantity of stone they first estimated for. They started with a $10,500 building—Merchant says it will cost $15,000, Mr. Cahill says it will cost $20,000. Who knows? Won't it be the story of the Bank of Toronto buildings over again? If they had submitted their scheme to the people, got plans and estimates, and the approval of the people, I would not be surprised at their clinging to their plan, but inasmuch as they don't know where they are, why resent as impertinent the opinion of the Board of Trade, and the opinion of the merchants of George-st? Surely the Council are not in a position to defy public opinion.

According to their estimates, the rent of these shops will pay the interest of the entire cost. Why not, then, let three shops and the archway form a down-stairs market and rent the three spare shops?

It is said the stairs will be easy. Perhaps so, but the plans show a climb of 15 feet, and that, too, by winding stairs—which afford the greatest facility for slipping. Two years ago Mrs. Stratton broke her arm by a fall on the old market steps. In no other town in Canada that I have heard of is there such a thing as an up-stair market.

The market square was given to the town for a market place, and to cover it with shops and make the market a secondary consideration is a misuse of the ground.

We again respectfully submit to the Council that the people will sustain them in a change of the plan and that it is unwise to persist in ignoring the expressed wish of the people.

We consider that to spend the people's money in building a great hall up stairs with a 20 foot ceiling that never can be heated, for a market, and to erect a great clock tower when we already have two, and to call this a market, is more like a joke than the sober act of wise men. We are not children with a hobby. Let us put our heads together and devise a plan which will give the most good to the most people.

Yours truly,
[illegible]

Picking up Pigs

Mr. James Cole, buyer for Mr. George Matthews of Peterborough, is picking up a large number of hogs throughout the county, says the Lindsay Post, and ships an average of about twenty-five per week. Most of them are of the Berkshire breed, and tally about 200 lbs. all round. Farmers as a class recognize that only good breeds of pigs are profitable and eschew the long-snouted variety.

You've heard it, thought of it, now try it and prove that M. R. KIDD sells No. 1 groceries at lowest prices.

'A Spring Message'

From the New Firm of

H. LeBRUN & CO.

Sign of the Golden Horse-shoe.

The people of Peterborough and vicinity are all aware of the business change which took place in the CITY CLOTHING STORE on the first day of February last. The new firm beg leave to make their first bow to the public through the columns of the REVIEW, and to request a careful perusal of the following Spring and Summer circular:—

The City Clothing Store

in past years, by long experience in business, by buying always for spot cash, importing direct from the principal houses of the old country and from the leading houses of Canada, and by strict economy in conducting its business, has always been able to force prices down to an exceedingly fine point. The members of which the new firm is composed will form a still stronger "combine," by which the CITY CLOTHING STORE will be even better prepared to procure for its customers a continuation of those superior inducements in the future for which it has been noted in the past.

Men's Clothing.

The magnitude of our stock and lowness of prices given us a great advantage over all other competitors in the trade. We carry in stock all the fast selling lines, styles and patterns, and can fit the tall, the short, the fat and the lean.

MORE SUITS, BETTER FABRICS, FINER STYLES than were ever handled before.

Special values in FINE SPRING OVERCOATS, and FINE SPRING and SUMMER SUITS. Don't fail to see them. The superb styles, workmanship, and the beautiful fabrics and patterns that we offer will surprise you.

Merchant Tailoring.

"For the apparel oft proclaims the man."

Fine dressers in search of new, neat and nobby OVERCOATINGS, SUITINGS or TROUSERINGS will find this department crowded to overflowing with cloth from all countries. To select from the largest assortment is an advantage we offer to our customers, backed up by the skill of experienced cutters and tailors. Besides perfect fit and first-class trimmings, we guarantee absolutely first-class workmanship.

Boys' and Youths' Clothing.

Clothing for the little ones—boys and children—has always been a specialty with us. We have always sought to give great values in this department, and to provide a larger and finer variety of goods for parents to select from than they could find elsewhere.

This means that we are showing a large assortment of BOYS' and CHILDREN'S SUITS, BOYS' and CHILDREN'S BLOUSES, SHIRT WAISTS, PANTS, &c.

This spring there are an unusual number of new and nobby styles and an enlarged variety of fabrics and patterns. Be sure and see our stock.

Gents' Furnishings.

Gentlemen of Peterborough seeking the latest styles and best values for their money, as well as an opportunity of selecting from the largest stock of Furnishing Goods, should not fail to visit this department at once. We offer the finest, best selected and the largest assortment of NECKWEAR, HOSIERY, UNDERWEAR, GLOVES, SHIRTS, HANDKERCHIEFS, etc., to be found in any first-class establishment.

The Evening Event.

The only attraction for Monday evening will be on the P. A. A. The firemen have spared no expense but intend to give the grandest pyrotechnic display ever seen in Peterborough and the band will also excel itself and will give some of its choicest selections. Everybody should attend and be delighted. 1d152

The Soldiers Return.

The local detachment of "C" troop of Cavalry, under Col. H. C. Rogers, arrived home from camp at Gananoque on a special train per the Grand Trunk about ten o'clock this morning. Camp was struck last evening, and the train was loaded shortly after eight, and Gananoque was left shortly afterwards. The men look a little bronzed and more soldierly after their camp, but report very wet weather. The troop proceeded to the drill shed and from there walked to dinner at the Snowden House. This afternoon a parade took place. The Millbrook company of the 46th came up on the same train, but the battery men remained at Port Hope. Mr. R. M. Roy photographed the cavalry troop at Central Park.

Their Loss—Our Gain.

Speaking of Mr. Mulholland's departure from Cobourg the World says:—We deeply regret to have to announce to our readers that Mr. Robt. Mulholland is intending to leave Cobourg and enter into partnership with Mr. Roper, as private bankers, at Peterborough. For many years, Mr. Mulholland has been one of our most influential and enterprising citizens. His energetic business ability gained for him while yet a young man, ample means, and when carrying on the hardware business he was universally regarded as one of the shrewdest and most acute merchants in the Midland District. His fellow citizens have often manifested the confidence which they feel in him by electing him again and again to the position of Councilor, until he positively refused to stand again. After his withdrawal from business, some eight years ago, Mr. Mulholland yielded to the earnest solicitation of the Conservative party to be their candidate for the Ontario House in opposition to the then sitting member, Mr. J. C. Field. After a sharp and heavy fight, Mr. Mulholland was elected by the majority of 57 votes over his opponent, who was [illegible] one of the most popular Liberals in the Riding, and who at the preceding election had defeated [illegible] Guillet, the present member for the Commons, by a close majority. In the Mulholland-Field election, The World did its best to defeat the former gentleman, and now he is going we can give him a friendly farewell, and regret that in the future we shall have no warm struggles with each other. The Presbyterian church, of which his family and himself are members, will feel deeply their loss, but they will be a great gain to their church in Peterborough. We hope, however, that Mr. Mulholland will make Cobourg his home and Peterborough his business quarters only. Turn about is fair play. Mr. Roper, his partner, is also well-known in Cobourg. For nine years he was the Manager of the Bank of Toronto here, and during that time gained for himself the respect and confidence not alone of the business, but of the whole community. We wish for the new firm great success, and have not the slightest doubt but that they will achieve it.

The presence of dandruff indicates a diseased scalp, and if not cured, blanching of the hair and baldness will result. Hall's Hair Renewer will cure it.

LOCAL SPORTS.

The Wheelmen have Their Second Meet—A Good Ball Game.

The second of the fortnightly meets of the local bicycle club was held last evening on the P.A.A.A. grounds and was a success. The races were exciting and considerable interest was manifested in the events by those present. The boys will undoubtedly have larger crowds at these fortnightly meets, as every event becomes more interesting the more frequently it is contested. Mr. R. B. Rogers was starter, and the programme of races was run off without any disturbing feature.

THE RACES

The one mile green race was the first race called, and in this there were ten entries, and as a consequence the race was ridden in heats. McGill, Morgan, Fife and Meredith were the riders in the first heat and Fife was the winner. Doxie, Dolan, Springer, Carr and W. and H. Holland were in the second heat, which was won by Dolan. This left Fife, Dolan and Morgan, who won the event at the last meet, to ride the deciding heat, and Fife crossed the wire first an easy winner.

The two mile open race was the second event, which had four entries McGill, Fife, Might and F. Matthews. This was a good race, but Might was the fastest and won the race.

Next came the two-mile handicap in which Dolan, Meredith, Morgan, Fife, McGill and Might were enter, the last being the only scratch man. Three riders dropped out during the race and left Might, McGill and Fife to ride the finish. Might finished first.

The 100 yard dash had three entries—W. Holland, W. Hendron and and D. Davidson, and the latter won easily.

The one-mile race was the last on the programme, but proved to be a close and exciting race. Might, Hendron and Fife were the entries. Hendron led until the seventh or eighth lap with Might second and Fife third. Then Fife made a spurt and took the lead, but only held it for a short time, when Might forged ahead where he remained until the finish.

Another Win.

The Association and the Ashburnham Astonishers played a game of baseball on the P.A.A.A. grounds yesterday afternoon, and as the score will show, the boys played a good game. These practice matches have made great improvement in the players. This is the seventh straight match that the Association have won, and yesterday they hardly expected to win, as they were compelled to take in a couple of out side players, while their opponents were playing a strong nine. Allison and Graham were the battery for the Association nine, and the latter caught a fine game throughout. The one-armed twirler, McCabe, was in the box for the Astonishers, and O'Brien was his receiver. The score was as follows:—

Association	1	0	3	0	0	0	4	0	1	—9
Astonishers	2	0	0	0	0	1	1	0	3	—7

A Championship Game.

The championship game of lacrosse to be played in Riverside Park between the Riversides and the Beavertons, on Monday afternoon, will be a good exhibition. The Riversides will select their team from the following players:—J. Joyal, J. Begley, A. Rose, W. Hendren, F. Pakenham, J. Phelan, T. Meagher, M. Halpin, T. Duncan, Jas. McCabe, J. Closing Decoration Day.

The success and smoothness with which the observance of Decoration Day by the Oddfellows was attended is a matter for congratulation, and was the subject of remark last evening. After the brethren returned from the cemetery to Otonabee Lodge they went into open lodge and several resolutions were passed and speeches made. The warm thanks of the brethren were expressed in resolutions to the ladies and gentlemen who so kindly sent donations of flowers, to the visiting brethren and to the Canton for its escort. To these resolutions suitable replies were made, by Bro. Chadwick, of Stratford, and Bros. Cummings and Gear, of Norwood, as visiting brethren, and Capt. Moore replied for the Canton. Those who sent donations of flowers were:—Otonabee Lodge.—Mrs. Hatton, hand bouquet, Miss Chamberlain, hand bouquet, W. R. Loch, hand bouquet, P. Hamilton, hand bouquet, Rufus Stevenson, hand bouquet. Some of these bouquets were very fine. Peterborough Lodge.—Mrs. B. Cooney, Ashburnham, 2 wreaths and 2 hand bouquets, Mrs. E. Pearse, basket of cut flowers, Miss B. Tully, cut flowers, Mrs. Orde, Ashburnham, cut flowers, Mrs. Jas. Best, a button hole bouquets, Miss Ada, Mitchell, hand bouquet, Mrs. W. Henderson, hand bouquet, Mrs. S. White, hand bouquet.

THE PLANS UNCHANGED.

THE PETITION OF MR. DUMBLE AND OTHERS SENT TO A COMMITTEE.

The Councillors' Defence—Councillor Cahill Talks at Length—The Pigeon Creek Repairs—A Powder Magazine—Sidewalks and Hydrants—The License By-law—The Communications and Accounts.

The Town Council held a special meeting last night and the legislators laid themselves out for a long night's work and considerable business was rushed through before the Council adjourned. Mayor Stevenson presided and the ward representatives present were Councillors Cahill, Davidson, Winch, Kelly, E. H. D. Hall, A. Hall, Dawson, Baptie, Rutherford, Langford and Hartley.

THE PIGEON CREEK BRIDGE.

The MAYOR had a couple of matters which he wished to lay before the Council. The first was in reference to the Pigeon Creek bridge, which has been in need of repairs for some long time now. Last year the Council voted $75 to be expended in repairing the bridge provided the county granted a like sum for the same purpose, but this the county refused to do. The Mayor stated that Messrs. McQuaig and Fairbairn had been appointed commissioners by the Council of the townships of Emily and Verulam to confer with the town in reference to repairing the bridge. Mr. McQuaig had seen him last week and told him that the townships were willing to grant $75 towards making the necessary repairs if the Town Council would give a similar grant. The townships were anxious to have the matter dealt with at once.

POWDER MAGAZINES.

Another matter His Worship wished to bring before the Council was the question of building a powder magazine. He said he had been spoken to by several merchants in reference to this matter, and these merchants objected to having large quantities of powder stored in stores on George-st. He thought immediate action should be taken to protect the merchants of George st.

Councillor DAWSON supported the Mayor, and suggested that a good place for the magazine would be on Mark Curtis' property near the rifle ranges.

COMMUNICATIONS.

The Town Clerk then read the following communications:—

From Geo. A. Morrison offering to insure the fire brigade for $120.—Received.

From Meldrum & Davidson asking for hydrants—Fire, Water and Light Committee.

From D. W. Dumble asking for a sidewalk in front of two new houses which he had erected on lots 12 and 13, north side of Dublin-st. east of George-st.—Street and Bridge Committee.

From Mr. Geo. Cochrane, license inspector, inquiring if the Council intended submitting another license by-law.—Received.

From the Toronto World offering to "write up" Peterborough if the Council would guarantee 150 subscribers.—Received.

A petition from Mr. D. W. Dumble, signed by a large number of ratepayers of George-st. asking the Council to have the plan of the new market building changed so that the market will be on the ground floor.—Received.

From Mr. J. H. Burnham, secretary of the Board of Trade, enclosing two resolutions passed at the last meeting of the Board—one asking the Council to grant aid to Mr. Law's Bridge Works for some increase in the capacity of the Works; and the other giving the opinion of the Board in reference to the new market building, urging that the market be on the ground floor.—Referred to the Manufacturers' Committee, with the suggestion to meet Mr. Law at once.

From C. R. Smith, secretary of the Hamilton Summer Carnival, asking the Council to fix Peterborough's civic holiday on the 19th or 23rd of August, the two days of the carnival.—Received.

From W. G. Morrow, secretary of the Board of Education, inclosing two resolutions of that body asking the Council to grant $25,000 for a new collegiate institute, and $15,000 for public school purposes.—Received.

ACCOUNTS.

The following accounts were presented:

This report was adopted.

MR. RUTHERFORD OBJECTS.

Councillor A. HALL presented the report of the Charity Committee, which reported the amount of relief given to have been as follows for the month of May:—No. One Ward, $7; No. Two Ward, $23.35; No. Three Ward, $13.30; No. Four Ward, $11.

Councillor RUTHERFORD, as Chairman of the Charity Committee for No. Three Ward, objected to the Chairman of the Charity Committee giving orders for charity in his (Mr. Rutherford's) Ward.

Councillor A. HALL said that all the charity he had given had been reported in detail to the Council. Mr. Rutherford was a hard man to find and needy people could not hunt him up during the day.

Councillor DAWSON did not see why Mr. Rutherford should object about every five cent piece when it was being spent by such able hands.

Councillor RUTHERFORD said if it was in able hands, and Mr. Hall could give charity orders in any ward, he (Mr. Rutherford) did not wish to be Chairman of No. Three Ward Committee.

Mayor STEVENSON said he had frequently sent parties to Mr. Hall, and he believed that gentleman had been strict, almost too much so in some cases.

The report was adopted.

THE QUASHED BY-LAW.

Mayor STEVENSON reported that the motion to quash the High License By-law had been successful in Toronto, and he would like to ascertain what the Council proposed to do in reference to the matter.

TENDERS FOR COATS AND BOOTS.

Councillor A. HALL, Chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, presented the report of that committee as follows:—

To the Mayor and Corporation of the Town of Peterborough:—

GENTLEMEN,—Your Fire, Water and Light Committee beg leave to report and recommend that the tender of the Canada Rubber Co., of Toronto, be accepted to supply twenty rubber coats for $4.40 each for the firemen's use. Also that the tender of Foot & McWhinnie be accepted to supply twenty pair Wellington boots at $4 per pair for the firemen's use, and that the rubber coats and boots be the property of the Corporation.

All of which is respectfully submitted,
ADAM HALL,
Chairman.

The report was adopted.

THE $75 GRANTED.

Councillor E. H. D. HALL moved, seconded by Councillor KELLY—"That this council pay $75 towards the repair of the Pigeon Creek bridge provided the townships of Verulam and Emily agree to put it in repair and that Mr. W. Langford be appointed a commissioner to see that the sum is properly expended."

Councillor RUTHERFORD wanted some information and suggested that the matter be referred to the Finance Committee.

Councillor E. H. D. HALL explained that Victoria County did not want this bridge repaired because it prevented the farmers from coming to the Peterborough market and he thought in the interests of the town the grant should be made.

The motion carried.

NOT TO BE BLOWN UP.

Councillor E. H. D. HALL moved, seconded by Councillor KELLY—That the matter of building a new powder magazine be referred to the Finance Committee with power to act

Councillor HARTLY enquired if the present magazine was of no use.

It was explained that water was in the present magazine rendering it useless.

The motion was then carried.

A SIDEWALK DISCUSSION.

Councillor RUTHERFORD moved, seconded by Councillor DAWSON,—That the Street Inspector renew and repair such portions of the sidewalks on Elm and Cedar-sts. that in his judgment is required. Also move the sidewalks on Aylmer-st. between Murray and McDonnell-st. to a line with the walks on either ends.

Councillor RUTHERFORD supported his motion, but Councillors Langford and Hartley objected to its passage but wanted it referred to the Street and Bridge Committee.

The last clause of the motion was struck out, and the motion was referred to the Street and Bridge Committee with power to act.

WORK BY CONTRACT.

Councillor RUTHERFORD, with the remark that he was going to save money for the town, moved "That the Street and Bridge Committee be and is hereby authorized to let by contract all works on streets and bridges that they in their judgment think can be done to the advantage of the town." The Third Ward Councillor objected to the manner the work had been done at the Goose Pond, insinuating that the Chairman of the Street and Bridge Committee had rushed the work on because it was near his property.

Councillor LANGFORD said the work had to be done at once and had been done very cheaply.

A BRIDGE OVER THE CREEK.

Councillor DAWSON thought the work at the Goose Pond had had been necessary and was well done. While he was on his feet he moved, seconded by Councillor BAPTIE,—That a foot bridge placed over the creek at Stewart-st.

The motion was referred to the Street and Bridge Committee.

NEW HYDRANTS.

Councillor A. HALL moved, seconded by Councillor E. H. D. HALL,—That the Peterborough Water Company be requested to place hydrants on the corner of London and Waterford-sts. and the corner of McDonnel and Dixon-sts., and that the town assume the hydrant at the Brodie woollen mills.

Councillor DAWSON wanted a hydrant near Whyte's foundry, as he believed a petition to this effect had been received last summer.

Councillor A. HALL said that if the hydrant at Brodie's mills was not taken over it would be closed at once. The hydrant at the corner of McDonnel and Dixon-st. was much needed, as there was valuable property in that locality.

Councillor RUTHERFORD moved in amendment, seconded by Councillor BAPTIE,—That the hydrant at Brodie's mills be taken over by the town, but that the matter of the two new hydrants be referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee to report. He did not wish to throw cold water on the motion of Mr. Hall, but he thought the motion was sprung upon the Council.

Councillor DAVIDSON said this was not a new matter, as Mr. Rutherford when he was chairman of the Fire Water and Light Committee had recommended that hydrants be placed on the raceway.

Councillor RUTHERFORD said he believed the hydrants necessary, but desired to have the matter considered.

Councillor HARTLEY favored placing the hydrants at the streets named.

The amendment was lost and the original motion carried.

THE LIQUOR LICENSES.

Councillor RUTHERFORD moved, seconded by Councillor LANGFORD,—That the Town Solicitor be instructed to appeal against the judgment of Justice Rose in the License By-law matter.

Councillor CAHILL moved in amendment—That the whole question of liquor licenses be referred to the License Committee and that they be directed to look into the matter at once and if found necessary that a special meeting of the Council be called to receive their report." Councillor Cahill thought the town should consider well before they rushed further into law.

Councillor HARTLEY seconded the motion.

Councillor E. H. D. Hall, referring to the question of a legal opinion, said that the opinion of the judges in an appeal would be just about as cheap legal advice as they could obtain.

Councillor RUTHERFORD supported his motion, saying that they should not allow the liquor men to run the town. He did not think the view of Judge Rose was logical, and he favored the fighting out of the matter and asserting their rights.

Councillor E. H. D. HALL thought the matter would have to be appealed anyway to ascertain who were entitled to vote on another by-law which might be submitted.

Councillor CAHILL did not object to appealing, but he simply wanted the matter referred to the committee so that it might be considered.

The amendment was lost, and Councillor Rutherford's motion for an appeal carried.

THE MARKET BUILDING.

Councillor RUTHERFORD brought up the matter of the petition from Mr. D. W. Dumble and others in reference to the new market building. He thought they should not rush the matter through without noticing the petition and he would ask if there was any person present to support the petition that he be heard.

No person responded to this invitation, and it was suggested that the matter be referred to the Market Committee, as it was stated that a contra petition was in circulation, and the two could be considered together.

Councillor HARTLY objected to the way the plans had been adopted by the committee and thought the matter had been rushed. He thought it was a mistake to call for tenders until it had been decided what plan would be carried out, as a change of plan would cause a great deal of trouble.

Mayor STEVENSON wanted it distinctly understood that he would not sign any contract for the market building until a by-law was submitted.

Councillor DAVIDSON said the petition was called the voice of the ratepayers, but he ran over and classified the signatures, a large number of whom had no votes, and others had told him that they did not know what they were signing, and were in favor of the present plans.

Mayor STEVENSON said that the plans had not been adopted, but would be looked into and brought before the Council, and they would be allowed to express an opinion upon them. No contract would be signed until a by-law was submitted.

Councillor RUTHERFORD thought the money had been expended on the building without any authority, and he was surprised that Councillor Davidson and Mayor Stevenson, two shrewd business men, had signed cheques for money to be expended on the market building without authority.

The CLERK read the report of the Market Committee adopted at a former meeting, which gave the Committee power to sign contracts for the foundation and stone work of the buildings, and Councillor Rutherford was satisfied.

COUNCILLOR CAHILL'S DEFENCE.

Councillor CAHILL then rose and waxed quite warm and eloquent in his defence of the Council's action in reference to the market buildings. He said the Council had never been more unanimous on any matter than this, and Councillor Rutherford was going back on all his previous action when he talked as he had. The petition said that the undersigned merchants of George-st. had learned with surprise that such a building was going to be built. He felt sorry for the merchants if they were only finding out that this building was to be built, but he knew it was different, and it showed that a man would put his name to any petition put before him. If the police magistrate went up one side of the street with a petition against the building, and the county judge went up the other with a petition favoring it, the merchants would sign them both. Mr. Dumble, in his letter to the paper, had said there was a nigger in the fence, a statement which came with ill-grace from a police magistrate. If there was a nigger in the fence, why then the Magistrate should come out and show it.

Councillor RUTHERFORD.—It was a "dark object."

Councillor CAHILL.—Well, that is the nice way of saying it, but in my rough way I call it a nigger.

Councillor RUTHERFORD—That is what it means, I guess.

Councillor CAHILL continuing said if they were going to try and have a building to please everybody, they would find it pretty hard, for men would always say "there's a nigger in the fence." Mr. Dumble should be, he thought, the last man to make such an assertion, and if it was made with reference to him he challenged Mr. Dumble to point it out. Mr. Cahill went on to point out that by the present plan revenue enough would be derived to pay the interest on the debentures and sinking fund, and leave a little surplus, so that the people could have good market accommodation without costing them a cent. The building he believed would be one of the best in Ontario. Mr. Dumble objected to going upstairs, but they had been doing that for many years past and the stairs in the new building would be wide, large and easy to ascend. Mr. Dumble wanted the market downstairs so that the town would be advertised by visitors seeing the busy market, but he asked, as the market was only really crowded on Saturdays, if it would be any advertisement to have visitors see the building in quietness from one week's end to the other. They needed the building and the cry had been for good market accommodation and that was what they purposed to give, but the question of revenue must be considered. As to how the money could be raised that was understood. The by-law could be submitted to the people and the money raised on debentures. Mr. Dumble was talking about expending money without submitting the by-law, and he (Mr. D) was one of those men, an ornament to the School Board, who had submitted a by-law asking for $10,000, which was carried, and then came back and asked for $5,000 more. He had submitted a $15,000 by-law which was defeated, but he came back and wanted $10,000 more. Mr. Cahill said he had no objection to let the people decide this matter and in closing he said that there were other men whose names appeared upon the petition, beside those Mr. Davidson had mentioned, who had told him that they would just as readily have signed a petition to have the market put in the cellar.

The motion of Councillor E. H. D. Hall referring the petition to the Market Committee was carried and the Council adjourned.

SATURDAY, JUNE 29, 1889.

KEENE CHRONICLES.

A Regular Meeting of the Township Council—Agricultural Society.

Correspondence of the Review.

TOWNSHIP COUNCIL.—A meeting of the Council was held at Keene on June 17th, all the members present. On motion the Statute Labor was struck off against part lot 15, con. 9, assessed to the late Mr. Condor. A special grant of $20.00 was made to Road Division No. 41, $15.00 to St. Margrets Hill and $10.00 between lots 6 and 7, con. 12. On motion the following accounts were passed:—Duncan D. McIntyre, equalizing Union School Sections, $3.00; P. W. Elmhirst, cedars, $3.45; R. J. H. Short, gravel, $1.00; Andrew Robertson, cedars, $6.75; Mrs. O. McCarthy, gravel, $1.60; Andrew Robertson, cedars, $1.48; R. Richardson, cedars, $3.00; E. E. Bowie, scrapers, $62.25; James Nelson, cedars and gravel, $7.42. On motion the municipality will grant a sum for the boundary lines between Otonabee and Asphodel and between Otonabee and Douro, equal to the amount expended by Asphodel and Douro on said boundaries. The consideration of opening quarter line between lots 6 and 7, con. 9, was laid over. The Reeve was instructed to get all information he could on the matter. The Council adjourned until 15th July next.

AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.—The Directors of the Otonabee Agricultural Society held a meeting in the Council Chamber, Keene, on the 20th inst. They had quite an interesting discussion on various branches of agriculture and other matters, and decided to hold a two days show in the fall, the inside exhibits to be in the hall not later than 3 p.m. on the first day and the stock not later than 8 a.m. of the second day. The doors will be open for public a 9 a.m. of the second day.

S. S. PICNIC.—The union picnic of the Keene Sunday Schools was held on Friday last and, taking into account the state of the weather, was well attended, over 200 being on board the steamer Beaver and Barge. The day was spent at Idyl Wyld.

VILLIERS school picnic, held the same day as the above, came to a sudden stop because of the rain, and was postponed until Tuesday last, when they had a very fine day and spent an enjoyable time.

MASONIC PARTY.—The Keene Masonic lodge held their annual private excursion on Monday last, when a party of about 75 left Keene wharf on the steamer Beaver and sailed to Gore's Landing and from there to Bewdley, where mine host Arnott had a fine dinner prepared. After a few hours boating, walking, &c., the party reembarked for Jubilee, thence to Idyl Wyld, when we were treated to some acrobatic feats by the jolly proprietor, Mr. Chester. After a short delay we sailed to Curtis' Point, where lunch was partaken of. The party arrived in Keene about 8 p.m. and all expressed themselves as having spent an enjoyable time.

LOGS.—A drive of 35,000 to 40,000 pieces is at Lang on the way down the Keene river.

EVANGELISTIC.—Messrs. McClure and Telfer are holding services in Allandale town hall every night and also visit during the day.

REMOVAL.—Dr. J. G. Moffat has left Keene for Norwood, where he has opened out a drug store.

CHEESE.—The Keene cheese factory is doing very well and is increasing its output and also quality.

PERSONAL.—Mr. Wm. West and wife, of Oregon, and formerly of Otonabee, are on a visit here. Mr. Harrison, P. S. I., father of Dr. Harrison, is also here with Mr. France an old Keene school teacher.

REMOVAL.—We understand that Mr. Frost, having disposed of the mail contract, has decided to leave Keene. We will miss John's friendly face and obliging manners very much and we wish him success wherever he makes his home.... Mr. Donald Anderson, who has been on a visit to his mother, returns to his home in the States this week.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH ANNIVERSARY.—The Rev. Mr. Bell, of Peterborough, preached an excellent anniversary sermon in the Keene Presbyterian church on Sunday last. The choir was assisted by an organ and the music sounded well. The collections amounted to about $120.

REVIEWS.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE.—The June number of Harper's presents many admirable literary features and in point of wealth of illustration is one of the best yet issued this year. Among the good things presented Howard M. Jenkins finds a suggestive subject in The Banks of the Brandywine, and Lafcadio Hearn, in his sketch of Les Porteuses, portrays the women who bear burdens in Martinique. Rev. Atticus G. Haygood, D.D., LL.D., advocates no particular policy in his essay upon The South and the School Problem, but simply presents a sober analysis of the present situation and the outlook for the future. William Blaigie's answer to the question, Is American Stamina Declining? would be discouraging if he did not point out practical means of arresting the decline. The eighth paper in the series on the Great American Industries takes up the manufacture of glass. The possible uses to which glass it is said may be put in the future will seem to many to trench on the fantastic. The seventh instalment of Constance Fenimore Woolson's Jupiter Lights alone goes far to confirm the promise of the earlier chapters. Two short stories deal with love in modern life. By a coincidence the conversation in the fourth instalment of Charles Dudley Warner's novel, A Little Journey in the World, turns upon The Old Homestead and the beginnings of American drama, a subject which in various aspects monopolizes William Dean Howells's attention in the Editor's Study of this number. Edwin A. Abbey and Alfred Parsons contribute seven illustrations for old Thomas Randolph's poem To Master Anthony Stafford. Alfred Parsons also has two drawings illustrating Wordsworth's sonnet To [illegible]. Charles Washington Coleman writes a delicate poem called Giton. Rev. Walter Mitchell, who has already captured the [illegible] sea-folk by his oft-quoted Tacking Ship [illegible] of Rounding the Stake-[illegible] [illegible] for this year of [illegible]

Footwear of Prominent Women.

Minnie Palmer affects light uppers.

Fanny Davenport is inclined to pointed toes.

Clara Morris takes pleasure in glove kid boots.

Lotta wears a shoe that might be taken for Cinderella's.

Modjeska pedal extremities look well in russet leather boots.

Mdlle. Rhea wears the thinnest of French kids, winter or summer.

Mrs. Langtry's feet are generally incased in "patent leather tips."

Miss Frances E. Willard wears substantial goat skin with low heels.

Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett wears a common sense walking boot.

Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt usually wears cloth uppers and patent leather tips.

Sarah Bernhardt changes the style of her shoes as often as she does her moods.

Ella Wheeler Wilcox always wears fancy slippers in doors, with handsomely embroidered stockings.

Mrs. Amelie Rives Chanler has a symmetrically shaped foot, which looks well in a Louis Quinze slipper.

Adelina Patti encases her comely feet in dainty French kids. Her fascinating house slippers are marvels in their line.

Mrs. Morton makes a specialty of shoes, and sometimes upsets the equilibrium of her Crispin by unfavourable criticism.

Christiana Nillson wears a shoe long and broad enough for each toe to have a resting place of its own and still have room to spare.

Mrs. Frank Leslie dresses her feet as carefully as she does the rest of her person, and always has her shoes made on the Spanish last.

Mrs. Benjamin Harrison cares more for comfort than for looks in her shoes, but will doubtless put her best foot foremost in the White House.

Woman and Her Umbrella.

Only one woman in ten knows how to carry an umbrella, and she rarely carries her knowledge into practice. Every rain storm proves this. Among men there is a tacit understanding that the umbrella shall be tilted in passing, so that neither of the pedestrians need be wholly uncovered for even a short time. The tilting is, of course, away from the other pedestrian, and is a considerate and courteous act which both sexes could easily perform. But the women haven't time for anything of this kind. Their eyes are fixed on some distant point, and they strike out in that direction like pedestrians in a go-as-you-please race. Not infrequently they lower their heads and charge upon an individual or a group with results which are often dangerous. If by any chance they collide with persons moving in the other direction, they glare at the new comers in a manner which would have made Lady Macbeth's worst scowl seem an angelic smile by contrast. They are equally polite in this matter to members of their own sex, and some laughing collisions often occur, for even they will admit that they have less patience with women than with those hated creatures, the men.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Not so Flattering.

Guest—I wish I had come here a week ago.

Hotel Proprietor—Ah, that's very flattering to my establishment.

Guest—I don't know about that. What I mean is that I should have preferred to eat this fish then instead of now.

What Struck His Eye As Remarkable.

"Did anything about the defendant strike your eye as remarkable?" asked the judge of the plaintiff in a case of assault and battery.

"It did, yer honor."

"And what was it?" continued the judge.

"His fist, yer honor."

The Same Stick.

Lady Finehealth (at hotel entrance)—No, I have no money to spare for you. I don't see why an able-bodied man like you should go around begging.

Lazy Tramp—I s'pose, mum, it's for about the same reason that a healthy woman like you boards at a hotel instead of keepin' house.

Caught.

When Phyllis turned her eyes on me
I blushed and hesitated;
For though on terms familiar, we
Were not at all related.

I felt her mild, reproachful glance,
And knew her words would rankle;
To tell the truth, I had by chance
Been looking at her ankle.

ADVERTISE IN THE REVIEW

HASTINGS.

A NARROW ESCAPE AND PLUCKY RESCUE.—Master Ed. Fife, who was employed about the Montreal House, was engaged in the cellar of the building last Monday forenoon. Fred Peters, the five year old son of the proprietor, Mr. John Peters, was in the apartment at the time, and, as young lads will, was wandering aimlessly around. The south door of the cellar opens over the raceway and was ajar to admit light and air. A splash in the race, which is about eight feet deep, attracted Fife's attention and he rushed to the door where he saw Fred struggling in the water and although the former could not swim, he jumped in to save the drowning lad whom he managed to get hold of and grasping one of the posts which supports the rear platform of the building to keep his own and companion's heads above water. Their cries brought help and both lads were rescued from their perilous position. Young Fife cannot be too highly commended for his heroic action in risking his life to save another.—Star.

Correspondence of the Review.

REVIVAL.—Messrs. Telfer and McClure are continuing their meetings another week in their hall here, on account of the attendance at the meetings, which is larger than might have been expected from this district. The wet weather is quite an aid to the meetings, for the farming community is unable to do much work and have considerable leisure time at their disposal, which we are pleased to see them improve by attending the meetings. The good attendance is encouraging to these hard working revivalists and we feel satisfied that the good people who drive or walk miles to hear them preach are amply repaid for their trouble. If the spirit pervading every effort of these revivalists—that marked spirit of humiliation before the God of Heaven, and solicitation for the welfare of their fellow men—were bestowed upon some who deem themselves the superiors of these laborious Christian workers, they would not be found eaves-dropping on the hall stairway. The incident to which we refer occurred last Tuesday evening, and such conduct might be expected from the ungodly and wicked perhaps, but not from men of position or those who pose as preachers to the people and teachers of the youth of the land. Messrs. Telfer and McClure, though innocent at the time of the malevolent designs of these parties, proceeded with the discourse in their usually able style, for what have they to fear from preacher, teacher, or layman, when they preach the word as God has given it in His Book of books?

ASLEEP ON THE TRACK.

A little child, tired of play, had pillowed his head on a railroad track and fallen asleep. The train was almost upon him when a passing stranger rushed forward and saved him from a horrible death. Perhaps you are asleep on the track, too. You are, if you are neglecting the hacking cough, the hectic flush, the loss of appetite, growing weakness and lassitude, which have unconsciously crept upon you. Wake up, or the train will be upon you! Consumption, which thus insidiously fastens its hold upon its victims while they are unconscious of its approach, must be taken in time, if it is to be overcome. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has cured thousands of cases of this most fatal of maladies. If taken in time, and given a fair trial, it is guaranteed to benefit or cure in every case of Consumption, or money paid for it will be promptly refunded.

For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Asthma, Severe Coughs, and kindred affections, it is an efficient remedy.
